3. ——— Mortgagor.—Limitation Act, 1859, s. 1, cl. 15.—Estoppel.—The laches of a mortgagor in taking no steps for many years to enforce his alleged rights may afford evidence against the existence of those rights, but cannot estop him from asserting them, if they do exist, at any time within the period of sixty years allowed by section 1, clause 15, Act XIV of 1859. On account of the plaintiff's laches the Judicial Committee disallowed mesne profits prior to the date of the institution of the suit, which had been allowed by the High Court JUGGURNATH SAHOO v. 5. ————— Delay in suing.—Suit not barred by limitation.—A suit in which plaintiff claimed to have a drain closed on the ground that it passed through his land, having been dismissed because the delay in bringing it amounted to consent,—Held that the Courts of this country have no power to refuse relief on the ground of mere delay, where the plaintiff establishes a right not affected by limitation. RAMPHUL SAHOO v. 6. ————— Delay in execution of decree.—Interest, Right to.—As long as a decree-holder does not incur the loss of right by limitation, he cannot be deprived of the interest which his decree gave him, on the ground of his dilatoriness in taking out execution. MODHOO SOODHUN ROY CHOWDHURY v. 7. ————— Delay in execution of decree.—Debt barred by limitation.—Admission of debtor.—The decision of the Full Bench, Bisnessur Mullick v. Dhiraj Mahatab Chand Bahadoor, B. L. R., Sup. 8. ————— Delay in suing.—Where a plaintiff sued to recover certain property as wuqf, on the ground that the mutwali and his ancestor (a former mutwali) had misconducted themselves by selling to some of the defendants the property which was the subject of the endowment, and where it appeared that the plaintiff lay by for nearly twelve years from the time when the vendees purchased and were put into possession, it was held that he was not entitled to the assistance of the Court. BHURBUCK CHUNDRA SAHOO v. 10. ————— Contract Act, 1872, ss. 13, 20. Bill of exchange. Mistake.—Void agreement.—On the 3rd March 1881 N. drew a bill in English at Cawnpore in favour of P. on a Calcutta firm and gave it to P's agent, who did not understand English. P's agent kept the bill till the 10th March 1881 without ascertaining its nature. On that date the Calcutta firm on which the bill was drawn became insolvent. P. subsequently sued N. for the money he had paid for the bill, on the ground that his agent had asked N. for a bill drawn on himself and not one drawn on the Calcutta firm. N. asserted in defence to the suit that P's agent had not asked for a bill drawn on himself, but merely for a bill on Calcutta. Held that, assuming that the sale of the bill was void by reason of both parties being under a mistake as to the bill, yet P. could not recover the amount of the bill from N. because his agent had been guilty of gross negligence in taking the bill and keeping it so long without ascertaining its nature and applying for redress. NIGHTINGALE v. FAIZ-ULLA [I. L. R., 4 All., 334]

11. ————— Mortgagee not taking possession after usufructuary mortgage.—An usufructuary mortgage of lands was executed in 1846, but the mortgagee did not enter into possession. In 1852 his representative, the plaintiff, commenced a suit to obtain possession, but allowed it to drop. In 1854 he commenced the present suit for the same object. Held that laches could not be imputed to the plaintiff from the date of presenting the plaint in 1852, and that the produce from that date should be accordingly awarded him. LAKSHMI NARAYANA v. RAMAPA CHAKRAIRA 1 Mad., 70

12. ————— Mortgage, Suit for redemption of.—Neglect in applying in time for execution of decree for possession.—Fresh suit for redemption.—The plaintiff in this suit claimed possession of certain property by redemption of a usufructuary mortgage of it which he had given the defendants. The plaintiff had previously sued the defendants for possession of the property by redemption of the mortgage and had obtained a decree for possession of it, but had not applied for execution of such decree within the time allowed by law. Held that the plaintiff, having obtained in the former suit a decree for possession of the property, and having by his own neglect lost his right to execution of such decree, could not be permitted to revert to the position which he held before the institution of that suit, and to bring a fresh suit for possession. GOLAM HOSSEIN v. or even say whether the decree-holder was entitled to these costs. OODAY TARA CHOWDRAIN v JONAB ALI CHOWDREY 17 W. R., 358

14. ————— Omission to appeal from order.—Acquiescence, Presumption of—Where the Assistant Commissioner in execution in 1857 acted without jurisdiction in giving interest when the decree did not award it, and the claim for interest was disallowed by the Deputy Commissioner in execution in 1865, and the Deputy Commissioner's order was reversed in appeal by the Judicial Commissioner, on the ground that the Assistant Commissioner's order was a judicial one from which no appeal had been preferred,—Held, by the High Court, that it was too late now to interfere with an order passed so long ago as 1857, as the judgment-debtor, by neglecting to appeal, must be presumed to have acquiesced in that order. RAM KERAN DEO v. FURIMA BIBEE 7 W. R., 37

15. ————— Defence showing great delay on part of defendant.—Suit for arrears of rent—Plaintiffs (putndars) sued the defendants (dur-putndars) for arrears of rent. The defendants alleged that a part of the land had been taken by the Government, twenty-four years previously, for the purposes of railway, and they claimed an abatement on that ground. Held that the Limitation Act does not in terms prevent a defendant from setting up such a defence; but that the great delay in this case, combined with other circumstances, disentitled the defendants to any relief in a Court of Equity. RAM NARAIN CHUCKERBUTTY v. POOLIN BEIHARI LALL SINGH 2 C. L. R., 5

16. ————— Ignorance of Ameen's proceedings in demarcating land.—Delay—In execution of a decree for possession of land, an Ameen having been deputed to demarcate the land, the defendant pleaded, nearly a year after the demarcation, that he had been entirely ignorant of the Ameen's proceedings. Held that an opportunity should be given to the defendant of substantiating his plea, but that if plaintiff could prove that defendant had even indirect notice of what was transpiring, the lower Court should refuse to go into the question after so long a delay. COLLECTOR OF MONGHYR v. BHOBANY PERSHAD 25 W. R., 183

17. ————— Loss of Government promissory notes.—Suit on agreement to obtain duplicate, or restore value.—Plaintiff's relative borrowed money from defendant on the security of a Government promissory note which was stolen from defendant in 1865, and defendant advertised the loss. In 1865 an ikrar was executed between the parties, whereby defendant was bound to take steps, assisted by plaintiff, to procure a duplicate. The note was endorsed, not in defendant's, but in plaintiff's name, and no steps whatever were taken by plaintiff until 1869, when the note turned up in the Currency Office. Defendant being unable therefore to perform his part of the contract,—Held that any neglect that had taken place in obtaining a duplicate was entirely owing to the plaintiff's laches and that he was not entitled to recover on the ikrar. KAMINEE DEBIA v. RADHA SHAM KOONDOL 18 W. R., 58

18. ————— Omission to register certificate of sale.—Right to second certificate for purposes of registration.—Quære.—Whether the Subordinate Judge should have issued a new certificate of sale after the original one had been rejected by the Court as being unregistered in order that the plaintiff might register it, the plaintiff having already lost, by his own laches, the right to register the original certificate. LALBHAI LAKHIMDAS v. KAMALUDIN HUSEN KHAN . 12 Bom., 247

19. ————— Presumption against persons who do not enforce their rights.—Unexplained delay.—Disturbance of long possession.—Dispute as to chur lands.—The presumption that usually arises against those who slumber on their rights is the stronger when applied to rights, the subject-matter of which (as in the case of churs) is in a constant state of change, and the proof of which is rendered more than usually difficult by lapse of time. In this case plaintiff sought to oust from possession persons who had enjoyed the property in question from 1835 to the present time; and as he was responsible for nearly twenty years of that delay, the Privy Council required to be satisfied by clear proof of the grounds which he alleged for disturbing a possession of such long continuance, and were of opinion that plaintiff had failed to prove his case, inasmuch as he had not proved the lands which had re-formed (if lands had re-formed in the bed of the river) to have been the same as those which belonged to his predecessors and had been diluviated, nor had he proved his title upon the ground of the locus in quo being an accretion to any lands of which he was possessed. *SHAM CHAND BYSACK v. (X of 1870).—High Court.—Powers of superintendence.—The Courts established under Act X of 1870 are Courts subject to the appellate jurisdiction of the High Court, and not the less so because an appeal lies to the High Court from their decisions in certain cases only. The High Court consequently has the power of superintendence over those Courts under section 15 of 24 and 25 Victoria, Cap. 104. IN THE MATTER OF THE PETITION OF ABDOL ALI

Reference by Collector to District Court.—Land claimed by Collector on behalf of Government or Municipality.—The scope and object of the Land Acquisition Act (X of 1870) is to provide a speedy method for deciding the amount of the compensation payable by the Collector, when such amount is disputed, and the person or persons to whom it is payable. Section 15 of the Land Acquisition Act contemplates a reference when the question of the title to the land arises between the claimants who appear in response to the notice issued under section 9, and who set up conflicting claims one against another as to the land required, which the District Judge as between such persons can determine. The Collector has no power to make a reference to the District Judge under section 15 in cases in which he claims the land in question on behalf of Government or the Municipality, and denies the title of other claimants, and the District Judge has no jurisdiction to entertain or determine such reference. IMDAD ALI KHAN v. Right of way.—A right of way cannot by the provisions of Act VI of 1857 continue to exist over land acquired by a railway company under that Act with the aid of Government. it. The Collector thereupon referred the matter to the District Judge. Two assessors were appointed to aid him, one by the applicant and another by the Collector. The nominee of the Collector was the mamlatdar of Poona, a rate-payer and ex-officio member of the Municipality, who, whilst a member of the managing committee, had unsuccessfully negotiated with the applicant for the purchase of the ground. The District Judge made an award upholding the Collector's valuation. Held that the award was bad and must be set aside, as the Collector's nominee had, under the circumstances, a real bias, and was not a qualified assessor within the meaning of section 19 of the Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870. KASHINATH KHARGIVALA v. COLLECTOR OF POONA [I. L. R., 8 Bom., 553]

1. — s. 24.—Valuation of land.—Annual rental.—Market value.—In assessing the market value of house property, situated in the town of Bulsar, acquired for public purposes under Act X of 1870, the Court awarded a capital sum which, at the rate of six per cent. per annum, would yield interest equal to the ascertained annual rental of the premises after deducting the amount necessarily expended for annual repairs. CAREY v. HANU MIYA. CAREY v. KALU MIYA . . . 10 Bom., 34

2. — Compensation.—Determination of value.—Occupied and unoccupied land.—In determining the compensation to be allowed for land taken for public purposes, the Court distinguished between the occupied and the unoccupied land. In the case of the former the income yielded was taken into account with a view to consider the number of years' purchase to be allowed for the land, and, in estimating the value of the godowns yielding rent, a deduction was made for the chance of some of them being unoccupied for part of the year, as well as for periodical repairs and municipal taxes. In the case of unoccupied land, it was held that the thing to be looked at was not the cost of what had been done to preserve the land or the money spent on improvements, but the market value at the time, with an allowance for the manner in which the land was taken from the claimant. COLLECTOR OF HOOGHLY v. RAJ KESHO MOOKERJEE

3. — Principle on which compensation is given.—Market value of property.—Where Government takes property from private persons under statutory powers, it is only right that those persons should obtain such a measure of compensation as is warranted by the current price of similar property in the neighbourhood, without any special reference to the uses to which it may be applied at the time when it is taken by the Government, or to the price which its owners may previously have given for it. In accordance with this principle, the question for enquiry is, What is the market value of the property, not according to its present disposition, but laid out in the most lucrative way in which the owners could dispose of it? IN THE MATTER OF

4. ———— Principle on which compensation is given.—Land subject to mokurrari lease in favour of Government—When in a Land Acquisition case it was shown that the land to be acquired was subject to a mokurrari lease in favour of the Government, and the Court in estimating the compensation had deducted 5 per cent. from the rent on account of collection charges,—Held that such deduction was excessive, and that, having regard to the fact that the amount was Rs5-4, and was collected only once in a year, 4 annas was all that should have been deducted. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. SHAM BAHADOOR . I. L. R., 10 Calc., 769

1. ———— s. 35.—Appeal—Difference of opinion between Judge and assessors—"Amount of compensation"—The "amount of compensation" in section 24, Act X of 1870, must be taken to mean the whole amount of the award, and not the amount of the different items to be taken into consideration separately under that section; therefore, where the Judge differed wholly from one assessor, and differed from the other assessor in the amounts awarded for the different items, but agreed with him in the total amount awarded,—Held, there was not such a difference of opinion between the Judge and both assessors as to give a right of appeal from the Judge's decision under section 35. ANANDAKRISHNA BOSE v. VERNER . 13 B. L. R., 300; 22 W. R., 305

2. ———— Appeal.—Appeal from decision of Judge and assessors.—Collection charges, Amount of, to be deducted in cases of mokurrari lease.—In a case under the Land Acquisition Act, if there be a difference of opinion between the Judge and the assessors, or any of them, upon a question of law or practice or usage having the force of law, but ultimately they agree upon the amount of compensation, section 28 must be taken to apply, and no appeal will lie against the decision of the Court with reference to the point upon which the Court and the assessors differed. If, however, in addition to differing upon any question of law, &c., they ultimately differ also as to the amount of compensation to be awarded, section 28 does not apply, but under section 35, coupled with section 30, in such a case an appeal will lie, and in such appeal all questions decided by the lower Court, whether the opinion of the assessors coincided with that of the Judge or not upon these questions, are open to the parties in the Appellate Court. 3. ———— Appeal—Difference of opinion between Judge and assessors.—Compensation—Under section 30, Act X of 1870, an appeal lies from the decision of the Judge where he differs from the assessors, whether the assessors agree with one another or not. 4. ———— Appeal.—"District Judge,"—Officer specially appointed under Act X of 1870.—Costs.—An appeal from the decision of a judicial officer appointed to exercise the functions of a Judge under Act X of 1870 within the town of Calcutta, lies to the High Court sitting to hear appeals from decisions by the Court in its original civil jurisdiction. The words "District Judge" in section 35, Act X of 1870, include the High Court in its appellate jurisdiction, and there is nothing in the definition of those words given in Act I of 1868, section 2, clause 12, opposed to this meaning. No appeal lies on a question of costs in a case under Act X of 1870. In this case the costs of the appeal were allowed by the High Court on scale 2. BAMASOON-DEBEE DOSSEE v. VERNER . 13 B. L. 6. Compensation, Apportionment of.—Land taken for railway.—Where lands are taken compulsorily, the principle upon which the amount of compensation is divisible amongst the zemindar and the holders of several subordinate tenures is by ascertaining the value of the interest of each holder of a tenure, and to give him a sum equivalent to the purchase-money of such interest. GORDON, STUART, & Co, v. 7. Compensation, Apportionment of.—Land taken for railway.—Deduction from rent by tenant.—When land is taken for railway purposes and compensation is made which is divided between the zemindar and those holding under him, any deduction of rent claimed from the zemindar must be reckoned with reference, not to the gross amount of compensation, but to the proportion which passed into his hands. DILERAT MAITAB CHAND v. 8. Compensation, Apportionment of, for land.—Owner under grant by zemindar retaining reversionary interest.—It was held that, assuming that possession of certain plots of land had been granted by the zemindars to persons to build thereon, and to hold so long as the buildings subsisted, the zemindars being only entitled to a reversionary interest in the land contingent on the owner of the buildings allowing them to fall into ruin, the owner of the buildings would be entitled to the bulk of any compensation awarded under the provisions of Act X of 1870 in respect of the sites. GUR PARSHAD v. 9. Compensation, Apportionment of.—A putnidar is entitled to compensation on account of lands in his putni taken for public purposes, although there was no agreement to that effect. JOY KISHEN MOOKERJEE v. REAZOONISSA BEEBEE . 4 W. R., 40

10. Compensation, Apportionment of.—Held that the principle laid down in the case published at page 328 of the Sudder Decisions for 1860 (vide foot-note) to regulate compensation for land taken for public purposes, is not applicable to the division of compensation in every case. It would not provide for the case of several putnis where the land is taken from the holder of the lost tenure, and where the grantors of the several intermediate tenures have received a sum of money as a bonus for the grant. MAHATAB CHAND BAHADOOR v. BENGAL COAL COMPANY . 10 W. R., 391

11. Compensation, Apportionment of.—Compensation for land taken for public purposes.—Distribution of compensation.—Where land held in putni is taken by Government for public purposes, the proper mode of settling the rights of the parties interested is to give the putnidar an abatement of his rent in proportion to the quantity of land which has been taken from him, and to compensate the zemindar for the loss of rent which he sustains. Accordingly the compensation awarded was held to have been very fairly distributed where the zemindar received a little more than sixteen years' purchase of the rent abated, and the putnidar received the remainder. When the compensation-money was in deposit with the Collector without specification of shares, the putnidar's cause of action against the zemindar was held to have arisen when the former sought to obtain his share and was prevented by the latter's not joining him or enabling him to get it. RAYE KISSORY DOSSEE v. 12. Apportionment of compensation-money.—Zemindar.—Putnidar.—Dur-putnidar.—Construction of document.—Where a putni and a dur-putni has been given of land, which is afterwards acquired by the Government for public purposes, under the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, the zemindar is, generally speaking, entitled to as much of the compensation-money as the putnidar is. As a rule, ryots having a right of occupancy in such land, and the holders of the permanent interest next above the occupancy ryots are the persons entitled to the larger portion of the compensation-money. The principles on which compensation-money should be apportioned among the different holders discussed and explained. Construction of dur-putni lease. GODADHAR DASS v. DHUNPUTT SING [I. L. 13. Act VI of 1857.—Compensation for land taken.—A portion of the area of two villages having been taken under Act VI of 1857, and compensation deposited in the Collectorate, the dur-putnidar sued for the same, contending that the zemindar was entitled to twenty times the rental payable by the dur-putnidar, less expenses of collection. The zemindar claimed twenty times the profits he derived from the putnidar, less revenue paid to Government. Held that, as the plaintiff's calculation secured to the zemindar a more favourable result than that for which the latter himself contended, it was sufficient to decree the suit without determining the proper principle on which compensation should be allowed. BENGAL COAL COMPANY v. MAHATAB CHUND BAHADOOR . 12 W. R., 340

14. Distribution of compensation allowed.—Mirasidar.—Allowance for expenses of cultivation.—No general rule can be laid down as to the tenure and rights of persons called "Ulkudi Sukhavasis" or "Payukaris," but, where land is taken under the Land Acquisition Act, they are clearly entitled to a proportion of the compensation granted. In ascertaining the proportionate interest of the mirasidar and ulkudi tenant, allowance must be made for the mirasidar's reversionary right; and when the rights of the parties are calculated on the basis of the value of the produce, allowance must be made for the expenses of cultivation. APPASAMI MUDALI v. 15. — Accretion to parent tenure—Benq Reg. XI of 1825, s 4, cl 1—Rate of rent—Apportionment of compensation awarded.—The words "increase of rent to which he may be justly liable" contained in clause 1, section 4, Regulation XI of 1825, were not intended to lay down an inflexible rule applicable to all cases, and in the absence of any special circumstance the rate of rent to be assessed upon an accretion should be in proportion to that paid for the parent tenure. Where, therefore, such accreted land is taken up under the Land Acquisition Act, the compensation awarded should be divided by giving the landlord the value of the rent payable in respect thereof, with 15 per cent. for compulsory sale, and the balance to the tenure-holder *Gulam Ali v Kali Krishna Thakur, I. 16. — Compensation, Award of—Frontage and back sites—Parties—Lessees of such land, Right of, to be joined in suit by the owner.—The claimant, Kashinath, owned certain land, measuring 179,436 square feet, situated in the city of Poona. This land was originally devoted to agricultural purposes, and contained, also, a number of fruit trees and some buildings, and was in the form of a square enclosed and surrounded by houses on all sides, except towards the south, on which side it opened upon a large unoccupied area of garden land, also belonging to the claimant. The second and third claimants were the lessees of Kashinath. The said land was taken up by the Collector of Poona on behalf of the municipality of that city for the purposes of erecting a central market. The claimant, having declined to receive Rs12,880 offered to him as compensation, the Collector referred the matter to the District Judge, who, after deducting 21,532 square feet from the measurement of the whole land for roads, divided the rest, on the principle of frontage and back sites, in the proportion of one to three, appraising it at the average rate of eighteen sales enumerated in certain sale deeds at ten annas per square foot, and some at less than one anna. His award for the land was Rs30,674 for the land alone, Rs2,517 for the materials of buildings, Rs400 for trees, and Rs700 for severance. The sum total was made subject to Rs3,000 awarded to the second and third claimants for their unexpired leases. On appeal by the Collector to the High Court,—Held that neither the principle of frontage applied by the District Judge nor the proportion of one to three for frontage and back sites was applicable to the claimant's land, which was surrounded on all sides by buildings, which shut it out from communication with the town, except by opening a passage of ten feet wide. As there was no evidence to show that there was any particular demand for land for building speculation, one and a half annas per square foot was to be regarded as the adequate value of such a large area as 179,436 square feet, subject to the lessees' compensation for their interest. The claimant was not entitled to the award of Rs700 on account of severance. The decree was accordingly varied by awarding Rs19,739-2 as compensation for the property, to which 15 per cent was to be added, as provided by section 42 of the Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870. Held, also, that the claim of the claimants Nos. 2 and 3 was not triable in this suit. It was one exclusively between the co-respondents, and properly fell under section 39 of the Act. In so far as it was not objected to its being tried in appeal, they could be awarded reasonable damages, and Rs1,200 was ample compensation to them. COLLECTOR OF POONA v KASHINATH KHASGIWALA

17. — and s. 40.—Proceedings under—Finality—In proceedings under the Land Acquisition Act (X of 1870), sections 38 and 39, the persons entitled to take land compulsorily deal only with those who are in possession of it, or who are ostensibly its owners. It may happen that the real owner, being an infant, or a person otherwise under disability, does not appear, and is not dealt with in the first instance. There is, therefore, a proviso in section 40 to the effect that nothing contained in that or the preceding sections "shall affect the liability of any person who may receive the whole, or any part, of any compensation awarded under the Act to pay the same to the person lawfully entitled thereto." This applies only to persons whose rights have not been dealt with in adjudications in pursuance of sections 38, 39, and 40, and does not permit a person whose claim has been disposed of in the manner pointed out in the Act, to have that claim reopened, and again heard, in another suit. NILMONI SINGH DEO BAHADUR v RAM BANDHU RAI

A separate notice therefore of the apportionment proceedings is requisite to bind any person by those proceedings, and where such a notice has not been served, any party interested, although served with notice of the proceedings for settling the amount of the compensation, cannot be considered a party to the proceedings for apportioning it, and is not barred, by the decision in the latter proceedings, from bringing a suit under the proviso to section 40, to recover a share of the money so apportioned. HARBUTJAN BIBI v PADMA LOCHUN DOSS

LAND RECLAIMED FROM THE SEA.

Dock, Construction of.—The plaintiff demised to the defendants for a term of 999 years certain lands, a portion of which, A., was liable to an annual rent of Rs500 per acre. For the other portion, B., which was described in the lease as "being at times covered by the sea," a nominal rent of Rs1 per acre per annum was reserved. The lease contained a power to the lessees "to reclaim from the sea" the whole or any portion of B., and provided that upon such reclamation the lessees should pay for any portion of B. which they might "reclaim from the sea" an enhanced rent at the rate of Rs500 per acre per annum. The lessees also had power under their lease to dig or excavate any portion of the demised lands, and to remove the soil therefrom. The lessees thereupon excavated a portion of B., and thus turned it into a dock, at the entrance of which they constructed gates, by means of which they could in a measure, but not entirely, control the flow of sea-water into the dock. The defendants charged nothing for the use of the dock, but for the use of the wharves round it they charged a fee. Held that the expression "to reclaim from the sea" signifying, in its primary and ordinary sense, the conversion of the reclaimed land into dry land, by rendering it secure from the ingress of the sea, with the view to its being used as such, the construction of the dock was not such a reclamation as was contemplated in the lease, and, therefore, the enhanced rent of Rs500

In the absence of special terms to the contrary, Government may enhance the land revenue payable in respect of land so held. The history of the land revenue in Kanara narrated. The question of the cultivating ryots' property in the soil considered both with reference to the Hindu and the Mahomedan law. Similarity of the mirasi, kaniyatchi, the janmakari, the swasthyan, and the muli tenures mentioned. The rule of the Hindu and Mahomedan as well as of the English law is nullum tempus occurrit regi. The extent to which that maxim has been restrained by legislation in the Presidency of Bombay considered. Construction of Bombay Act VII of 1863, section 21, and Bombay Act I of 1865, sections 25 and 49. The revenue system of Akbar under Todar Mul and of Aurangzeb discussed. If there be no specific limit, either by grant, contract, or law, to the right of Government to assess land for the purpose of land revenue, the Civil Courts have no jurisdiction under Bombay Regulation XVII of 1827, sections 4 and 7, to entertain a suit to rectify the assessment made by the Collector or other competent Revenue authority. *VYAKUNTA BAPUJI v. dered. The land tenures of the district of Surat described. The village of Kabilpur in the district of Surat is an udhad bandhijama village, settled for hereditarily and of right, by the co-sharers in it, in the gross at a fixed immutable rent, independent of the quantity of land under cultivation, payable to Government, and, as such, falls, in respect of the joint liability of the holders for the revenue in gross, within section 8 of Regulation XVII of 1827. The village of Kabilpur is land, situated in a district ceded by the Peishwa in 1802 to the British, held by the co-sharers in it and their predecessors in title partially exempt from payment of land revenue, under a tenure recognised by the custom of the country, for more than thirty years, and, therefore, falls within the claims for exemption mentioned in Bombay Act VII of 1863, section 21. Whether section 2, clause 1, and section 8 of Regulation XVII of 1827, and section 21 of Bombay Act VII of 1863 are or are not controlled by Bombay Act I of 1865, the village of Kabilpur is liable to assessment to the extent of Rs. 1,089-13-1 only, inasmuch as it falls within the concluding proviso in Bombay Act I of 1865, saving from further assessment a village entered in the land register as partially exempt from payment of land revenue. 3. ——— Exemption from assessment.

—Wanta or rent-free lands.—Summary settlement.
—Bom. Act VII of 1863—Talookdari settlement
—Bom. Act VI of 1862—Right to hold wanta lands free—The lands in dispute, now forming part of the hamlets of Hirapur or Rasulpur, originally formed part of the talookdari village of Kuwar. About the year 1843 the talookdar mortgaged the lands to P., and two years afterwards, in order to pay off P., the talookdar mortgaged the same lands to the plaintiff's father, and in or about 1858 gave him a deed of sale. On the passing of the Talookdari Settlement Act (Bombay Act VI of 1862) the village of Kuwar was brought under its operation, and placed under Government management. While the village was under Government management, the Summary Settlement Act (Bombay Act VII of 1863) was passed, and the talookdari settlement officer, acting apparently under section 3 of the Act, made an order directing the plaintiff to pay assessment to the extent of Rs. 2,000. Part of the lands held by the plaintiff were entered in the Government khardas as wanta. In a suit brought by the plaintiff to establish his right to hold all the lands rent-free, the District Judge held that the plaintiff had failed to prove that the lands were rent-free, and that he was liable to pay the assessment, and he therefore rejected the plaintiff's claim. Held, on appeal, that the Government was bound by the statements in its own khardas, which admitted that part of the land was wanta, which must be regarded as meaning rent-free or tax-free land, and that it lay upon Government to prove that land so denominated was assessable, which it had failed to do; the plaintiff, therefore, as to so much of the land as was entered in the Government khardas as wanta, was entitled to hold it free of Government assessment. But as to the residue of the land in the hands of the plaintiff, and to which as against the talookdar the plaintiff was entitled, the Court could not interfere with the rate of assessment fixed upon it by the Government. There not being any specific limit fixed by law, grant, sanad, contract, or otherwise, to the assessment of that residue for the purpose of land revenue, the Civil Courts had no jurisdiction to regulate such assessment, even if, having regard to the value of the land, it were excessive. 4. ——— Mode of realisation.—Bom. Reg. XVII of 1827, s. 5.—Bombay Survey Act of 1865, ss. 2 and 48.—“Occupant.”—Regulation XVII of 1827, section 5, enables the Government and therefore the holder of the rights of Government on failure of the superior holder to pay the land revenue, to realise it from the inferior holder. The laws for realising the land revenue establish a kind of privity of estate between the superior and inferior holders, by which the latter, taking the profits of the land, must satisfy the obligations of the former to Government, independently of, and even in opposition to, any agreement between the two contracting parties. The liability to pay adheres to the occupation and enjoyment, and cannot be got rid of, except through its resignation by the Sovereign or the Sovereign's representatives. Held, accordingly, that when the person, who was the “occupant” of certain land within the meaning of the Bombay Survey Act, failed to pay the revenue due thereon, the talookdar khot might recover the amount from that person's mortgagee in possession. 5. ——— “Farmers.”—Bom. Reg. XVII of 1827—The word “farmer,” as used in Regulation XVII of 1827, is used, not as a cultivator of the ground, but as a farmer of public revenue, a person who would stand between the Government and the ryots as possessors of the ground. 6. ——— Assessment of land revenue.—Bom. Reg. XVII of 1827, s. 3—Right of Government to enhance—Foras or foras-toka land—Proof of right to hold at fixed rate—The plaintiff was the holder of certain land in the Island of Bombay, called foras or foras-toka land. He and his predecessors in title had held the said land for upwards of sixty years, and had paid a certain fixed assessment to Government. On the 31st July 1882, the Collector of Bombay, claiming to act under powers conferred by Bombay Act II of 1876 and under the order and with the sanction of Government contained in a Government Resolution, dated the 14th August 1879, gave notice to the plaintiff that the assessment payable in respect of the said lands was enhanced. He claimed the increased rent not merely for the future, but also for two previous years (1879-80 and 1880-81) subsequent to the date of the Government Resolution of the 14th August 1879. The plaintiff paid under protest, for the said two years, the sum of Rs 442-8-2 in excess of his previous assessment, and now sued to recover that amount from the defendant. The plaintiff prayed for a declaration that there was "a right on the part of the plaintiff in limitation of the right of Government, in consequence of a specific limit to assessment having been established and preserved, in respect of the said lands, to possess and hold the same at the rent or assessment hitherto paid by the plaintiff; and that the Collector of Bombay had no right to increase the plaintiff's rent or assessment beyond such specific limit, and that the defendant should be ordered to repay to the plaintiff the said sum of Rs 442-8-2." Held that no grant, contract, or law emanating from Government being proved to have emanated from Government conferring on the lands in question a right to a fixed and permanent rate of assessment, the assessment on these lands was liable to enhancement. Held, also, that the plaintiff was only liable to the enhanced rate of assessment from the time at which it was actually made by the Collector, and that he (the plaintiff) was, therefore, entitled to be repaid the sum sued for. Strict proof must be given of any right set up in derogation of the inherent right of the Sovereign to assess the land at his discretion, and the facts that the lands in question were waste lands reclaimed from the sea which the inhabitants were invited to cultivate, or that a very small rent has been paid for many years, do not show that the Government has forfeited its right to enhance the assessment in respect of such lands. SHAPURJI JIVANJI v COLLECTOR OF BOMBAY. LAND TENURE IN BOMBAY.

LAND REVENUE.—Assessment of land revenue—continued

Real and chattel property—Husband and wife.—Agreement by husband alone for renewal of lease—"Pension and tax"—Nature of Bombay land tenures—Fergusson's Act IX, Geo IV, c. 33.—Act IX of 1837—Immoveable property situated in the Island of Bombay, conveyed in 1859 to N. and his wife (Parsis), their heirs, executors, administrators, and assigns, was subsequently mortgaged by N. and his wife, but the mortgagee did not enter into possession. Afterwards, in 1861, N. alone entered into an agreement with the plaintiffs to give them a lease of that property for five years, the plaintiffs being willing to accept that lease with such title as N. could confer. Held that it was unnecessary, under such circumstances, to consider whether the estate of N. and his wife in the property was chattel real or real estate; for if it were chattel real, N. by his marital right, according to English law (which in this case applied), might dispose, either wholly or in part, of her interest; and if the property were realty, the lease by N. would at all events bind her for the term of five years, if N. should so long live. Assuming the property to be realty, semble,—that on N.'s death before the expiration of the term of five years the lease would, as against the wife surviving, be voidable only, and not void. The proposition laid down by the Judge of the Division Court, that all immoveable property in Bombay was of the nature of chattel real, and that there was not any property of the nature of freehold of inheritance in that island, disapproved of and denied as being irreconcilable with Royal Charters, Acts of Parliament, and of the Legislative Council of India, decisions of the Courts, both in India and England, and the tenures of land and practice of conveyancers in Bombay. The nature and results of Governor Aungmy's convention stated; and the origin of "pension and tax" in Bombay traced. The tenure of land in Bombay under the Portuguese was of a feudal character. —The mūlavargdar, a holder of land on mūli tenure in Kanara, enjoys an hereditary and transferable property in the soil, and cannot be ousted so long as he pays the land revenue assessed upon his land. The question of the cultivating ryot's property in the soil considered both with reference to the Hindu and Mahomedan laws. 2. — Nature of kumri cultivation.—Kumri assessment.—Rights of vargdars.

—Korlaya.—The plaintiff sued to recover possession of four specified tracts of forest land situated in the district of North Kanara from which he alleged he had been wrongfully ejected under an order made by the Collector in 1861, and to recover certain sums of money exacted from him between 1849 and 1861 by the Revenue authorities as a tax or rent for the exercise, by him, of his proprietary rights by way of kumri cultivation. As to three of the tracts of the land in question, the plaintiff based his claim on certain sanads alleged to have been granted by the officers of Tippu Sultan to his ancestors; and as to the fourth, he claimed a title by prescription, alleging that the land had been in the possession of his family for forty years prior to 1870, the date of the institution of the suit. The plaint contained no indication of a claim which was put forward during the argument of the appeal, that the payment, to the Government, of assessment in respect of kumri, pepper, and farmaish, or in particular of kumri assessment, and the entry of such charge in the chitta of a vargdar mul or gent, gives to such vargdar, or at least is a recognition by Government that such vargdar has a right of ownership in the forests in respect of which it was contended such assessment was imposed. The plaintiff admitted a right on the part of Government to take certain kinds of timber from the forests, but, subject to this, he contended that the timber, as the soil and produce of the forests generally, belonged to him, subject also to the right of Government to levy an increased assessment thereon. Subject to these rights on the part of Government the plaintiff claimed an absolute right to have kumri cultivation carried on within the limits specified; that he and no other had a right to cultivate and give in cultivation as rice land jungle land within those limits, and an exclusive right to cut down and dispose of timber within those limits. Held by GREEN, J., on the evidence, that the sanads put forward were not proved to have been, in fact, executed by any person having authority to execute such documents, and that, even if genuine, they had never been recognised by the British Government as valid and binding or been made the foundation of the revenue relations between the British Government and the plaintiff's family or those under whom they claimed. The fact, however, that the plaintiff put forward those sanads as the root of his title, so far at least as concerned the greater portion of the property claimed, was an admission that at the date of those sanads the then Government had the power to make the grants they purported to evidence, and the sanads being out of the way, the plaintiff had to establish that he had at the institution of the suit succeeded to rights of property which by his own case, at the dates respectively of the sanads, belonged to the then Government, and would, in the absence of any private right shown then, to exist therein, have vested in the East India Company after the taking of Seringapatana in May 1799, and the subjugation of the country under the rule of Tippu Sultan. The primary meaning of the word "varg" was "account," and it was only by an extension of the original meaning that it came to be used as indicating the property, to the assessment on which such account relates. Kumri assessment was in its origin an assessment upon, or having reference to, the actual number of labourers employed cutting down forest, and not with reference to any particular portion or quantity of land or its produce. Originally, kumri assessment was inserted in vargs only as incidental to rice or garden cultivation, and the entry of such assessment in the plaintiff's vargs and its payment for a long series of years did not show or manifest any estate or permanent right at all in the forests, as such, as being vested in the plaintiff, even as to such ground as he might have been able to show had been at former times kumried by his labourers, and whether or not the Government may have had, or, having had, may have ceased to have, any right to collect korlaya (tax on bill-hooks) direct from the cutters so long as kumri cultivation at all is or was carried on; yet it has a right to stop the cultivation altogether (remitting the kumri assessment entered in the vargs) in all the forests of North Kanara, including those in question in the present case, not shown to be private property, on some other ground than the mere entry of kumri assessment in a particular varg or number of vargs. The plaintiff's suit, therefore, which was to recover possession of particular tracts of forest on the ground of ownership, shown or evidenced only (apart from the question of the sanads) by such entry in his vargs of kumri assessment, was rightly dismissed. But even assuming that the plaintiff had established a right, exclusive of others and permanent as against the Government, to have kumri cultivation carried on in such places as he could show had theretofore been kumried by him or by his permission, or even throughout the limits claimed in the plaints, such a right, having regard to the incidents of the cultivation, itself did not necessarily involve general ownership of the soil. Such general ownership, not being in the plaintiff, was with the Government; and the plaintiff, if his right, supposing he had any, were disturbed, either by a stranger or by the Government, ought to have asserted it by a suit for damages for the disturbance of a right in alieno solo, and not by a suit to recover possession. Even had the plaintiff, therefore, established a permanent and exclusive right to carry on kumri cultivation within the limits specified in his plaint, yet his suit, which was directed to recover possession on the ground of general ownership, should have been dismissed. That was the case he put forward to the last, and to which his evidence was directed, and it would be quite inadmissible for him to fall back on another case, which, if established, would have, as its result, a relief wholly different to that which and which alone he had all along asked for. Held, also, that the plaintiff's claim was barred by limitation.

Per West, J.—Though the introduction of British rule did not extinguish private rights already fully acquired, the principle to start from is, that waste lands belong to the State. The mere fact that a vargardar is charged in the village accounts with an assessment for kumri, cannot of itself make him the owner of all the forests within its boundaries. He could not become the owner, in fact, without the active or passive assent of the Government passing its proprietary right to him. Such assent is not to be inferred, as to an extensive tract of forest, from the payment and receipt of some insignificant sum—e.g., a moiety of the rent realised on a small number of acres—which may most naturally be referred to rateability, or the mere participation by the State, according to an immemorial rule, in all profits arising from the land. As there must be certainty in a grant as to the area conferred, so there must be certainty as to the area, or, at least, as to identity of the object occupied, if the occupation is to raise the presumption of a grant, or of acquiescence in a definite occupation. It is not inconsistent with this principle, but rather as complementary to it, that the further rule is accepted, that the possession and the ownership springing from possession of a farm or varg as a whole, and within the limits as to which certainty is attainable, are not prevented or destroyed by an undoubted encroachment, or by a want of certainty as to some particular plot of ground or as to the precise delimitation here or there of its proper boundary line. A suit to ascertain boundaries does not imply that either of the owners of contiguous estates has no property at all: and as there may be an effective grant of lands in possession though occupied of wrong, so may distinct acquiescence give a like right in the like case, but there can be no grant, no acquiescence in a possession, unless the essential elements of possession, a fixed, a definable, and an exclusive possession, exists, and are present to the perception of the parties. In the case of a private owner even the allowance of acts which do not necessarily involve any denial of his ownership, or a grant from him, do not suffice to create an ownership against him; and the mere non-interference of the State, to which neglect is not to be imputed, is not to be accounted for, if it can otherwise be accounted for, on a presumption of a surrender of its ownership. Such a transaction must be evidenced by an undisguised and effective appropriation assented to or submitted to by some one having due authority, or else fortified by an equivalent law of prescription. Under these conditions a true ownership even of the forests might arise, but the mere payment of the kumri assessment would not create it in the case of a vargardar. Upon the evidence held that the sanads were not proved, nor had the plaintiff established any exclusive possession of, or proprietary right in, any part of the forest claimed; while the evidence showed a continued and consistent exercise, on behalf of the Government, of its proprietary right over the timber and even the firewood in the forests in dispute from the time that the assertion of the right became a matter of appreciable consequence, and that the plaintiff's family knew this, and submitted to it, and themselves applied repeatedly for timber to the Revenue officers. From the year 1842 downwards there was no instance which effectively disproved the acquiescence of the plaintiff's family in the ownership of Government. That ownership had not been parted with at all in the opinion of the parties most interested. If it had been parted with and become vested in the plaintiff's ancestors as an integral portion of the estate in the land which the plaintiff claimed was theirs, then the assumption and the exercise of ownership by the Government over the trees from 1841 down to the filing of the suit, was itself a perpetual ouster of the family from a portion of their estate, and would constitute a complete eviction of the owner as such. If there was such an ouster proved as to the whole by a multiplicity of acts bearing on the several parts of the estate, but all referable to the same principle or purpose, then the plaintiff had a cause of action in the nature of ejectment so soon as he was disturbed in his possession by any of these acts, in their legal nature such as to contradict and annihilate his right throughout the estate, even though their immediate physical incidence was on but particular parts of it—a cause of action extending, as to its physical object, to the whole property, because his power over the whole was invaded and overthrown. Regarding the plaintiff's right, therefore, to land, to timber, to kumri cultivation, and to reclamation and disposal, at his own mere will, as parts, so far as the right was concerned, of a single legal unit, the cause of action had arisen more than twelve years before the institution of the suit. The plaintiff's right, so far as it rested on the sanads, was not supported but contradicted by the active enjoyment assumed, on behalf of the Government thirty years almost before the institution of the suit, of an important part of the advantages conferred by the grants, and on an assertion of rights which, if the grants were to be construed as the plaintiff desired, called for immediate action in the Court on his part. The claim was also contradicted by a series of transactions in which the Government officers disposed, from time to time, of portions of land included within the confines of the estate which the plaintiff claimed. His claim, therefore, on the sanads was untenable. Setting aside the sanads, then, the mere payment of kumri tax, however it may have indicated that some land was beneficially occupied by the vargardar, afforded by itself no certain evidence either of the place of that occupation, or of its nature as temporary or permanent, as held on proprietary right, or as merely casual and precarious. It is the possibility of referring the exaction levied to some particular area, shown to have been actually and exclusively held by the tax-payer, either by extrinsic evidence, or by that of the Government accounts themselves, that makes the payment and receipt of a tax a practical assertion and admission of private ownership of the space thus rendered distinguishable. But private ownership being established, it still remains true that a property in the soil must not be understood to convey the same rights in India as in England. It may be subject to restrictions and qualifications varying according to the peculiar laws of each country; and those acts which under one system would be necessarily regarded as contradictions of any ownership over the object on which they were exercised except that from which they spring, may, under another system, be quite compatible with an ownership subsisting unimpaired side by side with the limited right to which they would be attributed. The reserve of timber generally, as of particular kinds of timber, may be referred to as an instance of this divided dominion. What the Government intended, and practically intimated through its officers, constituted the bounds which it set to the plaintiff's acquisition through its acquiescence, both as to the extent of the rights to be exercised and the local limits within which they were to be exercised. As to the former point, whether the plaintiff's predecessors gained a general ownership of the soil or not, they either did not gain an ownership of the timber, or were wholly ousted from the exercise of that ownership from 1842 downwards. As to the latter point, the evidence showed that the plaintiff's family as vargdars exercised rights over forest tracts in all the estates to which the present claim extended, though as to some of these tracts these rights could not be referred to any particular space. But, even though there had been no interference on the part of the Revenue officers with the plaintiff's free use of the forest, that free use without an exclusive appropriation would not in itself constitute an exclusive right against the State. The right arising from the State's eminent domain is not extinguished by its mere non-exercise, and its exercise was not called for until some public injury or inconvenience arose. The exercise of the plaintiff's dominion had been prevented, except within such limits as the executive officers prescribed, at any rate from 1842; while the ownership of the Government over the forest trees and its proprietary right in the soil had been during the same time at least uniformly asserted, and the plaintiff's suit was, therefore, barred by limitation. BEASKARAPPA v. COLLECTOR OF NORTH KANARA . . . I. L. R., 3 Bom., 452

3. ————— Mula-vargdars, Power of, to raise rent of mul-gaindar.—Enhancement of assessment by Government.—Power of State.—The plaintiff, who was a mula-vargdar (superior holder) of certain land situated in a village in the district of Kanara, sued to recover from the defendant, his mul-gaindar (permanent tenant), the enhanced assessment levied on the land by Government, and the local cess. Plaintiff also claimed rent for one year. The plaintiff alleged that the assessment had been enhanced, because of the defendant's encroachment on the adjoining land. The defendant denied his liability for the enhanced assessment, as he was a mul-gaindar, and only liable to pay the fixed annual rent reserved in the lease. He also denied having made any encroachment, and contended that the land, alleged to have been acquired by encroachment, had been included in the lease. Both the lower Courts allowed the plaintiff's claim with respect to the enhanced assessment and local cess, together with rent for one year. On an issue being sent to the District Judge by the High Court on second appeal, it was found that defendant was in possession of land other than that which he held under the lease, that he had acquired this other land by encroachment subsequently to the date of the lease; that both the lands were entered in the plaintiff's name in the Government survey, at which the assessment on the land originally demised to the defendant was raised to Rs. 36-12-0 (the original assessment being Rs. 12), while the land subsequently acquired by defendant was assessed at Rs. 5. Held that the plaintiff could not recover from the defendant any more than the rent reserved in the lease in respect to the land originally demised, but that he was subject to no such restriction in respect to the land subsequently acquired by encroachment. Held, also, that the defendant was liable for the local cess in respect of both the lands. It is not within the power of a Court of law, in the face of the contracts originally made between the mula-vargdars (superior holders) and their mul-gaindars (permanent tenants), to relieve the former from the hardship caused to them by reason of the enhancement, by Government, of the assessment on their lands to an amount exceeding or equal to the rent received by them (mula-vargdars) from the mul-gaindars. It is doubtful whether Government, in its executive capacity, has any more power than Courts of law to interfere with contracts made between private persons. The remedy lies rather in the hands of the Legislature. RANGA v. SUBA HEGDE . . . I. L. R., 4 Bom., 473

————— Village of Kabilpur—Maxim, "Nulum tempus occurrit regi."—The enactments limiting the operation in the Presidency of Bombay of the maxim nullum tempus occurrit regi, considered. The land tenures of the district of Surat described. The village of Kabilpur in the district of Surat is an udhad bandhiyama village, settled for hereditarily and of right by the co-sharers in it in the gross at a fixed immutable rent independent of the quantity of land under cultivation, payable to Government, and as such falls in respect of the joint liability of the holders for the revenue within section 8 of Regulation XVII of 1827. The village of Kabilpur is land situated in a district ceded by the Peshwa in 1802 to the British, held by the co-sharers in it and their predecessors in title partially exempt from payment of land revenue, under a tenure recognised by the

12. ———— Decree for resumption.—Resumption of invalid lakhiraj—Beng. Reg. II of 1819—Suit for kabuliati—Act X of 1859, s. 23, cl. 1.—The having obtained a decree for resumption of invalid lakhiraj lands, held on tenure prior to 1st December 1790, under Regulation II of 1819, did not create the relationship of landlord and tenant between the plaintiff and defendant so as to enable the plaintiff to sue for a kabuliati under clause 1, section 23, Act X of 1859. That relationship could not come into existence until the lakhirajdar had agreed to pay the revenue assessed by the Collector. MADHAB CHANDRA BHADORY v. MAHIMA CHANDRA MAZUMDAR . 8 B. L. 13. ———— Position of occupiers in village granted to inamdar.—Suti tenure—An inamdar to whom a village has been granted by Government, though bound to respect all existing tenant-rights, is under no obligation to grant unoccupied lands in "suti" or other permanent tenure, or to regrant on the same tenure lapsed suti lands; nor does the mere taking up of lands in such a village constitute the occupiers suti tenants. 14. ———— Relationship depending on validity of adoption.—Status pending appeal to Privy Council.—In a suit for rent the plaintiff sued as the adopted son of the deceased landlord and the defendant (who was the adopted son of the deceased tenant and in possession) denied the relationship of landlord and tenant between them. It appeared that the defendant disputed the validity of the plaintiff's

16. ———— Right to recover rent.—Sharer in undivided talook.—Agreement to pay rent.—A sharer of an undivided talook may be entitled to recover his share of the rent due from the talook generally, but it does not follow that he is entitled to recover from the jotedar of a particular jote in the talook unless there is an agreement to that effect. SHAMA SOONDUREE DEBIA v. KRISTO CHUNDER ROY

[13 W. R., 316]

17. ———— Purchase of land.—Contract, express or implied, for payment of rent.—Held that the plaintiff, not having been put into the possession of land purchased by him, and holding no contract, express or implied, from the holder of the land for payment of rent, was not competent to sue the defendant (occupant of the land) for rent thereof. RAM DASS SINGH v. RAM NABAIN

[2 Agra, Rev., 9]

18. ———— Liability to pay rent.—Occupation after deprivation under decree.—A party stripped by a decree or order of proprietary interest in land does not by mere subsequent occupation of it become vested with the character of a tenant, and therefore he is not liable to distraint for rent. He must have become a tenant by agreement or act of law to render him liable for rent. MUKUNDHOOR SINGH v. RAM CHURN

[1 N. W., 14: Ed. 1873, 12]

19. ———— Implied contract to pay rent.—Under certain circumstances a contract to pay rent to the zemindar on the part of the tenant will be implied, but no implication of a contract to pay rent to the zemindar on the part of the tenant can arise in a case in which the defendant has been paying rent to another zemindar than the one suing for a kabuliati. DIGAMBER MITTER v. HUOPER-SHAD ROY CHOWDHRY . . . 7 W. R., 126

20. ——— Transferee of landlord.—Attornment, Necessity of—In a suit for rent where the defendant held under a lease from a party who subsequently gave a lease to plaintiff which gave him the right to collect rents from the defendant in accordance with the terms of the former (the defendant's) lease,—Held that no attornment was necessary, and that the relationship of landlord and tenant existed between the parties so that the suit could be instituted in a Revenue Court under the Rent Act. SREE CHAND v. BUDHOO SINGH

21. ——— Ex-proprietary tenant.—Suit for arrears of rent.—Determination of rent—Act XII of 1881 (N.W.P. Rent Act), ss 14, 95 (1)—Act XIX of 1873 (N.W.P. Land Revenue Act), s. 190—Except where there has been an arrangement or agreement between the parties a landholder cannot sue his ex-proprietary tenant for rent until, as a condition precedent, he or the tenant has obtained a determination of the amount thereof, either by application to the Settlement Officer under section 14, or to the Revenue Court under clause (1), section 95, of the Rent Act, or it has been fixed by the Collector or Assistant Collector according to section 190 of Act XIX of 1873. PHULAHRA v. JEOHAL SINGH . . . I. L. R., 6 All., 52

22. ——— Extinguishment of proprietary right by partition.—Contract for payment of rent.—Where a partition was made and the proprietary right of one of the co-sharers in a portion which fell to another was consequently extinguished and he became a mere tenant,—Held that, though the rent was exigible, the claim for arrears of rent could not be decreed in the absence of express or implied contract for the same. ZALIM RAI v. DOOR-RA RAI . . . 1 Agra, Rev., 69 respect to rent free land until the land has been assessed and the rate of rent determined. NOOR ALI v. IMTEAZOODEEN KHAN . . . 3 Agra, Rev., 2

25. ——— Suit for arrears of rent.—Non-payment of rent for long period.—Allegation of rent-free tenure—A landlord cannot maintain a suit for arrears of rent where a claim to hold the land rent-free by some title of exemption is set up, and the question for enquiry in such a suit is not whether the land is or is not subject to assessment, but whether, referring to the circumstances under which rent has been withheld, the land can be regarded as rent-paying land. The mere fact of the land being entered in the settlement papers as assessed, or that the annual papers contain entries, is not sufficient to justify a decree for arrears of rent. CHOO-NEELAL v. CHITOWLA . . . 2 Agra, 137

26. ——— Decree for kabuliati.—Suit for arrears of rent previous to kabuliati.—Where a party, after obtaining a decree establishing his title to land, sues for and gets a decree for a kabuliati against another who was holding the land adversely to him without any contract, express or implied, for the payment of rent, he cannot maintain a suit for arrears of rent for a period previous to the kabuliati, which cannot have retrospective effect. JAN ALI v. GOOROO DAS ROY [8 W. R., 338]

27. ——— Mortgagor after redemption and grantee of mortgagee.—No such relation as that of landlord and tenant exists between a mortgagor (after redemption) and the grantee of the mortgagee, and such mortgagor must establish his right to collect rent before he can sue to have the amount thereof ascertained. ADJOODHYA SINGH v. GIRDHAREE . . . 2 N. W., 197

28. ——— Purchaser of rent-paying tenure.—Privity with zemindar—There is sufficient privity of estate between the purchaser of a rent-paying holding and the zemindar to entitle the latter to claim rent. KOLOO MISR v. BHYRO KULWAR . . . 2 N. W., 258

29. ——— Liability of heir of deceased lessee for rent.—Mokurrari lease.—Kabuliati—The heir of a lessee is liable to the lessor for rent payable by virtue of a kabuliati, notwithstanding he is not in possession of the land. TARINME-PERSAD GHOSH v. SREEROPAL PAUL CHOWDHRY [Marsh., 476: 2 Hay, 593]

30. ——— Registered owner, Suit by, where the relationship of landlord and tenant is not shown to exist.—Bengal Act VII of 1876, s. 78—The mere fact of a person being registered under the provisions of Bengal Act VII of 1876 as proprietor of the land in respect of which he seeks to recover rent is not sufficient to entitle him to sue for it. Where a landlord who was registered as owner of the land in respect of which he claimed rent, sued the occupier for such rent, but was only able to prove the fact that he was the registered owner, and was unable to show that the relationship of landlord and tenant existed, or that he had a good title to the estate of which he was the registered owner.—Held that the suit was rightly dismissed. RAMKRISTO DASS v HARAIN

31. — Presumption of relationship of landlord and tenant.—Where a defendant in a suit for enhancement of rent admits that he has paid for many years and is still paying a sum of money to the holders of the putni in plaintiff's possession, without being able to show it was paid as anything but rent, there is sufficient to raise the presumption that the parties stand to each other in the relation of landlord and tenant. BEHABEE LALL MOOKERJEE v. MODHOOSOODUN CHOWDERY

[8 W. R., 474]

32. — Beng Regs V of 1799, s. 5, and V of 1827, s. 3.—Sub-tenure taken charge of by Collector.—Under the provisions of Regulation V of 1799, section 5, and Regulation V of 1827, section 3, the Collector took charge of a sub-tenure as administrator of a deceased person to whom the sub-tenure belonged. Held the Collector was in no sense the tenant of the superior landlord, and consequently no suit would lie against him under Act X of 1859 for rent alleged to be due in respect of the sub-tenure. COLLECTOR of BOGRAH v. DWARKANATH BISWAS

33. — Occupation by trespasser.—Occupation by a trespasser does not create a claim to rent, though it may give grounds for an action for damages. BICHOOK PANDEY v. NARAIN DUTT

34. — Right of persons in possession under decree against person with subsequent decree for possession—Attornment, Absence of.—Where A. and B. were in possession of lands by virtue of a decree of Court, their tenants could not be called upon to pay rent to C., to whom they had not attorned, but who subsequently obtained a decree for the lands in suit, so long as no decree of Court had declared the title of C. to be superior to that of A. and B. C.'s remedy in such case is an action against the persons who were wrongfully in possession for mesne profits, and not in a suit for rent against their tenants, who had in good faith dealt with the persons who were the ostensible proprietors in possession under a decree. Lands may be cultivated by a mere trespasser, and in that case the cultivator would not be liable to a suit for rent, but to a suit for mesne profits. Owners of land may take advances for the cultivation of indigo, and the persons by whom the advances were given may find it necessary to enter on the land and look after the cultivation and harvesting of the crop, but if they did so they could not be sued as tenants for rent. To render a person liable to pay as a tenant, it must be proved that he has by an express or implied agreement promised to pay rent, or that he has been assessed with rent in due course of law. MUNOHUR DOSS v. DEEN DYAL

36. — Person in possession of land served with notice to quit or pay rent and remaining.—When a person is in possession of land without paying rent, and is served by the landlord, under whom he previously held, with notice that he must either quit or pay a reasonable rent, and chooses to remain in possession, he must be taken to have assented to become a tenant and is liable to pay rent. SREGGOPPAUL MULLICK v. 37. — Receipt of rent.—Ratification of lease.—If a person being aware that another is in possession claiming to hold under a lease accepts rent from him, he thereby ratifies the lease so far as he has the power to do so, and if he wishes to protect himself from the ordinary inference that he recognises the lease, he is bound to give distinct notice to the tenant that he intends to dispute its validity, so as to leave the tenant an opportunity of refusing payment. JUGGESHUR BUTTOBYAL v. [7 W. R., 250]

41. ———— Acknowledgment of nature of tenancy.—Receipt of rent as from particular tenure.—Where the nature of a tenant's tenancy and the right of his lessor to create it are in question, the genuineness of a pottah does not settle the question and even where an owner has been receiving rents under a pottah granted by a predecessor in title, no such receipt can make the lease valid and binding against him as to the nature of the tenancy if it were not originally so, unless the receipts were signed by him acknowledging the nature of the tenant's tenancy. BHULANATH MITTER v. KALOO

[25 W. R., 222]

42. ———— Permitting occupation of land and taking rent.—Right to resume land so taken.—By permitting a putnidar to take a quantity of land in addition to what is already held by him in putni, and by receiving rents from him for such additional land for a series of years, a proprietor cannot, in the absence of any kabuliati from the putnidar or verbal agreement giving him the extra land in perpetual lease, be held to be debarred from resuming possession. KISHORE BULLUBH MITTER v. BISNOO CHUNDER GHOSE

[12 W. R., 188]

43. ———— Acquiescence in party holding after death of tenant having right of occupancy.—The defendant had been associated in the occupation and cultivation of certain land with I, a tenant with a right of occupancy, and after I's death continued the occupation, and paid rent to the plaintiffs for nine years. Held that this acquiescence in his occupation must be regarded as a recognition by the plaintiffs of his having been associated with I, and in a suit to eject him held the plaintiffs were not entitled to succeed. CHATOOR SINGH v HEERA KOORE

44. ———— Acceptance of rent from agent.—Acceptance of rent from a person acting as the agent of another is not a recognition of the agent as a tenant. BANEE LALL v RAM BHUROSE CHOWBEY. 1 N. W., Ed. 1873, 63

46. ———— Effect of acceptance of rent from tenant holding over.—Renewal of tenancy.—By indenture, dated 1st February 1856, A. leased certain premises to B in Calcutta for a term of ten years from 1st November 1855, at a rent of Rs100 per month, payable monthly. A. covenanted with B to grant her on her request, to be made within three months of the expiry of the term, a fresh lease on the same terms for three years. The defendant in August 1858 became the assignee of the lease without notice to A, and continued to occupy the premises and paid the rent in the name of B up to August 1866. No renewal of the lease (which expired on 31st October 1865) was ever demanded by B or by any one claiming through her. The plaintiffs became A's representatives in June 1866, and gave notice to quit in September 1866, from the 1st November 1866. Held that the acceptance of rent by A and his representatives from the defendant holding over after the expiration of the original term did not constitute a renewal of the lease for three years. BROJONATH MULLICK v. WESKINS

47. ———— Assent by zemindar to transfer of tenure.—By accepting rent the zemindar assents to the transfer of a tenure, whether the whole is sold or a part only. BIARUT ROY v. GUNGANARAIN MOHAPATTUR. 14 W. R., 211

48. ———— Alienation by cultivators.—Acceptance of rent from alienee.—Although in a mouzah cultivators may not possess the right of alienating their holdings, yet if, with a knowledge of such an alienation, the zemindar accepts rent from the alienee, he recognises the alienee's position, and is as much bound as if he had expressly assented to the alienation. RUMMUN SINGH v. ESHREE PERSHAD

2 Agra, 144

49. ———— Admission of status of purchaser from ryots.—Held that a zemindar, by taking the rent of the plaintiff's purchased lands after the rent was deposited by him in the Collector's treasury, virtually admitted the plaintiff's status as purchaser from the former ryots, and that he had attorned to him as landlord, and that as this payment was made long before the zemindar sued the former ryots for enhanced rent under Act X of 1859, the decrees obtained in that suit must have been collusive. *GUDADHUR BANERJEE v. 53. ——— Lease by naib of zemindar—Transfer of tenure.—When a zemindar dispossessed the purchaser of a jungleboory tenure, the title of whose vendor was acquired from the zemindar's naib, who had no power to grant such a pottah,—Held that the receipt of rent by the zemindar from the plaintiff and his vendor did not amount to a ratification of the plaintiff's right to hold under the pottah transferred to him by the vendor. 65. ——— Failure to keep tenant in entire possession.—Surrender by tenant on being partly dispossessed.—Liability for rent—Where a plaintiff brought a suit to recover the rents of some lands which he had leased out to defendant, but defendant pleaded that he had relinquished the lands because, in a suit brought against him by a third party, who claimed a portion of the lands, a decree had given the said party possession of the portion claimed by him, and the question arose whether defendant was justified in relinquishing the lands, seeing that this decree had been reversed on appeal, and that defendant, if he had waited, would have been put in possession of all the land covered by his lease,—Held that defendant was right in submitting to the decree of a Court of competent jurisdiction, that he could not be expected to content himself with the residue of the land left untouched by the decree, or to wait for a decree which might restore the portion taken away from him; and that, having given up his lease to the plaintiff, he was not liable for any rents. *LALI KOWWAR v. 4. OBLIGATION OF TENANT TO KEEP HOLDING DISTINCT.

66. ——— Confusion of boundaries.—Person holding land on lease and land of his own.—A tenant is bound to keep distinct from his own land during the tenancy, and to leave clearly distinct at the end of it, the land of his landlord. Where, owing to the negligence of the tenant, the land demised becomes confounded with his own, the tenant, unless he can ascertain the former, is bound to deliver to the landlord a portion of the lands of which the boundaries have been confounded equal in value to the land demised. *DUGAPPA CHETTI v. Confusion of boundaries—continued.

67. ——— Interference of Civil Court to fix them.—In equity, if through the default of a tenant or a copy-holder, who is under an implied obligation to preserve the boundaries of separate estates which he holds, there arises a confusion of boundaries, the Court will interfere as against such tenant or copy-holder to ascertain and fix them. In a case in which the boundaries of three talooks had been found to be unascertainable, it was decreed that they should be defined and fixed in such a manner that the produce of the total land in each talook should bear the same proportion to the jumma payable by such talook as the produce of the whole of the said lands bore to the total of the jummas payable on account of the three talooks. *KHEMAMOYEE alias KHEMESSUREE DEBIA v. It must be ascertained who, by previous enjoyment, is entitled to receive the rents of the land, if the plaintiff is not so entitled. BRONATH ROY v. GILMORE. 2 W. R., Act X, 43

If not content with the rate fixed in the lease he can only get such sum as the Court finds to be a fair and reasonable rent for the use and occupation by the defendant, in deciding what rate is fair and equitable, the state of the house when he entered on the occupation and the reasonable and necessary repairs executed by him since his entry can be taken into consideration. 89. ———— Payment to co-lessors after distress.—Claim for rent.—8 Anne, c. 14.—Distress.—Co-landlords.—Two daughters, as co-partners, were owners of certain property, each having an eight-anna share therein. On June 30th, 1868, they executed a lease of the property, in which it was provided that a monthly rent should be paid in separate payments to each of the two owners respectively, they giving separate receipts for the same. The tenant having failed to pay rent, one of the owners brought a suit for her share in her own name only, and obtained a decree. In execution of this decree she seized and sold property belonging to the tenant. The sale took place on the 12th of February 1869. On the 15th of February the other owner brought an interpleader suit, the tenant having likewise failed to pay rent to her. She claimed to have what was due to her paid out of the proceeds realised by the sale under the decree. Held that she was not entitled to have it so paid. Held also, per PEACOCK, C. J.—The Statute 8 Anne, Cap. 14, does not apply to this country. Held that it would not, at any rate, apply to a case in which a claimant seeks to enforce payment of her rent from another creditor for rent, even if it would where the claim was against an ordinary execution-creditor. *PADAMANI DAS v. 106. ——— Adverse possession

—The plaintiff sued for possession of a piece of ground, alleging that he was the owner of it. The defendants denied the plaintiff's title and claimed ownership in themselves. The Subordinate Judge found that the plaintiff had originally held the property from the defendants, but that as he had occupied it for more than twelve years without paying any rent or acknowledging the defendants as his landlords, he was entitled to be considered as owner by adverse possession. that he should vacate the house, such condition being contained in a keranamama executed by B. in S.'s favour, sued the defendants for the rent of such house for two years, and for possession of the same, alleging the breach of such condition. Held (SPANKIE, J., dissenting) that, supposing that a tenancy had arisen in the manner alleged, the mere non-payment of rent by the defendants for twelve years prior to the institution of the suit would not suffice to establish that the tenancy had determined, and that the defendants had obtained a title by adverse possession, so as to defeat the claim, for if once the relation of landlord and tenant were established, it was for defendants to establish its determination by affirmative proof, over and above the mere failure to pay rent. *PREM SUKH DAS v. The defendant became the assignee of the lease without notice to A. from August 1858, and continued to occupy the premises and paid the rent in the name of B. up to August 1866, though the lease had expired on 31st October 1865. Held that the tenancy after the expiration of the lease was a monthly tenancy in the name of B. and terminable by a monthly notice to quit. *BRONJAUTH MULLICK v. years, from 1st Assar 1273 (14th June 1866). Upon expiration of the term, C continued in possession of the house, and A and B, after repeatedly calling upon him to deliver up possession, served on him, on 18th March 1873, in a letter written by their attorney, a notice to quit "on or before the 1st day of Jaishta 1280 B S, corresponding with the 13th day of May next" Held that C, after the end of his lease, held merely from month to month, and that the tenancy was terminable by a month's notice. Held, further, that the letter of the 18th March 1873 was a sufficient notice. There is nothing which makes it a necessary inference that a tenancy in Calcutta is a tenancy by the year, in the absence of any special agreement to the contrary. So far as there is any custom in Calcutta, or any inference of fact to be drawn from mere occupation accompanied by payment of a monthly rent, it is that the tenancy is a monthly one. NOCOORDASS MULICK v. 119. — Notice to quit.—Where a tenant has been allowed to hold over leases on the expiry of their terms, and has continued in possession under those leases, it must be supposed that there is an implied agreement between him and the landlord, and the tenant under such circumstances is entitled to hold on until served with a legal notice to quit. JUMANT ALI SHAH v. CHOWDEY CHUTTURDHAREE SAHEE . 16 W. R., 185

120. — Notice to quit.—There is no difference in law between the position of a ryot holding without a pottah and that of one holding over, after the expiry of the term covered by a pottah, with the consent of his landlord. Such a tenant cannot be evicted without a reasonable notice to quit being given, and the relationship does not come to an end at the expiration of each year, without some act on the part of the landlord and tenant jointly, or of either of them. Ram Khelawan Singh v. Soondra, 7 W. R., 152, followed. CHATURBI SINGH v. MAKUND LALL

121. — Liability of tenant holding over.—Ejectment, Liability to.—If a tenant holds his land for a term of years, and no new tenancy is created by the zemindar on the termination of the original lease, either by receipt of rent or in any other way, and if the tenant has no other title to the land beyond that conceded in the original lease for a term of years, the zemindar is entitled to evict the tenant on expiration of the lease without the intervention of a Court. CHOWDHEE IZHARCOL HUQ v. Where a lessee whose lease has expired, and who is unwilling to give the increased rent demanded by the landlord, and retains possession in the hope of obtaining a new lease without such increase, parties entering upon the land as cultivators with the consent of the landlord are not called upon to show the ex lessee their authority. GALE v MAHARANEE SREEMUTTY 15 W. R., 133

124. ———— Increase of rent

*—Agreement for specified period—*The defendant being, under a settlement originally obtained from the Government, bound to pay a particular rent to the plaintiff, who had, subsequently to that settlement, obtained an igrah from the Government, the plaintiff in 1879 sued to enhance that rent and obtained a decree upon which a compromise was made, the defendant agreeing to pay a higher rent for the years 1281 and 1282. The defendant having paid no rent for 1283 and 1284, the plaintiff sued for the arrears at the higher rent. Held that no proper proceedings for enhancement having been taken or fresh contract with the defendant entered into, the special arrangement came to an end at the expiration of 1282 and the original arrangement revived, and therefore the plaintiff was not entitled to demand more than the original rent payable. BURHUNUDDI HOWLADAR v MOHUN CHUNDER GUHA 8 C. 125. ———— Acquiescence of landlord in tenants holding over.—Right of occupancy.

The mere fact of a landlord permitting a tenant to hold over for a year beyond the term of his lease cannot create any right of occupancy in the tenant's favour. The landlord's cause of action in such a case arises when he is refused the right to re-enter. KABEEL SAHA v RADHA KISSEN MULLICK

[16 W. R., 146]

126. ———— Dispossession of tenant holding over.—Right to possession on being dispossessed.

Where a tenant, holding over after the expiration of his lease, is wrongfully dispossessed, he has a right to be restored to possession, and he has the same right if, having been ejected during his lease, his lease expires pending a suit to recover possession. As against every one except the landlord he is still the person entitled to possession. ARUB v ASHUT 24 W. R., 335

129. ———— Liability to change of rent—Notice—Use and occupation of land—In cases not governed by Bengal Act VIII of 1869, a landlord, by merely giving his tenant notice, cannot bind him to pay a particular rent; but he can put an end to the tenancy on its former terms, and if the tenant continue to hold he does so without any rent having been fixed. A suit by the landlord to recover his dues in such a case would be not a suit for rent, but for reasonable compensation for the use and occupation of the land, and the Court would have no power to fix the rent for the future. *KYLASH CHUNDER SIRCAR v. 130. ———— Termination of tenancy and alteration of rent after notice to quit.—Suit for use and occupation.

A landlord who can terminate his tenant's tenancy by a reasonable notice to quit, can also, without giving a positive notice to quit, raise the tenant's rent by serving a reasonable notice upon him that in the ensuing year he will require a higher rent. In a suit to recover such rent, whether governed by Bengal Act VIII of 1869 or not, the Court has power to find the tenant liable to pay a reasonable sum for occupation. *BUDUN MOLLAH v. [24 W. R., 441]

131. ———— Consent of landlord.—Trespasser—Damages for use and occupation.

To justify a holding over after expiry of lease, a direct consent on the part of the landlord is requisite. No implication of consent can or ought to be received when there has been every opportunity of consent in express terms, and particularly in the face of a special warning from the landlord that he should re-enter on the land when the term expired. When tenants have no right to hold over, their use and occupation of the land is a trespass, and they are liable, not for rent as tenants, but for damages as trespassers. MACKINTOSH v GORRE MOHUN MOJOOMDAR 4 W. passers—The plaintiff made a settlement of certain land with A and B for five years, there being in the settlement a stipulation that if the tenants failed to pay rent the plaintiff might accept another tenant. A died during the tenancy, and B left the place and the property without paying rent, and thereupon the plaintiff entered into possession of the property and held khas possession of it for two years, when he in 1870 entered into a settlement of it with defendant No. 1 for six years. In 1878 B died, and defendants Nos. 2 and 3, alleging themselves to be the chela and dasiputra of B, took upon themselves to collect rent from the tenants. The plaintiff thereupon brought a suit against the three defendants, treating them as trespassers, but at the same time asked for the amount of rent due and for eviction. Held that defendants Nos. 2 and 3 had no right on the property at all, and that defendant No. 1, who might have been considered as holding over after the expiration of his lease, if he had been in actual sole possession, should not be made liable for the whole rent when defendants Nos. 2 and 3 were in possession as much as he was; but that, as the plaintiff had elected to waive the trespass, all the defendants might, on the authority of Lalun Monee v Sona Monee Dabee, 22 *W. 135. ——— Damage by storage of goods.—Warehouse—Damage.—Suit for negligence—Onus probandi.—The plaintiff let to the defendants a godown on an upper storey over his own godown, for the purpose of storing goods, the only stipulation in writing being that no combustible or hazardous goods should be stored there. The plaintiff alleged that the premises were taken by the defendants on the understanding that the defendants should use the same in a tenant-like manner, yet the defendants used them in an untenant-like manner, and loaded an unreasonable and improper weight on the floor, whereby it broke through and damaged the plaintiff's goods below. The evidence showed that the godown had been used by former tenants for storing light goods, but, in addition to light goods, the defendants had, at the time the floor broke, stored upon it several casks of white and red lead, and some cases containing tin plates. The evidence of professional witnesses showed that a warehouse floor ought to be able to bear 1½ cwt per superficial foot, and there was evidence to show that the pressure on the portion of the floor which fell was, at the time, 1 cwt 1 qr 6 lbs. The floor gave way in the part where the heavy goods were stored, but there was nothing to show that they were improperly stored. Evidence was given that it was not usual to store heavy goods on an upper floor, but that heavy goods were sometimes stored on upper floors. The evidence of the professional witnesses was to the effect that the floor was not a proper one upon which to store merchandise, but that 1½ cwt. was not a dangerous weight for a warehouse-floor to bear, and that no unprofessional person could have anticipated danger from it in the present instance. There was also evidence to show that the girders were not sufficient for the floor of an upper storey to be used as a godown. In a suit for damage sustained by the plaintiff by reason of the breaking of the floor, —Held (per MACPHERSON, J., and on appeal) that it lay upon the plaintiff to show that the defendants had acted in an improper and untenant-like manner, and that he had failed to show that any improper or unreasonable weight had been placed by the defendants upon the floor, or such as a tenant exercising ordinary caution might not have placed there. KOEGLER v YULE

The agreement bound the tenant only to restore buildings, which it became necessary to restore in consequence of his not repairing them. HOSSEIN . . . 17 W. R., 29

156. ——— Digging well or planting trees without permission.—Ejectment—Forfeiture of lease as for breach of condition.—The act of digging a well or planting trees may not necessarily imply or assert a proprietary right in the land in which the well is dug or the trees are planted, yet by the general law of the North-West Provinces a ryot, even having a right of occupancy, being prohibited from doing certain acts, such as planting of trees or digging wells, without his landlord's consent, makes himself liable to ejectment, unless protected by local usages, from his holding, if he were to dig a well or plant trees without the landlord's consent. Section 6, Act X of 1859, which provides that a ryot who has held or cultivated the land for more than twelve years acquires a right of occupancy in it so long as he pays rent for the same, must be read consistently with clause 5, section 23 of that enactment, which provides that a ryot is liable to ejectment from his holding for breach of contract, and not as importing that a ryot having a right of occupancy, so long as he pays the rent claimable from him, is at liberty to use and deal with the land as he pleases. The useful or beneficial nature of an act is not a justification of it if it be a breach of contract. A condition not expressly made between the parties to a contract, may nevertheless be attached to such contract by custom. The general rule that a ryot is liable to ejectment on the digging of a well without the consent of the zemindar, may be varied by particular local usage or express contract. KOONJ BEHARY PATUCK v. 157. ——— Rule prohibiting tenant from digging wells.—Forfeiture for breach of condition.—Liability to ejectment.—Any rule which prohibits a tenant from improving his holding is one which, on grounds of public policy, Courts are bound to restrain within its strictest limits. When a zemindar insists on his right to prohibit the construction of kutchra wells, he should be required to prove that the right claimed by him customarily exists on the estate. Forfeiture is not bound to be deemed the invariable penalty for breach of contract occasioned by the construction of a well. When such forfeiture is claimed, and the right to claim it is proved, the Court should consider whether an adequate remedy cannot be secured to the landlord without depriving the tenant of his whole interest in the holding, and if it finds that such a remedy can be given, and that the tenant has not deliberately invaded his landlord's rights, but, admitting his own position as tenant, has acted in what he believed to be the exercise of a right, or in the honest belief that his act would not meet with objection on the part of the landlord, it should refuse to oust the tenant, and leave the landlord to seek a remedy which would be more proportionate to the injury he has sustained, and amply relieve him from its effects. *SHEOCHURN v. 158. ——— Prohibition to excavation of tank.—Sub-tenant.—Breach of stipulation in lease.—Excavation of tank.—The plaintiff let a piece of land to M, and by the terms of the lease it was stipulated that the lessee should not excavate a tank on the land. M sub-let the land to J and N, who, in the course of their occupation, excavated a considerable plot of ground. The plaintiff thereupon brought a suit against M, J, and N, to have the ground restored to its former condition, or for damages. The first Court gave a decree for the plaintiff. The Judge was of opinion that J and N, not being parties to the original lease, could not be made liable in the suit, and he dismissed the suit as against them. The plaintiff appealed making J and N only respondents. Held that J and N had no right to use the land in contravention of the terms of the lease, and that if the plaintiff proved that their acts were in breach of the stipulation in the lease to M, he was entitled to the assistance of the Court in getting the land restored as nearly as possible to its former condition. *MONINDRO CHUNDER SIKHAR v. other substantial improvements, that fact, coupled with a long continued enjoyment of the property by the tenant or his predecessors in title, might justify a Court in presuming a permanent grant, especially if the origin of the tenancy could not be ascertained, yet the mere circumstance of a tenant occupying buildings upon property will not justify such a presumption, unless it can be shown that they were erected by him or his predecessors, because a landlord might let property of that kind as agricultural land at will or from year to year. Prosunno Coomaree Debea v. SHIB DYAL SINGH [8 W. R., 512]

164. ——— Suit to eject tenant and remove buildings.—Unsubstantial or temporary building—A claim to occupy a building cannot be maintained on the ground of a previous tenant's long occupancy of the land as against a landlord who has since the death of such tenant exercised rights of ownership over the land. A decree for the removal of a building upon his land may be given to the owner, even though he has stood by and allowed the defendant to construct it, provided the building is not substantial and has not cost much and the materials may be removed without difficulty. *SUFEDUR ALI KHAN v. sion—A party holding an assignment from the landlord to recover rents from C, a registered tenant, having sued both C and D as co-tenants of the tenure, the suit against D was dismissed by the lower Courts. Held that, as the assignment respected the rents of that tenure, and D had admitted being in possession of the land, the suit ought to have been allowed to proceed against both. DHOOLIE CHUND v. RAJROOP KOORE . . . 15 W. R., 107

168. ——— Change in proprietary title of estate.—Right of putindar to eject tenant—A mere change in the proprietary title of an estate does not entitle a putindar, who holds from the new proprietor, to eject a tenant who can prove a right of occupancy. RAM GHOSH v. RADHA CHURN GANGOOLY . . . 15 W. R., 416

169. ——— Transfer by landlord or person having right to receive rent.—Right of assignee to realise rent.—A, a zemindar, granted lands on kaul to B. B assigned to C, but the lands being mostly in the hands of cultivators, C only occupied those that had been in B's possession. The kist fell into arrear, and A attached property of C's. Notice of the attachment was given before, but the property was not seized till after the whole of the arrears claimed had become due. C resisted A's claim on the ground, substantially, that the sum demanded included arrears which had accrued on the lands not occupied by him. Held that as to the lands of which C had obtained the actual possession there was such a privity between A and C as gave A a right to realise the amount of kist outstanding in respect of those lands. Held, also, that this right was not affected by failure to prove the execution of a muchalka by C to A, or by the omission to furnish C with a list of the property attached. *KAMALA NAYAK v. tion.—An application was made in the Revenue Court under section 95 (l) of the N.-W. P. Rent Act (XII of 1881) by the purchaser of proprietary rights in a melial, for determination of the rent payable by his vendors, who had become, under section 7, his exproprietary tenants in respect of the land they had previously held as sfr. The Revenue Court, by an order dated the 18th February 1884, fixed the rent at a particular sum payable annually, after making the deduction of four annas in the rupee required by section 7 of the Rent Act. In May 1884 the purchaser sued the exproprietary tenants to recover from them arrears of rent at the sum so fixed, for a period of three years prior to the Revenue Court's order. Held, by the Full Bench, that the plaintiff was entitled to recover arrears of rent for the years in suit at the amount determined by the Revenue Court's order of the 18th February 1884, subject to any question of limitation that might arise. MAHADEO PRASAD v. 17. TRANSFER BY TENANT.

178. — Right to sub-let.—Tenant with permanent right of occupation.—A tenant who has a permanent right to the occupancy of land subject to payment of fair and equitable rent has, as a matter of course, a right to sub-let the land to the extent of his own interest therein. KHOSHAL MAHOMED v. JOYNOODDEEN . . . 12 W. R., 451

179. — Limit of power.—Under-lease specifying no term.—A lessee cannot make an under-lease for a longer time than his own lease, nor is he the agent of the landlord so as to bind him by granting leases for any time he may think fit. Where an under-lease specifies no term of tenancy, it cannot be construed to have effect beyond the interest of the grantor. HURISH CHUNDER ROY CHOWDHRY v. SREE KALEE MOOKERJEE [22 W. R., 274]

180. — Limit of power.—Expiration of primary lease.—Held that no farmer can, during the term of his lease, create for himself a sub-tenure which is to endure after the lease expires, to the prejudice of the owner whose locum tenens he is, and that no occupancy or jotedari rights, which relate to a specific extent of land, could be acquired in respect of an undivided share of an estate. SHOORUT SOONDREY DABEE v. 183. ——— Transfer of non-transferable tenure.—Right of purchaser against transferee of ryot—Where proprietors purchased a tenant's rights, and sued to eject one, who alleged that he held the pottah from the tenant, it was held that the tenant, being a simple ryot, without transferable rights, could not give a third party any right of possession as against the proprietors of the estate, and that the holder of the pottah from the tenant was a mere trespasser. *OMAR v. [I. L. R., 4 Calc., 135]

185. ——— Transfer by tenant of mirasi rights.—Acknowledgment of transfer by landlord—The right of transfer of mirasi rights, although by no means commonly enjoyed by tenants in these provinces, is nevertheless in some places sanctioned by local usage. Where a person has made such a transfer without authority, it should nevertheless be enquired into whether or not the landlord has sanctioned such transfer by accepting the assignee as tenant, and receipt of rent. KOOLRYA v. DOORGA PERSHAD 2 N. W., 139

186. ——— Suit for rent of transferable tenure.—Possession of holder.—The person into whose hands a transferable tenure comes is bound to pay rent to the landlord, unless kept out of possession and enjoyment by the fault of the landlord, and the landlord's right to claim rent from his tenant does not depend upon the fact of possession by the tenant. *GOBIND CHUNDER CHUNDER v. 187. ——— Liability for rent.—Party in possession—A landlord seeking to recover rent is not bound to proceed against any person who may have any latent beneficial right to the tenure in respect of which the rent has fallen due, but against that person only who may be found in possession thereof with a legal right. TILOCK CHUNDER CHUCKERBUTTY v. GOURMONTEE . 2 Hay, 364

188. ——— Liability for rent.—Registered tenant—When arrears of rent become due, a zemindar is not bound to look beyond his book for the party liable, except when he has recognised other persons as his tenants either by receipt of rent or in other ways. *ANUND MOYEE DASSEE v. 189. ——— Suit for rent against person in possession though unregistered—An action for rent does not lie against a person said or shown to be in possession of a tenure which is written in the books of the zemindar in the name of a different person, unless there is a contract for rent, express or implied. ESHAN CHUNDER GHOSAL v. BURNO MOYEE DOSSEE 16 W. R., 233

190. ——— Liability for rent.—Unregistered transfer—Where there has been neither an entry of the transfer of the holding in the serishta of the zemindar, nor anything in the way of acceptance or recognition by the zemindar of the transferee as his tenant, the original tenants are not exempted from their responsibility to pay the rent. *MOTIE ROY v. [6 W. R., Act X, 36]

193. ——— Non-registration of transfer—When a tenure is not transferable, and no transfer has been consented to or adopted by the zemindar, the zemindar is entitled to treat the incoming ryot as a trespasser, and to evict him even in the middle of the year. But when a tenure is transferable, the mere absence of registration, or of acknowledgment of the zemindar's right by the ryot, will not make the ryot such a trespasser as to justify the zemindar in evicting him in the middle of the year. *HURBO MOHUN MOOKERJEE v. [2 W. R., Act X, 19]

196. ——— Unregistered transferee.—The unregistered transferee of a transferable tenure cannot be treated by the zemindar as a trespasser, but, as against the zemindar who has evicted him, has a right to be restored to possession. NOBEE KISHEN MOOKERJEE v. SHIB PERSHAD PATTUCK 8 W. R., 96

197. ————— Acknowledgment of tenancy—Non-registration and mutation of names.—A zemindar is bound to sue the actual tenant, when known to him, though the tenant's name has not been registered in his serishtā. There can be a legal and valid recognition by a landlord of the vendee of a saleable under-tenure as tenant, notwithstanding that no mutation of names has taken place in his books. *MEAH JAN v. Where the purchaser of a putni talook fails to obtain registry of his name in the zemindar's books, a third party who claims to derive his title from the purchaser's vendor has no right on the ground of such failure to treat the purchaser as his tenant. RAM NABAIN DOSS v. TWEEDIE . 12 W. R., 161

202. ————— Right of purchaser.—Under-lessees.—A. agreed to take at a stipulated rent a portion of the property leased to B. for the remainder of B.'s lease. Almost immediately after, B. surrendered his lease to the landlord (S.), who gave a fresh lease to R., to whom he afterwards sold all his rights. A. continued in occupation some time, and on relinquishing was sued for rent at the stipulated rates. A. denied liability, alleging that he had made no agreement with R., but, from the time of R.'s purchase, had held under him as a tenant-at-will. Held that A. was bound, under the terms of his contract, to pay the rent for as many years as the lease had to run to his lessor, or to the person who represented his lessor. RUSHTON v. ATKINSON [11 W. R., 485]

203. ————— Liability for rent accruing before tenant's possession.—Liability of transferee of lease for rent.—Except under special circumstances, which the plaintiff must prove, a tenant-defendant cannot be held liable for the rent which has accrued due prior to his taking possession. Hence if A. leases land to B., who transfers the lease to C., and C. mortgages to D., who afterwards forecloses his mortgage and takes possession of the demised premises, D. cannot be held liable for any rent which has accrued due prior to his taking possession. MACNAGHTEN v. LALLA MEWA LALL [3 C. L. R., 285]

204. ————— Non-registration of tenure.—Recognition of transfer of tenure.—A putnidar is not bound to recognise any purchaser by private sale as his dur-putnidar until he registers his name in the zemindar's serishtā, and any proceeding held against the old dur-putnidar for the recovery of arrears of rent without making the purchaser a party to it is perfectly legal. *BISSOMOYEE DOSSEE v. 205. ————— Transfer of permanent hereditary tenure.—Forfeiture.—Surbarakari tenure.—A zemindar is not bound to recognise the transfer of a permanent hereditary tenure effected without his consent, and cannot be compelled to register such transfer in his serishtā, but the fact of such improper transfer does not deprive the old surbarakar of his rights, or entitle the zemindar to get khas possession. *KASHEENATH PUNEE v. LANDLORD AND TENANT—continued.17. TRANSFER BY TENANT—continued.*Transfer of tenancy—continued.

207. Liability for rent.—Registration of tenant.—Transfer without landlord's knowledge.—Where a landlord registers a new tenant with his express or implied consent in the place of the old tenant, the new tenant becomes for the future as much personally liable for the rent as the old tenant was, and this personal liability continues, notwithstanding a fresh transfer or devolution of the tenure, unless proper steps are taken to apprise the landlord of the change, and to have it registered in his serishtas. DWARA NATH MITTER v. NOBONGO MUNJORI DASSI . 7 C. L. R., 233

208. Acknowledgment of tenancy.—Registration of transfer.—Deposit of rent.—The mere deposit of rent in the Collector's office by the purchaser of an under-tenure in his own name and that of the registered tenant, is not sufficient notice to the zemindar of such purchase; nor is the mere acceptance by the zemindar of rent so paid an acknowledgment on his part of the purchaser as his under-tenant, but it is otherwise when there is acceptance with notice, notwithstanding that the transfer has not been registered. MRITUNJAYA SIRCAR v. 209. Transfer by registered tenant.—Sale in execution of decree.—Receipt of rent.—Acknowledgment of tenancy.—Bengal Act VIII of 1865, s. 16.—The plaintiffs were shareholders with one B. in a tenure, of which B. was the registered tenant, but of which he had assigned part to the plaintiffs without the consent of the zemindar. In execution of a decree against B. for arrears of rent, the plaintiffs' portion was sold, and purchased by the defendant. In a suit by the plaintiffs to set aside the sale, and recover their property, Held, they were pecuniarily liable for the rent with B., unless the zemindar had made a separate agreement with them; that the whole tenure was rightly seized and sold in execution of the decree, and that the taking of the rent from them by the zemindar was no such recognition as to bind him, or create a valid incumbrance under section 16, Bengal Act VIII of 1865. Srinath Chuckerbutty v. 210. Without consent of zemindar.—Right of zemindar to sell tenure for arrears of rent.—Recognition of transferee.—A tenant cannot, by merely alienating his tenure, deprive the zemindar of the right which he would otherwise have to sell it in execution of a decree for arrears of rent. A zemindar can sell the tenure in the hands of the transferee, not being one of the judgment-debtors, if he does so with reasonable promptness provided he has not done anything to recognise the transfer. Where a zemindar makes a transferee a party to a suit for rent and accepts a decree against him jointly with other persons, he must be held to have recognised the transferee as a tenant, although the latter's name may not have been entered as such in the zemindar's book. RAM KISHORE ACHARYA CHOWDHRY v. KRISHNO MONEE DEBIA

[23 W. R., 106]

211. Liability for rent.—Non-registration of tenure.—A, the lessee of a transferable tenure, transferred his interest to B., but after the transfer the name of A. remained as registered tenant. Subsequently the zemindar brought a suit against A. for arrears of rent which accrued due partly before and partly after the purchase, and obtained a decree for the sale of the tenure. Held that the decree might be executed against the tenure, though the latter was in B.'s possession before it was passed, it not appearing that the zemindar had knowledge of the transfer before the date of the decree. WOOMA CHURN CHATTERJEE v. 212. Position of purchaser.—Act X of 1859, s. 21.—A decree against a vendor obtained before a Collector cancelling a pottah of a jote which has been sold, is not binding on the purchaser of the jote if the purchase was made before the transfer of the tenure to him took place. The purchaser having entered into possession became a "ryot holding under a pottah, the term of which had not expired," within section 21, Act X of 1859, and therefore could not be ejected otherwise than in execution of a decree made in a suit against himself. LALLJEE SAHOO v. BHUGWAN DOSS
[8 W. R., 337]

213. Suit for rent.—Liability of tenure for rent.—Rent due by former tenant.—A decree for rent obtained by a landlord against his registered tenant renders the tenure comprised in the decree liable for sale, although such tenure may have passed into other hands than those of the judgment-debtor. The landlord's remedy is, however, in such case, strictly confined to the sale of such tenure under his decree. He cannot make a tenant personally liable for rent which accrued due before such tenant became the owner of the tenure. The remedies which are provided by the Rent Law for enforcing the payment of rent by sale of the tenure or by distress are remedies in rem. The personal liability of one tenant cannot be transferred to another. RASH BEHARY BUNDOPADHYA v. PEARY MOHUN MOOKERJEE . I. L. R., 4 Calc., 346

218. ———— Beng. Reg. XI of 1825, s. 4, cl. 1.—Held that, under section 4, clause 1, Regulation XI of 1825, tenants have a right to the land accreted to their holding, and if the tenant has acquired a right of occupancy in his original holding he would enjoy a similar right in the alluvial land, although he may not establish that he has held such alluvial land for twelve years.

222. ———— Beng. Reg. XI of 1825, s. 4, cl. 1.—Clause 1, section 4, Regulation XI of 1825, prescribes that the right to the occupancy of accreted land is with the owner of the parent mehal or subordinate tenure, as the case may be. But so far from saying that it is revenue or rent free, or that the original revenue or rent assessment covers the demand both for the original estate or original subordinate tenure and for the accreted land, the very reverse is contemplated by the section, which provides for payment of revenue or rent, if payable under law or usage. Accreted lands, when liable to enhancement at the ordinary neighbouring rates, are entitled to a deduction of 10 per cent for collection charges, and 10 per cent. for talookdari profits. JUGGUT CHUNDER DUTT v. PANIOTY 6 W. R., Act X, 48

223. ———— Accretion to zimma tenure.—Beng. Reg. XI of 1825—Clause 1, section 4, Regulation XI of 1825, and section 22, Act X of 1859, will not allow a suit for the assessment of lands accreted to a zimma tenure; and holders like the zimmdar, in a case of this nature, are not liable under section 15, Act X of 1859, for additional rent for chur land, until they are shown by the zemindar to be holders of tenures subsequent to the Decennial Settlement not having a fixed jumma, and then only liable for the talookdari rates paid by others of the same class for similar lands. PANIOTY v. JUGGUT CHUNDER DUTT 9 W. R., 379

224. ———— Accretion to holding of mirasi jotedar.—Right of occupancy.—A mirasi jotedar with a right of occupancy has a right to lands which accrete to his jote, and the zemindar cannot take them away and settle them with other parties. ATTIMOOLLAH v. SAHEBOOLLAH

226. — Lessee under Government.—Right of lessee to accretions to his tenure—The lessee of a mouzah ordinarily being in the position of zemindars, a lessee holding lands from Government, in the absence of any stipulation in his lease to the contrary, is entitled to the benefit of all accretions formed upon such lands during the term of his holding and may sue the occupants for a fair and equitable rent. *MUTURA KANT SHAHA v. 227. — Land in excess of tenure.—Accretions to parent tenure.—Rate of rent—Beng. Reg. XI of 1825, s 4, cl. 1—In a suit for arrears of rent, it appeared that the defendant had, in 1260 (1853), executed a kabuliata, in which the boundaries of the land were given and the rate of rent fixed, and which provided that the land might be measured after 1261 (1854). In 1281 (1874), a measurement was made, and it was found that some land had accreted, and the plaintiff now sued for rent for the accreted land, at rates varying with its nature and quality. Held that the accreted land should be governed by the terms and conditions applicable to the parent tenure, and that the same rent was payable for it as for the land included in the kabuliata. The meaning of Regulation XI of 1825, section 4, clause 1, is, that the incidents of the original tenure attach to the increment. GOLAM ALI v. KALI KRISHNA THAKUR

Rent Act), ss. 18, 31, 34 (b), 95 (n)*—A landholder, alleging that by local custom when land was submerged, and the tenant ceased to pay rent for the same, his right to it abated, and when the land reappeared the landholder was entitled to possession thereof; that certain land belonging to him had been submerged and the occupancy-tenant thereof had ceased to pay rent for it, and that such land had reappeared and had come into his possession under such custom,—sued such tenant in the Civil Court for a declaration of his right to the possession of it. Held that, inasmuch as sections 18 and 31 of the N. W. P. Rent Act, 1881, showed that notwithstanding the submergence of the land the tenancy still subsisted, and as the tenant could not lose his right to the land except by relinquishment or ejection under the provisions of that Act, and as the custom set up by the landholder was opposed to the provisions of section 34 (b) of that Act, the suit was not maintainable. *KUPIL RAI v. Where a putnidar sued for enhancement of rent on the foregoing ground, he was held not to be entitled to a decree for enhancement of excess land in defendant's possession, or to treat him as a trespasser in respect of such excess. *BINODE BEHAREE ROY v. LANDLORD AND TENANT—continued.20. PROPERTY IN TREES PLANTED ON LAND.

239. ———— Right to trees for timber. —Right to cut down trees.—A zemindar has a right in the trees grown on the land by the tenant, and although the tenant has a right to enjoy all the benefits of the growing timber during his occupancy, he has no power to cut the trees down and convert the timber to his own use. The zemindar may sue to have his title in the growing trees declared. ABDOOL ROHOMAN v. DATARAM BASHEE [W. R., 1864, 367]

240. ———— Right to trees planted by ryot. —Death of ryot.—Held that the plaintiffs, the owners of the lands on which trees stand, are, in default of heirs, entitled to proprietary possession of trees as "lawarisee" which had been planted by the deceased ryot. BHAIRAW DEEN v. MOOKTA RAM [1 Agra, 13]

241. ———— Right to trees already planted. —Lease in perpetuity.—Where a lease is granted in perpetuity at a fixed rent, and the lessor reserves no reversionary interest in the land or in the trees growing on it, the lessees are entitled to the ownership of the trees. SHARODA SOONDARI DEBIA v. GONEE SHEIK 10 W. R., 419

242. ———— Assessment in respect of trees. —Profits realised by erection of huts for pilgrims—A landlord is entitled to assessment in respect of trees as being the produce of the soil, but not in respect of profits realised by the use of stalls or huts erected by the tenant for the use of pilgrims frequenting a fair annually held on the land in honour of an idol which the defendant has there. KEWAJAH CHYEMUN KAJAH v. JAN ALLY CHOWDHRY [1 W. R., 46]

243. ———— Evidence of property in trees. —Proof of acts of ownership.—A person's title or property in a tree may be proved by showing that the tree grows on his land, without proof of any act of ownership over the tree. CHUTOOR BHOOJ TEWABEE v. VILLABT ALI KHAN [W. R., 1864, 223]

244. ———— Trees planted by lessee. —Right to growing trees under grant of homestead or waste land.—A pesheushi sanad, or grant at a quit rent of homestead and waste land, being construed to assign a heritable right in a tract of land capable of yielding fruits by virtue of which the holder, during the continuance of his right, possessed absolutely the entire use and fruits thereof,—Held that the lessor or grantor had no more right to the trees planted by the lessee than he had to the crops sown by him. *GOLUCK RANA v. which the tree stood,—Held that the tree was rightly presumed to be included in the lease, and that it was for the plaintiff to establish that he was entitled to remain in possession of the tree notwithstanding the lease. Held that the fact of a part of defendant's allegation—viz., that the tree had been planted by his ancestor—having proved untrue, did not entitle plaintiff to a decree. MAHOMED ALI v. BOLAKEE BHUGGUT 24 W. R., 330

246. ——— Right of tenant to remove trees.—Determination of tenancy.—Purchaser of rights of tenant after expiry of tenure.—Held that trees accede to the soil and pass to the landholder with the land on the termination of a tenancy, and unless the tenant uses, during the term of his tenancy, his privilege, where he has it, of removing the trees, he cannot do so afterwards, he would then be deemed a trespasser. Held also that, where a tenant has been ejected in the execution of the decree of a Revenue Court for arrears of rent from the land forming his holding, his tenancy then terminates, and with it all right in the trees standing on such land or power of dealing with them. A person, therefore, who purchases the rights and interests of a tenant after his ejection in the execution of such a decree, cannot maintain a suit for the possession of the trees standing on the tenant's holding. RAM BARAN RAM v. SALIG RAM SINGH I. L. R., 2 All., 896

247. ——— Property in timber.—Right to trees on land.—Transfer of trees by tenant.—The presumption of law and the general rule is that property in timber on a tenant's holding rests in the landlord in the same way as, and to no less an extent than, the property in the soil itself. *Soonar v. 249. ——— Property in trees passing with the land.—Trees so long as they are not severed or cut are prima facie to be taken as passing with the land on which they grow, and a sale of a house and compound would comprise the trees thereon unless it could be shown that they were specially excepted. SOONAR v. W. P. Rent Act, nor any change in the relations between the landholder and the occupancy-tenant such as was prohibited by that law, the landholder was not entitled to possession of the land. LALMAN v. [I. N. W., Ed. 1873, 213]

254. ——— Right of usufructuary mortgagee.—Right to trees planted by him during tenure.—Held that, although defendant, usufructuary mortgagee of a share in a joint estate, would not acquire any right to the trees planted by him in his mortgage term, yet, as coparcener in the estate, he would be sharer in the trees. BAHADDOOR KHAN v. conveyed by a sale deed, including certain plots of land which were the defendant-vendor's sfi, the lower Courts held, with reference to section 7 of the N.-W. P. Rent Act (XII of 1881), that the defendant was entitled to hold possession of the said plots as ex-proprietary tenant; but as it appeared that they had fruit and other trees upon them, the Courts awarded the plaintiff possession of these trees, on the ground that the nature of an ex-proprietary tenure did not entitle the holder to resist a claim of this kind as to the trees upon the land forming the area of such tenure. Held that this decision was erroneous, and that the plaintiff's claim to possession of the trees upon the plots in question must be dismissed. Per MAHMOOD, J., that the principle of the maxim cujus est solum ejus est usque ad cælum was applicable to the case by way of analogy, and that an ex-proprietary tenant had all the rights and incidents assigned by jurisprudence to the ownership of land, subject only to the restriction imposed upon the occupancy tenure by the statute which created it, and that hence he would be entitled to the trees on the land, and to use them as long as the tenure existed. *Sohodwa v. Also per MAHMOOD, J., that it would be impossible to give effect to the lower Court's decrees without disturbing the ex-proprietary tenant's rights, for if the plaintiff were entitled to possession of the trees, he would be entitled to enter upon the land to get at the trees, because when the law gives a right, it must be understood to allow everything necessary to give that right effect. *DEOKI NANDAN v. The lessor is not obliged to wait until the expiration of the term; nor is the lessee liable to several successive suits for each partial breach of the condition, and then to one general penalty for the whole. The rent falling in arrear, B sold the land to C within the period allowed A to redeem. On appeal the High Court set aside the sale, holding that there was no natural connection between the lease and the condition to redeem, and that the clause for forfeiture was so vaguely worded as to have the appearance of a mere threat, as in equity, in the absence of specific mention of the nature of the failure which is to bring down the penalty of forfeiture, that penalty ought not to be enforced. ANONYMOUS . . . 1 Ind. Rent Act, XVIII of 1873, s. 93 (c).—Suit for cancellation of lease.—Breach of conditions involving forfeiture.*—The plaintiff, the representative in title of a lessor, sued under clause (c), section 93 of Act XVIII of 1873, for the cancellation of a lease, on the grounds, among others, that the lessees had paid the rent to the Collector, on account of the revenue due in respect of the estate, instead of to him, secondly, on the ground that they had failed to pay certain instalments of rent on the due dates, thereby committing breaches of the conditions of the lease involving its forfeiture. Held, on the construction of the lease, with reference to the first ground, that as the lease was intended to be perpetual, and as the rent had been paid to the Collector for many years under an arrangement effected between the parties to the lease, and it was not shown that the plaintiff had repudiated this arrangement (even if he had the power of so doing) or demanded payment of the rent directly to himself, payment of rent by the lessees to the Collector did not amount to a breach of the conditions of the lease, with reference to the second ground, that the lease being intended to be perpetual, and no arrears of rent being due, irregularity and unpunctuality in the payment of the instalments of rent in question were not breaches of the conditions of the lease involving its forfeiture. ABLA KH RAI v AHMAD KHAN [I. 272. ——— Right to re-enter, Accrual of.—Relief against forfeiture for non-payment of rent—It is not absolutely necessary for a lessor to take legal measures for obtaining possession of the demised property on accrual of right of re entry for breach of covenant. He may (if he can do so peaceably and quietly) take possession thereof without having recourse to civil proceedings (which are only necessary in case he apprehends resistance), and if he does so re-enter he cannot be sued for trespass, inasmuch as the interest of the lessee becomes forfeited, and the lessor enters on what is in fact his own property. The mere fact of demanding rent in one year is not sufficient to create an obligation to make such a demand in subsequent years, or on failure thereof to debar the right of re-entry. Relief may be granted by the Courts in India against forfeiture for non-payment of rent. A lessor who has re-entered on the demised property for breach of a particular condition can, when called upon to defend his position, plead other breaches which might have justified the re-entry, and cannot be restricted to prove only that under which he originally claimed re-entry. *GREAT EASTERN HOTEL COMPANY v. In a suit by the kanamdar to recover possession for non-payment of rent,—Held that this condition of redemption was intended as a penalty to secure regular payments of the rent, and that, such being the original intention of the parties, the penalty was one which ought to be relieved against. *KOTTAL UPPI v. 283. ————— Prohibition against planting trees and sinking wells.—The plaintiff, the representative-in-title of the lessor, sued under clause (c), section 93 of Act XVIII of 1873, for cancelment of a lease on the ground, amongst others, that the lessees had planted trees and sunk wells and had allowed their tenant to do the same without the lessor's consent, thereby committing a breach of the conditions of the lease involving forfeiture. Held that the condition as to the planting of trees and sinking wells being merely a prohibition, and not a condition the breach of which involved the forfeiture of the lease, the lease could not be cancelled because the lessees had planted trees or sunk wells, and allowed their tenants to do the same, without the lessor's consent. Held also that, assuming that the lessor was entitled, on that ground, to the cancelment of the lease, cancelment was not to be deemed the invariable penalty for the breach of such a condition as that mentioned in that ground. the lease ipso facto void, yet it may be such a fraudulent evasion of the terms of the covenant as to entitle the plaintiff to equitable relief. 287. ————— Transfer of lease.—Effect of unlicensed transfer of lease.—Suit for ejectment.—The plaintiffs were mokurrari lease-holders, prior to whose lease the proprietor granted a pottah of the same land to A., with a stipulation that A. should not let the land to others without leave. A. afterwards, with the proprietor's consent, sold his lease to B., who again, without such consent, sold his rights to the defendants. The plaintiffs sued to eject the defendants as trespassers. Held that as there was nothing in the condition on which the plaintiffs (as exercising the proprietor's rights) rely that implies right of re-entry upon the land in case of a breach of that condition, the only effect of the want of the plaintiffs' consent on the part of the plaintiffs to B.'s sale was to maintain unimpaired B.'s liability to the landlord, without reference to the arrangement between B. and any other parties. And therefore the plaintiffs were not entitled to eject the defendants. GORDON, STUART, & Co, v. TAYLOR [W. R., F. B., 9]

Assuming that the sale of such a tenure would entitle the landlord to re-enter as upon a forfeiture, the sale of a portion thereof by one of several co-sharers would not work a forfeiture of the whole tenure. *DASSORATHY HURI CHUNDER MAHAPATRA v. 292. ———— Acceptance of rent.—A lease provided that every four years a measurement should be made either by the lessor or by the lessees, and additional rent paid for accretion to the land leased. It then provided for failure on the lessee's part to execute a kabuliat for the excess lands in the following terms "If, at the fixed time stated above, we do not take an Ameen and cause measurement to be made, you will appoint an Ameen and cause the entire land of the said chur to be measured, and no objection on the ground of our recording or not our presence on such measurement chitta shall be entertained, and we will duly file a separate dowl kabulat for the excess rent that will be found after deducting the settled land of the dowl executed by us from the land settled therein. If we do not, we will be deprived of our right of obtaining a settlement of such excess land, as well as of the land which will accrete in future to the said chur, and no objection thereto on our part shall be entertained." In a suit by the lessor, alleging that in 1876 he had caused a measurement to be made, and had called on the lessees to execute a kabuliat for the rent of certain excess lands, and praying that the lessees might be ejected, the lessees pleaded that the lessor had waived his right to enforce the forfeiture by subsequent receipt of rent. It appeared that payments had been made to the lessor by the lessees, which were accepted as rent, but were kept in suspense, subject to payment by the lessees of the "remaining amount." Held that such a qualification did not make the payments anything else than payments of rent, and that the lessor had waived his right to insist on re-entry on the lessees' failure to measure the lands, or execute a kabuliat when called on to do so. Davenport v Queen, L R, 3 App Cas, 155, followed *KALI KRISHNA TAGORE v. The lower Courts found that the jote belonged to the plaintiffs, and the defendants had been and still were in possession of the same as tenants; but dismissed the suit on the ground that the service of notice had not been proved. Held (on second appeal) that, inasmuch as the cause of action must be based on something that accrued antecedent to the suit, the denial by the defendants of their landlords' title in the written statement would not entitle the plaintiffs to a decree on the ground of forfeiture. PRANNATH SHAHA v. in 1870 brought a suit for rent, in which the defendant set up and filed a permanent howladari lease, but admitted that he held at the rent alleged by the plaintiff, and that suit was decreed, the Court thinking it unnecessary to decide the question of the validity of the tenure set up by the defendant. In a suit brought after a notice to quit, which was found to be invalid, to eject the defendant, and for a declaration that he had no such permanent howladari tenure as he alleged, the defendant again set up the howladari lease under which he admitted he had paid a fixed rent to the plaintiff. Held that, though the defendant repudiated the particular holding which the plaintiff attributed to him, he did not question the plaintiff's right to receive the rent, and therefore did not in any sense repudiate his landlord's title. What he did amounted merely to questioning the right of the landlord to enhance the rent, which was not such a disclaimer as would result in law in a forfeiture of his tenure. The plaintiff therefore was not entitled to eject the defendant without giving him a proper notice to quit. VIIVAN v. MOAT, L. 303. ————— Tenant setting up a permanent lease.—Notice to quit.—Ejectment suit—The plaintiff sued for possession of certain land which had been demised to him by the first defendant. The fourth defendant set up a previous purchase from the third defendant, who, he alleged, was a permanent lessee from the first defendant's father, and he contended (inter alia) that his vendor not having been served with a notice to quit, he could not be ejected. The lower Appellate Court held that the plaintiff could sue the defendant No. 1 only for specific performance, and could not eject the former tenants with or without notice. On appeal by the plaintiff to the High Court, it was contended for him that the defendant No. 4, having set up a permanent lease, had denied the landlord's title, and was not, therefore, entitled to any notice to quit. Held, confirming the lower Appellate Court's decree, that the plaintiff could not recover, in ejectment, without previous notice to quit. By his statement, that his alienor (defendant No. 3) was a permanent tenant and had not received notice to quit, the defendant pleaded an alternative defence he was entitled to make, and could not, therefore, be regarded as having consented to the contract of yearly tenancy (which was alleged by the plaintiff) being treated as cancelled. PURSHOTAM BAPU v. 307. ——— Determination of tenancy.—Abandonment of tenure.—Plaintiff, a mirasidar, purchased certain land in 1850 which he allowed to lie waste from 1853. In 1866, on the application of the first defendant who was also a mirasidar to the second defendant, the local Revenue authority, the land was granted to the first defendant and made over to his possession. Plaintiff was admittedly in arrears of kist. In a suit by plaintiff to recover the land, it was contended that non-cultivation and non-payment of rent for a considerable time warranted the Revenue authorities in entering upon and disposing of the land. Held, in special appeal, that plaintiff's tenancy could only be determined by his resignation or abandonment of his holding, or by the procedure laid down in Act II of 1864, that the letting land lie fallow does not necessarily lead to the inference of abandonment; and that, in the present case, plaintiff, not being found to have abandoned the land, had been ejected in a manner which the law does not recognise. *Special Appeal 139 of 1858, Mad. pied it for four years and then left the district for business purposes, paying no rent for the seven or eight years of his absence, during which the zemindar put the defendant in possession and took rent from him. Held that, even if the plaintiff had a right when he went away to occupy the land if he chose to do so, as he did not do so, he had no right on his return to eject the defendant. MUTTY SOONUR v GUNDUR SOONUR 20 W. 317. ——— Desertion by one of two tenants.—Relinquishment by the other.—Lease by landlord.—Right of deserver to claim land subsequently.—One of the two proprietors of a jote having deserted the land, the other proprietor, while ostensibly in possession of the entire jote, relinquished it to the landlord, who let it to the defendants. Some years after such relinquishment, the plaintiff, who claimed to have purchased the right of the proprietor, who had relinquished, sued to eject the defendant on the ground that the relinquishment was not valid. Held that whether or not the relinquishment was in fact valid, the landlord was under the circumstances entitled to induct another tenant on the land, and that the plaintiff could not eject the defendant. 318. ——— Condition for liability for rent until express surrender.—Lessor and lessee.—Kabuliat.—Suit for rent.—Notice of surrender.—Surrender of land by tenant.—The plaintiff was a mortgagee of certain land, and sued the defendant for the rent thereof for the three years 1871, 1872, and 1873. He alleged that in 1866 the defendant had passed to him a kabuliat for one year, that the defendant did not vacate the land on the expiry of his term; that he (plaintiff) had sued him in 1868 and 1870 for rent, and obtained decrees against him, that the defendant had not yet surrendered the land, and had not paid the rent, and hence the present suit. The defendant answered that he had not occupied the land during the years in dispute, and that it had been in the possession of the owner (the mortgagor). The Subordinate Judge awarded the plaintiff's claim; but the District Judge, in appeal, rejected it, holding that the plaintiff had failed to prove that the defendant had occupied the land during the three years in dispute, and that the defendant's conduct in the former suits was ample notice to the plaintiff that he (defendant) had surrendered the land. On appeal to the High Court,—Held that the result of the former suits was to establish the fact that the defendant's tenancy or liability as a tenant had continued until the end of the cultivating year 1870. By the terms of the lease the defendant was liable until he restored the property to the lessor. He had, therefore, to show, as against the plaintiff's claim for rent, that he (defendant) had terminated the tenancy by some intimation to the lessor (plaintiff) and put him in the way of acting on it by a re-entry on the premises. The High Court, accordingly, finding that there was no evidence in the case either of notice given to the plaintiff or of an opportunity afforded to him of resuming possession of the land, remanded the case for the determination of that question, observing that if such notice were given, and such opportunity afforded, the plaintiff could not legally claim rent after the end of the cultivating year. *VENKATESH NAMAYAN PAI v. 319. ——— Omission to make express surrender.—Notice of surrender of land by tenant.—Splitting up of the cause of action.—Son's liability on the father's contract of tenancy.—On the 22nd April 1848 one A. mortgaged certain land to the plaintiff. S (the father of B, the defendant), who was then tenant in possession of the land, attorned to the mortgagee (plaintiff) by a kabuliat dated the 1st June 1848. S. died in 1870 in possession as tenant. In 1877 the plaintiff sued the defendant B. as heir of S for three years' rent, from 1871-72 to 1873-74. The defendant answered that he had had no possession or occupation of the land since the death of his father in 1870. It was decided in that suit that the defendant had occupied the land up to 1874, and a decree was made against him for the rent claimed. In July 1878 the plaintiff brought the present suit for rent for the subsequent three years, viz, from 1875-76 to 1877-78. The defendant answered that he had given up the land in 1871-72. He did not assert, either in the former or in the present suit, that he had given notice to the plaintiff of his intention to terminate his tenancy by surrendering the land to the defendant, nor did he allege that the plaintiff had assented to a surrender of it by the defendant without such notice. The lower Courts found the kabuliat proved, but threw out the plaintiff's claim on the ground that he failed to prove the defendant's occupation of the land during the three years for which rent was claimed. In the second appeal it was contended for the plaintiff that the tenancy continued until the mortgage was paid off Held that S. became a yearly tenant of the plaintiff under the kabuhat, but that he was not bound to continue his tenancy until the mortgage was paid off. Held, also, that neither the plaintiff nor S. as yearly tenant could, without the consent of the other, terminate the tenancy without six months' notice ending with the cultivating year (30th June). Held, further, that the defendant as the son and heir of S. was responsible on his father's contract of yearly tenancy, so far as he (defendant) had assets of his father, and in order to free those assets from a continuing liability under that contract he was bound to give a six months' notice of surrender to the plaintiff. The mere denial by the defendant in the former and present suit, that he had ever occupied the land, could not operate as such notice, and his non-occupation or non-cultivation alone could not relieve him from his liability to pay the annual rent to the mortgagee (plaintiff), unless the latter assented to a surrender or abandonment of the land by the defendant. Held, also, that the right of the plaintiff to the rent for the year 1875-76 depended upon whether he might have included it in the former suit. The High Court reversed the decrees of the Courts below, and made a decree for the plaintiff for the rent for 1876-77 and 1877-78. Venkatesh Narayan Par v. Krishnaji Arjun, 1 L. 375. ————— Reasonable notice.—It is not necessary that the period allowed in a notice to quit by a landlord to his tenant should terminate at the end of the year, but the notice must be in respect of the date of determination of the tenancy as well as in other respects a reasonable notice. A notice to quit served on the 26th of Pous, and allowing two months to the tenant to vacate his holding, such period thus expiring on the 26th Falgun, when it appeared that cultivation began in the months of Magh and Falgun, and that they were the months for letting out land in the district, held not to be a reasonable notice. *BIDHUMUKHI DABEA CHOWDHRAIN v. 380. ————— Transfer of Property Act, IV of 1882, ss. 106, 111.—On the 11th December 1882, A, who had, on the 1st July 1882, let rooms in a dwelling-house to B, sent a letter to the tenant in the following terms: "If the rooms you occupy in the house No. 5, Thorinalli Road, are not vacated within a month from this date, I will file a suit against you for ejectment as well as for recovery of rent due at the enhanced rate." On the 1st February 1883 the lessor instituted a suit against the tenant for ejectment, with reference to the above letter. Held by OLDFIELD, J (MAHMOOD, J, dissenting), that, with reference to the terms of section 106 of the Transfer of Property Act, the letter was not such a notice to quit as the law required, inasmuch as the notice did not expire with the end of a month of the tenancy; and that this defect was not cured by the circumstance that the lessor waited until the end of the month to enforce his right to eject by suit. Held by MAHMOOD, J. (OLDFIELD, J., dissenting), that the letter dated the 11th December 1882 was a valid notice to quit under sections 106 and 111 of the Transfer of Property Act, and sufficient to determine the tenancy, inasmuch as it gave the tenant more than fifteen days' notice, and its terms were such that he could with perfect safety have acted upon it by quitting the premises at the proper time, —namely, by the end of the month, which he must be presumed to have known was the right time to leave, without any risk of incurring liability to payment of further rent, the landlord having clearly indicated his intention to terminate the tenancy, and the notice being binding upon him, that the additional time given by the notice must be taken to have been given for the convenience of the tenant, and not with the object of continuing the tenancy; and that the suit for ejectment, not having been brought till long afterwards, was maintainable. *Doe v. Also per MAHMOOD, J.—The words "fifteen days" in section 106 of the Transfer of Property Act imply a fixation of the shortest period of notice allowed by the section, and the term "expiring" means that the terms of the notice must be such as to make it capable of expiring according to law at the right time, so as to render it safe for the tenant to quit coincidentally with the end of a month of the tenancy, without incurring any liability to payment of rent for any subsequent period. BRADLEY v. ATKINSON

Held, on appeal under the Letters Patent, that, with reference to the terms of section 106 of the Transfer of Property Act, the letter was not such a notice to quit as the law required, inasmuch as it was not a notice of the lessor's intention to terminate the contract at the end of a month of the tenancy. Per STRAIGHT, J.—Quære,—Whether the letter was a notice to quit at all. Also per STRAIGHT, J.—A notice to quit must be certain, at all events in respect of the date of the determination of the tenancy in other words, there must be a clear and explicit intimation to the tenant as to the date after which he will, if he remains in occupation of the premises, become a trespasser. *Ahearn v. 386. ———— Removal of buildings by tenant.—Tenant holding over after expiry of lease.—By indenture, dated 1st February 1856, A leased certain premises in Calcutta to B for a term of ten years, as from 1st November 1855, at a rent of ₹100 per month, payable monthly. A covenanted with B to grant to her on her request, to be made within three months of the expiry of the term, a fresh lease on the same terms for three years, and that it should be lawful for B at any time during the second lease, or extended lease, to remove or sell and dispose of all, or any part, of the screws and machinery which were at the time of the granting of the lease, or during the term or extended term might be, upon the premises, and immediately upon or within two months after the expiration of the term or extended term to remove, &c, the buildings, &c., which then were or might at any time, during the term or extended term, be erected on the premises by B, her executors, administrators, or assigns. B erected buildings during her tenancy under the lease. The defendant, on 24th August 1858, became, by various mesne assignments, the assignee of the lease, without notice to A, and subsequently repaired and erected buildings on the land. The defendant continued to occupy the premises, and paid the rent in the name of B up to August 1866. No renewal of the lease (which expired on 31st October 1865) was ever demanded by B or by any one claiming under her. The plaintiffs, who had become A's representatives in June 1866, gave notice, through their attorneys, on 6th September 1866, to B to quit on 1st November 1866, and not to remove buildings and fixtures put up since 1st November 1855; and on 1st November 1866 the plaintiffs, in pursuance of the notice of the 6th of September, demanded possession of B and of the defendant who was in actual occupation of the premises. Held that the acceptance of rent by A and his representatives from the defendant holding over after the expiration of the original term did not constitute a renewal of the lease for three years, that the defendant was not entitled to a renewal for three years, that the tenancy after 1st October 1865 was a monthly tenancy in the name of B, and was terminated on 31st October 1866 by the notice of 6th September 1866, that the defendant was not entitled to remove buildings erected, but that he might remove the machinery. *BROJONATH MULLICK v. Held, further, that, apart from the existence of a valid custom entitling the tenant to remove tiled huts, the plaintiff having bought the huts from the out-going tenant with the defendant's knowledge and relying on the practice, and with the defendant's knowledge having partially pulled down and rebuilt the huts, was entitled as against the defendant to remove them. *PARBUTT BEWAH v. The general rule is that, if he who makes the improvement is not a mere trespasser, but is in possession under any bond fide title or claim of title, he is entitled either to remove the materials, restoring the land to the state in which it was before the improvement was made, or to obtain compensation for the value of the building, if it is allowed to remain for the benefit of the owners of the soil; the option of taking the building, or allowing the removal of the materials, remaining with the owner of the land in those cases in which the building is not taken down by the builder during the continuance of any estate which he may possess. IN THE MATTER OF THE PETITION OF THAKOOR CHUNDER PARAMANICK [B. 391. ———— Sale by tenant without consent of landlord.—Position of purchaser.—Erection of brick-built house by tenant.—Right of owner of land to houses built thereon.—The relation between landlord and tenant is that of parties to a contract. The contract is entire and single. If a portion of a tenure be sold either by the tenant or in execution of a decree of the Civil Court against the tenant, in the absence of any consent by the landlord the only mode in which effect can be given to the alienation is to treat the purchaser as holding a rent-free tenure subordinate to that of the original tenant. In this country the ownership and right of possession in the soil does not necessarily carry with it a right to the possession of buildings erected thereon. A tenant who held a piece of land on a lease, erected a brick house upon the land without the permission of, but without any objection by, his landlord. In execution of a decree of the Civil Court against the tenant in January 1865, the materials of the house and the site on which the house was built were sold separately to two individuals from whom the defendant purchased both. On the 31st July 1866 the tenure itself was sold for arrears of rent to one N., from whom the plaintiff purchased it. The plaintiff brought this suit to recover possession of the land free from all incumbrance by the removal of the house. 395. ———— Ownership in land and buildings.—Suits between Hindu inhabitants of Calcutta—21 Geo. III, c. 70, s. 17.—Difference in law applicable in Calcutta and the mofussil—Equity and good conscience—At a Sheriff's sale one Templeton bought a Hindu widow's interest in certain land in Calcutta, after passing through several hands, the land was purchased by the defendant. Between the possession of Templeton and the defendant an intermediate holder built a house upon the land. The plaintiff, a reversionary heir to the estate after the widow's death, sued the defendant to recover possession of the house and land. The defendant admitted the plaintiff's claim to possession, but contended that he was entitled to be paid a fair price for the buildings, or to remove the materials. Held that he was neither entitled to compensation nor to remove the materials, and that the question raised in the suit could not be said to be a question of either succession or inheritance so as to admit of the Hindu law being applied as directed by George III, Cap. 70, section 17, but that the law applicable to the case was the law of equity and good conscience as administered by the Courts of Equity in England. 396. ———— Removal of buildings.—Suit to eject tenant.—Right to remove buildings or get value for them—In a suit to eject defendants (who held under a lease) from a house-ground and to compel them to remove the buildings thereon erected, the defendants pleaded that the lease was a permanent lease, and that plaintiff had no right to eject. The lease expressly authorised the lessee to build. The Court of first instance, holding that it was not a permanent lease, decreed as sued for. The Appellate Court, while concurring with the Munsif as to the construction of the lease, gave the plaintiff the option of paying for the house and resuming the land, or of receiving the value of the land from the defendant. Held that the decree of the Appellate Court was right. MAHALATORMI AMMAL v. 25 MIRASIDARS

397. ———— Nature of tenancy.—Yearly or permanent tenancy.—Right of mirasidars.—Custom of country.—The defendants entered on land as tenants of a mirasidar on terms which they could not prove, but held it at a uniform rent for three generations and for more than fifty years. Held that the defendants, in the absence of any special agreement to the contrary, had not acquired by prescription a right of permanent tenancy. Whatever right of permanent tenancy a tenant may, by prescription, acquire as against an inamdar, or a khot, it would be contrary to the custom of the country, and to the nature of mirasi tenure, to hold that he could acquire such a right as against a mirasidar. NARAYAN VISAJI v LAKSHUMAN BAPUJI. 10 Bom., 324

398. ———— Right to perpetual tenancy.—Sanad.—Evidence of title.—Perpetual cultivation.—Long possession.—Local custom.—Mirasidars who had sanads but who have lost them, and those who never had them, may prove their title by other evidence, and long possession is a strong element in such proof. A sanad is not indispensable to the proof of mirasi tenure. A mirasi right or perpetuity of tenure, like other facts, may be proved by various means. Accordingly, where a plaintiff claimed to hold certain lands in miras and under a right of perpetual cultivation by the custom of the country, and sought to recover the lands from the defendant who claimed as purchaser, at a Court sale, of the right, title, and interest of the inamdar of the said lands, and the lower Courts dismissed the suit on the ground that the plaintiff had failed to prove any right of perpetual cultivation, the District Court, in appeal, observing that no term of occupation as a tenant of inam land would confer a right of perpetual cultivation, and that nothing short of a regular sanad would confer on the plaintiff his alleged right in the lands, the High Court in special appeal reversed the decrees of the Court below, and remanded the case for a new trial on the point whether the plaintiff as a mirasidar or by local usage in virtue of his long possession and uniformity of payment of rent or assessment or otherwise, previously to the Court sale to defendant, had acquired the right to hold the lands in perpetuity on payment of a fixed or other rent ascertainable by local usage. *BABAJI v. of a village, sued the defendants as sukavasi tenants of cultivated land within the village for arrears of rent from 1856. Defendants denied plaintiff's title. The Civil Judge (reversing the decree of the Munsif) dismissed the suit on the ground that the plaintiff had not proved the collection of the perquisites claimed within twelve years before the institution of the suit. Held (reversing the decree of the Civil Judge) that if the defendants were sukavasi ryots and the plaintiff was sole mirasidar, and in that right entitled to certain annual dues for all lands cultivated by such ryots immediately on their being brought under cultivation, plaintiff's suit was not barred, except as to rent payable more than three years before suit. KRISHNAMA CHARYAR v TOPPAI GAUNDAN. 3 Mad., 381

401. ———— Right to dues from cultivators.—Custom.—It can by no means be laid down as a uniform rule that mirasidars are entitled to dues from cultivators holding lands within the area of the mirasi estate under pottahs from the Government. To avoid injustice, where the right is denied, there should be an enquiry whether by custom it prevails on the estate, or, if there are not sufficient instances on the estate to afford grounds for decision, on similar estates in the neighbourhood. There has been no law depriving mirasidars of any privileges they may have customarily enjoyed. On the other hand, in the regulations the intention of the Government is declared to respect the privileges of landholders of all classes. SAKKAJI RAU v LUTCHMANA GAUNDAN. I. L. R., 2 Mad., 149

402. ———— Right of occupancy.—Abandonment.—Waste lands.—Madras Act II of 1864.—The plaintiffs, village mirasidars, sued to eject defendants in possession of the waste lands of the village and to obtain a pottah for the same. The facts were that on three several occasions, beginning in Fusli 1269, applications were made by strangers for permission to cultivate waste lands belonging to the village, and that on each occasion the mirasidars successfully intervened, asserting a preferential right to obtain the lands for cultivation. Pottahs were accordingly made out in their names. But on no occasion did they either cultivate or pay kist for the lands, and subsequent to the last occasion, in 1867, the lands were put up to auction for arrears of kist. The mirasidars bought them in. But the Collector refused to accept the mirasidars as tenants, cancelled the sale, and issued a pottah to the agent of a former applicant. Plaintiffs brought their suit in March 1873, and the District Munsif dismissed it, holding that the conduct of plaintiffs justified the Revenue authorities in the course they had adopted. The District Judge reversed the decree of the Munsif, on the authority of Rejagopala Ayyangar v Collector of Chingleput, 7 Mad., 98. On special appeal, the case was heard before MORGAN, C. J., and INNES, J., and on a difference of opinion was referred to a Full Bench (MORGAN, C. J., HOLLOWAY and INNES, JJ.).

Held by MORGAN, C. J., and HOLLOWAY, J., allowing the special appeal, that the Collector's settlement with the mirasidars was in form an annual settlement, and that on the face of the transaction there was nothing which could be regarded as amounting to the creation or recognition of a permanent right in the mirasidars (plaintiffs), such as could be determined only in the manner indicated in the case of Ragopal Ayyangar v. Collector of Chingleput, 7 Mad., 98: that it was apparent that the mirasidars had no intention either to cultivate the land or (except on legal compulsion) to pay the assessment, and that in such circumstances it was competent to the Revenue officials to decline to accept the plaintiffs as tenants. By HOLLOWAY, J., that the Darkhast Rules of the Revenue authorities did not constitute rights enforceable in a Court of law, and that even if the plaintiffs had been wrongfully dispossessed, their only action would be against the Government for such wrongful dispossession, and the relief sought in the present suit was quite incommensurate with the injury complained of. By INNES, J. (dissenting), that plaintiffs having lawfully purchased at a Government sale had become by the express provisions of the law the occupiers of the land, and that they could not be ejected except for the reasons and by the process prescribed by Madras Act II of 1864, that, not having been lawfully ejected, they were still the rightful holders; and, twelve years not having elapsed since the date of their ejection, could claim to be restored; and that the special appeal should, accordingly, be dismissed. FAKIR MUHAMMAD v. Nor did the word "nij-jote," as used in the pottah, mean lands cultivated by the cultivator himself, but

5. ——— Lease to commence in future.—Temporary lease—An instrument which is in terms a temporary lease is as binding on the lessor, quâ lease, where the tenancy is to commence at a future day, or on the determination of an existing lease under which another lessee is in possession, as where it commences immediately. PITCHAKUTTI CHETTI v KAMALA NAYAKKAN . . . 1 Mad., 153

6. ——— Duration of lease.—Lease where no term is specified.—Where no term is mentioned in a lease, it may be either a tenancy terminable at the end of every year, or one for the life of the tenant, according to the terms of the lease. WATSON v DOST MAHOMED KHAN . . . 2 Hay, 4

7. ——— Lease of land for building purposes without term.—Liability to ejectment.—Where land is given to a lessee for the purpose of building a house to live in, without any term being fixed for the tenancy, the tenure of house and land cannot be taken away from the lessee's heir or his vendee so long as he continues to pay the rent assessed on it. JUHOOREE LALL SAHOO v DEAR

[23 W. R., 399]

8. ——— Lease for specified term where no provision for continuance is used.—Where a lease is not in writing, but the terms of holding are specified in a notification addressed by the lessor to his servants, such an acknowledgment is, as against the lessor, conclusive evidence of the terms of the agreement. Where a lease for a fixed term of seven years contains no words to import a continuance of the interest after the death of the grantee, nor any expressions which point to any earlier determination of the interest, the prima facie meaning is a continuance for seven years, and that the lease did not terminate with the death of the original lessee, but survived during the remainder of the term to his heirs and representatives. The onus is on the party who seeks to show that the transaction should be governed by Hindu law that the prima facie construction is contrary to the Hindu law, or the established custom of considering such contracts in Bengal. In this case the lessor having, on the death of the lessee, granted a putni of his whole estate, including

9. ——— Tenancy year by year.—A tenancy which is to continue year by year is a continuing tenancy so long as the parties are satisfied; and though terminable at the option of either party at the end of any year is not ipso facto terminated at the end of every year. *MALODDER NOSHYO v. [13 W. R., 190]

10. ——— Tenancy from year to year.—The words, "you must pay every year Government dues, and enjoy the fields along with the garden lands without disturbance (sukhrup raham), besides the fixed amount there will be no oppression on account of cesses," do not create a permanent tenancy, but only a tenancy from year to year. GUNGABAI v. KALAPA DARS MUKRYA

11. ——— Lease from year to year.—Mode of determining tenancy.—In a suit for possession of a piece of land and for rent of the same, the plaintiff produced in support of his claim two sarkhats or kabuhats purporting to be executed in his favour by the defendants, and dated respectively in January 1875 and June 1876. These documents were not registered. The first, after reciting that the executant had taken the land from the plaintiff on a specified yearly rent, and promised to pay the same yearly, proceeded as follows: "If the owner of the land wishes to have it vacated, he shall give me fifteen days' notice, and I will vacate without making objection. If I delay in vacating the land, the owner can realise, by recourse to law, rent from me at the rate of Rs per annum." The second sarkhat, after reciting that the executants had taken the land from the plaintiff on a yearly rent specified for six years, and promised to pay the same year by year, proceeded thus: "And if the said Shaikh wishes to have the land vacated within the said term, he shall first give us fifteen days' notice, and we will vacate it without objection." The lower Courts held that the sarkhats were not admissible in evidence, as they required registration under section 17 (4) of the Registration Act VIII of 1871, being leases of immoveable property from year to year or reserving a yearly rent. Held that the two sarkhats created no rights except those of tenants-at-will, inasmuch as the clause common to both, to the effect that at any time, at the will of the lessor, the lessees were to give up the land at fifteen days' notice, governed all the previous clauses, and the defendants could be asked to quit at any time before the lapse of the term at fifteen days' notice. *KHUDA BAKISH v. 12. ————— Permanent tenancy only modifiable by revision of rent.—Right of ejectment.—Exclusion of lessor's right of terminating lease.—Ejectment by landlord against tenant. It appeared that the land in dispute was the property of a muttum of which the plaintiff was the trustee; and had been let to the defendant's father under a muchalka (Exhibit A), dated 14th August 1837, entered into with the Collector, the manager of the property on behalf of the Government. The tenancy continued to be regulated by his agreement until plaintiff, in 1867, demanded an increased rent, which the defendant refused to agree to pay. Upon that demand and refusal the plaintiff, at the end of the Fashi, and without tendering a pottah for another Fashi stipulating for the increased rent, brought his suit to eject. The defendant (appellant) contended that the right to put an end to his tenancy was conditional upon his failure to pay the rent fixed by the agreement. Held, by SCOTLAND, C. J., upon the construction of the muchalka, that the plaintiff possessed the absolute right to put an end to the tenancy at the end of the Fashi, unless the condition relied upon by the appellant was by force of established general custom (which had not been alleged) or positive law made a part of the contract of tenancy that neither the Rent Recovery Act nor the Regulations operated to extend a tenancy beyond the period of its duration secured by the express or implied terms of the contract creating it, and that therefore the plaintiff had a right to eject the defendant at the end of a Fashi. By HOLLOWAY, J.—That whether the express contract was binding on the pagoda or not, it gave no right to hold permanently, and that there is nothing in any existing written law to render a tenancy once created only modifiable by a revision of rent but not terminable at the will of the lessor exercised in accordance with his obligations. Enamandaram Venkayya v Venkatanarayana Reddi, 1 Mad 75, and Nallatambi Pattar v Chinnadeyanayagum Pillai, 1 Mad, 109, doubted. The judgment in the case of Venkatanamam v Ananda Chetty, 5 Mad, 122, has gone too far in laying down the rule as to a pottahdar's right of occupation. CHOCKALINGA PILLAI v VYTHERALINGA PUNDARA SUNNADY . . . 6 Mad., 164

13. ————— Permanent tenancy on continuing to pay rent.—Suit to recover the proprietary right in a village belonging to plaintiff's muttah, which was let to defendant's father under a pottah and muchalka, and which on the death of her father and since the defendant refused to surrender, upon the grounds (1) that the right had been leased permanently, subject to the regular payment of the stipulated rent, which condition had been strictly fulfilled, (2) that her father had expended large sums in making substantial permanent improvements in the village, and that he had by gift transferred the tenancy to her. Held that, on the true construction of the terms of the pottah and muchalka only a tenancy from Fashi to Fashi was created. Neither Regulation XXX of 1802 nor Madras Act VIII of 1865

17. ————— Death of lessor or lessee.—Lease for term of years.—Joint liability of lessees.—In the absence of words to the contrary, a lease of zemindari rights for a term of years does not terminate before the expiration of the term by the mere fact of the death of either the lessor or lessee. Teg Chand v Sree Kanth Ghose, 3 Moore's I. 20. ———— Suit for ejectment.—Disputes arose between the Government and an adjacent proprietor, M. S., respecting a piece of alluvial land gained by accretion, of which M. S. was then in possession. The Government required the land for public improvements. After some correspondence an agreement was entered into by which M. S. undertook to relinquish in favour of Government all claim to the proprietary right, and to rent the land from Government, upon the latter allowing him to remain in possession until the projected public improvements rendered it necessary for him to vacate the land. Possession was given to Government, M. S. holding the land from Government at a fixed rent, and undertaking to quit possession at a month's notice. Improvements in the neighbourhood having been made by Government and M. S. being dead, notice to quit was served on his representatives, who refused to quit, on the ground that the improvements were not such public improvements as were contemplated by the correspondence and agreement. In a suit for ejectment,—Held that M. S. was, under the agreement, a mere tenant-at-will and that the suit was maintainable, and the representatives of *M. 21. ———— Lease to widow.—Re-marriage and death of widow.—Right of second husband to possession.—Upon the death of a tenant under a jaghirdar, his widow passed a kabulat agreeing to hold the land on the same terms as her late husband, and that in the event of her marrying again she should have no right to the holding, but that if she got her husband to live in her house she might continue to hold the land. She afterwards re-married, and held the land till her death. In an action brought by the second husband to recover possession of the land, as the heir of his wife,—Held (reversing the decrees of both the Courts below) that the plaintiff had no right to recover possession, and his wife had merely a personal interest in the holding, which ceased upon her death. KAMALUDDIN HUSEN KHAN v. 23. ———— Nature of grant.—Intention of parties.—Estate for life or inheritance.—In order to determine the question whether a pottah granted by a zemindar conveyed an estate for life only or an estate of inheritance,—Held that it was necessary to arrive, as well as could be done, at the real intention of the parties, to be collected chiefly from the terms of the instrument, but to a certain extent also from the circumstances existing at the time, and further by the conduct of the parties since its execution. WATSON & Co. v. 26. ———— Pottah for building purposes.—Omission of words defining grant.—A pottah which gave land for building purposes and recited that no abatement of rent was to be granted at any time or for any cause, and that no increase of jumma should ever be demanded, was held distinctly to provide that the land was granted at the rate then fixed for ever, even though no such words were used as "istemrari" or "ba-furzundan". BRINODE BEHARY ROY v. Mokurrari.—

Words of inheritance—In 1798 a mokurrari pottah of a portion of a zemindari was granted to A. at a consolidated jumma of R6 for the term of four years, and at a uniform rent of R25 from the expiration of that period, to be paid year after year. The pottah provided that the mokurraridari should make improvements, that profits arising therefrom should belong to him, and not to the grantor; and that he should not dispose of any portion of the land granted without the permission of the grantor. No words of inheritance were used in the grant. The grantee died in 1875, when the heirs of the grantor sued to recover possession of the estate from the heirs and assigns of A. The defendants contended that the grant was transferable and hereditary, and that A. his heirs, and assigns were entitled to it in perpetuity. Held that the grant was for the life of A., only, and not in perpetuity. The use of the word "mokurrari" alone in a lease raises no presumption that the tenure was intended to be hereditary, and therefore, in order to decide whether a mokurrari lease is hereditary, the Court must consider the other terms of the instrument under which it is granted, the circumstances under which it was made, and the intention of the parties. SHEO PERSHAD SINGH v. KALLY DASS SINGH I. L. R., 5 Calc., 543: 5 C. L. R., 138

In the same case on appeal to the Privy Council, Held—The word "mokurrari" does not necessarily import perpetuity, although it may do so. Used in connection with the grant of an ijara in a pottah, this word is not inconsistent with such interest being only for life. By a pottah was granted a mokurrari ijara at a fixed rent in a mouzah, consisting mainly of waste lands, part of the grantor's zemindari, without words of inheritance. On the death of the grantee, who brought the land under cultivation and died in possession many years after, the question arose whether the pottah was for life, or for a heritable and transferable estate. Held that there being in the pottah no words importing perpetuity, notwithstanding the use of the word "mokurrari," the question was whether the intention of the parties that the grant should be perpetual was shown with sufficient certainty in any other way,—eg., by the other terms of the instrument, its objects, the circumstances under which it was made, or the conduct of the parties to it. Held, also, that such intention was not shown. BILASMONI DAS v. SHEOPERSHAD SINGH

Meaning of the words "istemrari mokurrari" in connection with grant of lands—Intention of parties—The words

"istemrari mokurrari" in a pottah granting land do not of themselves denote that the estate granted is an estate of inheritance. Not that such an estate cannot be so granted unless, in addition to the above words, such expressions as "bafurzundan," or "naslan bad naslan," or similar terms are used. Without the latter, the other terms of the instrument, the circumstances under which it has been made, or the conduct of the parties, may show the intention with sufficient certainty to enable the Courts to pronounce the grant to be perpetual; the above words not being inconsistent therewith, though not themselves imparting it. Held, accordingly, that where the words "mokuarrari istemrari" were used in connection with a grant in a pottah (as it was also held in another case where the instrument was termed "mokuurari ijara pottah"), that the question was whether the intention of the parties that the grant should be perpetual had, or had not, been shown with sufficient certainty in any other way,—eg., by the other terms, by the objects or circumstances, of the grant, or by the acts of the parties. And held that in the present case the intention was so shown. TULSHI PERSHAD SINGH v. RAMNARAIN SINGH

Istemrari pottahs.—

Hereditary title—Construction of pottah—In an instrument described as a perpetual lease (pottah istemrari) the lessor covenanted as follows "So long as the rent is paid, I shall have no power to resume the land. The lessees shall have no power to sell the land in any way. I have therefore executed these few words by way of a perpetual lease, that it may be used when needed." Upon the death of one of the lessees, his heir, who was in possession of the land which formed the subject of the lease, claimed to be the lessee of a moiety thereof on the ground that the lease was one creating a heritable interest. The claim was allowed by the settlement officer, and the lessor thereupon brought a suit to have it declared that he was entitled to eject the defendant, under section 36 of the N-W P Rent Act (XII of 1881), as being a tenant-at-will, and to set aside the settlement officer's order. Held that the mere use of the word "istemrari" in the instrument did not ex vi terminum make the instrument such as to create an estate of inheritance in the lessee; that the words "so long as the rent is paid I shall have no power to resume the land" did not show any meaning or intention that the lease was to be in perpetuity; and that the defendant (even should he be the legal heir and representative of one of the lessees) could not resist the plaintiff's claim. Tulshi Pershad Singh v. by measurement—Provision for rate of rent—Plaintiff let to defendant a quantity of land, of which he was not certain how much was in cultivation and how much was jungle, at a total jumma to be eventually settled on the footing of 12 annas per bigha culturable, and 10 annas per bigha jungle, on the number of bighas of each sort which existed at the end of the year next preceding the date of the pottah, the calculation of the rent to be made permanently by effecting a measurement within six months, until which time defendant should pay a provisional jumma at 12 annas a bigha on a given number of bighas, amounting to a specified sum. Plaintiff sued for arrears of rent, no measurement having taken place, though years had elapsed. Held that, until ascertainment by measurement of a settled jumma, the rent due under the terms of the pottah would be the provisional sum mentioned above; but if the delay in such ascertainment were due to default of plaintiff, defendant would be entitled to set up the state of things which he believed would be arrived at if measurement were effected. *BIARUTH CHUNDER ROY v. 48. ————— Covenant for renewal.—

Ambiguous covenant.—Right to remove soil and open mines.—Interpretation by acts of the parties.—Estoppel.—Confirmation.—Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870—A lease for ninety-nine years made in 1794 by the East India Company to W contained a covenant that the said Company, upon application of the heirs, executors, administrators, and assigns of the said W, would re-grant and renew the said lease thereby made “on the terms and conditions above mentioned,” &c. Held that the above covenant was not a covenant for perpetual renewal of the lease, but a covenant for a single renewal only. The above lease granted to the said W, his heirs, executors, administrators, and assigns, Bhandarvada Hill “with the house, buildings, offices, stables, garden and wells, &c., &c., thereon standing and now in his own occupation or possession” It was contended that this clause, if not on the face of it granting the right to remove and sell the soil, was, at all events, ambiguous, and had been interpreted by the subsequent conduct of the parties themselves, who had always recognised the right of the holders of the lease to the soil and stones of the land in question. It appeared that in 1861 the holders of the lease had permitted the E. Company to enter upon the land and to remove the earth and stones of the hill for purposes of reclamation; and that on May 10th, 1870, an indenture had been executed to which the Secretary of State, the E Company, and all persons interested in the lease were parties, which indenture recited the above facts and contained mutual releases by the persons interested in the lease, the E Company, and the Secretary of State in respect of any claims that might be made against any of them on account of the excavation of the said hill and the removal of the earth and stones therefrom. The said indenture also contained a confirmation, by the Secretary of State, of the lease of 1794. A schedule to the indenture described the property comprised in the lease and specified (inter alia) the "quarries situated at Bhandargada Hill." Held that the words of the lease of 1794 were not ambiguous, and gave no right to remove the soil and stones, and that the acts of the parties could not be admitted to affect the construction of the lease. Quare,—Whether the acts of the parties in removing soil, which removal was not proved to have taken place earlier than 1863, could be called in aid of the interpretation of ambiguous words in the lease of 1794. There was no "contemporanea expositio." Even if the words quarries or mines had been used in the lease of 1794, they would have given no right to work quarries or mines other than those open when the tenant came in, which, moreover, he might have worked in the absence of such words. To allow the opening of new quarries or mines an express power to that effect must be given. Held, also, that the Secretary of State was not estopped by the indenture of May 10th, 1870, from disputing the claimant's right to remove the soil and stones. The claimant's position had not been altered so as to make it inequitable in the Secretary of State now to assert his claims under the lease. Held, also, that the indenture of May 10th, 1870, did not operate as a fresh demise of the premises in their condition at the date of the indenture. A confirmation does not operate so as to make the estate confirmed subject to the incidents which it would have had if granted in the condition at the date of the confirmation. IN RE PURMANANDAS JEEWANDAS . After the kabuliat was given, N. made over his interest in the lease to D. Held that, in passing from N and D. to D alone, the lease had passed into the hands of "others" within the meaning of the kabuliat, and that D occupied the position of the persons contemplated by the terms "those who will succeed to our rights." BHOBANEE CHUNDRA MITTER v MACNAIR . . . 10 W. 67. ——— Right to assign or sub-let.

—Conditions attached to zemindar's estate—Construction of lease.—The right to assign or sub-let is as well established an incident of a tenancy at a rent for a determinate period when the contract of letting is silent on the subject, as it is of an estate for life or of inheritance, and there is nothing in the nature of the conditions attached to a zemindari estate which renders an assignment of a lease of such estate an exception to the general rules. Held, on the construction of a lease, that the language did not evidence a contract purely personal to the lessee and his heir so as to exclude the right to assign.

lish his right to attach and sell certain land in execution of a decree obtained by him against a third party who held the land from the defendant under a mulgemi lease. The lease contained a clause which, after forbidding the tenant from alienating it by mortgage, sale, or lease, stipulated that the tenant was not to let it be sold, or attached and sold in satisfaction of judgment-debts, and that if he did, the landlord might take away the land and give it to others for cultivation. The defendant contended that the land could not be attached and sold by reason of this clause. The lower Courts held that the clause was invalid, both because such a restriction on alienation was repugnant to the mulgemi tenure in contemplation of law, and because occurring in a lease which was virtually in perpetuity, it would make the land for ever inalienable, and was, therefore, against public policy. On appeal to the High Court,—Held that the clause was not invalid on either ground. The nature and history of the mulgemi tenure considered. The policy of the law, as evidenced by the Transfer of Property Act, IV of 1882, with regard to clauses against alienation, considered. Held, also, that if the tenant allowed the land to be attached and sold by not taking measures to satisfy his judgment-debts, it would be a breach, both according to the letter and spirit of the clause in the lease, and would give the lessor a right of re-entry. Held, further, that although technically there would be no breach or right of re-entry until attachment and sale had been suffered by the tenant, yet, as the attachment of itself could be of no use to the creditor, since the debtor was already prevented by his lease from alienating, and as it would be necessary, even if the attachment were allowed, to forbid the sale by a concurrent order, the attachment itself, which would under those circumstances be futile, should not be permitted

70. ——— Lease to an undivided Hindu family—Partition.—Covenant against alienation—Alienation voluntary or by act of law—Attachment and sale.—No clause of forfeiture or re-entry—Non-payment of rent.—Rights of the mulgemi landlord.—The plaintiff leased his land under a mulgemi chetti, on lease at a fixed rent, to defendant No. 1, who then lived in union with his brothers, defendants 2 and 3, and acted as manager of the family. The lease contained a clause against alienation by the lessee by mortgage, sale, gift, or otherwise, but did not provide for re-entry or forfeiture in case of breach. A partition of the land among the brothers subsequently took place. The shares of defendants 1 and 2 were afterwards sold, the former at a Court sale in execution of a decree, and the latter by private contract, and were purchased respectively by defendants 4 and 5, who entered into possession. Plaintiff now sued to recover his land, contending that the breach of the covenant against alienation had worked a forfeiture, and likewise for one year's rent, claiming the whole of it from defendant No. 1. Held, following the decision in Vankatraya v. Shivrambhat, 1 L. R., 7 Bom., 256, that the restriction against alienation was valid, but went no further than to prohibit alienation by the act of the parties themselves, and then even did not provide for forfeiture or re-entry on breach, and had no application to the case of an alienation by act of law, as by attachment and sale in execution of a decree. That the plaintiff had, therefore, no right to recover possession from any of the defendants,—his only remedy being in damages for breach of the covenant against alienation. Held, further, that defendants 1, 2, and 3 were severally liable for the whole amount of the rent claimed, as the lease was taken by defendant No. 1 for the benefit of the undivided family, and the plaintiff was no party to the partition, neither had he at any time recognised defendants 4 and 5 as his tenants. *TAMAYA v. 72. ——— Suit to set aside zur-i-peshgi lease.—Act X of 1859, s. 25—Ejectment—A zur-i-peshgi lease (which does not provide for its cancellation in the event of a breach of any of its conditions, but provides for the cancellation of all sub-leases) cannot be set aside because of the act of the zur-i-peshgidar granting a kutkina. The kutkina may be set aside, and the zur-i-peshgidar be liable in damages for any injury which may have accrued to the zemindar. Section 25, Act X of 1859, was not applicable to such a case, but only to cases when the period of the lease had expired. But as a zur-i-peshgi lease has always been treated as a mortgage, a suit to set it aside cannot be brought in the Collector's Court unless the terms of the lease distinctly provide for such a course of procedure in the event of a breach of any of its conditions. *MAHOMED ALI v. Subsequently to this decree several orders were made in the suit, appointing a receiver, ordering partition and excluding certain properties from partition, and directing an account. On partition, a 5-30th share in the properties ordered to be partitioned was allotted and made over to the guardian of the infant children of the sharer who had died, the remainder of the unpartitioned property being in the hands of the receiver. 20. ———— Payment—Order refusing to confirm award.—In a suit referred to arbitration under Act VIII of 1859, the arbitrator informed the parties that he had determined to award the plaintiff Rs. 1,500 with costs, but a few days afterwards, in consequence of a communication made by the defendant, the arbitrator held another meeting, at which the defendant for the first time contended that, as before the matter was referred to arbitration he had offered the plaintiff Rs. 1,500, he ought not to be made to pay the costs of the arbitration, and in support of his contention produced a letter written by the plaintiff's attorneys to his attorneys, which was stated to be "without prejudice," and thereupon the arbitrator decided not to give the plaintiff costs. An application to confirm the award was refused by the learned Judge of the Court of first instance, upon the ground that the defendant had acted improperly in using the letter. Held, on appeal by the defendant, that the refusal to confirm the award was a judgment upon the whole subject-matter of the suit, and that an appeal would lie from such a judgment. HOWARD v. The attempt at compromise having failed, the petitioner afterwards appealed under clause 15 of the Letters Patent, when the Judge in the Privy Council Department was referred to, and was not able to deliver any judgment. Held that, under such circumstances, no appeal lay to the High Court. TARA CHAND BISWAS v. RADHA JEEBUN MUSTOFFER [24 W. R., 148]

24. ———— Appeal from order of Judge granting certificate of appeal to Privy Council—Act VI of 1874.—Where an appeal was made from an order of a Judge of the High Court granting a certificate, under Act VI of 1874, to the effect that the subject-matter of a certain suit was of the value of Rs. 10,000, and thus allowing an appeal to the Privy Council, —Held by a Bench of the Court, that as Act VI of 1874 did not confer the right of such an appeal, it could only be allowed now if it could be shown that the right existed before the passing of that Act; and found that, as a matter of fact, such a right did not previously exist. Although, under clause 15 of the Charter of 1865, an appeal is given to the High Court from any judgment of a single Judge, an order or certificate of a Judge allowing an appeal to the Privy Council cannot properly be considered a judgment of the High Court. Such an order has its origin in an Act of Parliament for the better administration of justice in the Privy Council, and belongs rather to Privy Council proceedings than to the legitimate province of the High Court. In this view it is immaterial whether an order and certificate are for admission or refusal of appeal to the Privy Council. AMIRUNNISSA v. BEHARY LALL KESHUB CHUNDER ACHARJEE v. order to the Court of first instance for execution of the share decreed to him, but, on account of the assignment above mentioned, was unable to produce the certified copy of the decree of the Privy Council. The Judge presiding over the Privy Council Department in the High Court held that the production of a certified copy of the order of the Privy Council was excusable under the circumstances, but refused the application, on the ground that the decree of the Court of first instance, which was affirmed by the Privy Council, could only be executed as a whole and not partly by one of the plaintiffs. Held, on appeal, per GARTH, C. J.—That the duties of a Judge in dealing with the meaning of decrees of the Privy Council are purely ministerial, and that any order made in such ministerial capacity could not be considered a judgment, and could not, therefore, be made the subject of an appeal to a Bench of the High Court under clause 15 of the Charter. Per WHITE and MITCHELL, JJ.—An order of a Judge presiding over the Privy Council Department in the High Court, rejecting an application for execution, is a final order, and is a judgment within the meaning of clause 15 of the Charter, and is therefore appealable. IN THE MATTER OF THE PETITION OF KALLY SOONDREY DABIA. In the same case on appeal to the Privy Council,—Held—A decision by the Judge appointed to dispose of matters relating to appeals to Her Majesty in Council, refusing to transmit for execution Her order restoring a decree, is a judgment within the meaning of clause 15 of the Letters Patent of 1865, and is appealable to the High Court. Held, also, that a refusal to transmit such an order for execution was not a misapprehension on the part of the Judge of the extent of his jurisdiction, although, if it had been, this itself would have been a ground of appeal. HURISH CHUNDER CHOWDHURY v. On appeal to the High Court, the decision of the lower Court was upheld, but the decree was varied in respect of some matters relating to the mode in which the relief to which the plaintiff was declared entitled should be granted. The defendant applied for leave to appeal to the Privy Council, but the application was refused, on the ground that the judgment in the High Court and the Court of first instance were in effect concurrent judgments, and that no substantial point of law was involved in the case. 31. ———— Civil Procedure Code, s. 257—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 23.—Arguments on appeal.—Practice.—Clauses 15 and 36 of the Letters Patent of the High Court must be treated as qualifying section 257 of Act VIII of 1859. Under the Letters Patent of 1865, in lieu of the former practice under Act XXIII of 1861, section 23,—namely, that when the Appeal Court consisted of only two Judges, and there was a difference of opinion between them upon a point of law, the case was re-argued upon that question before one or more of the other Judges,—when the Judges of a Division Court are equally divided in opinion as to the decision to be given on any point, the opinion of the senior Judge is to prevail, subject, however, to a right of appeal from such judgment of the Division Court. The judgment passed on such appeal, and not the judgment of the Division Court, will be “final.” In appeal under clause 15 of the Letters Patent, 1865, no point can be argued except a point on which the two Judges of the Division Bench have differed in opinion. ROY NANDIPAT MAHATA v. 3. ——— Privileged communication—Malicious prosecution—Reasonable and probable cause.—L. M., an inspector of the O. G. Co., on visiting the company's works at N, was informed that the superintendent, W. M., had misappropriated the company's money, and obtained money wrongfully from their workmen, and otherwise mismanaged the factory. On further enquiry and inspection of W. M.'s books, his suspicions being confirmed, he communicated them by letter to the resident director. The company having declined to prosecute, L. M. presented a charge of breach of trust against W. M., on which he was arrested, and after a magistral enquiry the charge was dismissed. It appeared from the evidence that the defendant had reasonable and probable cause for supposing that the plaintiff was guilty of the misconduct he was charged with, and there was no proof that the defendant was actuated by malice. Held, dismissing the suit with costs, that a communication such as the above is a "privileged communication" that when an overseer has reasonable and probable cause for supposing that a workman has committed a breach of trust, and prosecutes him for it, the employers having declined to, no enquiry is to be made into the motives that prompted him to do so. MILLS v. 4. ——— Statements made by defendants to protect their own interest.—Plaintiffs and defendants were the members of two firms, each creditors of an absconded debtor, one B. The plaintiffs' firm brought a suit to recover the sum alleged to be due to them by the said B., and pending that suit the defendants' firm presented a petition to the Court which contained the statements complained of, which were principally to the effect that the plaintiffs had prejudiced the petitioners by suing the said B. for sums greatly in excess of their just claims against him. The Judge found that there was no malice in fact, but that the statements were untrue and calculated to damage, and he accordingly gave a decree to the plaintiffs with damages. Held, on appeal, reversing the decision of the Act I of 1873—Practice.—Costs*—The Trustees of the Port of Bombay, who are, under the provisions of their Act of Incorporation (Bombay Act I, of 1873), bound to keep minutes of their proceedings and resolutions, and to forward copies of such minutes to the Secretary to the Local Government, passed, in relation to the hiring by them to the plaintiff of one of their steamers, the following resolution "Mr. Shepherd's (the plaintiff's) offer of Rs50 in full of all claims should be accepted, but any further transactions with him should be avoided if possible." Copies of this resolution, made by clerks in the employ of the Trustees, were recorded in two books kept in the office of the Trustees, and other copies, also made by such clerks, were forwarded to the Secretary to the Local Government and to the plaintiff himself. Held, first, that the words of the resolution amounted in law to a libel; second, that the act of the Trustees, in transmitting a copy to the Secretary to the Local Government, was a publication of the libel, third, that such publication was privileged. Quære,—Whether the giving of the resolution to be copied by clerks of the defendants was a publication; but, if it were,—Held that such a publication was also privileged. Semble,—That had the defendants succeeded on the plea of privilege only, each party should have borne their own costs, but held that as the plaint contained allegations of express malice and want of bona fides on the part of the Trustees in passing and publishing the libellous resolution complained of, which allegations obliged the Trustees to plead justification, on which plea also they were successful, the plaintiff must pay the costs of the suit. SHEPHERD v. On the 22nd November 1865 the defendant executed a power of attorney authorising the plaintiffs to sell or dispose of the said shares and gave them a promissory note for Rs. 1,90,000 with interest at 11 per cent. per annum. Between the 22nd November and 2nd January 1866 the plaintiffs caused their right of lien over the said shares to be registered by the various joint-stock companies concerned. On the 1st February 1866 the defendant, being found on adjustment of accounts to be indebted to the plaintiffs for Rs. 1,82,173, and being pressed for payment, gave them a second promissory note for that amount with interest at 12 per cent. per annum. On taking the second note the plaintiffs gave up the first one and put a receipt on the back of it. In April 1870 the defendant wrote to the plaintiffs revoking the power of attorney given by him to the plaintiffs, publicly notified such revocation, and refused to pay the debt on the ground that it was barred by limitation. In a suit by the plaintiffs for the amount of the debt, and for a declaration of their right of lien and power of sale over the shares pledged with them by the defendant, and for an order for a sale of the shares sufficient to pay off the debt,—Held that the original debt continued to exist, that the first promissory note and the shares were given as a security for that loan, that the second promissory note was also given as a security for the loan, no new debt being created, that the plaintiffs had a right to exercise the power given to them of selling the securities, notwithstanding the revocation of the power of attorney, the act of the defendant in trying to prevent such exercise of power by revoking the power of attorney, being unjustifiable, and that, therefore, the plaintiffs were entitled to have the power declared valid and subsisting, and generally to have the relief they asked for. STEWART v. After this the co-sharers granted a putni of a portion of the estate to the defendants in this suit. Subsequently the rights of the Ds were sold in execution to B, who again sold them to plaintiffs, who had previously acquired twelve annas of the right and interest of R. under the razinamah and safinamah and decree, the remaining four annas having passed to G, now represented by defendant K. The present suit was brought to set aside the putni lease as being in derogation of plaintiffs' right. Held that the plaintiffs, to the extent of their share, had a valid lien upon the estate, and were entitled to priority over any right under the putni lease and to hold possession until their claim was satisfied. DHUNKRISTO SEIN v. Plaintiff sued C. and L. to obtain a declaratory decree to the effect that the factory could be sold in satisfaction of his decree for rent under Act X of 1859, free of incumbrances created by the bonds. Held that, as no money was advanced for the lease, and no debt was due from the lessee to lessor, plaintiff had no lien on the factory in satisfaction of a debt. Held that plaintiff could have proceeded under section 110, Act X, and then under section 111, if L. objected to the sale of the factory; but having no prior lien upon the factory he had no cause of action against L. *CHUMUN LALL CHOWDHREY v. 17. ———— Lien for advances made to manager of indigo estate.—Consignee of West Indra Estate.—Salvage lien.—Estoppel.—Knowledge.—Acquiescence.—M., the manager of an indigo concern, under section 243, Act VIII of 1859, by a deed dated the 1st February 1873, in which the owners of the concern joined, which was duly registered, and which was made with the Court's sanction, mortgaged the concern, and pledged and assigned the season's crop to A. and B., who were purda-nashins, to secure repayment of a large sum of money, consisting partly of the balance of previous loans from the husband of A. and B., and partly of a new loan to the extent of what was described in the deed as the estimated outlay of the season. The deed provided that A. and B. should have a first charge upon the indigo to be manufactured in the season in respect of the moneys secured thereby, that the indigo should be sold subject to A.'s and B.'s direction, that until the debt was paid M. should have no power to transfer, sell, or mortgage the properties thereby mortgaged, pledged, and assigned, or in any way to deal with the sale proceeds of the manufactured indigo, and that A. and B. should have full power to arrange for the appointment and dismissal of the servants of the concern, and for its better management. Previously to this, namely, in October 1872, M. had, in pursuance of his letter of appointment, filed an estimate for the season's outlay largely exceeding the sum mentioned in the deed as the estimated outlay, and had alleged that, at the time of executing the mortgage-deed, he had informed one C., who was the general manager of A. and B., and as such was the only medium of communication between M. and A. and B., that further advances would be necessary. According to M.'s account, C. told him that A. and B. were unable to make further advances, and that he could, if they were needed, obtain them on the usual terms from the plaintiffs, who were indigo brokers. In previous years, during the lifetime of the husband of A. and B., who had held similar mortgages of the concern and of the crop in those years to secure advances made by him, such advances had, with the mortgagee's knowledge, been supplemented by loans obtained from the plaintiffs on the security of a first charge upon the crop to the extent of such loans; and it was alleged by M. that it was upon the understanding that the same course was to be followed in the present instance that the mortgage-deed to A. and B. was executed. The moneys advanced by the latter were wholly expended by April, when M., without communicating with A. and B., and with only the verbal sanction of the Court, applied to the plaintiffs for money, and on the 26th April the plaintiffs wrote to M. that they would make advances to the extent of Rs. 50,000, upon his assigning to them and giving them a first charge on the first 250 maunds of indigo to be manufactured in the season, and they enclosed a form of assignment for M's signature which he duly signed, and returned to the plaintiffs on the 31d May. This document bore a R2 stamp. In September and October, M obtained further advances from the plaintiffs in respect of other indigo, giving them similar letters of assignment, which also bore R2 stamps. Of the moneys thus advanced by the plaintiffs, Rs5,000 was paid to C. for A and B, by a bill drawn upon the plaintiffs. About Rs17,000 was applied towards the expenditure of the following season, and the remainder was applied in the production of the then season's indigo, and M stated that without it he could not have manufactured any indigo whatever that season. The indigo, when manufactured, was claimed by A and B under their mortgage, and their claim being resisted by M, who set up against them the plaintiffs' rights under the letters of assignment, A and B brought a suit to enforce the provision of their mortgage-deed. In this suit the indigo was attached before judgment and sent to Calcutta for sale. The plaintiffs now sued A, B, M, and the holders for sale to establish their first charge in respect of their advances to M upon 360 maunds of the indigo on the strength of their letters of assignment. Held, per GARTH, C J, and PHEAR, J, that the plaintiffs were neither in the position of managers of the concern nor of consignees of the indigo, and were therefore not entitled to any lien upon the indigo, similar to the lien possessed by the manager or the consignee of a West India estate. Held, per PHEAR, J, that the plaintiffs could not claim a lien on the indigo on grounds of a salvage character, it being essential to such a lien that the person spending the money of which he claims reimbursement should have some interest in the property, or some right or duty towards the owners who are to be affected by the claim, impelling him to make the expenditure. A mere volunteer can in general claim no such lien. Held on the facts per GARTH, C J, PHEAR and MACPHERSON, JJ, that there was not evidence of such knowledge and acquiescence on the part of A and B with respect to the advances by and the assignments to the plaintiffs as would estop them from disputing the plaintiffs' claim. *MORAN v. 1. LAW OF LIMITATION.

- 1. ——— Nature of law.—Prescription.
—Lex fori—The law of prescription or limitation is a law relating to procedure, having reference only to the lex fori. Where a Court entertains a cause of action which originated in a foreign country, the rule is to adjudicate according to the law of that country, yet the Court proceeds according to the prescription of the country in which it exercises jurisdiction.
RUCKMABOYE v. LALLOBOHOY MOTTICHUND

- 2. ——— Operation of law.—Cause of action—The Statute of Limitations never begins to run until there has been a cause of action. KHU-BUCKDHAREE SINGH v. REWUT LALL SINGH
[12 W. R., 168
- 3. ——— Application to enter up judgment on warrant of attorney.—The Statute of Limitations is no answer to a rule nisi to enter up judgment on a warrant of attorney. SOO-
JAN MULL v. HYDER SINGH
[1 Ind. Jur., O. S., 58
- 4. ——— Agreement of parties.—Held that the operation of the Law of Limitation cannot be prevented by any act of the parties or arbitrators unless as provided by law, and a suit beyond time cannot be entertained by the Courts merely because the person entitled to assert the right was by some arrangement or negotiation prevented from asserting it within the statutable period. JEHANDAR KHAN v. MUNNOO

LIMITATION—continued.2. QUESTION OF LIMITATION.

7. ——— Adding defendant—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), ss 32, 363, 364—No question of limitation can arise with respect to the Court's power to make an order adding a party defendant to a suit. ORIENTAL BANK CORPORATION v. CHARRIOL . . . I. L. R., 12 Cal., 642

8. ——— Right of Appellate Court to go into facts on question of limitation.—There is no law which prevents a lower Appellate Court from looking into all the facts of a case before coming to a conclusion on the point of limitation. KEDARNATH GHOSE v. KASIM MUNDUL

[8 W. R., 364]

9. ——— Extension of period of limitation.—Beng. Reg II of 1805, s 3, cl 2—Question of limitation.—Plaint—Clause 2, section 3, Bengal Regulation II of 1805, required the plaintiff in his plaint or replication to set forth distinctly the ground on which he claimed an extension of the period of limitation, and the Zillah Judge had no authority to raise the question of limitation where it was not mooted in the Court below. KISEEN CHUNDER ROY v. RAMKANAYE DOSS . . . 1 Ind. Jur., O. S., 23

[Marsh., 22:1 Hay, 55]

10. ——— Question not raised by parties.—Pleading—Small Cause Court Rule 19.—Per PEACOCK, C. J., and NORMAN, J.—It is competent for a Judge of the Court of Small Causes, of his own motion, to notice the point of limitation, and to decide a case upon that issue, such issue not having been raised by the defendant. Per MARKBY, J.—It is not competent for such Judge to raise the point, and decide the case thereon, after the case of both parties is closed. Lapse of time does not oust the jurisdiction of the Court. PAYNE v. CONSTABLE
[1 B. L. R., O. C., 49]

11. ——— Plea struck out irregularly by first Court for prolixity of written statement.—Where a plea of limitation was set up in the defendant's written statement, and the first Court, considering the written statement to be prolix, directed the pen to be run through a large part of it, the defendant, dissatisfied with this proceeding on the part of the first Court, appealed to the Judge complaining that no adjudication had been given on the plea of limitation. Held that the power of a Court to deal with written statements which appear to contain irrelevant matter, or to be argumentative or unnecessarily prolix, is regulated by section 124, Act VIII of 1859, and that as the plea of limitation must be assumed to have been properly before the Judge, he was bound to adjudicate upon it. BOOLEE SINGH v. HUROBUNS NARAIN SINGH

KALLY PROSUNNO CHOWDERY* . . . 9 W. R., 452

14. ——— Limitation depending on facts.—Where a plea of limitation can only be properly decided with reference to facts found in connection with the question of possession and dispossession, and where appellants have omitted to press evidence on the point, though they had every opportunity before the lower Appellate Court, it cannot be admitted to be taken in special appeal. RAMDHONE DASS v. RAM RUTTUN DUTT

[10 W. R., 425]

15. ——— Point for which evidence is necessary.—Where the Statute of Limitations was not pleaded in the original Court.—Held that it might be set up in the Appellate Court if evidence could be taken there in reply to such plea. On special appeal the Statute of Limitations cannot for the first time be pleaded, unless where the facts which raise the plea are admitted. NARASU REDDI v. KRISHNA PADAYACHE . . . 1 Mad., 358

17. ————— Cross - appeal - Jurisdiction of Appellate Court—Question of limitation not raised in cross-appeal—Limitation Act, 1877, s 4.—On an application for execution of decree the application was granted, but the interest claimed by the decree-holder on the amount of the decree was disallowed. The decree-holder appealed from the order, but the judgment-debtor filed no cross-appeal. On the hearing of the appeal the application for execution was dismissed, on the ground that the execution of the decree was barred by limitation. Held that, under the circumstances of the case, the Appellate Court was not competent to take the question of limitation into consideration. Alimunnissa Khatoon v. Hossein Ali, 6 C. L. R., 267, followed. RUGHU NATH SINGH MANKU v. PARESHRAM MAHATA. I. L. R., 9 Calc., 635: 13 C. L. R., 89

18. ————— Omission to decide question—The Judge in appeal is bound to decree according to the Law of Limitation applicable to the case as stated by the plaintiff himself, although the objection may not be raised in the grounds of appeal; and his omitting to do so is an error or defect in the decision of the case on the merits and a ground of special appeal. SAHJI KESRAJI v. RAJ-SANGJI JALMSANGJI. 2 Bom., 169: 2nd Ed., 162

19. ————— Question in reference for accounts to be taken.—Waiver.—In a suit for an account, where the defendant, while alleging the balance to be in her favour, contended that the plaintiff's claim was barred by the Limitation Act, and the accounts were afterwards referred by consent to the commissioner, who refused without special direction to notice the defence of limitation, and the Judge of the Division Court amended the order of reference, by directing the commissioner to investigate the accounts with reference to the operation of the Act, —Held, on appeal (by COUCH, C. J., and WESTROFF), that the order of amendment was justified by the circumstances of the case, and that the defendant having raised the defence of limitation, and not having subsequently abandoned it, that question should be first decided. PIREHAI RAVJI v. NENBAI

21. ————— Point of limitation taken for the first time in second appeal.—Omission of Court of first instance to reject a plaint for limitation, Effect of.—The plaintiff's suit to recover certain lands was dismissed by the Court of first instance and by the lower Appellate Court, but on second appeal was remanded for determination of plaintiff's alleged right of perpetual cultivation of the land. On remand the District Judge gave a decision in favour of the plaintiff. The defendant appealed to the High Court, and then for the first time raised the point of limitation. Held that the objection was taken too late. The defendant had the opportunity of raising the objection under the Limitation Act, and, if necessary, of getting any question, on which it depended, tried by the Courts below; and as he took no steps to this end he should be taken to have waived his right to raise the objection. The omission of the Court of first instance to reject the claim if erroneous gave the defendant a right of appeal which he might renounce, and virtually did renounce. The obligation resting on the Court of first instance to reject a plaint, which on the face of it is barred by limitation, is not expressly laid on each successive Court whenever the objection comes to view, and ought not to be assumed by inference. DATTU v. KASAI. I. L. R., 8 Bom., 535

22. ————— Question in execution of decree.—Jurisdiction of Court where decree was passed.—Transfer of decree for execution.—Code of Civil Procedure, ss 223, 239, 248.—On the 4th of March 1884 a decree-holder applied to the Court of the Subordinate Judge of Moorshedabad (where the decree was passed) for transfer of the decree to the District Court of Beerbhoom for execution. The transfer was made, and, on application by the decree-holder, the judgment-debtor's properties in Beerbhoom were attached. Thereupon the judgment-debtor objected to the attachment, and obtained an order, under section 239 of the Code of Civil Procedure, staying the execution proceedings. The judgment-debtor then applied to the Court of the Subordinate Judge at Moorshedabad objecting to the execution of the decree on the ground that it was barred by limitation. The objection was overruled by the Subordinate Judge, and his decision was upheld on appeal to the District Judge. On second appeal to the High Court, —Held that the Moorshedabad Court was competent to hear and determine the plea of limitation. Held, also, that the fact of the judgment-debtor's not raising the plea of limitation in the Beerbhoom Court did not, under the circumstances, preclude him from relying on it in his subsequent application to the Court at Moorshedabad. *SRIHARY MUNDUL v. 37. ——— Retrospective effect.—The general rule as laid down in Reg. v. Dorabji, 11 Bom., 117,—that “an Act of limitation, being a law of procedure, governs all proceedings, to which its terms are applicable, from the moment of its enactment, except so far as its operation is expressly excluded or postponed,”—admits of the qualification that, when the retrospective application of a Statute of Limitation would destroy vested rights or inflict such hardship or injustice as could not have been within the contemplation of the Legislature, then the statute is not, any more than any other law, to be construed retrospectively. KHUSALBHAI v. KABHAI. . . . I. L. R., 6 Bom., 26

(b) STATUTE 21, JAC. I, c. 10.

38. ——— Action of contract.—Cause of action.—Breach of contract and refusal to perform it.—In actions of contract the breach of a contract is the cause of action, and the Statute of Limitations runs from the time of the breach, and not from the time of the refusal to perform the contract. In 1822 A. purchased at a Government sale at Calcutta a quantity of salt, part of a larger portion then lying in the warehouse of the vendors (the Government) where the salt was to be delivered. By the condition of sale it was declared that, on payment of the purchase-money, the purchaser should be furnished with permits to enable him to take possession of the salt: there was also a stipulation that the salt purchased should be cleared from the place of delivery within twelve months from the day of sale, otherwise the purchaser was to pay warehouse rent for the quantity then afterwards to be delivered. The purchaser paid the purchase-money, and received permits for the delivery of the salt, which was delivered to him in various quantities down to the year 1831, in which year an inundation took place which destroyed the salt in the warehouse, and there remained no salt to satisfy the contract. The purchaser petitioned the vendors for a return of the purchase-money, which was refused, on the ground that the loss happened through his negligence in not sooner clearing the salt from the warehouse. An enquiry, however, took place at the instance of the Government, who referred the matter to the Salt Collector. The Collector did not make his report till the year 1838, and upon that report the Government refused to return the purchase-money claimed in respect of the deficient salt. The purchaser then brought an action of assumpsit for recovery of the purchase-money of such part of the salt as had not been delivered, alleging, as a breach, the non-delivery thereof. To this the defendants pleaded the Statute of Limitations, that the cause of action had not accrued within the commencement of the suit. The Supreme Court at Calcutta found a verdict for the plaintiff. Held on appeal, reversing that decision, that when the purchaser applied for the residue of the salt and was told there was none to deliver, the contract was broken, and the cause of action accrued from the time of such breach, and that the subsequent enquiries by the Government did not suspend the operation of the Statute of Limitations till 1838, the time of the final refusal, and that the remedy was barred by the statute. Semble,—There may be an agreement that, in consideration of an enquiry into the merits of a disputed claim, no advantage should be taken of the statute in respect of the time employed in the enquiry, and an action might be brought for a breach of such agreement. *EAST INDIA COMPANY v. (c) OUDH, RULES FOR—

39. ——— ss. 9 & 14.—Suits on money bonds.—Bond executed before annexation of Oudh.—By section 9 of the Limitation Rules for the guidance of Civil Courts in Oudh, as explained by the Circular Order of the Judicial Commissioner, 104 of 1860, the limitation of suits was fixed for three years in “suits for money lent for a fixed period, or for interest payable on a specified date or dates, or for breach of contract, unless there is a written engagement or contract; and where registry offices existed at the time, such engagement was registered within six months of its date.” That section held not to apply in the case of a bond executed in 1855 before the annexation of Oudh, when there was no registry at the place where it was made and sued for in 1860, such transaction falling within section 14 of that Circular Order where the period of limitation is six years for “all suits on bonds registered within six months of their date, or on bonds formally attested when there was no means of registry, and all other suits for which no other limitation is expressly provided by these rules” and a decree of the Judicial Commissioner of Oudh, holding that a suit on the bond was barred by the three years’ limitation provided by section 9 of the rules, reversed on appeal. *SALIGRAM v. 48. ————— Deduction of time.—Beng. Reg II of 1805, s. 3.—Adverse possession.—Suit by heir for share of inheritance.—A. died in 1813. At A's death one of his heirs entitled to a share in the succession of his estate obtained possession, claiming the entirety under a deed of gift. Another heir also claimed the entirety, first under a will, and in the alternative as customary heir. Suits were brought by the two claimants, in the course of which questions were raised as to who would be entitled in case both claimants should fail, but from the frame of the suits it was impracticable to deal with these questions till the adverse claims to the entirety were disposed of. Ultimately, in 1842, those claims were disposed of by the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in one of the suits by a decision which in substance negatived the claims of both parties to the entirety, and decreed that the heirs of A, according to the Shah law of inheritance, were entitled, and directed the mesne profits to be brought into Court and divided among such heirs. A suit was in consequence instituted in 1852 by one of the heirs of A to carry into execution the decree of the Privy Council made in 1842. Held that, although the claim which accrued so long ago as the death of A would have been in ordinary circumstances barred by the Bengal Regulations III of 1793, section 14, and II of 1805, section 3, yet that, as the pendency of the appeal rendered it impracticable to bring the suit until the question was disposed of by the decree of the Privy Council in 1842, the suit must be considered as supplemental to that decree, and as it was brought within twelve years from that date, it was not barred by these Regulations. Held, also, that although one of

He accordingly brought a regular suit under clause 4, section 18, Regulation VIII of 1819, in order to make the immoveable property of his gomastah available in satisfaction of the debt. Held, his cause of action in the regular suit was the same as his cause of action in the summary suit, and that the period of limitation must be reckoned from the time when that cause of action accrued, and not from the date of the summary decree, or from the time when the plaintiff discovered that he could not obtain satisfaction of such decree. *SREENATH GHOSAL v. The plaintiff's suit was not barred by section 20, Act IX of 1859, which deals with the rights of persons who are not accused and suspected of the act of rebellion, and its operation according to ordinary rules of construction cannot be extended to cases not within the preceding portion of the section. 70. ———— Disability of minority—Forfeiture of rebel's property.—Certain property, in the actual possession of a rebel, was confiscated by the Government in 1858. In a suit brought on 1st May 1865 to recover the property, it appeared that the plaintiffs were the sons and heirs of one M., who died in 1854, legally entitled to, though not in possession of, the property in question, that, at the date of his death, and at the date of the confiscation, the plaintiffs were minors, and that they came of age in 1861 and February 1864 respectively. Held that the suit not having been brought within one year from the date of the confiscation, was barred by section 20, Act IX of 1859. There is no saving clause in Act IX of 1859 with respect to minors or parties under disability to sue, and such saving cannot be held to be implied upon any principle of equitable construction; nor can the saving clauses contained in the general Limitation Act, XIV of 1859, be imported into a special enactment. On the 22nd of October 1869, an application, admittedly bond fide, was made for execution, but the application was refused on the ground that it was barred by lapse of time, and no appeal was brought against that order. also refused on a similar ground. On appeal the Commissioner and Chief Court confirmed this order. Held, reversing the decision of the Court below, that execution of the decree was not barred by section 21, Act XIV of 1859. In construing section 21, Act XIV of 1859, the words "nothing in the preceding section shall apply to a judgment in force at the time of the passing of the Act," mean that nothing in the preceding section should prejudicially affect the right of a creditor under a judgment in force at the time of the passing of the Act; and the words "but process of execution may be issued," &c., mean that notwithstanding anything in the preceding section, execution might issue either within the time limited by the law in force when the Act was passed, or within three years next after the passing of the Act, whichever should first expire. *DELHI AND LONDON BANK v. The rule of the old as of the new law was that the time, having once begun to run, could not be stopped. 100. ——— s. 2.—Bom. Reg. V of 1827, s. 1, cl. 1—Prescriptive right.—Repeal of statute, Effect of.—In 1873 the plaintiff sued for his share in certain ancestral property in the possession of the defendant, and alleged that the latter had been united with him in estate. He, however, admitted that he had lived separate from the defendant for forty years previously to the institution of the suit, and that he had not, during that period, received any portion of the profits of the ancestral property. The defendant pleaded limitation. Both the lower Courts held that the case was governed by Act IX of 1871, schedule II, article 127, and decreed in favour of the plaintiff on the ground that no demand by the plaintiff of his share and refusal to comply therewith had been proved. Held by the High Court, in special appeal, that the defendant had acquired, under Regulation V of 1827, section 1, clause 1, a prescriptive title in the immovable estate sued for by his uninterrupted possession as proprietor for more than thirty years before Act IX of 1871 came into force, and that, therefore, the plaintiff's claim was barred, the effect of that Regulation being not only to bar the plaintiff's remedy, but to take away his right. The repeal of a statute or other legislative enactment cannot, without express words, or clear implication to that effect in the repealing Act, take away a right acquired under the repealed statute or other enactment while it was in force, and accordingly, although Act IX of 1871, section 2, schedule I, expressly repealed Regulation V of 1827, it did not affect any

Between that date and the 25th September 1882, no further proceedings were taken. On the latter date an application was made for execution. The decree-holder was a minor when the decree was passed and did not attain his majority till the 25th September 1879. Held that the words to “bring an action” as used in section 11, Act XIV of 1859, must be taken to be synonymous with the words to “bring a suit,” and that the word “suit” must be construed in the same way as the word “suit” used in section 14, and following the decision of the majority of the Full Bench in *Huro Chunder Roy Chowdhry v. Under Act XV of 1877 the limitation is three years from the date of making the note. Held that the period of limitation so prescribed by Act XV of 1877 is shorter than that prescribed by Act IX of 1871 within the meaning of section 2 of Act XV of 1877. OMIRTO LALL DEY v HOWELL . . . 2 C. The language of Acts IX of 1871 and XV of 1877 leads to the conclusion that by each of these enactments the starting point and period given in its schedule were to take the place of those given by the Act which preceded it in the case of all suits instituted after the date of the Act coming into force, and that the expiration of the period, calculated with reference to the Act in force at the date at which the note was executed, does not necessarily affect the remedy. APPASAMI v AGHILANDA . . . in a suit on a registered bond bearing date the 2nd March 1870 was alleged to have arisen on the 5th January 1879, the date of demand. Under Act XIV of 1859 the limitation for such a suit was six years computed from the date of the bond. Before that period expired Act IX of 1871 came into force, which provided a limitation for such a suit of three years computed from the date of demand. Held that, as the cause of action and the institution of such suit occurred after the repeal of Act IX of 1871, the provisions of that Act were not applicable, and, accordingly, whether Act XIV of 1859 or Act XV of 1877 governed such suit, it was barred, as in either case limitation began to run from the date of such bond. *BANSI DHAR v. 7. ———— Bond payable on demand—Act IX of 1871 (Limitation Act).—Act XV of 1877, by making the period of limitation for a suit on a bond payable on demand computable from the date of its execution, has shortened the period of limitation prescribed for such a suit by Act IX of 1871, under which the period was computable from the date of demand. Held, therefore, that, under the provisions of section 2 of Act XV of 1877, a suit on such a bond executed on the 14th December 1869, having been brought within two years from the date that Act came into force, was within time. RUP KISHORE v MOHNI . . . 9. ———— and art. 64.—Suit on account stated—Act IX of 1871 (Limitation Act), sch II, art. 62—The accounts in a suit on an account stated were stated when Act IX of 1871 was in force, and were not signed by the defendant or an authorised agent on his behalf. Had that Act been in force when the suit was instituted, the suit would have been within time under article 62 of schedule II of that Act. The suit was brought, however, after the passing of Act XV of 1877, and by reason of the accounts not being signed did not come within the scope of article 64 of schedule II of that Act. Held that the words in section 2 of Act XV of 1877, "nothing herein contained shall be deemed to affect any title acquired under the Act IX of 1871," did not save the plaintiff's right to sue on the account stated, a right to sue not being meant by or included in the term "title acquired," that term denoting a title to property and being used in contradistinction to a right to sue; that the last clause of that section was not applicable, because Act XV of 1877 did not prescribe a shorter period of limitation than that prescribed by Act IX of 1871, but attached a new condition to the suit, viz.,—that the accounts must be signed by the defendant or his agent duly authorised in that behalf, and that

Under Act XV of 1877, schedule II, clause 127, the limitation for such a suit is twelve years from the time the exclusion becomes known to the plaintiff. Held that the period of limitation prescribed by the latter Act is shorter than the period prescribed by the former Act, within the meaning of section 2, Act XV of 1877. NARAIN KHOOTIA v. —Redemption.—Suit against purchaser from mortgagee.—Purchase in good faith.—Limitation Act, IX of 1871, sch. II, arts. 134 and 143.—Under the Limitation Act, IX of 1871, the period of limitation for suits to recover possession of property purchased from a mortgagee depended upon the good faith of the purchaser. A suit against a purchaser in good faith was barred after twelve years from the date of the purchase, under article 134 of schedule II. In other cases a suit might be brought against the purchaser within sixty years from the date of the mortgage, under article 143 of schedule II. Article 134 of the later Limitation Act, XV of 1877, by the omission of the words “in good faith” makes twelve years from the date of the purchase the period of limitation for all such suits, without reference to the question of good faith on the part of the purchaser. The result is that, in cases of a purchase not in good faith from a mortgagee, the period of limitation allowed by Act XV of 1877 for a suit to recover the property is shorter than the period allowed by Act IX of 1871; and, consequently, under the provisions of article 2 of the Limitation Act, XV of 1877, the plaintiff in such a suit has two years from the 1st October 1877. BAIYA KHAN DAUD KHAN v. on the ground that they had purchased the right, title, and interest of the judgment-debtor in execution of a previous decree. The claim was allowed on the 26th July 1877. On the 29th March 1879, the mortgagee instituted a suit to establish his right to the property. The period of limitation for such a suit under Act XV of 1877 is one year from the date of the order, but under Act IX of 1871 a longer period was prescribed. Act XV of 1877 did not come into force until the 1st of October 1877. Held that the provisions of the last paragraph of section 2 of Act XV of 1877 applied, and that the suit was not barred. RAJ CHUNDER CHATTERJEE v. Suit against minor.—Appointment of guardian ad litem.—Suit when instituted—A suit to enforce a right of pre-emption in respect of a share of an undivided village was instituted against the vendor and the purchaser, the latter being a minor, on the 1st June 1880. The instrument of sale was registered on the 9th June 1879. 14. — Presentation of plaint.— Institution of suit.—Return for amendment—Under the provisions of Act IX of 1871, a suit is instituted when a plaint is presented to a proper officer. The plaintiff, the limitation of whose suit expired on 5th October, presented his plaint to the Subordinate Judge on 20th September, improperly stamped, and it was returned to him with an order to make the deficiency good, without any time being specified within which the order was to be carried out. A vacation supervened. The deficiency was supplied, and the plaint accepted on 4th November, or eleven days after the Court opened. 17. — Amendment of decree, Application for.—Civil Procedure Code, s. 206.—Under a proper interpretation of the preamble and section 4 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877), the rule of limitation is confined to the litigants, and is inapplicable to acts which the Court may or has to perform suo motu. Section 206 of the Civil Procedure Code empowers a Court of its own motion to amend its decree, and the mere fact that one of the parties has made an application asking the Court to exercise that power will not render the action of the Court subject to the rule of limitation. Roberts v. Harrison, I. L. R., 7 Cal., 333; Vithal Janardun v. Rakmi, I. L. R., 6 Bom., 586, and Kylasa Goundan v. Ramasami Ayyar, I. L. R., 4 Mad., 172, referred to. DHAN SINGH v. BASANT SINGH

18. — Amendment of plaint — Civil Procedure Code, 1877, s. 53—The plaint in a suit for money charged upon immovable property, which described such property as “the defendant’s one biswa five biswansi share within the jurisdiction of the Court,” was presented on the 21st November 1878 within the period of limitation prescribed for such a suit by Act XV of 1877. It was subsequently returned for amendment, and, having been amended by the insertion of the words “in mouza S., pergunnah S.,” after the word “share,” was presented again on the 8th January 1879 after such period. Held that the date of the amendment of the plaint did not affect the question of limitation for the institution of the suit, and the return of the plaint for amendment and its subsequent presentation and acceptance by the Court did not constitute a fresh institution of the suit. RAM LAL v. 22. ———— Explanation—Petition in suit in formâ pauperis—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, s 308—A. put in a petition to sue in formâ pauperis for possession of certain foreclosed property within the time specified by the Limitation Act, but on her failing to appear on two occasions when called upon to give evidence of her pauperism, the case was struck off so far as the application to sue in formâ pauperis was concerned. At the instance of A. the case, however, was again reopened, and a date fixed for her appearance. Two days prior to this date, but at a time beyond the limit fixed by the Limitation Act, A. put in a petition asking that the petition which she then made to have her suit proceed as an ordinary suit might be joined with her application to sue in formâ pauperis, and the suit be duly tried in the ordinary way. She also paid in the regular amount of stamp duty for an ordinary suit. On the point of limitation,—Held that the plaint must be considered as filed, not on the day of filing the application to sue in formâ pauperis, but on the day on which the stamp duty was paid, and application made to have the suit tried in the ordinary way. The explanation to section 4 of the Limitation Act only applies in cases where, under section 308 of the Civil Procedure Code, the application for leave to sue in formâ pauperis is granted, and the application numbered and registered as a suit. 13. — Time for presenting plaint—Beng Act VIII of 1869, s 31—The provisions of section 5 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) apply equally to suits under the Bengal Rent Act (Bengal Act VIII of 1869). In a suit for rent, where it appeared that a deposit had been made in Court under the provisions of the Bengal Rent Act (Bengal Act VIII of 1869), and that the six months allowed by section 31 of that Act for the purpose of instituting a suit had expired on a day when the Court was closed for an authorised holiday, but that the plaint had been filed on the first day the Court reopened,—Held that the provisions of section 5 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) applied to such cases, and that, consequently, the suit was not barred Golap Chand Nowluckha v Krishto Chunder Das Biswas, I L R., 5 Calc., 314, and Hossein Ally v Donzelle, I L R., 5 Calc., 906, followed Purran Chunder Ghose v Mutty Lal Ghose Johari, I. 14. — Suit to compel registration—Registration Act, III of 1877, s 77—The provisions of section 5 of Act XV of 1877 apply to suits instituted under the provisions of section 77 of the Registration Act (III of 1877) NIJABUTOOLLA v WAZIR ALI [I. L. R., 8 Calc., 910: 10 C. L. R., 333]

15. — Civil Procedure Code, 1877, s 561—Time for filing objection—Holiday—Where the time for filing objections under section 561 of the Civil Procedure Code expired on a day when the Court was closed, and objections were filed on the day the Court reopened,—Held that such objections were filed within time. BAGHELIN v MATHURA PRASAD . . . I. L. R., 4 All., 430

16. — Civil Procedure Code, s 561, Objection under—Section 5 of Act XV of 1877 does not apply to an objection under section 561 of the Procedure Code. KALLY PROSUNNO BISWAS v MUNGALA DASSEE . . . I. L. R., 9 Calc., 631

17. — Objections to decree—Civil Procedure Code, 1877, s 561—Extension of time—The seven days within which a notice of objections to a decree by a respondent under section 561 of the Code must be given, is not a period to which the provisions of paragraph 2 of section 5 of the Limitation Act can be extended, and the Court has no discretion to extend the period DEGAMBER MOZUMDAR v KALLYNATH ROY [I. L. R., 7 Calc., 654: 9 C. L. R., 265]

18. — Objections taken under s 348, Civil Procedure Code, 1859—Withdrawal of appeal—Ground for admitting appeal after time—The circumstance that a respondent who has taken, or intended to take, objections, under section 348 of the Code of Civil Procedure, to the decree of the Court of first instance, at the hearing of an appeal already preferred by his opponent, has been prevented by the withdrawal of the appeal from having his objections heard, does not constitute a sufficient cause for admitting a cross-appeal by such respondent after the prescribed period, Act IX of 1871, section 5. The High Court may consider and determine upon the sufficiency of the reasons which a Judge has given for admitting an appeal after the lapse of the period limited for that purpose by law. Mowri Bewa v Soorendra Nath Roy, 2 B L R., A C, 184 10 W. 19. — Admission of, after limited period—Grounds for admission after time—Sufficient cause for delay—Act VIII of 1859, s 333—As to what will be considered sufficient cause for delay in filing appeal and be ground for admitting a petition of appeal after the time limited by Act VIII of 1859, section 333. SECRETARY OF STATE v MUTU SAWMY

20. — Calculation of period allowed for—Reasonable ground for enlarging time—Review—The plaintiff, against whom a decree had been given, did not appeal within the twenty days allowed for that purpose, but, after the expiration of more than a month, he made an application for a review of judgment, which was refused after nine months. Nineteen days later he applied to have the time for filing his appeal enlarged. Held that the application was not made in time. Sufficient cause was not shown for not having presented the appeal within the limited period. In calculating the number of days limited for appealing, the period occupied by the Court in disposing of an application for review presented during the time limited for appealing, must not be reckoned. NOBO KISSEN SINGH v KAMINEE DASSEE B L R., Sup Vol., 349

21. — Appeal preferred after time, Admission of—Ground for delay—In a case decided by a Deputy Collector, an appeal was preferred to the Collector, who rejected it, holding that he had no jurisdiction. An appeal was then preferred to the Judge, who also rejected it, on the ground of want of jurisdiction, and referred the parties to the Collector. The Collector accordingly tried the case, but his proceedings were quashed by the High Court as being without jurisdiction. The parties then applied to the Judge for a review of his order, which he refused to grant, suggesting an appeal. They accordingly filed an appeal, and the Judge reversed the order of the Deputy Collector. Held that the Judge, not having admitted the review as he might have done, was at liberty to treat the appeal as one filed after time on sufficient reasons assigned for the delay. TROY-LUCKHNATH CHUCKERBUTTY v. JHABBOO SHAIKH [10 W. R., 334]

22. ————— Delay in appealing.—
Application for review.—An application for review, if made within reasonable time and with due diligence, is a sufficient cause for delay in preferring an appeal, if the appeal is preferred as speedily as may be after the other proceedings. KULLEE SINGH v. JEWAN SINGH
 [22 W. R., 79]

23. ————— Appeal admitted out of time.—Review pending.—Time excluded.—Review when excuse for delay—In calculating the period allowed by the Limitation Act, 1877, for presenting an appeal, the time during which an application for review of judgment is pending cannot be excluded as a matter of right. But, if an application for review has been presented with due diligence, and admitted, and there was a reasonable prospect that the petitioner would obtain by the review all he could obtain by appeal, the Court would be justified in admitting an appeal presented out of time. VASUDEVA v. CHUNIASAMI
 . . . I. L. R., 7 Mad., 584

24. ————— Time for preferring—Pendency of application for review.—In computing the period within which an appeal may be preferred, the time during which an application for review was pending is to be excluded. IN THE MATTER OF THE PETITION OF BROJENDRO COOMAR ROY

PORESH NATH ROY v. GOPAL KRISHNA DEB
 [15 W. R., 61]

25. ————— Date from which time for appeal runs where an application for review is admitted.—Whether a review order is rightly made upon legal grounds or not, when once made it has the effect of reopening the hearing and of causing the judgment passed upon such hearing to be the final judgment as regards the parties to that review; consequently any such party's right of appeal against the decretal order runs from the time of the final order on review, even if the Appellate Court should put aside the review matter. ROOP KALEE KOORER v. DOOLAR PANDEY
 . . . 20 W. R., 101

26. ————— Delay in filing.—Grounds for delay—Delay in preferring an appeal should be explained. Inasmuch as a new statement of the law by the High Court is not a sufficient excuse for delay in applying for a review of judgment, it is still less an excuse for delay in appealing against a judgment. *MOWBI BEWA v. 27. ————— Time for appealing.—Alteration in law—An appeal will not be allowed after the time for appealing has expired, merely because a judgment altering the view of the law which prevailed at the time of the decision of the original suit has subsequently been given by the High Court. MAKHUN NAIKIN v. MANOHAND LADHABHAI

28. ————— Sufficient cause for admission of appeal after time.—Appellate Court.—A certain suit was dismissed on the 26th July 1875, on which day the plaintiff applied for a copy of the Court's decree. She obtained the copy on the 31st July, and on the 31st August, or one day beyond the period allowed by law, she presented an appeal to the Appellate Court. She did not assign in her petition any cause for not presenting it within such period, but alleged verbally that she had miscalculated the period. The Appellate Court recorded that it should excuse the delay, and admitted the appeal. Held that there was, under the circumstances, no sufficient cause for the delay. An Appellate Court should not admit an appeal after the period of limitation prescribed therefor without recording its reasons for being satisfied that there was sufficient cause for not presenting it within such period. ZAIBULNISSA BIBI v. KULSUM BIBI

29. ————— Suits under Act X of 1859—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, s. 333—Act X of 1859, s. 161—Although in computing the period of limitation in suits under Act X of 1859 no deduction was allowed as in section 14 of Act XIV of 1859, yet section 161 of Act X of 1859, read together with section 333 of Act VIII of 1859, gave the Court discretion to allow an appeal to be presented after time, on the ground that its pendency in a Court that had no jurisdiction was "sufficient cause for delay" MODHOOSOODUN MOJOOMDAR v. BROJONATH KOOND CHOWDHREY

But see KALEE KISHORE PAUL v. MONER RAM SINGH

30. ————— Admission of appeal after time—Discretion of Judge—It is in the discretion of the Judge to consider whether sufficient cause has been shown for the non-presentation of an appeal in proper time, owing to delay on the part of the Collector, to whom the appeal was wrongly preferred in the first instance, and the High Court has no authority to interfere with such exercise of discretion by the Judge. RAJCOOMAR ROY v. MAHOMED WAIS
 [7 W. R., 337]

31. ————— Power of Division Court to set aside order of single Judge admitting appeal after time—Held that the order admitting an appeal after time, made ex parte by a single Judge of the High Court sitting to receive applications for the admission of appeals, under a rule of the Court made in pursuance of 24 and 25 Victoria, Cap. 104, section 13, and the Letters Patent of the Court, section 27, was liable to be impugned and set aside at the hearing by the Division Court before which it was brought for hearing, on the ground that the reasons assigned for admitting it were erroneous or inadequate. DUBEY SAHAI v. GANESHI LAL

32. ————— Appeal filed after time.—Order under cl. b, s. 5, of the Limitation Act (IX of 1871).—An order made ex parte under clause (b), section 5, of the Limitation Act of 1871, permitting an appeal to be registered although filed beyond time, may, on proper cause being shown, be set aside by the Court which made it; but such an order made by a District Judge cannot be afterwards cancelled by a Subordinate Judge upon the appeal coming on for hearing before him JHOTEE SAHOO v OMESH CHUNDER SIRCAR . I. L. R., 5 Cal., 1

33. ————— Admission of appeal out of time—Ex parte order set aside at hearing—An order made ex parte, under section 5 of the Limitation Act, 1877, admitting an appeal after the period prescribed therefor, may be set aside on proper cause being shown by the Court which made it VENKATRAYUDU v NAGADU . 34. ————— and s. 14.—Ground for admission of appeal after time—The circumstances contemplated in section 14 of the Limitation Act, 1877, will ordinarily constitute a sufficient cause in the sense of section 5 for not presenting an appeal within the period of limitation BALVANT SINGH v GUMANI RAM . . . I. L. R., 5 All., 581

35. ————— Review.—Application for review—Sufficient cause for delay—Pendency of second appeal—Ignorance of effect of judgment.—G. obtained a decree against M in the Court of the Subordinate Judge of Ahmedabad for the refund of a certain sum of money alleged to have been illegally levied by B. as inamdar for local fund cess due for certain years. In appeal, the District Court on the 21st March 1882 varied the decree, and reduced the amount. On second appeal the High Court, on 23rd June 1882, dismissed the appeal, on the ground that the lower Courts had no jurisdiction, the suit being a Small Cause Court suit. The decree of the District Court consequently remained in force. In July 1882 G. brought a second suit against M in the Small Cause Court at Ahmedabad for moneys illegally levied by M in subsequent years. The Judge of that Court held that the decree in the former suit passed on 21st March 1881 estopped M from disputing G.'s claim, and that the matter was res judicata. M then procured the proceedings in the Small Cause Court to be stayed, and on the 18th November 1882 applied to the District Court for a review of its decree of 21st March 1881. The District Judge granted the review on the ground that the time lost by M in the prosecution of the second appeal should be excluded from computation, and that the subsequent delay was justified by the fact that M was not aware of the effect of the decision in the first suit until informed of it by the Judge of the Small Cause Court at the hearing of the second suit. On appeal to the High Court, Held, reversing the order of the District Judge, that the circumstances did not justify the admission of M.'s application for review after the expiration of the ninety days allowed by the Limitation Act. The pendency of an appeal is not a "sufficient cause" for not presenting the application earlier within the meaning of section 5

[I. L. R., 8 Bom., 260]

36. ————— Ground for non-prosecution of appeal.—The fact that the plaintiff's attorney on being served with notice of appeal failed to notice that a party who had been a defendant in the Court below had not been made a respondent in the appeal, coupled with the fact that the application made by the plaintiff to make such defendant a party respondent after the period of limitation had expired was not made at the earliest opportunity possible, is not a sufficient ground under section 5 of the Limitation Act for non-prosecution of the appeal within the period allowed CORPORATION OF THE TOWN OF CALCUTTA v. ANDERSON . I. L. R., 10 Cal., 445

37. ————— Mistake of counsel—Delay—"Sufficient cause."—In a suit between A. and B., heard on the 29th January 1883, a certain conveyance was filed with the plaint, but up to the hearing this conveyance had been protected from discovery. B.'s counsel had, however, had a copy thereof delivered to him at the time B.'s written statement was being drawn, and a copy briefed to him at the hearing. At the hearing A.'s counsel stated that the effect of the conveyance was to vest the entirety of a certain property in A.; this view was accepted by B.'s counsel, who did not read the conveyance. The only issue in the case was "who was in possession of the property," and the Court decided this issue on the 5th February in favour of the plaintiff. On the 26th February B. brought a suit against A. to set aside this conveyance on the ground of fraud. And in certain proceedings in this case taken on the 31st March, B.'s counsel discovered, as he alleged for the first time, that, under the conveyance, a moiety of a seven twenty-fourth share remained in B. On that day instructions were given to B.'s counsel to draw up a petition of review of the judgment of the 5th February. This petition, owing to the Easter vacation, was not, and could not have been, presented till the 9th April. In deciding whether B. had shown "sufficient cause" within the meaning of section 5 of the Limitation Act, for not making the application within the time allowed by law, the Court, following the principles laid down by Bowen, L. J. in In re Manchester Economic Building Society, L. R., 24 Ch. D., 488, in its discretion, held that "sufficient cause" had been shown by B. Anderson v Corporation of the Town of Calcutta, I. L. R., 10 Cal., 445, distinguished. IN THE MATTER OF THE PETITION OF SOLOMON. GOPAL CHUNDER LAHIRY v. SOLOMON . . . I. L. R., 11 Cal., 767

In the same case on appeal, Held, on the facts, that there was no "sufficient cause" for not making an application for review within the time limited by section 5 of the Limitation Act, 1877 GOPAL CHUNDER LAHIRY v. SOLOMON

39. ———— Appeal in pauper suit.—Application for review.—The language of the Limitation Act precludes any other construction than that while a pauper may apply for a review of judgment with the same indulgence as to delay in making the application as a person who is not a pauper, yet, in making his application for leave to appeal, similar indulgence is not extended to him. LAKSHMI v. ANANTA SHANBAGA . I. L. R., 2 Mad., 230

40. ———— Sufficient cause.—Poverty.—Admission of appeal after time.—Poverty is not "sufficient cause," within the meaning of section 5 of the Limitation Act, Act XV of 1877, for admitting an appeal after the ordinary period of limitation prescribed therefor has expired. MOSHATULLAH v. AHMEDULLAH . I. L. R., 13 Calc., 78

41. ———— Discretion of Court.—Appeal out of time, Admission of.—Section 5 of the Limitation Act gives a discretion to a Court to admit an appeal filed out of time. A. valued his suit at Rs18,000, which was reduced to less than Rs5,000 by the Court of first instance at Rajshahye. A decree, dated the 20th December 1883, was given against the defendant, who applied for copies on the 3rd of February, and the decree was ready on the 7th. The defendant was apparently under the impression that the appeal would lie to the High Court, but on the 16th of March a letter was despatched by his Calcutta agent informing him that he was mistaken and that the appeal lay to the District Judge. This letter reached Rajshahye on the 17th, and the appeal was filed on the 23rd of March. Held that, under the circumstances, the Court might admit the appeal in the exercise of its discretion under section 5 of the Limitation Act. HURO CHUNDER ROY v. 2. ———— Voluntary absence after attaining majority.—The plaintiff's voluntary absence abroad after attaining majority does not bar the operation of Act XIV of 1859. VENKATA SUBHA PATTAR v. GIBI AMMAL . 2 Mad., 118

3. ———— Ignorance of accrual of cause of action by absence from country.—Ignorance of the cause of action having accrued when owing to any other cause than the fraud of the defendant, —e.g., absence from the country,—does not give the plaintiff a longer time for suing. REAZ ALI KHAN v. GOVERNMENT OF INDIA . 19 W. R., 269

4. ———— Absence by reason of transportation.—During the plaintiff's absence by reason of transportation, the defendant took possession of land which previously belonged to him as a tenant, and the landlord allowed the defendant to hold as his tenant. He held possession for more than twelve years. In a suit by the plaintiff on his return to turn the defendant out of possession, in which the landlord was made a defendant,—Held that the suit was barred, there being no exception in the Limitation Act with regard to plaintiffs who are beyond the sea in consequence of transportation. DOMUN v. 20. ———— Suit by guardian of minor.—Application by minor for execution of decree—The guardian and administratrix of her minor sons obtained a money-decree against the defendants in August 1874, and on the 22nd February 1875 applied for its execution. The application was struck off on the 30th July 1875, as no property belonging to the defendants could be found. On the 16th of June 1881 the guardian died, and one of the sons, on the 20th of October 1882, soon after attaining his majority, made a fresh application for execution of the decree. Held that the fresh application was not time-barred, the time from which the period of limitation began to run against the applicant being the date on which he attained majority. Khodabux v. 21. ———— Execution of decree.—Minor plaintiff.—Application for execution by guardian—A plaintiff, who has obtained a decree during his minority, has the option either of applying through his guardian to execute the decree during his minority or to wait until the expiration of his minority before executing his decree. The application of the guardian is the application of the infant. The minor is under disability during the whole period of his minority. His disability does not cease because he, through his guardian, makes two or more applications for execution, however long the interval between them, provided they are all made during his minority. MON MOHUN BUKSEE v. 24. ———— "Representative."—Purchaser from minor.—Quære,—Can the term "representative" in section 11, Act XIV of 1859, be extended so as to include any purchaser from the minor during his lifetime? Whatever may have been the effect of section 11 of Act XIV of 1859, as to extending the privilege given to a minor to his representatives, section 7, the corresponding section of Act IX of 1871, limits the privileges to the minor himself and his representative after his death; and therefore a purchaser from a minor cannot claim the benefit of that section. MAHOMED ARSAD CHOWDHRY v. account a sum of money to the defendant, and died without having received back the money, and the account was continued with the defendant by the mother and guardian of the minor, and the balance was struck during the minority of the infant, it was held that the cause of action arose at the time such balance was struck; and that, as the cause of action accrued to the minor during his disability, his representatives could sue to recover the balance at any time during the time of disability, and that a claim by the minor on attaining his majority, or, if he should die, by his representative, would not be barred if preferred within three years from the cessation of the disability. [4 Bom., A. C., 199]

27. — Suspension of right of suit for disability—Limitation begins to run against a mother on her succeeding to a family estate as the heir of her son and under no disability, and cannot be stopped by any subsequent disability under section 11. A dispossession by a stranger to a family of a portion of the family estate is only one cause of action to the family arising on the date of dispossession, and though, in consequence of the minority of a certain member of the family living at the time the period of limitation may under the law be enlarged, still no new cause of action accrues to a subsequently born son at the date of his birth, so as to enable him to postpone again the period of limitation which has begun to run against the family. GOBIND COOMAR CHOWDEY v. 28. — Disability of heir—Cause of action—Under section 11, Act XIV of 1859, the subsequent disability of an heir will not save a suit instituted after a lapse of twelve years from the date of cause of action when such cause of action arose during the lifetime of the ancestor. MOHABAT ALI v. 29. — Minority, Omission to sue within three years after—The mere fact of a plaintiff not suing within three years of his attaining majority will not, in cases where Act XIV of 1859 allows a general limitation of twelve years, bar his suit if brought within twelve years of the time when the cause of action accrued. RADHAMOHUN GOWEE v. 30. — Disability of heir—Cause of action—T, R, and N, three of the heirs of one H, sued the defendant in 1865 for possession of certain property left by H. The defence was that the defendant had purchased the property from H in 1851, and had ever since been in possession. The lower Court found that the suit was barred as regarded some of the plaintiffs, but that the other two plaintiffs, R and N, had not, at the time the suit was brought, exceeded their majority by three years, the time allowed them by section 11, Act XIV of 1859. Held that, whether limitation would bar R and N depended not on the question whether three years from their majority had elapsed or not before the institution of the suit, but whether twelve years having elapsed from the cause of action in 1857, limitation operated as a bar. If H had, at the time of his death, been out of possession for twelve years, then R and N would not be entitled to the extra three years after attaining their majority; but if he had died within twelve years, then the limitation should be calculated from the date of the cause of action to the date of his death, and then three years be allowed to R and N after they came of age. NUR MOHAMMED v. 31. — Disability of heir—Cause of action—A sued to set aside a deed of sale of certain immoveable property, which she claimed as the property of her husband. The deed of sale had been executed by her husband's mother during her husband's minority. Her husband attained his majority more than twelve years after the deed of sale, and died about a year afterwards, leaving her, A, a minor. A alleged that she had attained her majority within three years of this suit. Held, the suit was barred under section 11, Act XIV of 1859. The husband could have sued after attaining his majority, and the subsequent disqualification of the plaintiff A could not extend the time. ABHAYA DURGA v. HARI KRISHNA GOPE

33. — and art. 129.—Cause of action—Minority—In a suit by the reversionary heirs of one S to set aside an adoption alleged to have been made with the permission of S, the plaintiffs alleged that S died in 1844, that the adoption took place in 1845, and that they attained their majority respectively on the 26th September 1871, and the 20th December 1872. The suit was instituted on 16th June 1873. Held that the adoption having taken place after the death of S, the cause of action arose at the date of the adoption, as provided by art. 129, schedule II, Act IX of 1871; and that the plaintiffs, not having been in existence when the cause of action arose, were not entitled to the benefit of section 7, Act IX of 1871, so as to enable them to sue within three years of attaining their majority. SIDDHESSEE DUTT v. 34. ———— and art. 44.—Minority Disability of.—Alienation by guardian of property of minor.—Cause of action.—K. R. died in 1844, leaving a widow, O. T., and a minor son, G. D. In 1847 O. T. executed in favour of the defendant a mirasi ijara of certain property, but it did not appear whether she so acted as guardian or mother of G. D. G. D. died in 1855 before attaining majority, and, under an anumati patra executed by K. R. before his death, the plaintiff was adopted in 1858. O. T. died in 1861. In a suit brought by the plaintiff in 1873 to set aside the alienation by O. T. in 1847,—Held that, if the alienation was made by O. T. as guardian of G. D., the suit was not barred, it having been brought within three years after the plaintiff attained his majority, if made by her as a Hindu widow, the suit was still not barred, the cause of action not arising until her death, when the plaintiff was a minor. PROSONNA NATH ROY CHOWDRY v. 35. ———— Minority.—Right to sue, —Personal exemption —Assignment by minor.—Under section 7 of the Limitation Act, a minor has, in respect of a cause of action accruing during his minority, a right to sue at any time within three years of attaining his majority, but if during his minority, or if after attaining his majority and within three years thereof, such person assigns all his rights and interests to a third party, who is suus juris, the latter cannot claim the exemptions accorded to the minor by section 7 of the Limitation Act, but is subject to the ordinary law of limitation governing suits in which relief of the same nature is claimed. RUDRA KANT SURMA SIRCAR v. 36. ———— Disability of minority.—Sue by representative of minor in interest.—Where a person whose right to sue is limited (say) to twelve years, labours under a disability such as is specified in Act IX of 1871, section 7, and the disability continues up to his death, which occurs within those twelve years, leaving some (say eight) years to run, his representative in interest has only the remainder of the period of limitation (i.e., eight years in the case supposed) within which to bring his suit. The fact of the representative being himself a minor does not give him any more time, as he can sue through his guardian or next friend. SOOKH MOYEE CHOWDHURAI v. RAGHUBENDRO NARAIN CHOWDHURY

1. ———— Joint Hindu family.—Debt due to family.—Joint creditors.—The manager of a joint Hindu family, of which S. was a minor member, lent money on behalf of the family to K. The time limited by law for a suit for such money was three years from the date of the loan. During that period there were several members of the family who were suus juris. After attaining his age of majority S. sued K. for such money, and as the period limited by law for such suit had expired, relied on the saving provisions of section 8 of the Limitation Act, 1877. Held that, although during such period S. was one of several joint creditors who was under a disability, yet as more than one member of the family could have given a discharge to K. without S.'s concurrence, the provisions of section 8 of the Limitation Act were not applicable, and his suit was therefore barred by limitation. SURJU PRASAD SINGH v. 2. ———— Cause of action, Accrual of, during minority.—Minor's right to sue after attaining majority.—The plaintiff having attained majority on the 11th March 1882, sued the defendant, within three years from that date, upon a bond obtained in 1872 by his mother and guardian in the plaintiff's name alone. The defendant contended that the plaintiff's brother, who was capable of giving a valid discharge to his debtors, having failed to sue within proper time, the suit was barred. (On reference to the High Court,—Held that the suit was not barred. The plaintiff's brother not being a party to the bond, section 8 of the Limitation Act, XV of 1877, would not apply. The bond was passed to the plaintiff alone, and the right of action accrued to him on the 8th July 1878. move trustee—In a suit brought for the purpose of removing the trustees or managers of certain property which was made debutter for the benefit of an idol, and of establishing the plaintiff's claim to be appointed trustee or manager, it was objected that the suit was barred by limitation. Held that the suit was one for the purpose of following the property in the hands of trustees within the meaning of section 10 of the Limitation Act, XV of 1877, and therefore limitation did not run. *SEENATH BOSE v. Sixty years after S. abandoned his village, B., as the representative of S., sued the representative of H. for such land, alleging that it had vested in H. in trust to surrender it to S. or his heirs on demand. As evidence of such trust, B. relied on the village paper mentioned above, and on the village administration paper of 1862, in which it was stated that absent co-sharers might recover their shares on payment of the arrears of Government revenue due by them. Held that such documents did not prove any express trust, within the meaning of section 10 of the Limitation Act, 1877, and the suit was therefore barred by limitation. *BARKAT v. 19. ———— Trust.—Charge of debts by testator.—A charge of debts generally by a testator upon his property, or any part of it, will not affect limitation, because it does not at all vary the legal liabilities of the parties, or make any difference with respect to the effect and operation of the statute itself. The executors take the estate subject to the claims of the creditors, and are in point of law trustees for the creditors, and such a charge adds nothing to their legal liabilities. But the case is different when particular property is given upon trust to pay a particular debt or debts. In such a case the trustee has a new duty—not the ordinary duty of an executor to pay debts generally out of property generally, but a duty to apply a particular property to secure a particular debt; and there is a trust within the meaning of section 10 of the Limitation Act. ANUND MOYE DABI v. Implied trusts.—Adverse possession.—The words of section 10 of the Limitation Act of 1871 mean that when a trust has been created expressly for some specific purpose or object, and property has become vested in a trustee upon such trust (either from such person having been originally named as trustee, or having become so subsequently by operation of law), the person or persons who for the time being may be beneficially interested in that trust may bring a suit against such trustee to enforce that trust at any distance of time without being barred by the law of limitation. The phrase is a compendious form of expression for trusts of the nature and character mentioned in articles 133 and 134 of the Limitation Act,—namely, such as attach to property conveyed in trust, deposited, pawned, or mortgaged. *GREENDER CHUNDER GHOSE v. 25. ———— Trustee and cestui que trust.—Will.—Void gift.—Residue.—Gift of interest.—Share of rents and profits.—Corpus of estate.—A. by his last will and testament gave his property to trustees, partly in trust for religious and other purposes, and partly to pay thereout to certain persons and their heirs for ever certain annuities, being fixed portions of the net profits of a certain estate called the Hurro estate which amounted to Rs. 150. A. died in November 1863. On the 11th of August 1879, the heir of one of the annuitants instituted a suit claiming a share under the will, and asking for a partition of that share. The plaintiff alleged, besides, that certain of the trusts and provisions in the will were invalid in law; that, consequently, a large portion of the testator's property remained undisposed of at his death, and she claimed a share of this residue as one of the heirs of the testator. Held that, under the circumstances, the gift of the share of the rents and profits amounted to a gift of a share in the corpus of the estate; and

In May 1878 the debtor, having received no notice of R.'s claim, paid the debt to the father. The father died and his estate came into the possession of A. Held, in a suit brought by R. in July 1881 against A. for one third of the debt, that the money received by the father was not held in trust for a specific purpose within the meaning of section 10 of the Limitation Act, 1877, and that the suit was barred by limitation under article 62 of schedule II of the said Act. *ARUNCHALA PILLAI v. 28. ———— Allegation of holding in trust.—By Act XV of 1877, section 10, where property has become vested in a person in trust for a specific purpose, a suit to follow such property in his hands is not barred by lapse of time. Acting under Regulation V of 1804, the Court of Wards took charge of an impartible zemindari, on the death of the zemindar, leaving minor sons, of whom the eldest was afterwards recognised as heir and received possession on attaining full age. Upon a subsequent adjudication of forfeiture against him under Regulation VII of 1808, the Government obtained possession of the zemindari. Held that the Government was not placed in the position of a person in whom property had become vested for a specific purpose, and that the above section was not applicable to prevent the operation of the law of limitation under Act XV of 1877, which barred the suit brought by another of the sons, alleging title to the zemindari. VIZI-

S. paid the entire purchase-money in the first instance, and incurred expenses in conducting suits for possession of the property, and for registration of the deed, and ultimately obtained possession in 1869 or 1870, and took the profits from that date. M. did not pay any part of the money up to 1870, and it was not till 1871 that the whole of his share of it was subscribed, and he paid little or nothing towards the expenses. Subsequently he sued S. for possession of his share, to have an account taken of the profits, and to recover his share of them with future mesne profits and costs. Held that, under the above circumstances, there was a resulting trust in favour of the plaintiff, and the defendant became liable to account to him for his share, but inasmuch as there was no express trust, and the property did not become vested in trust for a specific purpose within the meaning of section 10 of the Limitation Act, and the suit was not brought for the purpose of following such trust property in the hands of a trustee within the meaning of the section, such suit was not one which, under section 10, might not be barred by any length of time. Bulwant Rao Bishwant Chor v. (B. having meantime died) D returned from transportation, and asserted his right to a moiety against a person deriving his title from E. and K., who had taken possession of the whole. Held, looking to all the circumstances of the case, that E and K. had taken possession subject to a constructive trust in favour of B. and D., and that accordingly D. was entitled to assert his right, and no limitation could affect it. DURGA PRASAD v. The said firm had stopped payment on the 26th December 1878, having then in its hands the sum of Rs. 80,250-14-1, belonging to the company. In this suit the official liquidators of the company sought to recover that sum from the defendants, who had been directors of the company, and a further sum of Rs. 248,670-14-0 as damages sustained by the company through the fraud and gross negligence of the defendants in permitting Nursey Kessowji, the agent of the company, to deal with certain shares for his own purposes. One of the defendants (No. 3) died after the institution of the suit, and his sons were made parties. Held, that the estate of the deceased director was liable, on the ground that the misfeasance of a director is a breach of trust, and not a mere personal default. Held, further, that the claim, not being a claim for any specific property still in the hands of the representatives, was not covered by section 10 and article 98 of the second schedule of the Limitation Act, and was barred by the lapse of three years but that as the limitation counted from the date of the institution of the suit, and not from the date of the amendment of the plaint, the whole claim survived in this case. NEW FLEMING SPINNING AND WEAVING COMPANY v. should, on A's attaining his majority, make over to him the property and so much of the money as should then be unexpended; and that C. had accepted the trust, but, upon A's coming of age, had refused to render any account. A, accordingly, brought a suit for an account. C pleaded that A had attained his majority at a much earlier period than he alleged, and that the suit was barred by limitation. A replied that, under section 10 of Act XV of 1877, his suit could not be barred by any length of time. Held that section 10 of Act XV of 1877 did not apply to such a case, and that A's suit would be barred if not brought within six years from the time when he attained his majority, and became entitled to demand an account. In India, suits between a cestui que trust and a trustee for an account are governed solely by the Limitation Act (XV of 1877), and unless they fall within the exemption of section 10, are liable to become barred by some one or other of the articles in the second Schedule of the Act. To claim the benefit of section 10, a suit against a trustee must be for the purpose of following the trust-property in his hands. If the object of the suit is not to recover any property in specie, but to have an account of the defendant's stewardship, which means an account of the moneys received and disbursed by the defendant on plaintiff's behalf, and to be paid any balance which may be found due to him upon taking the account, it must be brought within six years from the time when the plaintiff had first a right to demand it. SARODA PERSEAD CHATTOPADHYA v BROJO NATH BHUTTA-CHARJEE I. The Registrar refused to accept the appeal. The Registrar refused to accept the appeal, unless under an order of Court, it being in his opinion out of time. On the 6th December 1883 a Judge sitting on the original side admitted the appeal. The appeal subsequently came on for hearing, when the defendant contended that the appeal was barred, it not having been filed within twenty days from the date of the decree. 25. ————— Exclusion of time between delivery of judgment and signing decree—Time for obtaining copy of decree—Where a suitor is unable to obtain a copy of a decree from which he desires to appeal, by reason of the decree being unsigned, he is entitled under section 12 of the Limitation Act to deduct the time between the delivery of the judgment and that of the signing of the decree in computing the time taken in presenting his appeal. *BANI MADHUB MITTER v. 1. ————— Ignorance of defendant's residence—Absence from India—Ignorance of defendant's residence does not fall within any of the provisions of the Limitation Act, extending the periods of limitation prescribed by that Act. But under section 13 plaintiff is entitled to exclude from the computation of the periods of limitation applicable to his claims, the time during which the defendant is absent out of British territories. The law of limitation being a law which bars the remedy, and does not destroy the right, if by any of its sections indulgence is shown to suitors, the Court will feel bound to give full effect to the language in which that indulgence is conceded. *MAHOMED MUSEEH-OD-EEN KHAN v. 2. ————— and s. 9.—Continuous running of time—Exclusion of time of defendant's absence from British India—Section 13 of the Limitation Act, 1877, is not in any way affected or qualified by section 9 of the same Act. In computing, therefore, the period of limitation prescribed for a suit, the time during which the defendant has been absent from British India should be excluded, notwithstanding that such period had begun to run before the defendant left British India. Narayanji Bhimji v. Mugnaram Chandaji, I. L. R., 6 Bom., 103, dissented from. BEAKE & Co. v. DAVIS

3. ————— Defendant's absence from British India—Computation of the period of limitation.—Adjusted and signed account—Sections 9 and 13 of Act XV of 1877 adopt the law of limitation in England, and they must be read together in computing the period of limitation. Where the statutory period has once begun to run in respect of any cause of action, the subsequent absence of the defendant from British India will not stop it from running. The defendant adjusted and signed his account with the plaintiffs in Bombay on the 13th of January 1871, and shortly afterwards went to reside out of British India, in the territories of His Highness the Nizam. There was no subsequent payment of interest as such, and no payment of any part of the principal. Held that the plaintiffs' suit for the balance of the account was barred by the law of limitation, not having been brought within three years after the adjustment. NARAYANJI BHIMJI v. MUGNIRAM CHANDAJI

4. ————— Defendant's absence from India.—The plaintiff sued on a bond, dated 20th August 1879, payable by monthly instalments, the first to be due on 4th September 1879; the bond provided that, if default should be made in one instalment, the obligor should, if so required, pay the whole amount. The defendant made default in the fourth instalment, and no more instalments were paid, and no demand of payment was made until 30th January 1884. The suit was brought on 28th April 1884. The defendant had been absent from India for more than two years and three months, out of the four years and four months which had elapsed between the date of the defendant's default, and the date of suit. Held, dissenting from Narayanji Bhimji v. Mugnaram Chandaji, I. L. R., 6 Bom., 103, that, even if the cause of action had arisen on the 4th December 1879, nevertheless the suit was not barred, inasmuch as the period during which the defendant had been absent from India was to be deducted in computing the period of limitation. *HAN-MANTRAM SADHUBAM PITY v. But section 14 of Act XV of 1877 now expressly applies to applications of any sort.

3. ———— Deduction of time occupied by former suit under old law of limitation.—The plaintiff instituted a suit under the old law (Bengal Regulation III of 1793), and was non-suited on appeal, because the plaint was defective in not stating the boundaries of the land claimed. While the appeal was pending, Act XIV of 1859 came into operation. He instituted a fresh suit, and claimed to deduct the time occupied in prosecuting the former suit and appeal under the provisions of Act XIV of 1859, section 14. Held (by the majority of the Court), that the plaintiff was non-suited owing to his negligence, and the time sought to be deducted from the period of limitation could not be allowed. Per LOCH and PUNDT, JJ.—Under the circumstances the time should be deducted in computing the period of limitation. CHUNDER MADHUB CHUCKERBUTTY v. KOYLASCHUNDER BAROEN

5. ———— Deduction of time former suit was being prosecuted.—The plaintiffs sued the son of a deceased debtor without ascertaining whether or not he was of age, and then, when the plaint was returned to them, they sued the minor's mother, also without ascertaining whether she was legally constituted guardian of the minor. The lower Courts determined the suit, but the High Court was unable to support their decrees in consequence of the defect, which came to light in special appeal. The plaintiffs having brought a second suit, it was held that, in computing the period of limitation, they were not entitled, under the provisions of section 15 of Act IX of 1871, to an exclusion of the time occupied by them in prosecuting the first suit. The Court doubted whether, assuming the case fell under the provisions of the section, the plaintiffs could be said, under the circumstances, to have prosecuted the first suit with due diligence and in good faith. BAHAL SINGH v. GAURI

7 N. W., 284

6. ———— Execution of decree—Attachment of decree.—Held that, in calculating the period of three years from the date when effectual proceedings had last been taken to keep alive a decree, the period during which the decree had remained under attachment in execution of a decree against the judgment-creditor should be deducted, the decree-holder having been prevented from exercising due diligence. CHANDI PRASAD NANDI v. RAGHUNATH DHAR

7. ———— Ineffectual appeal proceedings.—When a person appealed from an award of a Collector under Act XIII of 1848, which appeal was struck off for default of prosecution, and he then sued to set aside the award, Held that the proceeding had not been prosecuted with due diligence and that limitation commenced to run from the date of the award, and not from the date of the order in the ineffectual appeal proceedings. GHOLAM DURESH CHOWDERY v. section 6 of the Pensions Act (XXIII of 1871) which was necessary to give jurisdiction to the Court not having been obtained, the claim was rejected on that ground. Held, in the subsequent suit, that the non-production of the Collector's certificate does not necessarily constitute such a want of due diligence on the plaintiff's part as to disentitle him to the deduction of time allowed by section 14 of the Limitation Act XV of 1877. PUTALI MEHETI v. TULJA I. L. R., 3 Bom., 223

9. ————— Court having no jurisdiction.—A deduction of the time a former suit was pending from the period of limitation can only be claimed under section 14, when the Court before whom the former suit was brought had no jurisdiction and where there has been no adjudication. NUND DOOLAL SIRCAR v. The lease contained no stipulation for the registration of any vendee or donee. In 1860 S. sold the dur-putni lease to K., the deed of sale, which was duly registered, providing for mutation of names in the putndar's books. name of S. In 1864, the rent due from the putndars being in arrear, the zemindar proceeded to sell the putni under Regulation VIII of 1819. Thereupon K., in order to protect his under-tenure, deposited in the Collectorate on 17th November 1864 a sum of money on which the sale was stayed. K. being then in arrear in the payment of his dur-putni rent, claimed to set off the amount deposited in the Collectorate against the rent due to L. and R. This L. and R. refused to allow, and they brought a suit in the Collector's Court against S. and his sureties to recover the arrears of rent. In that suit K. intervened claiming the benefit of the set-off, to which, however, the High Court on 26th June 1866 on appeal, held that he was not entitled, the deposit being merely a voluntary payment by K. On 30th October 1867, K. brought a regular suit against S. and L. and R. to recover the amount of the deposit, and obtained a decree, but the decision was reversed on appeal, and the suit dismissed for want of jurisdiction. On 6th June 1869 K. filed his plaint in the proper Court. Held that whether the period of three years under section 1, clause 9 of Act XIV of 1859, or of six years as provided by clause 16, section 1 of that Act, be the limitation applicable to such a suit, the suit was not barred, inasmuch as K. was entitled to deduct the time during which he was bona fide prosecuting with due diligence a suit for the same purpose in a Court not having jurisdiction. LUCKHINARAIN MITTER v. 16. ————— Deduction of time suit was being prosecuted in another Court.—The plaintiff sued under Act X of 1859 in the Revenue Court to recover her share of certain arrears of rent due from the defendants on a kabulath executed by them in favour of the plaintiff's mother, but her suit, on the objection by the defendants that her co-sharer was not a party, was dismissed by the Collector, and his decision was upheld by the High Court on appeal on 3rd July 1861. The plaintiff then brought a fresh suit under Act X of 1859, making her co-sharer a party defendant, but the suit was again dismissed, and the dismissal upheld by the High Court on 14th April 1870, on the ground that the plaintiff's share was not her own, and therefore the Collector's Court had no jurisdiction to determine any question of right as between her and her co-sharer. In a suit brought in the Civil Court on 31st May 1870 for a moiety of the rents from 1864 to 1869, —Held, it was not a suit for an arrear of rent as that term is defined in section 21, Bengal Act VIII of 1869, and section 29 of that Act would not apply. The limitation applicable was that provided by Act XIV of 1859, under section 14 of which Act the plaintiff was entitled to deduct the time during which she was bond fide prosecuting her claim in the Revenue Courts. HARIS CHANDRA DUTT v JAGADAMBA DAS

Permission to proceed with the suit against the defendant (the drawer) having been refused by the High Court, plaintiff withdrew his plaint and filed his suit in the Court at Ahmedabad against the drawer alone. The Subordinate Judge rejected the claim as barred by limitation. —Held, by the High Court in appeal, that, under section 15 of the Limitation Act (No IX of 1871), a deduction might properly be made of the time during which the suit was pending in the Court at Surat, and that the deduction on this account was to run from the filing of the plaint to the final refusal of the High Court to allow the suit to proceed at Surat against the drawer (defendant). SHETH KAHANDAS NARANDAS v DAHIABHAI

20. ————— Computation of period of limitation—Exclusion of time while prosecuting suit in Court without jurisdiction.—On the 26th August 1878 R and B joined in instituting a suit in the Court of the Subordinate Judge, the period of limitation of which expired on the 21st September 1878. This suit was transferred to the District Court, which, on the 16th September 1878, returned the plaint to the plaintiffs on the ground that they should have sued separately. On the 23rd September 1878 R presented a fresh plaint to the District Court, which, on the 1st October 1878, made an order rejecting it, on the ground that he should have instituted the suit in the Court of the Subordinate Judge. R appealed from this order to the High Court, which affirmed it on the 28th January 1879, but observed that the plaint should be returned to R. On the 10th April 1879 R's plaint was returned to him, and on the same day he presented it to the Subordinate Judge. —Held that, in computing the period of limitation, R. could not claim to exclude any other period than from the 23rd September 1878 to the 10th April 1879, for from the 26th August 1878 to the 16th September 1878 he was prosecuting his suit in a Court which had jurisdiction, and the inability of that Court to entertain it did not arise from defect of jurisdiction or any cause of the like nature, but from misjoinder of plaintiffs—a defect for which he must be held responsible; and from the 16th to the 23rd September he was not prosecuting his suit in any Court, and could not claim to have that period excluded. RAM SUBHAG DAS v GOBIND PRASAD

23. ——— Deduction of time occupied by former suit.—Omission to obtain registered certificate—"Cause of like nature"—At a Court sale held on the 15th November 1871, in execution of a decree, the plaintiff's deceased husband purchased a house, but neglected to register his sale certificate. In attempting to recover possession he was obstructed by the defendant, who claimed the property as her own. Summary proceedings under section 269 of Act VIII of 1859 were thereupon instituted against the defendant, and the defendant's claim was upheld by an order passed on the 7th November 1872. In the meantime the plaintiff's husband having died, plaintiff filed, on the 31st March 1873, a regular suit to establish her title. On the 8th July 1873 she obtained a second certificate, and registered it. The Court of first instance awarded her claim, but on appeal by the defendant the lower Appellate Court reversed that decree, on the ground that, at the institution of the suit, plaintiff had not a registered certificate of sale. That decree was confirmed on the 17th November 1879, on second appeal, by the High Court. On the 30th April 1880 plaintiff brought this suit on the strength of her registered certificate. The Court of first instance allowed her claim. The defendant appealed, and the lower Appellate Court held her suit not maintainable. On appeal by plaintiff to the High Court,—Held, the suit was barred. The plaintiff was not entitled to a deduction of the time during which she was unsuccessfully prosecuting the former suit, inasmuch as her inability to produce a registered certificate was not a "cause of a like nature," to want of jurisdiction within section 14 of Act XV of 1877. BAI JAMNA v. BAI IOHHA. I. L. R., 10 Bom., 604

24. ——— "Prosecuting."—"Good faith."—"Other cause of a like nature."—Limitation Act, Construction of.—In October 1881 an account was struck between K and M, and a sum of Rs. 1,457 was agreed between them to be the correct balance then due by the latter to the former. Of this amount a sum of Rs. 885 was paid. In March 1885 K sued M. for the balance of Rs. 600 then due on the account stated. The plaintiff claimed the benefit of section 14 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) as suspending the running of limitation during the pendency of a former suit which he had prosecuted against the defendant in 1884 and 1885, and which had been dismissed on the merits. That was a suit for the redemption of certain zemindari property on which the defendant held a mortgage, and the plaintiff claimed in that suit that the amount of the balance due by the defendant on the account stated should be deducted from the mortgage-money under an oral agreement entered into by the parties in October 1881. Held that the plaintiff could not be said to have formerly prosecuted his remedy in respect of the items now claimed in a Court, which, for want of jurisdiction or other cause of a like nature, was unable to entertain it, that the provisions of section 14 of the Limitation Act therefore were not applicable; and that the suit was barred by limitation. Per STRAIGHT, Offg. C. J.—The former suit was not founded upon the same cause of action as the present, inasmuch as it was founded upon the alleged oral agreement and not upon the account stated. Per MAHMOOD, J.—The Courts of British India in applying Acts of Limitation are not bound by the rule established by a balance of authority in England, that statutes of this description must be construed strictly. On the contrary, such Acts, where their language is ambiguous or indistinct, should receive a liberal interpretation, and be treated as "statutes of repose" and not as of a penal character or as imposing burdens. Roddam v. Morley, 26 L. J. Ch., 438; Ali Sarb v. Sangaraz Peddababiyra Simhula, 3 Mad., 5, Empress v. Kola Lalang, I. L. R., 8 Cal., 214, Beil v. Morrison, 7 Peters (U. S.) 360; *Keramut Hossein v. 25. ——— Prosecution of appeal bonâ fide—The time during which a plaintiff prosecutes an appeal bonâ fide and with due diligence, as well as that during which he prosecutes his case in the Court of first instance, must be deducted in computing the period of limitation. SHUMDHONATH BISWAS v. KISTO DHUN SIRCAR

[5 W. R., S. C. C. Ref., 8

26. ——— Deduction of period appeal was pending.—Where a suit is brought and dismissed for want of jurisdiction, and an appeal is preferred in which the first decree is affirmed, if a suit be afterwards brought in the right Court, the period which elapsed between the decision of the first Court and the disposal of the appeal should be excluded in computing the period of limitation prescribed by Act XIV of 1859. RAJ KISTO ROY v. BEER CHUNDER JOOBRAJ. 6 W. R., 308

27. ——— Deduction of time suit was pending in wrong Court.—Where a suit, prosecuted bonâ fide and with due diligence, was dismissed in appeal for want of jurisdiction in the Court of first instance, and a second suit was afterwards brought in a right Court,—Held that, in computing under section 14 of Act XIV of 1859, the period of limitation of the suit, the time between the decree of the Court of first instance and the institution of the appeal should be excluded. AJOODHYA PERSHAD v. BISHESHVAR SAHAJ. 6 N. W., 141

28. ——— Deduction of time.—Prosecution of suit in another Court.—A bond-suit was filed in a Munsif's Court on the day on which the Court reopened after the Dusserah vacation, during which the period of limitation expired as regards the payment of the bond-debt. The Munsif decreed the suit, but the Subordinate Judge in appeal found that the Munsif had no jurisdiction, and ordered him to return the plaint. This was done and the plaint was filed in the Small Cause Court on the same day.

The defendants pleaded limitation. Held that, under Act IX of 1871, section 15, the plaintiff was entitled to exclude the time during which he had been prosecuting the suit in the regular Court up to the date of the lower Appellate Court's judgment, but not the time during which he waited to get the plaint back. ABHAYA CHURN CHUCKERBUTTY v. GOVIND MOHTY DUTT 24 W. R., 26

29. ————— Suit not against same defendants—A former suit brought, not against the same defendants but only against one of them, did not fall within section 14, Act XIV of 1859, consequently the time of its pendency could not be deducted in computing limitation in a subsequent suit. NIL-MADHUB SUBNOKAR v. KRISTO DOSS SUBNOKAR [5 W. R., 281]

30. ————— Deduction of time suit was being prosecuted in another Court—The question whether the plaintiff is entitled, in computing the period of limitation, to deduct the time occupied in prosecuting a former suit, depends in the first place upon the question whether the former suit was brought upon the same cause of action as the new suit. Where the plaintiff brought two suits, one against one branch of the family and the other against another branch, to recover a share of that portion of the property which was in the possession of each, and these suits were rejected on the ground of their having been improperly brought, it was held that in bringing a consolidated suit against all sharers for a general partition the plaintiff was not entitled to deduct the time occupied in prosecuting his former suits. JOITARAM BECHAR v. BAI GANGA [8 Bom., A. C., 228]

31. ————— Deduction of time suit is being prosecuted in Court without jurisdiction—Under a decree made in a suit brought by A against B, A obtained possession of certain property. The decree was reversed on appeal, but no order was made by the Appellate Court with regard to mesne profits. After such reversal, B applied to and obtained an order from the Court of first instance for possession and mesne profits. This order, so far as it awarded mesne profits, was set aside by the High Court as being an order he had no power to make, no right to mesne profits having been declared by the Appellate Court, and as being made "altogether without jurisdiction," they held that B should have applied to the Appellate Court which reversed the decree, or should have brought a separate suit for the mesne profits. An application for review of this judgment being rejected, B instituted a suit for such mesne profits. Held, per PEACOCK, C. J., KEMP and MACPHERSON, JJ. (LOCH, J. dissenting), that in the proceedings taken by B in the former suit to obtain the mesne profits she was engaged in prosecuting a suit upon the same cause of action against the same defendant within the meaning of section 14, Act XIV of 1859. HURRO CHUNDER ROY CHOWDHRY v. rent on account of lands as mal from defendants, who set up a lakhuraj title and produced lakhuraj sunnuds in support, he has first of all to prove that he has collected rents from the lands as mal within twelve years of the suit, and in calculating the period of limitation, the plaintiff is not entitled to deduction on account of the periods of pendency of suits for rent and for small portions of the land, they not being suits for the same cause of action. PRODHAN GOPAUL SINGH v. BROOP ROY OJHA [9 W. R., 570]

33. ————— Deduction of time suit is pending in Court without jurisdiction.—Where limitation is pleaded, a plaintiff was not entitled, under section 14, Act XIV of 1859, to deduction for the time of the pendency of a suit brought by defendants upon the same cause of action, if it was not a suit in which the Courts were unable to decide the question from defect of jurisdiction or other such cause. ODDOY-MONEE DABEE v. BISHONATH DUTT . 9 W. R., 455

34. ————— Deduction of time suit was pending.—In a suit by an executrix, to recover, under deeds of mortgage and sale, dated, respectively, October 1837 and April 1840, executed to the testator by first defendant's deceased husband, certain villages which first defendant in 1843 and 1851 mortgaged to second and third defendants, the defendants pleaded that the suit was barred by lapse of time. For the plaintiff it was contended that the operation of the Limitation Act was suspended from 1844 until 1867, by reason of the pendency of an equity suit, commenced by bill filed by the present first defendant against the testator, to set aside the deeds of October 1837 and April 1840, which bill was dismissed by consent in June, 1867. Held (reversing the decision of the lower Court) that these proceedings had no such effect, that the plaintiff might have brought a suit for ejectment at any time, and that the present suit was barred. TRANQUEBAR SAMI AYYAN v. NATHAMBEDU AMMAI AMMAL . 6 Mad., 234

35. ————— Deduction of time during which former suit for rent was pending which was dismissed for non-joinder of parties.—In suits by the Receiver of the Tanjore estate to recover rent due under muchalkas executed by defendants, the mirasidars of certain villages, agreeing to take the villages on rent for five fashis, from 1273 to 1277, at an annual rent, the defendants pleaded limitation as to part of the rent claimed. The plaintiff claimed to be entitled to the advantage of section 14 of that Act, because he was for a time prosecuting suits against defendants separately for the arrears of rents alleged to be barred, all which suits were dismissed on the ground that plaintiff could not sue the defendants separately while they had executed the muchalka jointly. The District Judge found for the defendant on the questions on the Act of Limitations. Held, on appeal, that the period of limitation applicable to a suit for rent was three years (under Act XIV of 1859), and that as to the claim to the exception under section 14, it failed at every turn. The cause of action was not the same, for there the obligation sued upon was several, here it is joint, and the Court

[2 Mad., 266]

37. ————— Meaning of "suit."—Appeal forbidden by law—Good faith.—Held that the word "suit" used in section 14, Act XIV of 1859, had only one, and that the common and ordinary sense of the term. Held, further, that the plaintiff, in preferring an appeal from a summary order, which appeal was expressly forbidden by law, could not be considered to have been prosecuting a suit within the meaning of section 14, and was therefore not entitled to the indulgence given by the aforesaid section, even assuming that section to be applicable to suits to contest the order under section 246, Act VIII of 1859. FUTTEH RAM v. MONOHUR LALL . . . 3 Agra, 39

38. ————— Deduction of time for appeal from order under s. 246, Civil Procedure Code, 1859.—An unsuccessful claimant, instead of bringing a regular suit to establish his right as provided by section 246, Act VIII of 1859, chose to file an appeal against the order rejecting his claim. His appeal, though successful before the lower Appellate Court, having been thrown out in special appeal, as illegal under the section above cited, he sued to set aside the order rejecting his claim. Held that he was not entitled, under section 14, Act XIV of 1859, to deduct from the period of limitation the time during which the appeal proceedings were pending. RAMDASS BABOO v. WATSON . . . W. R., 1864, 371

39. ————— Suit brought in wrong Court.—Where a plaintiff, relying upon the defendant's representation as to the latter's place of residence, brought his suit in a Court which had not jurisdiction, the time of the pendency of the suit in such Court was held to be properly excluded under section 14, Act XIV of 1859, in computing limitation. *BANEE MADHUB LAHOREE v. The words "or other cause of a like nature," in section 14, exclude many of the causes which were held to come within the meaning of the corresponding section of the Act of 1859.

40. ————— "Other cause"—The words "or other cause," in section 14, Act XIV of 1859, applied to cases where the action of the Court was prevented by causes not arising from laches on the part of the plaintiff,—in other words, by accidental circumstances beyond his control. *LUCHMUN PERSHAD v. 45. ————— Suit for mesne profits—In a suit for mesne profits, the Limitation Act allows no deduction for the pendency of the suit for possession. (disson-tiente STEEB, J.) that, under Regulation III of 1793, section 14, the plaintiff was entitled to recover mesne profits for twelve years prior to suit, excluding from such computation the period of the pendency of the suit for possession from the date of the plaint till the final decree. *ANNADA GOBIND CHOWDHREY v. 47. — Deduction of period occupied by suit annulled from defect in jurisdiction or other like cause.—Under a decree made in a suit brought by A. against B., A. obtained possession of certain property. The decree was reversed on appeal, but no order was made by the Appellate Court with regard to mesne profits. After such reversal B. applied to and obtained an order from the Court of first instance for possession and mesne profits. This order, so far as it awarded mesne profits, was set aside by the High Court as being an order the Court had no power to make, no right to mesne profits having been declared by the Appellate Court; and as being made altogether without jurisdiction. The High Court held that B. should have applied to the Appellate Court which reversed the decree, or should have brought a separate suit for the mesne profits. An application for review of judgment being rejected, B. instituted a suit for the mesne profits. Held, per KEMP, MACPHERSON, and LOCH, JJ. (PEACOCK, C.J., dissenting), that the order of the Court of first instance awarding mesne profits was not annulled from "defect of jurisdiction or for any such cause" within the meaning of section 14, Act XIV of 1859, and, consequently, that the period occupied in obtaining and seeking to uphold such order could not be deducted in computing the period of limitation for the suit subsequently brought by B. for the mesne profits. HURRO CHUNDER ROY CHOWDHRY v SOORADHONEE DEBIA

48. — Deduction of time former suit was pending.—An objector's claim under Act VIII of 1859, section 246, having been disallowed he brought a regular suit to establish his right, and to have the sale stayed. The attached property was, however, sold pending this suit which was subsequently dismissed. He then brought another suit for a declaration that the property (which was still in his possession) was his, and was not affected by the sale. Held that, in calculating limitation, no deduction could be made for the time consumed, it not having been dismissed for defect of jurisdiction or for some analogous cause to defect of jurisdiction, in the first suit; and it was also barred because the cause of action in the second suit was the same as that in the first. RAGHOONATH PRESHAD v. SURJOO PRESHAD SINGH [22 W. R., 162]

49. — Exclusion of time of proceeding bonâ fide in Court for a cause of like nature to want of jurisdiction.—The plaintiff on the 31st March 1884 brought a suit in the Small Cause Court on a promissory note, dated the 24th April 1879. In his plaint he omitted to set out certain payments of interest by the defendant, which payments (if so set out) would have had the effect of saving the suit from being barred by limitation. The Judge of the Small Cause Court held that, on the face of the plaint, the suit was barred, and rejected the plaint on the 24th April 1884, under clause (c) of section 54 of the Civil Procedure Code. On the 25th April 1884 the plaintiff brought a fresh suit on the same promissory note, and in his plaint set out how it was that he claimed exemption from limitation. Held that, in computing the period of limitation, the plaintiff was not entitled under section 14 of Act XV of 1877 to exclude the time during which he was prosecuting the previous suit. NOBIN CHUNDER KUR v. ROJOMOYE DOSSEE [I. L. R., 11 Calc., 284

50. — Deduction of time during which another suit was being tried.—The defendants cut down and carried away some trees which had been growing on the plaintiff's land. The plaintiff's manager brought a suit in his own name against the defendants for the value of the trees so cut and carried away. This suit was dismissed, on the ground that the manager had no cause of action against the defendants. In a subsequent suit brought by the plaintiff against the defendants for the value of the same trees, he contended that the time occupied in the former suit ought to be excluded in computing the period of limitation prescribed for the second suit. Held that the provisions of Act XV of 1877, section 14, did not apply, and that the time could not be excluded, as the reason why the previous suit was dismissed was, because it was brought in the name of the wrong person, not from defect of jurisdiction, or from any cause of a like nature. RAJENDRO KISHORE SINGH v BULAKY MAHTON . [I. L. R., 7 Calc., 367

51. — Deduction of time during prosecution of suit with due diligence—Defect of jurisdiction.—Cause of like nature.—On the 2nd of September 1869 a suit was instituted for, among other things, the possession of land claimed under a kobala, dated the 31st October 1867. This suit was dismissed on the ground of misjoinder of causes of action. On the 14th of April 1881, the plaintiff sued for possession of the land only. Held that the suit was not barred by limitation as the plaintiff had, within the meaning of section 14, been prosecuting his claim in a Court which, from a cause of "like nature" to defect of jurisdiction, was unable to entertain it. Ram Subhag Das v. 52. — Deduction of period—Defect of jurisdiction.—In a suit for rent in which limitation was pleaded the plaintiffs alleged that, in answer to a former suit brought against them by the defendants, they had bonâ fide claimed to set off the same rent, but that their claim to a set-off had been, on technical grounds, disallowed on appeal, and they contended that, under section 14 of the Limitation Act XV of 1877, they were entitled to exclude the period during which that suit was pending. Held that the plaintiff's claim of set-off was not disallowed on account of any defect of jurisdiction nor any defect of a like nature, and that therefore he was not entitled to exclude the period as he contended. HAJIZUNNESSA KHATUN v. After decree, on the application of the plaintiff, a receiver was appointed to collect outstanding debts for the purpose of executing the decree. The receiver having sued in 1883 to recover a debt which was due to the firm in 1879, the suit was dismissed on the ground, among others, that the debt was barred by limitation. Held that, under section 15 of the Limitation Act, the suit was not barred. SHUNMUGAM v. 8. ———— Application by Collector to set aside sale of unrecognised portion of bhag—Bhagdari Act, Bom Act V of 1862, ss 1 and 2—N. held an unrecognised fourth share in a certain bhag. B. obtained a decree against N., and in execution of it sold his right, title, and interest in the bhag on the 28th February 1876. It was purchased by B. The sale was subsequently confirmed, and B. was put in possession of a portion of the land. On the 30th September 1880, the Collector applied to the Court to set aside the sale, on the ground that it was illegal under Bombay Act V of 1862. It appeared that the Collector did not know till November 1877 that the land sold was an unrecognised portion of the bhag, and not the whole of it. Held that the sale might be set aside under the provisions of section 2 of Act V of 1862 notwithstanding its confirmation and the subsequent delivery of possession. Held, further, that the application was not barred, even if the provisions of Act XV of 1877 applied to it, inasmuch as, under section 18, time began to run against the Collector only from November 1877. Quære,—Whether any provision of limitation applied to such applications under the Bhagdari Act. COLLECTOR OF BROACH v. 1. ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF DEBTS.

This section, like section 4 of the Act of 1859 and section 20 of that of 1871, requires a distinct acknowledgment.

1. ———— Distinct acknowledgment.

—Act XIV of 1859 required a distinct acknowledgment of a debt as due by the person who makes the acknowledgment to entitle the creditor to a fresh period of limitation. KALAI KHAN v. MADHO PERSHAH

3 N. W., 129

2. ———— Acknowledgment how to be gathered or inferred.—Section 4 did not require that the writing should express in terms a direct admission that the debt, or part thereof, was due. It was left to the Court to decide in each case whether the writing, reasonably construed, contained a sufficient admission that the debt, or part of it, was due. KRISTINA ROW v. HACHAPA SUGAPA

2 Mad., 307

It is not necessary to specify the precise amount of the debt.

3. — Acknowledgment of debt.—Where a plaintiff sued for a debt due under a kararnama,—Held that in order to bring the case within the exception in the law of limitation, it was sufficient to show, by clear and positive proof, that within the period prescribed he had asserted his right to his claim under the kararnama, and that the defendant admitted this claim to be as of right. It was not necessary that a precise sum should have been mentioned by either party, or that a promise to pay should have been made by the defendant. *GUPIKISHEN GOSWAMI v. 4. — Promise to pay debt of third person.—A promise to pay a third person's debt would be sufficient though the amount were not ascertained. PEARSEE LALL SHAHA v. WOOMESH CHUNDER MOZOOMDAR . . . 9 W. R., 140

5. — Letters containing no precise sum or promise to pay.—In a suit for the price of goods, the period of limitation had expired, but the Court held that certain letters written by the defendant to the plaintiffs, though they contained no mention of the sum due, nor any promise to pay, were a sufficient acknowledgment of the debt under section 4, Act XIV of 1859. HARRISON v. HOPE

6. — Want of assent to amount acknowledged.—A creditor who does not openly assent to an amount acknowledged by his debtor to be due to him, is nevertheless entitled to take advantage of such acknowledgment so long as it remains uncontradicted and unexplained by his debtor. LALJEE SAHOO v. ROGHONCHAND LALL SAHOO
[I. L. R., 6 Cal., 447]

7. — Letter in indefinite terms.—A letter containing no distinct admission of a debt, but only doubtful expressions,—Held not to be a written acknowledgment such as section 4, Act XIV of 1859 requires for the revival of a right of suit. GASH v. MCLEAN . . . 2 N. W., 403

8. — Acknowledgment inferred from tenor of correspondence.—An acknowledgment not coming directly from the debtor himself, but merely deduced as an inference from the tenor of a series of letters, was not a sufficient acknowledgment to satisfy section 4, Act XIV of 1859. To satisfy that section, there must be some principal writing of a particular date, which can be relied on by itself, when properly construed, as constituting an acknowledgment of the debt. ROGERS v. MONTRIOU

9. — Law under Punjab Code.—Acknowledgment.—Under the Punjab Code, as before Act XIV of 1859 took effect in Oudh, letters offering to pay a debt by instalments, and paying to be excused from the payment of interest, were an ample acknowledgment of the debt to save limitation. *MUKHUM LALL v. 10. — Letter with remittance of old account.—The defendant sent a letter, dated 22nd December 1865, to the plaintiffs, which contained the following postscript "P. S.—Enclosed a remittance of £40 to old account." Held (on appeal, reversing the decision of NORMAN, J.), the words "remittance of £40 to old account" were ambiguous, and did not necessarily import that a further sum was due, so as to constitute an acknowledgment of a debt which would give a new period of limitation. SHEARMAN v. FLEMING

11. — Admission of debt with averment it is not due.—An admission of a debt with the appended averment that it is not yet payable in point of time, may be an acknowledgment of a debt under section 4, Act XIV of 1859. An assertion that a sum of money will be payable on the happening of an event future and uncertain is not an acknowledgment of a debt, but the allegation of incidents out of which a debt may at some time arise. *YOUNG v. 12. — Bom. Reg. V of 1827, s. 7, cl. 1—Acknowledgment.—Held that an admission in writing of the making of a promissory note, accompanied by a repudiation of liability in respect thereof, was not such an acknowledgment as would revive a barred claim. NARBADASHANKAR v. RUGHNATH ISHWARTI . . . 2 Bom., 349

13. — Admission of debt to third person.—The admission to a third party in writing that a sum is due is not such an acknowledgment of a debt as to remove such debt out of the Statute of Limitations. PERSHAD DOSS v. DENONATH DEY plaintiff alleged an express verbal promise by the debtor to pay the amount sued for made upon a settlement of accounts.—Held, by HOLLOWAY and KINDERSLEY, JJ—That a verbal promise was not sufficient to prevent the application of the Act of Limitation Per KINDERSLEY, J.—If a debtor and creditor enter into a new contract, the debtor promising to pay a barred debt, that would seem to be a new cause of action, and it is doubtful whether it was the intention of the Limitation Act to insist that the new promise should be in writing. KITTAPPA v SOMANNA 6 Mad., 51

22. ———— Acknowledgment to third person—An admission or acknowledgment in writing, under section 4, Act XIV of 1859, was sufficient to give a new period of limitation, although a promise to pay on request is not inferable from it. The word "due" in the section means no more than that the debt is owing and that there is an existing obligation to pay it. NIJAMUDIN v. MAHAMADALI

23. ———— Promise to pay sum for which promissory note was given.—A suit was brought on a promissory note, by which the defendant promised to pay to the plaintiff Rs. 1,000 with interest at the rate of 12 per cent per annum. The defendant afterwards wrote the following letter to the plaintiff: "I further hold myself responsible to you for the two sums of Rs. 1,000 and Rs. 900 respectively, the latter sum bearing interest at 24 per cent. per annum. Both these sums of Rs. 1,000 and Rs. 900 I engage to pay you." Held that the letter was an acknowledgment within section 4, Act XIV of 1859. UMESH CHUNDER MOOKERJEE v SAGEMAN

24. ———— Admission in bill of sale—The defendant, who was the owner of a moiety of certain property (the plaintiff and another being owners of the other moiety), mortgaged his moiety to the plaintiff; the mortgage-deed, dated 11th June 1863, contained a covenant to pay off the principal and interest at the expiration of a year, and gave a power of sale in default of payment. The whole property, including the mortgaged portion, was conveyed to one I. D. on 27th November 1864, by a bill of sale executed by the three owners of the property. On the execution of the bill of sale the sum of Rs. 16,250, the half of the purchase-money which belonged to the defendant, was handed over to the plaintiff in part-payment of a sum of Rs. 19,555, which was thereon recited as being then due on the mortgage. [6 B. L. R., 299]

25. ———— Admission in writing —

In a suit to recover the balance alleged to be due on certain promissory notes, the plaintiff relied on a document to prevent the operation of Act XIV of 1859, which was in these terms,—"If I have to stump up, the sooner it is done the better, though it would go against all my ideas of justice and right." Semble,—There was no admission that a debt was due. UNCOVENANTED SERVICE BANK v. MARSHALL

[6 N. W., 306]

26. ———— Admission in writing —

A debt due on a decree is a sufficient consideration for the making of a promissory note, although execution of the decree be barred by limitation at the time the note is made. Where the endorsee of certain promissory notes sued to recover their value, alleging that in respect of four of the notes a new period of limitation had been created by the letter of the maker to the holder's agent which follows, viz. "with regard to your communication anent promissory notes given by me to Mr. S, and which I have not paid, I must only say that Mr. S. must trust to my integrity to pay him, and as soon as I have cleared off a couple of decrees against me I will commence paying him; but if you put the matter into Court, I must only plead want of consideration, and throw Mr. S. back on the original decree which had lapsed some three years before I wrote the promissory notes."—Held that the letter was a sufficient acknowledgment to take the claim on the four notes out of the statute of limitation. MULLINS v. period of limitation under that section, he must prove that the party sued has in writing authenticated by his signature, either in express terms or by reasonable construction, acknowledged and admitted that the debt or a part thereof is due from him. This signature need not be formally subjoined or added to an acknowledgment written by the debtor, unless it appears from the writing that such signature was intended, or unless the writing would be incomplete in itself, as an admission without a signature. [7 Mad., 358]

37. ——— Suit for balance of account for advances—In a suit to recover a balance on account of indigo advances made on a kabulat executed by defendant, where defendant had broken no contract, but the discontinuation of the cultivation had been the act of the plaintiff, limitation was held to run from the date of the kabulat, which operated as a written acknowledgment signed by defendant (section 4, Act XIV of 1859). Held, too, that a statement of balances found in one of plaintiff's books duly verified, without any signature by defendant (who could not write), was not an acknowledgment within the meaning of section 4. The entry of defendant's name in one column, taken in connection with a cross in another column, formed no valid signature. BENGAL INDIGO COMPANY v. KOYLASH CHUNDER DOSS

38. ——— Acknowledgment of debt — Secondary evidence of acknowledgment — Authority to bind minor by acknowledgment—An original account book containing an acknowledgment of a debt had been filed in Court, and subsequently lost whilst in Court,—Held, that secondary evidence of such acknowledgment might be given, notwithstanding the words of section 19 of the Limitation Act. 40. ——— Application by judgment-debtor for postponement of sale—An application by the defendant for a postponement of the sale of his property when he promised to pay the amount of the decree was held to be an admission of the plaintiffs' right to execute the decree within the contemplation of section 19 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877), and created a new period of limitation. VENKATRAV BAPU v. 47. ———— The plaintiff sued three executors for the balance due of their testator's simple contract debt of more than three years' standing. A part payment had been made by the defendants within the three years previous to the commencement of the suit. Two of the defendants had also, but during their testator's life-time, given a personal undertaking in writing to pay the debt out of a fund coming to their hands. The defendants had also signed as executors, and sent a letter to the plaintiff informing him that they had registered his claim against the testator's estate, and that notice would be given to him when the assets, if any, were to be distributed. Held that, neither the personal undertaking nor the letter was such an acknowledgment in writing as to bring the case within section 4, of Act XIV of 1859. ICVABA DAS v. 48. ———— Acknowledgments by agent.
—Acknowledgments which, under Act XIV of 1859, were insufficient to keep alive a cause of action, because they were signed only by an agent, — Held to be sufficient to sustain a suit on the same cause of action under Act IX of 1871. Where a series of acknowledgments of a debt have been made, each within three years of the one next preceding, and the first of the series has been made within three years of the date on which the debt was contracted, a suit for the recovery thereof is, under Act IX of 1871, in time, if instituted within three years from the date of the last acknowledgment. 49. ———— Acknowledgment by agent.
—Held, upon the evidence in the case, that an acknowledgment of the debt sued for had not been signed by an agent of the defendant, generally or specially authorised in that behalf within the meaning of section 20, Act IX of 1871. Whatever general authority such agent may once have had from the defendant, it had ceased within the knowledge of the plaintiff at the time of the signature. Special authority in that behalf cannot be proved by secondary evidence of the contents of a letter, the non-production of which is not satisfactorily accounted for. DINOMOXI DEBI v. The concluding portion of the letter was written by B. in his own handwriting. Held that, under these circumstances, there was sufficient evidence that the heading of the letter was written by an agent duly authorised. Held, also, looking at the heading of the letter, that the letter was "signed" by B. within the meaning of section 20 of Act IX of 1871. MATHURA DAS v. 51. ———— Acknowledgment by agent
—Plaint signed by vakil—A plaint signed by a vakil before the Limitation Act IX of 1871 came into operation does not save limitation, as the earlier Limitation Acts do not give authority to an agent to sign an acknowledgment for his principal similar to that given by section 20 of that Act and section 19 of Act XV of 1877. Acknowledgments which are insufficient to keep alive a cause of action because they were signed only by an agent, are equally insufficient to sustain a suit on the same cause of action under Act XV of 1877, as section 2 of the Act expressly bars the revival of a right to sue barred under the earlier Acts, although they might have been sufficient under Act IX of 1871. DIHARMA VITHAL v. The words of section 20 of Act IX of 1871 must be construed strictly, and the manager of a Hindu family, as such, is not an agent "generally or specially authorised" by his coparceners for the purpose mentioned in that section. KUMARASAMI NADAN v. Where a suit was brought on the 11th September 1877 for money paid by the plaintiff on the 16th November 1868 to the use of the defendant, and the plaintiff based his claim upon two acknowledgments of the defendant in writing, of which the first was dated the 3rd November 1872,—Held that, to bring the case within section 20 (a) of the Limitation Act IX of 1871, the first acknowledgment should have been made before the expiration of the period prescribed by article 59 of schedule II of that Act, viz, three years from the period when the money was paid. *LUVAR CHUNILAL LOHHARAM v. 57. ——— “Promise”—Suit on bond executed for barred debt—Contract Act, s. 25, cl. 3.—The “promise” referred to in section 20 of Act IX of 1871 is a promise introduced by way of exception, in a suit founded on the original cause of action, and not a promise constituting a new contract, and extinguishing the original cause of action. Accordingly a suit is not barred which is brought on a bond executed, in consideration of a barred debt, after the expiration of the period prescribed for its recovery. *RAGHOJI BHIKAJI v. If it is to be used as an acknowledgment giving a fresh starting-point for computing a new period of limitation it must be made in writing and signed before the expiration of the period of limitation prescribed. If it is to be used as evidence of a new contract furnishing a basis for a new cause of action, it must contain a promise in writing duly signed as required by the Contract Act IX of 1872, section 25, clause 3, a bare statement of an account not being such a promise. *RAMJI v. Defendants pleaded that the mortgage was for Rs. 336-4, and redeemable only at the pleasure of the mortgagee. They also pleaded the Limitation Act. The original Court decreed redemption on payment of the amount stated by defendants. The lower Appellate Court reversed that decree, and dismissed the suit as barred. Held, reversing the decree of the lower Appellate Court, that an acknowledgment by the mortgagees of the mortgagor's title, sufficient to take the case out of the statute, was evidenced by their written answer in suit No. 238 of 1830, and by the answer in original suit No. 441 of 1861, as recited in the judgment in that suit, although the right to redeem and the amount of the mortgage were denied, and the acknowledgments were not made before those suits were brought. Vakil—Mortgage—Redemption.—The plaintiff's ancestor mortgaged a piece of land to the defendants' ancestor in 1797, and placed him in possession as agreed upon. Three years afterwards both the mortgagor and the mortgagee went out of the country. The mortgagor returning first resumed possession of the land, the mortgagee returning afterwards filed a suit in 1826 to recover possession under the terms of the mortgage, and obtaining a decree in his favour possession was restored to him by the Civil Court in 1827. When taking delivery of the possession from the Court, the mortgagee passed to the officers of the Court a receipt in which the mortgagee acknowledged having received possession of the mortgaged land as directed by the decree. The plaintiff, the representative of the original mortgagor, on the 4th of December 1880, sued the defendant, the representative of the original mortgagee, to redeem the land. Held that the suit was barred: the receipt incorporating the decree by reference did not operate as an acknowledgment of a mortgage subsisting in 1827, so as to give to the mortgagor a new period of limitation under section 19 of Act XV of 1877. This section intends a distinct acknowledgment of an existing liability or jural relation, not an acknowledgment without knowledge that the party is admitting anything. DHARMA VITHAL v GOVIND SADVALKAR . . . 1 *L. The instalments were not paid at the fixed dates, but part-payments of the amount of the decree were made by the judgment-debtor from time to time out of Court. On the 7th May 1879 he made a part-payment and an endorsement on the decree to the following effect: "I, G, judgment-debtor of this decree, have myself paid Rs —, and have endorsed this payment on the decree in my own handwriting." On the 5th September 1881 the decree-holder applied for execution of the whole decree. Held, by the Court, that the application was governed by the rule contained in section 19 of the Limitation Act, 1877, that the endorsement made by the judgment-debtor on the decree was an acknowledgment of liability under the decree, and that consequently the period of limitation for the application should be computed from the time such endorsement was made, and the application was therefore within time. *Ramhit Rai v. 91. ————— Execution of decree.—Contract superseding decree.—Adjustment of decree.—Certification.—Civil Procedure Code, s 258.—Acknowledgment in writing.—In the course of proceedings in execution of a decree dated the 14th June 1878 the parties, on the 11th January 1881, entered into an agreement, which was registered, and filed in the Court executing the decree. The deed recited that the decree was under execution, and that a mortgage-bond, dated the 1st December 1873, in favour of the judgment-debtor by a third party, had been attached and advertised for sale, and that the decree-holder and judgment-debtor had arranged the following method of satisfying the decree: that the judgment-debtor should make over the said bond to the decree-holder, in order that he might bring a suit thereon at his own expense against the obligor, and realise the amount secured by the bond, and out of the amount realised satisfy the decree under execution, with costs and future interest, together with all costs of the suit to be brought against the obligor, and together with a sum due by the judgment-debtor to the decree-holder under a note of hand for Rs 250 with interest; and other details which need not be stated. On the same day that this deed was executed, the decree-holder filed a petition in the Court, to the effect that under the agreement an arrangement had been made for payment of the judgment-debt, by which the judgment-debtor made over to him the bond advertised for sale, in order that the petitioner should file a suit under it at his own cost against the obligor, and realise the debt due under the decree in execution with interest and costs; and he prayed that the sale to be held that day might be postponed, and the application for execution struck off for the present, and the previous attachment maintained, and stated that, after realisation of the amount entered in the bond advertised for sale, an application for execution would be duly filed. On this the order was that the execution case be struck off the file, and the attachment maintained. On the 24th December 1883, the decree-holder applied for execution of the decree, alleging that the judgment-debtor had failed to make over the bond to him according to the agreement. The judgment-debtor objected that the decree was no longer capable of execution, having been superseded by the agreement of the 11th January 1881, and that the application was barred by limitation, the previous application being dated the 9th November 1880. Held that the application was within time, inasmuch as the acknowledgment in the deed of the 11th January 1881 came within the terms of section 19 of the Limitation Act, so as to originate a fresh period of limitation in respect of the execution of the decree. *Ghansham v. before Limitation Act, 1859—In a case under the Punjab Code before the Limitation Act of 1859 came into operation in Oudh it was held by the Privy Council that payments made by an agent upon account, and continued monthly for several months, ought to be regarded as tantamount at least to, if not correctly described as, a running account, and were therefore part-payments which amounted to "a partial satisfaction of demand," whereby the period of limitation was renewed. MUKKUM LALL v. The suit was instituted on the 19th July 1880 and came on for hearing on the 26th of July, when an objection was taken that all the parties who ought to sue were not on the record. On the application of the original plaintiffs, the names of the father and the third son were then added, and the plaintiffs were described as surviving partners of the deceased son. At the time the additional plaintiffs were made parties the suit was as regards them barred by limitation. Held that the suit, if all the plaintiffs had originally joined in suing, would not have been barred by section 20 of Act XV of 1877. The interest was regularly paid up to October 1871, and the present suit was brought in June 1874. —Held, on special appeal, by HOLLOWAY, J., that, assuming that the period of limitation was three years, and that it had run out both before action brought and before Act IX of 1871 came into operation, section 21 of that Act operated to save the action that at the period of that law coming into force there was still a contractual right existing, and that the right of action was restored by the payment of interest. VENCATACHELLA MUDALI v. The mortgage-debt was repayable on the expiry of the term. Plaintiff brought the suit out of which this appeal arose to recover the debt from the mortgagor. It was pleaded that the suit was barred by limitation, to which plaintiff replied that the receipt of rent was in fact a payment of interest, and that from the last payment of interest a new period of limitation arose. Held, that the case being governed by the provisions of Act IX of 1871, the payment of rent under an agreement entirely independent of the original mort-

The plaintiff was made a defendant in the suit along with the other partners. The alleged loans were made on the 2nd November 1881 and the 12th October 1882. The present suit was not filed until December 1885. The plaintiff, however, relied on an acknowledgment signed in his mother's account book by himself as partner in the firm on the 1st November 1883. The first defendant did not appear, or put in any defence. The second defendant pleaded limitation, and alleged that on the 2nd November 1880, prior to the date of the alleged loans, he had retired from the firm, and, therefore, was not liable. From the evidence given at the hearing it appeared that the business stopped, so far as buying and selling and fresh trading were concerned, at the end of the year 1881, and that subsequently to that date the partners were occupied solely in winding up the affairs of the firm. Held that, under the circumstances, the acknowledgment given by the plaintiff did not bind the other partners, and that the claim against them was barred. If, at the time the acknowledgment was given, the firm had been a going concern, the plaintiff's authority to make such an acknowledgment on behalf of the firm might have been presumed, but in this case the business had been closed, and the partnership entirely dissolved. The presumption, therefore, which arises in active partnership, no longer existed, and there was no evidence that the plaintiff had been expressly authorised to act for the other partners in making the acknowledgment. The meaning of the word "only" in section 21 of the Limitation Act XV of 1877 is that it must also be shown that the partner signing the acknowledgment had authority, express or implied, to do so. In a going mercantile concern such agency is to be presumed as an ordinary rule. PREMCI LUDHA v. DOSSA DOON-GERSEY I. L. R., 10 Bom., 358 joined as plaintiff—In 1864 a Hindu widow, having a minor son, sued, in her own name and on her own behalf, to recover certain immoveable property. The action was brought on a lease which expired in 1854. The defendant denied the lease, and contended that the suit should be dismissed, as it could not be maintained by the widow in her own name. In 1871, the son, who had in the meantime attained his majority in 1865, was made a co-plaintiff on his own application. Held that the suit was barred, inasmuch as it must, if maintainable, be deemed to have been instituted in 1871, when the son was made a co-plaintiff, the plaintiff previously to that time having been in the widow's own name and expressly on her own behalf. Held, also, that making the son a co-plaintiff in 1871 could not change the character of the suit as it had existed previous to that date so as to defeat the law of limitation. Held (by PINHEX, J.) that the minor was wrongly made a plaintiff in 1871. *Dhurum Dass Pandey v. 4. ———— Act IX of 1871, s. 1 & s. 22.—“Commenced,” “Instituted”—Added defendants—Suit for contribution or partnership account.—Cause of action—Quære—Whether the word “commenced” in section 22 of Act IX of 1871 is equivalent to the word “instituted” in section 1, and whether section 1 does not exclude from the operation of the Act all suits instituted before 1st April 1873 even as to defendants added after that date. Supposing the provisions of section 22 of Act IX of 1871 to apply to defendants added by amendment subsequently to 1st April 1873, in a suit instituted before that date, such added defendants will, under the terms of that section, and if that section does not apply, then under a general principle of law, be allowed to reckon the period of limitation on which they rely from the date at which they were added, but the periods of limitation provided by Act IX of 1871 do not necessarily apply to defendants so added. The plaintiff and three of the defendants, being four members of a partnership, consisting of seven persons, borrowed, in January and February 1865, on account of the partnership, from the Commercial, Finance, and Stock Exchange Corporation, two sums of Rs. 21,614 and Rs. 108,000, for which they gave their joint and several promissory notes, and shortly afterwards two of the partners retired, leaving the plaintiff and the four defendants alone constituting the firm. On 27th September 1865, the plaintiff and first defendant were sentenced to transportation for life, and on 15th April 1867 one of the other defendants became insolvent. On 25th April 1867, the liquidators of the Commercial, Finance, and Stock Exchange Corporation obtained a decree against the plaintiff and the three defendants who had joined in the making of the promissory notes for the amount due on their joint and several promissory notes and costs. In March 1868, the immoveable and moveable property of the plaintiff and the moveable property of the first defendant were sold in execution, and the whole of the proceeds of the plaintiff's immoveable property, together with the balance of the proceeds of the moveable properties of the plaintiff and first defendant, after satisfying thereout two prior decrees against them, were applied in part satisfaction of the decree of 25th April 1867, and the moneys so recovered were distributed to the shareholders by the liquidators, who, however, retained in their hands such portion as would have been payable in respect of the shares held by the judgment-debtors, and thus the whole decree was satisfied, leaving a balance of Rs25,212. The distribution of assets was made on 3rd April 1869, and the final dividend to shareholders other than the judgment-debtors paid on 3rd August 1869. The two defendants other than the first and the insolvent took the benefit of Act XXVIII of 1865, and obtained their discharge in April and December 1869. The plaintiff, therefore, sued the first defendant alone on 18th March 1873 as contributory for the satisfaction of the joint decree, but subsequently, by amendment made on the 6th February 1874, added the other defendants, and prayed for a decree that he was entitled to receive and appropriate the balance of Rs25,212, and that the first defendant should pay to the plaintiff the balance of the moneys paid by him in excess of his share in satisfying the decree of 25th April 1867, with interest, after deducting three fourths of the sum of Rs25,212, on that, if necessary, the partnership accounts might be taken, and the plaintiff be paid such sums as might be found to be due to him. Held 1st—That the period of limitation as to all the defendants was that provided by Act XIV of 1859, whether the suit was to be treated as one for a partnership account, or one for contribution of an ascertained sum. 2nd—That as to the first defendant the period of limitation was to be reckoned back from 18th March 1873. 3rd—That as to the added defendants the period of limitation was to be reckoned back from 6th February 1874. 4th—That the plaintiff's cause of action arose in April 1868, when his property was sold and applied in satisfaction of the joint decree of 25th April 1867, and not on the date of the decree itself. DAYAL JAIRAJ v. 5. — Substitution of heirs of decree-holder—In a suit to set aside the sale of certain lands which had been attached and sold by a decree-holder as the property of his debtor, plaintiff brought his action against the decree-holder and a party whom he supposed to be the auction-purchaser. Subsequently, finding that his supposition had been erroneous, he applied to have the real purchaser made a party, and the heirs of the decree-holder (who had died) substituted as defendants. Held that the suit against the heirs was not barred by lapse of time, as it was originally brought within the period of limitation against the decree-holder, of whose death the plaintiff first learnt the news from the return made to the summons. SREE KISHEN CROWDERY v. from A. K., promising to pay him Rs534 for it, that M. H. gave the hundi to his brother I. H. for the purpose of obtaining payment of the amount from M. R.; and that I. H. subsequently informed A. K. that the hundi had been lost. A. K. accordingly prayed that the defendants M. H. and M. R. might be decreed to pay him Rs534 with profit and interest. M. H. denied that he had purchased the hundi from A. K., who, he alleged, had given the hundi to I. H. for the purpose of getting it cashed. M. R. admitted that he had executed the hundi, and had given it to A. K. for Rs500. He further alleged that it had been presented to him for payment by I. H., to whom he had paid the amount with interest on 31st March 1871, and he produced the hundi with a receipt, purporting to be by I. H. indorsed on it. The trying Judge, after settlement of the issues, on 25th June 1874, added I. H. as a party defendant. I. H. alleged that A. K. had given him the hundi for the purpose of getting it cashed, denied the payment by M. R., alleged the indorsement on the hundi to be a forgery, and pleaded limitation. Held, with reference to section 22 of Act IX of 1871, that the law of limitation applicable to the suit, so far as I. H. was concerned, was schedule II, article 60 of that Act, and that, therefore, if the payment by M. R. to I. H. were not proved to have been made within three years before 25th June 1874, the day on which I. H. was added as a defendant, the suit as against him was barred. Dayal Jiraj v. On the 3rd May 1880, A. was made a defendant to such suit, Z being appointed guardian for the suit for him. Held that, inasmuch as such suit, as regards A., was beyond time, and as the only relief which could be granted therein to P. was the invalidation of the joint sale to Z and A., such suit, even admitting it was within time as regards Z. was not maintainable. HABIB-ULLAH v. of several persons was brought by the plaintiff against one of those persons only. After the institution of the suit, and after the period of limitation prescribed for a separate suit on the same cause of action against the other persons in possession had elapsed, these latter were added as defendants. Held that the suit must be dismissed as against the added defendants, on the ground that it was barred by limitation. OBHOY CHURN NUNDI v KRITAB-THAMOYI DOSSEE. 10. ————— Joinder of persons as plaintiffs after period of limitation for suit has expired.—Frame of suit—Parties—A., who with his three brothers composed a joint Hindu family, brought a suit in his own sole name to recover a joint debt. When the objection was taken to the form of the suit on the ground of the non-joinder of A.'s three brothers, it was too late to add them as co-plaintiffs, by reason of section 22 of the Limitation Act, XV of 1877, a suit on the debt being by that time time-barred. The three brothers at the hearing expressed their willingness that A. should sue alone. Held that such assent did not obviate the necessity of joining all the proper parties as co-plaintiffs, and that the suit, therefore, as framed, would not lie. Held, further, that A. would have been in no better position had he joined his three brothers as co-plaintiffs after the suit was, as regards them, time-barred; since such a suit would have been virtually a suit by himself alone, and therefore bad. Boydonth Bag v. The Court of first instance gave S. a decree for such moneys against N. and dismissed the suit against R. N. appealed from the decree of the Court of first instance, but S. did not appeal from it. The Appellate Court, at the first hearing of N.'s appeal, made R. a respondent, the period allowed by law for S. to have preferred an appeal having then expired, and eventually reversed the decree of the Court of first instance, dismissing the suit as against N. and giving S. a decree against R. Held that, although the Appellate Court was competent to make R. a party to the appeal, under sections 32 and 582 of Act X of 1877, yet it was not competent, with reference to section 22 of Act XV of 1877, to give S. a decree against R., the former not having appealed from the decree of the Court of first instance within the time allowed by law. RANJIT SINGH v. a suit against the Elgin Mills Company for recovery of the price of wood supplied up to 11th November 1879, the suit was instituted on 10th October 1882. In January 1883, the partners of the Elgin Mills Company were on their own application brought on the record as defendants. Held that section 22 of the Limitation Act refers to cases where a new defendant is substituted or added, and that when the partners of the Elgin Mills Company were brought on the record as defendants in January 1883, there was no institution or addition of new defendants, the defendants having been comprised in the designation of Elgin Mills Company, and at most what was done was to correct a misdescription. PRAGI LAL v. 3. ——— Breach of covenant for title—Continuing breach—Covenants for quiet possession and further assurance.—S L, by a deed of gift of 16th February 1847, granted and assured to S, his daughter, certain immoveable property. By a subsequent unregistered deed of gift of 15th July 1865, S L purported, in consideration of natural love and affection, to grant and convey the same property, the value of which exceeded ₹100, to B R, the husband of S, his heirs, executors, administrators, and assigns. The last-mentioned deed contained covenants on the part of S L, his heirs, executors, and administrators, with B R, his heirs, executors, administrators, and assigns, for title to "the hereditaments and premises hereinbefore expressed to be hereby granted and assured unto and to the use of the said B R, his heirs, executors, administrators, and assigns." S died in the lifetime of B R, who in 1867 mortgaged the premises comprised in the deed of 15th July 1865, and died in 1868. In 1870 the mortgagee sold the premises by auction, under the power of sale contained in the mortgage-deed, the plaintiff became the purchaser, and the mortgage, on 24th March 1871, executed to him a conveyance of the premises, which were then in the possession of the surviving members of the family of B R and S. The plaintiff having failed in a suit in ejectment against the parties in possession, who relied on the prior gift to S, sued the representatives of S L for damages for breach of the covenants for title contained in the unregistered deed of 15th July 1865. Held that the breach of the grantor's covenant, so far as related to his present right to convey, took place on the day the conveyance to the covenantee was executed, viz, 15th July 1865, and, consequently, a suit in respect of such breach was barred; but the covenant for quiet possession, admitting of a continuing breach, was not barred so long as the breach continued, and that of the covenant for further assurance there had been no breach at all, as such covenant would be broken only by refusal on the part of the covenantor or his representatives to execute a further assurance when required so to do by the covenantee or his representatives. RAJU BALU v KRISHNARAV RAMCHANDRA

4. ————— Easement—Light and air.

—Apertures.—Enjoyment as of right.—The enjoyment by the plaintiff of light and air through apertures in the wall of his house, when it is open and manifest, not furtive or invisible, and when it is not had in such wise as to involve the admission of any obstructive right in the owner of the servient tenement, is an enjoyment "as of right" within the meaning of section 26 of Act XV of 1877. 7. ————— Easement.—Prescription—User.—Fishery, Right to.—Limitation Act, 1877, s. 3.—The word "easement," as used in the Limitation Act, 1877, has, by force of the interpretation clause (section 3), a very much more extensive meaning than the word bears in the English law, for it includes any right not arising from contract by which one person is entitled to remove and appropriate for his own profit any part of the soil belonging to another, or anything growing, or attached to, or subsisting upon the land of another. An easement, therefore, under the Indian law, embraces what in English law is called a profit à prendre,—that is to say, a right to enjoy a profit out of the land of another. A prescriptive right of fishery is an "easement" as defined by section 3 of the Act, and may be claimed by any one who can prove a "user" of it,—that is to say, that he has of right claimed and enjoyed it without interruption for a period of twenty years, although he does not allege, and cannot prove, that he is, or was, in the possession, enjoyment, or occupation of any dominant tenement CHUNDEE CHURN ROY v. [I. L. R., 3 Calc., 276; 1 C. L. R., 592]

9. ————— Dispossession.—Fishery.—

Custom.—Suit to restrain fishing in certain bhils.—In a suit to restrain the defendants from fishing in certain bhils, which admittedly belonged to the plaintiff's zemindari, it appeared that the plaintiff had let out some of the bhils to jadaradars who had sued the defendants for the price of fish taken by them from the bhils, and that the suit had been dismissed, on the ground that the defendants, in common with other inhabitants of the villages in the zemindari, had acquired a prescriptive right to fish in the bhils. The defendants contended that they had been in possession of the bhils for more than twelve years, and that they had a prescriptive right to fish therein, under a custom according to which all the inhabitants of the zemindari had the right of fishing. Held that the mere fact that the defendants had trespassed and had misappropriated fish did not amount to a dispossession of the plaintiff, and that the suit was not barred by limitation Parbatty Nath Roy Chowdhry v. Mudho Paroe, I. L. R., 3 Calc., 276, distinguished. Held, also, that no prescriptive right of fishery had been acquired under section 26 of the Limitation Act, and that the custom alleged could not, on the ground that it was unreasonable, be treated as valid Lord Rivers v. Adams, L. R., 3 Ex. D., 361, followed. LUTCHMEEPUR SINGH v. SADAULLA NUSHYO

10. ————— Easement.—Right of way.

—Prescription—Effect of illustrations.—On the 6th of April 1878, the plaintiffs sued for obstructing a right of way for boats in the rainy season. The defendants admitted the obstruction, but denied the right of way. The plaintiffs proved that the right was peaceably and openly enjoyed, and actually used by them, claiming title thereto as an easement and as of right, without interruption, from before 1855 down to November 1875, since when no actual user of the way by the plaintiffs had taken place. The lower Appellate Court dismissed the suit, on the ground that the plaintiffs had made no actual use of the way within two years previous to the institution of the suit. Held, reversing the decision of the Court below, that, notwithstanding Act XV of 1877, section 26, illustration (b), actual user within two years previous to the institution of the suit is not necessary, in order that the right claimed may be acquired under Act XV of 1877, section 26. Illustrations in Acts of the Legislature ought never to be allowed to control the plain meaning of the section to which they are appended, especially when the effect would be to curtail a right which the section in its ordinary sense would confer. KOTLASH CHUNDER GHOSE v. 12. ———— Easement—Riparian proprietors—Obstruction to flow of drainage water—Prescription—Right of action—Special damage—Held that the right of a superior riparian proprietor to have the drainage water from his lands permitted to flow off in the usual course is not an easement within the meaning of Act IX of 1871. Held, further, that the defendants, lower riparian proprietors, who had obstructed such a right of the plaintiff by blocking up the stream, could only justify their act if they had acquired an easement to do it, that then act was actionable whether special damage had or had not accrued, and that so long as the obstruction was continued there was a continual cause of action from day to day. Under the present Limitation Act the servant must be a household servant to come within article 7.

6. ——— Suit by one servant against another.—Clause 2, section 1, applies only to suits for wages brought by a servant against the person liable as the master in whose service he had been employed, and the section does not apply to a suit brought by one Government servant against another for the recovery of a sum of public money received by the defendant as a disbursement on account of the wages of the plaintiff, to whom the defendant was legally bound to pay it over. SIYA RAMA PILAI v. to transfer his share, is bound to offer the transfer of it to his co-sharers before transferring it to a stranger, the right of pre-emption, in the case of a conditional sale, under which possession is not transferred, arises, not when such sale is made, but when the conditional sale becomes absolute. Under article 10, schedule II of Act XV of 1877, the period of limitation runs from the date physical possession is taken of the whole of the property sold. JAIKARAN RAI v. GANGA DHARI RAI . . . 4. ——— Suit for pre-emption.—Foreclosure by conditional vendee.—The defendant, a conditional vendee, foreclosed the mortgage, and subsequently sued the auction-purchaser of the rights of the conditional vendor for possession, and obtained a decree, in execution of which he obtained possession. Held that the suit of the plaintiff who claimed pre-emption was not barred by limitation, as it was instituted within one year from the date on which the vendee, whose purchase was sought to be set aside, obtained actual possession of the property to which his title, originally conditional, had become absolute. RADHEY PANDEY v. NUND KOMAR PANDEY . . . [2 Agra, Pt. II, 164

5. ——— Pre-emption.—Possession after sale in execution of decree of conditional sale.—In 1861 B. purchased conditionally certain immoveable property, which in 1865 was attached in execution of a decree. In 1874, the conditional sale having been foreclosed, B. obtained a decree for possession of such property. In February 1875 he obtained mutation of names in respect of such property. In November 1875, arrangements having been made by him to satisfy the decree in execution of which such property had been attached, the attachment was removed. In December 1875 he acknowledged having received possession of such property in execution of his decree. K. sued him in November 1876 to enforce his right of pre-emption in respect of such property. Held that limitation ran from the date when B. obtained such possession of the status of his conditional vendor as entitled him to mutation of names and to the exercise of the rights of an owner, and that the suit was barred by limitation. 6. ——— Mortgage.—Conditional sale.—Time from which period begins to run.—A conditional vendee, who was in possession, applied under Regulation XVII of 1806 to have the conditional sale made absolute. The year of grace expired in July 1878. In November 1871 the conditional vendee sued for possession of the property by virtue of the conditional sale having become absolute. He obtained a decree, in execution of which he obtained, on the 30th April 1879, formal possession of the property according to law. On the 23rd March 1880 a suit was brought against him to enforce a right of pre-emption in respect of the property. Held that the period of limitation for such suit ran, not from

8. ———— Suit for pre-emption.—Purchase by mortgagee in possession—When a mortgagee in possession purchased the property mortgaged,—Held that his possession as proprietor commenced from the date of purchase, and limitation would run from the date of the purchase against a claimant by right of pre-emption and not from the date he got his name recorded in the revenue record as proprietor. MAHOMED BANAZER v. GUNGA RAM 3 Agra, 260

9. ———— Pre-emption, Suit for.—Held, in a suit for pre-emption, where the property had been purchased by the mortgagee in possession, that the purchaser obtained physical possession of the property under the sale, not from the date of the sale-deed, but when the contract of sale became completed. Held, therefore, that the contract of sale having become completed on the payment of the purchase-money, the suit, being brought within one year from the date of such payment, was within time. LACHEMI NARAIN LAL v. 10. ———— Sale by mortgagor of usufructuary mortgage.—Possession of vendee.—Cause of action—When landed property sold by a mortgagor is at the time of sale in the usufructuary possession of the mortgagee, the vendee must be held to have taken possession in the sense of the limitation law at the time when he acquired possession of that which was the subject of sale, viz., the rights of the vendor, and of these he acquired full possession as soon as they had been conveyed to him by a valid transfer. The limitation of one year provided by clause 1, section 1 of Act XIV of 1859, should be computed from the date of such possession and not from the date of actual assumption of possession by the vendee after redemption of the property from the mortgagor. GANESHEE LALL v. 11. ———— Suit for pre-emption—Cause of action—In a suit for pre-emption of a share it appeared that the share had been first mortgaged to certain persons and afterwards sold to the defendant, who brought a suit for redemption and obtained a decree. Held that the period of limitation of the suit should be calculated from the date of the sale, and not from the date of the redemption of mortgage. RUSTUM SINGH v. 13. ———— Suit for pre-emption.—Cause of action.—Mutation of names.—Sale, Date of—In a suit to enforce the right of pre-emption on a sale of a share of a zemindari estate, the period of limitation should be computed from the date of the sale, not from the date of the mutation of names, the purchaser having acquired by his purchase such possession as the nature of the property sold admits of. Mutation of names, although it may be regarded as evidence that a transfer has been made, is not essential to give validity to the transfer. OMRAO KHAN v. 14. ———— Suit for pre-emption—Possession—On the 19th December 1876, A. gave T. a mortgage of his share in a certain village. The terms of the mortgage were that A. should remain in possession of his share and pay the interest on the mortgage money annually to the mortgagee, who, in the event of default in payment of the interest, was empowered to sue for actual possession of the share. On the 19th May 1877, T.'s name was substituted for that of A. in the proprietary registers in respect of the share. On the 8th February 1878, G. sued T. and A. to enforce his right of pre-emption in respect of the share, alleging that his cause of action arose on the 19th May 1877, and that A., notwithstanding the mutation of names, was still in possession. T. alleged that he had been in possession since the execution and registration of the deed of mortgage. Held that whether T. had been in plenary possession of the share since the date of the deed, or whether he had had only such constructive or partial possession of it as was involved in the receipt of interest on the mortgage money, the plaintiff was equally bound to have sued within a year from the date of the deed, and was not entitled to reckon the year from the date on which the possession by the mortgagee of the share was recognised by the revenue department, and the suit was therefore barred by article 10, schedule II, of Act XV of 1877. GULAB SINGH v. 15. ———— Suit to enforce pre-emption of share of undivided mahal—Physical possession—A share in an undivided zemindari mahal is not susceptible of "physical possession" in the sense of art 10, schedule II of Act XV of 1877. Limitation, therefore, in a suit to enforce a right of pre-emption

7. ———— Suit to avoid sale in execution of decree of Small Cause Court passed without jurisdiction—A obtained a money-decree upon a bond in a Small Cause Court against B, by which it was declared that certain landed property hypothecated by the bond was to be primarily liable for the debt. The decree was transferred to the Court of the Sudder Ameen of the same district, the property was put up for sale, and it was purchased by C. Prior to sale, B alienated the property to D, who, after sale, preferred his claim to it under section 246 of Act VIII of 1859, which was disallowed. More than a year after this D brought this suit against C to recover possession. In special appeal it was held that the decree of the Small Cause Court being, on the face of it, without jurisdiction, the suit was not

The Court, however, refused to stay the sale, and the lands were sold in execution. More than a year from the date of the Court's refusal to stay the sale, C sued to establish his right to the lands. Held that the suit was not barred by limitation under section 246, Act VIII of 1859, since the refusal of the Court to postpone the sale was not an order under that section, but was a mere refusal to order a post-the claim which the defendant had successfully made under section 246 of the Civil Procedure Code in execution of a decree obtained against the plaintiff. The order of the Court directed the release of the property from attachment. The present suit was brought more than one year from the date of the order. Held, per SCOTLAND, C. J., BITTLESTON and COLLETT, J.J. (INNES, J. doubting), that the plaintiff was a party against whom the order was "given" within the meaning of the section, and that the suit was barred by the section. NETTETOM PERENGARY-PROM alias PANISHERRY DAMODHEN NAMBUDEY v. The investigation of such claim which followed under section 246 of Act VIII of 1859 took place as between B., the decree-holder, and M., N., the judgment-debtor, not being a party to it except in name. M.'s objection was allowed in May 1871, but no suit was brought either by B. or N. to establish N.'s right to such property. H. subsequently obtained a decree against N. in 1877, and in execution thereof caused such property to be attached. M. objected to the attachment and his objection was allowed in April 1878. In March 1879 H. sued M. for a declaration that a moiety of such property belonged to N., and to have the order removing the attachment cancelled. Held that N.'s right to a moiety of such property was not extinguished because he had not sued to establish it within one year of the making of the order of May 1871 in the execution proceedings of B., and H. was competent to sue to establish such right. MANNU LAL v. 27. ———— Claim by intervenors — Share of attached property.—When intervenors claim a share of attached property, the Court should define the respective shares of the debtor and the intervenors, and sell the debtor's definite share only. If the Court omits to do so, and sells the undefined rights and interests, there is no decision under section 246, Act VIII of 1859, of which the purchaser, by lying in wait without possession for one year, can take advantage. *MONOHUE KHAN v. 28. ———— Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), ss. 280, 283 —Mortgagee, Suit by, against mortgagor and third party who has intervened and obtained an order under s. 288, Civil Procedure Code —Execution of decree.—Article 11, schedule II of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877), refers only to suits contemplated by section 283 of the Civil Procedure Code. Where, therefore, a mortgagee having obtained a decree on his mortgage, and caused the property to be attached, was successfully opposed by a third party who intervened in his attempt to have the property sold, and an order was passed under section 280 of the Code of Civil Procedure releasing the property from attachment, and where the mortgagee, more than a year after the date of that order, instituted a suit against such third party and his mortgagor, to have his lien over the mortgaged property declared, and to bring it to sale in execution of his decree, alleging that the title set up by such third party was a fraudulent one, collusively created between the mortgagor and such third party with a view to deprive him of his rights, and asking to have the order passed under section 280 set aside,—Held that the suit was not barred by limitation under the provisions of article 11, schedule II of the Limitation Act. The right that was in litigation in the proceeding under section 280 was the right to attach and sell the property in dispute in execution of the decree which the plaintiff had obtained against the mortgagor, and so far as that right was concerned the present suit was barred, but so far as the other relief claimed in the present suit went, that article did not apply, and the suit was not barred. *BUKSHI RAM PERGASH LAL v. of 1859 provides for an adjudication of proprietary right on the basis of possession, but the matter is not "res judicata" as to matters in dispute between decree-holder and claimant, unless the party against whom an order is passed under section 246 of Act VIII of 1859 fails to bring a regular suit to establish his right. In the case mentioned in the order of reference as apparently conflicting with the above view there had been no adjudication on the basis of possession by the Court passing an order under section 246 of Act VIII of 1859, and the defendant in possession was therefore at liberty to assert his proprietary title against the lien set up by plaintiff under the said order, passed without jurisdiction on the miscellaneous side. *BADRI PRASAD v. 30. ———— Suit to establish right.—B. caused a certain dwelling-house to be attached in execution of a decree held by him against M. as the property of M. J. preferred a claim to the property which was disallowed by an order made under section 246 of Act VIII of 1859. Two days after the date of such order M. satisfied B.'s decree. More than a year after the date of such order J. sued B. and M. to establish her proprietary right to the dwelling-house, alleging that M. had fraudulently mortgaged it to B. Held, following the Full Bench ruling in Badri Prasad v. Muhammad Yusuf, I. L. R., 1 All., 382, that J., having failed to prove her right within the time allowed by law, was precluded from asserting it by the order made under section 246 of Act VIII of 1859, and that whether or not the decree was satisfied after the order was made, the effect of the order was the same. *JEONI v. Her claim was rejected in 1866, but she remained in possession. Held, a suit by B. to establish her title to the land was not barred by the limitation provided by section 246, though brought more than a year after her claim was refused, since she was at the time in possession and had remained afterwards in possession of the property. *LAKHI PRYA DEBI v. 35. ———— Order rejecting claim to attached property.—Certain property having been attached in execution of a decree, the plaintiff preferred a claim to it as being his exclusive property; but the Court in which the claim was made was of opinion that the plaintiff and the judgment-debtor were in joint possession, and it made an order directing that on the plaintiff's claim being notified the sale should proceed. More than a year afterwards the plaintiff filed a suit to establish his title and alleged exclusive possession. Held, distinguishing the cases of Bryjo Kishore Nag v. Ram Dyal Bhudra, 21 W. 37. ———— Right of one decree-holder against another.—Suit for declaration of prior lien.—Two several judgment-creditors attached certain property, which was released upon the claim of a third party, under section 246 of Act VIII of 1859. One of them sued the successful claimant, and obtained a decree declaring the property in dispute to belong to the judgment-debtor, and thereupon caused the property to be sold, and became the purchaser thereof. Thereupon an assignee of the other judgment-creditor sued him, alleging an earlier lien, and praying a sale in satisfaction thereof. The defence set up was that, as the plaintiff did not come into Court to set aside the order under section 246 within a year from the date thereof, he was barred from bringing the present suit. Held that the omission to bring a separate suit for that purpose did not bar him from obtaining a declaration of his prior lien. CHINTAMANI SEN v. 38. ———— Possession—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, s. 246.—In a suit for redemption of an itti by an alleged purchaser of the same, and for recovery of land on which he had purchased a kanam, the defence was that the purchase was made by the father of the first defendant, and that the plaintiff was constructively a mere trustee. The Munsif decreed for the plaintiff, and the Principal Sudder Ameen reversed his decree because the suit was not brought within a year of a release of the property from attachment under a claim of the defendants, which attachment was made in execution of two decrees for money against the present plaintiff. It appeared that in the proceedings had for releasing the property from attachment, no notice was issued to the judgment-debtor (present plaintiff). Held that the decision of the Principal Sudder Ameen was wrong. In the present case, the claimants in possession were not so according to any of the modes of derivation which section 246 enumerates as authorising the continuance of the possession and the dismissal of the claim. The possession was in the claimants, and there was nothing in the rights of the judgment-debtor which could make such possession his possession. This being so, even assuming that he was a party to the order made, such order could not be said to be against him, because his claim was one which could not have been determined by any order made under section 246. The order so made was perfectly consistent with his present condition. Netnetom Perengaryprom v. 41. ———— Suit after order rejecting claim to property attached in execution of decree—In execution of a decree against M. the plaintiff attached and advertised for sale certain property in mouzah A. At that time there were pending proceedings in execution of two other decrees obtained against M. by the first and second defendants respectively. These two decrees were obtained on a bond executed by M., by which an eight annas share of mouzah A. was hypothecated as collateral security; and in execution of those decrees the defendants brought to sale, and themselves purchased, not an eight annas share only but the whole of mouzah A., and were allowed by the Court to set off the purchase-money against the amounts due to them under their decrees. At the same time the plaintiff's execution case was struck off on 30th June 1880. In a suit brought by the plaintiff under section 295 of the Civil Procedure Code for his share of the sale proceeds of mouzah A., in which the plaintiff alleged fraud on the part of the defendants in selling the whole mouzah under their decrees, of which he only became aware in July 1882, from which time he dated his cause of action, the defendants denied the fraud and contended that the suit should have been brought within a year of the order of the 30th June 1880. Held that the existence of the order of the 30th June 1880 was not inconsistent with the plaintiff's right, and the suit was therefore not barred as not having been brought within one year of that order. TAPONDI HORDANUND BHARATI v. 9. ————— Suit to set aside sale.—Purchase of decree by joint debtor.—M. sold to S. her rights under a decree for mesne profits which she had obtained against A. and two other persons, and S. thereupon proceeded to execute the decree against A.'s property, and that property was sold in execution of the decree obtained by S. and was purchased by B., but in a suit brought by A. for a declaration that S. was not the real purchaser, the Court found that S. had in fact purchased the decree benami for A.'s two joint debtors, and that consequently he had no right to execute it against the property of A.. In a suit brought by A. against B. in 1874 for the purpose of recovering the property,—Held that the purchase of the benefit of the decree by A.'s joint debtors, although it had the legal effect of satisfying the judgment-debt, did not affect the decree itself. The decree was not void, but only voidable, and the sale under it binding on A.. The suit, therefore, was in effect a suit to set aside a sale under a decree within the meaning of clause 14 of schedule II of Act IX of 1871, and, inasmuch as it was not brought within one year from the date of the sale, was barred. ABUL MUNSOOR v. 10. ————— Suit to set aside sale in execution.—Party to suit.—After the death of the widow of K., the plaintiff sued as the heir of K. to recover certain immoveable property alleged to have been granted to the widow for life by K. for her maintenance. It appeared that in execution of a decree obtained against the plaintiff in a previous suit in which upon the widow's death he was sued as representing the estate of the widow, the property in question was sold notwithstanding objection taken by the present plaintiff that the property was that of K.. The plaintiff's suit was filed more than a year after the execution sale, and it was objected that it was therefore barred. Held that it was not necessary that the suit should have been filed within one year from the date of the execution sale, because (1), the setting aside the execution sale was only collateral to the main object of the suit, and (2), the present plaintiff was not a party in her own character to the suit in execution of the decree in which the property was sold. KALI MOHUN CHUCKERBUTTY v. 14. ———— Suit for possession and declaration of right by setting aside sale—The plaintiffs sued for possession of, and a declaration of their right to, a share of a zemindari, and to set aside a collusive decree which defendant No. 1 obtained on the 13th September 1867 against the defendants Nos. 2, 3, and 4, and to set aside the sale which was held on the 16th December 1868 in execution of that decree. There was a further prayer that the names of the plaintiffs might be substituted for that of the defendant No. 1 on the Collectorate towji. Held that the suit, although a portion of the prayer was for possession and declaration of right, was substantially to set aside the sale of 16th December 1868, in virtue of which, unless got rid of, the purchaser-defendant's title must prevail over that of the plaintiffs. Accordingly the suit came within the purview of Act XIV of 1859, section 1, clause 3, and, not having been brought within one year from the date of the sale, was barred. *RAM KANTH CHOWDERY v. The lower Court held that C's possession must be taken to have been derived from B, till the contrary was proved, but that the suit was barred by article 12 of schedule II of the Limitation Act, 1877, because it had not been brought within one year from the date of the sale in 1876. Held that the suit was not barred by limitation. *NILAKANDAN v. LIMITATION ACT, 1877, art. 12—continued.

November 1877, a certain piece of land described in the proclamation of sale as "Survey No 294, Pot No 3, measuring 24½ gunthas," the boundaries of which were also set forth, was sold by auction in execution of a decree obtained by the first defendant against defendants Nos. 2, 3 and 4, and purchased by the plaintiff. The boundaries, as stated, really included another piece of land, Survey No 294, Pot No. 4, which comprised 3 acres 2½ gunthas. This latter piece of land was put up for sale on the following day, and was purchased by defendant No 5. On 28th November 1877, the plaintiff applied to the Court to have the sale set aside and his money returned, unless he was put in possession of all the land included in the boundaries mentioned in the proclamation; but his application was refused, and the sale was confirmed on 20th July 1878. The plaintiff on the 3rd July 1881 brought the present suit, praying that he might be put into possession of the land as described in the certificate of sale, which was identical with the proclamation, and included Pot No. 4, or that the first defendant might be ordered to pay him the amount of his purchase-money with interest. Both the lower Courts rejected the plaintiff's claim. On appeal to the High Court,—Held, confirming the decree of the Court below, that the suit, regarded as one to set aside the sale, was barred by Act XV of 1877, schedule II, article 12, clause (a). *MAHOMED SAYAD PHAKI v. In March 1880, this decree was reversed by the Court of last appeal. In February 1881, M. sued to set aside the sales of his property in execution of the decree and for possession of the property. Held that, both under No. 14, schedule II of the Limitation Act, 1871, and No. 12, schedule II of the Limitation Act, 1877, the suit was barred by limitation. *PARSHADI LAL v. 26. ———— Suit to set aside sale held in execution of decree.—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), ss 311, 312.—If on an application for execution the Court erroneously holds that the application is not barred and orders a sale, the order, though erroneous and liable to be set aside in the way prescribed by the procedure law, is not a nullity, but remains in full force until set aside, and a sale held in pursuance of such order is, until set aside, a valid sale: a suit to set aside such a sale is governed by article 12, clause (a) of schedule II of Act XV of 1877. The word "disallowed" in section 312 of the Civil Procedure Code has no reference to an order passed on an appeal, but refers to the disallowance of the objection by the Court before which the proceedings under section 311 are taken. On the 15th June 1878, a judgment-debtor filed a petition objecting to execution of a decree against him proceeding on the ground that the decree was barred. On the 18th November 1878, that objection was overruled and certain of his property sold. Against the order overruling his objection the judgment-debtor appealed, and ultimately, on the 13th January 1880, the order was set aside by the High Court, and the decree was held to have been barred. Pending these proceedings the judgment-debtor also, on the 17th December 1878, applied, under the provisions of section 311 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), to set aside the sale on the ground of material irregularity, but that application was ultimately rejected on the 17th May 1879, and the sale was confirmed on the 21st May 1879. On the 2nd April 1880, the judgment-debtor applied to set aside the sale on the ground that the decree, in execution of which it had taken place, had been held to be barred, and though an order setting aside the sale was made by the original Court, it was subsequently set aside by the High Court on the 13th April 1881, as having been made without jurisdiction. The judgment-debtor now brought a suit on the 4th January 1882 upon the same grounds to set aside the sale and recover possession. Held that the suit was barred. MAHOMED HOSSEIN v. Execution proceedings against manager, Suit to set aside.—In 1866, V. (the father of the plaintiff) sued his brother H and G. (one of the two sons of H. and defendant No. 1) to establish his right to a third share of the management of certain lands granted for the maintenance of a Hindu temple. In that suit V. obtained a decree that he should have the exclusive management every third year, but was ordered to pay costs. To enforce payment of these costs, H. in execution of the decree attached the third share of V. in the management of the land. The share was accordingly sold by auction in January 1870 to a Marwadi, who afterwards, in May 1870, re-sold it to the appellant T. (another son of H and defendant No. 2). V. died in 1876. In 1879 the plaintiff sued G. and the appellant (the two sons of H) for his share of the management. It was contended for the defence that as the execution sale of January 1870 was not set aside within a year, the right to treat it as void by the plaintiff was barred by article 12 of schedule II of Act XV of 1877. Quare,—Whether V. could have got himself reinstated in the management without bringing a suit to set aside the sale within a year from the date of the order confirming it. TRIMBAK BAWA v. 6. ———— Suit to recover properties by the rightful heir of deceased more than one year after grant of certificate of heirship to the rival claimant—Effect of such a certificate.—Practice.—In 1877 the plaintiff applied for a certificate of heirship to one T., her husband's uncle, who had died in 1876. The defendant opposed the application, and alleged that T. had left a will in her favour. On the 28th July 1877, the District Judge made an order rejecting the plaintiff's application, and granting a certificate to the defendant. In 1879 the plaintiff brought the present suit, claiming to be entitled to the property left by T. It was contended (inter alia) for the defendant that the plaintiff's suit was barred, she having failed to apply to set aside the order granting the certificate to defendant within one year from the date of that order. The Court of first instance overruled the objection, and awarded plaintiff most of her claim. The defendant appealed, and the lower Appellate Court reversed the lower Court's decree, holding the suit barred. On appeal to the High Court,—Held, restoring the decree of the Court of first instance, that the plaintiff's suit was not barred. A certificate of heirship confers only the right of management of the property of the deceased, and is intended to give security to third persons in dealing with the person who claims to be the heir. Where the right of the person, to whom the certificate is granted to be the heir of the deceased, is in controversy, there is no necessity to have the order granting him the certificate set aside; and the question, whether the suit to determine the right claimed is in time, is to be determined by the sections of the Limitation Act relating to suits for the possession of property. *BAI KASHI v. The defendants, who held five separate decrees against some of the persons against whom the plaintiffs' decree was obtained, applied to have the amount in Court rateably distributed; and in accordance with an order of the Court, dated 13th September 1880, this was done, the proceeds being distributed in proportion to the amounts of the decrees. In a suit brought on 24th August 1883 against 14 defendants, on the allegation that the plaintiffs were entitled to the whole of the proceeds, or in the alternative for distribution on a different principle,—Held, the suit was one to set aside the order, and not having been brought within one year from the date of the order was barred by limitation under article 13, schedule II of Act XV of 1877. Ram Kishen v. 14. ————— Mortgage.—Sale by first mortgagee.—Arrears of rent.—Lien.—Claim by puisne mortgagee on proceeds of sale.—Certain land was mortgaged to A. with possession to secure the repayment of a loan of Rs2,000 and interest. It was stipulated in the deed that the interest on the debt should be paid out of the profits, and the balance paid to the mortgagors. By an agreement subsequently made, it was arranged that the mortgagors should remain in possession and pay rent to A. A. obtained a decree for Rs2,000 and arrears of rent and costs and for the sale of the land in satisfaction of the amount decreed. The land was sold for Rs2,855 in March 1881. In May 1881 B., a puisne mortgagee, applied to the Court for payment to him of Rs500 of this sum, alleging that A. was entitled only to Rs2,000 and Rs280 costs, but not to arrears of rent, in preference to his claim as second mortgagee. The claim of B. was rejected on the 27th May 1881 and the whole amount paid out to A. In February 1882 B. (who had filed a suit on the 23rd March 1881) obtained a decree upon his mortgage. On the 23rd May 1884 B. sued to recover Rs510 paid to A. on account of rent on the 27th May 1881. Held, on second appeal, that the suit was not barred by article 13 of the Limitation Act, neither that article nor article 12 being applicable to the case, that B. was entitled to recover the sum claimed. SIVARAMA v. being attached under a decree obtained before Act VIII of 1859, a third party claimed to be entitled as against the judgment-creditor under a bill of sale. The Judge enquired into his claim, found that the assignment was fraudulent, and ordered that the property should be sold under the decree.—Held that the order of the Judge was a summary decision of a Civil Court within section 1, clause 5, and that a suit by the claimant for the recovery of the property instituted after the expiration of a year from the date of the order was barred by that clause. KHYBUT ALLY v. 17. ——— Suit to have property declared not liable to seizure in execution of a decree.—The plaintiff sued to obtain a decree declaring that the ancestral land possessed by the family of the plaintiff was not liable to seizure and sale in satisfaction of an ex-parte decree obtained by the defendant in a suit against the yejaman of the plaintiff's family, on the ground that the decree had been obtained collusively and fraudulently for a debt alleged to have been contracted for the benefit of the family. The decree against the yejaman was passed on the 22nd June 1857, and upon attachment of the family property the plaintiffs made a claim, under section 246 of the Civil Procedure Code, alleging their independent right to the property and resisting a sale. The claim was disallowed on the 18th October 1861, and an appeal from that decision was dismissed on the 15th November 1861. The present suit was instituted on the 2nd February 1864. Held that this was not a suit to which the limitation provided by section 246 of the Civil Code, or by clause 5, section 1 of Act XIV of 1859, was applicable, and that the suit was not barred. RAMANADA BUTT v. The plaintiff's claim was disallowed, but the defendant's claim was allowed. The plaintiff, after the lapse of a year from the date of the order disallowing his claim, sued to recover possession of the said property. The defence was, that the suit was barred by lapse of time under clause 5, section 1, Act XIV of 1859. Held that clause 5, section 1, Act XIV of 1859, did not apply to such a suit. DURGARAM ROY v. (who was A's general agent) in the name of H. on the permission of the plaintiff for the purpose of paying off the debts of A. The Principal Sudder Ameen decreed the case against M. with costs, and released A. from K's claim. In appeal to the Sudder Court the plaintiff obtained a decree with interest and costs against

A. as well as against M. In execution K. prayed on 2nd December 1858 for the attachment and sale of certain estates. A notice having been ordered to issue K. represented that the judgment-debtor was attempting to alienate her estates, and prayed that orders might be passed to prevent alienation of the estates mentioned in her application for execution. A process of attachment was issued accordingly on 28th March 1859, but without security being first demanded as prescribed in Regulation VIII of 1825, section 7. In September 1861 one B. A., who had objected to the attachment, petitioned the Judge and obtained an order dated 14th September 1861, releasing the attached properties as being his in virtue of a hiba-nama from A., and in his possession. From this order K. appealed, but the appeal was struck off on 29th November 1862. On review the first order was upheld, but it was declared that this would not be a bar to a regular suit. She accordingly sued for a reversal of the Judge's order for the cancellation of the deed of gift as being collusive and for the sale of the property in question as that of her judgment-debtor A. The suit was decreed and an appeal preferred to the High Court. Held that the order of 28th March 1859 was wrong in ordering attachment without first requiring security; but the irregularity did not affect the jurisdiction of the Court or render the attachment void. Held, also, that the plaintiff had a right of appeal from the order of 14th September 1861, that the appeal was wrongly rejected on 29th November 1862, and it saved her from the operation of the law of limitation while it was pending, and as she brought her suit within a year from that time, she was within the period prescribed by Act XIV of 1859, section 1, clause 5. KHODAJAMNISSA v. family property in the possession of the plaintiff and defendants, part of the property was attached at the instance of one of the defendants in 1852 and the remainder of the property in 1864. Nothing was done with regard to the first attachment, but in 1865 a petition was presented by the plaintiff praying for the removal of the attachments. The petition was rejected and the plaintiff brought this suit within one year from the date of the rejection of his petition. The plaintiff appeared and asked the Court to release the property from attachment, but the Court refused his application, under section 246, Act VIII of 1859, and ordered the property to be sold. Held that a suit to establish the plaintiff's right to such property was not a suit to set aside a summary order within Act IX of 1871, schedule II, clause 15. KOYLASH CHUNDER PAUL CHOWDHRY v. 24. ———— Civil Procedure Codes, Act VIII of 1859, s. 246, and Act X of 1877, ss. 280, 281, and 282—V. (defendant No. 1) obtained a decree against W. and, in execution thereof, attached certain immovable property as belonging to his judgment-debtor. The plaintiffs, who were W.'s five brothers, thereupon applied for the removal of the attachment under section 246 of the Civil Procedure Code (VIII of 1859), but their application was rejected on the 24th July 1875, and the property was sold by the Court to K. (defendant No. 2) on the 16th and 17th February 1876. The sale was confirmed on the 18th March 1876. The plaintiffs brought a suit on the 17th March 1877 against V. and K. (the judgment-creditor and auction-purchaser), alleging that the property was the joint ancestral property of themselves and their brother W. and was not liable to attachment and sale for his separate debt. They prayed that the sale should be set aside. The Subordinate Judge dismissed the suit as barred by article 15, schedule II of the Limitation Act (IX of 1871). His order was reversed, on appeal, by the District Judge, who held that article 14, schedule II of the Limitation Act applied to the case. K. thereupon appealed to the High Court. Held that article 15, and not article 14, of schedule II of Act IX of 1871 applied to the case, and that the suit was barred. The intention of the Legislature in passing section 246 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act VIII of 1859) was that the order made under that section should be a final bar to the plaintiff's right, unless such a suit, as that section prescribed, was brought to re-try the question of that right, and if on such action being brought, the Court on the trial held that the plaintiff had established his right, its ruling would amount to a reversal of the order made

The plaintiff put in a claim to the property under section 246 of Act VIII of 1859, which claim was rejected on the 6th of September 1873. The plaintiff, on the 10th of January 1878, brought a suit to recover possession of the property sold. Held that the suit was not barred by article 15, schedule II of Act IX of 1871, the suit not being one to set aside a summary order within article 15 of the schedule to that Act. Koylash Chunder Paul Chowdhry v. 27. ———— Execution of decree—Res judicata—Act VIII of 1859, s. 246—Civil Procedure Code (Act X of 1877), s. 278—In the course of certain execution proceedings in execution of a decree for arrears of rent, the decree-holder attached a tenure belonging to the judgment-debtor, who, pending the attachment, sold it to A. on the 21st March 1869. A. then applied, under section 246 of Act VIII of 1859, for an order to release the tenure from attachment, but the application was dismissed, on the ground that the alienation had been made pending the attachment. In 1877 the heirs and successors in title of the decree-holder above mentioned obtained another decree for arrears of rent against the same defendant, and in execution thereof again attached the tenure. A. applied under section 278 of the Code of Civil Procedure to have the property released, but his application was rejected on the 3rd of May 1879. In a suit brought by A. on the 6th of May 1879 to establish his right to, and confirm his possession of, the tenure, the lower Courts dismissed the suit, on the ground that it ought to have been brought within one year from the 24th of March 1869. After C had obtained this decree against A, A sold his equity of redemption in the entire mortgaged concern to B, and by this sale, all the dena and powna, or liabilities and outstandings of the concern, were transferred from A to B. C then, after notice to B, obtained an order, by which B was made the judgment-debtor in the place of A. B took no proceedings within one year to set aside this order, but, after the lapse of three years, upon C attempting to execute his decree, instituted the present suit to set aside the order, and for an injunction to restrain B from executing the decree against him. 29. ————— Civil Procedure Code (Act VIII of 1859), s. 269, Summary proceedings under.—Neglect to set aside order passed in such proceedings within one year by purchaser at a Court sale—Suit to establish title to property by such purchaser—At a Court sale held on the 15th November 1871 in execution of a decree, the plaintiff's deceased husband purchased a house, but neglected to register his sale-certificate. In attempting to recover possession he was obstructed by the defendant, who claimed the property as her own. Summary proceedings under section 269 of Act VIII of 1859 were thereupon instituted against the defendant, and the defendant's claim was upheld by an order passed on the 7th November 1872. In the meantime the plaintiff's husband having died, plaintiff filed, on the 31st March 1873, a regular suit to establish her title. On the 8th July 1873, she obtained a second certificate, and registered it. The Court of first instance awarded her claim, but on appeal by the defendant the lower Appellate Court reversed that decree, on the ground that, at the institution of the suit, plaintiff had not a registered certificate of sale. That decree was confirmed on the 17th November 1879, on second appeal, by the High Court. On the 30th April 1880, plaintiff brought this suit on the strength of her registered certificate. The Court of first instance allowed her claim. The defendant appealed, and the lower Appellate Court held her suit not maintainable. On appeal by plaintiff to the High Court,—Held, confirming the decree of the lower Appellate Court, that plaintiff's suit was barred. The Subordinate Judge having, by his order of the 7th November 1872, passed in the summary proceedings, disposed

2. ————— Suit for declaration of title—Suit to set aside an order of revenue authorities—Land Registration Act (Act VII of 1876), s. 89—The Civil Court has no power to set aside an order passed under the Land Registration Act, and when a prayer for such relief is contained in a plaint which also asks for a declaration of right and title to, and confirmation of possession in, property, such prayer may be treated as mere surplusage. When, therefore, a plaint was filed containing separate prayers for the above relief, and when the original Court held that the main object of the suit was to have certain orders made by the revenue authorities set aside, and that the suit was accordingly governed by article 14, schedule II of the Limitation Act, and passed a decree dismissing the suit as having been brought more than a year after the date of such orders,—Held that such a decree was wrong, that the suit being one simply for the declaration of the plaintiffs' title in respect of the property in dispute article 14 had no application to the case. 1. ————— and art. 23.—False complaint to Magistrate.—Attachment and detention of goods.—Action for damages.—On the 26th of July 1878, A. complained to the Magistrate that B. committed theft of his grain. The Magistrate, of his own motion, attached the grain on the 10th of August 1878, pending inquiry into the complaint, then proceeded with the inquiry, and dismissed the complaint, but continued the attachment pending the decision of the Civil Court to which he referred the parties. A. in 1879 brought a suit against B. to establish his title to the grain, which was finally rejected on the 21st of June 1880, and B. recovered his grain on the 30th of September 1880, but in a damaged condition. B., on the 13th of November 1881, sued A. for damages for wrongful detention of his grain, and its consequent deterioration in quality and value. Held that the date of the complaint was the date of the wrong, and limitation ran from that date, or, at the latest, from the date of the attachment, and that B's suit was, therefore, barred whether the period applicable was one year under article 23, or two years under article 36 of schedule II of Act XV of 1877. *MUDVIRAPA KULKARNI v. sale proclamation—"Falsa demonstratio"—On the 17th November 1877 a certain piece of land was sold within the boundaries of which, as described in the proclamation, another piece of land was included. The land was sold in execution of a decree obtained by the first defendant against defendants 2, 3, and 4, and was purchased by the plaintiff. The second piece of land was sold on the following day and purchased by defendant No 5. On 28th November the plaintiff applied to have the sale set aside and his money refunded unless he was put in possession of all the land included in the boundaries mentioned in the proclamation, but his application was refused and the sale confirmed on 20th July 1878. In a suit for possession of all the land or for return of his purchase-money with interest, it was contended, in the Courts below and on second appeal, that the plaintiff was, at any rate, entitled to damages or compensation because of the land as defined by the survey number proving to be of less acreage than that included in the boundaries, and the lower Court had held such a claim as barred also under article 36, schedule II of the Limitation Act, XV of 1877. Held that the suit, regarded as one for compensation, was not barred, as three years had not elapsed since the confirmation of the sale when the suit was brought—article 36 applying only to suits for compensation for tortious acts independent of contract. But the claim for compensation was not maintainable, as the property offered for sale was sufficiently identified by the description as "Survey No 294, Plot No 3, containing 24½ gunthas," and the statement of boundaries, so far as it was inaccurate, might be properly regarded as "falsa demonstratio."

1. — Suit for compensation for trespass to land—Right to declaratory decree.—A person whose right to land has been disputed, and who has obtained an order under Chapter 40 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1872, from a Magistrate, declaring him entitled to retain possession, is entitled to sue for a declaration of his right to the land. Plaintiff sued on the 9th February 1880 for compensation for loss of crops caused by the defendants taking possession of his well in January 1877. The District Judge on appeal dismissed the suit on the ground that time began to run against the plaintiff from January 1877, and that the claim was barred by section 36, 37, 39, or 40 of schedule II of the Limitation Act, 1877. Held that the plaintiff was entitled to sue for compensation for the trespass within three years from the date on which the defendants' possession ceased, and that the defendants were liable for any loss suffered within three years preceding the date of the suit. [I. L. R., 6 Mad., 176]

2. — Right of caste to exclusive worship—Infringement of right—Four persons of the Chitpavan caste brought a suit in 1876, alleging that they and the members of their caste, in common with certain other castes, possessed the exclusive right of entry and worship in the sanctuary of a temple, and that the defendants, members of the Palshe caste, not being of the privileged castes, infringed that right in 1871 and thereafter by entering the sanctuary and performing worship therein. They prayed for a declaration of their right and an injunction restraining the defendants from interfering with it. The defendants contended (inter alia) that the suit was barred by the law of limitation. Held that the suit was not barred by article 43 of schedule II of Act IX of 1871, and that nothing in the law of limitation prevented the establishment of such a right as that denied, merely because the first act of interference with it was more than a stated number of years ago. Such acts are not continuous like possession, and their only operation is to create, where often and consistently repeated during a long period, a presumption of their lawful origin. 3. — and art. 143.—Suit for damages for trespass—Suit to recover immoveable property from trespasser.—The limitation of three years provided in clause 43, schedule II of the Limitation Act IX of 1871 applies only to suits for damages on account of trespass, and not to suits to recover immoveable property from a trespasser, for which the period of limitation is twelve years, as provided by clause 143. 1. Assessment for revenue or rent, Order for—Award.—An assessment for revenue or rent by a Collector was not a judicial award within the meaning of clause 6 of section 1, Act XIV of 1859. The term "award" as used in that clause means an adjudication on rights as between rival claimants, made by a revenue officer under the judicial powers conferred by the regulations mentioned in such clause. HUBEE MOHUN GHOSAL v. GOVERNMENT

[2 N. W., 226]

2. Judicial award—Proceeding of settlement officer as to cess.—Held that the proceeding of the settlement officer representing a cess as a source of income to the zemindar was not a judicial award, and the limitation provided in clause 6, section 1, Act XIV of 1859, was not applicable to a suit to set aside that proceeding. RAM CHUND v. 3. Order of revenue authorities as to registration of names—Held that an order passed by revenue authorities for entry of names in a proprietary register, not being passed after a trial in a suit of the nature referred to in clause 2, section 23, Regulation VII of 1822, was not an order in a suit to which the term of limitation mentioned in clause 6, section 1, Act XIV of 1859, applies. MADHO SINGH v. [3 Agra, 316]

5. Suit to contest adjudication of boundaries by Revenue Court under Act I of 1847.—An adjudication of the boundaries by the revenue authorities under Act I of 1847 is not final and conclusive, but is, like any other judicial award made under Regulation VII of 1822, open to question by regular suit in the Civil Court within three years (clause 6, section 1, Act XIV of 1859). SUJJAD v. SAHIT ALI . . . 3 Agra, 140

6. Order of Collector with reference to rights of parties already determined—Where the relative rights of the parties as landlord and tenants were determined by competent authority and the matter referred for decision of the Collector was to commute the rents paid in kind into money rents, and that officer in so doing decided the rights of the parties declaring the tenants sub-proprietors and directing them to pay at the revenue rates with an addition of 5 per cent. allowance to the landlord,—Held that the order of the Collector was not an award of the nature contemplated by clause 6, section 1, Act XIV of 1859. BUNSEE v. RAMSOOKH

7. Suit to set aside partition.—A suit to avoid a butwara division by the Collector may be brought within six years; section 1, clause 6 of Act XIV of 1859 does not apply to it. OODOY SINGH v. PALUCK SINGH . . . 16 W. R., 271

[W. R., 1864, 38]

9. Act of 1871, art. 44.—Proceedings by settlement officer to decide possession.—Award—Beng. Reg. VII of 1822.—D. died in 1860 leaving him surviving his first wife G, his second wife B, his mother R., and M. his son by a woman to whom he had been married by the "gandhar" form of marriage. On D's death G's name was registered in the record-of-rights in respect of his proprietary rights in a certain village. In 1871 G died, and on her death B, R., and M. preferred separate claims to have their names registered in respect of such rights. The Assistant Settlement Officer before whom these claims came for decision, professing himself unable to decide which of the claimants was in possession, and observing that it was not shown that possession was joint, referred the case to the Settlement Officer. The Settlement Officer, without making any inquiry, disposed of the case on the evidence taken by the Assistant Settlement Officer, and held that the claimants were in joint possession of such rights, and it was proper that the name of each should be registered in respect of a one third share of such rights. He at the same time intimated to the parties that, unless they settled their claims in the Civil Court or by arbitration, before the khewat was framed, it would be framed as he had directed. In 1873 R died, and on her death M procured the registration of his name in respect of her one third share. In 1879 B sued M for possession of the one-third share which he had obtained under the proceeding of the Settlement Officer, and of R's one third share, claiming as heir to her deceased husband D, and alleging that M was not the legitimate son of D and was therefore not entitled to succeed to such rights. M set up as a defence that, as the proceeding of the Settlement Officer was an award under Regulation VII of 1822, and the suit was one to contest such award, and it had not been brought within three years from the date of such award, the suit was barred by limitation. Held that the suit was not barred by limitation under No. 44, schedule II of Act IX of 1871, or No. 45, schedule II of Act XV of 1877, as the proceeding of the Settlement Officer was not an award under Regulation VII of 1822. BHAONI v MAHARAJ SINGH . . . I. L. R., 3 All., 738

10. ——— Application of section — Clause 6, section I, Act XIV of 1859, provides that possessory titles by virtue of awards under the Regulations there mentioned shall become final unless questioned within three years, but that will not enable a person to come in within three years after the date of such awards and recover possession of lands in respect of which his suit has been barred by the other provisions of the Law of Limitation. BEER CHUNDER JOBBRAJ v. 11. ——— Settlement award—Beng. Reg. VII of 1822 — On a Collector proceeding to settle a mortgaged estate, both mortgagee and mortgagor appeared before him and contended for the right of settlement. His award under Regulation VII of 1822 was in favour of the mortgagee in possession, on the ground that the period of redemption had expired, and he settled the estate with him. Held that, as the mortgagor allowed that award to remain unchallenged for three years, it became binding under clause 6, section I, Act XIV of 1859. SREECHUND BABOO v. 12. ——— Act XIII of 1848—Suit to contest award—Suit to amend settlement.—Cause of action.—The limitation declared by Act XIII of 1848, and clause 6, section I, Act XIV of 1859, applied only to suits for the purpose of contesting the justice of an award as between the contending parties, and not to those the object of which was to amend a settlement and establish the right of persons who were not before the Collector. Held that the cause of action to the plaintiff did not accrue from the date of the orders of Government directing to discontinue the payment of malikana, but from that of the Collector's by which it became known to the plaintiff that he would henceforth be deprived of his proprietary title. HIMMUT SINGH v. Held, in a suit by B. and his co-sharers to set aside the award, that B. could not compute the period of limitation from the date of the order on A.'s appeal. one estate to recover certain lands alleged to belong to his estate, which the defendants held as a part of another estate, the plaintiff needlessly prayed that a certain order passed in the cause of the butwara of the defendant's estate should be set aside. As the defendant failed to show that the Collector, in laying down the boundaries of the estate then under butwara, was proceeding under Regulation VII of 1822,—Held that the map made by him in carrying out the butwara of another estate was not an award binding on the defendant, and that the case therefore was not barred by limitation under clause 6, section 1, Act XIV of 1859. RUGHOOBER SINGH v. HURREE PERSHAD 6 W. R., 75

3. ——— Survey award.—Suit for possession—Res judicata.—In a thakbust map land was demarcated as belonging to A. B claimed that it belonged to him jointly with A. On 18th November 1858 the map was rectified by demarcating the lands to A and B jointly. B, afterwards brought a suit against A, in the Munsif's Court to recover the value of some mangoes which grew on two plots of the land in question and it was decided on 12th December 1864 in favour of B, on the ground that the plots belonged to A and B jointly. On 11th December 1865 A brought his suit against B for a declaration of right and confirmation of possession, to set aside the survey award, and for amendment of the thakbust map. A alleged that he was no party to the thakbust proceedings, and that he had been in possession ever since. Held (overruling the decision of the Courts below) that the suit was barred, so far as it asked to have the thakbust map amended, under clause 6 of section 1, Act XIV of 1859, and that a suit by a person in possession to have his title confirmed was not a suit to recover property within clause 6 of section 1, and was not barred by reason of its not being brought within three years from the date of the award. MAHIMA CHANDRA CHUCKERBUTTY v. RAJKUMAR CHUCKERBUTTY [B. L. R., A. C., 1: 10 W. R., 22

4. ——— Award of settlement officer.—Where a claim to the proprietary rights was preferred by the plaintiffs at the time of settlement, and the settlement officer, on the objection of the defendants, ordered the plaintiffs to be recorded as hereditary cultivators, and referred them to the Civil Court to establish their right,—Held that the present suit brought to establish that right not having been instituted within three years from the date of the award of the settlement officer, was barred by limitation. SURDAR KHAN v. CHUNDUO . 1 Agra, 228

5. ——— Award of settlement officer.—Held that the plaintiffs' claim to lands awarded to defendant in settlement proceedings was not barred by the period of limitation provided in clause 6, section 1, Act XIV of 1859, as they were no parties to the settlement proceedings and no judicial award or order affecting them was passed by the settlement officer. RAMAISHIR SINGH v. proceeding recognised the plaintiffs' right to the property in suit, and, declaring them not to be clearly shown to be out of possession of it, ordered their names to be recorded in the proprietary register. The plaintiffs subsequently brought a suit for establishment and declaration of right to partition and possession of the property. Held that the proceeding of the settlement officer was undoubtedly an award under Regulation VII of 1822, and that, as the plaintiffs sued for possession, and did not allege that they had been dispossessed since the award, thus raising the presumption that they were not in possession at the time, and as their suit was in substance and effect a suit to recover property comprised in an award, the suit was barred by limitation, not having been instituted within three years. GUNESHEE LALL v. 1. ——— art. 47 (1871, art. 46; 1859, s. 1, cl. 7).—Suit for property respecting which no final award is made.—A suit to recover property respecting which no final award has been passed under Act IV of 1840 was not barred by limitation, under clause 7, section 1, Act XIV of 1859, but might be brought within twelve years from the date of ouster. DYRAM SAHOO v. 2. ——— Verbal order of Magistrate under Act IV of 1840.—Held that a verbal order of the Magistrate under Act IV of 1840 cannot be regarded as an order or award within the meaning of the term of clause 7, Act XIV of 1859. GUNGA PERSHAD v. MAHOMED KOOTOOB ALUM 2 Agra, 27

3. ——— Order in suit under Act IV of 1840.—Benamidar.—N., in 1852, purchased from R a putni talook in the name of H. In 1854 N. died, leaving two sons, one of whom was K., and a widow. The sons allowed the widow to remain in possession. In December 1854 R made a complaint before the Magistrate, under Act IV of 1840, against H, K and others, stating that they had dispossessed him of the talook on 27th December, and the Magistrate thereupon ordered H and the other defendants except K to put R in possession. On 12th January 1855, R obtained possession and sold the property. On 28th December 1866 K and his brother sued H, R and the purchaser to recover possession. Held (reversing the decision of the Courts below), that the suit was not barred by section 1, clause 7 of Act XIV of 1859. The mere fact that the Act IV award was passed against H., a benamidar of the plaintiffs, was not sufficient to show that they were bound by that award unless evidence was given that they gave authority to H., express or implied, to act in the matter on their behalf. KHAGEN-DRONATH MALIK v. and the twelve years' limitation was held to apply to such cases, but the Acts of 1871 and 1877 make the articles corresponding to section 1, clause 7, specially applicable to the Criminal Court's order as to possession under the Criminal Procedure Codes.

8. ————— Order under Criminal Procedure Code, 1861, s. 319—Order of attachment—The plaintiff sued for the establishment of his proprietary right to, and possession of, a certain ghât, or bathing place. The lower Courts held that the suit was barred by limitation under clause 46, schedule II, Act IX of 1871, the suit not having been brought within three years from the date on which the Magistrate, acting under Chapter XVIII of Act XXV of 1861, passed an order directing that the plaintiff and one of the defendants to the suit should put in personal recognisances of Rs500 each, and that the tehsildar should warn the parties not to go near the bathing place until a competent Court had settled the quarrel between them. The lower Courts being of opinion that the latter portion of the order amounted to an attachment of the property in dispute under section 319 of Act XXV of 1861. It was held that the order to the tehsildar was not an attachment contemplated by that section. DURGA v. MANGAL in Criminal Court—Certain chur lands, which had been submerged, having re-formed, were claimed by a number of parties. In a proceeding under section 318 of Act XXV of 1861, the Magistrate in January 1871 directed possession to be given to certain persons known as the Roys. In 1872 the present appellants instituted a suit against the Roys to set aside the order of the Magistrate, and on the 16th December 1873 obtained a decree in the High Court, under which possession was given on the 10th July 1874. In 1874, more than three years after the Magistrate's order, the plaintiffs instituted two suits against the Roys and the appellants for possession of the lands made over to the latter under the decree of 1873,—Held that these suits were not barred by limitation under article 46, schedule II of the Limitation Act IX of 1871, (cf. Act XV of 1877, schedule II, article 47). That article can only apply between the parties whose possession has been confirmed by the Magistrate, and each one of the parties to that proceeding who claimed against them. It does not apply in favour of one of the parties who has subsequently succeeded by regular suit in ousting the parties put in possession by the Magistrate. *Durgaram Roy v. Nui sing Deb, 2 B. L. 10. ————— Criminal Procedure Code, 1861, Ch. XXII, s. 320—Order of Criminal Court as to possession.—A dispute having arisen between plaintiff and defendant as to the ownership of certain landed property, the Magistrate being informed of the dispute held an inquiry under the provisions of Chapter XXII, Act XXV of 1861, and finding himself unable to "determine who was in actual possession of the lands," placed them in charge of the Sub-Magistrate. Held that this was not an order respecting "the possession of property" but an attachment proceeding recorded because the Magistrate was unable to determine which party was in possession. The limitation of three years prescribed by the 46th clause of schedule II of Act IX of 1871 was therefore inapplicable. AKILANDAMMAL v. PERIASAMI PILLAI I. L. R., 1 Mad., 309

11. ————— Possession, Suit for—Order of Criminal Court for possession—In a dispute between A and B. concerning the possession of a certain talook, the Criminal Court made an order under section 530 of the Code of Criminal Procedure retaining B in possession, and this order was, in a proceeding under sections 295, 296 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, confirmed by the Court of Session. Held that a suit by A for the recovery of the land must be brought within three years from the date of the Magistrate's order, and not from the date of the order passed by the Court of Session. Article 47 of schedule II, Act XV of 1877, refers to immoveable as well as moveable property. KANGALI CHURN SHA v. ZOMORUDONNISAH KHATOON

13. ————— Order of Mamlatdar under Bom Act V of 1864—A. brought a suit in a Mamlatdar's Court, under Bombay Act V of 1864, to recover possession of certain land from B C. joined in the proceedings proprio motu, and the Mamlatdar, on the 1st May 1865, made an order awarding possession of the land to C. In an action brought by A. against C. in the Civil Court on the 18th October 1869, C. pleaded limitation under section 1, clause 7, Act XIV of 1859, as the action was not filed within three years of the Mamlatdar's order. Held that the action was not barred by limitation, as C. was not properly a defendant in the Mamlatdar's Court, and that, therefore, the Mamlatdar had no power to make an order regarding him. *VISHVA-NATHRAY KACHESVAR v. immovable property B., instead of conveying to A the property agreed to be conveyed to him, conveyed it to C and put him, C, in possession. A. brought a suit against C and B., and obtained a decree setting aside the conveyance to C., and ordering B. specifically to perform his contract and execute a conveyance of the property to himself, A. This decree was confirmed on appeal. B. refusing to execute the conveyance to A., the conveyance was executed by the Court under the provisions of section 202 of Act VIII of 1859, C. still detaining possession of the moveable and immovable property in question. A. brought this suit against him to recover possession of the same. The suit was brought within three years of the final decree of the Court of Appeal in the former suit, ordering a conveyance of the property to be executed to A., but not within three years of the date of the agreement to purchase, and it was contended that as to the moveable property the suit was time barred. Held that the suit for the possession of the moveable property was not time-barred, as the right to possession of both the moveable and immovable property accrued to A., at the earliest, on the date of the final decree for specific performance of the agreement of sale, and it was from that time that the "detainer's possession" first became unlawful under article 49, schedule II of Act XV of 1877. DHONDIBA KRISHNAJI PATEL v RAMCHANDRA BHAGVAT. . . . I. On the 27th of March 1873, the former order was cancelled and a certificate was granted to A. On the 19th of August 1873, B. was directed to deliver up the property to C., who had purchased it from A. On the 22nd of March 1873, C. instituted a suit to recover the property. Held that the suit was barred under article 49 of the Limitation Act. Article 123 of the Limitation Act only applies to cases in which the property sought to be recovered is not only a legacy but is also sought to be recovered as such from a person who is bound by law to pay such legacy, either because he is the executor of the will or otherwise represents the estate of the testator. ISSUE CHUNDEE DOSS v JUGGUT CHUNDEE SHAHA. . . . I L. No wood was supplied after the 11th November 1879. The suit was brought on the 10th October 1882. In January 1883, the partners of the Elgin Mills Company were, on their own application, brought upon the record as defendants. Defendants claimed a set-off as damages for loss incurred by the plaintiff's failure to supply all the wood contracted for, such loss having arisen on the 25th October 1879 and subsequently. Held that article 53, and not article 52, schedule II of the Limitation Act, was applicable to the plaintiff's claim, the intention of the parties having been that the price of wood was not claimable as of right on the date of its being supplied, but rather when the contract was completed by the whole wood being supplied, or when the contract came to an end. *PRAGI LAL v. A few years after this E died, and then a disagreement occurring in the family, resort was had to arbitration. The arbitrators found that certain sums were due to plaintiff and her sisters by the three brothers, but they were unable to settle how much. In the year 1868 the plaintiff executed another bond for the same purpose. In 1876 the plaintiff and defendant separated, and the lender, thereupon, sued the plaintiff upon the bond executed in 1867, and obtained a decree. In 1874 the plaintiff executed a fresh bond in favour of the decree-holder, in order to avoid execution of the decree and to retire the bond of 1868. In 1877 (within three years from the date of the fresh bond), the plaintiff sued his brother to recover a moiety of the sum secured thereby. Held that the date upon which money was paid by the plaintiff for the defendant must have been before 1870, and that, therefore, the suit was barred by limitation under Act IX of 1871, schedule II, article 59. Ramkrishna Roy v. 2. ———— Suit for share of money had and received—A, B, and C being joint creditors of D, A and B. received, in 1856, a payment on account in respect of their share in the debt. D. having made default in payment of the balance, separate suits were brought against him by A., B., and C. The Court having held that the payment was a payment to all, A and B. recovered more than their share, and C. recovered less. A family suit for partition between A., B., and C. was, in 1862, compromised, and it was agreed that all claims between the parties should be considered as settled; but it was agreed that if C. should, out of an appeal brought by him against D, have any claim against A. and B., that should be reserved. C.'s appeal was, in 1863, unsuccessful, and in 1864 he brought an action against A. and B. for his share of the money paid in 1856. Held that he was entitled to recover the amount which A and B. had recovered against D in excess of their claim, and that the suit was not barred by the law of limitation. LUTF ALI KHAN v. The same property was subsequently attached in execution of a decree held by B, dated the 19th August 1871, which directed the sale of the property in satisfaction of a charge declared thereby. The property was sold in execution of this decree. The Munsif directed that the proceeds of the sale should be paid to B. A., who claimed them on the ground that he had first attached the property, appealed against this order. The Judge, declaring that A. was entitled to the proceeds, reversed the Munsif's order. A then obtained an order from the Munsif directing B. to refund the money, which he did, and it was paid to A. B. sued A. to recover the money by establishment of his prior right to the same, and for the cancelment of the Judge's order, alleging that the same was made without jurisdiction. Held (by a majority of the Full Bench) that the suit was one for money received by the defendant for the plaintiff's use, and was therefore governed by clause 60, schedule II of the Limitation Act. Per STUART, C. 9. — Failure of consideration —

Suit for money had and received for the plaintiff's use — Debt.—Prior to September 1879, pecuniary dealings took place between D and B., resulting in a debt due by the former to the latter of Rs33,000, for money lent. Negotiations were carried on between the parties as to the mode in which the debt should be liquidated; and, on the 1st September 1879, it was arranged that D should execute a sale-deed conveying to B. certain immoveable property for Rs55,000, and that B should pay this amount by giving D credit to the extent of the debt, and paying the balance in cash. In August 1880, D. sued B for specific performance of the contract, which, he alleged, had been settled and executed for the sale of the property. B in defence alleged that, although certain terms and conditions as to the sale had been definitely settled for embodiment in a formal sale-deed, it was only subject to these terms and conditions that he had been prepared to complete the transaction, and that, as they had been omitted from the document executed by D. on the 1st September 1879, he had never accepted that document. In March 1884, the High Court, on appeal, dismissed the suit, holding that the parties had never been ad idem with reference to the contract alleged by D., and that the document of the 1st September 1879 had never been finally accepted so as to be binding and enforceable by law. In September 1884 B sued D for recovery of the sum of Rs33,000, with interest. He contended that, under the terms of the arrangement made on the 1st September 1879, the debt of Rs33,000 then owing to him changed its character; that it was no longer merely the old balance due by the defendant, but having been credited in the latter's books, should be treated as a payment by him (the plaintiff) as a deposit on account of the sale; that the suit was therefore one for money had and received by the defendant to the use of the plaintiff; and that the cause of action did not arise until the contract failed, by reason of the decree of the High Court on 14th March 1884, dismissing the suit for specific performance. Held that this contention must fail, and the debt must be treated as the old balance due by the defendant to the plaintiff, inasmuch as by the terms of the agreement itself which the plaintiff set up no deposit was payable, and the price was not to be paid till the completion of the contract, and inasmuch as the plaintiff, in demanding payment, after the negotiations had failed, demanded it simply as for the balance of the old debt, and not as for the return of a deposit. Held, further, that the 1st September 1879, upon which the contract set up by the plaintiff was alleged to have been completed, was the latest possible date upon which the debt could be said to have become due, and that, inasmuch as the present suit was not brought until the 8th September 1884, it was barred by limitation. DHUM SINGH v. GANGA RAM I. L. R., 8 All., 214

Suit for money paid by a pre-emptor under a decree for pre-emption which has become void — Suit for money had and received for plaintiff's use.—Suit for money paid upon an existing consideration which afterwards fails.—Pending an appeal from a decree for pre-emption in respect of certain property conditional upon payment of Rs1,595, the pre-emptor decree-holder, in August 1880, applied for possession of the property in execution of the decree, alleging payment of the Rs1,595 to the judgment-debtors out of Court, and filing a receipt given by them for the money. This application was ultimately struck off. In April 1881, judgment was given in the appeal, increasing the amount to be paid by the decree-holder to Rs1,994, which was to be deposited in court within a certain time. The decree-holder did not deposit the balance thus directed to be paid, and the decree for possession of the property accordingly became void. In 1882, the decree-holder assigned to K his right to recover from the judgment-debtors the sum of Rs1,595 which he had paid to them in August 1880. In December 1883, K sued the judgment-debtors for recovery of the Rs1,595 with interest. Held that article 62 of the Limitation Act did not govern the suit, but that article 97, and, if not, article 120, would apply, and the suit was therefore not barred by limitation. *KOJI RAM v. 11. — and art. 132.—Suit to establish right to hereditary allowance.—The parties, who were desais of Mohudha in addition to their "desaigri" allowance, enjoyed an allowance called "amin sukhdi." In 1847 the plaintiff sued the defendant's father and the Collector of Kaira for a share of the allowance, but as the whole of it had been reserved by the Collector to the defendant's father as the officiating desai, the suit was rejected under Act XI of 1843. In 1866 an arrangement was come to under which a sum of Rs40-2 was to be annually available over and above the remuneration of the officiator. On the 9th July 1867 the defendant received this sum for the first time. In 1873 a new arrangement was effected under which the service was abolished, the Government resuming half of the allowance and giving up the other half freed from service unconditionally to the desais. On 4th October 1878, the plaintiff brought this suit to establish his right to a share of the moiety of the amin sukhdi allowance given to the desais by the Government, and to recover his share of the amount received by the defendant. Held that the plaintiff's cause of action in this suit arose on the day when the officiating desai received the surplus of the allowance freed from the condition of service and available for distribution amongst the desais as alleged by the plaintiff, and the suit having been brought within twelve years of that day was not time-barred. That the limitation of three years under article 62 of the Limitation Act XV of 1877, Schedule II, and not that of twelve years under article 132, was applicable

Collector passed an order, that a contribution should be paid by the holders of a part of the shetsandi vatan towards the annual emolument of the office-holder. As payment was not made, he caused the defaulters' moveable property to be sold on the 18th May 1881 as for an arrear of land revenue, and part of the sale-proceeds to be paid over to the office-holder. The defaulters had, in the meantime, appealed to the Revenue Commissioner, who eventually, on the 17th December 1881, amended the Collector's order by reducing very considerably the amount of contribution to be paid to the office-holder. Thereupon the defaulters filed a suit on the 9th April 1884 to recover from the office-holder the difference between what he had received under the Collector's order and what he ought to have received according to the Revenue Commissioner's order. Held that the suit was one for money had and received by the defendant to the plaintiff's use, and, as such, governed by article 62 of schedule II of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877).

The defendants contended that arrears for only three years were recoverable under the Limitation Act (XV of 1877), and that the rates applicable to ascertain the amount were the Government auction rates. Held that the plaintiff's right would, under the Hindu law, be "nibandha," and would under the law rank for many purposes as immoveable property, but that a different principle applied to sums realised and become payable in the hands of him who realised them to the intended recipient. The interest or jural relation of right of such recipient was nibandha, but the particular sum due to him was either money received to his use, or payable on a contract, and money which would remain due, though the grant constituting the nibandha were cancelled and had ceased to exist after the realisation of the money. It being thus distinguishable from the original right which produced it, the claim in this suit was barred by limitation after three years. Suit for interest.—Suit for money payable on demand.—Suit for money deposited payable on demand.—The plaintiff in this suit deposited certain money with the defendants, a firm of bankers, on the 30th August 1863. On the 2nd January 1867, an account was stated and a balance found to be due to the plaintiff consisting of the original deposit, and interest on the same calculated at six per cent. per annum. On the 11th February 1876, the defendants having proposed to pay the plaintiff such balance, together with interest on the original deposit, from the 2nd January 1867 to the 15th February 1876, calculated at four per cent. per annum, the plaintiff demanded that she should be paid such interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum. The defendants refused to accede to this demand on the 14th February 1876, and on the 17th of the same month they paid the plaintiff such balance with such interest calculated at the rate they proposed, viz., four per cent. On the 11th February 1879 the plaintiff brought the present suit against the defendants in which she claimed the sum representing the difference between such interest calculated at four per cent and six per cent, alleging that her cause of action arose on the 14th February 1876. Held that the suit could not be regarded as either one for money lent under an agreement that it should be payable on demand, or one for money deposited under an agreement that it should be payable on demand, but must be regarded as one for a balance of money payable for interest for money due, to which clause 9, section 1 of Act XIV of 1859, article 61, schedule II of Act IX of 1871, and article 63, schedule II of Act XV of 1877, had successively applied, and the suit was barred by limitation. MAKUNDI KUAR v. In 1875 a balance was struck, and carried to another account signed by the defendant, and acknowledging the same to be "due for balance of old account." Such accounts were not signed by the defendant. The suit was instituted after Act XV of 1877, which repealed Act IX of 1871, had come into force. Held that the plaintiff's right to sue upon such accounts within three years from the date the same were stated was not a "title" acquired under Act IX of 1871, within the meaning of section 2 of Act XV of 1877, which, under the provisions of that section, was not affected by the repeal of Act IX of 1871, and the suit was not governed by the provisions of Act IX of 1871, but by those of Act XV of 1877, and that, therefore, the accounts not being signed by the defendant, the plaintiff could not claim the benefit of article 64 of schedule II of the latter Act, but must be regarded as suing merely for money lent. THAKURPAL v. SHEO SINGH RAI

15. ———— Statement of account unsigned.—Cause of action.—The plaintiffs claimed on a statement of account in writing dated the 18th October 1877: this statement of account was not signed by the defendant. The date of the institution of the suit was the 30th September 1880. A Division Bench of the High Court held on the appeal, on the case coming up before them on the 18th October 1877, that the suit was not based upon any express contract made between the parties, and that the transaction which took place on that date did not constitute an implied contract, and that, therefore, these contentions were not open to the plaintiffs, but the Court referred the question whether the plaintiffs' claim, so far as it was based on the statement of account on the 18th October 1877, fell within article 64 of schedule II of Act XV of 1877. Held, by MITTHER, PRINSEP, and McDONELL, JJ.—That the question referred was a matter of limitation arising in the case which had not been decided in the order of reference, and without such a decision the case could not be disposed of, and as to that point, that the statement of account not being signed by the defendant, did not fall within the terms of article 64 of schedule II of Act XV of 1877. Held, by GARTH, C. J., and TOTTENHAM, J.—That the Division Bench having held that the transaction afforded no basis for a suit had disposed of the case, and the question referred was therefore immaterial. DUKHI SAHU v. 16. ———— Account stated.—Agreement to pay debt by instalments.—Suit for whole amount due—A being the holder of a decree against B, B, on the 7th July 1875, entered into a kistbandi and filed it in Court, setting out that he would pay off the debt due under the decree by certain instalments, and that, in default of payment of one instalment, the whole amount of the debt might be recovered by taking out execution of the decree. By the kistbandi certain immoveable property was pledged to secure the debt, but the kistbandi was not registered. B. failed to pay the first instalment, which fell due on the 14th August 1875; and A., on the 19th June 1878, applied for execution of his decree, but the application was refused, and A. referred to a regular suit. In a suit brought by A. on the 29th January 1879 against B for the whole debt due under the decree,—Held that, inasmuch as no appeal had been preferred against the order disallowing execution, A was bound by that decision; but that the suit might be taken to be one for an account stated in writing with an agreement for payment at a certain stated period of time as regards the instalments due, which were not barred by limitation; the suit as regards the instalments which had not fallen due being premature, and those previous to the 29th

Default was made, and in April 1878 the plaintiff filed a suit against both B. and A., the suit being clearly barred as against the latter. Held that the words "shesh prajunto" could not be taken as limited to the time specified in the bond, and that the lower Court, in order to determine whether the suit was barred against A., must find upon the evidence when a demand was made upon him for payment, and then apply article 65 of Act XV of 1877, schedule II. BISHUMBER DEY PODDAR v. should not be paid according to the terms of the bond, or if the creditor should feel any doubts as to his being able to realise the principal, he should not be bound to wait until the expiry of the six months in order to bring his suit, but should be at liberty to realise the principal and interest in any manner he might choose.—Held that a suit on the bond brought within three years from the date of the day specified therein for payment, was not barred by limitation, as the case fell under article 65 of schedule II of Act IX of 1871, and not under article 75 of schedule II of that Act. NARAIN BABU v. Bill of exchange—Dishonour of bill—Suit against acceptor—M, on the 12th October 1855, drew a bill of exchange, payable three months after date, in favour of B, which was accepted by J. Before the bill became due B endorsed it to P, who again endorsed it for full value to M. B. & Co, of which firm M. L was a partner. M. D & Co discounted the bill with G, who presented it at maturity to J, who dishonoured it. G thereupon sued M. L, and recovered a decree, which M. L satisfied. M. L thereupon brought the present suit, on the 18th February 1865, against J as the acceptor of the bill for the amount he paid under G's decree. Held (confirming the decision of NORMAN, J) that the suit was barred by limitation, the plaintiff's cause of action having accrued when the bill became payable and the acceptor refused to pay. MOHENDRO LALL BOSE v. The Act of 1871, however, altered the time from which the cause of action arose in such a case to the date when the demand was made, but under the present Act the law was again altered and now remains as it was held to be under the Act of 1859.

2. Promissory note payable on demand.—Cause of action.—The defendant gave the plaintiff a promissory note on the 5th August 1869, payable on demand with interest at 5 per cent. per annum. No sum either in respect of principal or interest was paid on the note, and payment was demanded for the first time in November 1875. Act XIV of 1859 contained no provision as to the date of the accrual of the cause of action in a suit on a promissory note payable on demand, but Act IX of 1871, which repealed Act XIV of 1859, and which applied to suits brought after the 1st April 1873, provided that the cause of action in such a suit shall be taken to arise on the date of the demand. In a suit brought on the note after the demand.—Held that the cause of action arose at the date of the note, and as a suit on it would have been barred under Act XIV of 1859 if brought before the 1st April 1873, the subsequent repeal of that Act would not revive the plaintiff's right to sue. NOCOR CHUNDER BOSE v. 3. Act XIV of 1859—Act IX of 1871.—Promissory note payable on demand.—On the 12th December 1864 the plaintiff sold seven bars of gold to the defendants, and deposited with them the value thereof, to run at interest, and payable on demand. The defendants entered the amount in their own books, and furnished the plaintiff with a pass-book, which contained this entry: "The account of the amount deposited by B. (the plaintiff) with V. (the defendants) of the city of Poona. The details of it are as follows: We have debited the amount to ourselves, and will return it whenever you demand it. Shake 1786 (A.D. 1864)." The defendants adjusted the account in the plaintiff's pass-book in July 1865 in these words: "Balance this day, the 1st Jyest vadya, Shake 1787, R1,159-2-0 Interest on this sum will run from 1st Jyest vadya, Shake 1787 (A.D. 1865)." This entry was signed by the defendants. The plaintiff drew several times against this account within the first year, sometimes taking cash and sometimes gold. On the plaintiff's demanding the money in April 1877, the defendants refused to pay it. The plaintiff, therefore, filed a suit against them on the 25th June 1877. The defendants pleaded limitation. Held that, regarding the entry made by the defendants in the plaintiff's book as a promissory note, the suit was barred by the law of limitation. VINAYAK GOVIND v. BABAJI

[I. L. R., 4 Bom., 230

These are cases where the suit was, when Act IX of 1871 came into force, already barred under Act XIV of 1859. But in a Madras case the principle was held to be the same where the suit was not barred under that Act at the time Act IX of 1871 came into force.

4. ——— Suit on promissory note executed while Act XIV of 1859 was in force but not barred under that Act—Cause of action—In a suit brought after the 1st April 1873 on a promissory note for a sum payable on demand, executed while the old Limitation Act (XIV of 1859) was in force, but not barred under that Act at the time the new Limitation Act (IX of 1871) came into force, the period of limitation ought to be computed from the date of the note and not from that of the demand. The new Act merely alters the point of time, as to notes executed after its enactment, from which the period is to be reckoned, and does not make a demand a mode of extending the period of limitation. CHINNASAMI IYENGAR alias STREENVASSA RAGHAVA CHARYAR v. 5. ——— Promissory note—Novation—The holder of a promissory note, payable on demand, dated 14th April 1870, demanded payment on 8th December 1872. The maker then paid interest in advance up to 1st April 1873, upon the condition that the holder should make no demand until that date. Held that this transaction amounted to the substitution of a new contract for that contained in the promissory note; that the period of limitation must be reckoned from 1st April 1873; and that, consequently, a suit to recover the balance due on the note, instituted on 27th March 1876, was not barred. NATA HIRA v. JANARDAN RAMACHANDRA

1. ——— Promissory note payable by instalments—A promissory note, dated 2nd April 1868, stipulated that the principal amount with interest was to be repaid by half-yearly instalments of Rs150 each, and that, in the event of any one of these instalments not being punctually paid, the whole amount was to become payable at once. Default was made in payment of the first instalment, which fell due on 2nd October 1868. In an action brought on 19th October 1871 for the recovery of the whole amount,—Held that the right to bring the suit under Act XIV of 1859, section 1, clause 10, accrued to the plaintiff on 2nd October 1868, and that, having omitted to bring it for more than three years, he was too late in instituting it on the 19th October 1871. Held, also, that the plaintiff's right to the immediate payment of the whole amount was not, under the note, subject to be defeated by any subsequent payment, and that no such subsequent payment (assuming it to have been made) could, in the absence of any fresh agreement, supersede or suspend such right. The proposition laid down in Ramkrishna Mahadev v. Bayaji Santaji, 5 Bom., A. C., 35,—that, "although the instalments were not paid by the defendants at the times fixed for payment, yet the defendants having paid the money on account of them, and the plaintiff having accepted it, the payments must be considered, as regards both parties, as if made at the times fixed; and the plaintiff cannot take advantage of the stipulation that the sum should become due on failure to pay any instalment, or the defendants rely upon it as making the whole debt due, and fixing the period from which the time of limitation ran,"—overruled, as there was nothing in Act XIV of 1859 to give any such effect to an acceptance of part-payment after the whole debt has become due. GUMTA DAMBERSHET v. B.*, and J W (the two latter being sureties, and having been treated as such by the plaintiff), jointly and severally executed a promissory note to M T B, payable by instalments, which were irregularly paid till January 1860, when they ceased; the instalment payable on December 10th, 1857, not having been paid till January 5th, 1858, M T B instituted an action against B B for the balance then due, for which a decree was given. On B B's moving for a new trial the Judges differed on the questions of limitation and laches of the plaintiff, and the case was referred for the opinion of the High Court, which was in favour of the defendant on the point of limitation. Held that a cause of action at once arises on, and limitation runs from, the non-payment of an instalment, and that acceptance of subsequent instalments on a note so payable is not a waiver of the limitation which has so commenced to run against a surety. *BREEN v. 6. ————— Bond payable by instalments—Waiver of default—A bond dated the 23rd August 1870, stipulated payment of Rs 30 for principal and Rs 12-0 for interest, making in all Rs 48-12, by monthly instalments of Rs 1-8-0, with the conditions, first, that in default of payment of a monthly instalment interest should be paid at 1½ per cent per mensem till the whole amount was paid, and second, that in default of payment of any two of the monthly instalments, the whole of the principal should become payable at once, exclusive of interest, from the date of the bond. Two instalments being overdue on the 24th October 1870, the whole principal became payable at once. In an action brought by the obligee on the 4th June 1874 for the recovery of the money,—Held that the claim was wholly barred, as the first condition amounted only to a proviso that the obligee might exercise a right of waiver and accept payment by instalments instead of suing for the whole, and there was nothing to show that he had exercised such right of waiver. *NAVALMAL GAMBHIRMAL v. The first default was made on the 28th June 1866. No payment was made after Act IX of 1871, schedule II, No 75, came into force. Held, in a suit upon such bond, that limitation began to run when the first default was made, and no waiver before Act IX of 1871 came into force could affect it. *AHMAD ALI v. 9. ————— Debt payable by instalments—Waiver.—Proof.—Where a bond for the payment of money by instalments contains a condition that the whole sum then remaining due shall become payable on failure to pay any one instalment, the creditor, who seeks to recover instalments which in due course would have been due subsequently to the date on which the recovery of the debt in full has become barred, must prove a waiver of his right to enforce the condition. 10. ———— Bond — Waiver. — Cause of action.—The mere acceptance of instalments after default, by the obligee of a bond payable by instalments, which provides that, in case of failure to pay one or more instalments, the whole amount of the bond due shall become payable, does not constitute a "waiver," within the meaning of article 75, schedule II of Act IX of 1871, of the obligee's right to enforce such provision. In the case of such a bond the cause of action arises on the first default, and limitation runs from the date of such default. MUMFORD v. PEAL I. L. R., 2 All., 857

12. ———— Decree payable by instalments — Default — Waiver. — Estoppel. — Application for execution as provided for in case of default — Application to recover instalments.—A decree for the payment of money directed that an amount less than the amount sued for should be paid by instalments, and that if default were made in payment of one instalment, the amount sued for should be payable. Default having been made, the decree-holder, on the 7th May 1877, applied for execution of the decree for the larger amount. It appeared that at this time, although the instalments had not been paid regularly, the decree-holder had received in full all the instalments which had fallen due excepting the instalment falling due in the previous September, that is, September 1876, of which he had received only a part. The application of the 7th May 1877 was struck off the file. The decree-holder subsequently accepted the remaining instalments, which were paid on due dates. On the 28th August 1878 the decree-holder applied for payment of an instalment which had been paid into Court. On the 8th September 1881 the decree-holder applied for execution of the decree for the larger amount payable thereunder in case of default, with reference to the default in respect of the instalment for September 1876. The Court refused to allow execution to issue for such amount, but allowed it to issue for the balance of the instalment for September 1876. PER OLDFIELD, J.—That the acceptance by the decree-holder of the instalments falling due after September 1876, notwithstanding default had been made in respect of the instalment for September 1876, amounted to a waiver of his right to execute the decree for the

13. ———— Construction of decree — Decree payable by instalments — Execution of decree.—A consent-decree for Rs50 directed payment of the money by fourteen half-yearly instalments of Rs25 each, in Cheyt and Assin of each year, the first instalment to be paid in the month of Cheyt 1283 (March-April 1877). The decree contained a provision that on default of payment of any one instalment, the execution creditor should have the option of executing the decree for the whole amount remaining unpaid. Default was made in payment of the first instalment, but the judgment-debtor paid up (not on due date) the instalment which fell due up to and including Assin 1285 (October-November 1878), when he stopped making any payments. On the 26th of November 1881 the decree-holder applied for execution in respect of all sums then remaining unpaid under the decree. The District Judge allowed execution to issue for all sums which had fallen due within three years previously to the date of the application for execution, but refused to allow execution to issue in respect of the instalments not then due. HELD that the execution-creditor must be considered to have waived his right to execute the decree for the whole amount, but was entitled under the decree to realise any instalments which were still due. NIL-MADHUB CHUCKERBUTTY v. RAMSODDY GHOSE

14. ———— Verbal contract. — Debt payable by instalments.—A entered into a verbal agreement with B to pay a debt due in monthly instalments, B reserving to himself the right to claim payment of the whole sum due on default of three successive instalments. A failed to pay any instalment. Four years after the first instalment was due B sued A to recover the sum due on the various instalments not barred by limitation. HELD that B was not bound to sue for the whole amount due directly on A's failure to pay the three successive instalments. SEMBLE,—Article 75, schedule II of Act XV of 1877, does not apply according to its strict terms to a suit brought upon a verbal contract. *KOYLASH CHUNDER DASS v. 15. ———— Cause of action — Bond. — Payment by instalments — Liability for whole amount on failure of payment of instalment.—On the 20th August 1879 the defendant, being indebted to the plaintiff, gave his bond for Rs8,000. The bond provided for the payment of monthly instalments of Rs80 each, the first of such instalments to become due on the 4th September 1879. The bond also contained the following clause. "If the said Arthur Bowles shall—in default of payment of any one of such instalments, or in the event of default being made by him in payment of the premium money when and as the same shall become due in respect of the said policy, if so required by the said Hamantram Sadhuam Pity, his executors, administrators or assigns—pay the whole amount which may then be due under and by virtue of these presents without deduction, then the above written bond or obligation shall be of no effect, otherwise the same shall be and remain in full force and virtue." The defendant paid three of the said monthly instalments, the last of which was paid on the 2nd December 1879, being that which had fallen due on the 4th November 1879. No further instalments were paid, but no demand for payment of the entire sum secured by the bond was made by the plaintiff until the 30th January 1884. The plaintiff filed this suit on the 28th April 1884. The defendant contended that the plaintiff's cause of action arose on the 4th December 1879 when he (the defendant) failed to pay the instalment then due, and pleaded limitation. The plaintiff contended that under the bond the cause of action did not arise until the date of his demand, viz, on the 30th January 1884. Held that the suit was not barred. The language of the bond showed that it was the intention of the parties that in case of default being made in payment of one instalment, the whole amount should become due only if a demand for such amount were made. The cause of action did not arise against the defendant until the date of demand, viz, the 30th January 1884. HANMANTRAM SADHUAM v. BOWLES [I. L. R., 8 Bom., 561]

16. ———— Bond payable by instalments—Cause of action.—Limitation Act, 1877, arts. 67, 68, and 80.—B. and S. executed a bond, dated the 15th August, 1874, in favour of plaintiff in consideration of a loan of Rs15,000, agreeing to repay the same within three years from the above date, and covenanting to pay every half-year interest on the same, at the rate of 8 per cent per annum; and also to pay the premia on certain policies of insurance made over to plaintiff by way of collateral security. In the event of failure in payment on due date of interest and premia, the obligors made themselves liable to pay the full amount of the bond debt. The bond also contained the stipulation that it should be optional with the obligee to claim and if necessary to sue for the full amount of the bond on the failure of any one or more stipulated payment, or on the full expiry of the period of three years. Held that the bond was not an instalment bond, and therefore article 75, schedule II of Act XV of 1877, was inapplicable. Held, by STUART, C.J., that limitation commenced after the expiration of the three years allowed by the bond for payment of the debt. Held, by SPANKIE, J.—Article 80, schedule of Act XV of 1877, applies to the suit, and limitation would run from the date when the bond became due; that according to the stipulation in the bond it would become due on failure in payment on due date of both the interest and premia, and not on failure in payment of either of them only. Held, further, that articles 67 and 68, schedule II of Act XV of 1877, were not applicable to the suit. BALL v. STOWELL. I. L. R., 2 All., 322

1. ———— Contract of indemnity.—In 1864 a lease of a house was granted to A. for a term of ten years. The lease contained a covenant to repair. A. died, and B., his administrator, assigned the lease to another, and it ultimately became vested in the plaintiff. In 1872 the plaintiff assigned the lease to the defendants, "under and subject to the covenants" therein contained. The defendants failed to repair, and after the term had expired, C., the representative of the lessor, sued B. for arrears of rent and damages for non-repair. B. defended the suit, but C. obtained a decree against him for Rs6,187-3 and costs, amounting in all to Rs8,328-3. His own costs amounted to Rs1,491-1. In 1876 B. paid C. the Rs8,328-6. In 1877 B. sued the plaintiff for the amount which he had been compelled to pay C., and for the amount of his own costs. The plaintiff gave notice to the defendants to intervene and defend if they desired; but they did not reply, and the plaintiff consented to a decree for Rs6,932-12-11 with costs. Thereupon the plaintiff instituted the present suit to recover from the defendants the sum recovered from him by B., together with his own costs of defence. Held that the suit was not barred under Act XV of 1877, schedule II, article 83—which provides a period of three years' limitation for a suit upon any contract of indemnity other than those specifically provided for, from the time "when the plaintiff is actually damaged"—as the time when the plaintiff was actually damaged was when B. recovered against him. PEPIN v. 2. ————— Contract of indemnity.—Set-off—A suit was brought by P. against the Elgin Mills Company for recovery of the price of wood supplied under two contracts, each of which contained a clause by which the plaintiff contracted to indemnify the defendants for loss arising by reason of failure on his part to supply the wood as contracted for. No wood was supplied after the 11th November 1879. The suit was brought on the 10th October 1882. Defendants claimed a set-off as damages for loss incurred by the plaintiff's failure to supply all the wood contracted for, such loss having arisen on the 25th October 1879 and subsequently. Held that the law of limitation applicable to the set-off was article 83, schedule II of the Limitation Act; that limitation would run from the time when the plaintiff was actually damaged, and should be reckoned to the date of the institution of the suit, and not to that of claiming the set-off, which was after the defendants' names were brought on the record, and that the set-off was therefore in time. *Walker v. 1. ————— Act XIV of 1859, s. 1, cl. 9.—Beng. Reg. XX of 1812, s. 5.—Suit for fees due to pleader—A suit brought to recover fees due to plaintiff as pleader in three suits was held to be barred by limitation as instituted after three years, that being the period of limitation in one case in which the defendants had agreed to pay the fees according to law, such agreement being an obligation for the payment of money within the meaning of section 5, Regulation XX of 1812, and that being also the limitation applicable under clause 9, section 1, Act XIV of 1859, in the other cases in which there was no written engagement to pay the fees. *RASH MOHUN GOSWAMY v. 2. ————— Suit for pleader's fees not under written contract—A suit for pleader's fees upon a vakalatnamah which is in the form of a mere power of attorney, and is not a written contract, is barred by limitation if not brought within three years. In the absence of evidence of any express agreement as to when the fees are to be paid, the implied agreement must be taken to be for payment at the time when the case is decided. *KASHINATH ROY CHOWDHRY v. 3. ————— Act XIV of 1859, s. 1, cls. 9 and 10—Suit by vakeel for fees.—Cause of action—The defendants retained the plaintiff as their pleader in original suit No. 2 of 1863, on the file of the Civil Court of Cuddapah, and executed a vakalatnamah to him in July 1863, but no special agreement regarding fees was made. The plaintiff conducted that suit for the defendants as their vakeel until decree, which was made in September 1864

The present suit was instituted in December 1866. Held, reversing the decree of the lower Appellate Court, that as there was no special agreement, the plaintiff's right of suit did not arise until he had completely discharged his duty in the conduct of the suit, which he had done in 1864. Consequently, the present suit, having been brought within three years from that date, was not barred. BUCKAPATNAM THATHACHARLU v. KAJAMIYA . 6 Mad., 265

4. ————— *"Suit."—Attorney and client.—Taxation of bill of costs.—Application by attorney for payment or attachment.—Rule 149, Com. Such an application as the above is not barred by any law of limitation now in force in British India. ABBA HASI ISMAIL v. ABBA THARA [I. L. R., 1 Bom., 253]

5. ————— Attorney and client.—Bill of costs.—Civil Procedure Code, s. 206—Compromise of suit without knowledge of attorney.—A solicitor was retained in July 1871 to execute a decree. In November 1871 a prohibitory order was made in the cause, after which the solicitor did nothing more in the matter. In June 1872 the decree-holder and judgment-debtor settled the matters in dispute between them without the knowledge of the solicitor, but this compromise was not made through, or certified to, the Court which passed the decree. In a suit brought in December 1875 by the solicitor against the decree-holder to recover the amount of his bill of costs, Held that the plaintiff's claim was not barred by article 85 of schedule II to Act IX of 1871. *HEARN v. 7. ————— Solicitor and client.—Termination of suit.—Decree.—Taxation of costs.—A solicitor for a party to an appeal received a notice after the date of the decree that the costs of the other side would be taxed on a certain date, and, having informed his client, received instructions not to appear on taxation. Held that, until the costs were taxed and inserted in the decree and the decree had issued, the suit had not terminated within the meaning of article 84 of schedule II of the Limitation Act, 1877. *NARAYANA CHETTI v. The following decisions were given under the Act of 1859:—

1. ————— Mutual dealings.—Balance of accounts—The test of whether dealings are mutual within section 8 of Act XIV of 1859 or not seems to be were they such that the balance was sometimes in favour of one party and sometimes of the other. It is not necessary that there should have been such a buying or selling by each of the parties, so as to constitute him a trader within the strict meaning of the term GHASSEERAM v. an equivalent in bills, they were held to have had mutual dealings. LUCHMEE NABAIN v. CHOOMUN MEAH . 14 W. R., 184

3. ————— Mutual dealings.—Balance of account, Suit for.—In a suit for the balance of an account with interest the Court was of opinion that the three years' limitation did not apply, but that the case was one of mutual dealings between the parties, and was governed by section 8, Act XIV of 1859 FERNANDES v. VASUDEV SHANBOG [3 Bom., A. C., 82

4. ————— Mutual dealings.—Co-sharers accounting for rents—The rule that mutual accounts, if they contain some item or items within twelve years, will not be barred by limitation, though the rest of the items be beyond time, is confined to accounts between two parties which show a reciprocity of dealings, or, in other words, to transactions in which there is a mutual credit founded on a subsisting debt, or an express or implied agreement for a set-off of mutual debts AHMED REZA v. ENAYET HOSSEIN . W. R., 1864, 235

5. ————— Account between principal and agent.—Mutual accounts—An agreement between a principal and his agent commenced with an admitted balance, and clearly contemplated the existence of an account current containing mutual items of credit and debit. The agreement contained a stipulation that on the adjustment of the accounts the principal should be bound to pay such balance as might be found due from him. The account was kept accordingly as a continuous account, and contained several items which brought down the mutual dealings to March 1868. The agent sued in February 1871 to recover the balance due to him on the account. Held that the case fell within section 8 of Act XIV of 1859, and was not barred by limitation even as to the items which were dated more than three years before the institution of the suit. WATSON v. AGA MEREDDEE SHEERAZEE [L. R., 1 I. A., 346

6. ————— Mutual dealings.—Item showing continuance of account—The effect of section 8, Act XIV of 1859, is, that nothing in an account of mutual dealings between merchants and traders is to be barred, provided that there is an item indicating the continuance of such dealings proved to have occurred within the period of limitation HIBADA BASAPPA v. GADIGI MUDDAPA . 6 Mad., 142

7. ————— Mutual dealings.—Year.—Balance of account—The defendant, in 1865 and 1866, indented on the plaintiffs for large quantities of merchandise, which were shipped to Calcutta from time to time by the plaintiffs' agent in London, who drew bills on the defendant for each shipment, forwarding such bills and the shipping documents to the plaintiffs in Calcutta. The bills were presented to the defendant by the plaintiffs and accepted by him. In the course of the transactions several of the acceptances were dishonoured by the defendant, and the plaintiffs, at his request, allowed him to renew the bills. Some renewals took place in August and September 1866. In March, May, and July 1866, the defendant made purchases from the plaintiffs, and the plaintiffs made purchases from the defendant. The plaintiffs were in the habit of closing their accounts on 30th June in each year. In an action for balance of account brought on 24th February 1870,—Held that the parties were merchants and traders having mutual dealings under section 8 of Act XIV of 1859. The year mentioned in section 8 of Act XIV of 1859 is intended to be reckoned from the time when the balance of accounts is struck. In this case that was the 30th June 1867; the suit, therefore, was not barred. Quære,—What would be the operation of the section in those cases in which the merchant or trader balances his accounts at the lapse of a period of less than one year? SRINATH DAS v. 8. ————— Mutual accounts.—Suit for balance of account—Article 85, schedule II of Act XV of 1877, is intended to apply to cases where an account has been going on between two parties, and balances have been struck from time to time, showing the amount due from one of such parties to the other; and the suit to which that article is intended to apply is a suit brought by one of those parties against the other for the balance found to be due on that account. LALJEE SAHOO v. ROGHOUNUNDUN LALL I. L. R., 6 Cal., 447

9. ————— Balance of account.—Mutual dealings.—Plaintiff had an account with a banking firm of which the defendant was a member. On the dissolution of this firm, plaintiff made up his accounts debiting the defendant with a share of the amount due to him from the firm, and afterwards he carried on business with the plaintiff separately. It did not appear that any settlement had been made between the parties from the time of the dissolution of the firm down to the filing of the plaint, or that the defendant had assented to a portion of the firm's debt being carried to his separate account. Held that the plaintiff could not recover this sum with interest, as an item of a mutual, open, and current account, where there had been cross-demands between the parties (See Limitation Act, XV of 1877, schedule II, clause 85.) ROY DEBUNPUT SING BAHADOOR v. LERBAJ ROY 1 C. L. R., 525

10. ————— Mutual accounts—Adjustment.—Admitted item within period of limitation—A mutual open and current account, which was kept according to the Sumbut year, having been adjusted in Assin Sudr 1931 S, corresponding with October 25th, 1874, the date of the last admitted item, a suit was subsequently, on the 6th December 1877, filed for the balance due upon such adjustment. Held that, even assuming that on the date of adjustment the account ceased to be mutual, open, and current, article 85 of schedule II of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) was applicable, and that accordingly limitation ran from the close of the year 1931 S, i.e., the 20th April 1875. GONESH LALL v. LIMITATION ACT, 1877, art. 85—continued.

11. ————— Mutual current accounts.—Limitation Act, 1871, art. 62—The manager of A, the proprietress of an indigo factory, on the 20th December 1869, paid into the kothu or bank of B, a banker, the sum of Rs. 1,200 to the credit of A, and from that time onwards sums of money were drawn by A's manager out of B's bank, and applied to the purposes of A's factory the balance, though generally against A, fluctuated, A's account being usually overdrawn, but there being sometimes a balance in her favour, created by payments made on her account into B's bank. The 2nd of July 1872 was the last occasion that any balance was due from B to A. Payments continued to be made on behalf of A into B's bank up to the 12th of June 1873, when a sum of Rs. 1,083-8 was paid into her account; but, notwithstanding this payment, the balance of account was on that date against her. After the 12th of June 1873, B. continued to make payments on behalf of A, and also to render monthly accounts in which he charged A. with such payments, and also with the principal of, and interest upon, the balance due on previously-rendered accounts. This continued till the month of January 1874, when B. for the last time rendered a monthly account to A, the last item in which was a payment made on the 6th January 1874. On the 23rd December 1876, B. instituted a suit against A to recover the balance of principal and interest due to him on the footing of the last account rendered by him to A. Held that the account between A. and B. was not, and never had been, a mutual, open, and current account, and that the suit was, therefore, barred by limitation; and that the payments made by B. on behalf of A. within the period of limitation, even if authorised, did not have the effect of keeping alive his previous claim against her. Held, also, that even if the dealings and transactions between A. and B. could be so construed as to show that there had been at any time a mutual, open, and current account between them, that mutual relation terminated on the 2nd July 1872, or if not, then on the 12th June 1873, when the last payment was made on A's account into B's bank. MAHOMED v. 12. ————— Mutual accounts—Reciprocal demands.—From the month of September 1873 until the month of May 1874 the plaintiffs at Bombay and the defendant at Karachi had dealings with one another. It was the practice for the defendant at Karachi to draw hundis upon the plaintiffs at Bombay, which the plaintiffs duly accepted and paid at Bombay, and, in order to put the plaintiffs in funds, the defendant was in the habit of drawing hundis upon other firms in Bombay in favour of the plaintiffs, the amount of which hundis the plaintiffs realised from time to time at Bombay. Until the 8th January 1874 the balance of the account was sometimes in favour of the plaintiffs and sometimes in favour of the defendant. After that date the balance of the account was always in favour of the plaintiffs, who continued to make advances up to the 10th May 1874. The last payment made by the defendant was on the 27th April 1874. The last advance made by the plaintiffs was on the 10th May 1874. On the 10th May 1874 the total balance due by the defendant was Rs. 514-12-2. The plaintiffs calculated interest on this sum up to the 9th April 1877, and on the 19th April 1877 filed the plaint in this suit to recover the said amount. The defendant pleaded limitation. The plaintiffs contended that the account between them and the defendant was a mutual account, and that, under clause 87 of schedule II of the Limitation Act, IX of 1871, the period of limitation dated from the day of the last advance made by them to the defendant,—viz., 10th May 1874. Held, on the authority of Ghaseeram v. Munohur Doss, 2 Ind. Jur., N. S., 241, that the account between the plaintiffs and the defendant was a mutual, current, and open account within the meaning of clause 87, and that the suit was not barred. Literally construed, clause 87 would apply only to those cases in which both parties have in the course of their dealings made actual demands on one another. The more reasonable and more probable intention of the framers of the clause appears to have been that it should apply to cases where the course of business has been of such a nature as to give rise to reciprocal demands between the parties; in other words, where the dealings between the parties are such that sometimes the balance may be in favour of one party and sometimes of the other. *NARANDAS HEMRAJ v. 13. ———— Limitation Act, 1877, s. 19.

—Acknowledgment of debt contained in unregistered document—Admissibility of document as evidence of acknowledgment—The nature of the pecuniary transactions between B and G. were such that sometimes a balance was due to the one and sometimes to the other. On the 1st October 1875 there was a balance due to B. During the ensuing year, as computed in the account, G. made payments to B. exceeding such balance. On the 19th November 1876 a balance of Rs. 500 was found to be due from G. to B. On the 11th December 1876 G. executed a conveyance of certain land to B, for which such debt was partly the consideration. In such conveyance G. acknowledged his liability in respect of such debt. He died before such conveyance was registered and it did not operate. On the 18th November 1879 B. sued G.'s widow for such debt. Held that such conveyance was admissible as evidence of the acknowledgment by G. of his liability for such debt, notwithstanding such conveyance was not registered; that, applying article 85, schedule II of Act XV of 1867, such debt was not barred by limitation when such acknowledgment was made, and that, if that article was not applicable, but the period of limitation began to run from the time each item composing such debt became a debt, still such debt would not have been barred when such acknowledgment was made, as the debt with which the year computed from the 1st October 1875 opened was extinguished by payments made by G. in the course of that year. *KRISHNAO v. ——— art. 86 (1871, art. 88).—Suit to recover amount due on policy of insurance.—Cause of action—Notice of loss—A suit for the recovery of the amount due on a policy of marine insurance fell under clause 10 of section I of Act XIV of 1859. In such cases the limitation (in the absence of a custom allowing a certain time of grace) begins to run from the date when the defendant has notice of the loss, and refuses or neglects to pay. *NAROTAMDAS BHAGTANDAS v. 1. ———— Cause of action.—Balance of account—The representatives of a gomasta, who had, for the last four years of his life, taken the moneys of his employers in advance for the purpose of the business, were sued for the balance of account of such moneys after giving credit for the amount of the gomasta's annual salary. Held that the cause of action arose at the date of the gomasta's death, and the suit, having been brought within the period of limitation from that date, was not barred. *KALIKRISHNA PAUL CHOWDHRY v. 2. ———— Suit against agent for an account—Mooktear.—An account of his receipts and disbursements having been demanded from a mooktear, he, on the 3rd of August 1872, wrote a letter in which he promised to render full accounts during the ensuing vacation. This he neglected, though he did not refuse, to do. Held that the limitation for a suit to compel an adjustment of account ran from the time when the defendant's promise to render accounts was broken, and was governed by Act IX of 1871, schedule II, article 90 (See Act XV of 1877, schedule II, article 89.) *HORI NARAIN GHOSE v. 3. ———— Suit for an account between principal and agent—Where a plaintiff alleged a continued agency in the defendant and prayed for relief on the ground that there was a specific balance against him, and prayed for the recovery of such sum or any larger sum that might be proved to be payable,—Held that such suit was essentially one for an account, and that limitation ran from the date on which the agency ceased. *HURRONATH ROY v. 1. Suit to set aside sale deed.—A suit of the kind mentioned in this article was under Act XIV of 1859 governed by the six years' limitation. THAKOOR PATTUOK v. RAM SOOMRUN LAL . . . 2 N. W., 433

2. Suit to cancel instrument.—K., to whom B. had given a usufructuary mortgage of certain land, promising to put him in possession, sued B. for the mortgage-money, B. having failed to put him in possession. This suit was instituted on the 22nd November 1875. On the 25th of the same month, K., learning that B. was about to dispose of his property, caused a notice to issue to him directing him not to transfer any of his property. This notice was served on B. on the 29th November. On the 1st December 1875 B. transferred certain land to T. by way of sale. K.'s suit was dismissed by the lower Courts, but the High Court, on the 7th August 1876, gave him a decree. Certain property belonging to B. was sold in execution of this decree, but the sale-proceeds were not sufficient to satisfy the amount due on the decree. K., thereupon, on the 1st July 1879, sued T. to cancel the conveyance to him by B. on the ground that it was fraudulent and without consideration. Held that the words in article 91, schedule II, Act XV of 1877, "when the facts entitling the plaintiff to have the instrument cancelled or set aside became known to him," must be construed to mean "when, having knowledge of such facts, a cause of action has accrued to him, and he is in a position to maintain a suit," and consequently the period of limitation for K.'s suit began to run, not merely when he had knowledge of the fraudulent character of the conveyance to T., but when, having such knowledge, it had become apparent to him that there was no other property than that conveyed to T. available for the realisation of the unsatisfied balance of his decree, and the suit was within time. TAWANGAR ALI v. KURA MAL . . . I. L. R., 3 All., 394

3. and art. 114.—Suit to cancel instrument—Suit for the rescission of a contract.—Time from which limitation runs.—Equitable estoppel.—B., P., and G. sued to cancel a lease of certain land on the ground that the lessor was not competent to grant the same, the defendants being the lessor and the lessee. The lessee's defence to the suit was that the lease had been executed with B.'s knowledge, who caused it to be attested and registered; that it was recognised and adopted by P. and G., who allowed the lessee to take possession of such land and accepted rent from him in respect thereof; that under these circumstances the plaintiffs were estopped from denying the lessor's competency to grant the lease; and that the suit was barred by limitation, as more than three years had elapsed from the date of the lease. The lower Appellate Court affirmed the decree of the Court of first instance in favour of the plaintiffs on the ground that the lessee was aware that the lessor was not competent to grant the lease. Held, on second appeal by the lessee, that the limitation applicable to the suit was to be found in No. 91, schedule II of Act XV of 1877, and not No. 114, that last article referring to the rescission of contracts as between promisors and promisees, and not to suits by third parties to have an instrument cancelled or set aside; and that, as regards B., inasmuch as the existence of the lease became known to him at the time of its execution, and three years from that time had expired, the suit was barred by limitation. The proper issues as between P. and G. and the lessee were framed and remitted for trial. BHAWANI PRASAD SINGH v. BISHESWAR PRASAD MISE

4. Suit for cancellation of instrument.—Mahomedan law—Gift.—Suit for possession of immoveable property.—One of the heirs of a deceased Mahomedan sued for her share under the Mahomedan law of the estate of the deceased, and to set aside a gift of his estate by the deceased, as invalid under that law, by reason that possession of the property transferred by the gift had not been delivered by the donor to the donee. Held that, because the suit was not brought within three years from the date of the gift, it did not necessarily follow that the suit was barred by article 91 of the Limitation Act, 1877, inasmuch as the plaintiff's title to impeach the gift could only accrue from the moment when, by receipt of possession, the gift had become operative by law. MEDA BIBI v. IMAMAN BIBI . . . I. L. R., 6 All., 207

5. Suit for cancellation of instrument—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877), s. 39.—Suit for declaratory decree.—The plaintiff, alleging that he was the proprietor of certain land, that defendant No. 2 had wrongfully and fraudulently mortgaged it to defendant No. 1, and that defendant No. 1 had applied for foreclosure of the mortgage, and notice of foreclosure had issued, claimed "that, the mortgage deed being set aside, the land be protected from the illegal foreclosure, by cancellation of the foreclosure proceedings." Held that the suit was not strictly one for the cancellation or setting aside of an instrument to which the limitation in No. 91, schedule II of the Limitation Act, 1877, would apply (which relates to suits of the nature of those referred to in section 39 of the Specific Relief Act), but rather one for a declaratory decree. SOBHA PANDEY v. SAHODRA BIBI . I. L. R., 5 All., 322

6. and art. 144.—Suit to cancel instrument—Champertry.—The plaintiffs sued for possession of certain immoveable property "by

1. ———— Suit to set aside will—Fraud—Cause of action—Where no fraud is alleged, the three years' limitation in clause 93 of the second schedule to the Limitation Act of 1871 will run from any attempt to enforce the instrument, although that attempt might not have been known to the person who brings the suit to declare it a forgery. Plaintiff and defendant were the widows of two joint uterine brothers. Defendant alleged that plaintiff's husband had left his share by will to the husband of defendant. Plaintiff alleged that the will was a forgery, and brought a suit for a declaration of her right to her husband's share after setting aside the will. Held that the substance of the claim being for a declaration of right, and not to set aside the will, the suit was not governed by the three years' limitation provided by clause 93, schedule II, Act IX of 1871. NISTARINY DASSEE v. ANUNDMOYE DASSEE

[2 C. L. R, 561]

2. ———— Attempt to enforce deed—In a suit in which the plaintiff had obtained a decree, and the defendant had appealed to Her Majesty in Council, a third party applied to be added as a respondent, on the ground that, by registered deed, the plaintiff had conveyed to him a share of the property decreed. The defendant objected that the deed was a forgery; but an order was made that the applicant should be joined as a respondent, without deciding whether the deed was or was not genuine, and "without prejudice," in the words of the order, "to any action or proceeding by the defendant." Held that the setting up the deed and insisting upon it for this purpose constituted "an attempt to enforce" it, and that a suit brought more than three years after the making of that order, by the appellant against the party so joined as a respondent, to have the deed set aside as being false and fabricated, was barred by limitation under Act IX of 1871, schedule II, clause 93. *FAKHARUDDIN MAHOMED AHSAN v. The present suit, having been brought more than six years after the judgment of the Civil Court,

3. ————— Act XIV of 1859, s. 10.—
Fraud by failure to pay share of revenue.—Section 10 of the Act of 1859 was held not to apply to a case where one of two co-owners of a putni fraudulently failed to pay his share of the rent and permitted the putni to be sold by the zemindar for arrears, but the cause of action in a suit against him by the other sharer was held to have accrued at the date of the sale. BHUGWAN CHUNDER ROY v. RAJ CHUNDER ROY 9 W. R., 553

4. ————— Extension of time on account of fraud.—Article 95, schedule II of the Limitation Law, provides a period of limitation in extension of the period which, in the absence of fraudulent concealment, would, under some other article, apply to a suit, and not a period less than that which under ordinary circumstances would be allowed for a suit of the same nature. OPENDRE NARAIN MOOKERJEE v. GUDADEVE DEX 25 W. R., 476

5. ————— Fraud.—Suit for possession of immoveable property.—Article 95 of the second schedule to Act IX of 1871 was not intended to apply to suits for possession of immoveable property when fraud is merely a part of the machinery by which the defendant has kept the plaintiff out of possession. That article has reference to cases where a party has been fraudulently induced to enter into some transaction, execute some deed, or do some other act, and desires to be relieved from the consequence of such act. CHUNDER NATH CHOWDHRY v. 6. ————— Suit to set aside decree obtained by fraud.—Suit against express trustee.—Certain of the grantees of lands, granted for the maintenance of the grantees and the support of a mosque and other religious purposes, sued for the removal of the superintendent of the property from his office. The parties to this suit entered into a compromise, which made certain arrangements for the management of the property, and a decree was made in accordance with the compromise. The grantees who were not parties to this suit then sued the grantees who were, to set aside the compromise and decree on the ground of fraud. Held that the suit fell within the terms of No. 95, schedule II of the Limitation Act, 1877, and there was nothing about it which made the exemption of section 10 of that Act applicable to it. MUHAMMAD BAKISH v. Suit for relief on the ground of fraud.—Suit to set aside execution sale.—Suit for possession of immoveable property.—Z. and his three minor sons were joint owners of a village. This Z. hypothecated by deed of simple mortgage to J. Subsequently Z. executed another deed of mortgage to J., part of the consideration whereof was the cancellation of the former bond, which was paid off and extinguished accordingly. J., however, fraudulently caused it to appear from the novating document that the former mortgage was still alive, and after the death of Z., put the bond in suit against Z.'s widow, who, being ignorant of the fraud, confessed judgment as guardian of her minor sons. The entire rights and interest of Z.'s heirs were sold in execution of the decree so obtained by J. Subsequently the fraud was discovered, and Z.'s sons brought a suit to set aside the execution sale and to recover possession of the property first mortgaged. In regard to three fourths of this property, they prayed that "possession might be awarded to them by establishment of their right and share, by amendment of the revenue papers." In regard to the remaining one fourth, they prayed for possession "by right of inheritance to Z.," by cancellation of the execution sale and of the fraudulent decree. They further alleged that they had first become aware of the fraud upon the day when they obtained from the registration office a copy of the novating instrument in which the fraudulent entries were contained. Held that the law of limitation applicable to the case was not that contained in article 12, nor in article 144, but that contained in article 95 of schedule II of the Limitation Act, inasmuch as fraud vitiates all things, and prevents the application of any other law of limitation than that specially provided for relief from its consequences. Held, further, that the knowledge predicated by the terms of article 95 of schedule II of the Limitation Act is not mere suspicion, but such definite knowledge as enables the person defrauded to seek his remedy in Court. Held, under the circumstances of the present case, that the burden of proving such knowledge on the part of the plaintiffs, prior to the date alleged by them, lay upon the defendants. NATHA SINGH v. JODHA SINGH I. L. R., 6 All., 406

8. ————— and arts. 63 and 84.—Suit on indemnity bond.—Fraud.—Cause of action.—On the 27th July 1868 plaintiff received from defendant an indemnity bond, promising to indemnify plaintiff against the misbehaviour of a third person. On the 4th June 1870 the third person committed an act of embezzlement. In an action brought by plaintiff on the 28th June 1873 on the indemnity bond, the first Court held the claim barred under clauses 63 and 84 of schedule II, Act IX of 1871. On appeal that decree was reversed, and the claim allowed under clause 95 of the same schedule. The High Court, on special appeal, held that clauses 63 and 84, and not clause 95, applied to the case, as the suit was one, not for relief on the ground of fraud, but for breach of a contract to indemnify against fraud. SHAFURJI JAHANGIRJI v. 11. ——— and art. 96.—Suit for money paid under Land Acquisition Act.—Fraud or mistake, knowledge of.—In 1876 K sued M. on a bond, dated 25th December 1869, for Rs5,000, by which certain land in the district of South Tanjore was hypothecated as security for the debt, and obtained a decree on the 6th of April 1876 for the sale of the lands, which he purchased on the 17th August 1876 for Rs6,000. K then discovered that part of the land hypothecated, situated within the jurisdiction of the Subordinate Court at Kumbakonam, had been acquired by a railway company under the Land Acquisition Act in 1874, and that the compensation, Rs460 (claimed by M's mother, who sold the land to the company), was lodged in the treasury of Kumbakonam in the name of M's mother K, having applied to the Subordinate Court for an order for payment out of this sum, the Court, by order dated 28th February 1880, directed that the question of title to the money should be decided by suit. K then sued M. as the sole heir of his deceased mother in the District Munsif's Court of Tiruvadi (where M. resided) for a declaration of right to, and to recover, the said sum of Rs460. The suit was filed on the 4th September 1880. On the 16th April 1880 M assigned his interest in the money sued for to V, who was made defendant in the suit on his own application and pleaded that the suit was barred by limitation, inasmuch as more than three years had elapsed since the money was paid by the railway company. Held that the suit was not barred by limitation, as the compensation was awarded to M's mother either through fraud on her part or mistake on the part of the Collector, and K. did not become aware of the fraud or mistake until within six years of the suit (articles 95, 96, of schedule II of the Limitation Act). VENKATA VIRABAGAVAYANGAR v. —In a suit brought on the 29th July 1867, to recover back a deposit of purchase-money paid in September 1863, it appeared that the vendor had re-sold the estate, and that the plaintiff thereupon sued for and obtained a decree for specific performance against the vendor and the purchaser at the re-sale. On appeal by the purchaser at the re-sale this decree was reversed on the 29th August 1865. Held that the suit to recover back the deposit was not barred, since the cause of action for its recovery did not accrue till 29th August 1865. RAMJAY DEY v. 1. ———— Suit in nature of partnership demand.—Plaintiff was in the service of the principal defendant (C.), who was carrying on a partnership business with another as founders and engineers. During such service, plaintiff, C, and a third party entered into a joint adventure or partnership, with respect to the purchase, employment, and sale of a steam tug, the profit or loss to be shared equally,—it being arranged that C. should retain in his hands plaintiff's monthly salary and appropriate so much as might be necessary to plaintiff's share of the expenses. After sale of the tug, the account was made up, showing a separate loss to each partner of Rs. 341, and was allowed and approved by each some time prior to 29th July 1868. On the date last mentioned plaintiff signed an account between himself and C, in which a balance was struck in plaintiff's favour, and immediately reduced by payment of a part to Rs. 4054. On the same date, C instructed his clerk to write to plaintiff claiming to deduct board and lodging expenses, and on 30th July 1868 plaintiff replied refusing to allow the deduction. A further portion of the balance was afterwards paid by C. On the 31st July 1871, plaintiff instituted a suit against C. and the third partner, framing his claim as if it were in the nature of a partnership demand. Held that, on the 29th July 1868, when plaintiff signed the account, and a balance had been struck, all partnership transactions had ceased between the parties, and that he was entitled to sue C. for the balance of all salary and moneys in C.'s hands; but that his claim was not a partnership demand. *MACCORKINDALE v. Where proceedings were going on to effect a partition, the right to particular properties being in dispute.—Held that the right to mesne profits accrued at the termination of those proceedings, and that the party improperly kept out of possession was entitled to sue for all mesne profits during the period of his non-possession, subject to any grounds which the defendant could show which would entitle a Court of Equity to deprive the plaintiff of his rights. In a suit brought in January 1862, respecting property situated in Assam, mesne profits for twenty-eight years prior to 1854 were decreed, subject to any equitable claims for deducting any portion, Act XIV of 1859 not applying to Assam previous to July 1862. NILKAMAL LAHURI v. 11. ———— and art. 40.—Mesne profits misappropriated.—Suit for value of crops.—The defendant obtained a decree in a suit brought against the plaintiff for arrears of rent and for ejection, in execution of which he evicted the plaintiff from his holding, and, after getting possession thereof, carried away certain crops which were then standing on the land. The plaintiff appealed from the decree obtained by the defendant, and on appeal it was set aside, on the plaintiff depositing the rent due, and the plaintiff recovered possession of his tenure. Held that such a suit was a suit "for profits of immovable property belonging to the plaintiff wrongfully received by the defendant" within the meaning of Act IX of 1871, section 109, and not a suit for "compensation for any wrong, malfeasance, nonfeasance, or misfeasance, independent of contract," within the meaning of article 36 of the same Act. SHURNOMOYEE v. The suit was one for rent of land, and fell within the scope of clause 8, section 1 of that Act. GOBINDO COOMAR CHOWDHRY v. MANSON . 10 B. L. R., 56; 23 W. R., 152

3. ————— Suit for compensation in shape of rent for land. — A suit to make the defendant liable for compensation in the shape of rent for the land which he held in the name of his servant, was held to be not a suit for rent under Bengal Act VIII of 1869, and was subject to the six years' limitation prescribed by clause 16, section 1, Act XIV of 1859. KISHENBUTTY MISRAIN v. cupation — Plaintiff, who was the zemindar, having obtained a decree against the auction-purchaser of a putni tenure held under his zemindari for the rents of the years 1279, 1280, and 1281, and being unable to realise the whole amount due under the same, subsequently learned that A., who had purchased a share in the putni from B., who derived his title from the original defendant, had been in possession during these years. He then sued A. for the balance due under the first decree. This suit was filed on the 21st Baisack 1285. Held that the second suit, whether it was governed by Bengal Act VIII of 1869, or by the general law of limitation, was barred, inasmuch as it was a suit for rent and brought more than three years after the arrears became due. PITAMBUR SEN v. 2. ————— Specific performance. — Trust — Laches. — In 1860, certain shares in a company then formed were allotted to S., on the understanding, as the plaintiffs alleged, that 120 of such shares should, on the amount thereof being paid to S., be transferred to and registered in the books of the company in the names of the plaintiffs. In 1862 the plaintiffs completed the payment to S. in respect of the shares, and during his lifetime received dividends in respect of the said shares. S. died in 1870, leaving a will, probate of which was granted to the defendant as his executor. In a suit brought by the plaintiffs after demand of the shares from the defendant, and refusal by him to deliver them, to compel the defendant to transfer the shares to the plaintiffs, and register the same in their names, the plaintiffs' case was that the shares had been held in trust for them, and that, consequently, their suit was not barred by lapse of time. Held that the transaction between S. and the plaintiffs did not amount to "a trust for any specific purpose" within the meaning of section 10 of the Limitation Act, or to a trust at all, but to an agreement of which the plaintiffs were entitled to specific performance, and the limitation applicable was that provided by clause 113 of schedule II, Act IX of 1871, and therefore the suit was not barred. Nor were the plaintiffs disentitled to relief by reason of any laches or delay in bringing the suit. AHMED MAHOMED PATEL v. ADJEIN DOOPLY

3. ——— Suit for specific performance of contract.—Suit on award.—Act I of 1877 (Specific Relief Act), s 30—A suit for money, based on an award, which directs its payment by the defendant to the plaintiff, is virtually a suit to have the award specifically enforced; and as by section 30 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877, awards are placed on the same footing as contracts, No. 113, schedule II of the Limitation Act, 1877, is applicable to such a suit. SUKHO BIBI v. 4. ——— and art 144.—Vendor and purchaser.—Contract of sale.—Suit for specific performance of contract.—Suit for possession of immovable property—A contract was made for the sale of certain immovable property, in the event of the vendor obtaining a decree establishing his title to the property, in a suit which had been brought for that purpose. The vendor obtained such decree in that suit. The purchaser subsequently brought a suit "to have a sale-deed executed and completed," and for possession of the property. It was contended that the limitation applicable to the suit was that provided by article 144 of the Limitation Act, 1877, and not article 113. Held that the suit was essentially one for specific performance of contract, and the limitation applicable was article 113. The contention that, so far as the suit was for possession of immovable property it should be governed by article 144, was invalid. The right to possession sprang out of the contract of sale, and the relief by giving possession was comprised in the relief by specific performance of the contract of sale, and could not be governed in this suit by any but article 113. But assuming the suit might, so far as limitation was concerned, be entertained, still, as the right to possession was dependent on the contract of sale, if the suit could not be maintained for specific performance of the contract, it could not be maintained for possession of the property sold under the contract. MUHI-UD-DIN AHMAD KHAN v. 1. ——— Suit for breach of contract.—In a suit to recover a sum of money (principal and interest) on account of rent paid for a certain mouzah which had been farmed out to the plaintiff by defendant No. 1, but of which the plaintiff could not get possession,—Held that the cause of action as laid in the plaint was a breach of contract on the part of the principal defendant, and the action was one for damages falling under section 1 of Act XIV of 1859, within the meaning of clause 9 if the contract of lease was verbal, and within clause 10 if it was in writing. The case was not that of a suit for breach of an implied contract as distinguished from a contract of actual agreement, and the obligation of the defendant to make good the loss caused to the plaintiff was not one merely which the law raises upon a state of circumstances independently of any actual agreement. BROOKE v. Limitation, 1859. Held, also, that, treating the case as one of implied contract, the cause of action arose when the plaintiff was compelled to pay money which the defendant was legally bound to pay; and, thirdly, that, if the defendant was in truth the plaintiff's agent, but had induced the plaintiff to make him so by the fraudulent representation that he was the agent of the clients, the cause of action would have arisen at the discovery of the fraud PENUBALLI SUBHARAMAREDDI v. 5. ———— Contract to supply goods.

Suit for balance due.—In a suit to recover a balance due for articles supplied to defendant on account current between the parties, where an oral contract existed to the effect that, on defendant's giving chittis as security, articles of food for daily consumption would be supplied to him from plaintiff's shop, the chittis to be returned to defendant at intervals after payment on presentation, it was found that plaintiff last, on the 1st Assar 1276, returned to defendant the unpaid chittis then on hand; but defendant did not pay their amount. Subsequently, on different dates, he paid a portion. In a suit for what remained due, Held that the breach of contract on which the suit was brought occurred when the defendant failed to pay, on presentation of the chittis, the amount then due and payable. RAM DOYAL KOONDOL v. GOOROO DASS SEN

6. ———— Breach of contract in not satisfying decree—Cause of action—Where S, for a valuable consideration, promised K to satisfy a decree outstanding against him, and, instead of carrying out his agreement, purchased the decree, applied for its execution, and brought K's property to sale, K's right of action accrued from the date of the application, not from the date of the sale. MAHOMED HADEE v. SHRO SEVUK DOBBEY . 6 N. W., 95

7. ———— Suit for trees on land after ejectment.—Cause of action.—A. having been in possession of garden land from 1850 as tenant of B. under a two years' lease, continued to occupy as yearly tenant till 1860, when he was ejected in a suit brought against him by B. In 1864 A. sued on a clause in the lease which he contended gave him a right to remove certain trees planted on the land. Held that the breach of contract (if any) took place when B. took possession of the land together with the trees in execution of his decree in the ejectment suit, and that A.'s claim was barred by clause 10, section 1 of Act XIV of 1859. SAXAJI v. UMAJI

8. ———— Suit on agreement to pay rent to creditor.—Cause of action—Plaintiff executed a zur-i-peshgi lease to defendant for a term of years, and arranged with him contemporaneously that he (the lessee) was to make an annual payment (out of the rents payable to plaintiff) to a creditor of the plaintiff, with a view to clear off a debt. These payments, though made punctually for a time, were withheld while a balance of the debt still remained due, to recover which the creditor sued the lessor (plaintiff) and obtained a decree. Held that plaintiff's (lessor's) cause of action against the defendant (lessee) arose from the date of the latter's breach of contract,—i.e., the date on which he failed to pay. ZOOLFEE BEGUM v. RAM SURUN ROY

9. ———— Suit for abatement of rent founded on agreement for measurement—Payment of same rent—Abandonment—In a suit for abatement of rent founded on an agreement that, at a certain time, the land should be measured, and if found less than the quantity named in the agreement, there should be an abatement of the rent, it was found that the plaintiff had never required abatement, but had continued to pay the rent six years. Held that the suit was barred by limitation, the cause of action having arisen when the zemindar continued to take rent according to the quantity of land named in the agreement. Semble,—There might be ground for saying that the agreement was abandoned by the parties. PROSUNNO MOYEE DOSSEE v. DOYA MOYEE DOSSEE

10. ———— Sale of goods on credit.—Breach of contract.—Where there was a clause in a partnership agreement by which the defendants, the working partners, undertook to be liable for any outstandings in respect of goods sold on credit, the sale of goods on credit was held not to be any breach of contract, and not to bring the suit under clause 9 of section 1 of Act XIV of 1859. KALEE KRISTO ROY CHOWDREY v. HARAN CHUNDER DEY

11. ———— Contract for manufactured indigo.—Breach of contract.—Certain factories, already sown with indigo, were given in lease by the Court of Wards; and the lessees agreed to take over all contracts and pay all expenses which had been incurred for that season's cultivation, depositing the amount of outlay incurred. The lessees having been set aside by superior authority, the lessees agreed to give up the factories and all the indigo manufactured by them while in possession, on condition of being repaid the amount deposited by them. In a suit to recover the value of the indigo not delivered, Held the suit was one for breach of contract and governed by clause 9, section 1, Act XIV of 1859. BAMA SOONDURY DEBIA v. JARDINE, SKINNER, & Co.

12. ———— Suit for breach of contract to deliver goods—The defendants were owners of a fleet of steamers plying periodically along the coast of British India by which they undertook to convey for freight parcels of goods indifferently from and to specified ports. In a suit for compensation for value of goods short delivered, Held that the suit was one for breach of contract to deliver, and was governed by article 115 of the Limitation Act, 1877. BRITISH INDIA STEAM NAVIGATION CO. v. 13. ——— and art. 120.—Re-marriage of Hindu widow—Custom—Breach of contract.—The plaintiff sued the defendant, who had married the plaintiff's deceased brother's widow, to recover, by way of compensation, the money expended by his deceased brother's family on his marriage, founding his claim upon a custom prevailing among the Jats of Ajmere, whereby a member of that community marrying a widow was bound to recoup the expenses incurred by her deceased husband's family on his marriage. Held that the suit was one of the character described in No 115, schedule II of Act XV of 1877, and not in No 120 of that schedule, and the period of limitation was therefore three and not six years. MADDA v. SHEO BAKSH [I. L. R., 3 All., 385]

14. ——— and art. 30.—Suit by consignee against railway company for non-delivery.—Where a suit is brought against a railway company by the consignee of goods (not sent on sample or for approval) for compensation for non-delivery, the period of limitation is not two years (article 30), but three years (article 115, schedule II of the Limitation Act, 1877), inasmuch as the consignor contracts with the company as agent for the consignee, and the property in the goods passes to the consignee on delivery to the company. HAS-SAJI v. EAST INDIAN RAILWAY COMPANY [I. L. R., 5 Mad., 388]

15. ——— and art. 30.—Bill of lading.—Contract, Breach of, for delivery of goods.—Onus of proof of loss of goods.—Where a plaintiff brings a suit for breach of contract for non-delivery of goods under a bill of lading, it is not open to the defendant, after having denied receipt of the goods, to set up, or for the Court, after finding that the goods had been shipped but not delivered, to assume, without evidence, that the goods were lost, in order to bring the case within article 30, schedule II of the Limitation Act of 1877. Per GARTH, C. J.—Semble.—Where a plaintiff sues for breach of contract and proves his case, the three years' limitation would be applicable, although the defendants were to prove that the breach occurred in consequence of some wrongful act of theirs, to which the shorter limitation would apply. *Mohansing Chawan v. 17. ——— Breach of contract.—Cause of action—Damages.—In a suit for breach of a contract to be performed at different times, the period of limitation must be calculated from each breach of contract as it arises. Where there is a contract for performing certain duties in each of several years, each breach of the contract is a complete cause of action, and damages are recoverable for each breach separately. *MAHI SAHU v. 18. ——— Continuing breach—Contract.—A, agreed with B, to refund to N the price of certain property sold by A. to N, and of which a share belonged to B. A, having died without fulfilling the agreement, N, obtained against B, a decree for possession of part of the property. Five years subsequent to N's suit, B's heirs sued A's heirs for damages for breach of the agreement. Held that such breach of the agreement was a continuing breach, and had not even yet ceased, and that therefore the present suit was not barred by article 115, schedule II of the Limitation Act. IMDAD ALI v. SIVASAMY ROW 4 Mad., 216

2. ——— Contract or engagement in writing—Suit on promissory note by indorsee against payee.—The defendant, the payee of a promissory note, endorsed it to the plaintiff. The endorsement was, "Pay to K M (plaintiff) or his order." The promissory note had been registered previous to the endorsement to plaintiff. A suit was brought by the plaintiff three years after the date of the endorsement to recover the amount of the note from the defendant. Held that the suit was barred by the law of limitation. *KYLANANADA MOODELLY v. 5. ————— Registered bond—Compensation for breach of contract.—A suit to recover a specific sum of money due upon a registered bond or other written contract is a suit for compensation for breach of contract in writing registered, within the meaning of article 116 of schedule II of Act XV of 1877, and may be brought within six years from the time when the period of limitation would begin to run against a suit brought on a similar contract which is not registered. GANESH KRISHNA v MADHAPAO RATVI I. L. R., 6 Bom., 75

6. ————— Registered bond for the payment of money.—Suit for compensation for the breach of a contract in writing registered.—The defendant having borrowed money from the plaintiff, gave him a bond, dated 4th July 1872, for the payment of such money, with interest, within two years, or on certain contingencies contemplated and defined in such bond. Such bond did not specify a day for payment. It was duly registered. On the 30th June 1880, the plaintiff sued the defendant, stating in his plaint that he had lent the defendant such money; that it was payable on the 4th July 1874; that on that day he had demanded payment, that the cause of action arose on that day, as the defendant did not pay; and that he claimed such money accordingly. The plaint did not make any mention of such bond. Held that the suit was not one which fell within the scope of article 66 of schedule II of Act XV of 1877, but one to which article 116 of that schedule was applicable and it might proceed on the plaint without any amendment thereof. *GAURI SHANKAR v. 10. ————— Suit on a registered bond, and for misappropriation by executor de son tort.—In a suit on a registered bond payable in eleven yearly instalments to recover instalments 5 to 10 from the representatives of two deceased co-debtors (who as managing members of an undivided Hindu family had contracted the debt for family purposes), the plaintiff added as defendants G, the son-in-law of one of the deceased co-debtors, and his two brothers, on the ground that they, in collusion with the widow of such deceased, co-debtor, had as volunteers intermeddled with and possessed themselves of substantially the whole property of the family of the deceased co-debtor. The bond was dated 26th March 1870. The earliest instalment sued for fell due on 13th March 1874. Held that, as the bond was a registered bond, and the property had been misappropriated within three years of the date of the suit, the suit was not barred by limitation. MAGALURI GURUDIAH v NARAYANA RUNGIAH . . . 12. ————— and art. 65 — Vendor and purchaser.—Agreement by purchaser to refund purchase-money in case land sold proved deficient in quantity.—Suit for refund.—Suit for compensation for breach of contract.—The vendor of certain land agreed in the conveyance, which was registered, that in case the land actually conveyed proved to be less than that purporting to be conveyed, he should make a refund to the purchaser of the purchase-money in proportion to the value of the quantity of land deficient. The land actually conveyed having proved to be less than that purporting to be conveyed, and the vendor having failed to make a refund of the purchase-money in proportion to the value of the quantity of land deficient, the purchaser sued the vendor for the value of the quantity of land deficient. Held by SPANKIE, J., that the suit was one of the nature described in article 65, schedule II of Act XV of 1877, to which, the agreement being in writing registered, the limitation provided by article 116, schedule II of that Act, was —Registered agreement.—Contract Act, s. 73—Compensation.—A suit to recover from the representatives of a deceased agent certain sums of money which had been received by such agent in the course of his duties and misappropriated by him, will be governed by the limitation prescribed by article 116, schedule II, Act XV of 1877, when the contract under which the agent was employed is contained in a duly registered instrument. In a suit for compensation for breach of a contract in writing and registered, whether such compensation be for a liquidated or unliquidated sum, the limitation applicable is six years as prescribed by article 116, schedule II, Act XV of 1877. In article 116, schedule II of Act XV of 1877, the word "compensation" seems to be used in the sense in which it appears in section 73 of the Contract Act, IX of 1872. In April 1875, A. entered into an agreement in writing with B., whereby he agreed to act as the manager of B.'s zemindaries and other landed properties for three years, on certain terms therein mentioned. The agreement was duly registered. On the 15th of June 1882, B. sued the Administrator General of Bengal, as administrator of A.'s estate, to recover certain sums of money, set forth in detail in the plaint, as having been received by A. and not accounted for, stating that they had been misappropriated by A. Held that in respect of such sums as were received by A. in virtue of his position as manager under the registered agreement, the limitation of six years applied; but that in respect of the sums received by him in the course of transactions which did not come within the scope of the registered agreement, the limitation of three years applied. *HARENDER KISHORE SINGH v. it was held that a mere notice that an adoption has taken place is not of itself a cause of action from which limitation would run to bar a reversioner, —a ruling which seems to be set aside by the present Act.

13. ——— and arts. 89 and 90.—Principal and agent—Breach of contract.—Account.

1. ——— Suit to set aside adoption.—Ignorance of adoption or its validity.—Cause of action.—In a suit to set aside an adoption, the period of limitation is not to be reckoned from the date of the adoption if the members of the family who seek to set it aside have by their declaration or conduct subsequently shown that they did not know of the adoption or did not regard it as valid it should be reckoned from the time when there was distinct knowledge of the validity of the adoption. *SOOBURNOMONEE DABEE v. 3. ——— Suit to set aside adoption.—Plaintiff sued in 1877 to set aside an adoption which was alleged to have taken place twenty years before, and, as heir of the husband of the last Adhikar, who died in 1282, to obtain possession of a certain temple and properties attached thereto which the defendant claimed under the said adoption. Held, on the authority of Raj Bahadur Singh v. Achumbit Lal, L. R., 6 I. A., 110. 6 Calc., L. R., 12, that the suit was not barred by article 129, schedule II of Act IX of 1871. PURNA NARAIN AUDHIKAR v. HEMOKANT AUDHIKAR . 6 C. L. R., 46

4. ——— Suit to obtain a declaration that an alleged adoption is invalid or never took place.—Suit for possession of immoveable property.—Act XV of 1877, sch. II, art. 141.—Article 118 of the Limitation Act applies only to suits where the relief claimed is purely for a declaration that an alleged adoption is invalid or never in fact took place. Such a suit is distinct from a suit for possession of property, and the latter kind of suit cannot be held to be barred as a suit brought under article 118, merely by reason of its raising a question of the validity of an adoption, but is separately provided for by article 141. It is discretionary in a Court to grant relief by a declaration of a right, and consequently the fact that a person has not sued for a declaration should not be a bar to a suit for possession of property on any ground of limitation prescribed for the former. BASDEO v. GOPAL I. L. R., 8 All., 644

5. ——— Act IX of 1871, art. 129—Meaning of “suit to set aside adoption”—Article 129 of schedule II of Act IX of 1871, the Indian Limitation Act of that year, using the expression “suit to set aside an adoption,” denoted a suit bringing the validity of an adoption into question; and the rule of limitation given by that article applied to all suits in which the sutor could not succeed without displacing an apparent adoption, in virtue of which the opposite party was in possession. The plaintiffs, as collateral heirs of a childless Hindu, questioned the adoptions purporting to have been made by his widows in pursuance of authority from him; such adoptions having been followed by continuous possession, and having been recognised in formal instruments, proceedings, and decrees to which the plaintiffs were parties. Held, on the ground that the adoptions were brought into question more than twelve years after their date, though less than twelve years after the plaintiffs’ titles (if any) had accrued at the death of the surviving widow, that the suits were barred under article 129 of schedule II of Act IX of 1871. Part of the language of the judgment in Raja Bahadur Singh v. Achumbut Lall, L. R., 6 I. A., 110, referred to, and that case, in which the plaintiffs’ claim was not affected by the widow’s adoption, distinguished from the present. JAGADAMBA CHAUDHRAI v. DAKHINA MOHUN ROY CHAUDHRI. 6. ——— and art. 125.—Suit by reversioner to declare adoption invalid, and set aside alienation.—Where a plaintiff, as reversioner, prayed for a declaration that an adoption alleged to have been made by a Hindu widow eighteen years before suit was invalid, and that the sale of certain property made by the widow and the adopted son two years before suit was not binding upon him, Held that the suit, being substantially brought to declare the invalidity of the sale so as to enable plaintiff to recover as reversioner on the death of the widow and adopted son, and the declaration as to the adoption being ancillary to that claim, was not barred by limitation. SRINIVASA v. The general period of limitation of six years under clause 16 of section 1 of the Act of 1859 was necessarily much wider in its application than is article 120 of the present Act, so many more suits being now specially provided for. There was under the Act of 1859 a difference of three years in the period of limitation applicable to contracts registered and that applicable to unregistered contracts which could have been registered, the period being six years for the former, and three years for the latter. Suits on contracts which could not have been registered were considered as cases not specially provided for, and held to be governed by the general limitation of six years.

4. ————— Suit for abatement of rent.—Suit for apportionment of rent.—Beng. Act VIII of 1869, s 19—In 1877 certain butwara proceedings were terminated, and the amount of land held by the plaintiff in the portion of the estate allotted to the defendant was ascertained. The rent payable was admitted to be at the rate of Rs4 per beegah. In 1881 the defendants sued the plaintiff for rent of a larger amount than the plaintiff admitted to be due, and obtained a decree on the 31st May 1881. On the 20th September 1881, the plaintiff instituted a suit nominally under the provisions of section 19 of Bengal Act VIII of 1869 for abatement of rent, upon the ground that the defendants were seeking to charge him rent upon a larger amount of land than he actually held. The defendants pleaded that the suit was barred by limitation as being brought more than one year after the cause of action accrued. The Court found that the amount of land held by the plaintiff was the amount stated by him in his plaint, and not that alleged by the defendants. Held that the suit was rather one for the apportionment of rent after the butwara proceedings, and not one for abatement of rent, and that it was not barred by limitation, inasmuch as the period allowed for such suit must be taken to be six years and not one year. 5. ————— Breach of covenant in lease.
 —The defendant took certain land from the plaintiff under a registered lease, which contained a clause prohibiting the defendant from digging a tank on the land without the plaintiff's permission. The defendant having, nevertheless, constructed a tank without such permission, the plaintiff brought a suit to compel him to fill up the tank, or, in case he should fail to do so, for compensation. Held that the period of limitation applicable to such a suit was article 120 of schedule II of the Limitation Act. 6. ————— Suit to recover compensation-money wrongfully drawn out of Collectorate—A., a Hindu widow, granted, without legal necessity, a mokurrari lease of certain mouzahs, portion of her husband's estate, to B. During B.'s possession part of the lands comprised in the granted mouzahs were taken up by Government, and the compensation-money was lodged in the Collectorate. A. having afterwards died, the next heirs of A.'s husband, on the 7th October 1871, sued B. to recover possession of the mouzahs, but not being aware of the facts, did not in that suit claim the compensation-money lying in the Collectorate. While this suit was still pending, B., in March 1872, drew the compensation-money out of the Collectorate. The heirs, after obtaining a decree against B. for possession of the mouzahs, on the 13th September 1875 instituted a fresh suit against him to recover the compensation-money wrongfully drawn out by him from the Collectorate. Held that it was not barred by limitation, although more than three years had elapsed since the money had been drawn out by B.,—article 118, and not article 60, of schedule II of the Limitation Act IX of 1871, applying to the case. 10. — Suit on mortgage bond to recover amount by sale of property.—Personal liability of mortgagor.—Cause of action.—By a mortgage bond, dated the 28th Magh 1281 B S. (9th February 1875), it was provided that if the mortgagors should fail to pay the money secured thereby according to the terms thereof, the mortgagees should immediately institute a suit and realise the amount due by sale of the mortgaged property, and that if the proceeds of such sale should not be sufficient to liquidate the debt, the mortgagees should realise the balance from the persons and other properties of the mortgagors. It was further agreed that the principal and interest secured by the bond should be repaid in the month of Magh 1282 (January—February 1876). In a suit instituted on the 9th October 1882 upon the mortgage to recover the amount due by the sale of the mortgaged property, and the balance, if any, from the persons of the mortgagors, Held that the bond in question provided for two remedies in one suit, and did not contemplate a second suit being instituted to recover the balance from the persons of the mortgagors in the event of the first remedy against the mortgaged property proving insufficient to pay the debt in full, and consequently that the cause of action against the persons of the mortgagors accrued upon the date on which the mortgage-money became due; and as the suit was instituted more than six years after that date, the plaintiff's claim was barred by limitation, so far as the personal liability of the mortgagors was concerned. MILLER v. 11. — Suit to recover non-hereditary office.—Karnam.—The plaintiff's adoptive father was dismissed from the office of karnam on the 4th of April 1862, and the plaintiff was appointed in his stead on the 29th April 1865. On the 25th September 1865 the plaintiff was dismissed and the second defendant appointed. The present suit for recovery of the office and land attached was filed on 21st September 1877. Held, on the authority of Tammurazu Ramazogi v. Pantina Narsiah, 6 Mad., 301, that the suit was barred, not having been brought within six years from the 25th September 1865. Fattehsangji Jaswatsangji v. Dessar Kallianrayji Hekumtrayji, L. 14. — Mortgage by conditional sale.—Right to sue.—The limitation for a suit to enforce a right of pre-emption in respect of a mortgage by conditional sale is that provided by No 120, schedule II of Act XV of 1877,—that is to say, six years (Nath Prasad v. Ram Paltan Ram, I. L. R., 4 All., 218, followed), and where the mortgagee by conditional sale is not in possession under the mortgage, and after foreclosure has to sue for possession, the right to sue to enforce a right of pre-emption accrues when he obtains a decree for possession. RASIK LAL v. GADRAJ SINGH. . . I. L. R., 4 All., 414

15. — Suit for pre-emption.—Bival pre-emptor impleaded as defendant.—Two suits to enforce the right of pre-emption in respect of a particular sale having been instituted, the plaintiff in the one first instituted was added as a defendant to the other. Held that, as regards him, the second suit constituted a claim by one pre-emptor against another for determination of the question whether the plaintiff or the defendant had the better right to pre-empt the property, which was a claim essentially declaratory in its nature, and there being no specific provision for such a claim in the Limitation Act, it was governed by article 120 of that Act, and the right to sue accrued when the first suit was instituted. DURGA v. HAIDAR ALI. . . I. L. R., 7 All., 167

16. — and art. 73.—Promissory note.—Special agreement.—Held that a suit brought in March 1881 upon a promissory note, dated the 12th of September 1875, payable at any time within six years upon demand, was not barred by limitation, being governed, not by article 73, but by article 120 of schedule II of the Limitation Act, 1877. SANJIVI v. crees for rent at the enhanced rate, based on the original one of the 29th of June 1863. 21. ———— and art. 11.—Order disallowing claim.—Civil Procedure Codes (Act VIII of 1859), s. 246, and (Act X of 1877), ss 97-371.—The defendants attached certain property, which the plaintiffs alleged belonged to them. The plaintiffs preferred a claim to the property under section 246 of Act VIII of 1859: this claim was disallowed on the 15th August 1877. In June 1878 the plaintiffs brought a suit to establish their title to the property attached, and for confirmation of possession. Pending this suit, the principal defendant died, and the plaintiffs applied for an order to substitute certain persons as defendants. The Court thereupon directed the issue of a summons on the defendants proposed by the plaintiffs to appear and defend the suit; but the plaintiffs failing to pay the costs of the service of this summons, the suit was dismissed on the 14th March 1879. On the 4th March 1880 the plaintiffs again brought a suit to establish their title to the same property, and for confirmation of possession. Held that the order of the 15th August 1877 not being an order passed under section 283 of Act X of 1877, article 11 of schedule II of Act XV of 1877 did not apply, but that article 120 of schedule II was applicable. BISSESSUR BHUGUT v. against C. for rent, obtained possession of certain property. D., whose husband was originally tenant of the property, had sold her interest in it, obtained a mortgage from her vendee upon it, and subsequently, in execution of a decree, dated 12th January 1877, on the mortgage, attached the property, but the attachment was released on the 14th April 1877 at the instance of A. and B. D. thereupon transferred her decree to the plaintiff, who again attached the property, but the attachment was again refused. The plaintiff then sued on the 18th March 1880 to have it declared that the decree of the 14th January 1877 was collusive, and that he was entitled to sell the property under the mortgage decree of 12th January 1877. Held that the suit was governed, not by article 11, but by article 120, of schedule II of the Limitation Act, and that the suit was not barred. BRJO MOHUN BHUTTO v. On the death of such third person his heirs sued the shroff to recover the sum deposited, and on the 30th January 1878 obtained a decree, in satisfaction of which the shroff paid the decretal money into Court on the 15th January 1883. On the 5th February 1884 the shroff sued T., the heirs of the third party and another person (who owned to having received some of the money from T.), to recover the sum he had been compelled to pay under the decree of 1878. Held that the plaintiff's cause of action arose at the time when he actually paid down the money on the 15th January 1883, and that the suit, therefore, was not barred by limitation. TORAB ALI KHAN v. 24. ———— Express trust.—Administration suit.—Executor.—Suit for an account against an executor or his representative—R. died in 1865, leaving a will, of which his nephews P. and S. were the executors. His will provided that after payment of all debts, &c., the residue of his property should remain in the hands of the executors, who were "to maintain the family in the same manner as I used to maintain the family in my house." After the death of both the executors, the residue was to be apportioned among the children of his nephews in equal shares. On the death of the testator, P. took possession of the estate, and died on the 10th January 1876. S. remained passive until the 27th August 1884, when he took out probate of R.'s will. On the 23rd January 1885, he filed the present suit against the defendant as widow and administratrix of P., praying for an account of the estate of R. that had come to the hands of P., and also for an account of the estate of P. The plaintiff contended that R.'s estate came into the hands of P. as a trustee; that the suit was to recover the property for the purposes of the trust, and that section 10 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) applied. The defendant alleged that all the moneys belonging to R.'s estate, which had come into the hands of P., had been expended in paying R.'s debts, and that there was no residue left for the purposes of the trusts of the will, and she contended that the suit was barred by limitation. Held that the suit was barred by article 120 of schedule II of the Limitation Act, XV of 1877, being primarily not a suit to follow trust property in the hands of a representative of a trustee, but really to ascertain whether any trust remained to be administered after the testator's debts and funeral expenses had been paid. No breach of trust was alleged. The suit was merely for an account against the executor or his representative. To such a suit section 10 of the Limitation Act does not apply. SHARUJI NOWROJI POCHAJI v. BHIKAJI 24. ———— Company, Winding up.

—Liquidator.—Suit by liquidator for calls.—Period of limitation applicable to suit by liquidator for calls different from that applicable to suit by company itself.—The directors of the P. company made a call of Rs 100 per share upon its shareholders on the 1st October 1882. On the 8th March 1886, the company was ordered to be wound up by the Court, and an official liquidator was appointed. On the 17th March 1886, the official liquidator filed this suit against the defendant, who was a holder of twenty-one shares in the company, to recover (along with other calls) the amount of the said call of 1st October 1882. As to this part of the claim, the defendant pleaded limitation. Held that the suit being brought, not by the company, but by the liquidator, article 120 of the Limitation Act, XV of 1877, applied, and that the claim was, therefore, not barred. *PARELL SPINNING AND WEAVING COMPANY v. account and recovery of profits.—M. and S. purchased certain property jointly in 1865, and had equal interests in it till 1868, when M.'s interest was reduced to one third. S. paid the entire purchase-money in the first instance, and incurred expenses in conducting suits for possession of the property, and for registration of the deed, and ultimately obtained possession in 1869 or 1870, and took the profits from that date. M. did not pay any part of the money up to 1870, and it was not till 1871 that the whole of his share of it was subscribed, and he paid little or nothing towards the expenses. Subsequently he sued S. for possession of his share, to have an account taken of the profits, and to recover his share of them with future mesne profits and costs. Held that article 89 of schedule II of the Limitation Act did not apply to the suit; and that article 62 did not meet a claim like the present, relating to an equitable claim against a trustee liable to account, in which the relief sought was to have an account taken of the trust property and to recover what might be due. *Guru Das Pyne v. Ram Narain Sahu, L. R., 11 I. A., 59; I. L. In 1864, H., E., and I. joined the firm. In 1870 H. died, and in 1871 T. purchased his share and those of E. and I., and in 1873 that of B. In 1875 T. gave the Delhi and London Bank a mortgage, on which they afterwards obtained a decree against him personally, in execution of which his right and interest in the estate were put up for sale on 20th June 1877, and purchased by the Bank, who obtained possession in August 1877. In August 1879, B. and W.'s executor sued T. and the Bank claiming a declaration that they had been partners with T. in the estate; that if the partnership should be held to be subsisting it might be dissolved, or that if it had ceased to exist, the date of its termination might be fixed, and that in either case a liquidator might be appointed. Held that the period of limitation applicable to the suit was that provided in article 120, and not article 106, Act XV of 1877, but that in either case the suit was within time, as the partnership was dissolved, and consequently time began to run, not from the death of H or the purchase by T, of the shares of E and I, in 1871, or of E, in 1873, but in August 1877, when the defendant Bank took possession of the partnership property. *HARRISON v. 29. — and arts. 131, 144.—

Adverse possession—Suit for declaration of right to malikana and to set aside order refusing to register names.—Previous to 1825, dearah X accreted to mouzah Y, and some time before 1860 the malik of Y executed two conveyances in favour of A and B respectively. In 1860 A sued B in the Munsif's Court for possession of a share in X which B claimed under his conveyance. In that suit A succeeded on the ground that B's conveyance did not cover the share claimed by him in X, but merely covered the share in the mouzah itself, whereas by his conveyance A had acquired the right to the share in X which he claimed. In 1866 the Collector refused to recognise B's right to malikana payable in respect of the share in X, which had been the subject of the suit in 1860, or to register his name in respect thereof, but acknowledged A's right thereto, relying on the decision of the Civil Court in the suit between A and B. Subsequently B's representatives, C and D, in 1876, sought to have their names registered in respect of the same malikana, but they were opposed by E, who alleged that A had been acting throughout as his benamidar. The Collector referred the case under section 55 of Act VII of 1876 to the Civil Court, and the application of C and D was eventually disallowed. C and D thereupon, on the 5th November 1880, instituted the present suit against E, in the Court of the Subordinate Judge, for a declaration of their right to the malikana, and for a reversal of the order refusing to allow their names to be registered in respect thereof. Held that the suit was barred by limitation, being governed either by article 120, 131, or 144 of the Limitation Act (Act XV of 1877), because—(1) there being no allegation of dispossession, if it were contended that the suit was one for possession of an interest in immoveable property, article 144 would apply, (2) if it were contended that the suit was for the purpose of establishing a periodically recurring right, pure and simple, article 131 would apply, and the period must be reckoned from 1866, when the plaintiff was first refused the enjoyment of the right; (3) it, however, it were said to be a suit to establish a periodically recurring right, and something in addition, inasmuch as the right carried with it a right to the property itself, if the parties consented to take a settlement when the time for concluding the next temporary or permanent settlement came, article 120 must be held to apply. But that, in any event inasmuch as in the year 1866 the Collector refused to recognise B's right to the malikana, and adverse possession so far as possession could be taken of such an interest in immoveable property, was then taken by A, or in other words by E, because it must be taken that the Collector since that date had been holding for A, whose right he had then recognised, after refusing to recognise the right claimed by B, the present suit, having been instituted in 1880, was equally barred, whichever of the above articles was held to apply. *Rao Karan Singh v. 1. — Sale for arrears of rent of putni tenure.—Upon the sale of a putni talook for arrears of the landlord's rent, the purchaser acquires it free of all incumbrances created by the outgoing putnidar, and according to Act XIV of 1859, section 7, the purchaser's cause of action arises from the date of sale. *BRJO SOONDUR MITTER v. — Execution of decree against Sirdar's heir who is not a Sirdar.—Suit on decree.—Decree payable by instalments—The plaintiff's father obtained a decree in the Court of the Agent for Sirdars in 1848 against the defendant's grandfather, a third-class Sirdar. The decree gave an option to the Sirdar to pay up the debt at once, or year by year, out of the revenues of a village. The Sirdar chose the latter alternative, and execution proceeded accordingly on that footing till his death in 1862. His son survived him and died in 1867, when the defendant, who was not himself a Sirdar, succeeded. The Subordinate Judge of Khed—to whom, on the cessation of the Sirdarship in the defendant's family, the Agent referred the decree for further execution—proceeded with the execution up to the year 1876, when these proceedings were pronounced to be irregular. The plaintiff thereupon, in the year 1877, filed the present suit on the strength of his decree of 1848. Held that the period of limitation applicable was that of twelve years from the date of the decree (Act IX of 1871, schedule II, art. 121), but that the decree should be viewed as analogous to an instalment decree and made as against the defendant in 1867,—down to which time the proceeds were regularly realised,—because it then, on his father's death.

became first operative against him In the case of a decree payable by instalments, as the command of the Judge prescribes a term for the performance of the several parts of his order, it is to be construed as becoming a judgment for purposes of limitation as to each instalment only on the day when payment is to be made. SAKHARAM DIKSHIT v GANESH SATHE I. 1. — Suit under will for sum as legacy—Where a sum assigned to sons was, by the terms of the will, to be regarded as a legacy, and not as a charge on the estate for their maintenance,—Held that clause 11, section 1, Act XIV of 1859, was the limitation applicable to suits under the will for recovery of the sum due as a legacy. NANA NARAIN RAO v. RAMA NUND 2 Agra, 171

2. — Suit for legacy—R by his will gave the whole of his property to his brothers, making a specific provision of Rs. 4,000 for one of his daughters (the mother of the plaintiffs), which was to remain as amanut in the family treasury, yielding her interest if and till she gave birth to a male child, when she should also have 200 beegahs of land. Shortly after this the testator died, and the elder of the plaintiffs was born. The mother having since died without drawing the principal or taking the allotment of land, and the manager of the family estate having refused to give the plaintiffs their due, they sued to recover what was left to their mother. Held that this was a suit for legacy, and that clause 11, section 1, applied so far as the claim for money was concerned, and that the cause of action to the plaintiffs occurred at the time of the birth of the elder plaintiff, when his mother became immediately entitled to the principal sum of money and to the land. PROSSONO CHUNDER ROY CHOWDREY v GYAN CHUNDER BOSE 13 W. 4. — Suit for legacy against representative of testator—Article 123 of the Limitation Act only applies to cases in which the property sought to be recovered is not only a legacy but is also sought to be recovered as such from a person who is bound by law to pay such legacy, either because he is the executor of the will or otherwise represents the estate of the testator. ISSUE CHUNDER DOSS v JUGGUT CHUNDER SHAHA

1. — Office of hereditary priest—Immoveable property—In a suit between Hindus, the office of hereditary priest to a temple, though not annexed to, or held by virtue of, the ownership of any land, yet being by that law classed as immoveable property, should be held to be immoveable property within the meaning of clause 12 of section 1 of the Limitation Act, 1859. KRISHNABHAT BIN HIRAGANGE v KAPABHAT BIN MAHALBHAT 6 Bom., A. 2. — Office of karnam—Incidental right to land attached to office—Suit brought in 1868 to establish that plaintiff had vested in him the right to the office of karnam of certain villages from which he had been ousted by the defendant in 1857, and to recover from defendant the mirasi lands annexed to the office. The Court of first instance decreed for plaintiff. The Civil Court reversed this decision on the ground that title to the office was the principal matter of the plaintiff's claim, and the right to possession of the land merely an incident dependent upon that title; that, therefore, as the period of limitation applicable to the former claim (six years) had elapsed before the institution of the suit, it was not maintainable for the land. Upon special appeal, the decree of the Civil Court was affirmed on the grounds that it was conclusively found that the land was inseparably attached to the office as a source of endowment for the services of the holder of it for the time being, and that, as against the plaintiff, the defendant was protected in the possession of the office by clause 16, section 1, Act XIV of 1859. TAMMIRAZU RAMZOGI v PANTINA NARSIAH 6 Mad., 301

3. — Suit for possession of hereditary office and for account—Adverse possession.—X, the founder of two pagodas, died in 1795 leaving six sons, of whom two were named C and T, respectively. T, the younger, died in 1834, leaving two sons, of whom one, who died in 1853, was the father of the plaintiff. The founder's elder son, C, died in 1816 leaving two sons (M, who died in 1840, and L, who died in 1847) and two daughters (A and the defendant's mother). The office of dharma-karta descended from the founder to C. After his death a manager was appointed by the Collector, and C's son M was dispossessed by his uncle T, and in 1834 M brought a suit in equity against T and his sons. Pending the final decree M was appointed by the Supreme Court to act as dharma-karta. A decree was never passed and the suit abated on M's death in 1840. M was succeeded in the office of dharma-karta by his brother L, who held it till 1847, when he died, leaving it by will to his sister A and her husband R jointly. R died soon after, and A in 1872, leaving the office by will to her sister's son, the defendant. In a suit by plaintiff, as eldest surviving male member of the founder's family, claiming the office of dharmakaita, or that if he were not entitled, some proper person might be appointed to it, and praying that an account might be taken of the pagoda property against the defendant as dharmakaita and also as executor of A.—Held on appeal (confirming the decision of the Court of first instance), on the first question, that the suit was barred by the Limitation Act, IX of 1871, schedule II, article 123 that whatever might be the effect of the possession by M. and L., the will left by L in 1847 bequeathing the office to his sister A and her husband R was an act unequivocally hostile to the rights of the male members of the family, and as the will was at once acted upon, they must have had notice of this invasion of their rights. MAMALLY CHENNA KESAVARAYA v. 2. ———— Hindu widow.—Suit to set aside alienation, and to restrain waste—K, a Hindu widow, assigned one moiety of her share in her husband's estate to H. S., in consideration that H. S. should conduct and pay all costs of a suit which was then to be instituted against her husband's brothers, of whom B C, the present plaintiff, was one, to recover the share to which she was entitled, and also to pay her maintenance in the meantime. The assignment was dated 24th December 1864. The suit was brought, and a certain sum, in Government paper and notes, was decreed to K on August 5th, 1868. This sum was paid into Court by B C on 10th March 1869, and upon K's application was, on 10th March 1871, paid out to her. B C then sued as reversionary heir to have the deed of assignment set aside, and prayed that H S should be restrained from receiving the moiety. The plaint was filed on 14th March 1871. In it he alleged his apprehension of waste by K. Held that a suit simply to set aside the assignment would have been barred as brought more than six years from the date of the assignment, yet so far as it was based on the allegation of apprehended waste, it was not barred by the law of limitation. BISWANATH CHUNDER v. 7. ———— Suit to compel partition of moveable and immoveable property.—A Hindu of the Southern Maratha country, having two sons undivided from him, died in 1872, leaving a will disposing of ancestral estate substantially in favour of his second son, excluding the elder, who claimed his share in this suit. In 1861, a suit brought by this elder son against his father and brother to obtain a declaration of his right to a partition of the ancestral estate, was dismissed, on the ground that he had no right in his father's lifetime to compel a partition of the moveables; and that as to the immoveables, the claim failed, because they were situate beyond the jurisdiction of the Court. Held that the suit was not barred under the Limitation Act, XIV of 1859, section 1, clause 13. As to the immoveables setting aside the fact that the plaintiff had remained in possession of one of the houses of the family which had been treated by the father as continuing to be part of the joint property, the decision of 1861, based as to the immoveables on the absence of jurisdiction to declare partition of them, caused this part of the claim to fall under the provisions of Act XIV of 1859, section 14. As to the moveables assuming that they could, on the question of limitation, be treated as distinct from the immoveables, and that no payment had been made within twelve years before this suit by the ancestral banking firm to the plaintiff, the adjudication of 1861, whether in law correct or incorrect, had been that the elder son could not assert his rights in the moveables until his father's death. The defendant in this suit, who had taken the benefit of that judgment, could not now insist that it did not suspend the running of limitation on the ground that his brothers might have appealed from it if erroneous. So far, also, as the father's interest was concerned, the succession only opened on his death. LAESMAN DADA NAIK v. RAMCHANDRA DADA NAIK

22. ———— Suit to enforce share of joint property —Proof of payments—In ruling that a suit to enforce the right to a share in certain property on the ground that it is joint family property is barred under section 1, clause 13, Act XIV of 1859, it is not enough to find that the plaintiff had occasionally received money from the defendant, and that his sister continued to live in what had originally been the joint family dwelling-house; but there must be a distinct finding as to what payments (if any) have been made to the plaintiff within twelve years next prior to the date of the institution of the suit, by the person in possession or management of the property on account of the plaintiff's alleged share. PROSSONO COOMAR MOOKERJEE v. It was found that the two brothers had lived in the same mess, the elder collecting the rents and profits, and therewith managing the family expenses. Held that if O. did not receive money from P he received money's worth, and that would suffice to bring the case within Act XIV of 1859, section 1, clause 13; and if clause 13 did not apply, clause 12 must, and the suit was not barred. CHUNDER MONEE DEBIA v. LIMITATION ACT, 1877, art. 127—continued.

Under Act IX of 1871, the cause of action arose from the time when the plaintiff demanded and was refused his share; consequently it was then necessary to make that allegation. HANSJI CHHIBA v. VALABH CHHIBA . . . I. L. R., 7 Bom., 297

26. ———— Exclusion from share of joint property—Article 127, schedule II of Act IX of 1871 presupposes the existence of joint family property, and that there has been an exclusion from participation in the enjoyment of such property. Semble,—The word "excluded" in that article implies previous inclusion. SARODA SOONDUREY DOSSEE v. DOYA MOYEE DOSSEE . I. L. R., 5 Calc., 938

27. ———— Joint property.—Evidence—Before a plaintiff can bring his case within article 127 of schedule II of the Limitation Act, 1877, it is incumbent on him to show that the property in which he seeks to recover a share is "joint property." OBHOY CHURN GHOSE v. GOBIND CHUNDER DEY
[I. L. R., 9 Calc., 237]

28. ———— Claim to property as daughter's son.—The provisions of article 127 of schedule II of the Limitation Act do not apply to a person who claims to inherit property as a daughter's son. MOTHURA NATH DUTT v. BORKANT NATH DUTT. PEARI MOHUN DUTT v. BORKANT NATH DUTT
[11 C. L. R., 312]

29. ———— Suit for possession and partition.—Acquiescence in alienation—Exclusion from share.—In a suit to obtain a share by partition of a joint family property, the interest of the plaintiff's father having been sold in execution of a decree, limitation is to be computed from the time when exclusion from his share first becomes known to the plaintiff. ISSURIDUTT SINGH v. IBRAHIM
[I. L. R., 8 Calc., 653]

30. ———— Exclusion from share.—Suit for partition—Where in a suit for partition a District Judge held the plaintiff's claim barred on the ground that the defendant had been in possession of the property in dispute for more than fifteen years without any claim having been made by the plaintiff, Held that under the Limitation Act, XV of 1877, article 127, time would not run against the plaintiff until his exclusion (if he was excluded) from the property had become known to him. HARI v. MARUTI I. L. R., 6 Bom., 741

31. ———— Exclusion from joint property.—A collateral member of a Hindu family, alleging it to be joint, claimed his share of ancestral property in Oudh, part of which formed a taluk inherited, for a considerable time past, by the eldest son, who, taking the whole of it, had given maintenance to the other members. This taking was entered in the first and second of the lists made under the provisions of the Oudh Estates Act I of 1869, and as to it there was no ground of claim. But with respect to the savings, accumulations, and investments made from the income and proceeds of the taluk before the confiscation and restoration of Oudh lands in 1858, the contention was that each member was entitled to his share, and that, by the presumption in respect of a joint family, the burden was on the talukdar to prove that there were no savings or accumulations made otherwise than out of the taluk and before the confiscation. Held that, if it were assumed that the family was for some purposes undivided, still this was not the case of an ordinary undivided Hindu family, and that, in such a case as this, the presumption must depend on somewhat special circumstances. However, this case must be decided on the distinct ground that, as the claimant had been excluded from his share, if he had one, for more than twelve years, he knowing of this exclusion, the law of limitation enacted in Act XV of 1877, schedule II, article 127, was applicable, and the claim was barred by lapse of time. RAGHUNATH BALI v. MAHARAJ BALI

[I. L. R., 11 Cal., 777; I. R., 12 I. A., 112]

32. ——— Suit for share of joint property—Exclusion.—Adverse possession.—In a suit for a share of undivided property from which the plaintiff had been out of possession admittedly for thirty-five years, —Held that the suit was not barred by limitation, as the possession of the share in question by the defendants since 1845 had not been a possession of it as their own property to the exclusion of the plaintiffs or their father. NILU RAMCHANDRA v. GOBIND BALLAL ——— art. 128 (1871, art. 128; 1859, s. 1, cl. 13).

1. ——— Suit to recover maintenance.—Section 1, clause 13, Act XIV of 1859, applied to suits for the recovery of maintenance, whether the right to receive maintenance arose out of the general law, or out of a specific deed granting such maintenance. BAMASOONDERY DEBEA v. SHAMASOONDERY DEBEA W. R., 1864, 13

2. ——— Suit for maintenance.—Clause 13, section 1, Act XIV of 1859, did not apply to a suit for maintenance, when the right to receive such maintenance was not a charge on the estate of a deceased person, but on the estate of living persons. BINODE LALL CHATTERJEE v. LUCKHEE MONEE DEBIA 4 W. R., 84

3. ——— Suit for maintenance.—In a suit for maintenance, the cause of action ordinarily arises at the time when the maintenance having become necessary is refused by the party from whom it is claimed. Section 1, clause 13, Act XIV of 1859, did not apply to all suits for the recovery of maintenance brought by a Hindu widow against her husband's family, but only to suits in which the plaintiff seeks to have her maintenance made a charge on a particular estate. TIMMAPPA BHAT v. PARMESHRIAMMA 5 Bom., A. C., 130

4. ——— Suit for maintenance as charge on estate.—The plaintiff sued the defendants for future and past maintenance and obtained a decree for future maintenance and for arrears of maintenance for seven years. The parties were governed by the Alyasantana law. It was found by the lower Appellate Court that for twenty years before the suit the plaintiff lived apart from the defendants and the other members of the family, and supported herself without receiving or applying for anything towards her maintenance out of the family property in the possession of the defendants, or obtaining any recognition of the right to maintenance. On special appeal, —Held, per SCOTLAND, C. J., that, assuming the Alyasantana law recognises the right of the plaintiff to enforce separate maintenance as a charge upon the estate, the plaintiff's claim was barred by section 1, clause 13, Act XIV of 1859. Per COLLETT, J.—It is doubtful whether clause 13, which applies to cases where the right to receive maintenance is a charge on the inheritance of any estate, applies in a case where the right of the plaintiff is said to exist by reason of her being a co-proprietor with the defendants. If the suit be not within clause 13, then it was one to recover an interest in immovable property, and was equally barred by clause 12 of section 1. ABBAKKU v. AMMU SHETTATI

SUBRAMANIA MUDALIAR v. KALIANI AMMAL

[7 Mad., 226]

Suits for maintenance not chargeable on any estate were governed by clause 16 of section 1 of the Act of 1859; the cause of action in such cases did not arise until there had been a demand and a refusal. KALO NILKANTH v. LAKSHMITAI

[I. L. R., 2 Bom., 637]

5. ——— Hindu widow.—Maintenance.—With regard to the widow's right to maintenance, a statute of limitation would do much harm if it should force widows to claim their strict rights and commence litigations which, but for the purpose of keeping alive their claim, would not be necessary or desirable. A Hindu, disposing of his estate by will, expressed his hopes that his wives and son would all live amicably together after his death, and would all look upon his eldest son as the head of the family; he then bequeathed the whole of his property to his eldest son, directing him to provide for his (the testator's) widows, and for the other members and dependents of the family, and he declared that he made these provisions with a view to prevent dissensions in the family, and to enable them to live in peace and harmony after his decease. In a suit brought more than sixteen years after the death of the testator by one of his widows against the eldest son to recover maintenance, it was pleaded for the defendant that the claim was barred by limitation under clause 13, section 1, Act XIV of 1859, which provides that suits for the recovery of maintenance, when the right to receive such maintenance is a charge on the inheritance of any estate, must be brought within twelve years from the death of the person on whose estate the maintenance is alleged to be a charge. Held that the testator had not created, by his will, a specific charge on the inheritance of his estate within the meaning of the provision of Act XIV of 1859,

but had merely imposed upon the defendant an obligation, in case the will should interfere with the ordinary Hindu law entitling his widows to maintenance, to make allowances for their support of a kind analogous to that which the law would have provided. Held also that, although there was no evidence of a specific demand for maintenance, there was ground for believing that maintenance had been withheld under circumstances amounting to a refusal, giving rise to a cause of action. NABAYANRAY RAMCHANDRA PANT v. RAMABAI

6. ———— Suit for arrears of maintenance—In suits coming within the operation of the Limitation Act, IX of 1871, the widow might recover arrears for any period, unless it appeared that there had been a demand and refusal, in which case she could recover arrears for twelve years only from the date of such demand and refusal. *TIVI v. In 1867 K, his senior widow, claimed the allowance; the zemindar contended that the allowance was personal to S, and did not descend to his heirs. K obtained a decree. In 1864 R, the junior widow of S, sued K to establish the right of her son M, to succeed to the estate of S, as his son and sole heir, and obtained a decree from the Privy Council in 1871. In 1872 M demanded and was refused the allowance from the zemindari. In 1875 M came of age and in 1879 brought a suit against the zemindar to establish his right to the allowance,—Held that the claim by M was not barred by limitation. RAMNAD ZAMINDAR v. 11. ———— and art. 120.—Suit on mortgage bond to recover amount by sale of property—Personal liability of mortgagor—Cause of action.—By a mortgage bond, dated the 28th Magh 1281 B S. (9th February 1875), it was provided that if the mortgagors should fail to pay the money secured thereby according to the terms thereof, the mortgagees should immediately institute a suit and realise the amount due by sale of the mortgaged property, and that if the proceeds of such sale should not be sufficient to liquidate the debt, the mortgagees should realise the balance from the persons and other properties of the mortgagors. It was further agreed that the principal and interest secured by the bond should be repaid in the month of Magh 1282 (January–February 1876). In a suit instituted on the 9th October 1882 upon the mortgage to recover the amount due by the sale of the mortgaged property, and the balance, if any, from the persons of the mortgagors,—Held that the bond in question provided for two remedies in one suit, and did not contemplate a second suit being instituted to recover the balance from the persons of the mortgagors in the event of the first remedy against the mortgaged property proving insufficient to pay the debt in full, and consequently that the cause of action against the persons of the mortgagors accrued upon the date on which the mortgage money became due, and as the suit was instituted more than six years after that date, the plaintiff's claim was barred by limitation, so far as the personal liability of the mortgagors was concerned. Held, also, that article 132, schedule II of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877), only refers to suits to enforce payment of money charged upon immoveable property by the sale of such property. MILLER v RÜNGA NATH MULLICK

14. ———— Money charged on immoveable property—The plaintiff held a mortgage of certain immoveable property, given to him by the defendant to secure the repayment of a loan of money with interest. The plaintiff stated the fact of the mortgage, but prayed only for a money-decree. The mortgage contained a personal undertaking to repay. The said mortgage was dated 16th February 1870, and the plaint in this suit was filed on the 28th April 1881. The plaintiff maintained that he was not time-barred, as he had twelve years within which to bring the suit under article 132 of Act XV of 1877. Held that plaintiff was too late in bringing a suit for a money-decree on the promise to pay in the mortgage, inasmuch as the article referred to was meant to apply to suits brought to enforce against the property payment of "money charged upon immoveable property," and not, under any circumstances whatever, to a suit for a mere money-decree. *PESTONJI BEZONJI v. —Act XIV of 1870—Act I of 1868.—Damdupat.
—Rule—The mortgagor of an estate gave to the mortgagee, subsequently to the date of the mortgage, two successive money-bonds, in each of which it was stipulated that, if the amount were not paid on the due date, it should take priority of the amount due under the mortgage, and that redemption of the mortgage should not be claimed until the bond had been satisfied. The assignee of the equity of redemption sued for possession of the estate on payment merely of the mortgage-money. Held that section 12 of Regulation V of 1827 is not in force. That section was repealed by Act XXVIII of 1855, section 1; and although the latter section was repealed by Act XIV of 1870, the former was not restored, there being no express provision in Act XIV of 1870 to revive it, as required by the General Clauses Act, I of 1868, section 3. The question of the period for which interest was to be allowed was, therefore, to be determined by Act XV of 1877, the Act in force at the date of the institution of this suit, article 132 of which applied; but as the rule of damdupat is not affected by Limitation Acts, the defendants could not be allowed, as interest, more than the amount of the principal on which it was to be paid. HARI MAHADAJI v. 18. — Periods respectively applicable to personal demands and to claims charged on immoveable property.—That there is a personal liability upon an instrument charging a debt upon immoveable property, does not carry with it the effect that the period of limitation fixed for personal demands by Act IX of 1871 is extended, by reason of this demand being thereby brought within the meaning of article 132 of schedule II of that Act, which applies to claims "for money charged upon immoveable property." A mortgagee of lands sought, after the lapse of more than six years from the date when the mortgage-money was payable, to enforce two distinct remedies, the one against the property mortgaged, and the other against the mortgagor personally, on the contract to repay the mortgage-money. Held that article 132, above mentioned, applied only to suits to raise money charged on immoveable property out of that property; and the twelve years' bar did not apply to the personal remedy, as to which the shorter period prescribed in article 65 of the same schedule applied. RAM DIN v. cipal and interest due on a registered bond executed in 1870. It was stipulated that the amount should be repaid with interest in 1871, and certain immoveable property was hypothecated as security for repayment of the debt. Held that the suit did not fall under article 147 of schedule II of the Limitation Act, which allows sixty years to a mortgagee to sue for foreclosure or sale from the date the money becomes due, but under article 132 of the same schedule, which allows twelve years to enforce a payment of money charged on immoveable property. ALIBA v. 25. ——— Suit to establish title and for arrears.—The plaintiff sued the defendants to recover a share of the income of a certain watan which was admitted to be connected with an hereditary office, but was not, strictly speaking, charged upon immoveable property. In 1861 the plaintiff had brought a previous suit, and obtained a decree declaring his right to share in the watan, and awarding him arrears for six years. Under this decree he had received payment of his share up to the year 1860. In the present suit the plaintiff claimed arrears for twelve years, viz., from 1862 to 1874. He admitted that he had received no payment for the year 1861, and that his claim for that year was barred. The defendants contended that the period of limitation applicable to such a claim was six years, and not twelve years; that this was the case, at any rate, so long as the Limitation Act, XIV of 1859, was in force, and that, therefore, the claim to so much of the arrears as was time-barred under that Act could not be revived by Act IX of 1871. Held that, whether Act XIV of 1859 or Act IX of 1871 applied to the plaintiff's claim, the period of limitation was twelve years. Article 132 of schedule II of Act IX of 1871 was a distinct provision to that effect. There was no similar provision in Act XIV of 1859; but all hereditary offices, and all payments or allowances made on account of such offices, are to be regarded as immoveable property within the meaning and intention of that Act, and are, therefore, governed by the provisions of clause 12 of section 1. It was also contended on behalf of the defendants that, even if the period of limitation were held to be twelve years, the plaintiff's claim was nevertheless barred in toto, inasmuch as he admitted that he had received no payment on account of his share for thirteen years preceding the institution of the suit. In support of this contention the cases of Rajr Manor v. Desai Kallhanrai, 6 Bom., A. C., 56, and Madvala v. Balvant, 9 Bom., 260, were cited, where it was laid down that the cause of action to establish title, and the cause of action to recover arrears which rest on such title, are not distinct and independent of each other, so that if the former be barred, even the arrears which may be within the period of limitation cannot be recovered.

Held that, while this is the rule which must be applied to cases in which a plaintiff must establish his title before he can ask for arrears accruing due under such title, the same rule does not apply where, as in the present case, the plaintiff has in a former suit obtained a decree declaratory of his title. It is no longer necessary for him to establish his periodically recurring right against any person who is bound by that decree; and that being so, there is nothing in the law of limitation which can be construed into a restriction of the plaintiff's right to recover the arrears falling due within the period of limitation. *CHHAGANLAL v. Subsequently, when the mortgage-debt had been paid off, it was reconveyed to the idol. After this the names of the idol and of its shebait were entered in the Collector's books as owners of the estate. In 1812 the purchaser again mortgaged the property, and in 1816 his widow executed a second mortgage of it to pay off the mortgage of 1812. In 1820 this second mortgage was purchased. The defendant held the property under titles derived from the mortgage of 1816. The shebait's representatives in 1867 sued to recover possession of the property as belonging to the idol, alleging that the purchaser was a mere trustee for the idol; that the present holders of the property were cognisant of this, or might have learnt it by reasonable enquiry, and therefore took the property subject to the trust, and that, accordingly, the suit now brought was a suit against a trustee within section 2, Act XIV of 1859, and could not be barred by any length of time. There was no evidence of a formal dedication of the property to the idol. Held that the defendant claimed under the purchasers who had purchased bond fide and for valuable consideration within section 5, and that therefore the period of limitation was twelve years from the date of purchase, and the suit was barred. *BRAJA SUNDARI DEBI v. 10. ————— Vendor and purchaser—Bona fides—Notice of charitable trust.—The words "conveyed in trust" in article 134 of schedule II of the Limitation Act (IX of 1871) include devises in trust, or are equivalent to the words "vested in trust" in section 10 of the same Act. The words "in good faith" in article 134 of schedule II, and in section 10 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1871) do not necessarily involve absence of notice in the purchaser of an existing trust or equity, though the fact of there being such notice may be an important element in the question whether there was bona fides. The defendant in the present case, though he purchased with actual notice, must, having regard to all the circumstances, be held to have purchased in good faith, and the suit was accordingly barred by limitation, there being nothing in the Limitation Act (IX of 1871) excluding from its benefit those asserting their right to claim under a bona fide purchase for value, by reason that those claiming against them are the objects of a charitable trust imposed on such property. MANIKLAL ATMARAM v. owner thereof to secure the repayment of Rs15,785 with interest at 18 per cent on the 17th of February 1866. The mortgagor and mortgagee were Hindus, and the mortgage was in the ordinary form of an English mortgage of real property. After the date of the mortgage, and before the 15th of February 1872, the mortgagor sold various portions of the mortgaged property. On the 15th of February 1872 the mortgagee filed a foreclosure petition in the Court of the Judge of the district of the 24 Pergunnahs under Regulation XVII of 1806. Notice of the petition was served on the mortgagor alone. Neither principal nor interest was paid by the mortgagor, and on the 6th of September 1882 the assignee of the mortgagee filed a suit for foreclosure against the mortgagor, and the purchasers of the various portions of the property, under the provisions of the Transfer of Property Act, praying for foreclosure and sale. Held that as against the purchasers from the mortgagor the suit was barred by limitation under clause 135, schedule II of Act XV of 1877. *SHURNOMOYEE DAS v. The mortgagee's right to sue for possession accrues upon the final foreclosure, and he can sue at any time within twelve years from that date, under clause 12, section 1, Act XIV of 1859. *BULDEEN v. them, in which case the mortgagee is not bound to take action upon his mortgage until that litigation is decided. Affirming decision of High Court in DHURENDRO CHUNDER MOOKERJEE v. ANAND MOYEE DOSSEE 1 W. R., 103

8. ——— Suit for possession—Conditional mortgagee, Title of.—It is not necessary for a conditional mortgagee, if he be in possession at the expiry of the year of grace, to bring a suit to complete his title. The limitation period should be computed from the expiry of the year of grace, if the mortgagee be then in possession. KHOOB CHUND v. LEEELA DHUR 3 Agra, 103

9. ——— Mortgage—Suit for possession—Foreclosure—Beng. Reg. XVII of 1866, s. 8—Cause of action—A., by a Bengali deed of conditional sale, dated the 10th of August 1853, mortgaged two estates, the deed providing that the mortgage-debt should be repaid on the 9th of July 1855, and that, on default of payment, the deed of conditional sale should become one of absolute sale, and that the mortgagee should thereupon acquire the absolute proprietary right, and might enter upon and retain possession of the mortgaged property. A failed to pay at the time stipulated, and on the 18th of December 1856, her right, title, and interest in the estates were sold in execution, and purchased by the defendants without notice of the mortgage. On the 3rd of April 1866, the plaintiff bought the mortgagee's interest, and in August 1867 he instituted foreclosure proceedings under Regulation XVII of 1866 against the defendants, the auction-purchasers. In a suit instituted by the plaintiff on the 22nd January 1874 against the auction-purchasers to recover possession of the mortgaged property,—Held that the cause of action arose on 9th July 1865, when default was made in payment of the mortgage-debt, and the suit, not having been instituted within twelve years from that date, was barred by section 1, clause 12, Act XIV of 1859. No new cause of action arose by reason of the foreclosure proceedings on the expiry of the year of grace in August 1868 DENONATH GANGOOLY v. NURSING PROSHAD DASS . 14 B. L. R., 87; 22 W. R., 90

fendant mortgaged certain immoveable property to the plaintiff by a byebul-wafa, or deed of conditional sale, dated 20th January 1851. The deed stipulated that the mortgage-debt should be repaid on the expiration of three years from the date of the execution. The money was not repaid at the stipulated period, and the mortgagor remained in possession of the property, but there was some evidence to show that he had made payments of interest on the mortgage-debt to the plaintiff. In February 1870 the plaintiff took proceedings to foreclose the mortgage, and on 16th February 1872 he instituted a suit for possession of the property. The defence was that the suit was barred, the plaintiff having been out of possession for more than twelve years previous to the institution of the suit. Held that payment and acceptance of interest was evidence of the continuance of the relation between the parties created by the mortgage-deed, and until the mortgagor advanced any rights adverse to the mortgagee, the possession of the mortgagor was permissive, and no cause of action accrued to the mortgagee MANKEE KOOPER v. MUNNOO . 14 B. L. R., 315; 22 W. R., 543

11. ——— Suit for foreclosure of mortgage—Cause of action.—The plaintiff, on the 2nd of August 1847, became mortgagee of a house under an instrument of mortgage, which provided that in default of payment by the mortgagor of the mortgage loan within five years, the house should be considered as absolutely sold to the mortgagee. Default was made in payment and the mortgagee entered into possession, and continued in possession until 1858, when he was dispossessed by the mortgagor. On the 29th March 1860, the plaintiff filed a suit in the nature of a foreclosure suit against his mortgagor, to which the defendant pleaded the law of limitation. Held that the plaintiff's cause of action arose in 1858, when he was dispossessed by the defendant, and that he had, under Act XIV of 1859, section 1, clause 12, twelve years from that date within which to file his suit LAKSHMITAI v. 1. ——— and art. 137.—Ejectment—On the 26th of September 1867, A executed a conveyance of certain land to B. for valuable consideration. On the same day A. acknowledged the execution of the deed before the Registrar, who afterwards registered the same on the 19th of October 1867, B. never entered into possession of the land. On the 14th of November 1874, C purchased this land at a sale in execution of a decree which he had obtained against B; C did not enter into possession of the land, but, on the 26th of September 1879, brought a suit for the recovery thereof against A, who had all along remained in possession. Held that the suit was barred by limitation under articles 136, 137, schedule II of the Limitation Act, XV of 1877. ANAND COOMARI v. 2. ———— and art. 144.—Hindu law—Joint family property, Suit to recover—Purchaser of a share of joint family property when vendor is out of possession—In a suit for a share of a joint family property where the claimant is out of possession, the material issue is when did the possession of the defendant become adverse to the plaintiff or the person under whom he claims by purchase. Per GARTH, C J—The onus lies upon the purchaser of a share in a joint family property whose vendor is out of possession to show that the exclusion, if any, took place within twelve years of the institution of the suit. The rule of limitation applicable to a suit by a purchaser of a share in a joint family property whose vendor is out of possession at the date of the sale is article 136 of schedule II, Act XV of 1877. Per GHOSE, J—The rule applicable to such a suit is article 144. RAM LAKSHI v. 1. ———— Suit for possession by purchaser at sale for arrears of revenue—Cause of action—Under the general Law of Limitation the cause of action in a suit for possession by an auction-purchaser at a sale for arrears of revenue arises from the date of purchase. HURREE MOHUN THAKOOR v. ANDREWS . . . W. R., 1864, 30

2. ———— Sale in execution of decree by Sheriff—Period from which time runs—As land may pass by mere parcel between a Hindu vendor and purchaser, the sale by auction by the Sheriff is enough, without his bill of sale, to complete the transaction as between vendor and purchaser, for the purpose of the Law of Limitation, therefore, where the suit was brought within the time fixed by the Law of Limitation, counting from the date of the Sheriff's bill of sale, but too late counting from the time of the actual auction-sale,—Held that the plaintiff was barred. MOHESH CHUNDER CHATTERJEE v. ISSUR CHUNDER CHATTERJEE . 1 Ind. Jur., N. S., 266

3. ———— Purchase by mortgagee of mortgaged property—While a mortgagee was in possession of the mortgaged premises, the lands were sold for arrears of Government revenue, and purchased by the mortgagee. Held that his possession as mortgagee was superseded by his possession as purchaser, and that the Statute of Limitation commenced to run from the beginning of his possession as such purchaser. BYKUNT DHUR SINGH v. LALLA BHUGO-BUT SAHOY . . . Marsh., 391: 2 Hay, 475

4. ———— Suit by purchaser at sale for arrears of rent of putni tenure—Cause of action—Adverse possession—A let an under-tenure to B, which under-tenure was sold for arrears of rent under section 105, Act X of 1859, and bought in by

A On proceeding to take possession, A. found that C had trespassed upon the under-tenure during B's tenure, and had held possession for more than twelve years. A sued to recover possession of the under-tenure, and it was held by the senior Judge of the Division Bench (BAYLEY, J) that A's cause of action was the act of dispossession by C, and that the suit was barred, more than twelve years having elapsed; and that A's right to sue was not affected by the fact that B's tenure was still running. The junior Judge (PHEAR, J) held that the suit was not barred; that the cause of action to A accrued when he obtained back the property at the auction-sale, and that during the period of encroachment the cause of action did not arise to B, and pass from B. to A during the time the putni lasted, the putni entirely disappearing in the superior title of zemindar vendee. Held by the Appellate Court, in confirmation of the view of PHEAR, J, that the cause of action to A, who was a purchaser of an estate free from incumbrances against C, who was a trespasser, and had encroached on B, the defaulter, must be taken to accrue at the same time as his, A's, right to turn out under-tenants of the defaulter,—viz., from the time of the purchase of the tenure of the defaulter; and the fact that A was both talookdar and purchaser did not prevent him from exercising the same rights as any other purchaser would be entitled to. WOOMESH CHUNDER GOOPTO v. 5. ———— Survey proceedings—Suit for possession—Where the plaintiffs alleged that the disputed lands were fraudulently caused to be demarcated with defendant's zemindari at the time of the survey, and the Appellate Court had held that as plaintiffs were not parties to the survey proceedings, the present suit was barred by limitation under the decision in Woomesh Chunder Goopto v. Rajnarain Roy, 10 W. R., 15. Held that in order to bring a suit within the purview of that decision, it was not enough for plaintiffs to say that this fraud was committed against them by the defendants, and that these defendants were still in possession of the lands as belonging to them and other neighbouring proprietors, but that it was necessary for them to show that they themselves were in possession of the disputed lands at the time when they granted the putni to the defendants, and that they made over that possession to those defendants at that time. GOPAL KISHEN SINGH v. RAM NARAIN KOONDOL

7. ———— Possession, Suit for—Auction-purchaser, Suit by, for possession—Where it was shown in a suit by an auction-purchaser at an execution sale that the formal possession obtained by him through the Court had not been followed by any act of possession, and consequently that it had been infructuous,—Held that the purchaser was entitled to bring a suit to obtain actual possession, but was bound to bring it within twelve years from the date of the sale, the period prescribed by article 138, schedule II of the Limitation Act (Act XV of 1877). The decisions in Kristo Gobindo Kur v Gunga Pershad Summah, 25 W R, 372, and Lohit Coomar Bose v Ishan Chunder Chuckerbutty, 10 C. L R, 258, require such purchaser to obtain possession through the Court before bringing his suit, but they do not preclude him from enforcing his right by suit when the formal possession given by the Court has failed to put him in actual possession. KEISHNA LALL DUTT v RADHA KRISHNA SURKHEL [I. 8. ———— and arts. 91 and 95.—Suit for possession of immoveable property—Suit for cancellation of instrument.—The purchasers of property sold in execution of a decree, having been resisted in obtaining possession of the property by a person claiming under a mortgage from the judgment-debtor, sued for possession, by avoidance of the mortgage, alleging that the same was collusive and fraudulent. The plaintiffs did not ask for the cancellation or setting aside of the instrument of mortgage. Held that the law of limitation governing the suit was not article 91 or 95 of the Limitation Act, but article 138. Hazari Lal v Jadaun Singh, I L R, 5 All, 76, Ramausar Pandey v Raghuber Jati, I L R, 5 All, 490, Sobha Pandey v Sakhadbra, I L R, 5 All, 322, and Raj Bahadur Singh v Achambit Lal, L R, 6 I A, 110, referred to. UMA SHANKAR v KALKA PRASAD [I. 1. ———— Adverse possession—Plea of receipt of rent—In a suit to recover, with mesne profits and other incidents, a jirayat village alleged by the plaintiff to form part of his zemindari, and to be wrongfully held by defendant by virtue of the execution of a decree of the late Commissioner of the Northern Sirkars passed in 1844, the defendant pleaded that he held on a permanent lease subject to a fixed quit-rent, that he and his ancestors had held on that tenure since and previously to the Permanent Settlement, and that the quit-rent had been received from him by the plaintiff. Held that, as the defendant stated that the plaintiff had received kattubandi from him since 1857, the plaintiff's claim to eject could not be disposed of absolutely on the ground that it was barred by the Act of Limitations. VAIRICHARLA SURYA NARAYNA v NADIMINTI BHAGAVAT PATANJALI SHASTRI . 3 Mad., 120

During the minority of D, B. received the rent from E, and afterwards D, on attaining majority, realised rent from E by suits under Act X of 1859. Twelve years after attaining majority, D sued for cancellation of the putni lease, and for obtaining khas possession of the property. Held that the suit was not barred. BUNWARI LAL ROY v. 3. ———— Adverse possession—Cultivated and uncultivated lands—Ghatwals—The owners of a putni of Bishenpore sued to set aside a survey award and alter a map (1855) which demarcated certain lands as cultivated and uncultivated belonging to Government, and in the possession of ghatwals. Certain ghatwah lands, part of the zemindari of Bishenpore, had been given up to the Government by the zemindars in 1802, and the ghatwals had since paid a quit-rent to Government for the same. The plaintiffs became purchasers of the putni in 1839 under a sale for arrears. They admitted that, as to the uncultivated lands, they had never been in actual possession or in the receipt of any rents since they purchased, but they alleged that, from that time, the ghatwals fraudulently or dishonestly refused to pay them rents in respect of the cultivated lands, as they had done to their predecessors, and that the ghatwals had encroached upon the uncultivated lands. The ghatwals, on the other hand, stated that they never had paid rent to the putnidar, and that the lands were all included within those for which they paid a quit-rent to Government. Held (LOCH, J. dissenting) that the ghatwals, if proved to have been the tenants of the plaintiffs or their predecessors, could not acquire a title against them by adverse possession of twelve years. Per PEACOCK, C J—The issues are (1) whether the ghatwals paid rent for the cultivated lands to the putnidar, (2) whether the cultivated or uncultivated lands form part of the putni estate; (3) whether the ghatwals were in possession of the uncultivated lands from 1839, or for a period exceeding twelve years before the commencement of the suit; (4) whether they paid rent for the same to the putnidar. WATSON v. GOVERNMENT

4. ———— Suit for land—Cause of action—Non-payment of rent—In a suit to establish a right to land, the cause of action arises when the defendant sets up an adverse holding. The mere non-payment of rent does not constitute an adverse holding; but if a tenant openly sets up an adverse title, and holds adversely, limitation runs. HURO-NATH ROY v. JOGENDUR CHUNDER ROY

6. ———— Landlord and tenant—Suit for possession—About twenty-five years before suit, R, being possessed of a house, allowed K to occupy it without rent, on condition that K would keep it in repair, and restore it to R on demand. Nine years afterwards, and without any demand having been made by R, K died, and his heirs continued to occupy the house on the same terms as K had done. In a suit brought by R against the heirs of K to recover possession of the house,—Held that the suit was barred being governed by the twelve years' period of limitation. RADHABHAI v. SHAMA

7. ———— Tenant on sufferance—Although the English rule of law as to the nature of the possession of a tenant for a term of years, who holds over, has been adopted in British India, the rule of limitation prescribed by 3 and 4 William IV, C 27, by which time begins to run against the landlord from the date of his right of entry, has not been adopted in the Indian Limitation Act, 1877. If a tenant for years holds over in British India, time does not begin to run against the landlord until the tenancy on sufferance has been determined. ADIMUTLAM v. PIR RAVUTHAN . I. L. 3. ———— Cause of action—Hindu law—Alienation by widow.—A, a Hindu widow, while in possession of the property left by her husband, sold a portion thereof. After her death, her daughter B succeeded to the property, but took no steps to set aside the alienation made by her mother. After her (B's) death, her sons succeeded to the property, and instituted the present suit, after a lapse of thirty-six years from the death of A, but within twelve years from the death of B, to obtain possession of the property sold by A. Held (MITTER, J, dissenting) that the suit was barred. The cause of action arose when B succeeded to the property. RAJKISHOR DUTT ROY v. GIRISH CHANDRA ROY CHOWDERY

4. ———— Reversioners—Cause of action—Suit to set aside alienation.—In a suit against a widow for acts of waste and alienations alleged to have taken place during the lives of the plaintiffs' mothers, who were then the next heirs to the property,—Held that as the mothers allowed more than twelve years to elapse, their cause of action expired, and that it did not revive in favour of the plaintiffs, who had since been born and had now arrived at majority. Held that, if by the death of the widow a new cause of action accrued to the plaintiffs as reversioners entitled to the property, they might sue again; but they could not succeed in the present suit. *PERSHAD SINGH v. 5. ———— Cause of action—Adverse possession—Suit for property inherited from father.—The plaintiff sought to recover certain property which she inherited from her father, and which had been taken possession of by the defendant during the lifetime of plaintiff's mother. The lower Court dismissed the suit on the ground that it was barred by the law of limitation, plaintiff having failed to show that her mother was in possession at any time within twelve years before the suit. Held, on special appeal, that the suit was not barred. Until the death of her mother, plaintiff's alleged cause of action did not arise, and her right not being derived from or through her mother, the period of limitation could not be considered as having been running against her from the commencement of the adverse possession in her mother's lifetime

6. ———— Estate held jointly by two widows—Cause of action.—Reversioners.—Where the estate of a deceased Hindu held jointly by his two widows survives, on the death of one of them, to the surviving widow alone, no cause of action can accrue to the reversioners until the death of the survivors even in respect of a moiety of the property

7. ———— Reversioner.—Cause of action—Adverse possession.—Where, however, the estate is held by some one adversely to the widow, so as to give her a cause of action to recover it, a suit to recover it brought by her or the reversioners is barred after twelve years of such adverse holding. Where a cause of action with regard to the husband's estate has once accrued to a Hindu widow, who nevertheless fails to assert her rights, no new cause of action arises to the heirs after her death.

9. ———— Reversioners.—Cause of action.—Where a Hindu widow, who takes by inheritance from her husband, is dispossessed, the period of limitation as against the reversionary heir claiming the succession after the widow's death is, in the absence of fraud, to be reckoned, not from the time of the widow's death, but from the time from which it would have run against the widow had she lived and sued to recover the inheritance. B., holding ancestral estates in Bengal jointly with his brothers as an undivided Hindu family, died, leaving a widow, S., and three unmarried daughters, B., S. M., and N. On her husband's death S. continued to reside with his brothers, and was supported out of the income of the joint estate. During the lifetime of S. her daughters married, and B. became a widow without having had a child. After S.'s death, and during the lifetime of S. M., N. also became a childless widow. S. M. died after her mother, leaving a son, R. K. R. K., on attaining majority, sued to recover with mesne profits a 4-anna share in the ancestral estates to which he claimed to be entitled on his mother's death as heir of R., and from which he alleged that he had been dispossessed by the representatives of R.'s brothers, whom he made defendants in the suit, joining B. and N. with them as co-defendants. Some time after the institution of the suit, a petition was filed, purporting to proceed from B. and N., by which they admitted that the plaintiff was the heir of R., and that they had no defence to offer. Held that limitation could not be taken to have run against the plaintiff's claim during the lifetime of S., who, in the absence of proof that she had received only maintenance, as distinguished from participation in the profits of the estate, must be presumed to have had possession of the share in the estate which she inherited as her husband's widow. Quare.—Whether, if N. had been considered as having relinquished her rights, she would not, at the time of the relinquishment, have been barred by limitation. AMETOLAL BOSE v. The defence set up was that the suit was barred by lapse of time, as the plaintiff's cause of action arose in 1835, or more than twelve years before the institution of the suit. Held (following a dictum in the Full Bench ruling in Nobin Chunder Chuckerbutty v. Guru Persad Doss, B. L. R., Sup. Vol., 1008) that the words "cause of action" in clause 12, section 1, refer, not to the new cause of action which accrues to the reversioner, but to the "cause of action" which accrued to the tenant-for-life; and that the suit having been brought after a lapse of more than twelve years after the death of the tenant-for-life, was barred. *GANGA CHAMAN ROY CHOWDEY v. 12. ———— Suit by reversionary heirs—Possession by adopted son—A Hindu widow, in 1824, assumed to adopt a son to her husband, and such son, and after him the defendant, his heir, was put in possession of the properties in suit. The widow died in 1861. The suit was instituted in 1866 to recover the property and to declare the adoption illegal. Held that such possession during the life of the widow could not be said to be adverse as against the widow. The cause of action to: he reversionary heirs arose at the time of the death of the widow, and was consequently not barred by limitation. SRINATH GANGOPADHYA v. MAHESHA CHANDRA ROY

The determination, therefore, of such right during her lifetime, extinguishes also the right of the reversioner on her death. SARODA SOONDURY DOSSEE v. DOYAMOYEE DOSSEE

16. ———— Suit by reversioners after death of Hindu widow—In 1846 a widow, under an ikrarnama, made over to her brother-in-law certain properties formerly belonging to the estate of one L., her late husband. The widow died in 1878. In March 1879 a suit was brought by the daughters of L. to recover the properties formerly belonging to their father from the hands of certain vendees. Held that the suit by the reversioners was not barred under article 141 of Act XV of 1877, there having been no possession adverse to the widow, by dispossession, for more than twelve years, the widow's cause of action having ceased when she entered into the ikrarnama in 1846, and gave up her right to the property, nor, under section 2 of Act XV of 1877, could the right of the plaintiffs be said to be barred by any Act repealed thereby, inasmuch as article 142 of Act IX of 1871 prescribes the same period of limitation as is prescribed in article 141 of Act XV of 1877 and that although, under Act XIV of 1859, repealed by Act IX of 1871, it was decided in Nobin Chunder Chuckerbutty v. Guru Persad Doss, B. L. R., Sup. Vol., 1008, that adverse possession which bars a widow also bars the reversionary heirs, yet the exception laid down in that case would be applicable, and would save limitation. *PURSAT KOER v. 20. ———— Reversioner, Suit by — Adverse possession against Hindu widow—In a suit instituted on the 26th August 1879 by the reversioner on the death of a widow, who died on the 28th August 1867, to recover certain immoveable property, it appeared that the defendant had forcibly dispossessed the widow of the property in 1864 and held it ever since. Held that, under article 141 of schedule II of Act XV of 1877, the reversioner was entitled to a fresh period of limitation from the death of the widow, although limitation had begun to run against her. Semble,—The law as laid down by the Full Bench in *Nobin Chunder Chuckerbutty v. 22. ———— Suit by person claiming immoveable property on death of Hindu or Mahomedan female—N, a Mahomedan, died in 1849 leaving immoveable property which was inherited by his mother B, his brother E, and his sister A. It was found that A was never in possession of the share inherited by her, and that she died in 1878. Held, in a suit against E and his son, brought in 1884 by A's heirs for possession of that share, that article 141 of the Limitation Act did not apply, and that the suit as to that share was barred. Per WILSON, J.—Article 141 of schedule II of Act XV of 1877 refers to suits by persons claiming on the death of a Hindu or Mahomedan female, under an independent title, in the same way as, in respect of suits by remaindermen, reversioners, and others, article 140 does. It does not apply to the case of a person suing on the very same cause of action which accrued to a female, and suing by right of being her heir AZAM BHUYAN v. FAIZUDDIN AHAMED [I. L. only to suits where the relief claimed is purely for a declaration that an alleged adoption is invalid or never in fact took place. Such a suit is distinct from a suit for possession of property, and the latter kind of suit cannot be held to be barred as a suit brought under article 118, merely by reason of its raising a question of the validity of an adoption, but is separately provided for by article 141. It is discretionary in a Court to grant relief by a declaration of a right, and consequently the fact that a person has not sued for a declaration should not be a bar to a suit for possession of property on any ground of limitation prescribed for the former. In a suit by a person who had objected to an attachment of immoveable property in execution of a decree, and whose objection had been disallowed, to set aside the order disallowing the objection, for removal of the attachment, and for possession of the property, the defendants, at whose instance the attachment had been made, set up a title based on the adoption of the judgment-debtor by the widow of the person whom the plaintiff claimed to succeed by right of inheritance. Held that the limitation applicable to the suit was article 141 and not article 118 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877), the suit being not to obtain any declaration that the alleged adoption was invalid, but for recovery of possession of immoveable property, for which there was a special limitation. *BASDEO v. 8. ————— Suit for possession—Illegal resumption by Government.—The plaintiff was possessed of an estate situate on the bank of a river, and of certain chur lands which had accreted thereto. The Collector took possession of the chur lands in 1818, upon the default of the proprietor to appear to answer a claim made by Government to assess the chur land. In 1824 a suit was filed by Government under Regulation II of 1819 for the resumption of these lands, the Government officers, however, continuing to hold possession and collect the rents. In 1847 the Collector, in conformity with a general order under Act IX of 1847, "for the abatement of all suits for the resumption of alluvial lands then pending," struck off the suit and restored the lands to the possession of the zemindar. The proprietor claimed the waslat enjoyed by the Government during his dispossession, and the Government again dispossessed him, under the assumption that the lands were an island in the river, and that the plaintiff was not entitled to them as an accretion. The plaintiff having brought a suit in 1854 to establish his right to the lands in question, —Held that the Statute of Limitation was no answer to the suit, because the pendency of the suit for the resumption and assessment of the lands between 1824 and 1848 prevented the proprietor from commencing a suit during that period, and that during such period the limitation did not run; and, further, after that period the necessity for a suit was obviated by the restoration of the lands to the proprietor. Held, also, that a fresh cause of action accrued under the second ouster. SURNOMOYE v COLLECTOR OF RUNGPORE Marsh., 13: W. The plaintiff urged that a fresh cause of action arose in consequence of some proceedings of the Government by which they made a new grant of the villages to the second defendant at an increased revenue. Held that such grant would not give a new cause of action, and could not affect the time when the only cause of action arose to the plaintiff. CHAITANYA CHUNDERA HURIS CHANDANA JAGADEVU v. 11. — Discontinuance of possession—Diluvated lands afterwards re-formed—Adverse possession—Per GARTH, C J—Where a person can show that he has been in possession of certain lands prior to such lands becoming diluviated, his possession must be considered as continuing during the time of diluvion until such time as he becomes dispossessed by some other person, and in such a case the onus lies upon the dispossessor to show that he has acquired a title under the Law of Limitation which has put an end to the rights of the original possessor. *Per WHITE, J—*The discontinuance, or discontinuance of possession, mentioned in article 143, schedule II of Act IX of 1871, is that which occurs where the property is taken actual possession of by another, and does not apply to the case where the property is submerged by the act of God, and so made impossible of occupation and actual possession. Owners of land which has suffered from successive diluviations and re-formations must, if they wish to preserve their rights, bring their suit within twelve years of the time when adverse possession is first taken of land re-forming on the original site, whether at the time of suit the land is capable of occupation or is lying under water in consequence of a second diluvion. KALLY CHURN SHAHOO v. *Discontinuance of possession—*In a suit to recover possession of a house, the plaintiffs alleged that their predecessor in title had permitted A, the father of the defendants, to occupy the house in question without paying any rent for it, and that since A's death, which took place about twenty years before the institution of the suit, the defendants had been permitted to reside therein without paying rent. The defendants contended that the plaintiffs' predecessor in title had made a gift of the house to A, that he had remained in possession of it until his death, and that since then they had been in possession of the house by virtue of the gift. Held that the suit was barred by limitation under Act XV of 1877, schedule II, article 142. The meaning of article 142 is, that where there has been possession followed by a discontinuance of possession, time runs from the moment of its discontinuance, whether there has or has not been any adverse possession, and without regard to the intention with which, or the circumstances under which, possession was discontinued. recovery of immoveable property against a person who had originally been in mere permissive occupation or possession accorded on the ground of charity or relationship, is governed by Act XV of 1877, schedule II, clause 144, and not by clause 142 of the same schedule. perty purchased from the widow, more than twelve years after the sale, but less than twelve years after the widow's death, the defence was limitation under Act IX of 1871, schedule II, clause 144, commencing from the date of the sale, there having been, it was alleged, "a breach of condition or forfeiture" within the meaning of that clause. By the terms of the arrangement contained in a solehnama, the widow was to have no power to alienate, and after her death her share was to belong to the cousin. Held that these terms prohibited only such an alienation by the widow as would prevent the cousin's succeeding after her death, and the alienation made was good for the widow's lifetime. There was no condition against such an alienation, and if there had been, there was neither any rule of law, nor anything in the words used in the solehnama, attaching forfeiture to the breach of such a condition. Held, accordingly, that article 144 did not apply, and the suit was not barred by limitation. SAHODEA v RAI JANG BAHADUR LUTCHMAN SAHAI CHOWDHRY v RAI JANG BAHADUR. 3. ———— Act IX of 1871, s. 23—Breach of condition in mortgage—Suit for ejectment of mortgagees—Continuing breach of contract.—In November 1873 M. sued for the cancelment of a deed of usufructuary mortgage executed by her in November 1856, and for the ejectment of the mortgagees, on the ground of the breach of a condition in the deed that the mortgagees should pay her a life annuity of Rs15, during the term of the mortgage (twenty years) and also after foreclosure, otherwise, on any failure, they would be liable to ejectment and to the forfeiture of the mortgage. It did not appear that any payments of the annuity had been made. The plea of limitation having been taken, the lower Courts held that the suit was within time, as the case fell within clause 143, schedule II, Act IX of 1871. It was held in special appeal that, assuming that they were in error in so holding, the case was governed by clause 144, and the provisions of section 23 enabled the plaintiff to treat each failure to pay the stipulated annuity as a new breach giving a new right to eject, and that the suit was therefore clearly within time. SADHA v BHAGWANI. 7 N. The purchasers never paid the fees, and more than twelve years after the first default the vendors sued them for possession of the land they were entitled to. Held that the suit, being governed by No. 143, schedule II of Act XV of 1877, and more than twelve years having expired from the first breach of such agreement, was barred by limitation. The difference between section 23 of Act IX of 1871 and Act XV of 1877 pointed out. BHOJRAJ v GULSHAN ALI. I. L. R., 4 All., 493

1 INTEREST IN IMMOVEABLE PROPERTY

1. ———— Immoveable property—Toda gwas hak—The expression "immoveable property" in Act XIV of 1859, section 1, clause 12, must not be construed as identical with "lands or houses." It comprehends all that would be real property according to English law, and possibly more. A toda gwas hak being a right to receive an annual payment, the liability for which is not a mere personal liability, but one which attaches to the inamdar into whosesoever hands the village may pass, is "an interest in immoveable property" within the meaning of clause 12, section 1, Act XIV of 1859. *FUTTER-SANGJI JASWANTSANGJI v. District Judge on appeal found his claim barred on the ground solely that he had not for twelve years been in possession of the one third which he claimed of the service land. Held that, having regard to section 4 of Act XI of 1843, the plaintiff's cause of action did not depend on his possession within twelve years, but on whether his turn to officiate as patil, and his right to enjoy the land in dispute, arose more than twelve years before the suit was brought. *SINDE v. 5. ———— Grant by a Hindu sovereign to a Hindu temple — Immoveable property — The Peishwa, by a sanad dated 1790, granted to an ancestor of the plaintiffs, for the support of a Hindu temple, an annual cash allowance of Rs350 out of the "antastha sadilvar" and three khandis of rice out of the "kheri jamabandi parbhare," to be levied from certain mehals and forts mentioned in the sanad. The allowances were paid till the death of the plaintiff's father on the 26th December 1859, when the Collector of Thana stopped them. On the 23rd December 1870, the plaintiffs sued to establish their right to the grant and to recover six years' arrears of the allowances. The defendant pleaded that the suit was barred by the Law of Limitation. The question for consideration was whether the suit was governed by clause 12 or clause 16 of section 1 of the Limitation Act, XIV of 1859. Held (per SARGENT, J) that the grant in question was of the nature of immoveable property, and that the suit, therefore, fell within the provisions of clause 12 of section 1 of the Limitation Act, XIV of 1859. In using the expression "subject of the suit" in the rule laid down by the Privy Council in the Toda Gurus case (Fatesangji v. Desai Kailhanrayaji, L. R., 1 I. A., 34), their Lordships intended to include in it all the facts which determine the nature of the plaintiff's claim, and not merely of the allowance itself, and to confine the application of Hindu law to those cases in which the "subject of the suit" has such a distinctive Hindu character as that only Hindu law and usage can be legitimately invoked to determine its quality and nature. It is the fixed and permanent character of an allowance from whatever source derived, which by Hindu law entitles it to rank with immoveables. Here the grant, from the object which it had in view, was to be deemed to be one in perpetuity, and the fund out of which this perpetual allowance was to be paid was derived from a permanent source. It had, therefore, all the characteristics of permanency and durability which were essential to bring it, according to Hindu law, within the term "immoveable property." Held (per MELVILLE, J) that the allowance in question was not immoveable property, and that the suit, therefore, did not come within the provisions of clause 12 of section 1 of the Limitation Act, XIV of 1859. From a consideration of the judgment of the Privy Council in Fatesangji v. Desai Kailhanrayaji, L. R., 1 I. A., 34, it would appear that the rule which their Lordships intended to lay down is this, viz., that, whenever it is possible to do so, the terms "immoveable property" and "interest in immoveable property" in Act XIV of 1859 must be interpreted, on general principles of construction, with reference to the nature of the thing sued for, and not to the status, race, character, or religion of the parties to the suit; but that in exceptional cases, in which the thing sued for is of such a special and exceptional character that its nature cannot be determined without reference to the special and peculiar law of a particular sect or class, in such cases, and in such cases only, the law of such sect or class may properly be referred to as furnishing a guide to the determination of the question. The Privy Council has thus laid down a rule and an exception, and the question in every case must be whether the rule or the exception applies. The rule is that the terms "immoveable property" and "interest in immoveable property" are to be held to include, not only land and houses, and such other things as are physically incapable of being moved, but also such incorporeal hereditaments as issue out of, or are connected with, immoveable property properly so called, and which, therefore, savour of the reality." e.g., rights of common, rights of way, and other profits in alieno solo, rents, pensions, and annuities secured upon land,—all these clearly constitute an interest in immoveable property. Pensions and annuities not secured upon land, houses, or the like, as clearly do not constitute such an interest. When a classification can thus be made, it ought to be so made without reference to the character of the party claiming the right. But there may be cases in which the test prescribed by the rule fails, or is very difficult of application, and then will come in the operation of the exception to the rule, and it may become the duty of the Court to seek for guidance in some arbitrary definition contained in the religious law of the claimant. e.g., in the instance of an hereditary office in a Hindu community incapable of being held by any person not a Hindu. The claim now in question is a claim to an annuity granted by a Hindu sovereign to a Hindu temple. The annuity is not made a charge upon land, and it is not, therefore, according to general principles of construction, immoveable property. That being so, it is not necessary to go further. COLLECTOR OF THANA v. KRISHNANATH GOVIND. . . . I. L. R., 5 Bom., 322

Held, by a Full Bench on appeal under the Letters Patent, that the grant made by the sanad was "nibandha," and that the subject-matter of the suit was immoveable property, or an interest in immoveable property, within the meaning of the Limitation Act, XIV of 1859, section 1, clause 12. Held, also, that the Hindu law might be properly resorted to for the purpose of determining whether the subject-matter of the suit was immoveable property (ie., nibandha) within the meaning of the Limitation Act, XIV of 1859, section 1, clause 12. Assuming that it was incorrect to apply Hindu law to ascertain the nature of the grant in question, nevertheless held that the grant was an interest in immoveable property within the meaning of the Limitation Act, XIV of 1859, section 1, clause 12. The grant savoured throughout of locality, and was undoubtedly irrevocable, inalienable, and perpetual. The Indian Legislature did not intend to exclude such property from section 1, clause 12 of the Act. The Indian Legislature, which passed the Limitation Act, XIV of 1859, has not given any explanation or definition in the Act of the phrase "immoveable property," but has left suitors to their former ideas on the subject. Under these circumstances it would be a hardship upon them to construe the Act inconsistently with such ideas, inasmuch as they were furnished with no guide which could have led them to suppose that "immoveable property," according to Act XIV of 1859, meant anything less than what they had previously known as such. And that the Indian Legislature were not disposed to be very harsh, is shown by its subsequent more fully developed legislation on the subject of limitation, which to haks and other periodical payments assigns the twelve years' limit. A pension or other periodical payment or allowance granted in permanence is ribandha, whether secured on land or not. COLLECTOR OF THANA v. HARI SITARAM property On their hypothecating it, the deed of gift was set aside in a suit by the plaintiff One of the plaintiff's rights as proprietor was to receive half of the produce of a certain grove, which right, while the deed was in force, the donees had agreed, by a solehnamah with the defendant, to commute for a yearly rent. No decree was made in the suit, which was compromised. In November 1877 B and E entered into possession of a shop which had belonged to their father, and which had been managed, during their minority, by the defendant C In 1879 the plaintiffs instituted the present suit, claiming to recover from C the property of A come to her hands Held that, so far as the immoveable property was concerned, the case fell either under article 120 or article 144 of Act XV of 1877, schedule II; and as to the moveable property, under article 89 or 90 of the same Act. *KALLY CHURN SHAW v. make them equal in quality as well as in quantity, B continuing to hold nearly the same quantity of land as he did before. C attained his majority in 1854, and in December 1863 brought a suit against B for a readjustment of the partition completed in 1847, so far as it respected lands held by B in the village of K Held that B's possession was adverse from 1847, and the readjustment in 1855 could not give the plaintiff a new starting-point; the suit, therefore, was barred by limitation. *SEINIVASSIENGAR v. He then sued for a declaration of his right and title to the four villages. Held that the possession of the political department had not been adverse to the plaintiff, and his cause of action did not arise till his title was devised and the proceeds diverted from his use *COURT OF WARDS v. 19. ———— Suit for possession of land.—Collector's possession not adverse to true owner—Act IX of 1871, schedule II, article 145, enacting that suits for possession of immoveable property, or any interest therein, must be brought within twelve years from the time when the possession of the defendant, or some person through whom he claims, has become adverse to the plaintiff, differs from the rule formerly in force under Act XIV of 1859, section 1, clause 12 The latter was that the suit must be brought within twelve years from the time when the cause of action arose, and thus the former rule that, where the cause of action arose upon an alleged dispossession, the burden was upon the plaintiff to show that he, or some one through whom he claimed, had actual possession within twelve years before the institution of the suit, has been superseded by the above. Where the Government, in the Revenue Department, has taken possession of land, it is the duty of the Collector, after payment of the revenue and the expenses of the collection, to pay over the surplus proceeds of the estate to the true owner. The Collector's possession does not become adverse to the owner by reason of his making this payment to another claimant. KARAN SINGH v. BAKAR ALI KHAN . . . I. L. R., 5 All., 1 [I. R., 9 I. *tion—Bombay Act I of 1865, s 34—“Contra non valentem agere non currit præscriptio.” Application of—*In the year 1806-7 the Peshwas attached certain vatan lands belonging to the plaintiff's family. The attachment continued till the year 1866, when the British Government made them khalsa, or resumed them. The defendant in the meanwhile entered upon them as tenant to the Government, and paid assessment thereon. In the year 1871 the lands were ordered to be restored to the plaintiffs. After this order of restoration the plaintiffs brought a suit against their coparceners for partition, and obtained a decree. In the execution of this decree they were obstructed by the defendant, who claimed the lands as his own. The plaintiffs thereupon brought a suit against the defendant in 1881 to eject the defendant and to obtain possession of the lands. The Court of first instance held the plaintiffs entitled merely to such assessment as might remain after payment of judi to Government. It further held that the defendant's possession had become adverse to the plaintiffs, as the latter did not bring their suit within twelve years from the resumption of the lands by Government in 1866, since which time the defendant was to be considered as tenant or occupant under Government. From this decree the plaintiffs appealed, and the lower Appellate Court was of opinion that by the order of restoration the plaintiffs were restored to the right of such assessment as was left after deduction of judi, and that their claim to that even was barred, as it was brought after twelve years from the date of resumption. On appeal to the High Court,—Held, restoring the decree of the Court of first instance, that the claim of the plaintiffs was not barred. After the attachment of the lands in dispute, the Peshwa's Government held the same as constructive trustees for the plaintiffs, and when that Government was succeeded by the British Government the same relation continued. The British Government, having succeeded to the trust, continued to hold as trustee for the family of the plaintiffs, their possession, therefore, could not be made adverse by intimation or notice to the plaintiffs. It was not found that the defendant held the lands before the attachment by the Peshwas, and the British Government could not, as guardian or bailiff for the real owners, the plaintiffs, put the defendant into a better position than their own. The plaintiffs' right having never been extinguished, had the same legal force in 1870, when the lands were restored, as it had before attachment in 1806. From 1871 onwards the plaintiffs could act, and as the suit was commenced within the term computed from that time, it was not barred—the inability of the plaintiffs to sue before 1871 falling within the purview of the maxim contra non valentem agere non currit præscriptio. It was contended for the defendant that section 34 of Bombay Act I of 1865 applied in the present case. Held that, if it could apply, it would apply only in the sense of limiting the rights acquired under the Collector's management to the term of that management, and nothing further. TUKARAM v SUJANGIR GURU

34. ———— Confirmation of title—Cause of action—The plaintiff sued for confirmation of his title to, and for possession of, a jote in the Nowabad mehal, deriving his title under a pottah from the ijaradar. The defendant's case was that he had bought the lands as a talook, and been in possession accordingly, but finding that the lands had been surveyed as a part of the Nowabad mehal, he took a pottah from the ijaradar four years previous to the plaintiff's pottah. The defendant's pottah was found to be a forgery. Held that the plaintiff's cause of action arose solely from the title set up by the defendant under the pottah derived from the ijaradar, and not from the date when the defendant purchased the lands as a talook. *SHAHABOODEEN v. 36. ———— Landlord and tenant—Suit for possession—Cause of action—The plaintiff stated that in the year 1862 he purchased a talook in which some of the defendants then held an ijarah for a term of years expiring in 1868. The talook had previously been a khas mehal in the possession of the Government, and was bought by the plaintiff at an auction sale held by the Collector. The plaintiff also stated that the ijaradar defendants, in collusion with the other defendants, had continued in possession of the lands held in ijarah after the term of the ijarah had expired, and had refused to give up possession thereof to the plaintiff. The Judge of the lower Appellate Court found that the defendants (other than the ijaradars) had been in possession previously to the sale in 1862, and he also found that there was no evidence to support the charge of collusion with the ijaradar defendants. He therefore dismissed the suit (which was brought in 1880) on the ground of limitation. Held, on second appeal, that the plaintiff's cause of action arose on the expiration of the ijarah, and that the suit, whether governed by article

37. ———— Landlord and tenant—Adverse possession.—Trespasser—A defendant has a right to set up the plea of tenancy and at the same time to rely on the Statute of Limitations. The plaintiff sued to recover possession of certain land. The defendant pleaded that it was included in a permanent lease granted to him in 1849 by the plaintiff's predecessor in title, and that the suit was barred by the Law of Limitation. It was found at the hearing that the land was not included in the lease. It appeared that there were disputes between the parties about the land since 1856, each asserting his own right to it. It was contended for the plaintiff that inasmuch as the defendant had claimed the land as a tenant, his possession was not adverse under article 144 of the Limitation Act, XV of 1877. Held that, under the circumstances, the defendant's possession was adverse. The defendant was a trespasser, setting up a pretended tenancy which the plaintiff denied throughout. The case, therefore, was to be regarded as one against a trespasser, and not as one between landlord and tenant. Dinomoney Dabee v. Doorgapersad Mozoomdar, 12 B. L. 38. ———— Adverse possession—Landlord and tenant—The plaintiffs sued for possession of a third share in certain immovable property, alleging that they were entitled to it under an agreement dated the 1st December 1848, and executed by one Balaji, deceased. By that document Balaji appointed as successors to his estate, after his death, three persons, B., R. (plaintiff's father), and S., on condition that they should maintain him during the remainder of his life, pay off his debts, and perform his obsequies. Accordingly one of the three donees, B., lived with Balaji, and managed the property. Balaji died in 1852. B. continued to manage the property till his own death in 1865, when B.'s eldest son took up the management, and he and the other heirs of B. subsequently sold a portion of the property. The suit was principally against the sons and heirs of B. and the purchaser. The plaintiff was filed on the 8th September 1873, and alleged (inter alia) that B. managed the property as trustee. The defence substantially was that B. held it exclusively as owner and not as trustee, and that the suit was barred by limitation. Both the lower Courts dismissed the suit as barred by limitation, holding that B.'s possession was adverse, and that R. had no possession or enjoyment within twelve years previously to the institution of the suit. On appeal to the High Court, —Held that B.'s possession, whether it commenced before the death or only on the death of Balaji, was held, after that event, consistently with and in fulfilment of the agreement B having entered into possession and been left in possession in the first instance in accordance with the contract, could not change the character of the possession by his mere will. He did not intimate to E: or S. that he repudiated the contract and intended to go into possession in opposition to 'any rights which they might assert. As he entered and continued to hold in a character consistent with the subsistence of their rights, they were never called on to eject him, or by any other process to establish rights which were not denied. While there subsisted any contract, express or implied, between the parties in and out of possession to which the possession might be referred as legal and proper, it could not be pronounced adverse. *DADOBA v. 41. ———— Adverse possession—An outside person claiming an interest in an estate together with an undivided family—Inheritance to such owners.—In a family of three undivided brothers, an estate was purchased by the eldest as manager, on whose application a fourth party, a sister's husband, was recorded in the revenue records as a co-proprietor with them. The latter, even if he by joining in the purchase had become entitled to an undivided fourth share in the estate, did not thereby become a member of the undivided family, and the members of it would not have had a right to succeed to his fourth share, which would have descended to his own heirs, the other three fourths which he would not have inherited going by survivorship among the members of the family. A son of the eldest brother obtained, by the deaths of his father and uncles, sole possession of the whole estate. Held that he did not take the one fourth share above mentioned by any right of inheritance, and that in the absence of proof that his possession of it was by authority of the fourth recorded co-proprietor, his possession must be presumed to have been adverse to the latter and to any one claiming through him. It followed that a suit to obtain

42. ———— Suit for possession—On the 7th December 1863, A., in execution of his decree, purchased and obtained symbolical possession of a certain 4 annas share, the property of his judgment-debtor. The 4 annas share was at the time under a mortgage to B, who happened to be in possession of the share as lessee. The term of the lease expired in 1870 or 1871. A, C, and D, who were members of a Hindu joint family, afterwards came to a partition of their common estate in which was included the 4 annas share, and one of them, D, sold his share in the 4 annas to B, who, on the 22nd December 1871, purchased it in the name of E. B then brought a suit to enforce his mortgage against F, the heir of his mortgagor, and on the 8th December 1873 obtained a decree, which on special appeal was confirmed by the High Court on the 21st December 1875. On the 6th December 1875, A, C, and E had brought a suit for the possession of the 4 annas share against one Mukund Kishore, who had wrongfully taken possession of the property in 1870 or 1871, soon after the expiration of the lease to B. The suit was finally decided in their favour on the 29th July 1879. In the meantime,—that is, somewhere in 1876,—B. had contrived to take possession of the whole share. In 1883 symbolical possession was obtained under the decree of the 29th July. B. then executed his mortgage decree, and attached the 4 annas share, excluding the portion which stood in the name of his benamidar. Z, the heir of A, having failed to make good his claim to a share of the property in the execution proceedings, now brought a suit for possession against B on the 19th July 1884. Held that the suit, having been brought within twelve years from the date of the fraudulent possession by B., was in time, and fell under article 144 of the Limitation Act. *RAM KISHORE GANGAPADHYA v. 43. ———— Suit to recover possession from mortgagees.—The defendant was in possession of three fields (Survey Nos 222, 360, 372) as mortgagee under mortgages executed by one G., who was the plaintiff's guru and his predecessor in office as jaigam or presiding 'Langayat priest of the math. G. died in 1874, and the present suit was brought in 1882 to recover possession of the fields on the ground that G. was not competent to alienate them. Two of these fields had been originally mortgaged by G. to one S. in 1863. In July 1866 a fresh loan on the security of the same land was obtained from D., the son of S., and the first mortgage deed was then superseded by one executed in favour of D. In 1871

D assigned his mortgage to the defendant. It was contended that the plaintiff's claim to these two fields was barred, as the mortgage to D. was more than twelve years anterior to the suit. Held that the suit was not barred, as the cause of action accrued to the plaintiff on G.'s death, and the suit was brought only eight years after that event. *JAMAL SAHEB v. In a suit brought by the ghatwal to resume, as determinable at will, the under-tenure which had been granted by one of his ancestors of land, part of the ghatwali mehal, limitation was set up in bar of the suit. Held that, after the creation of the under-tenure, as long as there was no dispute or conflicting claim, the possession of it was not adverse to the ghatwal, and proceedings, either between the ghatwal or between under-tenure-holders on the one side and creditors on the other, could not be taken to show an assertion of right by either of the parties now in litigation, as against one another. There being nothing else to render the possession adverse, limitation only commenced at the date of the above-mentioned claim to the compensation-money which was made less than twelve years before the present suit was brought, and accordingly the suit was not barred. *RAM CHUNDEE SINGH v. 47. ——— Suit for possession of immoveable property.—Adverse possession.—I died in 1861, leaving a zemindari estate, a moiety of which at the time of his death was in the possession of a mortgagee. On the death of I the defendants in this suit, who were among his heirs, caused their names to be recorded, as his heirs, as the proprietors of such estate, to the exclusion of the plaintiff in this suit, who was his remaining heir; and they appropriated to their own use continuously for more than twelve years the profits of the unmortgaged moiety of such estate, and the malikana paid by the mortgagee of the mortgaged property. In 1877 the defendants redeemed the mortgage of the mortgaged moiety of such estate from their own moneys. In 1878 the plaintiff sued for the possession of her share by inheritance of such estate. Held (SPANKIE, J., doubting), with reference to the mortgaged moiety of such estate, that the possession of the defendants in respect of such moiety did not become adverse, within the meaning of article 144 of schedule II of Act XV of 1877, on the death of I. in 1861, but on the redemption of such moiety in 1877—"adverse possession" under that article meaning the same sort of possession as is claimed,—that is to say, in this case, full proprietary possession, which was not the nature of the possession of the defendants until the redemption of the mortgage, and the suit, therefore, in respect of such moiety, was within time. *UMR-UN-NISSA v. 48. ——— Adverse possession.—On the 6th September 1865, B. obtained a putni lease of certain land from the zemindar, and at an auction sale by the Sheriff of Calcutta on the 21st February 1867, the zemindar's interest was knocked down to B., and a conveyance of the property to him was executed by the Sheriff on the 1st April 1867. On the 13th March 1879, a suit for khas possession was brought against B. by C., who had bought the property at a sale in execution of a decree made on a mortgage thereof, the date of the mortgage being 11th January 1865, and the date of the decree being 30th November 1865. B. pleaded adverse possession. Held that B.'s possession as putnidar only could not be considered as adverse to C., who claimed the superior interest, that B.'s possession as purchaser could not be considered to have commenced before the date of the conveyance to him by the Sheriff,—namely, the 1st of April 1867, and that, therefore, the plea of adverse possession was bad, since the suit had been instituted within twelve years of that date. *KASUMUNNISSA BIBEE v. The mortgagee had held and enjoyed from the first, and had assigned absolutely, and the assignee had again assigned absolutely as owner. In execution for the debt of the widow of the mortgagor's son, her right and interest mortgaged in the premises were sold, and the Sheriff's vendee sold to the mortgagee. The son of the surviving sister (not the mortgagor) sued for redemption and possession. Held that as his title accrued (on his showing) on his mother's death, at which time defendant's vendors held adversely, no mortgage relation had been established as between plaintiff and defendants; and more than twelve years having elapsed before suit, the suit was not maintainable. *SEEMULMONEY BEBEE v. 54. ——— Adverse possession—Suit to recover possession of property sold at execution sale.—The plaintiff and two other members of his family, M and S, held a zemindari in the following shares, viz: the plaintiff ten annas, M, two annas, and S, four annas. Having first held the land ijmali, or joint, they agreed, in the year 1839, to effect a butwara, or private partition, and of this the result was, that parcels of land representing his ten annas share were allotted to the plaintiff, and other parcels representing their shares, which together made six annas, were allotted to M and S, who held jointly. M died in 1842, and his share came to the plaintiff. The four annas share of S was sold in execution of a decree against him in 1856, and the purchaser of it, not accepting the fact of partition, sued both S and the plaintiff in 1858 to have it declared that there had been no partition, and for a declaration of his right to possession of a four annas share of the whole estate. A decree was made to that effect in 1860, and in 1863 an appeal by S alone against this decree was dismissed by the High Court. The purchaser's heirs, he having died, obtained possession of land representing the four annas share under the decree of 1860. S then set up a title to hold part of the lands allotted under the butwara of 1839 to the six annas share, on the ground that they were lakhuraj lands, and distinct from the revenue-paying villages in which his interest had passed under the execution sale. The plaintiff sued, in September 1873, the defendant, who had purchased this last alleged interest of S at another sale in execution of a decree against him, claiming that the partition having been set aside and a four annas share of the whole estate obtained by the purchasers under the decree of 1860, a right accrued to him to have his share, now twelve annas, declared upon the lands which had fallen within the six annas share. He also claimed to have it declared that the parcels alleged to be lakhuraj were not so. On the question of limitation it was held that the 145th article of the second schedule of Act IX of 1871 was applicable, and that even if, technically, the lands now in question remained in the possession of S pending the appeal against the decree of 1860, there was no possession adverse to the plaintiff rendering it necessary for him to assert his right until the

In 1851 another co-owner had, in a suit to which some only of the present defendants were parties, obtained a decree for the periodical allotment of the lands; and in 1853 such decree, which clearly recognised the existence and validity of the custom, was affirmed on appeal. Held that litigation which commenced in 1851 was sufficient to prevent the Law of Limitation from barring the plaintiff's right to sue, and that the circumstance that some only of the present defendants were parties to such litigation could make no difference with regard to the limitation bar. Quere,—Whether, in the absence of such litigation, the Law of Limitation would have been a bar. VENKATASWAMI NAYAKAN v. 63. ———— Agreement not to execute decree—Wrongful execution in breach of agreement—Deed of conditional sale—Disavowal of trust—The plaintiff sued in 1875 to recover possession of immovable property which the defendant had obtained in 1873, in execution of an ex parte decree dated the 8th June 1861. That decree was founded on a deed purporting to be a deed of conditional sale, dated the 24th December 1853, executed by the plaintiff in favour of the defendant. The plaintiff alleged that the deed was executed in order to protect the property against the claims of plaintiff's son, and the plaintiff sought to set it aside on account of defendant's breach of an agreement, dated the 16th January 1856, whereby the defendant stipulated that plaintiff's possession should not be disturbed. The defendant, inter alia, pleaded the bar of limitation against plaintiff's suit. Held that the suit was not barred by limitation, as plaintiff's cause of action only arose when defendant first practically disavowed the trust by seeking more than nominal execution of decree. PARAN SINGH v. In 1823 the then shebait of the debsheba at K instituted a suit for the recovery of the alienated lands against the then shebait of the sheba at C, and in that suit it was declared that the sheba was independent of the debsheba, and the then plaintiff was referred to a regular suit. In 1861 the then shebait of the debsheba brought a suit for recovery of the lands against the then shebait of the sheba. Held that the suit, not having been instituted until after the lapse of more than twelve years from the plaintiff's succession to the sheba, was barred by the Statute of Limitations. Semble,—That the Statute of Limitations, Bengal Regulation III of 1793, barred the suit twelve years after the death of A. KISSNONUND ASHROM DUNDY v. had assigned them to his (the plaintiff's) brother and himself (the plaintiff) and their descendants by a deed of gift to perpetuate the worship of the donor's household idol. Held that the plaintiff was entitled to recover the property. The gift was a valid one creating a religious endowment under the Hindu law and that the plaintiff's suit was not to set aside the sale, but was one by the trustee of the endowment to recover the property to which the limitation of twelve years was applicable. RUPA JAGSHET v. The plaintiff failed to prove possession by his vendor within twelve years of suit brought, and therefore the Courts below dismissed his suit. On special appeal it was held that the defendant, before succeeding on the question of limitation, ought to have shown that the plaintiff had notice of the mokurrari title set up. wrongfully held on after its expiration. The defendants set up an old mokurran grant under which they claimed to hold in perpetuity upon the payment of a fixed rent. The High Court, overruling the decision of the first Court upon the Statute of Limitations, held, and, in the opinion of the Privy Council, rightly, that the statute does not begin to run in favour of the mokurranadar against the zemindar until the latter has had notice that the former claims under a mokurran grant, and such notice was not given in the present instance twelve years before the commencement of the suit. TEKARTNEE GOURA COOMAREE v SAROO COOMAREE. . . 19 W. The contention that so long as the mortgagor is entitled only to the equity of redemption there can be no invasion of his interest cannot be assented to. There are cases in which the rights and interests of the mortgagor and mortgagee are equally invaded, and in such cases the mortgagor must come into Court within the time allowed for the recovery from trespassers of interests in land. AMMU v RAMAKRISHNA SASTRI [I. In October 1869 the mortgagors sold the property, and thereupon one B. brought a suit to enforce the right of pre-emption in respect of the sale and obtained a decree, and got the property and sold it in 1871 to D. In 1883 the mortgagee brought a suit against D. to obtain possession under his mortgage. Held, with reference to a plea of adverse possession for more than twelve years set up by the defendant, that the position of a person who purchased property by asserting a right of pre-emption was not analogous to that of an auction-purchaser in execution of a decree, but that Within twelve years after the registration, the adopted son of the minor brother brought several suits against the purchasers to set aside the sales and recover back his share of the property, alleging that the two elder brothers had made the sale fraudulently and illegally to satisfy personal debts of their own. Held that a suit of this nature was not a suit to "set aside an order of a Civil Court" under article 15, schedule II of Act IX of 1871, nor was it a suit "to cancel or set aside an instrument not otherwise provided for" under article 82, but that it was governed by article 145. *Sikher Chund v. A fourth child instituted a suit against the first-mentioned one, to set aside the deed of gift and will, the result of which was that, in 1855, the will, which affected two thirds of the estate, was set aside as having been made without due consent of heirs, the consent alleged in the will being

In July 1878 the wife and son of the judgment-debtor brought a suit to recover possession from the purchaser of two thirds of the property, on the ground that the auction-purchaser was entitled only to the share of the mortgagor. Held that the suit, having been brought within twelve years from the date on which the defendant obtained possession, was not barred by limitation. *MUNBASI KOER v. 89. ————— Cause of action.—Suit for possession and declaration of right to participate in permanent settlement of a mahal resumed under Beng Reg II of 1819.—Chur land was held by the proprietors of the adjoining estate. The chur was resumed by Government in 1835, and declared to be liable to assessment under Regulation II of 1819. The recorded proprietors of the adjoining permanently-settled estate, to which the chur was a contiguous accretion, refused to make a permanent settlement with Government at the rent demanded. The chur was then held khas by Government for some time, and subsequently leased out for temporary periods to strangers. In these temporary leases Government reserved the proprietor's rights to come in and take a permanent settlement on the expiry of the temporary settlements, and also reserved an allowance of ten per cent on the rent as mahkana on their account, which sum had been kept in deposit in the Collectorate treasury. In 1867 Government made a permanent settlement with the defendant, one of the recorded proprietors of the contiguous estate, of the entire chur, and refused the application of other shareholders in the estate to be joined in the settlement. The Collector, at the request of the defendants, applied the deposit in his treasury in satisfaction of the Government revenue. An unsuccessful shareholder brought a civil suit against the defendant for possession and a declaration of his right to participate in the settlement. Held that the suit was not barred, as the period of limitation commenced from the date of the settlement with the defendant. *KRISHNA CHANDRA SANDYAL CHOWDREY v. Transfer of immoveable property—Specific performance of contract—Limitation Act, 1877, arts. 113, 136.—On the 27th October 1865 the vendor of certain immoveable property executed a conveyance of such property to the purchasers. On that date the vendor was not in possession of the property, although his title to it had been adjudged by a decree against which an appeal was pending. The conveyance did not contain any express promise or undertaking on the vendor's part to put the purchasers into possession. On the 24th February 1870 the vendor obtained possession of the larger portion of the property, and on the 23rd August 1872 of the remainder. On the 5th October 1877 the purchasers sued the vendor for the possession of the property, stating that "possession was agreed to be delivered on the receipt of possession by the vendor," and that the cause of action was that the vendor had not put them into possession. Held that the suit was not one for the specific performance of a contract to deliver possession, to which article 113 of schedule II of Act XV of 1877 was applicable, but one to obtain possession in virtue of the right and title conveyed to the purchasers, to which either article 136 or 144 of schedule II of that Act was applicable; and that, whichever of them was applicable, the suit was within time. SHEO PRASAD v. 2. ——— Deposit of Government revenue with Collector pending partition—Account, Adjustment of.—During the pendency of a butwara, the plaintiff purchased a share in an ijmal mehal; and as the proportion of the Government revenue of each shareholder had not been ascertained, the shareholders, including the plaintiff's vendor, and subsequently the plaintiff, paid to the Collectorate what they thought due from them on account of Government revenue. Upon an account stated in 1857 it was ascertained that, after all necessary deductions, a sum of Rs655 was due to the plaintiff, who in 1864 applied to the Collector for payment of the amount; but the application was rejected, as the money had been previously drawn away by certain creditors of his vendor. In 1867 he sued the Collector for recovery of the amount. The defence set up was that the suit was barred by lapse of time. Held that the Collector was not a depository under the meaning of clause 15, section 1, Act XIV of 1859, that the cause of action did not arise on the demand for and refusal of payment, but on adjustment of the account; and that the case came under clause 16, section 1. GABIND CHANDRA v. art. 146.—Suit to recover possession of mortgaged property—Demand.—In 1842 H. C. executed in favour of the plaintiff, his brother, who was in possession of the family property as kurta and administrator of the estate of their father, a mortgage of his (H. C.'s) share of the estate in consideration of Rs3,700 advanced to him by the plaintiff. In the mortgage-deed the money was expressed to be payable "on demand." In 1847 an amicable partition of the family property was proposed, and it was agreed that a certain portion should be allotted to the plaintiff in satisfaction of the debt due to him by

H. C., but this arrangement was never carried out. In a suit brought in 1876 against the representative of H. C. for foreclosure of the mortgage, the plaintiff, who had admittedly been since 1842 in possession of the family property, alleged that no payment had ever been made in respect of the mortgage, nor any demand for payment, until 1876. The defendant contended that the suit was barred by lapse of time. Held, on the construction of the mortgage-deed, and under the circumstances of the case, per GARTH, C. J., that a demand was necessary, per MARKBY, J., that the words "on demand" did not postpone the date of payment, and that the mortgage-money became payable at once. Per GARTH, C. J., and MARKBY, J.—A demand was made in 1847 on the agreement to partition the property. The suit, therefore, was barred by Act XIV of 1859, as being brought more than twelve years after the cause of action arose. That Act not only barred the remedy, but extinguished the right, and therefore the plaintiff could derive no advantage from the extended period of limitation given by article 149 of Act IX of 1871, which repealed the Act of 1859. Article 149 of Act IX of 1871, moreover, only applies to cases in which some part of the principal or interest of the mortgage-debt has been paid. RAM CHUNDER GHOSAL v. JUGGUTMONMOHINEY DABEE

1. ———— Mortgage.—Sale or foreclosure.—Adverse possession.—In 1823 the trustees of a marriage settlement invested the trust-funds in the mortgage of a house and premises at Entally, in the neighbourhood of Calcutta. The mortgagor was the first tenant-for-life under the settlement, and it was agreed that he should be entitled to remain in the house as long as he pleased, the rent of the premises being set-off against the income of the trust-funds to which he was entitled under the settlement. In execution of a money-decree against the mortgagor, his right, title, and interest in the premises were purchased by the judgment-creditor, a lady who, at the time of execution and sale, lived in the mortgagor's house. After the purchase, all parties continued to live in the house as before. The mortgagor died on the 14th of August 1867, and on the 13th of August 1879 the present suit for sale or foreclosure was instituted by the plaintiff, in whom the legal and beneficial interest in the trust-funds had become vested. Held that the position of the judgment-creditor under the sale of 1866 was not adverse to the plaintiff or those under whom he claimed; that the suit was not barred by limitation,

3. ———— Mortgagor and mortgagee.—Suit to follow mortgaged property.—A mortgagor sold his property to B. in 1867, by a simple mortgage. In 1868 A sold the property to C. In 1870 B. brought a suit on his mortgage against A only and obtained a mortgage decree. In 1883 A brought a suit against C to enforce his lien against the mortgaged property. C pleaded that the suit was barred by limitation, under clause 132 of the Limitation Act, Act XV of 1877. Held that the suit was governed by article 147, schedule II of Act XV of 1877, and therefore was not barred by limitation. *BRUJO LAL SINGH v. 4. ———— Mortgage.—Mortgagee, Suit by a, to realise mortgage-debt by sale of mortgaged property, under power of sale.—Cause of action.—Construction.—By a mortgage-bond the first defendant mortgaged, on the 1st January 1864, certain property to plaintiffs' deceased father, with an implied power to sell the same if the debt was not satisfied at the expiration of seven years from that date. On the 2nd January 1883, the first plaintiff filed a suit in his own name, as manager of the family, to have the debt realised by the sale of the mortgaged property. The third defendant insisted upon plaintiffs' other two brothers being joined as co-plaintiffs, and they were so joined on the 1st March 1883, at which date both the lower Courts were of opinion that the suit was barred under section 22 and article 132 of the Limitation Act, XV of 1877. On appeal by the plaintiffs to the High Court,—Held, reversing the lower Courts' decrees, that plaintiffs' suit was governed by article 147 of the Limitation Act, XV of 1877, and, therefore, not barred. By the instrument sued on, the property in question was mortgaged to the plaintiffs' father with an implied, if not express, power to sell the same in the event of the mortgage, debt not being paid at the expiration of seven years from the date of the mortgage. The period of limitation was sixty years from the 1st January 1871. GOVIND BHAI CHAND v. KALNAK

15. ———— and art. 134.—*Joint mortgage.—Redemption by one mortgagor—Suit by other mortgagor for his share—Suit for redemption.—Transfer of property Act (IV of 1882), ss. 95, 100—K. and J. jointly mortgaged 36 sihams or shares of an estate to C giving him possession. C transferred his rights as mortgagee to T and M. In execution of a decree for money against K. held by M, K's rights and interests in the mortgaged property were sold, and were purchased by P, whose heirs paid the entire mortgage-debt. R an heir of J, sued the heirs of P, to recover from them possession of J's sihams in the mortgaged property, on payment of a proportionate amount of the mortgage-money paid by P. The plaintiff alleged that the mortgage to C had been made forty years before suit. The defendants contended that a much longer period had expired since the date of the mortgage, that forty-one years had elapsed since C transferred his rights as mortgagee, that they had redeemed the property twenty-one years ago and had been since its redemption in proprietary and adverse possession of the sihams in suit, and that the suit was barred by limitation. Neither party was aware of the date of the mortgage, and neither adduced any proof on the point. Held, applying the equitable principle adopted in sections 95 and 100 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), that the owner of a portion of a mortgaged estate, which has been redeemed by his co-mortgagor, has the right to redeem such portion from his co-mortgagor, and a suit brought for that purpose would be in the nature of a suit for redemption, and would naturally fall within the definition of No. 148, schedule II of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877); and it was not possible for one of two mortgagors, redeeming the whole mortgaged property behind the back of the other, to change the position of that other to something less than that of a mortgagor, or to abridge the period of limitation within which he ought to come in to redeem. Held, therefore, that article 148 and not article 134 of schedule II of the Limitation Act was applicable to the suit. *Umrnunissa v Muhammad Yar Khan, I L R., 3 All., 24, distinguished Pancham Singh v Ah Ah-mad, I L R., 4 All., 58, referred to. The District Court having held that, up to April 1st, 1873, when the Limitation Act of 1871 came into force, the limitation for such a suit was twelve years from the time when the cause of action arose, and that the suit was barred by adverse possession for twelve years prior to April 1st, 1873.—Held that, even if Regulation II of 1802 applied to claims by the Crown, inasmuch as the Regulation only barred the remedy and did not extinguish the right, and Act XIV of 1859 did not extend to such a claim, the right subsisted when the Limitation Act of 1871 came into operation, and as long as that Act was in force, and that the Crown, being entitled under that Act to sue within sixty years from the date of the cause of action, and under section 28 of the Limitation Act of 1877 to sue within two years from the 1st of October 1877, the suit was not barred SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. Consequently, where a person, having been dispossessed of property held by him under a mortgage on the 14th of December 1875, applied on the 14th January of 1876 for restitution, the 13th having been a Court holiday, it was held that his application was within the limitation of thirty days prescribed by article 158, schedule II of Act IX of 1871. *GURJAR v. 2. ———— Dispossession under sale in execution of decree—Summary order.—A person purchased certain property at a sale in execution of a decree in November 1878. His purchase was confirmed and he obtained a certificate of sale on the 23rd May 1879, from which date he remained in possession. The judgment-debtor applied unsuccessfully to have the sale set aside for irregularity. He had applied, before the sale took place, to stay the sale on the ground that the right to apply for execution was barred. This application was dismissed, but was allowed on appeal. It did not appear that the auction-purchaser was a party to the proceeding, or that he was cognizant of the application. Two years from the date of the sale, and one and a half years from its confirmation, the judgment-debtor on a summary application obtained an order setting aside the sale and putting the auction-purchaser out of possession. Held that the order was erroneous, the Judge having no power, after the sale had been confirmed, to set aside the sale by a summary order, and that under article 165 of Act XV of 1877 the application for such an order was barred. *MAHOMED HOSSEIN v. ——— Execution—Sale in execution, the judgment-debtor being ignorant of the execution proceedings through the fraud of the decree-holder.—Setting aside proceedings in execution—Civil Procedure Code (XIV of 1882), ss. 294, 311.—In 1879 D obtained a decree against S. S gave security for the satisfaction of the decree, whereupon D agreed not to take proceedings in execution. In breach of this agreement, D, in the same year applied for execution and sold certain immoveable property belonging to S, of which K became the purchaser. K did not apply for possession until 1883, in which year he applied for and obtained possession of the property. S alleged that he then for the first time became aware of the sale, and that by the fraud of D and K he had been kept in ignorance of the execution proceedings taken by D in breach of the above-mentioned agreement, and within thirty days after K obtained possession, he (S) applied for a reversal of the orders which had been passed in the aforesaid fraudulent proceedings. The Subordinate Judge held that the application was barred by article 166 of schedule II of the Limitation Act, XV of 1877, and referred the applicant to a separate suit to set aside the sale. On application to the High Court,—Held, also, that article 166 of schedule II of the Limitation Act, XV of 1877, did not apply. That article, as amended by section 108 of Act XII of 1879, only applies to applications made under section 311 or section 294 of the Civil Procedure Code, seeking to set aside a sale on the ground of a material irregularity in publishing or conducting the sale, or on the ground that the decree-holder has purchased without the permission of the Court. SAKHARAM GOVIND KALE v. 1. ——— Symbolical possession.—A purchaser of immovable property, sold in execution of a decree, must, under Act XV of 1877, schedule II, article 167, if obstructed or resisted in endeavouring to obtain possession, apply, within thirty days, to the Court under the directions of which the execution sale was held, to be put into actual possession, and if he omits to do so within thirty days from the time when his taking possession was first obstructed or resisted, his only remedy is by a civil suit. The plaintiffs, on the 31st January 1863, purchased a half share in a certain house at a sale in execution of a decree, but took no steps at the time to take possession of it. In 1869 the Nazir of the Court was directed to put them into possession, and gave them symbolical possession. Afterwards, in 1871, the plaintiffs, again with the assistance of the Nazir, entered upon, and for the space of about a minute remained in, possession of one of the rooms in the house, until they were turned out by the defendants. On the 18th of November 1876, the plaintiffs filed a suit, praying for a declaration of right and for a partition, and to be put into separate possession of the share that might be allotted to them on such partition. Held that neither the symbolical possession given to them in 1869 by the Nazir, nor the momentary and partial possession which they had obtained in 1871, was sufficient to save limitation; and that as their suit was brought on the 18th November 1876, more than twelve years after the 31st January 1863, when they first became entitled to possession, it was now barred by limitation. SHOTEE-NATH MOOKERJEE v. 1. ——— art. 171.—Death of appellant—Civil Procedure Code, 1877, ss. 365 and 587—Application for substitution of heir to allow execution to proceed.—A suit was instituted and a decree obtained in the Court of first instance while Act VIII of 1859 was in force, but the second decree was made and the second or special appeal preferred after Act X of 1877 became law. Pending the hearing of such special appeal, on the 21st April 1878, the plaintiff, who was also appellant, died, and on the 16th August in the same year, or more than sixty days after his father's death, his son and sole heir applied to the Court to be substituted as appellant in place of the deceased, for the purpose of prosecuting the appeal. Held that the application was not made under section 365, but under section 587 of Act X of 1877, as incorporated with the former section, and was therefore not barred by article 171, schedule II of Act XV of 1877. Where the language of an Act of Limitation specifies the particular cases for which a period of limitation is provided, the Court ought not to interpret that language so as to include cases not falling within the strict meaning of the words used. IN THE MATTER OF RAM SUNKER BHADOORY

1877, ss 365, 372—A sole plaintiff having died after decree, an application was made more than sixty days after his death by his legal representative for an order that his name might be substituted on the record for that of the original plaintiff, and that a sum of money, to which the original plaintiff, if alive, would have been entitled might be paid to him, the legal representative.—Held that section 372 of the Civil Procedure Code did not apply to the case, that section contemplating a proceeding before the determination of the suit, and, further, that the application was barred by Act XV of 1877, schedule II, article 171. Held, also, that section 232 had no application. Section 365 of the Civil Procedure Code (amended by Act XII of 1879, section 61) does not apply to the case of a sole plaintiff dying after decree, the right to sue being merged in the decree. CALLY CHURN MULLICK v. The new defendant objected (inter alia) that his father had been dead more than six months before the application of the plaintiffs to make him a defendant, and that, therefore, the suit should abate, as provided by the last clause of section 368 of the Civil Procedure Code, Act X of 1877 (introduced by the amending Act XII of 1879) and article 171B of the Limitation Act XV of 1877, which prescribes a period of sixty days within which an application should be made to have the representative of a deceased defendant made a defendant to a suit. Article 171B applies to applications made under section 368 of the Code of Civil Procedure, which section only applies to the case of the death of a party to a suit, presupposing therefore the institution of a suit, and in the case of an application to sue in forma pauperis, no suit is instituted until the application is granted, when by section 410 it is deemed the plaint in the suit. JANARDAN VITHAL v. The Code of Civil Procedure (Act X) of 1877 does not provide that applications for execution shall, like suits, abate by the death of the judgment-creditor; such representative may, therefore, come in at any time, as his coming in is contemplated in article 179, explanation I of schedule II of the Limitation Act, subject always to the same conditions as would apply to his principal. *GULABDAS v. Applications to enforce a “summary decision” were provided for in section 22 of Act XIV of 1859, and this was continued in article 166 of Act IX of 1871, the period of limitation being one year. The provision was omitted in the present Act, but this article (178) including “applications for which no period of limitation is provided elsewhere in the schedule” has been inserted. Applications formerly coming under section 22 of the Act of 1859 and article 166 of the Act of 1871, if not otherwise expressly provided for, would presumably, therefore, now come under article 178.

Tetley*, 1 L. R., 1 All., 586, dissented from. A proceeding under section 53 of Act XX of 1866, though in the nature of a suit, was not a regular suit, and a decree made in such a proceeding was a decision of a Civil Court other than a decree passed in a regular suit. On the 13th July 1872 the appellant obtained a decree, under section 53, Act XX of 1866, on a bond specially registered under section 52 of that Act. He applied for the execution of it,—first on the 2nd September 1872, and again on the 18th August 1875. The Court made an order on the 15th November 1875 dismissing the proceedings on his second application for execution. The decree not being fully satisfied, he again applied for its execution on the 11th September 1878. Held that the application of the 11th September 1878 was barred both under section 22 of Act XIV of 1859 and article 166 of schedule II of Act IX of 1871, no proceeding having been taken to enforce the summary decree within one year next preceding the said application. *BHUKHAMBEAT v. the award were subsequently made and granted. The last application was made in 1880, and was rejected on the ground that there was no decree to execute. The order was confirmed by the High Court on appeal. The applicants then applied to the lower Court to pass judgment in terms of the award. The Court rejected the application as barred under the Limitation Act, XV of 1877, schedule II, article 178. The applicants appealed. Held, by SARGENT, C. J., and KEMBALL, J., that, looking to the provisions of the Codes of Civil Procedure of 1859 and 1877 with respect to the filing of awards in Court and the proceedings thereon, it appeared to be the duty of the Court, under both Codes, to proceed to pass judgment according to the award as soon as it was ordered to be filed, without waiting for any application that that should be done, though such application was, as a matter of practice, usual; and that being so, such an application was one which, under the authority of Kylasa Goundan v Ramasami Ayyan, I L R, 4 Mad, 172; and Vithal Janardan v Vithojirav Puttajirav, I L R, 6 Bom, 586, was not within the contemplation of the Limitation Act. Held, further, that the same effect should be given to the language of section 327 of Act VIII of 1859 and section 526 of Act X of 1877. The expression "may be enforced" in the concluding part of section 327 ought to be read as "shall be enforced" as far as it applies to the Court, although the enforcement by execution of the decree must always, of course, be permissive, as regards the plaintiff. ISHWARDAS JAGJIVANDAS v DOSIBAI

This creditor having applied for the sale of property belonging to the insolvent, another creditor, in May 1883, applied to prove his debt and to have his name inserted in the schedule which the Court then ordered to be framed. Held that the application was governed by article 178 of the Limitation Act, 1877; and that the right to apply having accrued at the date of the declaration of insolvency, the application was beyond time. *PARSHADI LAL v. The Court executing the decree sanctioned this agreement. On the 28th November 1881, default having been made, the decree-holder applied for recovery of the whole amount of the decree. Held that the application was not one to which article 179, schedule II of the Limitation Act, 1877, was applicable, but article 178, and the period of limitation began to run from the date of default. 21. — Decree prohibiting execution till the expiration of a certain period—A decree, which was passed on the 8th December 1881, in a suit on a simple mortgage-bond contained the following provision: "If the judgment-debt is not paid within four months, the decree-holder shall have the power to recover it by a sale of the mortgaged property." On the 17th February 1885 the decree-holder applied for execution of the decree. Held that, inasmuch as the decree provided expressly that the decree-holder might not apply for its execution till after the expiry of four months from its date, the limitation of article 178, schedule II of the Limitation Act, and not of article 179, should be applied to the case; and the application for execution having been made within three years from the 8th April 1882, when the right to ask for execution accrued, was not barred by limitation. THAKAR DAS v SHADI LAL . . . I. 22. — Application for execution of decree.—An application for execution of a decree, made on the 29th May 1874, having been rejected, an appeal was preferred to the High Court, which reversed the order of the lower Court. The property of the judgment-debtor had been attached previously to the application for execution, and part of it was afterwards sold on the 6th September 1875. A subsequent application to have a further portion of the attached property sold was rejected on the 17th September 1875, on the ground that not only part of the property but the whole of it might have been sold on the 6th September. There being nothing to show that the attachment had ever been withdrawn, on the 31st December 1877 the judgment-creditor applied that the property of his debtor might be sold in execution of the decree. Held that nothing had been done by the judgment-creditor since his application for execution, of the 29th May 1874, "to enforce the decree or kept it in force" (as defined by the Full Bench decision in Chunder Coomar Roy v. Bhogobutty Prosunno Roy, 1 C. L. R., 23. S. C. I. L. R., 3 Cal., 235); that the right to apply to have the property sold accrued upon the attachment, and accordingly that the present application, inasmuch as it had been made more than three years from the date of the attachment, was barred by limitation under article 178, schedule II of Act XV of 1877. JOOBRAJ SINGH v. On the 27th May 1878 the Court made an order directing that the application should be struck off, as the record of the former execution proceedings was in the Appellate Court, and that the decree-holder should make a fresh application when such record was returned. On the 28th May 1881 the decree-holder renewed the application in accordance with such order. Held, on the question whether this application was barred by limitation, that it was not an application within the meaning of article 179, schedule II of Act XV of 1877,

24. — Application for revival of execution stayed by injunction.—A decree was made against B, K, and Z. On the 13th May 1879 application was made for execution of the decree against B. and K. In August 1879 Z., who had preferred an appeal in the suit, applied on that ground for the stay of execution, and on the 22nd August 1879 the Court on the same ground ordered execution to be stayed. On the 16th December 1879 Z.'s appeal was dismissed. On the 24th June 1882 an application for execution of the decree against B and K was made. Held that such application might be regarded as one for revival of the proceedings in execution which had been stayed by injunction, to which article 178, schedule II of the Limitation Act, 1877, was applicable, and such application was therefore within time. The principle of decision in Raghubans Gir v. Sheosaran Gir, 1 L. R., 5 All., 243; and Kalyanbhar Dipchand v. Ghanashamlal Jadunathji, 1 L. R., 5 Bom., 29, followed. BTI BEGAM v. 25. — Application for execution of decree by revival of proceedings after removal of injunction.—On the 28th May 1878, application was made for execution of a decree, in pursuance of which certain property was attached and proclaimed for sale. On the day fixed for the sale the Court issued an injunction to stay the same until a suit, which certain persons who claimed the property had instituted, had been decided. On the 14th September 1882, the suit having been finally decided on the 24th January 1881, the decree-holder applied for execution. Held that the application might properly be considered to be for revival of the former proceedings after removal of the injunction, to which article 178 of the Limitation Act, 1877, rather than article 179, was applicable, and was within time from the date of accrual of the right to apply on the final decision of the suit. BASANT LAL v. No steps were taken to have it restored. In 1879 both the plaintiff and defendant died. In the same year the heirs of the plaintiff instituted a suit against the administrator of the defendant for the purpose of having the decree in the original suit carried out. This suit was dismissed by the Court of first instance under section 13 of the Code of Civil Procedure, but the Appellate Court, holding that the original suit was subsisting and might be reconstituted, directed that the plaintiffs should be allowed to amend their plaint by putting it into the form of a petition under section 372 of the Code. On a petition by the plaintiffs praying that the original suit might be revived and restored to the board,—Held that the application was not barred under article 178 of schedule II to the Limitation Act of 1877. Even if article 178 was applicable, the application would not be barred, limitation running from the time when the suit was allowed to be reconstituted. The Legislature did not intend to include in the Limitation Act every application to a Court with reference to its own list of causes, such as applications to transfer a case from one board to another, to transfer a case to the bottom of the board, change of attorneys, and so forth. *GOVIND CHUNDER GOSWAMI v. 35. ———— and art. 179.—Injunction restraining execution—Revival of proceedings by representative of decree-holder.—Substitution of name of representative on the record—J obtained a decree against the firm of M. R. in 1863, and on the 16th September 1869 applied for execution by attachment and sale of certain immoveable property. The property was attached, but the sale was delayed by various causes until the 5th February 1876, when it was ordered to take place on the 18th March 1877. Meanwhile P. brought a suit against J., and on 14th March 1876 he obtained an injunction restraining J. from proceeding, pendente lite, to the sale of the attached property. J. appealed against the order granting the injunction, which, however, was confirmed on the 26th June 1878. Meanwhile, on the 22nd January 1877, J. had died, and thereupon the proceedings in the matter of the injunction as well as in P.'s suit were carried on by G. as his representative. On the 19th January 1880, P.'s suit was dismissed, and with it the injunction of the 14th March 1876 fell to the ground. On the 5th February 1880 G. applied to have his name substituted for that of J. in the application for execution of the 16th September 1869, and to proceed with the case, and on the 19th February 1880 this application was granted, and an order made that execution should be proceeded with on J's application of September 1869. K, as representing the firm of M. R., appealed. Held that G was entitled to execution. Where an application for execution has been made and granted, but the right to execute has been subsequently suspended by an injunction or other obstacle, the decree holder may apply for a revival of the proceedings within three years from the date on which the right to apply accrues, viz., the date on which the injunction or other obstacle is removed (article 178 of schedule II of Act XV of 1877). Where a decree-holder, whose right of execution has been thus temporarily suspended, dies, his representative has the same rights as he had himself to apply for and obtain a revival of the proceedings. It was contended in the above case that G had no right to apply for a revival of proceedings, unless his name was substituted on the record as J's representative; that as his right to apply for such substitution accrued immediately upon J's death, which had happened more than three years previously, so much of his application of 3rd February 1880 as related to the substitution of names was barred by article 178 of schedule II of Act XV of 1877, and that, consequently, the other portion of his application which related to execution was necessarily inadmissible, inasmuch as it depended upon the substitution of G's name, which it was too late to effect. Held that, under the circumstances of the case, G's right to apply for the entry of his name in the place of that of J could not be regarded as having accrued immediately upon J's death. At that time, J's application for execution, being suspended by the injunction, was to all intents and purposes non-existent. It could not be revived until the injunction was removed. During the continuance of the injunction, an application by G for the entry of his name could not have been entertained by the Court, inasmuch as J's application for execution was in abeyance and would never be revived at all in the event of P succeeding in his suit; and even if P failed, it might also happen that J's application would not be revived in favour of G, for, even if he were J's representative at the date of his application, he might be dead before the decision of P's suit. *KALYANBHAI DIPCHAND v. order directing the suit to abate, but this application was also rejected on the 20th of September 1881. On appeal to the High Court, —Held that the application which was rejected on the 22nd of November 1880 was an application under section 372, and not under section 368, of the Code of Civil Procedure; and that the applicant was entitled to make the application within three years, as allowed by Act XV of 1877, schedule II, article 178. *Gocool Chunder Gossamee v. 6. ———— Decree in force at passing of Act XIV of 1859.—In 1845 K. and M. obtained a joint decree for possession and mesne profits against N. In 1846 possession was taken, and the case was struck off in 1847. In 1850 K. alone applied for execution and was refused, he not being the sole decree-holder. K disappeared in June 1851, and was never afterwards heard of. In February 1852 S. S., wife of K., and B., uncle of K., applied to execute the decree, alleging that it had been transferred in gift to them by K.; but their application was rejected because M had not joined, and, secondly, because no order could be passed in the absence of K. On 28th December 1861 S. S. again applied for execution of the whole decree, claiming her husband's share as his heir, and M's under a deed of gift, and her application was rejected on the ground that, as twelve years from the disappearance of her husband had not expired, and she had not performed the ceremony of kooshaputra, she could not claim as his representative. An appeal from this order was rejected on 6th December 1862. In 1863 S. S. applied for a certificate, under Act XXVII of 1860, to collect the debts due to her husband, which was granted in July 1864. The present application was made by S. S. and M. on the 23rd August 1864, S. S. having performed kooshaputra on 18th June 1863. The Court found that the various attempts ment in section 1 of Act IX of 1871, that nothing contained in section 2, or in Part II of that Act, shall apply to suits instituted before the 1st April 1873, it follows that nothing contained in schedule II of that Act extended to an application for execution of a decree in a suit instituted before that date. No such application was barred by section 20 of Act XIV of 1859, if made within three years from the date of a proceeding within the meaning of that section. Although the execution of a decree may have been actually barred by time at the date of an application made for its execution, yet, if an order for such execution has been regularly made by a competent Court, having jurisdiction to try whether it was barred by time or not, such order, although erroneous, must, if unreversed, be treated as valid *MUNGUL PERSHAD DICHIT v. Subsequently, on the 2nd June 1881, he made a further application to have the decree executed. Held that the case was governed by the provisions of article 167 of Act IX of 1871, and not by those of article 179 of Act XV of 1877; and that, as the application had not been made within any one of the periods given in the third column of article 167, it was barred by limitation. Held, also, following Mungul Pershad Dichit v. Grija Kant Lahri, I. L. R., 8 Calc., 51, that although there is no corresponding provision in Act XV of 1877 to that contained in section 1 of Act IX of 1871, all applications for execution of a decree are applications in the suit which resulted in that decree. BEHARY LALL v GOBERDHUN LALL

14. ———— Execution of decree, Application for—Step in aid of execution—Repeal, Effect of—On the 25th September 1877 an application was made for execution of a decree. On the 8th July 1878 the decree-holder deposited Rs 2 as nilamee fees,—that is to say, costs for bringing certain property to sale in execution of the decree. On the 28th March 1881 a further application for execution of the decree was made. Held that the deposit of Rs 2 as nilamee fees on the 8th July 1878 was a step in aid of execution of the decree, and that the application of the 28th March 1881, being within three years from the date of the deposit, was not barred by limitation. Quere,—Whether, inasmuch as Act IX of 1871 is repealed by Act XV of 1877, and the later Act contains no provision similar to that contained in section 1 of Act IX of 1871, Act XIV of 1859 can be said to have been repealed in respect of suits instituted before the 1st of April 1873. *RADHA PRASAD SINGH v. 15. ———— Act IX of 1871, s. 1—Application for execution of decree passed before Act of 1877 came into force—Application to keep alive decree—The plaintiff obtained a decree against the defendant in 1872. He first applied for its execution in 1874, and his application was disposed of on the ground that the requisite Court fee had not been paid. His next application was in 1876, and it was disposed of because no property could be found to satisfy the decree. His third application, made on the 10th of March 1879, was one asking merely that the decree might be kept alive. He now applied for the fourth time on the 26th of November 1881, and sought execution of the decree. Held that the law of limitation applicable to proceedings in execution is not the law under which the suit was instituted, but the law in force at the date of the application for execution, in absence of a legislative provision to the contrary (such as that contained in section 1 of Act IX of 1871). The law of limitation, therefore, to be applied to the application of the 10th March 1879, was Act XV of 1877, and inasmuch as that application did not ask for any step to be taken towards executing the decree, it was not in accordance with article 179, schedule II of Act XV of 1877, and did not save the present application from being barred. *Mungul Pershad Dicht v. attached and a sale proclamation was issued. A claim to a portion of the properties was then preferred by third parties, and allowed on the 17th of June 1872. The decree-holder failed to take necessary measures to bring the remainder of the property to sale, and the case was struck off on the 4th of July 1872. A subsequent application for execution was made on the 14th of June 1875. Held that the subsequent application was not barred by the provisions of section 20, Act XIV of 1859. *BECHARAM DUTTA v. 17. ———— Order refusing execution operating as stay of process—A decree-holder applied for the sale of certain property then under attachment in the suit. The Court refused to issue process for the sale, on the ground that the property could not be sold, as certain claims and suits respecting it were still pending. The claims and suits having been determined, the application was renewed. More than three years had elapsed between the date of the order on the first application and the date of the renewed application. Held that the second application was not barred, the order on the first application operating simply as a temporary stay of process for the sale of the property, and there being a pending proceeding to enforce the decree during the stay. RAGAVA PISHARDI v. AYUMANJIRI MANEAL THUPAN alias VELLIA THAMBRACKLE. . . 4 Mad., 261

18. ———— Continuing attachment—Process to enforce decree—An attachment of property in execution of a decree operates de die in diem as process of execution upon a decree. Where, therefore, the late Sudder Court, by an order, dated 25th July 1855, directed that the judgment-debtor should be allowed to remain in the enjoyment of property then under attachment, that an order for the sale of the property should be stayed, but that the attachment should continue in force until the further order of the Court, and on 10th May 1868 the High Court made an order setting aside the order of the Sudder Court, and stated that the assignee of the execution-creditor should be left at liberty to apply for execution of the decree,—Held, on an application made reversing the decision of the Court below, that the right to enforce payment of the amount due under the decree was not barred. *BROOKS v. - the application for attachment and sale. and if the result of a regular suit prosecuted with due diligence is a final decree in his favour, and he makes an application for the execution of this decree, such application, whatever its form, is in substance one for the continuation of the former proceedings, and is therefore not an application to execute the decree within the meaning of Act IX of 1871, schedule II, article 167, PEAROO TUHOVILDARINEE v. NAZIR HOSSEIN [23 W. R., 183]

20. ————— Decree-holder, Refund by, of money paid to satisfy decree—Revival of original decree—Application to execute—A decree having been satisfied by the decree-holder obtaining an order for the payment to him of a certain sum of money which was deposited in Court in his judgment-debtor's name, the decree-holder, owing to subsequent proceedings of the son of the judgment-debtor, had to refund the money which he had received. He then applied again for execution, but, many years having elapsed since the last proceedings, was met with the objection that his decree was barred by limitation. Held that, on a proceeding such as this, the old decree, which had been satisfied, could not revive. ABDOOL JULEEL v. KANCHUN DOSSEE 24 W. R., 143

21. ————— Separate decrees—Continued application—Where a plaintiff obtained separate decrees against several persons in respect of several duties which they were to perform separately, and the plaintiff chose to proceed in the first instance against some, and not against others, in taking out execution,—Held that the proceedings in taking at different times were not continuous proceedings in execution, and that limitation would run separately from the date of the latest action in each case CHOWDHRY HUREEHUR SINGH v. HRIDOX NARAIN [25 W. R., 310]

22. ————— Application for execution of decree—Decree barred by lapse of time—In a decree for possession passed on 19th December 1874, the inquiry into the mesne profits was reserved for the execution stage. Possession having been taken, execution was taken out for costs, but owing to disputes among the judgment-creditors the amount deposited in Court was not paid out till 7th February 1868. After this, on 1st June 1870, application for further execution was made by assessment of mesne profits, upon which attachment was effected. Held that, as the application of 1st June 1870 was not for a continuation of the original suit, but for execution of the decree, the judgment-creditor was bound by the rules relating to execution, but that, even if treated as an application for adjustment of the wasilat, it was rightly rejected by reason of the great and needless delay. *WODOY TARA CHOWDHRIANI v. which is pending must be looked upon as a continuous proceeding until it is disposed of. SHURUT CHUNDER SEN v. ABDOOL KHYE MAHOMED MOHTESUR BILLAH 23 W. R., 327

24. ————— Continued application—Proceeding to enforce decree—It was the object of the Legislature in Act XIV of 1859, section 14, with regard to the limitation for the commencement of a suit, to exclude the time during which a party to the suit may have been litigating, bond fide and with due diligence, before a Judge whom he has supposed to have had jurisdiction, but who yet may not have had it. The same principle prevails in the construction of section 20 with regard to executions. Held, accordingly, that a proceeding, taken bond fide and with due diligence, before a Judge whom the judgment-creditor believed, bond fide, though erroneously, to have jurisdiction,—in this case the Judge himself, also, having believed that he had jurisdiction, and having acted accordingly,—was a proceeding to enforce the decree within the meaning of section 20. HIRA LAL v. BADRI DAS I. L. R., 2 All., 792

25. ————— Application for execution of decree—On the 26th June 1867 a decree-holder applied for execution of his decree. A notice was thereupon issued to the judgment-debtor to show cause, on the 13th of July 1867, why the decree should not be executed against him. The judgment-debtor not appearing to show cause on the 13th July 1867, the Subordinate Judge of Surat ordered a warrant to be issued. Subsequently, on the same day (13th July 1867), the decree-holder applied to the Court to stop all further proceedings in the case, on the ground that the judgment-debtor had promised to satisfy the decree. The decree, however, remaining unsatisfied, the judgment-creditor, on the 12th July 1870, presented a second application for execution. The Subordinate Judge rejected it as barred under section 20 of Act XIV of 1859, as it was beyond three years from the 26th June 1867, the date of the previous application. On appeal the District Judge confirmed the order. On special appeal the High Court reversed the orders of both the lower Courts and held the proceedings to have commenced on the 26th June 1867, and continued till the 13th July 1867, on which day the judgment-debtor was to show cause, and up to which day, therefore, the judgment-creditor must be considered as going on with one and the same proceeding, as the first Court actually made an order for a warrant to issue on that day. *DAMODHAR LAKHMIDAS v. 27. ———— Application for execution of decree—Continuing proceedings.—A decree-holder applied for execution on the 10th of October 1871. On the 24th of February 1872 he made an application to the Court executing the decree, that the case should be taken off the file for the present, but that the attachment which had been issued should be kept in force. The application was granted, but the formal order, as drawn up, though it recited the application, was merely to take the case off the file. On the 6th of February 1875 the decree-holder applied for further execution. It was objected that execution of the decree was barred by limitation, but it was held that limitation did not apply, as the petition was for the continuance of the suspended proceedings and not for fresh execution. GOLAMI SAHU v. 28. ———— Application for execution of decree.—Reversal of sale in execution.—A obtained a decree against B on the 21st of June 1871, and applied for execution on the 10th of July following. On the 2nd of October of the same year property attached under such execution was sold, and, the sale-proceeds being paid over to A, the execution proceedings were struck off the file on the 28th of July 1872. On the 14th of May 1873 B. obtained an order setting aside the sale and for refund of the sale-proceeds. A. thereupon, on the 22nd of December 1874, again applied to execute his decree. Held that such application was in substance one simply to continue the proceedings already set on foot by the first application for execution, and, therefore, the right to execute the decree was not barred by the law of limitation. ISSURBEE DASSEE v. 29. ———— Execution of decree.—Proceedings to enforce decree.—Held by a Full Bench (PEARSON, J., dissenting) that an application to execute a decree against a judgment-debtor's property, made more than three years after the last application for execution, was not barred by limitation under article 167, schedule II, Act IX of 1871, when the last application was interrupted by a successful objection against whom the decree-holder had to bring a regular suit and succeeded in obtaining a decree, and that the renewed application to execute within three years from the date of the decree in the said suit was not a fresh application for execution against the judgment-debtor, but a continuance or revival of the previous application interrupted by the objector. Per PEARSON, J., contra, that under article 167, schedule II, Act IX of 1871, execution of decree was barred. PABAS RAM v GARDNER

30. ———— Application for execution of decree—Revival—Dekkan Agriculturists' Relief Act, 1879 and 1881, s. 48.—On 20th July 1871 the plaintiffs obtained a decree against the defendants for the sum of Rs. 4,083 and for the sale of their mortgaged property. On the 16th July 1877 the plaintiffs applied for execution. The application was granted, the property was attached, and the sale was fixed for the 30th November 1878. On the 18th November 1878 one of the defendants applied for a postponement of the sale until harvest time, when he said he would pay the amount of the decree. The sale was accordingly, with the plaintiffs' consent, postponed to the 31st May 1879. On the 13th June 1879 the plaintiffs informed the Court that negotiations were proceeding between themselves and the defendants for the settlement of the decree, and prayed that their application of the 16th July 1877 might be struck off, adding that, if the negotiations failed, they would present a fresh application. The negotiations for settlement proved abortive, and the case being one to which the Dekkan Agriculturists' Relief Act (XVII of 1879) applied, the plaintiffs took steps to obtain a conciliator's certificate. These proceedings occupied the period from 3rd July 1880 to the 19th January 1881. The certificate was granted on the 1st December 1881. On the 13th December 1881, more than three years after the date of the previous application,—viz., 16th July 1877,—the plaintiffs made the present application for execution. The defendants contended that it was barred by limitation. Held that the application was not barred. As it was understood between the parties when the application of the 16th July 1877 was struck off on the 18th June 1879, that, if negotiations failed, a fresh application should be presented, the application of the 13th December 1881 was to be regarded as an application for the revival of the old execution proceedings. But, in any case, the application by the defendant, of the 18th November 1877, for a postponement of the sale of his property when he promised to pay the amount of the decree, was an admission of the plaintiff's right to execute the decree within the contemplation of section 19 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877), and created a new period of limitation, which would ordinarily have expired on the 18th November 1881. As, however, by the provisions of the Dekkan Agriculturists' Relief Act the period during which the conciliator was endeavouring to effect an amicable settlement—viz., from 8th July 1880 to 1st December 1881—would have to be deducted, the present application was within time. VENKATRAY BABU v BIJESING VITHALSING . . . tion—A decree for pre-emption was passed conditionally upon payment by the decree-holder of Rs. 1,139, and in July 1880 the plaintiff paid this amount into Court, and it was drawn out by the defendant in August 1881. Meanwhile, in July 1881, the High Court in second appeal raised the amount to be paid by the plaintiff to Rs. 2,400, but the plaintiff allowed the time limited for payment of the excess difference to elapse without paying it, and the decree for pre-emption thereupon became dead. In May 1883 the plaintiff applied in the execution department for the refund of the deposit which had been drawn and retained by the defendant. This application was granted, and the defendant ordered to refund, and this order was confirmed on appeal in January 1885, and by the High Court in second appeal in May 1885. Meanwhile the first Court had suspended execution of the order pending the result of the appeal, and in December 1884 removed the application temporarily from the "pending" list. In February 1885 the plaintiff applied for restitution of the amount deposited, asking for attachment and sale of property belonging to the defendant. This application was dismissed as barred by limitation. Held that this application was only a revival of the application of May 1883 which was within time. Held, also, that the plaintiff was, in the sense of section 583 of the Civil Procedure Code, "a party entitled to a benefit by way of restitution under the decree" of the High Court of July 1881; that it was a necessary incident of that decree that he was entitled to restitution of the sum which he had paid as the sufficient price under the decree of the lower Appellate Court, that he was competent under section 583 to move the local Court to execute the appellate decree in this respect in his favour "according to the rules prescribed for the execution of decree in suits," that he did this in May 1883 by an application made according to law in the proper Court in the sense of article 179 of the Limitation Act, and that his present application to the same effect, being within three years from that application, was within time. NAND RAM v. Subsequently he sued K on a bond which she had personally executed in his favour, and obtained a decree. On the 7th September 1875 he applied for execution of both these decrees, and S's landed estate, which stood recorded in K's name, was attached. This estate was sold on the 20th February 1877, being put up for sale in one lot, in satisfaction of both decrees, in accordance with an application made by G on the 16th February, and was purchased by G for the amount of the decrees. This sale was subsequently confirmed, and on the 10th December 1877, satisfaction of the decrees was entered

Subsequently three of the heirs of S. in one case, and two in another, instituted suits against G claiming to recover from him such portion of the proceeds of the sale of S's property as had been appropriated to the discharge of G's decree against S, and such heirs obtained decrees for certain sums, which G. was obliged to pay. G. thereupon, on the 16th May 1879, applied for execution of his decree against S. Held that such application was not one in continuation of that made on the 7th September 1875, but was a fresh application, and the application made by G on the 16th February 1877 was not one for a step in aid of execution, within the meaning of article 179, schedule II of Act XV of 1877, from which limitation could be computed, and the application of the 16th May 1879 was barred by limitation. Pyaroo Tuhobildarines v. The attachment was disputed, and ultimately, on the 16th July 1875, was raised. In the same year the appellant brought a suit for a declaration that the property in question was liable to attachment, which was finally rejected on the 8th July 1880. On the 30th November following, the appellant applied for the arrest of the respondent. The lower Court rejected the application as not being made within three years of the decree, as provided by Act XV of 1877, schedule II, article 179. On appeal to the High Court, —Held that the execution process last applied for was distinct in its nature from, and in no way a continuance or revival of, the previous proceedings in execution, and was, therefore, made too late, more than three years having elapsed since the passing of the decree. KRISHNAJI RAGHUNATH v. On the 2nd March 1883 A. applied for execution of the decree by arrest of V. Held that this application was barred by limitation. Khair-un-nissa v. Gauri Shankar, I L. On the 12th August 1880 the plaintiff applied for execution, and on the 23rd September 1881 an order was passed that execution should issue on payment into Court by the plaintiff of the mortgage amount and the value of improvements which had then been ascertained. The plaintiff having failed to deposit the said amount, the application for execution was struck off the file on the 10th November 1881. 46. ————— Execution of decree. —Final decree of Appellate Court.—The Munsif gave the plaintiffs in a suit for possession of land and for mesne profits a decree for possession, but dismissed the claim for mesne profits. An appeal was preferred to the Judge, who affirmed the decree for possession and remanded the case to the Munsif, under section 351 of Act VIII of 1859, to determine the mesne profits due to the plaintiffs. The Munsif gave the plaintiffs a decree for certain mesne profits. Subsequently a special appeal was preferred to the High Court against the Judge's decree. While this was pending, an appeal was preferred to the Judge against the decree of the Munsif for mesne profits, and on the 7th June 1873 the plaintiff again obtained a decree for mesne profits. Finally, on the 6th March 1874, the High Court modified the Judge's decree for possession, but did not interfere with the order of remand. Held, on the plaintiffs applying for execution of the Judge's decree, dated 7th June 1873, that the limitation for the execution of such decree ran, not from the date of such decree, but from the date of the High Court's decree, which was the “final decree of the Appellate Court,” and the only “final decree,” within the meaning of article 167, schedule II of Act IX of 1871 IMAM ALI v. On the 30th December 1878 A. applied to the Court of first instance for execution to issue against C and D for the costs specified in the decree passed on the 14th April 1874. C and D successfully objected in the Court of first instance and the lower Appellate Court that more than three years having elapsed since the date of the decree, the decree for costs could not be executed, the application for execution being barred by article 179 of schedule II of Act XV of 1877. Held, on appeal to the High Court, that, inasmuch as B.'s appeal had related to the whole case, and the decree obtained by him dismissing the suit would, if not reversed, have deprived A. of his right to any costs at all, A., upon succeeding in getting the original decree restored upon special appeal to the High Court, was entitled to execute such restored decree at any time within three years of the order of the High Court. MULICK AHMED ZUMMA alias TETUR v. In the meantime an appeal was presented by the defendant and dismissed on the 28th March 1877. The present application for execution was made on the 7th February 1880. Held that article 179, clause 2 of the Limitation Act of 1877, which fixes the date of the order of the Appellate Court, when there is an appeal, as the point from which the three years is to count, applied and that the plaintiff was therefore in time. When there is no appeal, the date of the decree or of application is the point from which limitation counts, but not when there is an appeal. Held, further, that the application by plaintiff to the Court (9th February 1877) for the money paid in by the purchaser was a step taken to aid in the execution of the decree. VENKATARAYALU v. Her Majesty in Council, on the 17th March 1869, made a decree reversing the Sudder Court's decree and restoring that of the District Court. On the 9th October 1869 the plaintiff applied for execution of the District Court's decree, and such decree was under execution up to July 1872. On the 9th October 1874 the plaintiff applied for amendment of such decree in certain respects, it being incapable of execution in those respects. B. was a party to this proceeding. On the 16th August 1876 such decree was amended; and the plaintiff subsequently applied for its execution as amended against all the defendants. Held that the application of the 9th October 1869 was within time, computing from the date of the decree of Her Majesty in Council—Chedoo Lal v. 58. ————— Application for possession and mesne profits after execution of decree is barred.—A., as purchaser of a decree against B., applied for execution thereof, and having caused five fields of B. to be sold in execution, purchased four of them at the Court sale, and one from an execution-purchaser. On 10th July 1871, however, the High Court, in an appeal by B., held A.'s application for execution to have been time-barred, and reversed the orders of the two lower Courts. A. having been put in possession of the fields under the orders of lower Courts, B., on a reversal of those orders by the High Court, applied on 9th July 1874 to have the fields restored to him, together with the mesne profits accruing during the time of his dispossession. The first Court awarded the fields to B. with mesne profits; but the District Judge on appeal held B.'s application barred under Act IX of 1871, schedule II, clause 166. Held by the High Court that the exception in clause 166 of schedule II of the Limitation Act, IX of 1871, was not restricted to any particular species of appeal; that B.'s application fell within clause 167, and not within clause 166; and, therefore, was not barred. UMIASHANKAR LAKHMIRAM v. 60. ———— Appellate order in execution—The holder of a decree for possession and partition of a share of certain immoveable property, dated the 19th January 1878, applied for execution on the 2nd February 1878. An order was made by the Court of first instance, from which the decree-holder appealed. The Appellate Court, on the 18th September 1878, reversed the order of the first Court and directed that the partition of the property should be effected by lots, and remanded the case for that purpose. The first Court proceeded to carry out the order of the Appellate Court, but eventually struck off the case, on the 15th February 1879, as the decree-holder failed to appear personally when ordered to do so. On the 13th September 1881 the legal representative of the deceased decree-holder, who had meantime died, applied, with reference to the order of the Appellate Court dated the 18th September 1878, to have lots drawn in accordance with that order. Held, on the question whether this application was barred by limitation, that, if it were regarded as nothing more than an application for execution of the original decree, it might be barred, inasmuch as it had been made more than three years after the date of the last application, and it was doubtful whether the 2nd clause in the 3rd column of article 179, schedule II of Act XV of 1877, would apply, since the appeal there referred to is probably an appeal from the decree or order of which execution is being taken, referred to in the first clause of that article, and not an appeal in course of execution of that decree or order, that, however, the order of the Appellate Court dated the 18th September 1878 was itself of the nature of a decree and capable of execution, and for the execution of which an application could be made to which that article would apply; that the application in question should be regarded as one for execution of that order, and that therefore, so regarding it, it was within time. *HULASI v. 61. ———— "Decree."—Order rejecting memorandum of appeal for deficiency of Court fee.—An appeal from a decree, dated the 18th July 1879, was rejected by the High Court on the 11th June 1880, in consequence of the failure of the appellants to pay additional Court fees declared by the Court to be leviable. On the 23rd December 1882 an application was filed by the decree-holder for execution of the decree. Held, with reference to Act XV of 1877 (Limitation Act), schedule II, article 179 (2), that the order of the 11th June 1880, rejecting the appeal on the ground of deficient payment of Court fee, was equivalent to a decree, and therefore the application, being made not more than three years from the date of that order, was not barred by limitation. RUP SINGH v MUKHRAJ SINGH. . . . I. L. R., 7 All., 887

62. ———— Application for execution of decree.—Order staying execution.—The plaintiff obtained an ex parte decree on 7th of February 1876, of which he applied for execution on the 31st of May 1876. Thereupon the defendant applied to set aside the decree, on the ground that he had had no notice of the suit, and an order was made staying the execution of the decree. The defendant's application was rejected on the 15th of November 1876, and an appeal by the defendant, pending which the stay of execution was continued, was dismissed on the 19th of December 1877. Previously,—viz., on the 21st of February 1877,—the execution case had been struck off the file. Held that, notwithstanding the application was made more than three years after the decree, and the plaintiff was not entitled to any deduction of the time during which the execution was stayed by order of Court, an application for execution made on the 10th of December 1880 was, under article 179 of Act XV of 1877, not barred, the decree not being final until the order dismissing the appeal on the 19th of December 1877. LUTFUL HUQ v SUMBEUDIN PATTUCK

63. ———— Execution of decree.—Article 179, clause (2), of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877), must be construed as intended to apply without any exceptions to decrees from which an appeal has been lodged by any of the parties to the original proceedings, and should certainly be applied to cases where the whole decree was impeached by the appeal. A suit for pre-emption was decreed against the vendors, the purchaser, and another set of pre-emptors, in March 1882. The last-mentioned defendants alone appealed, and their appeal was dismissed in May 1882. In May 1885 the decree-holders applied for execution of the decree. The application was objected to by the purchaser as barred by limitation, having been filed more than three years from the passing of the decree, and it was contended that article 179, clause (2), did not apply to the case, inasmuch as the purchaser did not appeal from the original decree. Held that article 179, clause (2) of the Limitation Act, was applicable, and that the application, being made within three years from the Appellate Court's decree, was not barred by limitation. *Hur Prasad Roy v. 64. ———— Adjudication that execution is barred by limitation—Finality of order—Civil Procedure Code, s. 206—Amendment of decree—An application to execute a decree passed in April 1880 was made on the 19th February 1884, and rejected on the 26th March 1884 as being beyond time. This order was upheld on appeal in March 1885. While the appeal was pending, the decree-holder in May 1884 applied to the Court of first instance to amend the decree under section 206 of the Civil Procedure Code, and in December 1884 the application was granted. In April 1885 an application was made for execution of the amended decree, the decree-holder contending that limitation should be calculated from the date of the amendment, and that article 178, of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) applied to the case. Held that article 179, and not article 178, was applicable; that the order rejecting the application of the 19th February 1884 became final on being upheld on appeal, that the amendment could not revive the decree or furnish a fresh starting-point of limitation; and that the application was therefore time-barred. *Mungul Persad Ditchit v. 21 W. R., 309

96. ——— Application for execution of decree—Proceeding to enforce decree—The “application” spoken of in article 167, clause 4 of schedule II to Act IX of 1871, is not merely such an application as is contemplated by section 212 of Act VIII of 1859, but includes an application to keep in force a decree or order. The language of article 167, clause 4 of schedule II to Act IX of 1871, is wide enough to include any application to enforce or keep in force decrees or orders, and, consequently, an application to enforce or keep in force a decree by the attachment of a portion of the property of the defendant, will keep the decree alive against the residue of his property or his person. An order for attachment of a pension in satisfaction of a decree, obtained on the 10th December 1863, was made on 16th April 1869. After the passing of the Pensions Act (XXII of 1871), the Deputy Collector refused to continue paying the pension to the decree-holder, and returned to the Court the warrant of execution issued under the order of 16th April 1869; and an order, finally disposing of the application for attachment, was made on 14th June 1872. On 19th June 1872 the decree-holder presented a fresh application, praying that the attachment of the pension might be continued, and a letter be written to the Collector, directing him to continue to pay the pension to the decree-holder, as directed by the order of 16th April 1869. Held that such last-mentioned application came within clause 4 of article 167 of schedule II to Act IX of 1871, and

tion of the 19th February 1878 was an application in accordance with law within the meaning of clause 4, article 179, schedule II of the Limitation Act, XV of 1877. AMIRUNNISSA CHOWDHREANI v. AHSANULLAH CHOWDHRI 13 C. L. R., 18

110. ———— Execution of decree—Amendment of revenue record—Application for execution not “in accordance with law”—The holders of a decree made by a Civil Court, which directed, inter alia, that they should be maintained in possession of a share of a village, by cancellation of the order of the settlement officer directing the entry of the judgment-debtor's name in the revenue registers in respect of such share, applied for execution of such decree, improperly asking the Court, executing the decree to order the Collector to amend such entry by the substitution of their names for that of the judgment-debtor in respect of such share, instead of asking it to send such officer a copy of such decree for his information, with a view to such amendment. Held that such application, not being one in accordance with law, within the meaning of article 179, schedule II of Act XV of 1877, was not one which would keep such decree in force. MUHAMMAD UMAR v. KAMILA BIBI I. L. R., 4 All., 34

111. ———— Informal application for execution—An application for execution of a decree having been made on the 19th January 1882 within time, but not in the form prescribed by the Civil Procedure Code, inasmuch as it did not contain the right number of the suit in which the decree was passed, an order was made on the 19th January directing the petitioner to amend the application within four days by giving the correct number. That order was not complied with, and the petition was left on the file of the Court without being disposed of in any way till the 21st September 1882, on which date, more than three years having then elapsed since the date of the decree, it was returned to the vakeel of the petitioner for amendment within eight days. The required amendment was made, and the application again placed on the file of the Court on the 22nd September. On an objection being taken that the decree was barred, and the execution could not issue,—Held, following the principles laid down in the case of Mahomed v. Abedoollah, 12 C. L. R., 279,—viz., that it was the duty of the Court to dismiss the application when it found that it was informal, and thus to give the applicant an opportunity of putting in a proper application, and that the decree-holder should not be made to suffer for such omission on the part of the Court, - that the former application could not, though informal, be treated as a nullity; and that the application on the 22nd September must be taken as having been presented with the object of amending the original informal application, and that it was in continuation of the execution proceeding commenced, however informally, on the 19th January 1882; and that consequently the decree was not barred. Held, also, that the fact of the application having been returned to the vakeel for amendment instead of being amended while on the file of the Court, made no difference to the application of the above principle. FUZLOOR RUHMAN v. ALTAF HOSSEN. . . I. L. R., 10 Calc., 541

112. ————— Dekkan Agriculturists' Relief Act, XVII of 1879, s. 22.—Conciliation agreement—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), s. 261—Application for attachment of an agriculturist's property.—A conciliation agreement, dated the 2nd October 1880, between the decree-holder and the judgment-debtor, stipulating that the former should allow a remission of Rs10 and the latter should execute a document for the remaining sum of Rs90, to be paid in 1882, was filed in Court on 20th November 1880. In 1883 the decree-holder presented two applications for satisfaction of the agreed debt of Rs90 by attachment of the debtor's property, which applications were granted, but were not proceeded with through some default of the decree-holder. On 4th June 1885 the decree-holder made the present application, praying that under sections 261 and 262 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) an order directing the judgment-debtor to execute a bond in terms of the conciliation agreement might be made, or that the Court might execute one on his behalf. On reference by the Subordinate Judge under section 617 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) to the High Court,—Held that the applications in 1883 for attachment of the debtor's property were not "in accordance with law," being forbidden by the Dekkan Agriculturists' Relief Act, XVII of 1879, section 22, and that the present application under section 261 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) was, therefore, too late under clause 4, article 179 of schedule II of the Limitation Act, XV of 1877. CHATUR KHUSHALCHAND v MAHADU BHAGAJI second and subsequent applications for execution were made by an agent of the firm other than the agent named in the decree. Certain persons, alleging that they were the proprietors of the firm, applied for execution of the decree. The application was refused, on the ground that the proceedings in execution taken by the last-mentioned agent were invalid, and execution of the decree was therefore barred by limitation. Held that such proceedings, however irregular, were not invalid. LACHMAN BIBI v. 115. ————— Legal representative applying for execution without her name being on the record.—A obtained a decree against B. in June 1879, and in execution thereof some time in 1879 attached certain moneys in Court which belonged to his judgment-debtor, and obtained an order for payment out to him. Before receiving payment A died, and the execution proceedings were struck off on the 31st January 1880. On the 14th June 1880, and on the 22nd June 1881, the widow of A, who had taken out probate, applied to withdraw this money from Court, and on the 1st of April 1882 applied for a copy of the decree obtained by A for the purposes of execution. At the time of these three applications the widow had not applied for substitution of her name on the record in the place of her deceased husband. On the 5th January 1884 the widow applied to have her name substituted on the record, and for execution. Held that the application was barred, as the previous applications were not, under the circumstances, steps in aid of execution. GUNGA PERSHAD BHOMICK v DEBI SUNDARI DABEA

119. ————— Proceedings to keep decree in force—A decree was obtained on 6th June 1861, and in February 1864 a pretended purchaser of it sought execution. On 15th March 1864 the original decree-holder herself applied for execution of the same decree against certain of the judgment-debtors without mentioning the appellant, who was one of them. Subsequent proceedings at different times were taken between her and the alleged purchaser in order to ascertain which of them was really entitled to execution of the decree, and on the 6th March 1867 her representatives got a decree setting aside the alleged purchase, and declaring that they might execute the decree of 6th June 1861. Accordingly, on 31st August 1868, an application was made by her representatives for that purpose. Between the 15th March 1864 and 31st August 1868, no proceedings had been taken in execution. Held that the application was not barred by limitation; that no execution could be given till it was ascertained who were the actual decree-holders; and that the intermediate proceedings for that purpose were bona fide proceedings within section 20, Act XIV of 1859, for the purpose of keeping the decree in force. ABDUL GUNNY v. After G.'s death, his son made an application, on the 10th March 1871, praying for substitution of his name in the place of his deceased father, and that the money due under the decree should be recovered and paid to him as heir of the original plaintiff. On the 3rd January 1874, and several times subsequently, the son applied for execution of the decree, his last application being in 1878. Both the lower Courts held that the application of the 10th March 1871 was not an application "to enforce or keep in force the decree," that the application of the 3rd January 1874 was, therefore, barred by limitation, having been made more than three years after the first application of the 23rd July 1870, and that, consequently, the subsequent applications were barred. On appeal to the High Court,—Held that the application of the 10th March 1871 was an application "to enforce the decree," and fell within article 167 of schedule II of Act IX of 1871. The High Court accordingly reversed the orders of the Courts below, and directed that the decree should be executed, as prayed by the application of the 3rd January 1874. GOVIND SHANBHOG v. Between August 1850 and 25th April 1864, nothing effective was done in furtherance of execution. Petitions for execution were filed in May 1861 and August 1862, and the usual orders passed on them, but they were struck off in default. On 25th April 1864 another petition was filed, and notice was served on the debtor. Held that at that time the petition for execution was barred by limitation. On the last-mentioned date the debtor applied for two months' time, and the decree-holder assented to postponement for that length of time only. The application was granted, and the Court thereupon struck the case off the file. Nothing further was done until the 25th February 1878, when the decree-holder again applied for execution. Held that the application of 3rd March 1875 was in fact a step taken in aid of execution of the decree, and that the application of 25th February 1878 was, therefore, under Act XV of 1877, schedule II, article 179, clause 4, within time. RAJLUKHY DASSEE v RASH MUNJURY CHOWDRAIN . . . 5 C. A year after the decree-holder applied for execution, and the estate was attached with a view to sale. Thereupon one K claimed the estate as his property, and, the claim being disallowed, commenced a suit in a Civil Court to establish his title, paying in shortly after, under protest, the sum which had accrued under the decree, and that money was taken out with the leave of the Court by the decree-holder (M), and satisfaction entered upon the decree. Subsequently K obtained a decree in virtue of which M was ordered to refund the money. Held that the defence to K's suit by the decree-holder M, would not be a proceeding taken by him within the meaning of section 20, Act XIV of 1859, to keep his decree alive. PROSUNNO CHUNDER ROY v. 182. ————— Transmission of decree for execution—Application for execution of attached decree—Civil Procedure Code, ss. 223, 228, 273—A decree was passed on the 20th February 1878 by the Munsif of M. In November 1878 it was, in accordance with the provisions of section 223 of the Civil Procedure Code, transferred to the Munsif of J. On the 21st January 1879 an application for execution of the decree was made to the Munsif of J, who thereupon issued an order for the attachment of some immoveable property belonging to the judgment-debtor, and also for the attachment of three decrees standing in his Court in favour of the judgment-debtor against other persons. On the 18th March 1882 the decree-holder applied to the Munsif of J. to execute one of these decrees in his behalf, and he further asked that whatever might be realised in such execution should go to the account of the decree which had been transferred, and which was being executed. Held that an application of the 18th March 1882 was perfectly legal, and such a proceeding as could keep alive the decree of the 20th February 1878; and that a subsequent application for execution, dated the 12th April 1883, was therefore not barred by limitation. An application to execute an attached decree is a "step in aid of execution" of the original decree, within the meaning of article 179, schedule II of the Limitation Act, inasmuch as its object is to obtain money in order to pay off the judgment-debtor. LACHMAN v. 188. ———— Application for execution of decree—Partial satisfaction under arrangement made through Court.—A, a judgment-debtor, being arrested in execution of a decree, applied in the year 1873, under section 273 of Act VIII of 1859, for his discharge. The Court refused to entertain the application except on condition that A. should pay into Court a certain fixed sum of money per month on behalf of the judgment-creditor. A, accepting these terms, was thereupon discharged, and the execution proceedings struck off the file. A, in compliance with the directions of the Court, made regular payments into Court until October 1876, when he discontinued payment. Held, on an application made in June 1877 by the judgment-creditor for a warrant of further arrest against A, that inasmuch as the decree-holder was not seeking to enforce by means of execution the arrangement made by the Court in 1873, but was rather attempting to execute the original decree, such application was barred, more

The decree was kept in force by sundry proceedings, the last of which was taken on the 30th December 1864. On the 6th February 1865, the parties filed a kistbandi, whereby they agreed that the amount due under the decree should be payable by instalments, the first instalment to fall due on 14th July 1865; at the same time an existing attachment was given up. On 14th July 1868, A. applied for execution of the decree in respect of six instalments due under the kistbandi. Held (MIR-TEB, J., dissenting), the Court could not recognise any arrangement between the parties enlarging the period of limitation allowed by law for the execution of decrees, or which alters the terms of the decree. The filing of the kistbandi and relinquishment of the attachment were not a proceeding to enforce the decree or keep it in force. The vakil for the decree-holder consented in part to this application, but insisted that certain other land should also be sold in the first instance. certain payment on account of such decree, and the decree-holders had agreed to give him four months’ time to pay the balance thereof, and it was prayed that such sale might be postponed and such time might be granted. The Court on the same day made an order on such application postponing such sale. The next application for execution of such decree was made on the 17th January 1879. The lower Appellate Court held, with reference to the question whether such application had been made within the time limited by law, that it had been so made, as under article 179 (6), schedule II of Act XV of 1877, such time began to run from the date of the expiration of the period of grace allowed to the judgment-debtor under the application of the 27th March 1876. Held that article 179 (6) had not any relevancy to the present case; but inasmuch as the proceedings of the 27th March 1876 might be considered as properly constituting a “step in aid of execution,” within the meaning of article 179 (4), the application of the 17th January 1879 was within time. SITLA DIN v. the 19th of March 1880 a decree for money was passed, and on the 19th of February 1881 certain property belonging to the judgment-debtor was sold in execution thereof. On the 22nd of April 1881 the Court passed an order confirming the sale. On the 10th of January 1882 the decree-holder applied to the Court for a copy of the decree, in order that he might make a fresh application for execution. On the 28th of March 1884 he applied for execution. The judgment-debtor appeared and pleaded that execution was barred by limitation. The Court of first instance held that execution was not barred on the ground that the passing of the order of the 22nd of April 1881 was sufficient, under the provisions of article 179, clause 4 of the Limitation Act of 1877, to keep the decree alive. The lower Appellate Court also held that execution was not barred by limitation, but solely on the ground that the application of the 10th of January 1882 was sufficient to keep the decree alive. It did not appear that the order of the 19th of February 1881 was passed in consequence of any application by the decree-holder, and neither the application of the 10th of January 1882 nor any copy thereof was put in evidence on the present application. Held, on appeal to the High Court, that the execution of the decree was barred by limitation. RAJKUMAR BANERJI v. 222. ————— Notice to judgment-debtor of execution of decree—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, ss. 212, 216.—On the 3rd March 1875, an application was made by a decree-holder to the Court executing the decree, which did not, as required by section 212 of Act VIII of 1859, state the mode in which the assistance of the Court was required, whether by the arrest and imprisonment of the judgment-debtor or attachment of his property, but prayed that the Court would, under section 216 of that Act, issue a notice to the judgment-debtor to show cause why the decree should not be executed against him. Under this application notice was issued to the judgment-debtor on the 28th March 1875. On the 27th April 1875 the execution case was struck off the file on the ground that the decree-holder did not desire further proceedings to be taken. Held, per PEARSON and OLDFIELD, JJ., that for the purposes of article 167, schedule II of Act IX of 1871, the application was one to enforce or keep in force the decree; and, further, that limitation should be computed from the date the notice to the judgment-debtor was issued. FRANKS v. 5 NOTICE OF EXECUTION—continued.

223. ————— Service of notice of execution.—Application for execution of a decree was made on the 10th November 1869, and on the 27th November 1869 notice issued under section 216 of the Civil Procedure Code, 1859. Again, on the 4th February 1873, application was made for execution, and notice was issued on the 19th February 1873 under section 216. A subsequent application for execution was made on the 31st August 1874, and the order for notice to issue, under section 216, was made on the same day. The question raised in appeal against the order to issue execution was whether the plaintiff's right to execution was barred, and had been so when the application, dated 31st August 1874, for execution was made. Held on appeal by the High Court (KERNAN and KINDERSLEY, JJ.) that as the application for execution on the 4th February 1873, being more than three years after the date of issuing the last prior notice under section 216,—viz., 27th November 1869,—was late, under article 167, paragraph 5, Act IX of 1871, execution was barred by limitation at and before the date of that application, and that this bar was not removed by the circumstance that the judgment-debtor had allowed the service of the notice on him in February 1873 to pass unchallenged. *Chitcany v. Where a decree directed annual payments to be made, and the decree-holder applied for and obtained payment of the money due for 1877 and 1878 in March 1879 by execution, and then applied in July 1882 for the sums due for 1880 and 1881,—Held that this application was barred by limitation. YUSUF KHAN v. Notice having been given to the judgment-creditor, an ex parte order was made allowing the judgment-debtor two years' time to pay, but the decree itself was not altered in accordance with this order. On the 9th of July 1882 the decree-holder applied for execution of the decree. Held that the application was not barred by limitation. TATA CHARLU v. KONADALA RAMACHANDRA REDDI [I. L. 227. ————— Civil Procedure Code, Act XIV of 1882, s. 210.—Petition of judgment-debtor amounting to fresh decree—On the 23rd February 1878, an application was made for execution of a decree, dated the 3rd December 1877, in which the decree-holder stated that the judgment-debtor had agreed to pay the balance then due on the 13th August 1878. The application was then struck off on the 26th June 1878. On the 30th June 1881 the decree-holder again applied for execution, and on the 11th July 1881 the judgment-debtor, with the consent of the decree-holder, applied for time to pay the balance due till the 8th September 1881, and that application was also struck off. On the 1st March 1883 the decree-holder again applied for execution. Held that the application was not barred by limitation upon the ground that the application by the judgment-debtor, made on the 11th July 1881, alleging that he had come to an arrangement with the decree-holder for the payment of the amount due by instalments, having resulted in its being registered and the proceedings struck off, amounted to a direction that the decretal amount be paid by instalments as stipulated in the petitions, and that this being so, there was a decree passed on that date under the provisions of the second paragraph of section 210 of the Code of Civil Procedure, of which the decree-holder was entitled to have execution. JHOTI SAHU v. The petitioner, who had obtained a decree for an annual sum for maintenance during her life, alleged satisfaction of the decree up to a period less than three years from the date of the application for execution of the decree. The Judge was not satisfied of the alleged satisfaction, and dismissed the application for execution. Held that the petitioner was entitled to execution of the decree at any time from the date at which the first instalment became due, but that she was not entitled to have process of execution issued within three years from the date at which the second instalment or subsequent instalments became due. LAKSHMI AMMAL v. The lower Appellate Court, holding that time ran from the first default in August and September 1864, dismissed the application. Held by the High Court on appeal that the application was not barred by section 20, Act XIV of 1859, and that the time ran from January and February 1865.

The decree-holder, alleging that a portion of the ninth instalment was payable, and that the whole of the tenth (the last) instalment was due, applied to enforce payment of the moneys due under the decree. Held, per PEARSON J., that whether former instalments had been paid or not was immaterial, and the application, being within three years from the dates on which the ninth and tenth instalments became due, was, with reference to article 167, schedule II of Act IX of 1871, within time. The first default was made on the 18th January 1874, but L. waived the benefit of the proviso. A fresh default was made, and on the 23rd January 1880 L. applied for possession of such estate. Held that the provisions of column 3, article 75, schedule II of Act XV of 1877, were not applicable to this case, but article 179 (6) of that schedule contained the law which must govern it; and, the date upon which such decree became capable of execution for possession being the 18th January 1874, the date of the first complete default, the application of the 23rd January 1880 was barred by limitation. the third and fourth instalments. The judgment-debtor objected that the application was barred by limitation, as he had made default in payment of the first and second instalments, and three years had elapsed from the date of such default. The decree-holder offered to prove that those instalments had been paid out of Court. Held that he was entitled to give such proof, in order to defeat the judgment-debtor's plea of limitation, notwithstanding such payments had not been certified. Fakir Chand Bose v Madan Mohan Ghose, 4 B L. 239. ————— Decree payable by instalments—Default.—Waiver—Estoppel—Application for execution as provided for in case of default.—Application to recover instalments.—A decree for the payment of money directed that an amount less than the amount sued for should be paid by instalments, and that if default were made in payment of one instalment, the amount sued for should be payable. Default having been made, the decree-holder, on the 7th May 1877, applied for execution of the decree for the larger amount. It appeared that at this time, although the instalments had not been paid regularly, the decree-holder had received in full all the instalments which had fallen due excepting the instalment falling due in the previous September,—that is, September 1876,—of which he had received only a part. The application of the 7th May 1877 was struck off the file. The decree-holder subsequently accepted the remaining instalments, which were paid on due dates. On the 28th August 1878 the decree-holder applied for payment of an instalment which had been paid into Court. On the 8th September 1881 the decree-holder applied for execution of the decree for the larger amount payable thereunder in case of default, with reference to the default in respect of the instalment for September 1876. The Court refused to allow execution to issue for such amount, but allowed it to issue for the balance of the instalment for September 1876. Per STRAIGHT, J.—That, having by his application of the 7th May 1877, sought to execute the decree for the larger amount payable thereunder in case of default in payment of the instalments of the smaller amount, the decree-holder was not competent afterwards to seek to execute the decree in respect of such instalments; that, therefore, his application of the 28th August 1878 was not a step in aid of execution of the decree in the shape in which he had previously sought execution, from the date of which limitation could be computed; and that consequently his application of the 8th September 1881 was barred by limitation. Per curiam—That the decree-holder was not entitled to recover the balance of the instalment for September 1876, regard being had to the limitation prescribed by No. 179 (6), schedule II of the Limitation Act, 1877. RADHA PRASAD SINGH v BHAGWAN RAI. tion of decree.—Payments out of Court—Civil Procedure Code, s 258—A decree passed against the defendant in a suit, dated the 13th March 1877, directed “that the plaintiff should recover the decree-money by instalments, agreeably to the terms of the deed of compromise, and he, in case of default, should recover in a lump sum.” The compromise mentioned in the decree provided that the amount in dispute should be paid in ten instalments, from 1284 to 1294 Fashl, the first to be paid on the 27th May 1877 (1284 Fashl), and the remaining nine instalments on Jaith Purnamashi of each succeeding Fasli year. On the 1st September 1883 the decree-holders applied for execution of the decree, alleging that the first four instalments had been paid, but not any of the succeeding instalments, and they claimed to recover, under the terms of the decree, the fifth and all the remaining instalments in a lump sum. The judgment-debtors contended that the application was barred by limitation, as they had not paid a single instalment, and more than three years had elapsed from the date of the first default, and that, even if the first four instalments had been paid, such payments could not be recognised by the Court as they had not been certified. Held, reversing the decision of the lower Appellate Court, that if the four annual instalments had not been paid under the decree, the execution of the decree was barred by limitation. Held, also, that recognition of such instalments was not barred by the terms of section 258 of the Civil Procedure Code. Sham Lal v Kanahia Lal, I. 241. ————— Debt on decree payable by instalments.—Failure to pay—Waiver of default—The terms of compromise in a suit for money provided that the debt should be paid by monthly instalments, and that, on the failure to pay any three successive instalments, the entire amount should be recoverable by application to execute the full decree. The decree was dated the 12th June 1875, the first instalment was due in July 1875, and the last in October 1877. Default was made in payment of the first three instalments, but the decree-holder did not apply for execution, and accepted subsequent payments. On the 13th December 1879 he applied for execution for the amount then remaining due. Held that the period of limitation prescribed by article 179, schedule II of Act XV of 1877, began to run on the third default taking place, and that no subsequent payment could stop limitation once begun. ASMUTULLAH DALAL v KALLY CHURN MITTER. the years 1284, 1285, 1286, 1287, and that, if there should be default in payment of any instalment, and that instalment should remain unpaid for six months, the whole of the decree should at once become due, it was objected that the application was barred on the ground that the instalments for 1284 not having been paid, the whole amount of decree had become payable within six months for the first default. The application was to recover the instalments due for 1285, 1286, and 1287. Held that the application was not barred, except as to the instalment of 1285, which fell due in Jaith, as it was optional with the decree-holder to realise the whole decree at once upon default being made, or to waive his right to do so and seek to realise instalments as they became due. *Ashmutullah Dalal v. 246. — Application after death of some of decree-holders.—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, s. 207.—A joint decree for damages was obtained by several plaintiffs in the Court of the Principal Sudder Ameen of Patna in 1854, and was kept alive by endeavours to execute it till 1861. On the 15th June 1861, the Court passed an order modifying the costs of the original decree, but this order was reversed on appeal on the 19th August 1862. Some of the plaintiffs having died in the meantime, an application was made on the 29th July 1863, and an order was passed thereon on the 26th May 1864, whereby the present decree-holders were substituted for the deceased plaintiffs. A new Principal Sudder Ameen was appointed on the 10th December 1864, and he reversed that order, and required from the present decree-holders a certificate of heirship, which they obtained on the 16th September 1865. On the 20th of the same month, an order for execution was made by the Principal Sudder Ameen, but it was reversed by the Judge on appeal, on the ground that the order of the 26th May 1864 was not a proceeding within the meaning of section 20 of Act XIV of 1859, and, therefore, the application for execution was too late. Held that execution might have been obtained under section 207 of Act VIII of 1859 by the survivors of the original decree-holders for the benefit of all parties interested in it. The order of the lower Appellate Court was reversed. TEJA SINGH v. RAJNARAYAN SINGH . . . 1 B. L. R., A. C., 62 decree.—Act X of 1877 (Civil Procedure Code), s. 231—A decree passed jointly in favour of more persons than one can only be legally executed as a whole for the benefit of all the decree-holders, and not partially to the extent of the interest of each individual decree-holder. Held, therefore, where one of two persons, in whose favour a decree for money had been passed jointly, applied on the 27th April 1880 for execution of a moiety of such decree, and the other of such persons made a similar application on the 30th April 1880, that such applications, not being made in accordance with law, were not sufficient to keep the decree in force. Also that the illegality of such applications could not be cured by a subsequent amended application for the execution of the decree as a whole, preferred after the period of limitation had expired.

253. ————— Application by two of three joint decree-holders for part execution of joint decree.—Acquiescence by judgment-debtor in part execution.—A decree for money was passed in 1871 in favour of two persons jointly. In 1883 the decree-holders applied for execution thereof. By previous application for execution made in 1875, 1877, and 1880, the decree-holders had sought to recover two thirds of the amount of decree. Held that inasmuch as the previous executions of the decree by some sharers for their shares, whether strictly allowable or not, were allowed, and no objections at the time were taken, they were good for the purpose of keeping the decree alive, and that the judgment-debtor could not now take exception to them as not being applications to enforce the decree within the meaning of the Limitation Act.

The first application for execution was made in September 1869 under section 216 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act VIII of 1859), and after notice to the defendant as provided thereby, an order was made under that section for execution to issue. In September 1880 an application for execution was made under section 230 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1877, which repealed Act VIII of 1859. An order for execution under the Code made after notice to show cause has, on the Original Side of the Court, the same effect as an award of execution in pursuance of a writ of scire facias had under the procedure of the Supreme Court,—i.e., it creates a revivor of the decree. 12. ————— Application for execution of decree.—Decree of High Court.—Civil Procedure Code (Act X of 1877), s. 230.—The plaintiffs obtained a decree of the High Court of Bombay against the defendant on 22nd February 1867. The defendant, after the passing of the decree against him, resided in Ahmedabad. In July plaintiff assigned his decree to L, who in 1876 assigned it to M. From time to time M obtained orders for the execution of the said decree, but was always unable to proceed to execution. The last order for execution made by the High Court was on the 4th February 1879. In April 1879 the decree was transmitted to the Court at Ahmedabad for execution, and that Court in September 1879 issued a warrant of arrest against the defendant, against the order for which the defendant appealed. The said order was confirmed by the High Court on 10th February 1880. In April 1881 the defendant was in Bombay, and M, the decree-holder, obtained a summons calling on defendant to show cause why the decree should not be executed against him. On 3rd May the summons was made absolute. The defendant appealed and contended that the application for execution was barred by limitation under section 230 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act X of 1877), which was to be read with clause 180 of schedule II of the Limitation Act, XV of 1877. Held that the application was not barred. Clause 180 of the second schedule of the Limitation Act, XV of 1877, was intended to be independent of section 230 of the Civil Procedure Code, and not to be in any way controlled by it. 9. ————— Marim, "Pendente lite nihil innovetur."—The rule "Pendente lite nihil innovetur" is in force in British India. Where the owner of a house, during the pendency of a suit by an unregistered mortgagee for foreclosure and sale, mortgaged the same house by a registered mortgage to another person, it was held that the last-mentioned mortgagee had no title as against the purchaser under a decree for sale in the suit, although such purchaser was the plaintiff in the suit. A grantee or vendee of the defendant, becoming such during the pendency of the suit, need not be made a party to the suit; and, inasmuch as the above-mentioned rule does not rest upon the equitable doctrine as to notice, it is a matter of indifference whether or not, at the time of his becoming grantee or vendee, he had actual notice of the existence of the suit. GULABCHAND MANICKCHAND v. DHONDI VALAD BEAU . 11 Bom., 64

10. ————— Possession under a subsequent mortgage created during the pendency of a suit by a prior mortgagee.—A sale or mortgage pendente lite is invalid as against the plaintiff, and the vendor or mortgagor is under a disability to give any valid possession, as against the plaintiff in the pending suit, to the party who becomes a purchaser or mortgagee during the pendency of the suit, whether or not the purchaser or mortgagee pendente lite has knowledge of the prior sale or mortgage as to which the litigation is pending, or of the litigation itself. Kasim Shaw v. The debt not having been paid, the house was sold at a Court sale on the 15th July 1870 and purchased by C. In an action brought by the plaintiff to recover possession of the house, on the ground that he had purchased it on the 2nd August 1868 at an execution sale under a common money-decree against A.,—Held that, even if there had been no decree in the mortgage suit, the fact that that suit had been instituted in 1866, and was pending in 1868, would have been sufficient to defeat the plaintiff's suit; his purchase in 1868 having been made pendente lite, was completely subject to any decree which might be made in the mortgage suit. RAOJI NARAYAN v. 13. ————— Suit for partition.

—Right of purchaser.—Three brothers, L. M. B., P. K. B., and G. D. B., being jointly entitled in equal shares to an undivided one-third share in certain property, mortgaged their shares by three deeds bearing different dates to one R. N. Between the dates of the two last mortgages the brothers instituted a suit for partition of the property, and for certain other objects; and on the 2nd February 1864 a decree was made in the suit, declaring the brothers entitled to a one-third share of the property, and ordering a partition and the taking of accounts, and reserving the question of costs. R. N. was not made a party to this suit. On 6th September 1864 the brothers covenanted to mortgage certain property to the plaintiff, including that previously mortgaged to R. N. On 8th and 9th December the agreement was performed by conveyances, in which R. N. joined, and which recited that he had been paid off; and on 28th November 1866 and 27th March 1867 the three brothers conveyed their equities of redemption to the plaintiff. On 15th June 1868 an order was made in the partition suit for the sale of a sufficient portion of the property to pay the costs of the parties to the suit, and under this order the property which the plaintiff sought to recover in the present suit was sold on 1st May 1869, and purchased by the defendant, who at the time had full notice of the plaintiff's claim. Held, the doctrine of lis pendens did not apply, and the plaintiff was entitled to recover possession. KAILAS CHANDRA GHOSE v. 14. ————— Suit for account against executor.—Sale by Sheriff in execution of decree—Right of purchaser at Sheriff's sale against purchaser at sale by mortgagee—In 1855 a decree for an account was passed, in the Supreme Court at Calcutta, against A., an executor. A. died in 1856, and the suit, which was revived against his representatives, came on for consideration on further directions on the 29th of August 1866. It was then found that A.'s estate was liable for Rs. 32,406-11-8, and his representatives were ordered to pay this money into Court. The representatives having made default in payment, a writ of fiat facias was issued, under which certain property was sold by the Sheriff of Calcutta and conveyed by him to B. on the 1st of April 1867. Previously to this the representatives of A. had, on the 11th of January 1865, mortgaged the same property, together with other lands, "for the purpose of paying the Government revenue of certain taluqs belonging to A., deceased," and the mortgagee having obtained a decree on his mortgage, the property was sold to C. in execution of the mortgage decree on the 30th of March 1867. In a suit for possession by C. against B., the latter pleaded lis pendens. Held that the nature of the suit, in which the decree of 1855 and the subsequent order of 1866 were passed, was not such as to warrant the application of the doctrine of lis pendens to the mortgage of the 11th of January 1855. Kailas Chandra Ghose v. 15. ————— Purchase pendente lite.

—Right of purchaser against mortgagee of property—Plaintiff purchased, at a sale by the District Munsif's Court of Guntur, held on the 22nd of December 1868, the interest of one F. G. in a cotton screw at Guntur. Previous to this, on the 31st July 1867, the husband of the 1st defendant in the present suit filed a plaint, No. 16 of 1867, in the Civil Court of Guntur against the representatives of F. G. (who was then dead), praying to be declared entitled to be treated as mortgagee of the shares of F. G. in that and another screw for Rs. 1,696-9-0, and that the amount might be raised by sale of those shares. Issues were settled, the 4th of which was—"Was there a tangible mortgage of real property or shares in real property?"—and the decree made on 30th September 1869 found this issue in the affirmative, and declared that the amount sued for should be paid from the aforesaid shares hypothecated to the plaintiff in that suit. At a sale in execution of this decree, the share of F. G. in the screw at Guntur was purchased by 2nd defendant (in the present suit) on the 18th of February 1870. The present plaintiff objected to the sale and was referred to a regular suit. Accordingly he brought the present suit to set aside the decree in No. 16 of 1867 as regards the share of F. G. in the screw at Guntur, to cancel the attachment and sale to 2nd defendant, and for possession of the share. First defendant pleaded that plaintiff at the date of his purchase had notice of the pending of the suit No. 16 of 1867 and of the mortgage claim. The plaintiff denied the fact of the mortgage and its regularity, and issues were framed, the 1st of which was—"whether plaintiff knew that the suit No. 16 of 1867 was under hearing when he bought the one-third share, and that there might be declared a hypothecation to the late husband of the first defendant in this suit." The Civil Court, treating the claim of the plaintiff in No. 16 of 1867 as a mortgage, held that, as it was prior in point of time to the sale under the Munsif's decree, it should prevail against plaintiff's claim, even though plaintiff had not notice. The Court also found that plaintiff had notice. Upon appeal,—Held that, as the purchase made by the plaintiff was made while the suit No. 16 of 1867 was pending, in which a mortgage was alleged and payment was prayed out of the property, the plaintiff was bound by the decree made therein, whether he had or had not notice, nor could he in

16. ———— Notice—Right of purchaser pendente lite as against person whose lien has been declared in suit to which the purchaser was no party—Notice.—Suit to recover possession of a mutah from which plaintiff had been ejected by an order of Court, passed in execution of the decree in a suit to which he was no party. Plaintiff claimed under a deed of sale from A. (a purchaser from C. and D.), dated 11th November 1860, and alleged that he purchased for valuable consideration and without notice of any other claim. Defendant asserted that plaintiff purchased fraudulently with notice of her late husband's right of purchase. It appeared that defendant's husband had sued C. and D. and others to enforce a lien upon the mutah, and obtained a judgment of the Privy Council upholding his lien and declaring its priority over the purchase of C. and D. This suit was pending before the Privy Council at date of plaintiff's purchase. In 1862 defendant's husband sued C. and D. for specific performance of an alleged agreement for sale, dated October 1851, without adducing any evidence as to the existence of the agreement, and got a decree in his favour, because the Principal Sudder Ameen had said in the original case that C. and D. had agreed to sell the mutah. The present plaintiff was turned out of possession under this decree, to the proceedings in which he had in vain sought to get made a party, on the ground that he was affected by notice of the former proceedings. He sought relief under section 230, Act VIII of 1859, but his application was dismissed, and he then commenced this suit. The Civil Judge decided in favour of plaintiff. Held, confirming the decree of the lower Court, that this was a case of a vendee of property, perhaps subject to a lien, turned out upon a decree against other people declaring the holder of the lien the owner of the property, and that the ejection was wrongful and procured by a gross misuse of the Court's process. The effect of notice of lis pendens considered. SAM v. APPUNDI IBRAHIM SAIB 6 Mad., 75

17. ———— Purchase pendente lite.—Right of suit—T., having obtained a decree against the heirs of H., attached certain property in execution. P., one of the heirs, objected that the decree was made against the defendants in their representative capacity, and that the property attached had descended to her, not from H., but from her husband. The objection was overruled and the property sold. P. appealed to the High Court, which passed a judgment in her favour. Held that the sale of the property was one pendente lite, and, as such, subject to the final result of the suit between the parties, and that P. had a right to come into Court as against the purchaser and establish her title to the property. INDERJEET KOOR v. POOTER BEGUM. 19 W. R., 197 possession, but denied the alleged relationship of landlord and tenant, contending that the property had been purchased by himself at a sale in execution of a decree which he had obtained upon a mortgage-bond, i. e., a money-bond with a clause creating a charge upon the property. The suit on this mortgage was commenced after the attachment upon which the property was sold to the plaintiff, but was pending when the plaintiff purchased. Held that the mortgagors were bound by the proceedings in the suit including the attachment and sale, and the defendant had a good title against the plaintiff in the same manner as against the mortgagors whose interest the plaintiff purchased, even if the certificate of sale was not registered. A purchaser under an execution is bound by a lis pendens, for it would be impossible that any action or suit could be brought to a successful termination if alienating pendente lite were permitted to prevail. RAJ KISHEN MOOKERJEE v. The defendants had, in execution of a subsequent money-decree against the same debtor, purchased the same property on the 1st April 1878. In a suit by the plaintiff for possession and mesne profits,—Held, following the case of Raj Kishen Mookerjee v. Radha Madhub Holdar, 21 W. R., 349, that the defendants were purchasers pendente lite, and were consequently bound by the proceedings in the plaintiff's suit on the mortgage-bond. JHAROO v. RAJ CHUNDER DASS I. L. 21. ———— Sale in execution of decree—Auction-purchaser—Res judicata.—A., the auction-purchaser of certain immovable property at a sale in execution of a decree, purchased with notice that a suit by H. and M. against the judgment-debtor and the decree-holder for a share in such property was pending, but did not intervene in such suit. Before the sale to A. was made absolute, H. and M. obtained a decree in the suit for a moiety of the share claimed by them. A. took no steps to get such decree set aside, but sued them to establish his right to such moiety in virtue of his auction-purchase. It appeared that the Court which passed the decree in favour of H. and M. did so without jurisdiction. Held that, inasmuch as the suit in which such decree was made was tried and determined by a Court having no jurisdiction, it could not be held that A. was bound by such decree, and that it could not be said that A. was bound to take steps to get

23. Applicability of the doctrine to a Court sale in execution of a decree.—Code of Civil Procedure (1859), ss. 240, 270, 271.—Effect of a decree obtained by an attaching creditor in a suit against successful intervenors or claimants—In 1872 the plaintiff obtained a money-decree against two brothers, P. and K. In execution of that decree he attached their one-half share in certain fields in 1874. The attachment was removed at the instance of two claimants, S. and B. In 1875 the plaintiff sued the claimants, and obtained a decree in his favour in 1878. Meanwhile in December 1874, after the plaintiff's attachment had been removed, one V. obtained a decree against one of the brothers, P. In 1876, while the plaintiff's suit against S and B. was pending, P.'s right, title, and interest in the one-half share of the fields belonging to himself and K. was sold in execution of V.'s decree, and purchased by the defendant. In 1881 the plaintiff again attached the one-half share belonging to the two brothers under his decree of 1872. Thereupon the defendant, relying on his purchase of 1876, applied for the removal of the attachment. It was removed from P.'s one-fourth share, and maintained on K.'s share, which was in due course sold. The plaintiff now sued to establish his right to sell P.'s one-fourth share under his decree of 1872. Held that the doctrine of lis pendens did not apply to this case, that the defendant, though he purchased P.'s share during the pendency of the plaintiff's suit of 1875, was not bound by the decree made in that suit—first, because, as an auction-purchaser at a Court sale in execution of a decree, he derived title, not from P., but by operation of law; secondly, because P. was not the person against whom the decree was made in the suit of 1875; and, thirdly, because P. was not represented in that suit by the plaintiff simply because the plaintiff sought to establish his

24. Presentation in Court of award.—Assignment pending such proceedings—P. and his partners mortgaged certain immoveable property to plaintiff on the 11th October 1869. They had then no title to the property, but they subsequently acquired one by purchase on the 29th June 1871. On plaintiff demanding that P. and his partners should make good the contract of mortgage and of the interest they had acquired, the matter was referred to arbitrators, who, on the 26th December 1873, made an award empowering plaintiff to sell the mortgaged property in satisfaction of his debt. The award was presented in Court by plaintiff on the 23rd January 1874, and was filed by the Court on the 23rd February 1874. Meanwhile, on the 14th February 1874, the property was attached in execution of a money-decree obtained by a creditor of P. and his partners against them. On the 15th April 1874 it was sold by auction and purchased by defendant. In a suit brought by plaintiff to recover possession of the property, both the lower Courts rejected his claim, on the ground that P. and his partners had no right to the property when they mortgaged it to plaintiff. Held that the presentation in Court of the award obtained by plaintiff was equivalent to the presentation of a plaint for the specific performance of the contract of mortgage, and the proceedings consequent thereon constituted a lis pendens, during which a mere money-decree-holder could not, by any proceedings which he might take, defeat the object of plaintiff's application to the Court to file his award. PRANJIVAN GOVARDHANDAS v. BAJU I. L. R., 4 Bom., 34

25. *Mortgage by executors—Suit on mortgage.—Administration suit—Writ of fi-fa—Sheriff's sale—Sale in execution of decree*—In a suit by the representatives of P. D. against his brother A. D., and after A. D.'s death against his executors, it was found that there was over Rs. 1,32,400 due to the plaintiff from the estate of the deceased; and on the 29th of August 1866 the executors were ordered to pay this sum into Court. The executors disobeyed, and on the 24th of December 1866 a writ of fi-fa was issued from the High Court, in execution of which certain property belonging to the estate of A. D. was sold to the defendants on the 18th of July 1867. Previously, however, on the 12th of October 1866, the executors had mortgaged the same property to the plaintiff, who brought a suit on his mortgage on the 10th of June 1867. On the 28th of August 1867 the present defendants were made parties to that suit, and in their written statement they alleged that they had been improperly made parties, and claimed a title superior to that of the plaintiff. That suit was dismissed with costs as against the present defendants, on the ground that they were improperly added; but a decree for sale was given against the executors, in execution of which the mortgaged property was sold to the plaintiff.

26. ————— Sale in execution of decree.—Prior attachment.—On the 29th June 1876 the plaintiff obtained a money-decree by consent against R., the father-in-law of the defendant. On the 24th of July 1876 the plaintiff attached a house apparently belonging to R. On the 12th October 1876 the defendant sued R. for maintenance, and alleged that the house in question was the property of her deceased husband and R., and she claimed the right to continue to live in it. On the 10th of November 1876, and during the pendency of the defendant's suit against R., the house was sold under the plaintiff's decree against R., and the plaintiff himself became the purchaser. On the 20th of June 1877 the defendant obtained a decree against R. in terms of the prayer of her plaint. On the 27th of August 1879 the plaintiff brought the present suit to eject the defendant from the house. Held that what the plaintiff bought from R. was his right, title, and interest in the house, which being subject to the decree in the defendant's pending suit, the plaintiff's purchase was likewise subject to the same, and the circumstance that the plaintiff had placed a prior attachment on the house made no difference. The plaintiff, therefore, could not eject the defendant during her lifetime. PARVATI v. KISANSING. I. L. R., 6 Bom., 567 partition and directing the partition. No return was made to this commission, and no actual partition came to. In 1873 A. obtained a decree for an account and for payment, or in default for sale of the property. In 1878 B.'s share was put up for sale and purchased by C., and C. was put into possession. In 1881 C. brought a suit against A. for partition. Held that the decree obtained by A. in 1873 put an end to B.'s right to redeem, unless he paid the amount found due against him, and therefore, at the time of the sale to C., B.'s right to redeem had ceased to exist, and the property was no longer subject to partition under the decree of 1870, and therefore the partition asked for under the suit of 1881 could be granted. KIRTY CHUNDER MITTER v. LOCAL INVESTIGATION—continued.

1. ———— Object of local investigations.—Evidence not obtainable in Court—Local investigations are had recourse to not so much for the purpose of collecting evidence which can be taken in Court, as to obtain evidence which from its peculiar nature can only be obtained on the spot. *BHOWANEE DUTT SINGH v. 2. ———— Application for inspection or local investigation.—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, s. 180—An application under section 180, Act VIII of 1859, should be made at the hearing of the suit, and not previously. MACKINNON, MACKENZIE, & Co, v. BHUGRAM DOSS . . . Bourke, O. C., 243

4. ———— Power of Court to direct, when parties do not ask for it—Remand order for local investigation—In a suit for land, where the question was as to whether the land lay within the boundaries of the plaintiffs' or the defendants' land, the Court of first instance suggested to the parties that the proper mode of determining the case was in the first instance to hold a local investigation, and that such local investigation should be applied for by one or other of the parties. Both parties resolutely refused to make such application, and the Court thereupon dealt with the case upon the materials before it and passed a decree. Upon appeal, the lower Appellate Court remanded the case for the purpose of a local investigation being held at the cost of the plaintiff in the first instance. Held that inasmuch as neither of the parties desired to have a local investigation, the Court was wrong in remanding the case, and that it was bound to decide it upon the evidence before it. JATINGA VALLEY TEA COMPANY v. CHERA TEA COMPANY . . . I. L. R., 12 Calc., 45

5. ———— Notice of local investigation.—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, s. 180—Though there was no express direction to that effect in section 180, Act VIII of 1859, yet it was necessary to give notice to parties of the time when a local investigation ordered by the Court was to be held. *KISTOMONEE DEBIA v. 6. ———— Officer to hold local inquiry.—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, s. 180—Section 180, Act VIII of 1859, made it imperative on a Court to employ in the first instance the regular officer of the Court to hold a local inquiry. RAM DOSS KOONDoo v. NIL KANTO DHUR . . . 8 W. R., 6

7. ———— Question of disputed boundary.—Possession before date of suit.—Held that a local inquiry ought not to have been ordered in this case, where the question to be decided was one of disputed boundary, which turned chiefly on possession before the date of suit, and that the Subordinate Judge would have been justified in disregarding the Ameen's report, and trying the appeal on the recorded evidence. KALEE DOSS ACHARJEE v. 8. ———— Ascertainment of fact of marriage.—In a case where the issue is whether two persons bear the relation of man and wife, a Judge is not justified in going himself to the village where the parties live, in order to make inquiries among their neighbours; much less in holding such local investigation on a Sunday, and without due notice to one of the parties. JUBHOO SAHOO v. JUSSODA KOORE. . . 17 W. R., 230

9. ———— Power of Judge to order local investigation by Subordinate Judge.—A Judge has no power to order a Subordinate Judge, whose judgment is before him on appeal, to go and inspect the locality and make a report. Such a report cannot be treated as evidence one way or the other. If the Judge was of opinion that it was necessary to take further evidence, he ought to have proceeded as directed by sections 354 and 355, Act VIII of 1859, and it was competent to him, if necessary, to order an Ameen or any suitable person to make a local investigation under section 180. But a Judge from whose decision an appeal is pending is the most unsuitable person to make such investigation. ROY SOOLTAN BAHADUR v. LALOO KOORE. . . 17 W. R., 300

10. ———— Incomplete inquiry owing to laches of plaintiff.—In a suit for wasilat, where the Ameen's inquiry was not completed on account of the laches of the plaintiff.—Held (GLOVER, J., dissenting) that there had been no local investigation at all, and that the defendant had no opportunity of producing his evidence. KALEE DOSS MITTER v. DEBNARAIN DEB. . . 13 W. R., 412

11. ———— Duty of Ameen to return report to Court ordering investigation.—An appeal having been made from an order relating to the execution of a decree, the High Court directed that an Ameen should deliver over possession and make a map of the property so delivered over, and a map showing the boundaries laid down in the decree. The Ameen went to the spot and made a map. That map was not transmitted to the Court; but in consequence of certain proceedings in the Subordinate Judge's Court, a second Ameen was sent and a second map made. These proceedings were wholly disregarded by the High Court, which pro-

12. ———— Investigation by Ameen.—Power of District Judge to interfere with order for.—Circular Orders, 41 of 1866 and 25 of 1870—

In a suit for the possession of land, the boundaries of which were disputed, the Subordinate Judge ordered an Ameen to make a local investigation, and reported his order to the District Judge, who refused to allow the investigation to proceed. Held that this was a case coming within the provisions of Circular Order No 41, dated the 2nd October 1866, which authorises local investigations by Ameen when it is necessary to ascertain by measurement disputed areas of land; and that the District Judge had no authority to stay the investigation. Per PRINSEP, J.—All that the District Judge was entitled to do under Circular Order No 25, dated 25th August 1870, was to express his opinion as to the propriety or otherwise of the Subordinate Judge's order. NIBOD KRISHNO ROY v. WOOMANATH MOOKERJEE

13. ———— Non-attendance at local investigation.—Procedure order setting aside a judgment by default.—Sections 114 and 180 are to be read together. The words "and persons not attending upon the requisition of the commissioner" in section 180 are general and apply to parties making default, whether required to give evidence or not. The words "like disadvantages" referred to in section 180 mean that in the case of the non-attendance of a defendant, the local investigation is to be proceeded with ex parte, and in the case of the non-attendance of a plaintiff, the suit is to be dismissed with costs. In case of judgment by default for non-appearance before a commissioner appointed under section 180, the proper course is to apply to the Judge for an order to set aside the judgment, and if that application be refused, to appeal against the order of refusal. The Judge's order should contain a distinct direction to the commissioner to proceed ex parte in the event of the non-attendance of the plaintiff. ESSAN CHUNDER CHUCKERBUTTY v. 14. ———— Non-attendance at local investigation.—Failure of party to appear on local inquiry.—In a case in which plaintiff sued to recover some land, and in which defendant denied the power of plaintiff's vendor to sell the land claimed or a part of it, a local inquiry was ordered to ascertain the boundaries of the land in dispute. Judgment of the High Court—upholding the decision of the lower Court, which dismissed the suit because plaintiff failed to appear or take proper steps before the Ameen at the local investigation, and because he omitted to give formal proof of his deed of purchase—confirmed. MAHOMED TUQUE CHOWDHRY v. Upon appeal,—Held by HOLLOWAY, J., that the provisions of the Lord's Day Act (29 Car. II, c. 7) do not apply in this country. That even if the substantive provisions of the statute were applicable, it did not follow that section 6 would be. 9. ———— Unsoundness of mind, Proof of.—Act XXXV of 1858.—Incapacity to manage affairs.—Ascertainment of state of mind by medical examination.—Unsoundness of mind taken by itself is not sufficient to bring a person within the meaning of the term "lunatic" as used in Act XXXV of 1858, unless it would incapacitate him from managing his affairs; nor, on the other hand, will a person who is incapable of managing his affairs be a lunatic, unless that incapacity is produced by unsoundness of mind. For the purposes of this Act, the observation of the patient by medical witnesses, between the date of petition and the date of actual hearing, would be sufficient for ascertaining his state of mind at the time of inquiry. *SHERMAN v. in charge of somebody else, he must observe the procedure laid down in that Act and pronounce the alleged lunatic to be of unsound mind after instituting a proper inquiry into the point. The lunatic had an interest both in joint ancestral property and in property inherited collaterally, which might, but was not shown to, belong to him separately. The lower Court found that the application was made with a view to taking consequent proceedings for partition. Held that, it appearing that he had remained for sixteen years in the same house under the same guardians, and there being no allegation of ill-treatment, no sufficient grounds were shown for the Court's interference, or the appointment of another guardian of his person. Before any action can be taken under the Act in this respect, there ought to be a strong case made out that the change of custody would be for the lunatic's benefit. Held, also, that as his daughter could not inherit his ancestral property, and as it was doubtful if the collaterally inherited property was the separate property of the lunatic, the Court would not, under such circumstances, appoint a manager of the property; but that the guardians of the lunatic, who were managers of the joint family, should, on her request, furnish accounts to the daughter of the management of the collaterally-inherited property. Semle,—Act XXXV of 1858 applies to the members of a Mitakshara family. Quere,—Assuming the application to be made with a view to a partition of the property, and that the lunatic was declared a lunatic under the Act, whether a partition could be had. MADRAS BOAT RULES.

— Act IV of 1842.—Act IX of 1846.—
Jurisdiction of Magistrates—Liability of owner under rule 7.—Burden of proof.—Under Act IX of 1846, the Madras Government is authorised to make in respect of ports in the presidency such regulations for the management of boats and such other matters as are provided for by Act IV of 1842 in respect of the Madras roads, being similar in principle to the provisions of the said Act, but varying in detail as local circumstances may require. Act IV of 1842, section 24, empowers a Justice of the Peace of the town of Madras to hear and determine all pecuniary forfeiture and penalties had or incurred under or against that Act. Held that it was competent to the Government of Madras to provide that cases cognisable under the rules passed in accordance with Act IX of 1846 should be heard and determined by Magistrates not being Justices of the Peace. Under rule 7 of the amended rules for the better management of boats, &c, plying for hire at the out-ports of the Madras Presidency, dated 1st October 1867, the owner of a boat is liable to fine on proof of his allowing his boat to ply without the requisite complement of men. Held that, where it was proved that a boat was plying without its proper crew, the absence of proof by the prosecutor that the owner was aware of the fact was no bar to his conviction.

passed on revision; and unless time is extended by the Governor in Council, the appeal must be brought within two calendar months from the date of the original decision. The provisions of the exception to section 5 of the Limitation Act, 1871, do not apply.

2. — Limitation.—Procedure.—
Under section 25 of Act XXVIII of 1860 (Madras Boundary Act), which limits the time within which a suit may be brought to set aside the decision of a settlement officer to two months from the date of the award, time will not begin to run until the date on which the decision is communicated to the parties.
As the settlement officer is required to take evidence before coming to a decision under section 25, a decision based upon the report of a subordinate vitiates the whole proceedings and is not binding on the parties. ANNAMALAI CHETTI v. CLOETE

MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONERS, MADRAS* . . . I. L. R., 2 Mad., 362

— s. 433.—Water rate.—Liability of Commissioners to a suit for compensation for not supplying water and collecting rate.—By the provisions of the City of Madras Municipal Act, 1878, if a water rate is levied by the Commissioners, they are bound to supply water for house service to every rate-payer who desires and provides the necessary works to connect his premises with the main, which ought to be within 150 yards of his premises, and the rate-payers are bound to pay water rate whether or not they avail themselves of the privilege of house service. If the Commissioners do not perform this duty, the rate-payer has a remedy by action and may recover compensation, either under the provisions of section 433 (which provides that a person aggrieved by the failure of the Commissioners to do their duty may bring his action, and the Court may either direct the duty to be performed "or make such order as to the Court may seem fit") or under those of the Statute of Westminster. Semble,—If the Court does not order the execution of the works under section 433, the only other order it could make would be an order for reasonable compensation. The Legislature intended the water rate to be a payment for a benefit conferred, and the tax should not be levied till water can be supplied. If in part of the city the Commissioners are able to supply water and desire to obtain at once a return for their works, they should apply to the Government to exempt the rest of the city from the operation of the Act. *MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONERS, MADRAS, v. 1. ——— XXV.—Mad. Reg. XXXI of 1802, Rights of zemindars under.—Proprietary possession—Construction of statute—Preamble.—The affirmative words of Madras Regulation XXV of 1802, section 2, the preamble thereto forming no part of the enactment, did not either give to or take away from the former owners of lands, not permanently assessed, any rights which they then had. It merely vested in all zemindars an hereditary right at a fixed revenue upon the conclusion of the permanent assessment with them. The words "proprietors of lands" as used both in the Bengal Code of 1793 and in the Madras Code of 1802, have a technical signification. They refer to "zemindars, independent talookdars, and others, who pay the revenue assessed upon their estates immediately to Government." So also the words "proprietary possession," in the recital of Regulation XXV of 1802, mean the possession of a person who is a proprietor according to the technical meaning of the term. According to the true construction of Madras Regulations XXV and XXXI of 1802, the Legislature recognises the right of private property, and does not assert a right on the part of Government to deprive or dispossess zemindars in their lifetime, or their heirs after their deaths, independently of any considerations connected with the realisation of the public revenue. It provides for the protection of the revenue from invalid lakhiraj grants, and for the mode of trying the validity of the titles of persons claiming to hold their lands exempt from the payment of revenue. OOLAGAPPA CHETTY v. 2. ——— Alienation by zemindar.

Limitation—In a suit brought by a zemindar to recover either assessment at the rate of Rs.5,000 per annum, or a pergunnah, part of the plaintiff's zemindari, the defendant pleaded that he had held the pergunnah as his own before and ever since the Permanent Settlement, and that the claim was barred by both Regulation XXV of 1802 and Act XIV of 1859. The lower Court overruled both pleas: the first, because it held that, under Regulation XXV of 1802, the zemindar's title could not be questioned; the second, because it considered that the decision in a former suit (that the laches of the zemindar could not prejudice his successor) prevented the application of the statute, on the ground of subsequent hostile possession, and that the plaintiff had had twelve years from the time he came into possession in which to bring the suit. Held, first, there was nothing in the Regulations relating to the Permanent Settlement showing an intention to affect rights of property in existence at the period of their being passed, secondly, that the decision in the previous suit could not be followed in the present case in which the claimant was the grandson of him against whom, as to property of a normal character, the statute would have begun to run. KRISHNA DEVI GARU v. RAMACHANDRA DEVI MAHARAJULU GARU

3. ——— Settlement.—Mistake in settlement papers—Grant by zemindar before Permanent Settlement.—Tenants are not concluded by a mistake in settlement papers, nor does Regulation XXV of 1802 provide for forfeiture of rights by parties who by carelessness or accident allow their land to be misdescribed in settlement proceedings. It was doubted whether grants made by a zemindar before the Permanent Settlement were, or were not, binding on his successors,—their Lordships' minds inclining strongly to the affirmative side of the alternative, but as the question was not raised in the Courts below, it was not considered to be open to the appellants in the appeal to the Privy Council. VRICHERLA RAZ BAHADOOR v. 4. ——— Alienation of proprietary rights.—Regulation XXV of 1802 strictly restrains the alienations of proprietary rights except in manner therein provided, and invalidates a disposal or transfer of such rights as against the Government and the heirs and successors of the proprietor making the disposal or transfer. Semble,—Such alienation would be valid against the proprietor himself. A permanent lease is as much within the operation of Regulations XXV and XXX of 1802 as an absolute transfer by gift or sale. SUBBARAYULU NAYAK v. RAMA REDDI 1 Mad., 141

1. ——— s. 8.—Perpetual lease.—Transfer.—A perpetual lease of a distinct portion of a zemindari is not a transfer within the meaning of section 8, Regulation XXV of 1802, Madras Code. VENKATASWARA NAICKER v. ALAGOOMOOTTOO SEERVAGAN . 4 W. R., P. C., 73: 8 Moore's I. A., 327

2. ——— Alienation by zemindar.—Limitation.—Where a zemindar alienated a part of the zemindari, and the terms of the Regulation XXV of 1802, section 8, were complied with,—Held (HOLLOWAY, J., dissentiente) that the alienation was invalid against the plaintiff, the grandson of the zemindar. Held also by the whole Court that the defendant and his father having held the land for a lengthened period on a claim of right, the plaintiff's suit was barred by the Statute of Limitations. *ALI SAIB v. 3. ——— Right of grantee of proprietor against purchaser from his successor.—A zemindar granted part of his zemindari absolutely and died. His grantee was then dispossessed by a purchaser from his successor. Held that, as the conditions specified in Regulation XXV of 1802, section 8, had not been observed by the former zemindar, the grant was voidable on the determination of his interest, and that consequently the disposition was legal. PITCHAKUTICHETTI v. PONNAMMA NATCHIYAR 1 Mad., 148

4. ——— Alienation not registered.—Permanent lease.—A permanent lease of a village in a muttahdar (plaintiff's father) was held to be not invalidated by section 8 of Regulation XXV of 1802, although the lease had not been registered as required by that section. *Subarayalu Nayak v. In a suit brought by the son, after attaining majority, to establish his right to the office and to recover its emoluments,—Held that, under the provisions of Regulation XXIX of 1802, he was not entitled to recover. Section 7 of the Regulation provides that in filling the office of karnam, the heirs of the preceding karnam shall be chosen by the landholders, except in cases of incapacity, on proof of which before the Judge of the zillah the landholders shall be free to exercise their discretion in the nomination of persons to fill vacancies. Held that, where the incapacity arose from minority about which there was no dispute, an appointment by a landholder, made without proof before the Court of the incapacity of the heir, was valid. *VENKATANABAYANA v. 3. ——— The office of karnam in a zemindari village having been held by three brothers jointly in hereditary rights, the zemindar, on the death of one brother, did not fill up the vacancy, considering that the work could be well conducted by the two survivors. On the death of the survivors their sons succeeded to the office. The zemindar subsequently desiring to re-appoint a third karnam, nominated an outsider to the joint tenancy of the office. Held that, as there were heirs of the last holders in existence, the appointment was invalid. *VENKAYYA v. 3. ——— Mortgage by way of conditional sale—Mahomedan mortgagor.—In 1832 a Mahomedan mortgaged certain land with possession, on condition that, if the money lent was not repaid within eight years, the land should be enjoyed by the mortgagee after that period as if conveyed by sale. In 1883 a suit was brought to redeem. Held that the title of the mortgagee became absolute by virtue of the terms of the contract on default of payment within the time specified. The obligation cast by Regulation XXXIV of 1802 upon a mortgagee to account for profits does not prevent a mortgagee by way of conditional sale from becoming, after the period for redemption has elapsed, an absolute sale where no account has been rendered by the mortgagee. The rule laid down in Pattabhiramier's case, 13 Moore's L. A., 560, applies to a mortgage executed by a Mahomedan. MALLIKARJUNUDU v. MALLIKARJUNUDU . . . I. L. R., 8 Mad., 185

s. 2.—Tenant.—Lessee of zemindar—
Limitation.—In 1869 a village in the zemindari of R. was granted by the zemindar to S at a favourable rent, in consideration of S renouncing a claim to the zemindari. The village was not separately assessed and divided off from the zemindari. The rent having fallen into arrears, the village was sold in 1875 under the provisions of the Rent Recovery Act, and purchased at the sale by the agent of the Court of Wards on behalf of the defendants, minor sons of the deceased zemindar. In a suit brought by S. in 1883 to recover the village,—Held that the sale was binding on S., and that the suit was barred by limitation. BASKARASAMI v. SIVASAMI. I. L. R., 8 Mad., 196

1. ——— s. 3.—Purchaser of zemindari village without separate assessment.—Landholder.—A zemindar having mortgaged one of his zemindari villages to V., a proportionate amount of the peshkush due by the zemindar was paid to the treasury by V. by agreement. Having sued the zemindar, and brought to sale and purchased the village at the Court sale, V. continued to pay the peshkush as before to the treasury, although the village was never separately assessed under section 8 of Regulation XXV of 1802. Held that V. was not entitled to enforce the acceptance of a pottah under the provisions of the Rent Recovery Act. VALAMARAMAYYAN v VIRAPPA KANDIAN. acceptance of a pottah by the tenants in respect of the proportionate rent payable to him. KRISHNAMACHAN v. GANGARAU REDDI. I. L. R., 5 Mad., 229

3. ——— and ss. 4, 9.—Landlord and tenant.—Right to enforce acceptance of pottah.—The renter of a zemindari, to whom the right to collect the kattubadi or quit-rent on inam lands and the road cess payable to Government was delegated, sued to compel the inamdars to accept pottahs and execute muchalkas for the amounts due. Held that the inamdars, not being cultivating tenants, were not bound, under Act VIII of 1865 (Madras), to accept a pottah. Ramasami v Collector of Madura, I. 4. ——— and ss. 8, 9, and 11.—Agreements between landlords and tenants.—The pottahs and muchalkas mentioned in section 3, Madras Act VIII of 1865, must be understood to embrace those written agreements only which are mutually interchanged by a landlord and those of his tenants who are actually engaged in the cultivation of the lands to which they relate, since the remedies which the Act provides in sections 8 and 9 can only be made available where the relation of landlord and tenant, or a holding of some sort, already exists upon such a basis that the landlord or the tenant, as the case may be, can come into Court and claim to have a writing granted to him. Semble,—If a lease granted by a zemindar to an intermediate holder could be considered a pottah within the meaning of section 3 of the Madras Act VIII of 1865, it would, under the proviso to section 11 of that Act, be liable to be set aside by the successor of the grantor if granted at a lower rate than that generally payable on such lands, and not for the purposes mentioned in the said proviso. *RAMASAMI v BHASKARASAMI. 6. ——— s. 6.—Signing and registration of pottahs and muchalkas—Madras Act VIII of 1865, section 6, imposes upon village karnams the duty of signing and registering pottahs and muchalkas exchanged under the Act. Where such pottahs and muchalkas were not signed or registered by the karnam,—Held that a suit for rent might be maintained, founded upon the muchalka, the signature and registration by the karnam not being intended to be a condition of the right to sue. *VENKATA SUBBA ROW v. 2. ——— Suit for arrears of rent, Tender of pottah—Plaintiff sued for certain arrears of rent. The suit was dismissed as to Faslis 1271, 1272, and 1275, on the ground that no pottahs had been tendered for those Faslis. On special appeal it was contended that no tender was necessary, because a suit which had been brought before Fasli 1271 for the determination of the proper rate of rent was pending during those Faslis. Held that the pending of that suit did not render the tender of pottahs unnecessary, and that the present suit was rightly dismissed. *PRIYANAYAGAM PILLAI v. 5. ——— Tender of pottah—Unreasonable condition—A tenant is not bound to accept a pottah which requires him to relinquish, at the close of the Fasli, land which he has been unable to cultivate. VEDANTA CHARIAR v. AYYASAMI MUDALI . . . I. L. R., 4 Mad., 322

6. ——— Tender of pottah—When a Collector in a suit brought under the provisions of the Rent Recovery Act has decided that a tenant is to accept a pottah on certain terms, the land holder is not bound to tender such pottah for acceptance before suing to enforce the terms thereof. COURT OF WARDS v. DARMALINGA . . . I. L. R., 8 Mad., 2

7. ——— Pottah—Rate of rent—Indefinite stipulations—In a pottah tendered by a landlord to his tenant under section 7 of Act VIII of 1865 (Madras), the rate of rent should be ascertained and declared even where the rate may vary with the means of cultivation or the frequency of cultivation, or where the quantum of rent may vary with an increase or reduction in the area of the holding. A landlord tendered a pottah to his tenant which contained the following stipulations: "If you cultivate, by the aid of Sirkar services of irrigation, wet crops on dry land, you must pay water rate settled according to the highest nanjai assessment of neighbouring land. If you occupy land in excess of that entered in this pottah, you must pay the appropriate assessment, or if the assessment has not been fixed, then such assessment as our Sirkar may settle." Held that the pottah was not one which the tenant was bound to accept. VANKATA RAMANJULU NAYUDU v. RAMACHANDRA NAYUDU . . . I. L. R., 7 Mad., 150

8. ——— Landlord and tenant—Acceptance of muchalka without delivery of pottah—Presumption—When a muchalka has been taken from a tenant under the Rent Recovery Act (Madras Act VIII of 1865), but no pottah granted, this is some evidence that the tenant dispensed with the delivery of a pottah, and legal proceedings ought not to be set aside merely because no pottah and muchalka have been exchanged, without inquiry as to whether the parties have agreed to dispense with pottahs and muchalkas. VARATHACHARI v. BALU NAICKEN [I. L. R., 3 Mad., 255]

9. ——— Landlord and tenant—Exchange of pottah and muchalka—Under section 7 of Madras Act VIII of 1865, the agreement to dispense with the exchange of pottah and muchalka need not be express, but it must appear that this provision of the law was present to the minds of the contracting parties, and that they deliberately elected not to act upon it. The mere existence of a verbal lease is insufficient to raise the presumption that the exchange of pottah and muchalka has been dispensed with. *KOMIREDDI VARAHA NARASIMHAM v. 10. ——— and ss. 3 and 13.—Suit for recovery of rent.—Exchange of pottahs and muchalkas.—Tender of pottah.—Suits for the recovery of rent cannot be maintained in the Civil Courts by the landholders described in section 3 of Madras Act VIII of 1865, unless pottahs and muchalkas have been exchanged between the landholder and the tenant as required by section 7 of the Act, or some one of the other conditions of the section has been complied with. So held by MORGAN, C J., LNNES, J., and KINDERSLEY, J. (HOLLOWAY, J., dissentiente). But such suit may be maintained by the landholders described in section 13 of the Act without complying with the requirements contained in section 7. So held by MORGAN, C. J. 2. ——— and s. 69.—A landlord having sued his tenant under the Rent Recovery Act to compel him to accept a pottah, the Revenue Court directed the tenant to accept the pottah as amended by the Court. On appeal by the tenant, the District Court directed a further amendment of the pottah. Three months after the decree of the District Court, the landlord applied to the Revenue Court to eject the tenant under section 10 of the Rent Recovery Act for not accepting the pottah and executing a muchalka, and six months after the date of that decree the Revenue Court ordered the tenant to be ejected. Held that section 10 of the Rent Recovery Act (which provides that, if within ten days from the date of the Collector's judgment the defendant shall not have accepted the pottah as approved or amended by the Collector, and shall not have executed a muchalka in the terms of the said pottah, the Collector, on proof of such default, shall pass an order for ejecting the defendant), did not warrant the order YAKUB v. 1. ——— s. 11, cls. 1, 2, 3, 4.—Improvements effected by tenant.—Enhancement of rent.—Sanction of Collector.—The sanction of the Collector required by the proviso to clause 4, section 11 of the Rent Recovery Act, as a condition precedent to the enhancement of rent when the landlord has improved the land or has had to pay additional assessment to Government, is not requisite when, improvements having been made by the tenant, the landlord seeks to enhance the rent. Per MUTTUSAMI AYYAR, J.—The proviso to clause 4 of section 11 of the Rent Recovery Act implies that when the tenant has improved the land at his own expense the landlord is not entitled on that ground to enhance the rent. Semble.—Clause 1 of section 11, which provides that all contracts for rent, express or implied, shall be enforced, cannot be so applied as to deprive a tenant of the benefit of improvements made at his own expense. Per HUTCHINS, J. When improvements have been made by the tenant, the proper rate of rent has to be determined with reference to the several provisions of section 11, quite irrespective of the improvements. VENKATAGIRI RAJA v. for determination of the proper rate of rent for particular lands, the existence of a fixed general rate of rent for neighbouring lands of similar description and quality. The words "according to the rates established or paid" import clearly the power to determine the rate of rent in accordance with either the general rate at which neighbouring lands of a similar kind are let, or where the rents of such lands vary, the rate at which rents had for any time been actually paid by some of the tenants of such lands.

3. ————— Implied contract —

Where a landlord, having for many years accepted rent at "dry" rates from a tenant for certain land, sued the tenant to enforce acceptance of a pottah at "garden" rates, on the ground that the tenant had raised a crop with water taken from a well constructed by the tenant,—Held that there was an implied contract within the meaning of section 11 of the Rent Recovery Act to accept rent at "dry" rates, and that plaintiff was, therefore, not entitled to enhance the rate of rent, the improvement having been effected at the expense of the tenant. KRISHNA v. VENKATASAMI I. L. R., 8 Mad., 164

4. ————— Provision in pottah for increasing rate of assessment for garden cultivation
A provision in a pottah for increasing the rate of assessment if garden cultivation is carried on, or if a second crop is raised, is not illegal, but comes within the provisions of section 11 of Act VIII of 1865. VAYTHENATHA SASTRIAL v. SAMI PANDITHER

Alienation—Power to make leases.—The second proviso contained in rule 4, section 11, Madras Act VIII of 1865, does not apply to a lease which is bona fide and valid under the general Hindu law, and, as such, falls under rule 1. This proviso does not amount to a repeal of the Hindu law regarding ordinary leases, but applies only to such leases when, in the circumstances in which they are made, they amount to a fraud upon the power of the grantor's successor as manager or to alienations made for the personal benefit of the grantee and to the prejudice of the successor. RAMANADAN v. his tenants, the defendants, to accept a pottah at enhanced rates of assessment, on the ground that he had at his own expense repaired a tank and rendered the land formerly cultivated as dry land capable of being cultivated as wet land,—Held that the plaintiff could not maintain the suit, inasmuch as he had not obtained the sanction of the Collector to raise the rent, and such a condition was a condition precedent to such a suit. Semble,—That the right of the plaintiff to recover was dependent on the further condition that an additional revenue was levied on him consequent upon the improvement made. KATTASAWMY v. SANDAMA NAIK 5 Mad., 294

8. ————— Suit to assess proper rate of rent.—Determination of rate of rent—In a suit by the plaintiffs as inamdars to compel the defendants, occupiers of plaintiffs' land, to accept pottahs under Madras Act VIII of 1865, the defendants objected to the rates of rent claimed by the plaintiffs. There was no contract between the parties as to the rent to be paid, nor was there any assessment made under a survey made previous to the 1st January 1859. Held that the proper rent to be paid by the defendants was to be determined according to the rates established or fixed for neighbouring lands of a similar kind. MAHASINGAVASTHA AYYA v. 9. ————— Contract to pay a certain rent implied from payment in past years.—Section 11 of the Rent Recovery Act provides that in the decision of suits involving disputes regarding rates of rent which may be brought before Collectors under sections 8, 9, and 10, all contracts for rent, express or implied, shall be enforced. Held that payment of rent in a particular form at a certain rate for a number of years is not only presumptive evidence of the existence of a contract to pay rent in that form or at that rate for those years, but is also presumptive evidence that the parties have agreed that it is obligatory on the one party to pay and the other to receive rent in that form and at that rate, so long as the relation of landlord and tenant may continue. VENKATAGOPAL v. The Sub-Collector, finding that the formalities required by the Act had not been observed, removed the attachment and directed the restoration of the property. The defendants having refused to restore the property, the plaintiff brought this suit under Madras Act VIII of 1865 to recover the value of the produce. Held that such wrongful withholding of the property, being an act in direct disregard and defiance of the Act, did not constitute a cause of action triable by a summary suit under that Act. *SRINIVASA v. [I. L. R., 2 Mad., 42]

2. —and s. 20.—Summary suit for wrongful distraint.—Limitation.—Cause of action.—A refusal to restore property improperly distrained under the Rent Recovery Act (Madras Act VIII of 1865) after the attachment has been set aside and the property ordered to be restored under section 17 of the Act, is not a cause of action upon which a summary suit can be brought under section 20. The cause of action in such a case is the illegal distraint, and the continued detention of, and refusal to restore, the property are only aggravations of that wrong. Semble,—A summary suit under section 17 would lie under such circumstances for loss or damage sustained when the distress has been declared illegal, and the right to bring a summary suit is not limited to the loss sustained prior to the order declaring the distress illegal as suggested in Srinivasa v. Emperumanar Pillai, I. L. R., 2 Mad., 42. 2. ————— and s. 69.—Plant—Amendment—Irregular procedure.—Joint petition.—Order to file separate plants.—Limitation—A landlord having tendered pottahs to his ryots which were not accepted by them, distained, for rent due under the pottahs tendered, on the 10th of March 1882. On the 18th of March thirteen ryots presented a joint petition to the head Assistant Collector complaining of the landlord's acts. This petition was referred to the Tehsildar for report and not treated as a plant under Act VIII of 1865 (Madras), but subsequently, having been brought before the Deputy Collector for orders, it was treated as a joint plant under the said Act, and the petitioners were directed by that officer each to file a separate plant. Thirteen plants were accordingly filed on the 27th of May. Held that, under section 50 of the Act, which allows irregular plants to be amended at the discretion of the Collector, the petition of the 13th March, which contained all the necessary allegations, could be treated as a plant capable of amendment; and that the order of the Deputy Collector directing the petitioners to file separate suits was an amendment within the meaning of that section. Held, also, that by the provisions of section 69, which provides that substantial justice shall not be defeated by want of form or irregularity in procedure, the said order, even if irregular, having done substantial justice, ought not to be set aside. ATTIPAKULA MURUPPA v. s. 85.—Suit to recover money illegally levied as tax on profession—Section 85 of Madras Act III of 1871 is not a bar to a suit to recover money wrongfully levied as a tax because such so-called tax had no legal existence. There is no provision in that Act for levying any tax described in section 57 of the Act at all otherwise than by the prescribing of the machinery for its levy in sections 58-61. If that machinery is not applied, no liability to pay such tax can arise. Where the Municipal Commissioners of a town had not determined on the imposition of a tax of that description till 22nd April of the official year for which such tax was imposed, and the list of persons to be taxed for that year was not completed till 14th July of the same year, and notice to A of his assessment under such tax was not given him till 8th October in that year,—Held that the tax had no legal existence, and that A was entitled to recover from the Commissioners money which they had collected from him as and for such so-called tax. *Bates v. s. 154.—Omission to take out licenses—Criminal Procedure Code, 1869, ss. 43, 66—Section 154 of Madras Act III of 1871 was not intended to apply to omissions to take out licenses. It applies to breaches of the Act which, in a policeman's view, are offences, and regarding which, if committed within his view, one of two courses is open to him,—viz., to arrest without warrant, or to lay an information before a Magistrate, and apply for a summons or warrant. If he adopts the latter course, then sections 43 and 66 of the Criminal Procedure Code require that the information should be reduced to writing, and given on oath or solemn affirmation, before any process is issued thereon. Section 68 of the Code is limited to cases in which no complaint has been made, and the Magistrate, proprio motu, institutes a prosecution. ANONYMOUS [6 Mad., Ap., 50

1. ———— Magistrate with power to do particular act or make particular order.—Order for maintenance under s. 536, Criminal Procedure Code—Where the law empowers Magistrates of a particular grade to do a particular act, or make a certain order, it should always appear upon the proceedings that the Magistrate making the order or doing the act is a Magistrate who had jurisdiction to do it. An order under section 536, Criminal Procedure Code, 1872, cannot be made by a Magistrate of the second class. SOMBEE v. JITTU SONAR

10. ——— Jurisdiction to complete trial.—Transfer of Magistrate while trying a case.—Mr. M was appointed by the Local Government, under section 37 of Act X of 1872, a Magistrate of the first class, under the designation of Joint Magistrate, in the district of Meerut. He was subsequently appointed to officiate as Magistrate of the district of Meerut during the absence of Mr. F. or until further orders. While so officiating he was appointed by a Government notification, dated the 10th July 1880, to officiate as Magistrate and Collector of Gorakhpur, “on being relieved by Mr. F.” He was relieved by Mr. F. in the forenoon of the 23rd July 1880, and in the afternoon of that day, under the verbal order of Mr. F, he proceeded to complete a criminal case which he had commenced to try while officiating as Magistrate of the district of Meerut. All the evidence in this case had been recorded, and it only remained to pass judgment. Mr. M accordingly passed judgment in this case and sentenced the accused persons to various terms of imprisonment. Held (SPANKIE, J., dissenting) that Mr. M. retained his jurisdiction in the district of Meerut so long as he stood appointed by the Government to that district and no longer, and the effect of the order of the 10th July 1880 was to transfer him from the district of Meerut from the moment he was relieved by Mr. F. of the office of Magistrate of that district, and from that moment he no longer stood appointed to that district and could exercise no jurisdiction therein as a Magistrate of the first class, and that, therefore, the conviction of such accused persons had been properly quashed on the ground that Mr. M. had no jurisdiction. *EMPRESS OF INDIA v. On the 26th of June the Government issued a notification, investing the Deputy Magistrate with second class powers, to take effect from the 25th of March to the 31st of May 1878. Held that the notification did not render the Magistrate's order illegal, as the Deputy Magistrate had no jurisdiction to exercise second class powers on the 22nd of May. IN THE MATTER OF SURGEE

On motion made to the High Court to set aside the acquittal, on the ground that, after the date of the order of the Lieutenant-Governor investing the Assistant Magistrate with further powers, no appeal lay to the District Magistrate,—Held that, even supposing the Lieutenant-Governor's order conferred first class powers upon the Assistant Magistrate from the moment it was made, it must be shown, before the District Magistrate's decision could be set aside, that the order of the Lieutenant-Governor was signed before the conviction. Quere,—Whether an order investing a Magistrate with first class powers is of any force, or amounts to an authority to exercise such powers, until the order has been officially communicated to the Magistrate. IN THE MATTER OF THE PETITION OF MOHAMED ESHAK. of the first class—Discharge of accused.—A complaint of an offence made punishable by section 392 of the Penal Code was brought in the Court of a Magistrate of the second class, who had been invested with the powers described in section 206 of the Criminal Procedure Code. The Magistrate passed an order directing that the inquiry should be held in his Court, and accordingly an inquiry was held under the provisions of chapter XVIII of the Criminal Procedure Code, and the accused was discharged. Held that powers conferred under section 206 of the Criminal Procedure Code convey authority to carry into effect any of the provisions of chapter XVIII of the Code, that the procedure to be adopted under chapter XVIII is not confined to cases exclusively triable by a Court of Session, but is also applicable to cases which, in the opinion of the Magistrate concerned, ought to be tried by such Court; that the order of the Magistrate in the present case, directing inquiry to be held in his Court, must be taken to mean that, in his opinion, the case referred to was one which ought to be tried by a Court of Session; and that his order discharging the accused was therefore legal. RAMSUNDAE v. On the 6th September, the powers of a Magistrate of the first class were conferred on the Magistrate by an order of Government, which was communicated to him on the 8th September. On the 9th September, the case for the prosecution having closed, the Magistrate framed charges against each of the accused under sections 323 and 325 of the Penal Code, recorded the statements of the accused and the evidence for the defence, and, on the 10th September, convicted the accused of all the charges, passing upon each of them, in respect of each charge, sentences which he could pass as a Magistrate of the first class, but could not have passed as a Magistrate of the second class. On appeal, the Sessions Judge, on the ground that the prisoners had committed the offence described in section 148 of the Penal Code, held that the sentences passed by the Magistrate were illegal, as being inconsistent with the provisions of section 71, paragraphs 2 and 4, and he accordingly reduced the sentences of imprisonment which the Magistrate had passed to the maximum of imprisonment which the Magistrate could have inflicted under section 148. Held, by the Full Bench (PETHERAM, C. 6. ————— Presumption of marriage.—Onus probandi—According to the Mahomedan law, a public acknowledgment of paternity will of itself raise a presumption of marriage between the person who makes it and the mother of the child, without the father specifically connecting his paternity with any particular woman. 11. ————— Acknowledgment of children as sons—The acknowledgment and recognition of children by a Mahomedan as his sons, giving them the status of sons capable of inheriting as being of legitimate birth, may, without proof of his express acknowledgment of them, be inferred from his treatment of such children, provided that certain conditions negating this relationship are absent. The question whether such acknowledgment should be presumed or not, depends on the circumstances of each particular case. Ashrafudowlah Ahmed Hossein Khan v. Hyder Hossein Khan, 11 Moore's I. 12. ————— Presumption of marriage—According to Mahomedan law, mere continued cohabitation without proof of marriage or of acknowledgment is not sufficient to raise such a legal presumption of marriage as to legitimise the offspring. Marriage and acknowledgment may be presumed, but the presumption must be one of fact, and, as such, subject to the application of the ordinary rules of evidence. A subsequent marriage, so far from raising the presumption of a prior marriage, prima facie at least excludes that presumption. ASHRUFODOWLAH AHMED HOSSEIN v. HYDER HOSSEIN KHAN

15. ———— Legitimacy—
Effect of acknowledgment of sonship—Held by PETHERAM, C. J., that, according to the Mahomedan law, the effect of an acknowledgment by a Mahomedan that a particular person, born of the acknowledger's wife before marriage, is his son in fact, though the acknowledger may never have treated him as a legitimate son or intended to give him the status of legitimacy, is to confer upon such person the status of a son capable of inheriting as legitimate, unless conditions exist which make it impossible that such person can have been the acknowledger's son in fact. Ashrufoddowlah Ahmed Hossein Khan v. Hyder Hossein Khan, 11 Moore's I. A., 94, Mahammad Azmat Ali Khan v. Lalji Begum, I. L. R., 8 Calc., 422; and Sadakat Hossein v. Mahomed Yusuf, I. L. R., 10 Calc., 663, referred to. In a suit for possession, by right of inheritance, of a share of the property of a deceased Mahomedan by a person alleging himself to be a son of the deceased, the defendants pleaded that the plaintiff was not a son, but a stepson, having been born of the deceased's wife before her marriage. The plaintiff filed certain letters and other documents in which the deceased in express terms referred to him as his son, and he contended that these references amounted to acknowledgments of him as a son made by the deceased, which, under the Mahomedan law, entitled him to inherit as a legitimate son. Held by PETHERAM, C. J. (BRODHURST, J., dissenting), that the acknowledgment by the deceased of the plaintiff as his son in fact conferred upon the latter the status of a legitimate son capable of inheriting the deceased's estate, although the evidence showed that the deceased never treated him as a legitimate son, or intended to give him the status of legitimacy. Held by BRODHURST, J., contra, that the documents above referred to did not show more than that the deceased regarded the plaintiff as his stepson; that the plaintiff was never called his son except by courtesy and in the sense in which a European would ordinarily describe his stepson as his son; and that there was no sufficient evidence of

16. ———— Mode of acknowledgment.—In order to an acknowledgment of paternity legitimating children under the Mahomedan law, the declaration ought to be clear and distinct in respect to each child; and the children, or those of them who have reached years of discretion, ought to come forward and acknowledge their father. *KEDARNATH CHUCKREBUTTY v. 18. ———— Legitimacy of children.—Presumption as to marriage—Where a Mahomedan lady sued for a declaration of the validity of her marriage with the man with whom she had lived, and of the legitimacy of their children, and relied upon the position which her reputed husband gave her during his lifetime in his family and on his treatment of their children,—Held, following Privy Council in Ashrufoddowlah Ahmed Hossein Khan v. Hyder Hossein Khan, 11 Moore's I. A., 94, that, though the presumption of legitimacy "follows from the bed," and legitimacy may be inferred from the treatment shown during lifetime to a woman and her children, yet a Court, in dealing with this subject, would not be justified in making any presumption of fact which a rational view of the principles of evidence would exclude, and that, as the force of presumptions of fact must vary with varying circumstances,—and in the present case the circumstances were all such as to throw the Court upon direct evidence rather than upon presumptions,—the Court could not, in the absence of substantive evidence, allow the claim. The appeal was accordingly dismissed. The circumstances above referred to, as throwing the Court upon direct testimony, were, that the lady herself was in the suit and might have given her evidence, that a valid Mahomedan marriage must always be made in the presence of witnesses, who might have been summoned as witnesses, together with the officiating mollah or kazi; and that the evidence of one such witness, who had been called, actually threw doubt upon itself. *BUTOOLUN v. The plaintiff subsequently, with full knowledge of the lease, purchased the same house from the lessor, and as such purchaser sued to eject the defendant. The plaintiff tendered evidence to show that by the custom of Zanzibar the defendant's tenancy was determined upon the sale by the landlord. custom—A claim by the widow of S, Ravuthan, a Labi of Palgat, and her daughters, for their shares of his estate under Mahomedan law, was opposed by other members of the family, who pleaded that, according to a special custom obtaining among the Ravuthans of that part of the country adopted from Hindu law, females are excluded from inheritance if sons or sons' sons exist. In two instances it was proved that women of this class had obtained shares under Mahomedan law by suits without this plea having been put forward. The District Munsif described these cases as interruptions, and found on the evidence that the custom was proved. On appeal this decree was confirmed by the Subordinate Judge. Held that no valid custom was established by the evidence. Regulation X of 1800 does not apply to undivided zemindaris in which a custom prevails that the inheritance should be indivisible, but only to jungle mehals and other entire districts where local customs prevail, and therefore only partially, and to that extent, repeals Regulation XI of 1793. *DEEDAR HOSSEIN v. *Suit for—Suit by creditor of deceased Mahomedan against his heir.—Sale in execution of decree.—*After the death of a Mahomedan, several of his creditors sued his widow and daughter, and obtained decrees against the assets of the deceased, which assets had come into the possession of the mother and daughter. In execution of these decrees portions of the property were sold thereupon two married sisters of the deceased, who lived with their husbands apart from the widow and daughter, sued as heirs of the deceased to recover their shares of the property sold. Held that the property of the deceased having been attached and sold in payment of his debts, the plaintiffs' suit must be dismissed. When a creditor of a deceased Mahomedan sues the heir in possession, and obtains a decree against the assets of the deceased, such a suit is to be looked upon as an administration suit; and those heirs of the deceased who have not been made parties cannot, in the absence of fraud, claim anything but what remains after the debts of the testator have been paid. *Nuzeerun v. A decree relative to his debts, passed in a contentious or non-contentious suit against only such heirs of a deceased Mahomedan debtor as are in possession of the whole or part of his estate, does not bind the other heirs who, by reason of absence or other cause, are out of possession, so as to convey to the auction-purchaser, in execution of such a decree, the rights and interests of such heirs as were not parties to the decree. In execution of a decree for a debt due by a Mahomedan intestate, which was passed against such of the heirs of the deceased as were in possession of the debtor's estate, the decree-holder put up for sale and purchased certain property which formed part of the said estate. One of the heirs, who was out of possession, and who was not a party to these proceedings, brought a suit against the decree-holder for recovery of a share of the property sold in execution of the decree, by right of inheritance. Held by the Full Bench that the plaintiff was not entitled to recover from the auction-purchaser, in execution of the decree, possession of his share in the property sold, without such recovery of possession being rendered contingent upon payment by him of his proportionate share of the ancestor's debt for which the decree was passed, and in satisfaction whereof the sale took place. *Wahidunnissa v. by enforcement of lien against M., one of A.'s heirs, who alone was in possession of the estate; and, in execution of the decree, the whole estate was sold by auction on the 21st March 1878, and purchased by the decree-holder himself. J., another of A.'s heirs, was not a party to these proceedings. On J.'s death, her son and heir, A. H., conveyed to M. A. the rights and interests inherited by him from his mother,—namely, her share in A.'s estate. The purchaser of the share thereupon brought a suit against the decree-holder for its recovery. Held that, immediately upon the death of A., the share of his estate claimed in the suit devolved upon J.; that she being no party to the decree of the 20th December 1876, her share in the property could not be affected by that decree, nor by the execution sale of the 21st March 1878; that upon her death that share devolved upon her son, who conveyed his rights to the plaintiff; that the plaintiff was therefore entitled to recover possession of the share which he had purchased, but that he could not do so without payment to the defendant of his proportionate share of the debts of A., which were paid off from the proceeds of the auction sale of the 21st March 1878. Jafri Begum v Amir Muhammad Khan, *I. It was not disputed that the debt would have been barred by limitation but for a part-payment made by C., and endorsed by him on the back of the roka. D., E., and F. were no parties to such payment, and it was found not to have been made with their consent. The first Court, considering that collusion existed between A. and C., and having regard to the fact that C. did not dispute his liability, gave A. a decree for the full amount of the debt against C. without finding whether the roka was genuine or not, and held that the shares of D., E., and F. in B.'s estate were not liable for any portion of the debt. A. accepted this decision and did not appeal. C. appealed on the ground that he could only, under the Mahomedan law, be held liable for a part of the debt in proportion to the amount of B.'s estate which had come into his hands. The lower Appellate Court decided in C.'s favour and varied the decree by directing that A. was only entitled to recover two fifths of the debt from C., that being the amount of C.'s share. D., E., and F. were not made parties to that appeal. A. then preferred a special appeal to the High Court, making D., E., and F. parties. Held that, under the circumstances of the case, and having regard to the rule of Mahomedan law, A. was not entitled to a decree against C. for more than two fifths of the debt. Held, further, that, applying the principle of justice, equity, and good conscience to the case, inasmuch as A. was a

Before B. obtained his decree the heirs of A. had mortgaged the estate of A. to C. The property was put up to sale in execution of B.'s decree, and B. became the purchaser, and now sued to obtain possession from C. Held that the mere fact of the property having once belonged to the estate of A. did not entitle B. to follow it in the hands of C., so as to enable him to recover possession without redeeming. The heir of a Mahomedan may, as executor, sell a portion of the estate of the deceased, if necessary, for the payment of debts, and such sale will not be set aside if the purchaser acted bona fide. *ENAYET HOSSEIN v. sideration, does not constitute the divorce, but assumes and is founded upon it. The divorce is created by the husband's repudiation of the wife and the consequent separation. The husband having distinctly alleged a divorce by khola, and relied on two instruments,—one, an ibranamah (or deed of voluntary release by the wife of her denmohr or dowry) to which there was no satisfactory proof that she ever gave her assent with a knowledge of its contents, and a kholanamah (surrendering the wife's settlement) obtained from her mother by means of cruelty and ill-usage practised on her daughter, to confirm the ibranamah,—Held that instruments so obtained could have no legal effect when used as a defence against the wife's claim to her dowry. BUZUL-UR-REHEM v LUTHEEUTOONISSA

7. ——— Right to divorce.—Suit by wife for divorce.—Agreement for divorce.—A husband entered into a private agreement with his wife, authorising her to divorce him upon his marrying a second wife during her life, and without her consent. Held that the Mahomedan law sanctioned such an agreement, and that the wife, on proof of her husband having married a second time without her consent, was entitled to a divorce. BADARANISSA BIBEE v. 8. ——— Mode of divorce.—Charge of adultery.—Ill-usage.—A charge of adultery by a Mahomedan against his wife does not operate as a divorce, though if false it might be an item of ill-usage towards making up a sufficient answer to his claim for restitution of conjugal rights. The husband cannot enforce his right to his wife till he pays the dower,—in the absence, that is, of any sufficient answer to his claim. Ill-treatment by him and his second wife would justify the first wife in leaving him. JAUN BEBEE v. BEFABEE

9. ——— Divorce in absence of wife.—Suit by a Mahomedan female against her husband for maintenance. Defendant pleaded that he had divorced the plaintiff on the 8th January 1862. Both the lower Courts found that no divorce had taken place upon the following facts. Defendant went to Trichinopoly leaving his wife at Tinnevely. While at Trichinopoly he received letters from Tinnevely informing him that his wife was leading an immoral life. He therefore went before the Town Kazi of Trichinopoly, made a written declaration in the shape of a letter to plaintiff to the effect that he had divorced her, and repeated the divorce three times successively before the Town Kazi of Trichinopoly. Defendant directed also that the letter of divorce should be sent to the plaintiff, but there was no evidence of her having received it. Held, upon special appeal, that it was clear upon the authorities that there had been a valid divorce. The compressing the expression of the intention into one sentence seems, on the authorities, not to affect the legality of the repudiation, although some doctors consider the process immoral. SHERIF SAIB v. 2. ——— Verbal contract for dower.—Customary dower, Evidence of amount of.—A verbal contract of dower for a large sum is admissible only if proved by most clear and satisfactory evidence. A customary dower must be proved by showing a custom of the women of the wife's family to receive, rather than of the men of the husband's family to pay, a certain dower, the Mahomedan dower being the consideration paid by the bridegroom for the marriage, and therefore regulated by the position and conduct of the bride, especially as Mahomedan men often contract most unequal marriages, though the means and position of the bridegroom must not altogether be excluded from consideration. *NUSEEMOODDEEN AHMED v. J. (PEARSON, J., dissenting) that, it being nowhere laid down absolutely and expressly by any authority on the Mahomedan law that, however large the dower fixed may be, the wife is entitled to recover the whole of it from her husband's estate, without reference to his circumstances at the time of marriage or the value of his estate at his death, the plaintiff was only entitled, under the circumstances, to a reasonable amount of dower. Held by the Full Bench, on appeal from the decision of STUART, C. J., that a Mahomedan widow was entitled to the whole of the dower which her deceased husband had on marriage agreed to give her, whatever it might amount to, and whether or not her husband was comparatively poor when he married, or had not left assets sufficient to pay the dower-debt. *SUGRA BIBI v. 11. ——— Prompt and deferred dower—Custom—Under Mahomedan law, when on marriage it is not specified whether a wife's dower is prompt or deferred, the nature of the dower is not to be determined with reference to custom, but a portion of it must be considered prompt. [I. L. R., 4 All., 205]

13. ——— Suit for restitution of conjugal rights.—Custom.—Prompt and deferred dower.—When a Mahomedan sues his wife for restitution of conjugal rights, such suit is to be determined with reference to Mahomedan law, and not with reference to the general law of contract. Under Mahomedan law, if a wife's dower is "prompt" she is entitled, when her husband sues her to enforce his conjugal rights, to refuse to cohabit with him, until he has paid her her dower, and that notwithstanding that she may have left his house without demanding her dower and only demands it when he sues, and notwithstanding also that she and her husband may have already cohabited with consent since their marriage. When at the time of marriage the payment of dower has not been stipulated to be "deferred," payment of a portion of the dower must be considered "prompt." The amount of such portion is to be determined with reference to custom. Where there is no custom, it must be determined by the Court with reference to the status of the wife and the amount of the dower. Where a Court, following this rule, determined that one fifth only of a dower of Rs5,000 not stipulated to be "deferred" must be considered "prompt," inasmuch as the wife had been a prostitute and came of a family of prostitutes, it exercised its discretion soundly. ERDAN v. MAZHAR HUSAIN. I. L. R., 1 All., 483

14. ——— Restitution of conjugal rights.—A Mahomedan cannot, according to Mahomedan law, maintain a suit against his wife for restitution of conjugal rights, even after such consummation with consent as is proved by cohabitation for five years, where the wife's dower is "prompt" and has not been paid. Abdool Shukkoar v. Raheem-oon-nissa, 6 N. W., 94, followed. WILAYAT HUSAIN v. ALLAH RAKHI. I. L. R., 2 All., 831

15. ——— Marriage.—Suit for restitution of conjugal rights.—Plea of non-payment.—Form of decree.—According to the Mahomedan law, marriage is a civil contract, upon the completion of which, by proposal and acceptance, all the rights and obligations which it creates arise immediately and simultaneously. There is no authority for the proposition that all or any of these rights and obligations are dependent upon any condition precedent as to the payment of dower by the husband to the wife. Dower can only be regarded as the consideration for connubial intercourse by way of analogy to price under the contract of sale. Although prompt dower may be demanded at any time after marriage, the wife is under no obligation to make such demand at any specified time during coverture, and it is only upon such demand being made that it becomes payable. This claim may be used by her as a means of obtaining payment of the dower, and as a defence to a claim for cohabitation on the part of the husband without her consent, but, although she may plead non-payment, the husband's right to claim cohabitation is antecedent to the plea, and it cannot be said that until he has paid prompt dower his right to cohabitation does not accrue. The sole object of the rule allowing the plea of non-payment of dower is to enable the wife to secure payment. Her right to resist her husband so long as the dower remains unpaid is analogous to the lien of a vendor upon the sold goods while they remain in his possession, and so long as the price or any part of it is unpaid, and her surrender to her husband resembles the delivery of the goods to the vendee. Her lien for unpaid dower ceases to exist after consummation, unless at such time she is a minor, or insane, or has been forced, in which case her father may refuse to surrender her until payment. It cannot in any case be pleaded so as to defeat altogether the suit for restitution of conjugal rights, which is maintainable upon the refusal of either party to cohabit with the other, and it can only operate in modification of the decree for restitution by rendering its enforcement conditional upon payment of so much of the dower as may be regarded as prompt, in accordance with the principle recognised by Courts of equity under the general category of compensation or lien, when pleaded by a defendant in resistance or modification of the plaintiff's claim. Buzloor Ruheem v. Shums-oon-nissa Begum, 11 Moore's I. A., 551, Mulleeka v. Jumeela, 11 B. L. R., 375; Khajooroonnissa v. Ryeesoonnissa, I. R., 2 I. A., 235; Nawab Bahadoor Jung Khan v. Uzeez Begum, N. W., S. R., 4 All., 205; and Nasir Khan v. Umrao, Weekly Notes, All., 1882, p. 96, dissented from. In a suit brought by a husband for restitution of conjugal rights, the parties being Sunni Mahomedans governed by the Hanafi law, the defendant pleaded that the suit was not maintainable, as the plaintiff had not paid her dower-debt. The plaintiff thereupon deposited the whole of the dower-debt in Court. It appeared that the defendant's dower had been fixed without any specification as to whether it was to be wholly or partly prompt. It also appeared that she had attained majority before the marriage, and that she had cohabited with the plaintiff for three months after marriage, and there was no evidence that she had ever demanded payment of her dower before the suit was filed, or that she had refused cohabitation on the ground of non-payment. Besides the plea already mentioned, she also relied upon allegations of divorce and cruelty, but these allegations were found to be untrue. The lower appellate Court dismissed the suit, holding that inasmuch as the plaintiff had not paid the dower-debt at the time when he brought his suit, he had no cause of action under the provisions of the Mahomedan law. Held by the Full Bench that the lower Appellate Court's view of the Mahomedan law relating to conjugal rights and the husband's obligation to pay dower was erroneous; and that the plaintiff, under the circumstances of the case, had a right to maintain the suit. ABDUL KADIR v. SALIMA

16. ——— Suit for dower.—Cause of action—In a suit by a Mahomedan widow to recover from the heirs of her husband the amount of dower which became due to her after her husband's death, the cause of action must be deemed to have arisen at the time when she was ejected by order of Court from the property left by her husband, and which she held as security for the satisfaction of her dues. SOORMA KHATOON v. ATTAFFOONNISSA KHATOON 2 Hay, 210

17. ——— Exigible dower.—Cause of action.—Deferred dower.—According to Mahomedan law, mogal or exigible dower is payable on demand at any time from the consummation of the marriage up to the death of the wife, and a suit preferred by heirs for their mother's mogal dower will be in time if brought within twelve years of the mother's death. Mowajal or non-exigible or deferred dower is claimable on the dissolution of the marriage either by death or divorce. Shares of dower when received by the legal inheritors thereof cease to be dower, and become part of the recipient's estate. HOSSEINODDEEN CHOWDHRY v. TAJUNNISSA KHATOON W. R., 1864, 199

18. ——— Prompt and deferred dower—A Mussalman, on his marriage, entered into a written agreement (unregistered) with his wife to pay her a lakh of rupees, one fourth as prompt (mogal) dower, the remainder as deferred (mowajal) dower. A separation occurred between the husband and wife, but there was no divorce. During the separation, on 3rd May 1861, the wife petitioned for leave to sue as a pauper to recover the balance of her prompt dower. The husband, on the 1st July 1861, filed a petition denying her claim against him. The wife's application to sue as a pauper was rejected on 27th January 1862. The husband died on 30th August 1867. On the 13th May 1869 the widow brought her suit to recover the balance of prompt dower and the whole of the deferred dower. Held that she could recover the latter. The cause of action in respect of deferred dower could not arise until the husband's death. But the cause of action in respect of prompt dower arises upon demand by the wife and refusal by the husband. KHAJARANNISSA v. RISANNISSA BEGUM [5 B. L. R., 84: 13 W. R., 371]

19. ——— Limitation.—Divorce—Where dower is "prompt," limitation does not begin to run until the dower is demanded or the marriage is dissolved by death or otherwise. 20. ——— Exigible dower.—Demand.—Application to sue in forma pauperis.—Cause of action.—The prompt or exigible dower of the Mahomedan law may be regarded as a debt always due and demandable during the subsistence of the marriage, and certainly payable on demand. On a clear and unambiguous demand by the wife for payment, and refusal by the husband to pay such dower, a cause of action accrues, against which limitation begins to run. An application under section 299, Act VIII of 1859, by a Mahomedan woman for leave to sue her husband for exigible dower in forma pauperis, may be taken to express her intention of bringing an action for dower only if she obtains leave to do so as a pauper. Until she has the Court's permission to sue, her application does not amount to a demand by way of action. A counter-petition by the husband objecting to the pauper suit being allowed, and denying his liability to pay the dower, does not alter the character of the proceedings, since no opposition on his part can constitute a cause of action unless there has been a previous demand by the wife; the option being with her to demand the dower or not, and to elect her time for demanding it. *KHAJARANNISSA v. 21. ——— Demand.—Limitation.—A Mahomedan of the Shia sect by a deed of dower charged his whole estate with a certain sum when demanded by his wedded wife, but did not impignorate his estate to secure the sum put in settlement. The dower was not demanded during the lifetime of the husband, and his widow at his death took possession of his estate in satisfaction of her claim. Held by the Sudder Dewanny Court, and such decision on appeal confirmed by the Privy Council, that the widow had a lien upon her deceased husband's estate as being hypothecated for her dower, and could either retain property to the amount of her dower or alienate part of the estate in satisfaction of her claim. Held, also, that a demand in the lifetime of the husband was not necessary, and that though more than twelve years had elapsed from the date of the deed and the time the widow set up her claim for dower, the claim was not barred by limitation. *AMEER-ODD-NISSA v. 22. ——— Genuineness of kabinamah.—Right to sue without certificate under

Act XXVII of 1860, s. 3.—Prompt and deferred dower.—The appellant, one of the royal family of Oudh, sued his father, the respondent, for Rs50,000 as his share of the dower alleged to have been settled on his mother, the late Oomrao Begum, who left as her heirs her husband (the appellant), her only son, and three daughters, who were made joint defendants. The plaintiff's case was that the dower being unpaid, he, as co-heir, became entitled to three tenths; but, having regard to the circumstances of the husband, he had limited her claim. The respondent disputed the genuineness of the kabinamah and the amount of the alleged dower, pleading that whatever was its amount it had been satisfied during the lifetime of Oomrao Begum. The first Court decreed the suit, but the lower Appellate Court, holding that the defendant had established his plea of satisfaction, reversed the decision. Held that the mehrnamah was a genuine document, and that the dower was of the amount alleged by the plaintiff, subject to modification according to the law and practice in Oudh, but that, as plaintiff had taken out no certificate under Act XXVII of 1860, section 3, the case should be remitted to the Judicial Commissioner to have it ascertained what amount of dower was payable by the respondent to the estate of his deceased wife, and what, after payment of debts, was the share of dower due to each co-sharer. Where it is not expressed whether the payment of the dower is to be prompt or deferred, the rule is to regard the whole as due on demand. Quere,—Where no time for the payment of deferred dower is expressly limited by contract, must it be presumed to be payable on the death of either husband or wife, or only on the death of the husband? BEDAB BUKHT MOHUMMUD ALI v. It is not necessary to constitute dower by Mahomedan law that the dower should be agreed upon before marriage, it may be fixed afterwards. KAMARUNNISSA BIBI v. HUSSAINI BIBI

The widows claimed to have their dower first satisfied. The amount of the dower had not been ascertained. Held that the widows had a lien for their dower on the estate, and the plaintiff was not entitled to recover possession so long as any portion of the dower remained unsatisfied.

Jamee*, 2 N. W., 319,—that where a defendant is found to be in possession of landed property in lieu of dower, and it is held that the plaintiff is not entitled to sue for possession of the property until such claim for dower has been satisfied, it is not necessary to determine the question of the amount of such dower, the matter being one which could be settled properly in a suit for an account of what was due as dower,—was not applicable to a case where the plaintiffs seeking to recover possession did not claim as heirs of the widow's husband, but as heirs of the widow herself, and where the decree for possession passed in their favour would remain undisturbed even if an amount less than that fixed by the lower Appellate Court were found to be what was due as dower. AZIZULLAH KHAN v. According to the Punjab Code (held to be in force in Oudh in the years 1859 and 1860), the dower mentioned in a marriage contract (instead of being enforced as an absolute deed, as claimed by the appellant) was subject to a modification at the discretion of the Court, both in the case of a divorce and on the death of the husband. MULKAH DO ALUM NAWAB TAJDAR BOHOO v. 28. Widow in possession in lieu of dower.—Charge on estate for dower.—Where a Court holds that a defendant is in possession of certain landed property in lieu of dower, and that the plaintiff is not entitled to sue for possession of the property until such claim for dower has been satisfied, it is unnecessary to determine the question of the amount of such dower, plaintiff having pleaded that the dower had been surrendered. A Mahomedan widow is entitled to a lien for whatever dower remains due to her, although there may be a dispute as to what is the amount actually due, having reference to the amount originally filed as dower, or to the amount satisfied by payments. An heir to a share of the estate is not entitled to recover possession from the widow so long as any portion of the dower remains unsatisfied, nor can he be entitled to mesne profits, but his proper course is to bring a suit for an account of what is due as dower, and to pray that in satisfaction of that amount he may be put into possession of his share of the estate. Payment of the widows, like every other debt, must be made before the estate can be distributed amongst the heirs. BALUND KHAN v. JANEE

31. Hypothecation.—Beng. Reg VII of 1832.—The widow's claim for dower under the Mahomedan law is only a debt against the husband's estate. It may be recovered from the heirs to the extent of assets come to their hands. It does not give the widow a lien on any specific property of the deceased husband so as to enable her to follow that property, as in the case of a mortgage, into the hands of a bona fide purchaser for value.

Semble.—Under the Mahomedan law, there is not hypothecation without seisin, but a creditor, whether widow or any other creditor, if in possession of the husband's property with the consent of the debtor or his heirs, might hold over until the debt is paid; and the cases cited to show that the widow had a right to hold until her dower was paid off proceeded on this principle. Per HOBHOUSE, J.—It is very questionable whether the Court is bound to apply the Mahomedan law to this case under the provisions of Regulation VII of 1832, the case not being one of succession, inheritance, marriage, caste, or religious usage; but simply one of contract. *WAHIDUNNISSA v. Should the widow in such a case be deprived of possession by a decree in favour of heirs who take with notice of her claim to dower, and more particularly where her right to sue has been expressly reserved, the heirs take subject to a lien of which the property is not divested by the decree. Held, by the Appellate Bench, that in a case in which a Mahomedan widow had, after many years of possession as above, been compelled to make over one sixth of her estate to her mother-in-law, and then sued her mother-in-law for one sixth of her dower without interest, she was entitled to recover her claim without reduction on account of wasiat. *WOOMATOOL FATIMA BEGUM v. of the High Court as ruled that the effect of an arrangement between the plaintiff and her son, by which the son relinquished his share in his late father's property, was not that the mother took an absolute interest in the property in satisfaction of her claim for unpaid dower, but that she should have only a life-interest, the son retaining the legal reversion in himself, the Privy Council being of opinion that the creation of such a life-estate did not seem to be consistent with Mahomedan usage, and that there ought to be very clear proof (which had not been shown in this case) of a transaction so unusual and so improbable amongst Mahomedans. A widow's claim for unpaid dower, when it does not, by virtue of a bye-mokusa executed by her husband, become a preferential charge on the estate, constitutes a debt payable pari passu with the demands of other creditors. HAMEEDA v. To constitute a valid wukf, there must be a dedication of the property solely to the worship of God or to religious or charitable purposes. Semble,—Appropriations in the nature of a settlement of property on a man and his descendants can only be treated as legitimate appropriations under the designation of wukf where the term "sadukah" is used. 7. ————— Wukf.—Settlement on man and his descendants.—Semble,—To constitute a valid wukf according to Mahomedan law, it is not sufficient that the word "wukf" be used in the instrument of endowment. There must be a dedication of the property solely to the worship of God or to religious and charitable purposes. A Mahomedan cannot, therefore, by using the term "wukf," effect a settlement of property upon himself and his descendants, which will keep such property inalienable by himself and his descendants for ever. Held that the plaintiffs, who were sons of a daughter of one of the original settlers, did not come within the meaning of the term "aulad dar aulad" or the term "warrasan", used in the instrument of settlement ABDUL GANNE KASAM v. 8. ————— Wukf.—Possession, Delivery of.—Grant of endowed property.—To constitute a valid "wukf," or grant made for charitable and religious purposes, it must, according to the doctrine of the Shias, be absolute and unconditional, and possession must be given of the "mowkoof," or thing granted. Where a Mahomedan lady executed a deed conveying her property on trust for religious purposes, reserving to herself for life two thirds of the income derivable from the property, and only making an absolute and unconditional grant of the rest for the purposes of the trust,—Held that, under the Mahomedan law, the deed must be considered invalid with respect to that portion of the income reserved by the grantor to herself for life; but as to the rest, that the deed operated as a good and valid grant. 9. ————— Wukf.—Mutwalli.—Right to sue.—A Mahomedan of the Shafi sect, by a deed of settlement executed in 1838, called a wukfnamah, settled moieties of his estate on his two wives, their daughters, and the descendants of the donees in each line so long as it should subsist, with cross remainders, on the extinction of either line, to the representatives of the other, with final remainders, on the extinction of both, to the heirs of the settlor. The settlor constituted himself the nazir or mutwalli (superintendent or trustee) of the estate during his life, and nominated A. and B. to act as such after his death with the consent of his wives. In 1840 the settlor died; A. died in 1865, B. survived. The wives and daughters of the settlor also died. The representatives of one of the settlor's daughters sued the defendant to recover a part of the estate, which had been sold to him by the Civil Court, as the property of another of the daughters, on the ground that the estate on the death of that daughter passed as wukf to her surviving sister. Held that, supposing the wukf to have been validly created, the right to bring the suit belonged (according to Mahomedan law), not to the heirs or descendants of the settlor, but to the mutwallis (superintendents) jointly. On the death of one of the mutwallis, a successor to him should have been appointed in the first place by the settlor, and, failing him, by his executor, if he had appointed any, otherwise by the Court on the application of the parties beneficially interested in the estate. Quære,—Whether a wukf could be created for the purpose merely of conferring a perpetual and inalienable estate on a particular family without any ultimate express limitation to the use of the poor or some other inextinguishable class of beneficiaries. 11. ————— Wukf.—Provisions for payment of debts and maintenance—Minor plaintiff—Guardian—A Mahomedan created a wukf of all his property, and appointed his minor grandson mutwali, providing that during the minority the property should be managed by the minor's father. The deed contained a provision that, in the first place, certain debts should be paid, and then provided that the property should be applied towards the religious uses created and the maintenance of of the settlor's grandsons and then male issue. In execution of a decree against the minor's father, the endowed property was attached and sold. In a suit by the minor through his sister, as guardian, to recover possession of the property, in which suit the sister was not made guardian ad litem by an order of Court, but was allowed to sue by the District Judge, —Held that the suit was maintainable as framed. Held, also, that notwithstanding the provisions for payment of debts and maintenance, the wukf was valid. *LUCHMIPUT SINGH v. 12. ————— Grant to grantees and their aulad va ahfad.—Meaning of the word "ahfad."—Wukf—Tavlyat and sajjadanashin, Right of females to hold the offices of.—A certain village was granted by the Mogul Government in inam to two persons and their "aulad va ahfad" for the maintenance of a durga (mausoleum) of a pfr (saint). The plaintiff and the defendant were the descendants of the original grantees. In 1878 the plaintiff sued the defendant for the recovery of the profits of a one-fourth share in the inam, claiming to be entitled thereto through his mother and grandmother, who was a daughter of the son of the great-grandson of one of the two original grantees. It was contended (inter alia) for the defendant that the expression "aulad va ahfad" used in the grant would include only the lineal male descendants, and not the plaintiff, who claimed through females, who were incapable of performing the spiritual offices connected with the mausoleum. The Court of first instance dismissed the plaintiff's claim. He appealed, and the lower Appellate Court allowed his claim to the extent of one-eighth share. On appeal by the defendant to the High Court, —Held, confirming the decision of the lower Appellate Court, that the plaintiff was entitled to share both in the offices of the durga and the endowment. The term "ahfad," being a term of the largest and most general signification, includes the descendants of females as well as of males. The primary object of the grant was to provide for the tavlyat and the office of sajjadanashin of the mausoleum of the saint, and with that view to supply the means for the maintenance of the persons who should perform the offices, as well as for the ordinary expenses of keeping up the mausoleum. A female could not be the sajjadanashin, whose duties were of a strictly spiritual nature requiring peculiar personal qualifications so as to exclude female descendants from participating in the endowment; but it would not follow that males, who established their descent from the propositus through females, should be excluded. Had the intention of the grant in the present case been to limit the class of descendants exclusively to persons claiming through males, the expression "aulad dar aulad" would have been used, instead of the general expression "aulad va ahfad." Hussain Beebee v. Hussain Sherif, 4 Mad., 23, and Mujavar Ibrahim v. Mujavar Hussain Sherif, I. L. R., 3 Mad., 95, distinguished. KARIMODIN v. ALAM-KHAN . . . I. L. R., 10 Bom., 119

13. ————— Wukf, Essentials of—Increase in value of wukf properties how appropriated—Where by a sanad a gift was made of the then income of certain villages with a specification that one third of it was for the defrayal of the expenses of the servants of a mosque, and fursh and light, &c, one third for the expenses of a madrasa, and the remaining one third for the maintenance allowance of the mutwali, —Held that the gift complied with the four essential conditions necessary to create a valid wukf according to Mahomedan law. Held also that, in the absence of any express direction as to what was to be done with any surplus profits of the dedicated property, the reasonable presumption is that the improved value of the dedicated property, or any excess of profit over and above the amount stated in the sanad, was intended by the grantor to be devoted to the same purpose for which the amount, which was the actual value of the property at the time of the gift, was expressly assigned. *JUGATMONI CHOWDRANI v. 14. ————— Wukf.—Descent per stirpes.—Grant in inam to grantee and children without restriction as to names—Direction to pray for perpetuity of Government—A sanad of the Emperor Shah Jehan, dated A. D. 1651-52, granted in inam to one Sayad Hasan the village of Dharoda and certain lands of another village in these terms: "Let the whole village above mentioned, as well as the above-mentioned land, be hereby settled and conferred as above, manifestly and knowingly as a help for the means of subsistence for the children of the above mentioned Sayad Hasan without restriction as to names, in order that, using the income thereof from season to season and from year to year for their own maintenance, they may engage themselves in praying for the perpetuity of this ever-enduring Government." Held that this grant did not constitute wukf, or a religious endowment, making the village descendible to the issue of the donee per stirpes (that is, allowing representation) rather than according to the ordinary Mahomedan law; and the direction that the donee and his issue were to pray for the perpetuity of the then existing Government meant no more than an inculcation of gratitude for the gift, and that neither neglect to fulfil the direction nor the downfall of the Government would work a forfeiture or avoidance of the grant. Although a wazifa grant may be a religious endowment, such is neither necessarily nor even generally its nature. Hence the use of the term "mauzif" (alias "wazif")

15. ————— Wukf—Power of revocation—Reservation of rents and profits to donor for life—Ultimate dedication of property to charity with intervening private interests.—Rule against perpetuities how far applicable in a colony subject to English law.—Charities, What are.—Trust for maintenance of idol, for benefit of poor, for building tanks.—Dedication by minor.—Subsequent ratification—Estoppel—A wukf must be certain as to the property appropriated, unconditional, and not subject to an option. It must have a final object which cannot fail, and this object must be expressly set forth. When a wukf is created, the reservation in the deed of settlement of the annual profits of the property to the donor for life does not invalidate the deed. If, however, there is a provision for the sale of the corpus of the property and an appropriation of the proceeds to the donor, the settlement is invalid. If the condition of an ultimate dedication to a pious and unfailing purpose be satisfied, a wukf is not rendered invalid by an intermediate settlement on the founder's children and their descendants. The benefits these successively take may constitute a perpetuity in the sense of the English law; but according to the Mahomedan law, that does not vitiate the settlement, provided the ultimate charitable object be clearly designated. The rule against perpetuities extends to a colony in which English law is enforced only so far as it is adapted to the circumstances of the community. The case of "charities useful and beneficial" to the community is an exception to this rule. It is for the Courts to pronounce whether any particular object of bounty falls within this class. In order to decide this question, they must, in general, apply the standard of customary law and common opinion amongst the community to which the parties interested belong. Objects which the English law would possibly regard as superstitious uses are allowable and commendable according to Mahomedan law. A trust for the benefit of the poor, for aiding pilgrimages and marriages, and for the support of wells and temples, is a charity amongst Mahomedans. The law and opinion of Mahomedans regard such a trust as a charity; and granting there is a charity, the objection to a perpetuity fails according to the principles of the English law. Where the proposed object of the endowment is one which is directly contrary to the public law of the State, the above rule does not apply. By an indenture of voluntary settlement, dated 16th March 1866, F., a Mahomedan girl of the age of fourteen, conveyed certain immoveable property in the Island of Bombay to trustees upon trust—(1) During her lifetime to pay the rents and profits to her for her sole and separate use without power of anticipation. (2) After her death to pay the rents and profits to her children and descendants as she might by deed or will appoint. In default of appointment the trustees were to pay life-allowances to such descendants at their discretion. The rents and profits only were to be thus distributed among such descendants for ever, the corpus of the property being kept intact. (3) In case there should be no such descendants, or in the event of failure of such descendants, the rents and profits were to be expended on charitable purposes, such as expenses of poor pilgrims going to Mecca, building mosques, funeral and marriage expenses of poor people, sinking wells or tanks, or in such other manner as the trustees should think fit. Shortly after the execution of the settlement, the trustees took possession of the property, and for fifteen years continued to pay the rents and profits to the settlor. The settlor was married in 1866 to H., and there was issue of the marriage only one son, who died in 1872, an infant under the age of five years. H. died in 1872, and the settlor remained a widow. In 1881 she became desirous of revoking the above settlement, and under section 527 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act X of 1877) she stated a case for the opinion of the Court, contending that she could lawfully revoke the trusts declared by the said indenture, that, if she could not revoke, then that the trust therein declared in favour of charity was void for remoteness; and generally that she was, under the circumstances, entitled to have the property reconveyed to her by the surviving trustee. Held that the settlement was irrevocable. The dedication having been once made could not be recalled. The interposed private interests, which might or might not endure, did not avoid the ultimate charitable trust. According to Mahomedan law the latter gave effect to the former. Should the intermediate purposes of the dedication fail, the final trust for charity did not fail with them. It was but accelerated, being itself regarded as the principal object in virtue of which effect was given to the intervening disposition. Charitable grants being thus tenderly regarded, it would be inconsistent that a power of revocation should be recognised in the grantor. Held, also, that although the dedication by a girl of fourteen was not to be upheld without inquiry, yet the transaction never having been questioned by her husband during his life, and she having for fifteen years confirmed her own act by a continued acceptance of the profits of the estate from the trustees, could not with reason contend that the dedication was invalid on account either of its ceremonial defects or of a want of an accompanying volition. *FATMABIBI v. appointment by her late husband during his lifetime was unauthorised, yet, as alienation in such a case would mean alienation of the subject of the endowment rather than its transfer to plaintiff, whose possession was not an adverse possession, plaintiff's possession did not defeat the purposes of the original appropriator, and could not be regarded as an alienation, and that in these circumstances, even though the property were wukf, there could be no defect in plaintiff's title. An appropriator of land to special purposes can, under Mahomedan law, confer the office of superintendent on another at any time. 28. — Suffada-nasheen, Descent of office of—

Female's right of—Under the Mahomedan law, offices like that of suffada-nasheen should descend to persons in the male line, and those who are descended from females are regarded as not belonging to the family of the founder, but strangers. Where such an office has been once diverted for sufficient cause (e.g., default of male issue) from a particular line of descent, it is liable to be brought back into the line of a previous holder when the person claiming under that holder is a descendant in the female line. AHMUD HOSSEIN v. MOHEERODDEEN AHMUD . . . 16 W. R., 193

29. — Temporal and spiritual affairs.—

Performance of duties by female.—According to Mahomedan law, a woman may manage the temporal affairs of a mosque, but not the spiritual affairs connected with it, the management of the latter requiring peculiar personal qualifications. HUSSAIN BIBEE v. HUSSAIN SHERIFF . . . 4 Mad., 23

30. — Wukf or endowed property.—

Office of mutwalli, Nature of.—Transfer of, or performance of duties of, by agent.—The office of mutwalli is a trust which a woman, equally with a man, is capable of undertaking, but it is a personal trust, and the office may not be transferred, nor the endowed property conveyed, to any person whom the acting mutwalla may select. The word "deputy," in book 9, chapter V, page 591 of Baillie's Mahomedan Law, signifies some one who, as an agent, may be employed to perform the duties of the office, as to collect rents and to assist the mutwalli in expending the proceeds of the endowed property for charitable purposes. WAHID ALI v. ASHRUFF HOSSAIN

A woman is not competent to perform the duties of mutwalli of a dimga which are not of a secular nature. MUJAVAR IBRAMBIBI v. MUJAVAR HUSSAIN SHERIFF

[I. L. R., 3 Mad., 95]

32. — Alienation of endowed property.—

Wukf.—Limitation.—According to Mahomedan law, wukf or endowed property is alienable. Wukf property is not the less wukf property because of the use of the words "inam" and "altaghna" in the grant, provided the grant clearly appears to have been intended for charitable purposes. A mutwalli, or superintendent of an endowment, is not barred by limitation if he sues to recover possession of endowed property within twelve years from the date of his appointment. JEWUN DOSS SAHOO v. KUBERROODDEEN . 6 W. R., P. C., 3; 2 Moore's I. A., 390

33. — Alienation by mutwalli.—

In dealing with the mutwalli of an endowment, it is not necessary for the purchaser to look further than to the power of the mutwalli under his deed of trust. If the deed gives the mutwalli the power and discretion to make a sale, it is not a matter of concern to the purchaser whether that power or discretion is judiciously exercised or not. GOLAM ALI v. SOWLUTOOSNISSA BIBEE

[W. R., 1864, 242]

34. — Grant of mirasi lease.—

According to Mahomedan law, the trustees of an endowment cannot create a valid mirasi tenure at a fixed rent by granting a lease of any portion of the wukf property. SOOJAT ALI v. ZUMERROODDEEN

[5 W. R., 158]

35. — Alienation of land devoted in part to religious purposes.—

Where the whole of the profits of land are not devoted to religious purposes, but the land is a heritable property burdened with a trust,—e.g., the keeping up of a saint's tomb,—it may be alienated subject to the trust. FULTOO BIBEE v. BHUBHUT LALL BHUKUT

[10 W. R., 299]

36. — Liability of wukf property in hands of widow to decree against husband.—

Where property is endowed (made wukf) by the proprietor, and as such devolves to his widow as trustee (mutwalli), it cannot be sold in satisfaction of a claim against him. FEGBEDO v. MAHOMED MUDESSUB . . . 15 W. R., 75

37. ——— Mortgage.—The fact that a mortgage is in existence over property at the time when it is set apart as an endowment, does not invalidate the endowment under Mahomedan law. It is an endowment subject to a mortgage. If after a mortgage the mortgagor endows the land and dies leaving sufficient assets, his heirs are bound to apply those assets to the redemption of the mortgage, so that the endowment may take effect freed from the mortgage by the application of other assets of the endower. But, if necessary, the mortgagee may enforce the mortgage by sale of the land, and the endowment will be rendered void as against the purchaser under the mortgage, but not as against the heirs of the endower, as against the latter, the surplus sale proceeds will be subject to the endowment. HAJRA BEGUM v. KHAJA HOSSEIN ALI KHAN

38. ——— Waste committed by mutwalli.—Liability to account.—Where a mutwalli was proved to have been guilty of waste, the High Court ordered him to file in Court every six months a true and complete account of his income, expenditure, and dealings with the property belonging to the endowment. IMDAD HOSSEIN v. MAHOMED ALI KHAN 23 W. R., 150

39. ——— Removal of manager.—Misconduct.—If a superintendent of an endowment misconducts himself, the Mahomedan law admits of his removal, and this is sufficient to protect the objects for which the trust was created. HIDAIT-DOON-NISSA v. AFZUL HOSSEIN 2 N. W., 420

40. ——— Mismanagement.—Power of donor.—The rule of Mahomedan law that a mutwalli, or superintendent of an endowment, is removable for mismanagement, does not apply to the case of a trustee who has a hereditary proprietary right vested in him. It is essential, for the exercise by the donor of the power of removing a superintendent, that such power be specially reserved at the time of the endowment. GULAM HUSSAIN SAIB v. AJI AJAM TADALLAH SAIB. AJI AJAM TADALLAH SAIB v. GULAM HUSSAIN SAIB 4 Mad., 44

41. ——— Misconduct.—Where the plaintiff sued to recover certain property as wukf, on the ground that the mutwalli and his ancestor (a former mutwalli) had misconducted themselves by selling to some of the defendants the property which was the subject of the endowment,—Held that as plaintiff had shown no title, either as heir or otherwise, to partake of the benefit of the endowment, he had no right to recover possession, and that the utmost he could ask for was to have the mutwalli who had misconducted himself removed, and a new mutwalli appointed, provided he showed circumstances which, according to law, would justify the Court in selecting a mutwalli. BEURBUCK CHUNDRA SAHOO v. 42. ——— Removal of officer for disobedience.—Cause of action—Trust.—In a suit by the superintendent of a Mahomedan religious establishment to eject defendant (M) from the office of takheadar and from certain lands thereto appertaining, on the ground that he had by the authority vested in him already discharged M. from employment in consequence of disobedience, the alleged cause of action being an order passed by the Civil Court decreeing to the defendant a quantity of land belonging to the establishment, notwithstanding the superintendent's objection that M. was no longer takheadar,—Held that the plaintiff's cause of action was correctly stated, for it was by the order in question that his nominee was put aside, and the defendant declared to have a right to the land as takheadar; and that the defendant's claiming to hold independently of the superintendent was an act of the gravest disobedience warranting the plaintiff's interference and the exercise of his authority. Held, too, that the suit was not barred by limitation, as the defendant held his office subject to the general control and authority of the superintendent, both parties executing the same trust. MEHEE ALI v. 1. LAW APPLICABLE TO—

1. ——— Law of equity and good conscience.—Cases of inheritance, marriage, and caste.—The application to Mahomedans of their own laws in cases other than those coming under the denomination of inheritance, marriage, and caste (e.g., in case of gifts), is the administering of justice according to equity and good conscience. ZOHROODDEEN SIRDAR v. 2. ——— Questions as to gift arising in suits.—Bengal Civil Courts Act, VI of 1871, s 24.—Under section 24 of Act VI of 1871, Mahomedan law is not strictly applicable to questions relating to gift arising in suits, but it is equitable as between Mahomedans to apply that law to such questions. SHUMSHOOLNISSA v. 3. ——— Donee from Mahomedan widow.—Title.—Held that a donee holding from a Mahomedan widow does not acquire a better title to the property than the donor herself had. MAHOMED NOOR KHAN v. HUB DYAL 1 Agra, 67

4. ——— Gift for consideration.—Revocable grant.—Construction of instrument of gift.—One of two brothers, co shareis in ancestral lands, died leaving a widow, who thereupon became entitled to one fourth of her husband's share of the family inheritance. Without relinquishing her right to claim her share, in lieu thereof she received an allowance of cash and grain. The surviving brother made an arrangement with her which was carried into effect by documents. By one instrument he granted two villages to her. By another she accepted the gift, giving up her claim to any part of the ancestral estate of her husband. The first instrument, inter alia, stated as follows "I declare and record that the aforesaid sister-in-law may manage the said villages for herself and apply their income to meet her necessary expenses and to pay the Government revenue." Held that these words did not cut down previous words of gift to what in the Mahomedan law is called an arat, and that the transaction was neither a mere grant of a license to the widow to take the profits of the land revocable by the donor, nor a grant of an estate only for the life of the widow. It was a hiba-bil-waz, or gift for consideration, granting the villages absolutely. MAHOMED FAIZ AHMED KHAN v. GHULAM AHMED KHAN

I. R., 8 I. A., 25]

5. ——— Transfer of absolute estate.—Condition—Sunnis law—Shi'ah law—The owner of a house made a gift thereof to certain persons "for their residence, and that of their heirs, generation after generation," declaring that if the donees sold or mortgaged the house, he and his heirs should have a claim to the house, but not otherwise. Held that under Mahomedan law, whether that by which the Shi'ahs or that by which the Sunnis were governed, the house passed by the gift to the donees absolutely, the declaration by the donor as to the effect of an alienation by the donees being in the nature of a recommendation, and not having the effect of limiting the estate in the house itself. NASIR HUSAIN v. SUGHA BEGUM

I. L. R., 5 All., 505

6. ——— Deed of gift.—Will—Validity of declaration of title.—Held that a document to the following effect was a deed of gift and not a will: "I have no children. Therefore my own brother, Mir Hemdoola alias Chotay Saheb, in his lifetime placed in my lap his infant son, Mir Ruhulla, of his own free will and accord. From that day, having taken the said Mir Saheb into my family, I adopted him as my son. Consequently he is being brought up entirely by me, and he alone is also my heir. And I have appointed him the owner of all by goods and property . . . I have made over the same to the possession of the said Mir Saheb. . . . I have a share in the goods and property of my husband, Mir Afzaloodin Khan Saheb, the Nawab of Surat. The owner thereof also is the same Mir Saheb. Therefore in my lifetime should this property come into my hands, I will also deliver the same into the possession of the said Mir Saheb.

Because the said Mir Saheb being the heir of all my goods and property, I have constituted him the possessor thereof by virtue of ownership. He is therefore the owner. And after me, should this property be divided, then the said Mir Saheb is the owner and absolutely entitled to receive my portion by the aforesaid right, by the right of ownership of my share, from the Court of His Honour the Agent. No one shall oppose him." Held, further, that even if the direction in the above document as to making the grantee of the document the owner of the grantor's share in her husband's property be regarded as a declaration of title, such declaration had, according to Mahomedan law, no validity to create a proprietary right in the said share after the grantor's death. KAYARBAI v. ALAM KHAN

[I. L. R., 7 Bom., 170]

3. VALIDITY.

7. ——— Deed of sale.—Joint gift.—Without discrimination of shares.—Where a conveyance between Mahomedans, though in form a deed of sale, is in reality a gift, its validity should be tested by the rules of law applicable to gifts, and not by those applicable to deeds of sale. In determining whether a transaction is one of sale or gift, the intention of the parties, rather than the form of the instrument used, should be considered. A deed of gift, in English form, of a house to three persons as joint tenants (without discrimination of shares) is good according to Mahomedan law, as it shows an intention on the part of the donor to give the property in the whole house to each of the donees. A gift by a Mahomedan in Bombay which contravenes the principles of English Courts of Equity with regard to gifts to persons standing in a fiduciary relation to the donors will not be upheld. RAJABAI v. ISMAEL AHMED

7 Bom., O. C., 27

8. ——— Deed of gift altering succession of property by law.—Intention of parties.—Where a Mahomedan transferred certain property (Company's paper) to his son, reserving the interest to himself for life, the object of the disposition being to give the son a larger share of the father's property than would come to him by succession ab intestato,—Held that the transaction could not be impeached on moral grounds, as a design to alter the disposition of property so as to defeat a succession by an alienation, which the law allows, is simply a design to conform to the law while working out an unforbidden object. Held, also, that the intention of the parties did not violate any provision of the Hedaya, and the transfer was complete and the gift valid. UMJAD ALLY KHAN v. MOHUMDEE BEGUM

[10 W. R., P. C., 25: 11 Moore's I. A., 517]

9. ——— Hiba-bil-iwaz.—Effect of, upon heirs.—A hiba-bil-iwaz differs from an out-and-out sale as well as from a gift, while it partakes of the character of both, and, if supported by sufficient consideration, is binding under the Mahomedan law upon the heirs of the party executing such deed SOLAH BIBEE v. KEERUN BIBEE . . . 16 W. R., 175

10. ——— Condition of good behaviour.—A gift is not necessarily hiba bil-iwaz by an allusion in the deed to the good behaviour of the donee, and his supplying a certain amount to the donor to enable the latter to do some act in respect of the property. USSUD ALI KHAN v. OLFUT BIBEE [3 Agra, 237

11. ——— Alienation by Mahomedan lady.—Consent of children.—A Mahomedan lady can sell or give away her property as she pleases. When a mother makes a gift to her children, and one of them seeks to set it aside as fraudulent, so far as it affects the plaintiff's right of inheritance, so long as the mother is alive and admits the execution of the deed of gift, the plaintiff is not in a position to disturb it, and it is quite immaterial in such a case whether the plaintiff's consent was or was not given. MAHOMED ZUHEERUL HUQ v. BUTOOLUN [1 W. R., 79

12. ——— Gift on death-bed—Will.—A Mahomedan widow, or any other woman, holding property in her own right, may give it away to whomsoever she pleases, unless she delays the gift till upon her death-bed, when such a gift would be looked upon as a will, and be inoperative beyond a certain limit. LUTERFOONISSA BIBEE v. RAJAOR RUHMAN . . . 8 W. R., 84

13. ——— Delivery of possession.—Possession with mortgagee—Sale—Minors.—A Mahomedan lady executed a deed of gift in favour of the plaintiff, who was at the date of its execution a minor, of certain lands (including the land in dispute) of which she professed to have obtained possession under a decree against her coparceners. The plaintiff, on the strength of the deed of gift, sued for a declaration of his right to the land, alleging that the donor had actually recovered possession in execution of her decree. The original and appellate Courts found that the defendant was, at the date of the deed of gift, in actual possession under a mortgage executed by the donor's coparceners, and that she had failed, in executing her decree, to eject the defendant Held (KEMBALL, J., dissentiente) that at the date of the deed of gift the donor was simply the owner of property which was in possession of a mortgagee, and could not, under Mahomedan law, make a gift of it, although she could sell the same. See Adam Khan v. Alarakhi, 1 L. R., 6 Bom., 645. When the donee is a minor, possession may be had by a trustee on his behalf. MOHINUDIN v. MANCHERSHAH . . . 1 L. R., 6 Bom., 650

14. ——— Gift of share before partition.—Co-sharers.—According to the Mahomedan law, one of two sharers can give over his share to the other even before partition. AMEENA BIBEE v. ZEIFA BIBEE . . . 3 W. R., 37

MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT—continued.3. VALIDITY—continued.*15. ——— Gift of undivided property.

—Musha, or confusion.—Change of possession.—Where there is, on the part of a father or other guardian of a minor, a real and bona fide intention to make a gift to the minor, the Mahomedan law will be satisfied without actual change of possession, and will presume the subsequent holding of the property by the father or guardian to be on behalf of the minor. Where the subjects of a gift are definite shares in certain zemindaris, the nature of the right in which is defined and regulated by the public Acts of the British Government, so that they form for revenue purposes distinct estates, each having a separate number in the Collector's books, and each liable to the Government only for its own assessed revenue, the proprietor collecting a definite share of the rents from the ryots, and having a right to this definite share and no more, the rule of the Mahomedan law as to musha, which makes the gift of undivided property invalid, does not apply. Quere.—Whether the law relating to musha applies to those cases in which the owner gives all his own interest in undivided property. AMEEROONISSA KHATOON v. ABADOONISSA KHATOON . 15 B. L. R., 67. 23 W. R., 208 [L. R., 2 I. A., 87

16. ——— Gift of property not in possession.

—Gift of zemindaris let out on lease, and malikana rights.—Musha as applied to gifts of unpartitioned and undivided lands.—The rule of Mahomedan law that no gift can be valid unless the subject of it is in the possession of the donor at the time when the gift is made, has relation, so far as it relates to land, to cases where the donor professes to give away the possessory interest in the land itself, and not merely a reversionary right in it. What is usually called possession in this country is not only actual or khas possession, but includes the receipt of the rents and profits. There is nothing in Mahomedan law to make the gift of a zemindari, a part or the whole of which is let out on lease to tenants, invalid. Nor is there any principle by which to distinguish malikana rights from the right to receive rents or dividends upon Government securities, and gifts of such a nature may be legally conferred under the Mahomedan law. The doctrines of Mahomedan law which lay down that a gift of an undivided share in property is invalid because of musha or confusion on the part of the donor, and that a gift of property to two donees without first separating or dividing their shares is bad because of musha on the part of the donees, apply only to those subjects of gift which are capable of partition. *MULLICK ABDOL GUFFOOR v. 18. ——— Gift in lieu of dower.—Indefiniteness—In a suit upon a hubbanama alleged to have been executed by the husband of the plaintiff, giving her twenty-two shares in a village as a gift in lieu of dower, the Civil Judge dismissed the suit upon the ground that the omission of the amount of the dower rendered the instrument of no validity according to Mahomedan law. Held (reversing the decree of the Civil Judge) that the suit was maintainable, the instrument expressing plainly the specific shares of the property, and the gift was made in lieu of the whole dower, and there being no room for doubt as to the meaning and intention of the contracting parties in regard to the particular subjects either of the gift or of the consideration. SAHIBA BEGUM v. ATCHAMMA 4 Mad., 115

19. ——— Gift without defining respective shares of donees.—Act VI of 1871, s 24.—Law of justice, equity, and good conscience.—A deed of gift of his estate, executed by a person of somewhat weak mind, in favour of two of his sons, one an adult and the other a minor, without division or detail of their respective shares, whereby a younger son and several daughters were excluded from inheritance, was set aside by the Court under the general rule of Mahomedan law, that anything which is capable of division, when given to two persons, should be divided by the donor at the time of the gift, or immediately subsequent thereto and prior to the delivery to the donees, and the special rule that a gift of undivided property is absolutely invalid where one of the donees is a minor son, justice, equity, and good conscience not requiring, under the circumstances of the case, that the deed should be maintained. K. devised a certain estate to his son Z., but directed that the devise should only take effect on his death in respect of a portion of the property which was rent-free land, and that, with regard to the remainder, his son A. should hold possession for the purpose of collecting and paying the Government revenue due on both portions without rendition of accounts, until such time as Z. should have a son competent to manage land paying revenue. Z. executed a deed of gift of his estate. He never came into possession of the second portion of the property. Held, with reference to the question whether the donor had fulfilled the requirements of Mahomedan law by putting the donees into immediate possession, that the deed, having operated in respect of the first portion of the property which Z. had become possessed of under the will, operated in respect of the second. *NIZAM-UD-DIN v. 22. ——— Gift of defined share of property.—Possession—Hanifia Code—Imania Code—A Mahomedan bequeathed his property to his two nephews, Gulam Rasul and Gulam Ali, as joint tenants. Gulam Ali died, leaving a widow and a daughter, who continued to be joint tenants with Gulam Rasul, but the latter continued in exclusive possession of the property, subject to any claim which they might establish to a share in, or a charge upon, it. Gulam Rasul, by a written instrument, made a gift of that property to his younger son, the father of the defendants, disinheriting his elder son, the plaintiff. Held that the gift was valid, and that the doctrine of the Hanifia, though not of the Imania, Code, that the gift of a share in undivided property, which admits of partition, is certainly invalid, or, at least, forbidden, has no application to the gift of property so circumstanced. *GULAM JAFAR v. 23. ——— Reservation of income.—Condition against alienation.—Undivided property.—Indivisible property.—B. owned a one-twelfth share of a muafi estate and a dwelling-house. As owner of the dwelling-house, she owned a share in a staircase, privy, and door, which were held by her jointly with the owners of adjoining dwelling-houses. She made a gift of her property, transferring the dominion over it to the donees, but reserving the income of the share of the muafi estate for life, and stipulating against its alienation. Held that the gift of the one-twelfth share of the muafi estate, being a gift of a specific share, was not open to objection under Mahomedan law, and such gift was not vitiated by the mere reservation of the income of the share, or by the condition against alienation. Held, also, that the gift was not invalid under Mahomedan law, so far as it related to the staircase, privy, and door, as those things, though undivided property, were incapable of division, and a gift of part of an indivisible thing was valid under that law. *KASIM HUSSEIN v. for consideration. A conveyance by deed of gift without consideration is invalid, unless accompanied by delivery of the thing given, so far as it admits of delivery. In the case of a gift for consideration, the delivery of possession is not necessary for its validity, and no question arises as to the adequacy of the consideration, but there must be an actual payment of the consideration by the donee, and a bond fide intention on the part of the donor to divest himself in presenti of the property, and to confer it on the donee. It is incumbent on those who set up transactions of this nature to show very clearly that the forms of the Mahomedan law, whereby its policy is defeated, have been strictly complied with. *KHAJOORONISSA v. 32. — Gift in futuro.—Under the Mahomedan law a gift is not valid unless it is accompanied by possession, nor can it be made to take effect at any future definite period. A document containing the words, "I have executed an ikar to this effect, that, so long as I live, I shall enjoy and possess the properties, and that I shall not sell or make gift to any one, but, after my death, you will be the owner, and also have a right to sell or to make a gift after my death,"—Held to be an ordinary gift of property "in futuro," and as such invalid under Mahomedan law. *YUSUF ALI v. 33. — Delivery.—Donee in physical possession prior to gift.—Formal delivery, entry, or departure.—Manifest intention of donor to transfer.—For the purposes of completing a gift of immoveable property by delivery and possession, no formal entry or actual physical departure is necessary; it is sufficient if the donor and donee are present on the premises, and an intention on the part of the donor to transfer has been unequivocally manifested. *IBRAHIM v. 36. ————— Seisin—Surrender and delivery to donee—The plaintiff's deceased sister in her lifetime was the owner of three and a half undivided shares in a village, which she mortgaged in 1846, upon the terms that the mortgagee should be put into possession, and that he should credit the produce of two shares on account of the mortgage-debt, and should pay the mortgagee one share and a half for her maintenance. Subsequently, in 1853, she made an absolute gift in writing of three of the shares to the fourth defendant and his mother. The produce of the shares was applied during the lifetime of the donor after the gift just as it had been before the gift. Held that there was no such surrender and delivery of the property to the donee as is requisite to make a valid gift according to Mahomedan law. KHADER HUSSAIN v. 37. ————— Absence of relinquishment by donor or seisin by donee—A deed by a Mahomedan, in which he declared, "I have adopted A. 38. ————— "Tamlik," or assignment of ownership—"Tamlik," or assignment of ownership, is a term of general import applying to the various modes of acquisition of property recognised by Mahomedan law, but forms no separate and distinct mode of acquiring property. When applied to gift it does not avoid the legal requirements of acceptance and seisin. An instrument called a "tamliknama" purported to give S., in consideration of her devotion and affection to the executant, the executant's property, and provided that the executant should during her life enjoy the income from the property; that at her death S. should have the proprietary possession and enjoyment of the property, just like the executant, that the executant should effect mutation of names in respect of the property in S.'s favour; that the property should not belong to any other person but S.; and that any transfer by the executant to any other person should be void. After giving S. the power to transfer the property by sale, mortgage, gift, "tamlik," &c., it proceeded in manner following: "But S., or her transferee, shall get possession of the said share only after my death. On my death S. and her heirs shall become the owners of this share." The deed could only have validity as a

39. ————— Seisin and acceptance of possession.—Residence and receipt of rent by donor—A Mahomedan husband executed a "hibba," or deed of gift, without consideration, in favour of his wife, comprising a house in which they were residing at the time, with its furniture, and two other houses. He at the same time delivered the hibba and the keys of the houses to his wife, and quitted the house of residence, leaving her in possession of the same. Held that the requirements of the Mahomedan law, with regard to gifts without consideration, viz., acceptance and seisin on the part of the donee, and relinquishment on the part of the donor,—had been complied with, though the husband shortly afterwards returned to the house, resided there with his wife till his death, and received the rents of other parts of the property comprised in the hibba. The continued occupation or residence and receipt of rents were in such circumstances to be referred to the character which the donor bears of husband, and to the rights and duties connected with that character. AMINA BIBI v. 40. ————— Gift by husband to wife.—Delivery of possession.—Gift, Validity of, as against creditor, or subsequent bona fide purchasers—Plaintiff, the nicka wife of the late Nawab of the Carnatic, sued for a declaration of her absolute title to certain premises (Nos 1, 2, 3, and 4), for possession of certain other premises (Nos 5 and 6), for delivery to her by defendant of the title-deeds of all the premises except No 1, and for cancellation and delivery up of a sheriff's bill of sale of No 1 in favour of T. A., of a mortgage of Nos 2, 5, and 6 to R & Co., of a mortgage of No 4 to A. A., and of all assignments by T. A. R & Co., or A. A., to defendant. She claimed this relief under an alleged gift to her by the late Nawab on or about the 6th January 1851. Defendant said (and it was so found) as to 2, 5, and 6, that he had never had anything to do with the said premises or with the title deeds thereof. As to the other premises, that the several assignments in his possession were made to him as receiver of the Carnatic property, under Act XXX of 1858, but that he had not obtained possession of the said premises nor of any of the title-deeds thereof, except the sheriff's bill of sale of the 29th November 1855. Issues were settled raising the following questions: Whether the gift was made as alleged? Whether, if so, it was valid against creditors of, or subsequent purchasers for valuable consideration from, the donor? Whether the gift was revocable, and revoked? Whether defendant has, or ever had, possession of all or any of the title deeds of Nos 2, 5, and 6? Held that a complete gift had been made and not revoked that it was valid against the creditors of the donor, and also (as the donor and donee were both Mahomedans) against subsequent purchasers for valuable consideration from the donor but that defendant had never had possession of the title-deeds of Nos 2, 5, and 6, so that the suit could not be maintained as regards them. Under Mahomedan law, "in the instance of a wife who may give a house to her husband the gift will be good, although she continue to occupy it along with her husband and keep all her property therein, because the wife and her property are both in the legal possession of the husband. So also it has been held by some that if a father transfer his house to his minor son, himself continuing to occupy it and to keep his property therein, the gift is valid, on the principle that the father in retaining possession is acting as agent for his son, according to which doctrine his possession is equivalent to that of his son." Reason requires that the same principle should be applied to the case of a gift by husband to wife. The wife may, according to Mahomedan law, hold property independent of her husband, and as a husband may make a valid gift to his wife, it can only be necessary that the gift should be accompanied with such a change of possession as the subject is capable of, and as is consistent with the continuance of the relation of husband and wife. AZIMUNNISSA BEGUM v DALE [8 Mad., 455]

42. ———— Gift by father to minor son.—According to Mahomedan law, no formal delivery and seisin are necessary to the validity of a gift of property by a father to a minor son. Where a son has divested himself in favour of his father of all interest in property which had been given to him by his parents, before any legal effect can be given to such a transfer, the clearest proof is necessary of good faith and joint dealing between the parties, and also that the father's influence was not unduly exercised for his own advantage. *WAJEED ALI v. 44. ———— Death-bed gift.—Donatio mortis causa.—Deed of gift.—According to the Mahomedan law, in order to make a gift operate as a donatio mortis causa, the delivery must be upon the condition that it should become effectual as a gift on the death of the donor. Where, therefore, it was found that a deed of gift was executed in the last illness of the donor, and was in the possession of the donee after her death,—Held that this was not enough to make it operate as a donatio mortis causa, but that it was necessary to find the further fact whether the deed was delivered by the donor before her death, and whether such delivery was in contemplation of death,

50. ———— Gift by person labouring under disease.—Under the Mahomedan law the term "murg-ul-maut" is applicable not only to diseases which actually cause death, but to diseases from which it is probable that death will ensue, so as to engender in the person afflicted with the disease an apprehension of death. Under the same law a person labouring under such a disease cannot make a valid gift of the whole of his property until a year has elapsed from the time he was first attacked by it. When a gift is made by a person labouring under such a disease, it is good to the extent of one third of the subject of the gift, if the donee has been put into possession by the donor. *LABBI BEEBEE v. 54. — Power of revocation.—Irrevocable gift—Delivery of possession—In a suit for arrears of rent due on defendant's putnee talook, though the rate was admitted, it was pleaded that, in consequence of a dacoity having taken place in the defendant's house, she had been allowed by the plaintiff (her brother-in-law) a remission of rent annually for a certain number of years, and defendant professed her readiness to pay if the remission were allowed Plaintiff's agreement set forth that, in consequence of defendant's house having been plundered, she was entitled to assistance to enable her to replace what she had lost, and that the rajah (zemindar) not being able to make good the amount at once took this method of assisting his connexion. Held that the gift (or remission of rent for the years in suit) was complete at the termination of each year; in other words, delivery had been made to the donee, and it could not be recalled under the Mahomedan law, which is precise as to the impossibility of revoking a gift after delivery without the decree of a Judge or the consent of the donee. ENAFET HOSSEIN v. [I. L. R., 11 Cal., 574]

9. ————— Custody of children.—Act IX of 1861, s. 5—Appeal—The Mahomedan law takes a more liberal view of the mother's rights with regard to the custody of her children than does the English law, under which the father's title to the custody of his children subsists from the moment of their birth, while under the Mahomedan law a mother's title to such custody remains till the children attain the age of seven years. An application was made by a Mahomedan father under section 1 of Act IX of 1861 that his two minor children, aged respectively twelve and nine years, should be taken out of the custody of their mother and handed over to his own custody. The application having been rejected by the District Judge, an appeal was preferred to the High Court as an appeal from an order. It was objected to the hearing of the appeal that, in view of section 5 of Act IX of 1861, the appeal should have been as from a decree, and should have been made under the rules applicable to a regular appeal. Held that, looking to the peculiar nature of the proceedings, the objection was a highly technical one, and as all the evidence in the case was upon the record and was all taken down in English, it would only be delaying the hearing of the appeal upon very inadequate grounds if the objection were allowed. Held also that, according to the principles of the Mahomedan law, the appellant was by law entitled to have the children in his custody, subject always to the principle, which must govern a case of this kind, that there was no reason to apprehend that by being in such custody they would run the risk of bodily injury, and that (without saying that this exhausted the considerations that might arise, warranting the Court in refusing an application for the custody of minors) there was nothing in the record in this case which disclosed any proper ground to justify the refusal of the application. IDU v AMTRAN . . . DOOMEE KHAN* . . . 3 Agra, 21

16. — Legal necessity — Sale — The question of legal necessity does not necessarily arise in cases of sale under the Mahomedan law, though it may properly be an element for consideration when the conduct of a guardian is called in question. The Mahomedan law looks to the benefit of the minor, and permits the guardian to dispose of moveable property if it be for the benefit of the minor. In this case a sale made to carry on important litigation was held bono fide and for the benefit of the minor, the decision in Grose's case, 4 B. L. R., O. C., 1 (12 W. R., O. 17. — Sale of minor's property — Validity of such sale. — Sanction of sale by ruling authority.—The plaintiff sued to recover her husband's share in certain property at S., to which he and other persons became entitled as heirs of M. That property had been sold to the defendants by the heirs of M. during the minority of the plaintiff's husband, his elder brother acting for him in the transaction. It was proved that the sale of the property to the defendants had been approved of by H., who was the agent of the Governor of Bombay at S., and the representative of the ruling authority in the management of M.'s estate. The plaintiff contended that, according to Mahomedan law, it was not competent for the elder brother of a minor, as guardian, to alienate a minor's property. Held that the sanction of the ruling power constituted a sufficient authority for the act of the guardian, provided that the transaction was one which, according to Mahomedan law, a duly constituted guardian might have entered into on behalf of his ward. That law permits a guardian to sell the immoveable property of his ward, when the late incumbent died in debt, or when the sale of such property is necessary for the maintenance of the minor. The evidence in the present case showed that the indebtedness of M. and the distressed condition of his heirs existed in a sufficient degree to justify the sale of the whole property of the heirs. *HUSAIN BEGAM v. deceased's estate which had to be met, nor what that estate consisted of, nor whether the arrears of rent could or could not have been paid without having recourse to the mortgage. Held that under Mahomedan law, and according to justice, equity, and good conscience, the sale was binding on the minors. HASAN ALI v. MEHDI HUSAIN . . . I. L. R., 1 All., 533

20. — Alienation by widow — Rights of other heirs — Minor. — Mother — Mortgage. — First and second mortgagees. — Suit by first mortgagee for sale of mortgaged property. — Second mortgagee not made a party. — Transfer of property — Act IV of 1882, ss. 78, 85. — Res judicata — Upon the death of G., a Mahomedan, his estate was divisible into eight shares, two of which devolved upon his son, A., one upon each of his five daughters, and one upon his widow, B. The name of B. only was recorded in the revenue registers in respect of the zamindari property left by G. In 1876 A. and B. gave to X. a deed of simple mortgage of 2½ biswas out of a 5 biswas share of a village included in the said property. In 1878 A. and B. gave to S. a deed of simple mortgage of the 5 biswas, which were described in the deed as the widow's "own" property. In 1882 X. obtained a decree upon his mortgage for the sale of the mortgaged property, and it was put up for sale and purchased by X. himself in January 1884. In February and November 1884 the daughters of G. obtained ex parte decrees against A. and B. in suits brought by them to recover their shares by inheritance in the 5 biswas. In 1885 S. brought a suit upon his mortgage of 1878, claiming the amount due thereon and the sale of the whole 5 biswas. To this suit he made defendants A. and B., G.'s daughters, and X., alleging that the decrees of February and November 1884 were fraudulently and collusively obtained, and as to the auction sale of January 1884, that the 2½ biswas were sold subject to his mortgage, he not having been made a party to the suit brought by X. upon the deed of 1876, and therefore not being bound by any of the proceedings taken therein or consequent thereto. It was contended that B.'s position as head of the family entitled her to deal with the property so as to bind all the members of the family, though using her name only, and it was suggested that, at the time of the mortgage of 1878, some of the daughters were minors. On behalf of the daughters it was contended (inter alia) that the decrees obtained by them against A and B in February 1884 were conclusive, by way of res judicata, against the plaintiff, who, as mortgagee from A and B, claimed under a title derived from them. Held, per MAHMOOD, J.—According to the Mahomedan law, the surviving widow, though held in respect by the members of the family, would not be entitled to deal with the property so as to bind them, and the entry of her name in the revenue registers in the place of her deceased husband would probably be a mere mark of respect and sympathy. Her position in respect of her husband's estate is ordinarily nothing more or less than that of any other heir, and even where her children are minors, she cannot exercise any power of disposition with reference to their property, because although she may, under certain limitations, act as guardian of their persons till they reach the age of discretion, she cannot exercise control or act as their guardian in respect of their property without special appointment by the ruling authority, in default of other relations who are entitled to such guardianship. Even, therefore, if some of the daughters in the present case were minors at the time of the plaintiff's mortgage, their shares could not be affected thereby. They could only be so affected if circumstances existed which would furnish grounds for applying against them the rule of estoppel contained in section 115 of the Evidence Act, or the doctrine of equity formulated in section 41 of the Transfer of Property Act, but here no such circumstances existed. SITARAM v AMIR BEGUM

1. ——— Enumeration of heirs by Mahomedan law.—Return.—Three different kinds of heirs are recognised by Mahomedan law,—(1) sharers, (2) residuaries, and (3) distant kindred. Where there are no residuaries the principle of return provides that the surplus of the shares of the sharers shall revert to them in proportion to their shares, except in the cases of husband and wife. Next are the "distant kindred." GUJADHUR PERSHAD v. ABDULLAH

3. ——— Heirs of missing person.—Division of estate to be held by heirs on trust.—The plaintiff sued to be put in possession of a share of the estate of a missing person, alleging that by Mahomedan law and custom they were entitled to hold in trust for him a share equal to that which would devolve on them after his death by right of inheritance. Held that under the Mahomedan law the heirs of a missing person are not, as such, entitled to divide his estate among themselves, either as a trust or otherwise, before his death, natural or legal. KALEE KHAN v JADEE. 5 N. W., 62

4. ——— Heirs of husband on death of wife, whose heir he was.—Whatever may be the position and rights of a husband, being the only surviving heir of his wife, according to the Mahomedan law, there is no representation in matters of succession, and therefore those rights do not descend to the heirs of a husband who has predeceased the wife, and who are themselves no relation of the wife. In fact, under the Mahomedan system, after the dissolution of a marriage contract by death or otherwise, the parties or their heirs bear no more relation to one another than the heirs of quondam partners in the same mercantile house. *EKIN BEBEE v. 5. ——— Heirs of girl not validly married.—Paternal grandmother—Mother—Half brothers or sisters.—A marriage performed between minors in the fazolee (nominal) form, the girl's father being dead and the marriage being contracted by her paternal grandmother, was held to be invalid on the death of the girl without afterwards meeting or communicating with her husband, because after arriving at puberty she had never expressed in any way assent to or dissent from the marriage. Held that under such circumstances the paternal grandmother of the girl was not entitled to inherit her estate, that the mother as her surviving parent was entitled to a third share thereof; and that her half brothers and sisters were entitled (without prejudice to any claims by third parties) to the residue. MULKA JEHAN SAHIBA v MAHOMED USHAKUREE KHAN

6. ——— Estate limited to take effect in favour of a person after another's death.—It is not consistent with Mahomedan law to limit an estate to take effect after the determination, on the death of the owner, of a prior estate by way of what is known to English law as a vested remainder, so as to create an interest which can pass to a third person before the determination of the prior estate. *ABDUL WAHID KHAN v. 18. ——— Renunciation of right to inherit.—Presumption of relinquishment from acts of parties.—Widow.—In a suit in the nature of ejectment, by principal respondent as residuary heir according to the Mahomedan law of a deceased person, to recover from his widow, the appellant, three fourths of her deceased husband's estate, of the whole of which she had for upwards of eleven years been in possession, the plaintiff's title as residuary heir was put in issue, as well as other issues touching the widow's dower, &c. The Privy Council, thinking it of the utmost importance that those who had thus sanctioned a long possession should not be allowed lightly to disturb it, or to escape from those legitimate inferences and presumptions which on a conflict of evidence arose from their own acts and conduct, decided in favour of the widow, holding that the respondent had failed to establish the title upon which he sued. According to the Mahomedan law there may be a renunciation of the right to inherit, and such a renunciation need not be expressed, but may be implied from the ceasing or desisting from prosecuting a claim maintainable against another. As a general rule a widow takes no share in "the return," i.e., on failure of residuaries, but some authorities seem to hold that if there are no heirs by blood alive, the widow would take the whole estate to the exclusion of the fisc. HURMUT-OOL-NISSA BEGUM v. MAHOMEDAN LAW—KAZI.

1. ——— Appointment of Kazi.—Hereditary office.—Bom. Reg. XXVI of 1827—Act XI of 1864.—The enactment of Bombay Regulation XXVI of 1827 was adverse to any supposition that the office of Kazi could be hereditary. The repeal of that Regulation by Act XI of 1864 left the Mahomedan law as it stood before the passing of that Regulation; and that law sanctioned no grant of such an office to a man and his heirs. The appointment of Kazi lies exclusively with the sovereign, or other chief executive officer of the State, and ought to be made with the greatest circumspection with regard to the fitness of the individual appointed; and though the sovereign may have full power to make the watan attached to the office of Kazi hereditary, yet he has, under the Mahomedan law, no power to make the office itself so. JAMAL WALLAD AHMED v. JAMAL WALLAD JALLAL. . . I. L. R., 1 Bom., 633

2. ——— Bom. Reg. XXVI of 1827—Act XI of 1864.—Where a sanad granted by the Emperor Aurangzib in A.D. 1693 did not purport to confer a hereditary Kaziship, but was a grant of the office of Kazi personally to an ancestor of the plaintiff,—Held that the subsequent recognitions or appointments of members of his family as Kazis by native governments did not prove that the office was or could be made hereditary. Regulation XXVI of 1827, relating to the appointment of Kazis, was repealed by Act XI of 1864, whereby it is recited that it is inexpedient that the appointment of Kazis should be made by Government. The continuance, therefore, by the Collector of an allowance to the plaintiff in 1867 could not be regarded as a constructive appointment of him to be Kazi. DAUDSHA v. ISMAILSHA. . . I. L. 3. ——— Power to appoint Kazi of Bombay.—Disturbance of office—Right of suit—Fees received by Kazi—Semble.—The power to appoint a person to the office of Kazi of Bombay is vested in the Governor of Bombay, and not in the Governor in Council. According to Mahomedan law, the appointment of Kazi has always been vested in the chief executive officer of the State, and the right to make such appointment has never rested with the Mahomedan community at large. When it was shown that the plaintiff had acted as Kazi of Bombay for more than twenty years, and the defendant, in an action brought against him for disturbing the plaintiff in his office of Kazi, was unable to show that the plaintiff had been illegally appointed, it was held that the plaintiff so acting as Kazi could maintain an action against the defendant who so disturbed him in his office, without proving that he, the plaintiff, had been legally appointed. The sums received by the Kazi of Bombay in respect of his office of Kazi are not mere gratuities, but are fixed and certain payments annexed to the discharge of official duties, and are therefore sums in respect of the privation whereof by a wrongful intruder, an action, either for money had and received or for disturbance in the office, will lie. *MUHAMMAD YUSSAB v. 1. ——— Validity of marriage.—Requisites for valid marriage.—Under the Shiah as well as the Sunni law, any connection between the sexes which is not sanctioned by some relation founded upon contract or upon slavery is denounced as "zina," or fornication. Both schools prohibit sexual intercourse between a Moosinah, i.e., a Mahomedan woman, and a man who is not of her religion. According to the Shiah law, marriage must in all cases be lawful, except when there is error on the part of both or either of the parents. HIMMUT BAHADOOR v. SHAHEBZADI BEGUM . . . 14 W. R., 125

3. ——— Woman's right to choose husband—Guardian—Marriage without consent of father.—According to the doctrine of the Mussulman teacher, Abu Hanifa, a Mussulman female, after arriving at the age of puberty without having been married by her father or guardian, becomes legally emancipated from all guardianship, and can select a husband without reference to the wishes of the father or guardian; but according to the doctrine of Shafi, a virgin, whether before or after puberty, cannot give herself in marriage without the consent of her father. After attaining puberty a female of any one of the four sects can elect to belong to whichever of the other three sects she pleases, and the legality of her subsequent acts will be governed by the tenets of the Imam whose follower she may have become. girl whose parents and family are followers of the school of Shafi, and who has arrived at puberty, and has not been married or betrothed by her father or guardian, can change her sect from that of Shafi to that of Hanifa, so as to render valid a marriage subsequently entered into by her without the consent of her father. MUHAMMAD IBRAHIM v. GULAM AHMED

[1 Bom., 236]

4. ———— Marriage of minor—Assent of wife after puberty—A ceremony of marriage was performed between Mahomedan minors in the fazolee (nominal) form; the girl's father being dead, and the marriage being contracted by her paternal grandmother. Thereafter the girl died, having attained the age of puberty without ever meeting or communicating with her husband, and without ever expressing in any way assent to or dissent from the marriage. Held that, by the law of the Shiah sect which governed the case, the marriage, since the assent of the girl after attaining puberty was not shown, was imperfect from the want of the necessary ratification and could not create any rights or obligations. Though by the law of the Sunnis the option of dissent must be declared by the girl as soon as puberty is developed, yet by the doctrine of the Shiahs the matter ought to be propounded to her, so that she may advisedly give or withhold her assent. MULKA JEHAN SAHIBA v. MAHOMED USH-KURREE KHAN

5. ———— Consent of parents.—Inequality of parties.—Held that, under Mahomedan law the bride's father can set aside the marriage on the ground of inequality between the parties to the marriage if it had taken place without his consent, the consent of the bride's mother and brother notwithstanding, and that the bride herself is legally competent to refuse herself to her husband so long as her dowry remains unpaid. MOHUMDEE BEGUM v. 6. ———— Infant—Consent.—Apostate father.—The consent of the father was held not necessary to the marriage of a Mahomedan infant girl, he being an apostate from the Mahomedan faith, this being so, the consent of the mother was sufficient. IN THE MATTER OF MAHIN BIBI

Even where the cohabitation has been casual only, and there has been no acknowledgment of the woman as his wife, or the issue as his children, the fact of such cohabitation raises a presumption of marriage, and that the children are legitimate; but in such a case the presumption may be rebutted. NAWABUN-NISSA v. 12. ———— Legitimacy, Proof of.—Cohabitation.—The mere residence of a woman in the house of a Mahomedan as a menial servant, and the circumstance that she had a son, do not raise the presumption of marriage or legitimacy of the son. Cohabitation means something more than mere residence in the same house. It should be shown that cohabitation continued, that children were born, and that the woman was treated as a wife, and lived as such, and not as a servant. KUREEMOONISSA v. ATTAOOLLAH

14. — Cohabitation — Legitimacy—Though there is no evidence of the celebration of any marriage ceremony, still the fact of a woman having constantly lived as a married woman with her husband, and the fact of her children having lived as legitimate children with their parents, make the case fall within the rule as to the presumption of marriage and legitimacy laid down by the Privy Council in Mahomed Bauker Hossein Khan v Shurfoonnissa Begum, 8 Moore's I A, 136, and by the High Court in Nawabunissa v Fazooloomissa, Marsh, 428. *ASHRUFFUNNISSA v. 15. — Acknowledgment of wife.—The acknowledgment of a wife which the Mahomedan law requires as proof of marriage should be specific and definite. The mere fact of a man keeping a woman within the purdah and treating her to outward semblance as a wife, does not necessarily, in the absence of express declaration and acknowledgment, constitute the factum of marriage. KADANATH CHUCKERBUTTY v DONZELLE

The evidence was conflicting, and the Courts below pronounced against both the marriages and also against the will. C alone appealed to the Privy Council, who held that lapse of time and propriety of conduct, and the enjoyment of confidence, with powers of management reposed in her, are not sufficient to raise the presumption that A was a lawful wife. JABITTOOL BUTOOL v HOSSEINER BEGUM

18. — Acknowledgment of wife.—An equivocal expression in a document executed by a Mahomedan which might be applicable to the ladies in respect to whom it is used, whether they were wives or not, cannot be considered such an express recognition of their being wives as to establish their claims as such to a share in the estate on his decease. Where a lady has cohabited with a Mahomedan for years and has had a child by him who has been openly acknowledged and treated by him as his lawful son, although there may be no evidence of the actual fact of marriage, the Court is justified in presuming a marriage. MAHATALA

1. — Origin of right.—Law or custom.—Cessation of right—The right of pre-emption arises from a rule of law by which the owner of the land is bound; and it exists no longer if there ceases to be an owner who is bound by the law either as a Mahomedan or by custom. *BYJNATH PERSHAD v. 20. ———— Hindus.—Local custom.—Sale to a stranger.—The right of pre-emption, when it exists among Hindus, is a matter of contract or custom agreed to by the members of a village or community. PEACOCK, C. J., and KEMP and MITTER, JJ.—A Hindu purchaser is not bound by the Mahomedan law of pre-emption in favour of a Mahomedan copartner, although he purchased from one of several Mahomedan coparceners; nor is he bound by the Mahomedan law of pre-emption on the ground of vicinage. A right of pre-emption in a Mahomedan does not depend on any defect of title on the part of his Mahomedan copartner to sell except subject to the right of pre-emption, but upon a rule of Mahomedan law, which is not binding on the Court, nor on any purchaser other than a Mahomedan. Per NORMAN and MACPHERSON, JJ. (dissentientes)—Wherever a Mahomedan co-sharer or neighbour has a right of pre-emption, and his property is sold by his neighbour or co-sharer, also a Mussulman, his right is not defeated by the mere fact that the purchaser is a Hindu. KUDRATULLA v. Mahini Mohan Shaha, 4 B. L. R., F. B., 134, dissented from. Per PETHERAM, C. J., and OLDFIELD, J., that, by the provisions of section 24 of the Bengal Civil Courts Act, the Court was not bound to administer the Mahomedan law in claims for pre-emption, but that, on grounds of equity, that law had always been administered in respect of such claims as between Muhomedans, and it would not be equitable that persons who were not Mahomedans, but who had dealt with Mahomedans in respect of property, knowing the conditions and obligations under which the property was held, should, merely by reason that they were not themselves subject to the Mahomedan law, be permitted to evade those conditions and obligations. Per MAHMOOD, J., that by a liberal construction, the rule of the Mahomedan law as to pre-emption is a “religious usage or institution” within the meaning of section 24 of the Bengal Civil Courts Act, and, as such, is binding on the Courts. Also per MAHMOOD, J., that the word "parties," as used in section 24 of the Bengal Civil Courts Act, does not mean the parties to an action, but must be interpreted with reference to the inception of the right to be adjudicated upon. Also per MAHMOOD, J.—The right of pre-emption is not a right of "re-purchase" either from the vendor or from the vendee, involving any new contract of sale; but it is simply a right of substitution, entitling the pre-emptor, by reason of a legal incident to which the sale itself was subject, to stand in the shoes of the vendee in respect of all the rights and obligations arising from the sale under which he has derived his title. The history and nature of the right of pre-emption discussed by MAHMOOD, J. Shumsh-ool-nissa v. Zohra Bibi, 6 N. W., 2; Chundo v. Ahm-ood-deen, 6 N. W., 28; *Ibrahim Saib v. It should be determined whether the custom is a custom under which it is incumbent upon him to fulfil those conditions. JAI KUAR v. HEERA LAL [7 N. W., 1

27. ————— Hindu vendor and purchaser.—Mahomedan pre-emptor.—"Talab-i-ishtihad."—Invocation of witnesses—A Mahomedan sued to enforce a right of pre-emption in respect of a sale between Hindus, founding such right on local custom. The formality of "ishtihad," or express invocation of witnesses, required by the Mahomedan law of pre-emption, was not one of the incidents of such custom. Held that the circumstance that the plaintiff was a Mahomedan did not preclude him from claiming to enforce such right against the defendants, who were Hindus, and that the formality of "ishtihad" not being one of the incidents of such custom, it was not necessary that the plaintiff should have observed that formality as a condition precedent to the enforcement of such right. *Fakir Rawot v. 31. ————— Hindus.—Province of Behar.—Custom.—A right or custom of pre-emption is recognised as prevailing among Hindus in Behar and some other provinces of Western India. In districts where its existence has not been judicially noticed, the custom will be matter to be proved; such custom, when it exists, must be presumed to be founded on and co-extensive with the Mahomedan law upon that subject, unless the contrary be shown. The Court may, as between Hindus, administer a modification of that law as to the circumstances under which the right may be claimed, where it is shown that the custom in that respect does not go the whole length of the Mahomedan law of pre-emption; but the assertion of the right by suit must always be preceded by an observance of the preliminary forms prescribed in Mahomedan law. *FAKIR RAWOT v. 77. ————— Right of refusal.—Conditional right.—Co-sharers.—Minor.—Where a condition for pre-emption contained in a record-of-rights was intended to take effect at the time of a sale, and its language implied that the co-sharers in whose favour it was made were to be persons who were competent at that time to make a binding contract to accept or refuse an offer, no right of pre-emption accrued under the condition to a co-sharer who was a minor at the time of a sale and unrepresented by any person competent to conclude a binding contract on his behalf, whether it was assumed that the condition arose out of special contract or general usage. RAJA RAM v. BANSI . . . 1 I. L. R., 1 All., 207

78. ————— "Stranger."—"Sale."—Assignment by way of dower.—Assignment in lieu of dower.—Debt.—The heirs of a Mahomedan have no legal interest or share in his property so long as he is alive, and cannot therefore be regarded as in any sense co-sharers or coparceners in his property, so as to be entitled to claim the right of pre-emption in case of a sale by him of his property. Held, therefore, where a husband sold his share of an undivided estate to his wife, that, although one of his heirs, she had not on that account a right of pre-emption in respect of such sale. A husband transferred certain property to his wife in consideration of a certain sum which was due by him to her as dower. Held that such transfer was a "sale," within the meaning of the Mahomedan law of pre-emption, and gave rise to the right of pre-emption. Pearce Begum v. Hushmut Ali, 1 N. W., S. D. A., 1864, p. 475, followed. The meaning of "stranger" and "sale," as used in the Mahomedan law of pre-emption, explained. FIDA ALI v. MUZAFFAR ALI [I. L. enforce the right of pre-emption alleged that the true consideration for the sale was less than the amount stated in the sale-deed. It was found that he made no communication to the vendor after he became aware that a sale was being negotiated, nor did he make it known to him that, while he stood upon his pre-emptive right, he declined to pay the price stated in the deed, because it was not the consideration agreed on between the vendor and the vendee. Held that the plaintiff was bound, instead of remaining silent, to communicate to the vendor that he was prepared to purchase at the price within a reasonable time, and that not having done so, he must be taken to have countenanced the completion of the bargain with the vendee, and to have waived his right of pre-emption. BHAIRON SINGH v. LALMAN

81. ————— Relinquishment of right.—According to the Mahomedan law, if a pre-emptor enters into a compromise with the vendee, or allows himself to take any benefit from him in respect of the property which is the subject of pre-emption, he by so doing is taken to have acquiesced in the sale and to have relinquished his pre-emptive right. In a suit to enforce the right of pre-emption founded on the Mahomedan law, it appeared that the purchasers, by an agreement made with the plaintiffs on the same date as the sale in respect of which the suit was brought, agreed to sell the property to the plaintiffs any time within a year, and if the latter paid the price and purchased the property for themselves. Held that by the very fact of their taking the agreement, the plaintiffs had relinquished their right of pre-emption, and were precluded from enforcing it. *HABIB-UN-NISSA v. Where a single sale embraces two distinct properties, in respect of one of which a right of pre-emption resides in any person who has not a similar right in regard to the other, Held that it would be equally unreasonable to rule that he could claim both, and that he could claim neither—the only reasonable rule being

86. ————— Sale of property of which shares belonged to minors.—The property of several co-sharers, some of whom were minors, was sold to a single purchaser, under a deed of sale, which contained a covenant by the vendors, who professed to act on behalf of themselves and the minors, that they would compensate the vendee for any loss he might incur should the minors, when they came of age, not ratify the sale. A. sued to enforce her right of pre-emption in respect of the lands sold. The lower Appellate Court was of opinion that A. could not enforce her claim of pre-emption in respect of the share of the minors, and on the Court's suggestion the plaint was amended, so as to ask for enforcement of her claim in respect only of the shares of the vendors of full age. Held that A. was bound to claim her right against all the shares, and could not enforce it in respect of some only. *ABDOOL GUFQOR v. 87. ————— Co-sharer—Mouzahs distinct from one another.—The plaintiffs, who were shareholders in a particular mouzah, sued to enforce a claim to a right of pre-emption upon a sale under a kobala for a particular sum of money by another shareholder of a share in the mouzah, along with other properties with which the plaintiffs had no concern, to a third person who was not a shareholder. Held that as the plaintiffs were entitled to claim a right of pre-emption in respect of the mouzah only, and that mouzah was distinct from the other properties sold, the suit was maintainable *ROWSHUN KOER v. 88. ————— Rival suits.—Suit to enforce the right in respect of a part of the property sold.—The prior institution of a suit by rival pre-emptors in no way entitles a pre-emptor to depart from the general rule of pre-emption by suing for a portion only of the property sold. *Kash Nath v. 92. ————— Acts or omissions by pre-emptor's authorised agent, Effect of.—It is a general rule of pre-emption that any act or omission on the part of a duly authorised agent or manager of the pre-emptor has the same effect upon pre-emption as if such act or omission had been made by the pre-emptor himself. *HARIHAR DAT v. 93. ————— Performance of ceremonies by agent or manager.—Under Mahomedan law, the legal forms to be observed under that law by a person claiming a right of pre-emption may be observed on behalf of such person by an agent or manager of such person. *ABADI BEGAM v. 95. ————— Talab-i-mawasabat.—Intention to assert right.—Talab-i-ishtahad.—Demand in presence of witnesses.—To entitle a person, otherwise favourably situated, to the right of pre-emption, two conditions must be fulfilled: first (talab-i-mawasabat), on receiving information of the sale he must immediately declare his intention to assert his right; and, secondly (talab-i-ishtahad), he must, as soon after as possible, make the demand of the vendor or purchaser, or upon the premises, and in the presence of witnesses. *JHOTEE SINGH v. 97. ————— Necessity of immediate claim.—Under Mahomedan law the "talab-i-mawasabat," or immediate claim to the right of pre-emption, should be made as soon as the fact of the sale is known to the claimant, otherwise the right is lost; and it was consequently held that the plaintiff, having failed to make the "talab-i-mawasabat" until twelve hours after the fact of the sale became known to him, had lost his right of pre-emption. ALI MUHAMMAD v. mediately make his demand called talab-i-mawasabat. NABIR MAHTON . 4 B. L. R., A. C., 216: 13 W. R., 259

99. ————— Time taken to ascertain if information of sale is correct—According to the Mahomedan law, the mere fact of the pre-emptor taking a short time before performance of the talab-i-mawasabat for ascertaining whether the information conveyed to him was correct or not, does not invalidate his right. The Mahomedan law allows a short time for reflection before performance of the first demand. AMJAD HOSSEIN v. KHARAG SEN SAHU . 4 B. L. R., A. C., 203: 13 W. R., 299

100. ————— Making claim standing or sitting.—The act of a claimant rising from his seat to claim his right of pre-emption, instead of claiming it as he sat, is not a delay sufficient to entail a forfeiture of his right. MAHARAJ SINGH v. LALLAH BHUCHOOK LALL . W. R., 1864, 294

101. ————— Witnesses, Necessity of.—Although, according to Mahomedan law books, it is not necessary, in respect to the talab-i-mawasabat, or first preliminary required to establish a right of pre-emption, that witnesses should hear the exclamation it involves, yet it does not follow that, as matter of evidence, courts of law are bound to decree a suit to establish such a right simply on the deposition of the plaintiff ABDOOL HOSSEIN KHAN v. GOBIND CHANDRA SHAMA [11 W. R., 404

102. ————— Talab-i-ishtahad. Necessity of proof of performance—To establish a claim to pre-emption under the Mahomedan law, it is not enough to prove that the ceremony of talab-i-mawasabat was performed; it is also necessary to prove the talab-i-ishtahad. NARBHASE SINGH v. LUCHMEE NARAIN ROOREE 11 W. R., 307

103. ————— Necessity of finding as to performance.—The "talab-i-ishtahad" is a preliminary act as essential as the "talab-i-mawasabat" to secure to the claimant the right of enforcing pre-emption. There should always, therefore, be a distinct finding as to whether it was properly made or not. RAZEEODDEEN v. ZEENUT BIBEE [8 W. R., 463

106. ————— Mode or form of ceremony—Talab-i-mawasabat.—To establish a right of pre-emption, it is necessary to show that the ceremony of talab-i-ishtahad has been observed, which requires the pre-emptor to make an affirmation, not necessarily in the precise words of the form given in the Hedaya, but in substance to the effect of declaring, before witnesses, that the earlier preliminary—viz., talab-i-mawasabat—has already been performed. *GIRDHAREE SINGH v. 108. ————— Requisites for ceremony. Declaration and invocation of witnesses.—According to the Mahomedan law, strict adherence to the rules for the performance of the talab-i-ishtahad is especially necessary. In performing the talab-i-ishtahad, the pre-emptor must clearly declare his right and invoke witnesses. He must declare that "he has a right of pre-emption to which he has laid claim, and that he still claims it," and invokes witnesses "to bear witness therefore to the fact." *JADU SINGH v. 113. ———— Mode of invocation of witnesses.—In a suit to establish the right of pre-emption, where the witnesses said that on the refusal of the vendor the pre-emptor had nominated them witnesses, the lower Courts were held to have been justified in their inference that he had complied with the exigency of the Mahomedan law *SHAM LALL SAHOO v. 115. ———— Invocation of witnesses.—Claim when there are several co-sharers.—Tender of price for the land claimed.—One out of several co-sharers claiming a right to pre-emption—A person seeking pre-emption declared his right thereto when he first heard of the sale, in the presence of witnesses; and as soon as was possible on the same day, in the presence of the same witnesses, demanded his right from the vendors and the purchasers. Held that it was unnecessary that he should again state, when making his demand, or that his witnesses should testify to the fact, that he had declared his right as soon as he heard of the sale. The principle of the law of pre-emption is, that the pre-emptor should assert his right as soon as he has heard of the sale, that he should demand his right from the vendor or purchaser, or on the ground, in the presence of witnesses; and this assertion and demand may be simultaneous, but if they are not, the pre-emptor, when he makes the demand, is required to make a declaration before witnesses that he asserted his right

117. ———— Necessity of immediate demand.—It is not a binding rule of law that the talab-i-ishtahad by a pre-emptor, if made within a day after the receipt of intelligence of the purchase, is necessarily in time for the preservation of the right of pre-emption. The due and sufficient observance of the formality of talab-i-ishtahad as to time, is a question to be decided in each case by the Court which has to deal with the facts. JAMILAN v. LATIF HOSSEIN

4. MISCELLANEOUS CASES.

123. ——— Enforcement of right.—Delivery or registration of bill of sale—A contract having been entered into for sale and purchase of certain property, the plaintiff, pre-emptor, was not bound to defer the enforcement of his right of purchase till the bill of sale had been delivered or registered, or payment made. *LUCHMEE NARAIN v. 124. ——— Offer to purchase at time of registration.—Sufficiency of claim.—Held that the parties to pre-emption being Mahomedans must be bound by the strict conditions of law of pre-emption, and that the offer to purchase before the registrar at the time of registration of the sale-deed was not a sufficient compliance with the provisions of that law. *KAREEMOODDEEN v. HEERA LALL v. MOORUT LALL . 11 W. R., 275

126. ——— Statement of readiness and willingness to pay.—In a suit for pre-emption it is unnecessary to prove a tender of the actual price paid for the property claimed, it being sufficient if the person claiming the right to pre-emption states that he is ready to pay for the land such sum as the Court may assess as the proper price for the property. NUNDO PERSHAD THAKUR v. GOPAL THAKUR I. L. R., 10 Calc., 1008

127. ——— Lien of vendor.
—The right of the first purchaser is simply a vendor's lien,—i. e., to retain the property until he has the money from the party claiming pre-emption. It is no part of the Mahomedan law that the claimant of a right of pre-emption must carry the money in his hands and tender it to the first purchaser. cannot legally draw back, it is time for the pre-emptor to step in. A pre-emptor is not required to tender the purchaser's price, or any price, at the time of making his demand, and so long as a party claiming a right of shuffa pays the amount which the Court considers to be the proper price, he brings himself in Court within a reasonable time. On the question of pre-emption the Court must act in strict accordance with the provisions of the Mahomedan law rather than on what it thinks just and equitable. NUBEE BUKSH alias GOLAM NUBEE v. KALOO LUSHKEE
[22 W. R., 4]

129. ——— Loss of right.—Claim disproved to specific land at specific price.—The right of pre-emption is lost where there is a dispute as to the purchase-money, if the plaintiff (instead of offering by his plaint to pay the real amount, whatever it may be) claims to purchase a specific quantity of land at a specific price, and that right is shown to have no existence. *ACHURBUR PANDAY v. MAHOMEDAN LAW—PRESUMPTION OF DEATH.

1. ——— Missing person.—Evidence Act, I of 1872, s. 108—Act VI of 1871, s. 24—The rule contained in section 108 of the Evidence Act governs the case of a Mahomedan who has been missing for more than seven years, when the question of his death arises in cases to which, under the provisions of section 24 of Act VI of 1871 (Bengal Civil Courts Act), the Mahomedan law is applicable. Per MAHMOOD, J.—The rule of the Mahomedan law that a missing person is to be regarded as alive till the lapse of ninety years from the date of his birth is, according to the most authoritative texts of the Mahomedan law itself, a rule of evidence and not of "succession, inheritance, marriage, or caste, or any religious usage or institution," within the meaning of section 24 of Act VI of 1871. MAZHAR ALI v. BUDH SINGH
[I. L. R., 7 All, 297]

2. ——— Right of inheritance.—Held that, as under the Mahomedan law a missing person is considered "defunct" as regards others' property, and cannot inherit from others during the period allowed for his reappearance, the plaintiff, his son, and nearest relative of the widow, was entitled to get the money claimed, it being compensation for land which had been found to belong to her exclusively, and not as having descended from her husband. IMAM ALI KHAN v. ABDUL ALI KHAN
[2 Agra, 28]

MAHOMEDAN LAW—PRESUMPTION OF DEATH.—Missing person—continued.

3. ———— Position of, as to inheritance during absence—Person in unlawful possession.—Legal heir.—Held that, assuming the Mahomedan law to provide that the share of a missing person, which has devolved on him during his absence, is to be reserved or held in suspense until the expiration of the term after which he is to be regarded as dead, a claimant who had no title whatsoever to possession could not benefit by such provision of Mahomedan law in face of the person who would be the legal heir failing the missing person, and the possession of such unlawful holder can be disturbed by such legal heir. DOWLUT KHATOON v. ALI JAN

[2 Agra, 59]

4. ———— Alienation by heirs of.—Right of alienee.—In a suit to recover possession of a share of landed property, where plaintiff claimed on the ground of purchase from the heirs of the proprietor, who had been missing for many years, and in which the defendant set up a mokurrari, and pleaded that as ninety years had not elapsed since the disappearance of the proprietor the property could not, under Mahomedan law, be inherited by his heirs, and the alienation by them was therefore invalid.—Held that, as plaintiff had been found in possession under the conveyance from the heirs, who did not dispute his title, the defendant, a stranger, who had failed to prove either title or possession under the mokurrari which he set up, was not in a position to advance the plea in question. Held that ninety years is the least period within which, according to Mahomedan law, the estate of a missing person can be alienated by his heirs. HOSSEIN KHANUM v. TJUN LALL

. . . 14 W. R., 293

5. ———— Alienation of property by his heirs — Claim of other heirs—A claim by the wife and daughters of a missing person to obtain possession of the shares to which the missing person would have been entitled in the estate of two brothers and a sister on surviving them, was rightly dismissed, under Mahomedan law, on the ground that the death of the missing person was not proved, and ninety years had not elapsed from his birth. A sale of the shares by R, the brother of the missing person, who was in possession, was properly declared null and void. As R would have excluded the wife and daughters of the missing person from inheritance, it was held that he should be allowed to retain the shares in his hands, subject to their surrender on the reappearance of the missing person. *RAKHI BIBI v. must be governed by the Mahomedan law relating to a "missing" person. Parneshar Rai v. Bisheshar Singh, I L. R., 1 All., 53, distinguished. Held by STUART, C J, that, according to Mahomedan law, ninety years not having elapsed from F's birth, his share could not be claimed by the plaintiffs, but must remain in abeyance until the expiry of that period or his death was proved. Held by PEARSON, J, and SPANKIE, J, that F being a "missing" person when his parents died, his daughter, according to that law, was not entitled to hold his share either as heir or trustee. *HASAN ALI v. MAHOMEDAN LAW—WIFE.

1. ———— Power of alienation.—Power of wife as one of several tenants-in-common to grant lease.—The District Judge's decision that a Mahomedan married woman cannot execute a valid lease which may endure beyond her lifetime, of property of which she is one of several tenants-in-common, held bad in law. *NICHABHAI PRAGJI v. 2. ———— Husband and wife.—Presumption of ownership of property—Where rights of ownership had been exercised for a series of years by the husband, and never by the wife, over property which had descended from his wife's father (his own uncle), the husband having mortgaged the property and dealt with it in all respects as if he were the owner, and the wife possessing none of the documents which she would have been able to produce if she had acted as the owner, it was held that she had no such interest in the property as entitled her to maintain a suit to recover possession of it after it was sold in satisfaction of the husband's debts. OZREONISSA BIBEE v. RAMDHUN ROY . . . 11 W. R., 17

MAHOMEDAN LAW—WILL.

1. ———— Gift operating as will.—Gift in contemplation of death.—Legacy—According to the Mahomedan law, a gift made in contemplation of death, though not operative as a gift, operates as a legacy. Ordinarily it conveys to the legatee property not exceeding one third of the deceased's whole property, the remaining two thirds going to the heirs. In the absence of heirs a will carries the whole property. EKIN BIBEE v. ASHRAF ALI

[1 W. R., 152

2. ———— Invalid will.—Will disinheriting heirs.—A wasi-ut-namah, or will, divesting all the property from the next heirs, is illegal under Mahomedan law. JUMUNOODDEEN AHMED v. HOSSEIN ALI . . . 2 W. R., Mis., 49

3. ———— Will made without consent of heirs.—A will which has never received the assent of the heirs of the testator is inoperative to alter their rights to succeed according to the Mahomedan law of inheritance. KADIR ALI KHAN v. NOWSHA BEGUM . . . 2 Agra, 154

4. ———— Will devising more than half estate to daughter—Under the Mahomedan law a person cannot devise more than one half of his estate to his daughter, and a will devising more to her is invalid. MAHOMED MUDUN v. KHOZEUN-NISSA alias KHOOKEE BEBEE . . . 2 W. R., 181

7. ———— Power of testator to interfere with devolution of property.—By the Mahomedan law, a testator may bequeath one third of his estate to a stranger, but cannot leave a legacy to one of his heirs without the consent of the rest. A will purporting to give one third of the testator's property to one of his sons as his executor, to be expended at the son's discretion in undefined pious uses, and conferring on such son a beneficial interest in the surplus of such third share,—Held to be an attempt to give, under colour of a religious bequest, a legacy to one of the testator's heirs, and to be invalid without the confirmation of the other heirs. KHAJOORONISSA v. ROUSHAN JEHAN

8. ———— Will made without consent of heirs.—Plaintiffs claimed as purchasers from the daughters (as heirs) of a Mahomedan. The son, intervening, was made a party to the suit, and set up a will executed by his father, under which a large portion of the estate was endowed for charitable purposes, and the rest divided among the heirs. The lower Appellate Court found the will to be bond fide, and dismissed the suit. Held that the will having been put in issue, the lower Appellate Court should have found whether the heirs were consenting parties, for the bequest by a Mahomedan of more than one third of his estate without the consent of his heirs is invalid. BABOONJAN v. MAHOMED NUROOL HUQ . . . 10 W. R., 375

9. ———— Suit for share of property against persons in possession under will.—Onus probandi.—In a suit for an undivided share of property claimed by the plaintiffs as heirs of the deceased owner, where the defendants pleaded possession under a wasi-ut-namah, or will,—Held that the Court could not tell how far the will was valid or invalid under the Mahomedan law, which allows a testator to give away from his heirs only one third of his property, and therefore the onus was on the defendant to furnish a complete statement of the testator's property at the time of his death; failing which the plaintiff's claim must prevail. SUKOOMUT BIBEE v. WARRIS ALI . . . 22 W. R., 400

10. ———— Consent of heirs.—Consent before testator's death—By Mahomedan law the consent given by heirs to a testator's will before his death is no assent at all, to be valid it must be given after the testator's death. NUSRUT ALI v. ZEINUNNISSA . . . 15 W. R., 146

11. ———— Assent given after testator's death—According to Mahomedan law, the consent of the heirs can validate a testamentary disposition of property in excess of one third of the property of the testator, if the consent be given after the death of the testator. But if the consent be given during the lifetime of the testator it will not render valid the alienation, for it is an assent given before the establishment of their own rights. CHERACHOM VITTEL AYISHA KUTTI UMAH v VALIA PUDIAKEL BIATHEU UMAH . . . 2 Mad., 350

12. ————— Consent of heiress to will.—Evidence of consent.—To establish the consent of a Mahomedan heiress to a will, evidence of some act done at the time of its execution, or some act done subsequently, amounting to a ratification of it, is necessary. The Court will not presume the consent of a Mahomedan heiress to a will, even although she continues to reside in a dwelling-house assigned to her by the will in question. RAMCOOMER CHUNDER ROY v FAQUEEROONISSA BEGUM. FAQUEEROONISSA BEGUM v SUFDAR ALI
[1 Ind. Jur., O. S., 119]

13. ————— Consent of heir.—Evidence of consent—According to Mahomedan law, a will is valid as against an heir if he affixed his signature to it as a consenting party thereto without undue influence. KHADEJAH BIBEE v. SUFFUR ALI 4 W. R., 36

14. ————— Form of will.—Nuncupative will.—Evidence of will.—The rule that by Mahomedan law a will does not require to be in writing is universal. The omission to write the wish, where there was ample time for that purpose, may throw doubt on the fact of the words being used as the expression of the testator's last will. But if the Court finds that the testator expressed his will, and that this was his last will, the omission to render it into writing will not deprive it of legal effect. TAMEEZ BEGUM v. FURHUT HOSSEIN
[2 N. W., 55]

15. ————— Nuncupative will.—Law of Shiah sect.—A nuncupative will by a Mahomedan of the Shiah sect bequeathing property less in amount than one third of his estate held valid by the Mahomedan law, and effect was given to the bequests. Semble.—Such verbal bequests would have been valid even if beyond a third of the testator's estate, provided the heirs concurred in the bequests. AMINOOD-DOWLAH v. ROSHUN ALI KHAN
[5 Moore's L. A., 199]

16. ————— Proof of intention where purpose not completed.—Where a testatrix devises a certain disposition of her whole property in the course of a wajib-ul-urz relating to only a portion of it, and independent testimony of her intention to make this disposition was produced, —Held that the disposition was valid against a claim of possession set up by a rival claimant. MAHOMED ALTAH ALI KHAN v. AHMED BUKSH
[25 W. R., 121]

17. ————— Assignment to take effect on death.—Sale.—An assignment of his property made by a Mahomedan in favour of his widow and his two sons, reserving to himself full power over it during his life, and restricting the son's right to alienate during their mother's life, as she was to enjoy it in lieu of her dower, held to be a disposition of a testamentary nature, and void of the requisites of a sale under the Mahomedan law. MOGUL BEGUM v. FUKERUN BEEBE . 3 Agra, 283

18. ————— Construction of will.—A Mahomedan lady made a will disinheriting her nearest relations and leaving her whole estate to her nephew "Nuslun bad nuslun battun bad battun" (from generation to generation). Held that the devise to the nephew was absolute to him, and did not extend to his sons in case of his death before his aunt. OOMUTOONNISSA BEEBEE v. OOREEFOONISSA BEEBEE 4 W. R., 66

19. ————— Disposition of estate among sharers—Words of duration of estate not denoting more than interest for life.—Construction.—Restriction upon alienation.—Words such as "always" and "for ever," used in an instrument disposing of property, do not in themselves denote an extension of interest beyond the life of the person named as taking, their meaning being satisfied by the interest being for life. An instrument in the nature of a will, made by a Mahomedan, gave shares in his property to his surviving widow, son, and grandchildren, and devoted a share to charitable purposes. It directed that his son "should continue in possession and occupancy of the full sixteen annas of all the estates. . . . All the matters of management in connection with this estate should necessarily and obligatorily rest 'always' and 'for ever' in his hands." It also, with the express object of keeping the property in the family, attempted to restrict alienation by the sharers. There were other provisions to the same effect in regard to the management by his son, who retained it till his death. The defendant, who was a son of that son, having claimed to retain possession of the property in order to carry out the provisions of the will, —Held that, on its true construction, the plaintiff, a sharer under it, was entitled to the full proprietary right in, and to the possession of, her share, notwithstanding the above expressions in the will, and the attempt to control alienation by the sharers. MUHAMMAD ABDUL MAJID v. FATIMA BIBI . . . I. L. R., 8 All., 39

20. ————— Bequest to persons not in existence at testator's death.—A Mahomedan testator who died in 1861 by his will left his property in equal fourth shares to his second and third sons V. and E., to the lawful son (if any) of his eldest son M., and to his (the testator's) brother A. His eldest son M. he disinherited. He directed that the property was not to be divided until V. and E. had attained the age of twenty, and as to the share of the lawful son of M., it was to be held in trust until such son should reach the age of twenty. At the time of the testator's death no son of M. was living. Shortly after his death a son was born to M., but he lived only for a few months. The testator's brother A. was appointed executor of the will. In 1878 V. and E. sued the executor A. and his son S. for an account and division of the proerty, and by a consent-decree passed in 1881 three fifths of the property were given to V. and E., and the remaining two fifths to A. and S. The estate was duly divided in accordance with the decree, and the parties got possession of their respective shares. In February 1884 another son was born to M., and in May 1884 the infant brought this suit by his father and next friend, claiming to be entitled, on his attaining the age of twenty, to one third of the property received by V. and E. under the consent-decree. Held that the plaintiff could not recover, not having been in existence at the date of the testator's death. According to Mahomedan law as well as Hindu law, persons not in existence at the death of a testator are incapable of taking any bequest under his will ABDUL CADUR HAJI MAHOMED v. TURNER (OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE)

[I. L. R., 9 Bom., 158]

21. ———— Charitable bequest.—Statute 43 Eliz., c. 4.—“Dharm,” Meaning of—In the will of a Khoja Mahomedan, written in the English language and form, a gift of a fund “to be disposed of in charity as my executor shall think right” is a valid charitable bequest, and it will be referred to the proper officer of the Court to settle a scheme for the application of the fund to charitable objects by analogy to Act 43 Elizabeth, Cap. 4. Where, however, the will is in the native language, and the word “dharm” or “daram” is used, the word is held too vague and uncertain for the gift to be carried into effect by the Court, the Court dharm or daram including many objects not comprehended in the word “charity” as understood in English law. GANGBHAJ v. THAVAR MULLA . . . 1 Bom., 71

22. ———— Invalid gift for want of assent of heirs—A Mahomedan by his will bequeathed the rents of a certain house in trust for his children, and directed that, after the death of the last surviving child, such rents should be paid to the Committee of the District Charitable Society. Held that, as the gift to the children being a gift to the heirs of the testator to which there was no assent was invalid, the gift to the District Charitable Society also failed. FATIMA BIBEE v. ARIEF ISMAILJEE BHAM . . . 9 C. L. R., 66

23. ———— Prohibition of alienation or partition.—A Mahomedan testator by will decreed that his moveable estate should not be divided or alienated by any of his heirs, and directed his executor to appropriate the net income, according to a schedule annexed to his will, among certain specified persons divided into two classes, viz.,—those who took and those who did not take by inheritance. Held that the intention of the testator was to endeavour to prevent any partition of the estate, and not to convert his heirs-at-law into mere annuitants taking grants from him. The executor held the estate in trust to pay the profits in certain defined shares to the heirs, and their representatives could not plead adverse possession against them so as to bar their claims by lapse of time. KHARJOURUNISSA v. 24. ———— Executor.—Right to nominate successor.—Under Mahomedan law an executor is entitled to nominate a successor to carry out the purposes of the will under which he was made an executor. HAFEEZ-OOB-BAHMAN v. KHADIM HOSEIN . . . 4 N. W., 106

25. ———— Khoja Mahomedan administrator with the will annexed.—Executor, Powers of.—The powers of a Khoja Mahomedan executor or administrator, like those of a Cutchi Mahomedan executor or administrator, seem to be generally limited to recovering debts and securing debtors paying such debts. Where a will gave the executor full powers with regard to the payment of the testator's debts, Held that an administrator with the will annexed, who was a Khoja Mahomedan, succeeded to these powers, and, in a suit brought against him as such administrator by an alleged creditor of the testator's estate, represented all the persons interested in the estate AHMEDBHAY HURIBHAY v. VULLEBHAY CASSUMBHAY [I. L. R., 6 Bom., 703]

26. ———— Infidel executor—The appointment by the will of a Mahomedan of an infidel executor does not invalidate the will. All the acts of such an executor, and his dealings with the property under the will, until he is removed and superseded by the Civil Court, are good and valid. Quare,—Whether, if an application were made by a person interested in the will to have the infidel executor removed, and a proper person appointed in his place, the application would be granted. JEHAN KHAN v. MAINPRIZE.

——— Power of High Court to issue writ of—A writ of mainprize could only be issued where the party applying for it was bailable, and had offered security, but bail had been refused. It could not be issued to a prisoner confined under Bengal Regulation III of 1818, which authorises his detention absolutely and unconditionally, and gives him no right to demand to be released on bail. The writ is one which could be issued only on the Common Law side of the Court of Chancery in England. The power of the Common Law side of the Court of Chancery to issue such writ was not conferred on the Supreme Court, nor is there anything in the Charter of the High Court to give that Court power to issue it. IN THE MATTER OF AMBER KHAN . . . 6 B. There can be no distinction raised between a dissolution of marriage obtained under the Indian Divorce Act and a dissolution obtained under the Mahomedan law. It is only on proof of the existence of the relationship of husband and wife that a Magistrate can make an order under section 234 granting maintenance to a wife; but where proof has been given that such relationship has ceased to exist, he may stay an order already made under that section. *ABDUR ROHOMAN V. 2. ———— Age of majority.—Order of Court under Act XL of 1858 appointing guardian, Effect of—In a suit in Calcutta against one of the makers of a joint promissory note executed in Calcutta on the 9th June 1877, the defendant, who was a Mahomedan, pleaded infancy. It appeared that the defendant was born on the 22nd July 1857, that, by an order of a competent Court, dated 6th November 1865, the father of the defendant was, under Act XL of 1858, appointed guardian of his property, portion of which was situated in the mofussil. Held that the effect of the order under Act XL of 1858 was to extend the minority of the defendant to the age of eighteen years, and that consequently he was a minor on the 22nd June 1875, when the Majority Act IX of 1875 came in force, and therefore, under section 3 of the latter Act, his minority was further extended to the age of twenty-one years, so that on the date of the execution of the note the defendant was still a minor. *RAJ COOMAR ROY v. The defendant's age, at the time he executed the bond, was sixteen years and one or two months; but neither his person nor his property had been taken charge of by the Court of Wards, or by any Civil Court. The defendant having made default in payment, the plaintiff brought the present suit. The defendant pleaded his minority. Held by the Full Bench that the law as to the age of minority governing the case was not Act XL of 1858, but the Hindu law, under which the defendant was not a minor at the time he executed the bond, and that therefore he was liable on it. *MOTHOORMOHUN ROY v. It was subsequently dishonoured, and a suit was then brought by the bank which had cashed the cheque, to recover the amount from the indorser and drawer. The former alleged that the drawer had requested him to sign his name to the cheque, saying that it was a mere matter of form, and he would not be liable for the amount, and that the bank would only cash the cheque when indorsed by him, and in consequence he consented to indorse it, but that he did so without any intention of incurring liability as indorser; that he received no consideration, and that his indorsement was in blank, and not in favour of the bank, and was converted into a special indorsement without his knowledge and consent. The Court held that, at the time of indorsement, the indorser was a minor under English law, and dismissed the suit on the ground of minority. Held that if the Court was satisfied of the fact of the defendant's minority, it should have complied with the provisions of section 413 of the Civil Procedure Code. Held that, assuming the indorser to have been sui juris, the indorsement, taken in conjunction with the facts proved, established a contract by which the indorser was bound to pay the cheque. Per STRAIGHT, Offg. C. J., and DUTHOIT, J., that it was by no means clear or certain that there was any rule of international law recognising the lex loci contractus as governing the capacity of the person to contract, but that, assuming such a rule to be established, the specific limitation of the Majority Act (IX of 1875) to "domiciled persons" necessarily excluded its application to European British subjects not domiciled in British India, that section 11 of the Contract Act must be interpreted as declaring that the capacity of a person in point of age to enter into a binding contract was to be determined by his own personal law, wherever such law was to be found, that this rule was not affected by the Majority Act, so far as concerned persons temporarily residing but not domiciled in British India, whose contractual capacity was still left to be governed by the personal law of their personal domicile, and that such law in the case of European British subjects was the common law of England, which recognised twenty-one as the age of majority. Per OLDFIELD, J., that by the rule of the jus gentium, as hitherto understood and recognised in England, the lex loci would govern in respect to the capacity to contract, but that in framing the Indian Majority Act, which was the lex loci on the subject in India, the Legislature would appear not to have adopted that rule, but, by limiting the operation of the Act to persons domiciled in British India, to have intentionally excluded from its operation persons not domiciled there, and to have left such persons to be governed by the law of their domicile. Per BRODHURST, J., that Act IX of 1875 was intended by the Legislature to be applicable, and in fact was applicable, only to European British subjects domiciled in those parts of India referred to in section 1, and that to any other European British subject whose domicile was in England, but who was temporarily residing in any part of India above alluded to, the privileges and disabilities of minority attached until he had attained the age of twenty-one years. ROHILKHAND AND KUMAON BANK v. the date of the execution of the bond reached the full age of sixteen years, and so attained majority under the Mahomedan law, which, and not the rule contained in section 26 of the Bengal Minors Act (XL of 1858), was the law applicable to him under section 2 (c) of the Majority Act (IX of 1875) before the latter Act came into force, was competent in respect of age to make a contract in the sense of section 11 of the Contract Act (IX of 1872), and the agreement was therefore enforceable as against him. The rule contained in section 26 of the Bengal Minors Act is limited by its terms to "the purposes of that Act," which provides exclusively for the care of the persons and property of minors possessed of property which has not been taken under the protection of the Court of Wards, and it is to such persons only, when they have been brought under the operation of the Act as in it provided, that the prolongation of nonage under section 26 applies. DAMODAR DASS v. The privileges and disabilities of minority, so far as they are not removed by express enactment, attach to European British subjects in this country until they have attained the age of twenty-one years. The same rule ought, on principles of justice, equity, and good conscience, to be observed in the Non-Regulation as in the Regulation Provinces. HEARSEY v. GIEDHAREE LAL . 3 N. W., 338

22. — A. stated that he was born in 1848; that his great-grandfather was, according to the tradition of the family, a European (but of what country in Europe he did not know) residing at Madras, and his grandmother a native, Hindu or Mahomedan; that he did not know whether his great-grandfather and great-grandmother were married, or who his grandmother was, or whether his grandfather was married; that his father married a lady bearing an English name; that he himself and all his relations were Christians; that he was born in Calcutta, and knew of no relatives in Europe. Held that he was the legitimate descendant of a European British subject, and therefore his age of majority was twenty-one years. ROLLO v. 23. — Bombay Minors Act, XX of 1864.—Minor—A Hindu to whom Act XX of 1864 (Bombay Minors Act) is not applied, and who is not governed by the Majority Act, 1875, attains his majority when he attains the age of sixteen years. SHRIDHARAY v. RAMCHANDRABAI . I. L. R., 6 Bom., 463

24. — Charge of property of minor.—Act XL of 1858, s. 2.—Under Act XX of 1864, section 1, it is the charge of a minor's property, and not the property itself, which shall vest in the Civil Court a distinction which has been overlooked in Bar Kesar v. Bar Ganga, 8 Bom., A. C., 33. The meaning of the 1st section of Act XX of 1864, when regarded in connection with the sequel thereof (which provides, for the information of the Civil Court, no such means, regarding the deaths of persons leaving infant children, as would enable the Court to act ex mero motu in every such case), is that the care of the persons of all minors (not being European British subjects) and the charge of their property shall be, as expressly provided in the Bengal Minors Act, XL of 1858, "subject to the jurisdiction of the Court," and there is nothing in the subsequent sections of the Bombay Minors Act which would lead to the conclusion that, until the Court is moved to exercise its jurisdiction, the care of the minors themselves or the charge of their property is vested in the Court, or that more was intended than that, like the Court of Chancery in England, the principal Civil Courts of districts should have the right, if moved so to do, and if they so think proper, to take care of the persons of minors and charge of their property, and that, until the Court does so, the minors cannot be regarded as wards of the Court, or their property as in its charge. It is only for the purposes of Act XX of 1864 that eighteen is laid down as the age of majority (section 30). The Legislature has not, by that Act, intended to prescribe eighteen as the age of majority for all persons of all castes and creeds and for all purposes. That limit is not applicable to any person until the Act be brought into play by the exercise of the Civil Court's jurisdiction. One member (although an infant) of an undivided family, governed by the Mitakshara law, has not such an interest in the joint property as is capable of being taken charge of and managed by the Civil Court or a guardian appointed under Act XX of 1864. Quare,—Whether, under Act XX of 1864, the principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction in the district can take charge of the property of a person who has completed his sixteenth year, but is under eighteen. SHIVJI HASAM v. MALABAR LAW—CUSTODY OF CHILD.

—Nephews—Guardianship, Right of.—Ground for exercise of jurisdiction of Civil Court.—The Civil Judge removed two children, governed by the rule of Marumakatayam, from the custody of their karnavan, and placed them under the guardianship of their father. Held, by the High Court on appeal, that the order should be reversed on the grounds that no case had arisen for the exercise of the Civil Judge's power, and that the order was wholly opposed to the very principle upon which Marumakatayam depends. THATHU BAPUTTY v. MALABAR LAW—CUSTOM.

1. — Nambudri Brahmans.—Proof.—Adoption of sister's son.—A Division Bench of the High Court having directed an issue to be tried by the Subordinate Judge of North Malabar as to whether, by the custom of Malabar, the adoption of a sister's son among Nambudri Brahmins was valid, the subordinate Judge examined eleven witnesses selected by the parties to the suit, all of whom were described as Nambudris of note in both districts of North and South Malabar. These witnesses (with the exception of one whose testimony was self-contradictory) agreed that the adoption of a daughter's or sister's son is recognised by the customary law of Malabar, and supported their opinion by giving instances of such adoption which had taken place within their knowledge, and named the persons alleged to have been adopted in pursuance of the custom as holding estates by virtue of the title thereby acquired. The Division Bench referred to a Full Bench the question whether the evidence sufficiently established the custom alleged. Held by the Full Bench (TURNER, C J, INNES, KINDERSLEY, and MUTTUSAMI AYYAR, JJ) that the evidence was sufficient to establish that the adoption of a sister's son by Nambudri Brahmins is sanctioned by the customary law of Malabar. (Per TURNER, C J, and KINDERSLEY, J) Semble.—The ruling in Gopalayyan v Ragupathi Ayyan, 7 Mad., 250, as to what constitutes sufficient proof of custom, has been too strongly expressed. *ERANJOLI ILLATH VISHNU NAMBUDEI v. 2. ——— Nambudris.—Introduction of stranger to perpetuate existence of illam—According to the custom prevailing amongst Nambudris in Malabar, a person may be introduced into an illam (family) to perpetuate its existence. Such person thereupon becomes a member of the illam, and is prima facie entitled to exercise the urama rights of the illam (i. e., to act as trustee of temples, the hereditary trusteeship of which is vested in the illam), as well as to enjoy the properties belonging to the illam. *KESHAYAN v. 3. ——— Custom in family of the Zamorin Rajas of Calicut.—Presumption as to property in possession of member of family—According to the custom obtaining in the family of the Zamorin Rajas of Calicut, property acquired by a stanom-holder and not merged by him in the property of his stanom, or otherwise disposed of by him in his lifetime, becomes, on his death, the property of the kovilagam in which he was born, and, if found in the possession of a member of the kovilagam, belongs presumed to the kovilagam as common property. *VIRA RAYEN v. 2. ——— Trust management—Power of majority—Where the majority of the uralans of a Malabar devaswam agreed to renew a kanam on terms beneficial to the devaswam after the question of the renewal had been fairly considered by all the uralans,—Held that the decision of the majority was binding upon a dissentient minority. CHABAVUR TERAMATH v. URATHI LAKSHMI [I. L. R., 6 Mad., 270]

3. ——— Alienation of endowed property—Sale of joint property—Uralans of devaswam—Sale by one tarawad without consent of others.—When the uralans of a devaswam were four tarawads,—Held that a sale of the urayama right by one tarawad, without the consent of the others, was altogether invalid, and that the vendee could not redeem a kanam mortgage of the devaswam land, though the mortgagor was karanavan of the tarawad which assumed to sell the urayama right. *UKANDA VARIRIYAR v. 5. ——— Alienation.—Custom—The founder of a Hindu temple who provides that the uralans (trustees or managers) thereof for the time being shall be the karanavams (chiefs) of four distinct families, may be supposed to have established this species of corporation with the object of securing the due performance of the worship and the due administration of the property of the temple by the instrumentality of a class of persons whom he has selected on grounds of special fitness, and it cannot be supposed that he intended to empower such trustees at their mere will to transfer their office and its duties, with all the trust property, to a person unconnected with the families from which the trustees were to be taken, to be used according to his discretion. There is no authority under the general principles of Hindu law for holding that such trustees have power to make such a transfer. Where a custom relied on as sanctioning such a transfer implies the right to sell the trusteeship for the pecuniary advantage of the trustees, that circumstance alone may justify a decision that the custom relied on is bad in law. Where, from the absence of direct evidence of the nature of a Hindu religious foundation, and the rights, duties, and powers of the trustees, it becomes necessary to refer to usage, the custom to be proved must be one which regulates the particular institution. The cases of Greedhara Doss v. Nundo Kishore Doss, 11 Moore's I. A., 405, and Rajah Muttu Ramalinga Setupati v. Peranayagam Pillar, L. R., 1 I. A., 209, referred to and approved. *VURMAH VALIA v. MALABAR LAW—GIFT.

1. ———— Validity of gift.—Delivery of possession.—Plaintiff sued to recover certain land in virtue of an alleged gift from her deceased husband. The parties were subject to the Marumakatayam law. The facts were that the land being in the hands of tenants, a deed of gift with the counterpart lease was delivered by the donor to the plaintiff. It did not appear that there were any title-deeds belonging to the property. Held, reversing the decision of the Principal Sudder Ameen, that the rule of law applicable is that a gift is perfectly valid if such delivery is made as the nature of the object permits, and that this had been done in the present case. — WANNATHAN KANDILE CHIRUTHAI v. KEYAKADATH PYDEL KURUP. 6 Mad., 194

2. ———— Restriction on enjoyment.—Attempt to create estate subject to incidents of Malabar tarawad property.—Sale of interest of donee by judgment-creditor.—The owner of certain land in Malabar made a gift thereof to his two sons and daughter, with the intention that it should be enjoyed by them subject to the incidents of tarawad property, i.e., that the estate should be impartible and held by the donees as joint family estate descendible to the heirs in the female line. Held that the interest of one of the donees in the land was liable to be attached and sold in execution of a decree against him. — *NARAYANAN v. [I. L. R., 9 Mad., 260]

3. ———— Mode of succession to Polliam.—Private property left by poligar.—The mode of succession in a polliam is not such as to render the holder responsible for the debts of his predecessor. There is not a continuance of the previous estate in each successive holder, but a fresh estate created by the gift. However, as respects private property left by a deceased poligar, liability to the extent of the assets taken will attach upon the takers, if there was an obligation upon the owner of the property so taken to pay the debt. — SUBBA CHETTY v. MASTI IMMADI. 3 Mad., 303

MALABAR LAW—JOINT FAMILY.

1. ———— Taverai.—Succession.—Tarwad.—In Malabar the word "taverai" has several distinct meanings. In the families of the princes all the houses have separate property, and the senior in age of all the houses succeeds to the royalty with the property specially devoted to it. This mode of succession may be regarded as rather due to public than to private law. Private families have sometimes adopted the same customs, but there is the strongest presumption against the truth of this in the case of the private family. Families becoming very numerous have often split into various branches. In the language of the people, there is community of purity and impurity between them, but no community of property. In the only sense of the word with which Courts of Justice are concerned, people so related are not of the same tarwad. Where there are several houses bearing the same original tarwad name, but with an addition, and there is no evidence of the passing of a member of one house to another, there is the strongest ground for concluding that this separation has taken place. — ERAMBAPALLI KORAPEN NAYAR v. ERAMBAPALLI CHENEN NAYAR
[6 Mad., 411]

2. ———— Joint property.—Acquisitions not disposed of in lifetime.—Family property.—Presumption from position of karanavan.—By the law of Malabar all acquisitions of any member of a family which he has not disposed of in his lifetime form part of the family property. The acquirer, however, may, during his lifetime, hold, alienate at once, and encumber, his self-acquisitions. A karanavan, in possession of the family funds, is presumed to have made all acquisitions with them and for the benefit of the corporate body. But such presumption is not irrebuttable, and his alienation or charge of such acquisitions made during his lifetime may be valid. — KALLATI KUNJU MENON v. PALAT ERBACHA MENON. 2 Mad., 162

3. ———— Self-acquired property.—Assets for payment of debts of deceased acquirer in hands of tarwad.—The self-acquired property of a member of a Malabar tarwad, which, not being disposed of at the death of the acquirer, lapses into the property of the tarwad, enures as assets of the deceased for the payment of his debts in the hands of the members of the tarwad. RYRAPPA NAMBIAI v KELLU KURUP . . . I. L. R., 4 Mad., 150

4. ———— Property assigned for support of females.—Liability of, to attachment in execution of decree against karanavan—Property assigned by the males of a Nayar family for the support of their females is still family property, and should be taken in execution of a judgment against the karanavan. PARRAKEL KONDI MENON v VADAKENTIL KUNNI PENNA . . . 2 Mad., 41

5. ———— Sale of tarwad property.—Powers of karanavan—Assent of members of tarwad, how far necessary—There is no rule of Malabar law that the assent of every member of a tarwad is necessary to render valid the alienation of tarwad property. KALLIYANI v. NARAYANA

7. ———— Right of member of tarwad to an account.—Right to succeed to management of family property—An individual member of a tarwad governed by the Marumakatayam rule has no right to an account from the karanavan. Each member of a tarwad has a right to succeed by seniority to the management of the family property. KUNIGARATHU v. ARRANGADEN . . . 2 Mad., 12

8. ———— Right to manage illom.—Nambudri family.—The right of the eldest member of a Nambudri family to manage the illom is absolute, and where a junior member has in fact managed it, then this is presumed to have been with the permission of the former, who may at any time take up the actual control. NAMBIATAN NAMBUDEI v. property is valid when made with the assent, express or implied, of all the members of the tarwad, and when the deed of sale is signed by the karanavan and the senior anandran if sui juris. Such signature is prima facie evidence of the assent of the family, and the burden of proving their dissent lies on those who allege it. KONDI MENON v SRANGINNEAGATTA AHAMMADA . . . 1 Mad., 248

12. ———— Power of karanavan.—Anandran—The assent of the anandravan is necessary to a sale of tarwad land by a karanavan. The chief anandran's signature to the instrument of sale is sufficient but not indispensable evidence of such assent. KAIPRETA RAMEN v. MAKKHAYIL MUTOOREN . . . 1 Mad., 359

13. ———— Purchaser, Duty of.—Notice—It is the unquestionable law of Malabar that tarwad property is inalienable, except in cases of adequate family necessity. In such cases alienations will be upheld, but it lies upon the purchaser to make out with abundant clearness that the purpose was a proper one. The assent of the senior anandran is some (but rebuttable) evidence that the purpose was proper. Semble.—That, considering the state of Hindu families, a purchaser would be affected with notice by much slighter evidence than a purchaser in other countries. KOYILOTHUPUTEN PURAYIL MANOKI KORAN NAYAR v. 15. ———— Authority of karanavan of tarwad to alienate endowed property.—The authority of a karanavan to make alienations of the immoveable property of the tarwad stands on a different footing from his power to pledge the credit of the tarwad. The karanavan is not the agent of the family to make alienations, but must have special authority in each case. KOMBI ACHEN v. LAKSHMI AHMA

17. ———— The position of a karanavan is not analogous to that of a mere trustee, officer of a corporation, or the like. 18. ——— Power of karanavan.—Incidents of property held by tarwad and by joint Hindu family distinguished. A Court has no power to confer on karanavans larger powers than such as are sanctioned by usage. If such powers are insufficient to secure to tarwads the full enjoyment of their estates, or if they are so limited as to interpose obstacles to the establishment of new industries, the extension of such powers must be sought from the Legislature. *PONAMBILATH PARAPRAVAN KUNHAMOD HAJEE v PONAMBILATH PARAPRAVAN KUTTIATH HAJEE TOD v. 19. ——— Powers restricted by family arrangement.—The ordinary powers of the karanavan of a Malabar tarwad can be restricted by a family agreement to which he is a party, and if, in breach of such agreement, the karanavan makes an alienation to a stranger who has notice of the agreement, the tarwad is not bound by the alienation. *KANNA PISHARODI v. 20. ——— Karanavan, Decree against.—Execution against tarwad property.—Sale.—Right of purchaser.—Res judicata.—Right of junior member of tarwad not impleaded to contest sales of tarwad property in execution of decree against karanavan sued as such.—When the karanavan of a Malabar tarwad has not been impleaded as such in a suit, and there is nothing on the face of the proceedings to show that it was intended to implead him in his representative character, tarwad property cannot be attached and sold in execution of the decree, even though it is proved that the decree was obtained for a debt binding on the tarwad. Although the property of a tarwad may be attached and sold in execution of a decree when the karanavan is sued as representative of the tarwad, members of the tarwad who are not parties to the proceedings, and have not been represented in the manner prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure, are not estopped from showing that the debt for which the decree was passed was not binding on the tarwad. *ITTIACHAN v VELAPPAN. 22. ——— Binding effect on tarwad.—The karanavan of a Malabar tarwad having sued to redeem certain land belonging to the tarwad, which had been demised on kanam, consented to abide by the oath of the mortgagee as to the genuineness of the kanam. The mortgagee having taken the prescribed oath, the suit was dismissed. Held that the junior members of the tarwad were not estopped by the decree in such suit from redeeming the land. Where fraud or breach of duty by a karanavan is proved, his act must be treated as a fraud upon his power, and will not bind the tarwad. THENJU v. CHIMMU [I. L. R., 7 Mad., 41

23. ——— Suit by anandravans to set aside a sale in execution of decree against their karanavan, when maintainable.—The lands sued for being the jeem of a devasam were sold in execution of a decree obtained by defendant No. 1 against the uralans. Plaintiffs, being the anandravans of the uralans, sued to set aside the sale, alleging that the debt was not contracted for devasam purposes and that the decree was collusive. Held that the decree was binding on the plaintiffs, unless it had been obtained by fraud and collusion. *KELU v. 24. ——— Suit to set aside decree and recover lands sold under it.—In suits by a branch karanavan of a Malabar tarwad to recover certain lands belonging to his branch tarwad, which had been mortgaged by a former branch karanavan, the plea was that the plaintiff had no right to sue without the authority of the senior member of the family, the vela kaimal. Upon an issue sent down (in special appeal) by the High Court, it was found by the Civil Judge that there was no binding and peculiar custom in the family depriving the senior member of all management of the property, and vesting it in the branch karanavans. Upon the final hearing it was contended that the contrary had been so irrevocably fixed by judicial decision as to prevent the matter from being open to question, and that this finding was bad in law, as being opposed to binding decrees of competent Courts. Held, by HOLLOWAY, J.—(1) that there was nothing compelling the Court to decide, contrary to the plain rules of law, that this delegation was irrevocable; that perhaps it was not so even by the delegator, and still less was it so by his successors, (2) that the fact of the setting apart of santam property, if it was set apart, can make no difference, and as little can the circumstance of the income reserved, (3) that there was nothing to prevent the Court from deciding that the Civil Judge was right in saying that this was an ordinary Malabar tarwad; and (4) that the renunciation before the Sudder Court was not even irrevocable as against him who made it, and certainly could not have the effect of depriving the senior member, for all future time, of the rights which the law of the country conferred upon him, with the correlative duties upon his becoming senior. By SCOTLAND, C J—That the Court was not constrained to hold that the irrevocability of the arrangement effected in 1866 by the former head of the family, as to the apportionment of the family property between two taveras, and the management of each taverai's allotment by its senior member, was a matter conclusively adjudicated in the course of the litigation, of which there was proof in the records; that such arrangement operated only as a personal renunciation and delegation of the rights of management possessed by the then head of the tarwad; and that assuming it to have been irrevocable by him, it was not binding on the third defendant, admittedly the head of the family by right of seniority. *APPUNI alias AYAMPALLI RAMAN KUMARAN v. MALABAR LAW—MAINTENANCE.

1. ———— Right to maintenance.—Anandran.—Semle.—An anandran's right to maintenance is merely a right to be maintained in the family-house. KUNIGABATU v. ARRANGADEN

[2 Mad., 12]

2. ———— Anandran.—Though the general rule is that an anandran cannot have separate maintenance, there are exceptions to that rule. PERU NAYAR v. AYYAPPAN NAYAR

3. ———— Anandran.—Misbehaviour.—A karanavan (manager) of a Malabar tarwad (family) is not justified in excluding an anandran (junior member) from participation in the income of the family property on the ground of misbehaviour or because the anandran has other property of his own. PUTANVITIL TEYAN NAIR v. PUTANVITIL RAGAVAN NAIR

[I. L. R., 4 Mad., 171]

4. ———— Suit by member of tarwad residing in family house—Remedy.—A member of a Malabar tarwad living in the tarwad house cannot bring a suit against the karanavan for a monthly allowance in money on the ground that the karanavan does not make sufficient provision for his or her maintenance. KUNHAMMATHA v. KUNHI KUTTI ALI . . . I. L. R., 7 Mad., 233

5. ———— Karanavan.—Practice of allowing karanavan half the net income disapproved.—In suits for maintenance against the karanavan of a Malabar tarwad, the practice of awarding one moiety of the net income of the tarwad to the karanavan is not authorized by law. NARAYANI v. GOVINDA . . . I. L. R., 7 Mad., 352

6. ———— Member of tarwad with private means.—The fact that a member of a Malabar tarwad has private means does not affect his right to subsistence where the income of the tarwad is sufficient to provide for all a suitable subsistence; but when the income is insufficient for this purpose, the karanavan must take into consideration the private means of each member. Putanvitil Teyan Nair v. Putanvitil Raguwan Nair, I. L. R., 4 Mad., 171, distinguished. THAYU KUNJAMA v. SHUNGUNNI VALIA KYMAL . . . I. L. R., 5 Mad., 71

7. ———— Member of tarwad.—Taverai.—A member of a tarwad divided into "taveras" with separate dwelling-houses may claim to be maintained by the karanavan in the house of the "taverai" to which he or she belongs. CHALAYIL KANDOTHA NALLAKANDIYIL PAEVADI v. CHALAYIL KANDOTHA CHATHU NAMBIAR

[I. L. R., 4 Mad., 169]

8. ———— Maintenance of families of male members by tarwad.—In North Malabar the male members of a Nayar tarwad are by custom entitled to receive from the karanavan an allowance for the maintenance of their consorts and children while living in the tarwad house. VARIKARA VADAKA VITTEL VALIA PARVATTHI v. VARIKARA VADAKA VITTEL KAMARAN NAYAR

[I. L. R., 6 Mad., 341]

9. ———— Mapillas.—Separate maintenance.—Marriage.—The junior male members of a Mapilla tarwad governed by the Marumakatayam law are entitled to maintenance from the tarwad when living in the houses of their consorts and also to a higher rate of maintenance when living with their consorts than when living as single men. CHOWAKARAN ORKATARI BAPPAN v. CHOWAKARAN CHEERIA ORKATAN MAKKI

MALABAR LAW—MORTGAGE.

1. ————— Kanam mortgage.—The question whether a kanam is to be regarded as a lease or a mortgage depends upon the object for which the tenure was created. Where a kanam is granted as a security for the repayment of money advanced to the jenmi, the law of limitation applicable to mortgages must be applied. NELLAYA VARIYATH SILAPANI v. VADAKIPAT MANAKEL ASHTAMURTI NAMBUDEI

[I. L. R., 3 Mad., 382

2. ————— Failure to give possession.—Right of suit for money advanced on it.—When the demisor of land under a kanam agreement is unable to give possession, the demisee may repudiate the contract and recover the amount advanced. VAYALIL PUDIA MADATHEMMIL MOIDIN KUTTIAYISSA v. UDAYA VARMAVALIA RAJAH

[2 Mad., 315

3. ————— Suit for redemption.—Express agreement.—Although the right to hold for twelve years is inherent in every kanam according to the custom of the country, it is competent to the jenmi to exclude this right by express agreement. SHEKHARA PANIKER v. RAJU NAYAR

[I. L. R., 2 Mad., 193

4. ————— Right to hold for twelve years.—A kanam-holder who denies his jenmi's title forfeits his right to hold for twelve years. RAMEN NAYAR v. KANDAPUNI NAYAR

[1 Mad., 445

5. ————— Right to hold for twelve years.—A kanamdar's right to hold for twelve years depends on his acting conformably to usage and the jenmi's interest, and is lost if he repudiates the jenmi's title. It makes no difference when this is first done in his answer. MAYAVANJARI CHUMAREN v. NIMINI MAYURAN

2 Mad., 109

6. ————— Right of redemption.—Denial of jenmi's title.—Where a first kanam-holder in his answer to a redemption suit by a second kanam-holder, for the first time denied his own kanam, and alleged an independent jenmam right,—Held that he had not thereby forfeited his right to rely upon the option to make a further advance, to which as kanam-holder he was entitled, though the denial and allegation were false, and though his documents in support of such allegation were forged. PAIDAL KIDAYU v. PARAKAL IMBICHUNI KIDAYU

1 Mad., 13

7. ————— Right of tenure.—A kanam mortgagee does not forfeit his right to hold for twelve years from the date of the kanam by allowing the porapad to fall into arrear. RAUTAN v. KADANGOT SHUPAN

1 Mad., 112

See also KUNJU VELAN v. MANAVIKRAMA ZAMORIN KRISHNA MANNADI v. SHANKARA MANAVAN

1 Mad., 113, note

8. ————— Ejection before expiration of time.—A mel-kanamdar cannot eject a kanamdar or his assignee before the expiration of twelve years from the date of the kanam. PRAMATAN TUPEN NAMBUDEIPAD v. MADATIL RAMEN

[1 Mad., 236

9. ————— Right to redeem, and make further advances.—The holder of a mel-kanam may recover the land from the kanam-holder, after the expiry of the term of the kanam, on payment of the sum advanced by the latter and of the value of improvements. The jenmi is not bound to give the kanam-holder the option of making further advances before demising to another tenant on kanam. MARAKAR v. MUNHORULI PARAMESWARAN NAMBUDEI

I. L. R., 6 Mad., 140

10. ————— Tenant's right to improvements prior to demise sued on.—Presumption.—Usage.—There is no universal usage in Malabar, nor any presumption that a tenant is not entitled to compensation for improvements effected prior to the date of the kanam under which he holds, and not specially reserved to him by the kanam deed. MUPANAGARI NARAYANAN NAYAR v. VIRUPATCHAN NAMBUDEIPAD

I. L. R., 4 Mad., 287

11. ————— Redemption of kanam.—Amount to be ascertained before decree.—Value of improvements to be ascertained before decree.—Jenmi.—Right to deduct arrears of rent due from sum payable.—When a decree is passed for recovery of land demised on kanam on payment of the amount received as renewal fee, the amount must be ascertained at the trial and inserted in the decree. On taking an account between the jenmi (mortgagor) and kanam holder (mortgagee), the former, on redemption, has by custom a right to deduct all arrears of rent due to him from the sum which he has to pay to the latter, before recovering possession of the land. KANNA PISHARODI v. KOMBI ACHEN

[I. L. R., 8 Mad., 381

12. ————— Right to set off arrears of rent against claim for improvements.—Mortgage of right of kanamdar, how affected.—A Malabar jenmi (mortgagor) being entitled, on redemption of the land, to set off a claim for arrears of rent due to him by the kanam-holder (mortgagee) against the claim of the latter for compensation for improvements, a pledge of his rights to a third party by the kanam-holder will not prejudice the right of the jenmi to set off his claim for arrears of rent against the sum found due to the kanam-holder for improvements. ACHUTA v. KALI

[I. L. R., 7 Mad., 545

13. ————— Time for redemption.—Where a deed was described as a kanam deed and contained stipulations as to compensation for improvements, a clause to the effect that the land was to be surrendered "whenever the amount advanced is ready" will not entitle the mortgagor to redeem before the customary twelve years' term has expired, but must be construed as referring to a period subsequent to the term of twelve years. KANARA v. GOVINDAN

I. L. R., 5 Mad., 310

14. ————— Improvements.—Trees of spontaneous growth.—Redemption suit.—Costs of ascertaining value of improvements.—According to Malabar custom, kanams (mortgages) must, on the expiry of the term, either be discharged or renewed. On redemption of a kanam, the kanam-holder (mortgagee) is not entitled to claim under the head of improvements the value of trees of spontaneous growth. In suits to redeem land demised on kanam tenure, on payment of the value of improvements, the costs of the adjudication necessitated by the refusal of either party to accept the terms of compensation offered or demanded by his opponent should, when those terms are reasonable, be charged on the party refusing. NARAYANA v. NARAYANA

[I. L. R., 8 Mad., 284]

15. ————— Redemption on terms of admitted demise—Improvements.—Local custom.—Jenmi's right to a moiety.—Arrears of rent.—Jenmi's right to deduct from amount payable by him—In a suit brought against A and B. for redemption of land alleged to have been demised to A. on kanam tenure in 1874, and to be held by B. under A., it was found that the demise of 1874 was invalid because it had been executed fraudulently, but inasmuch as B. admitted that he was in possession under a similar demise of 1855, it was held that the plaintiff was entitled to redeem on the terms of the demise admitted by B. Kunhi Kutti Nair v. Kutti Maraccar, 4 Mad., 359, followed. Local usage of Ernad, by which the jenmi on redemption of a kanam takes credit for one half of the value of improvements effected by the kanamdar, upheld. The right of a jenmi to deduct arrears of rent from the amount payable by him on redemption of a kanam, being a customary incident of the tenure, is not affected by the three years' period of limitation for recovery of arrears of rent. UNNIAN v. RAMA

[I. L. R., 8 Mad., 415]

16. ————— Kanam and otti tenures.—Time for redemption.—Per curiam.—It is settled law that in the case of kanam and otti mortgages it is not competent to the mortgagees to redeem before the arrival of the appointed time. Per INNES, J., dissenting from Mashook Ameen Suzzada v. Mavem Reddy, 8 Mad., 31, if in the case of any mortgage the period for redemption is postponed to a fixed date by a special agreement, effect should be given to such agreement. KESHAVA v. KESHAVA

[I. L. R., 2 Mad., 45]

17. ————— Prior right of tenant to make further advances.—Right to redeem.—The prior right of an ottidar to make further advances is established by authorities, but there is no authority to support a kanamdar's claim to a similar privilege. An ottidar may redeem a prior kanam. KUNHAMU v. KESHAVAN NAMBURI

[I. L. R., 3 Mad., 246]

18. ————— Otti mortgage.—Denial of title.—Forfeiture of right.—An otti holder, like a kanamdar, forfeits his right to hold for twelve years by denying the jenmi's title. KELLU ERADI v. PUAPALLI

2 Mad., 161

19. ————— Redemption of mortgage.—An otti, like a kanam mortgage, cannot be redeemed before the lapse of twelve years from its date. EDATHIL ITTI v. KOPASHON NAYAR

[1 Mad., 122]

KUMINI AMA v. PARKAM KOLUSHERI

[1 Mad., 261]

20. ————— Distinction, between otti and kanam mortgage—An otti differs from a kanam mortgage, first, in respect of the right of pre-emption which the otti-holder possesses; secondly, in being of so large a sum that practically the jenmi's right is merely to receive a peppercorn rent. KUMINI AMA v. PARKAM KOLUSHERI

[1 Mad., 261]

21. ————— Right of jenmi.—Right of a second mortgagee—During the continuance of a first otti mortgage, the jenmi is in the same position as regards his right to make a second otti mortgage to a stranger after, as he was before, the lapse of twelve years from the date of the first mortgage. Where a jenmi made an otti mortgage, and more than twelve years after made a second otti mortgage to a stranger, without having given notice to the first mortgagees, so as to admit of the exercise of their option to advance the further sum required by the jenmi,—Held that the second mortgagees could not redeem the lands comprised in the first mortgage. ALI HUSAIN v. NILLAKANDEN NAM-BUDIRI

1 Mad., 356

22. ————— Kaividu otti tenure.—According to Malabar law, land demised on the tenure called kaividu otti is redeemable. KUNDU v. IMPICHI

I. L. R., 7 Mad., 442

23. ————— Right to make further advance.—Second mortgage to stranger without notice to otti-holder invalid—R. having conveyed certain land to P on otti tenure (mortgage) in 1852, executed a deed of further charge (ottikumpuram) in 1873 to P's widow, and in 1879 conveyed the jenm (equity of redemption) to her. Between 1873 and 1879 R. mortgaged the same land to A. by jenm panayam deed. In a suit by A. to enforce his mortgage,—Held that inasmuch as R. had not given notice to the otti-holder, nor given her the option of making the further advance made by A., A. had no claim against the land. AMBU v. RAMAN

[I. L. R., 9 Mad., 371]

24. ————— Forfeiture of right of pre-emption.—An otti-holder does not forfeit his right by endeavouring to set up further charges in answer to a suit for redemption and failing to prove them, or by denying that an assignment of his jenmi's title is valid because it was made without his consent in writing and in defiance of his right of pre-emption without previous offer to him. KANNOTH TULUVAN PARAMBAN KUNHALI v. VANNATHAN VITTIL KINATHE

I. L. R., 3 Mad., 74

25. ————— Sale of jenmi's rights at Court sale.—An otti mortgagee, if he avails himself of his right of pre-emption, must pay whatever sum is bonâ fide offered to the jenmi for his

equity of redemption, but the otti-holder is entitled to be fully informed as to the circumstances and amount of the offer before electing to buy. Public notice of, and the option of bidding at, a Court sale of the jenmi's rights, do not constitute a valid offer of pre-emption so as to deprive the otti-holder of his right of pre-emption, if he does not purchase the jenmi's rights. CHERIA KRISHNAN v VISHNU NAMBUDEI . . . I. L. R., 5 Mad., 198

26. — Right of pre-emption—Further charge created by jenmi.—Auction sale of jenmi's rights subject to further charge.—Cause of action—Remedy of veppu-holder.—A jenmi (mortgagor) having conveyed certain land upon a veppu tenure (mortgage, of which the right of pre-emption and the option of making further advances are incidents), created a further charge on the land, without giving the veppu-holder the option of making the advance required. In execution of a decree against the jenmi, a judgment-creditor brought to sale the right of the jenmi in the land subject to the further charge. In a suit brought by the veppu-holder to set aside the auction sale on the ground that his right of pre-emption was injured thereby,—Held that the suit would not lie. VASUDEVAN v KESHAVAN . . . I. L. R., 7 Mad., 309

27. — Peruarthum mortgage.—Local law of Malabar.—Redemption—In the case of a mortgage of the kind prevailing in a certain part of Malabar called a "peruarthum" mortgage, when the mortgagor redeems, the mortgagee is entitled (before restoration of the mortgaged land) to be paid its market value at the time of redemption, not the amount for which the land was mortgaged. *SHEKARI VARMA VALIA RAJAH v. 1. — Proof of malice.—Suit for damages for wrongful attachment.—Reasonable and probable cause, Absence of—Proof of malice is essential to support a suit for damages for the wrongful suing out of mesne process. By malice in its legal sense something less is meant than malevolence or vindictive feeling. Acts done vexatiously for the purpose of annoyance, acts done wrongfully and without reasonable and probable cause, acts done wantonly and without the exercise of any caution in investigating the necessity for them, have been held to be malicious. At the same time, to make an act malicious, it must be shown that it was done with a wrongful intention. Acts done in good faith and without any wrongful intention, though they may be such as a cautious person would have abstained from, are not necessarily malicious. From proof of the absence of such cause as would influence a man of ordinary caution, malice may be presumed, but this is an inference which it is optional with the Court, and not compulsory on it, to draw, and it may be rebutted by proof of good faith. When the persons against whom malice is to be proved are not themselves present, but act through agents at a distance, the inference of malice should not be drawn from the mere proof of the absence of reasonable cause. GOUTIERE v. ROBERT . . . 2 N. W., 353

2. — Suit for damages for malicious attachment.—Reasonable and probable cause.—In an action for damages for a malicious attachment, it must be shown that the defendant has acted with malice as well as without reasonable and probable cause. The circumstances that the facts stated in an application for attachment were true, and that nothing was concealed which the Court ought to have known, is evidence that the applicant had reasonable cause upon those facts for the application. *CHOUNDHAREE SHEORAJ SINGH v. 1. — Right to sue.—Previous criminal prosecutions.—Offence under s. 211, Penal Code.—Compounding offence.—A criminal prosecution for an offence under section 211, Penal Code (false charge), is not a condition precedent to the right to sue for damages. The bringing of a civil suit imports no corrupt agreement or compounding of the offence in such a case. Shama Churn Bose v. Bholu Nath Dutt, 6 W. R., Civ. Ref., 9, followed. *VIRANNA v. 2. — Reasonable and probable cause—Effect of order of discharge of a person accused of an offence before a Magistrate.—Presidency Magistrates' Act, IV of 1877, s. 87.—The discharge of an accused person by a Presidency Magistrate, under section 87 of the Presidency Magistrates' Act, IV of 1877, is such a termination of the prosecution as entitles the accused to maintain an action for malicious prosecution. *VENU v. [1 Agra, 38]

8. ————— Omission to allege malice and want of reasonable and probable cause.—Where a plaintiff alleges the cause of action to be the prosecution of a false charge of forgery, and the statement of the subject-matter imports that the charge was false to the knowledge of the defendant, the omission to allege expressly malice and the absence of reasonable and probable cause is no good ground of objection to the hearing of the suit. *RAMASAMI AYYAN v. 14. ————— Want of reasonable cause—Inference of malice.—In a suit for damages on the ground that the defendant made a false charge of defamation against the plaintiff and had him arrested and taken before the Magistrate, who dismissed the charge,—Held that the essence of the case lay in the question whether or not the complainant had reasonable ground for complaining before the Magistrate that the plaintiff had defamed him. 16. ———— Evidence of reasonable and probable cause.—Conviction by Magistrate and acquittal in Sessions Court—In a suit to recover damages for a malicious prosecution, it was proved that the case for the prosecution having been that the plaintiffs had dishonestly broken open the defendant's grain-pit, and the defence that it was done under a claim of right, the Joint Magistrate convicted the accused, but that his sentence was reversed by the Court of Session.—Held that, in the absence of any special circumstances to rebut it, the judgment of one competent tribunal against the plaintiffs afforded very strong evidence of reasonable and probable cause. PARIMI BAPURAZU v. BELLAMKONDA CHINNA VENKAYYA 3 Mad., 238

17. ———— Conviction by Criminal Court—In a suit for damages for defamation of character by maliciously bringing a false charge against the plaintiff, it is important, in determining the same, to see how the charge has been treated by the criminal authorities; and when it was found that the plaintiff had actually been convicted by one Court, that might well be regarded as a weighty circumstance to show that the defendant acted from some adequate cause and not maliciously. GUNGA RAM v. HOOLASKE 2 N. W., 88

18. ———— Malice.—Negligence, Inference from—The defendant had charged the plaintiff with cheating by personation in falsely pretending that his (plaintiff's) wife had been delivered of a son, and procuring a child and passing him off as the son so born. The case was dismissed by the Magistrate, and the plaintiff brought the present suit for malicious prosecution. The defendant alleged reasonable and probable cause and the absence of malice. The Civil Judge awarded Rs50,000 damages to the plaintiff. Upon appeal, it was contended that the charge was not malicious, though the facts upon which it was based were allowed to be false. Held that this depended upon the question of the absence of reasonable and probable cause, and in case of the absence, upon the cogency of the inference derivable from it. The test which has received the most approbation is partly abstract and partly concrete. Was it reasonable and probable cause for any discreet man? Was it so to the maker of the charge? Upon the facts of this case,—Held that if defendant's conduct was mere negligence, it was dissoluta negligentia, that the facts alleged in support of the charge were such as, if believed at all, could only be believed and acted upon through such negligence that the inference of malice was irresistible. GODAY NARRAIN GAJPATHI RAU v. 19. ———— Guilty knowledge.—Criminal intention.—Proof of malice.—It is not to be presumed, as a matter of course, from the existence of an overcharge in an account, although the error may be an important error, that the tradesman delivering the account intentionally inserted it with a view to defraud. There should generally be something more than the entry of the overcharge to justify the presumption that it was made with a guilty knowledge and criminal intention. W. manufactured and delivered to D. a punkha with iron supports. In the bill delivered to D. the iron-work was entered and charged as weighing four maunds. D. paid a certain sum on account, promising to pay the balance if he was satisfied that the charge for the iron-work was not exorbitant. W. sued D. in the Small Cause Court for the balance due on account of the punkha. It then appeared that the iron-work only weighed a little over two maunds. The Small Cause Court Judge dismissed the claim in respect of the punkha and iron-work, on the ground that the payment already made was sufficient. On 31d February D. applied to the Judge for sanction to prosecute W. for making a false claim. On the next day, without making any inquiry or asking W. for an explanation, and without awaiting the result of the investigation by the Small Cause Court Judge, which would have satisfied him that there was no sufficient ground for imputing a criminal intention to W., he instituted a charge of cheating against W. in the Magistrate's Court. When the Judge of the Small Cause Court closed his investigation and refused sanction, D. did not withdraw from the prosecution of the charge in the Magistrate's Court, which was subsequently dismissed. It was proved at the investigation in the Small Cause Court that four maunds of iron had been delivered to the workmen of W. and entered by his storekeeper as expended. In a suit by W. against D. to recover damages for a malicious prosecution,—Held that the institution of the charge in the Magistrate's Court, after the defendant had brought the matter before the Judge of the Small Cause Court, and knew it was under the Judge's consideration, and his persistence in the charge in the Magistrate's Court when, after investigation, sanction had been refused by the Small Cause Court Judge, was sufficient proof of malice, and that on the facts there was no reasonable cause for criminal proceedings. WEATHERALL v. MAMLATDARS' COURTS ACT, BOMBAY, III OF 1876—

————— "Houses"—"Premises."—The intention of Bombay Act III of 1876 as stated in the preamble, was not to abolish the old Mamlatdars' Courts and create new Courts under the same name, but was to bring into one consolidating and amending Act so much of the old law and such new law as appeared necessary for the continued regulation of the existing Courts. The High Court is, therefore, not deprived of the powers of superintendence and revision which it exercised over the Mamlatdars' Courts previously to the passing of that Act. Per PINHEY and F. D. MELVILLE, JJ—Under Bombay Act III of 1876 the Court of a Mamlatdar has, for purposes of the Act, jurisdiction in a town or city situated within the ordinary limits of his talooka. The word "premises" used in section 4 of the Act includes "houses;" and the jurisdiction of the Mamlatdar's Court, consequently, extends over a house for purposes of the Act. It being not denied that the city of Ahmedabad is within the limits of the Daskroi talooka, the jurisdiction of the Court of the Daskroi Mamlatdar extends over a house in the city of Ahmedabad. *BAI JAMNA v. The applicant thereupon brought the present suit against the opponent to recover possession. The Mamlatdar, relying on a Government circular, dismissed the suit as res judicata. The applicant applied to the High Court under its extraordinary jurisdiction. Held that the decree made by the Mamlatdar in the former suit, under clause (c) of section 15 of the Mamlatdars' Courts Act, III of 1876, was no bar to the exercise by him of jurisdiction in the present suit, the present plaintiff

Held that A. was entitled, as he would have been under section 270, to some priority over the other creditors. whose property consisted of a village which was attached in 1859. The village was under the management of the Collector, whom the Courts below treated as a manager put in under section 243 of the Code of Civil Procedure. The decree-holders received rateable shares in the nett income of the village in liquidation of their respective decrees. It appeared that it would take fifteen years to pay off the various decree-holders. The petitioner applied to the Civil Court for an attachment of the village in execution of his decree. The application was refused on the ground that the village was already under attachment in satisfaction of other decrees. Upon appeal the High Court ordered a sale of the village, the sale-proceeds to be dealt with in accordance with the proper provisions of the Code, on the ground that it could never have been intended to give the Civil Courts for an indefinite length of time the management of the encumbered estates of the country, or to compel decree-holders to submit to such an unreasonable delay as fifteen or twenty years before obtaining satisfaction of their decree. Quære.—Whether section 243 was intended to be applied to the case of more than a single decree-holder. REDNUM ATCHUTARAMAYYA v. 12. ————— Ground for rejecting application.—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, s. 243.—The fact of the judgment-debtor's possessing properties other than the one attached, is no ground for rejecting an application under section 243, Act VIII of 1859, for the appointment of a manager. DEBKUMARI BIBEE v. 15. ————— Civil Procedure Code, 1859, s. 243.—Decree on mortgage.—Section 243, Act VIII of 1859, does not apply to a decree on a mortgage, when the decree declares that certain property is to be sold in satisfaction of the mortgage-debt. A manager, therefore, cannot be appointed under section 243 in such a case. WOMDA KHANUM v. RAJROOP KOAR [I. L. R., 3 Cal., 335; 1 C. L. R., 295]

17. ————— Civil Procedure Code, 1859, s. 243.—Power of Courts in mofussil to appoint manager pending suit or administration.—Held, per PHAR, J., that section 243, Act VIII of 1859, does not give the Court authority to appoint a manager to carry on a judgment-debtor's business pending execution proceedings, and to invest him with power to raise money for that purpose. Quære.—Whether the Civil Courts in the mofussil have the power possessed by the Court of Chancery in England and by the High Court in Calcutta of managing the property of parties to a cause pending suit or administration. But however this may be, the Court's manager, under such circumstances, only acquires a right to charge his costs and expenditure against the parties to the suit or persons who have knowingly placed themselves in a like position relative to his management, and even then he can only do so in respect of such expenditure as has been expressly sanctioned by the Court. MORAN v. 20. ————— Power of manager.—Officer of Court.—A manager appointed under Act VIII of 1859, section 243, so far as he is an officer of the Court, is at most the hand of the Court for the purpose of gathering in, on behalf of the judgment-debtor, the moneys due to him, in order that they may be immediately applied to the satisfaction of the decree. If he does more than this and deals with the subject of the property itself, he must do so as the agent of the judgment-debtor, and not properly as an officer of Court. *IN THE MATTER OF THE PETITION OF TEIL & Co. The defence to the suit was that a previous marriage had, on 6th December 1871, been performed between the respondent and the petitioner's sister, and the respondent prayed that the second marriage might be declared a nullity. The ceremony of 6th December 1871 had taken place while the petitioner's sister was on her death-bed and in extremis, and had been celebrated in accordance with the rites of the Roman Catholic Church, and it was held both by the original Court and on appeal to be a valid marriage. The first Court (CUNNINGHAM, J.) held that the second marriage was null and void, on the ground that the parties were within the prohibited degrees. Held, on appeal (by GARTH, C. J., and WILSON, J., while referring to a Full Bench the question "whether the second marriage was a valid marriage, or, on the other hand, was either void or voidable"), that it was competent to the Court, in a suit for restitution of conjugal rights, to make a declaration of nullity of marriage if the respondent showed himself entitled to such relief. Held by the Full Bench.—The prohibited degrees mentioned in section 19 of the Indian Divorce Act do not necessarily mean the degrees prohibited by the law of England. All that was known in respect of the parties to the marriage being that they were Roman Catholic subjects with Portuguese names, and it not having been found whether they were of English or any other European descent, or of native or mixed parentage.—Held that the prohibited degrees for the parties to the marriage were not the degrees prohibited by the law of England, but those prohibited by the customary law of the class to which they belonged,—that is to say, the law of the Roman Catholic Church as applied in this country. Held by the Division Bench (GARTH, C. J., and WILSON, J.), on the case being returned to it—Where a man and a woman intend to become husband and wife, and a ceremony of marriage is performed between them by a clergyman competent to perform a valid marriage, the presumption in favour of everything necessary to give validity to such marriage is one of very exceptional strength, and, unless rebutted by evidence strong, distinct, satisfactory and conclusive, must prevail. Piers v. Piers, 2 H. L. C., 331, followed. According to the rule of the Church of Rome, a dispensation from the proper ecclesiastical authority is necessary to give validity to a marriage between a man and the sister of his deceased wife. In this case the parties were Roman Catholics and intended to become husband and wife, and a ceremony of marriage was performed between them by a clergyman competent to perform a valid marriage. Held that the Court was bound to presume that a dispensation necessary to remove the obstacle to the marriage on the ground of affinity had been obtained. *LOPEZ v. The Sessions Judge discharged the accused without trial on the ground that the enactment in question was inapplicable to the celebration of a marriage according to the Hindu form by a Hindu priest, though one of the contracting parties was a Christian convert. Held that this view of the law was erroneous, and that the accused was prima facie liable under section 56 of the Act. ANONYMOUS CASE

Construction of settlement—Trust funds—S. being entitled to personal estate by a settlement executed upon her marriage with R., vested it in trustees on terms which conferred upon her an estate for her separate use for life, with remainder, in case she should die in the lifetime of her husband, to her children, share and share alike. The settlement did not contain a power to invest in the purchase of real estate. R. died in the lifetime of S., and a portion of the trust fund was invested by the trustees in the purchase from S. of real estate vested in her as representative of R. S. afterwards married P.; and during her second coverture a further portion of the trust fund was, with the consent of S., invested in the purchase of real estate. S. survived P. and died intestate, leaving a son and daughter and the children of another daughter her next of kin. Held, first, that the events contemplated by the settlement not having arisen, the trust fund became the absolute property of S.; and, second, that the devolution of the trust fund was to be governed by the state of its investment at the time of her death, and that therefore so much of it as was invested as above must descend as real estate. Held, also, the parties being neither Mahomedans nor Hindus, and though not, strictly speaking, all of them European British subjects, yet having all of them adopted the law which affects European British subjects in India, the real estate, whether situated within or without the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court, would descend to the heir-at-law. RIGORBY v SMITH

A. & Co.*, the ship's agents, who had hired the boat, and not the captain, were liable. Held on appeal, reversing the judgment of the lower Court, but without costs, that the captain was not absolved from liability because the injury was caused by the negligence of the crew, although they acted contrary to his orders. That it was the duty of the captain to deliver the cargo to the consignees, and the loading of the cargo-boats was a part of that duty; and that the fact of the owners of the ship having agents in Calcutta did not alter the relations between the captain and the public. *SUTHERLAND v. Barlor and bailee—Proprietor and driver of public conveyance.—Bombay Act VI of 1863.—The plaintiffs sued the proprietor of a buggy for damages sustained by them by reason of the negligence of the driver of the buggy. It was proved that the arrangement between the defendant and the driver was that the driver should be entrusted with the buggy and the use of two horses for the day to be used entirely at the driver's discretion for the purpose of plying for hire. The driver was to pay three rupees a day for the use of the buggy and horses. All that he made above that sum was his perquisite for his labour, and any deficiency he had to make good. Held that the relation between the proprietor and driver of the buggy was that of master and servant, and that the proprietor was liable for the driver's negligence. The relation between the proprietor and driver of a public conveyance established by Bombay Act VI of 1863 is similar to that existing in England under the English Acts BOMBAY TRAMWAY COMPANY v. C. communicated the circumstances to an assistant in defendant's firm, who afterwards went with U. C. and forcibly took the goods from the plaintiff's boat, without satisfying the plaintiff's lien thereon, and the defendants received them into their godowns. It was proved that U. C. and the assistants acted without the knowledge or authority of the defendants, and that the defendants received the goods without any knowledge of how they had been obtained. Held that, in the absence of such knowledge on their part, the receipt of the goods by them did not amount to a ratification of the wrongful act of their assistant and *U. 15. ———— Unskilfulness—Insolence.—Justifiable dismissal—Unskilfulness in a servant is no ground for dismissal unless it amounts to absolute incompetence. A solitary instance of insolence is not sufficient to justify a master in dismissing a skilled servant. Where no time was specified for a day's work in a contract, whereby a company (the defendants) engaged the plaintiff, a skilled mechanic, in the capacity of an engineer, and "to make himself generally useful," any work within his capacity was held to form part of his duty. Superintendence of gas-pipes is within it. without regard to the probabilities of his obtaining similar employment. The dismissal of a servant is justified by refusal to disobey lawful orders, and acts of insubordination by the use of intemperate language to his employers. REID v. SCOTT THOMSON & Co [2 Hyde, 172

17. ———— Misconduct of servant.—Right to portion of pay due at end of month.—A servant is not liable for his misconduct to forfeit such portion of his arrears of pay as had become due to him at the expiration of a month's service. BRJOJ MOHUN ROY* 1 Hay, 297

18. ———— Wrongful dismissal, Suit against Government for.—Contract of service.—Public servant.—Payment of monthly wages—A suit for wrongful dismissal by one of its servants will lie against the Government. In a suit by a subordinate officer in the Public Works Department for wrongful dismissal against the Government, in which it was admitted that there was no time of service fixed, and in which the plaintiff put in a memorandum of agreement between himself and the Government, stipulating that he should give six months' notice of his intention to leave the service of the Government,—Held that the hiring was indefinite, and that although the plaintiff had bound himself to give six months' notice prior to leaving their service, there was no corresponding obligation on the Government to give notice before dismissing him. The Government, however, would not be allowed to exercise this power capriciously, or to the damage of the servant. An indefinite hiring in India does not mean a hiring for a year. The mere payment of wages monthly is not enough to show that a hiring is a monthly hiring. HUGHES v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL 7 B. L. R., 688

19. ———— Wrongful dismissal, Suit for.—Acquiescence in reduced rate of wages and stoppage of wages—On the 4th of July 1860 C engaged to come to India as engine-driver for the East Indian Railway Company on a progressive salary of Rs152-11-7 per month for the first year, commencing July 4th, 1860, Rs174-8-8 for the second; Rs196-5-9 for the third; Rs218-2-10 for the fourth, with a free passage home; and the Company might at any time determine the engagement by a six months' notice. The Company gave this notice in September 1861. When the six months' notice expired the plaintiff was driving ballast trains, receiving (under his agreement) Rs174-8-8 per month. He continued to be so employed, and to receive pay at the same rate, without interruption or objection, until the beginning of 1864, when he was employed to drive passenger trains for the defendants, who thereupon increased his salary. The plaintiff did not assent to the increase, but claimed the balance of salary due to him, as on the footing of his whole service having been service under the original agreement. His demand not being acceded to, he sued the Company to enforce it, and also for his passage-money home. He also sued for his salary for May 1861, during which month he had been suspended, and his pay had been withheld, but he had not previously claimed the pay so withheld. In 1862 he had applied to be restored to his position under his original agreement, and was refused. The Court below gave C a decree for the amount claimed, minus the passage-money. Held on appeal, reversing the decision of the Court below, that a legal notice of dismissal having been given, continuance in the service on a reduced salary is evidence of acquiescence by the servant in his dismissal; that in such a case the servant serves under a fresh contract, not at the rate of wages previously received by him, but at the rate he is actually receiving, that a servant whose wages have for one month been stopped during suspension for alleged misconduct, and who, continuing in the service, has not claimed them for several years, has acquiesced in the stoppage. CAMPBELL v. EAST INDIAN RAILWAY COMPANY. Bourke, A. O. C., 56

20. ————— Incompetence.—
Rendering true and just accounts.—The plaintiff, having obtained recommendations as a tea assistant in the defendant company's garden in Assam, came out to Calcutta, and, after some interviews with the defendants' agents there, entered into an agreement with the defendants to enter into their service as assistant in their tea gardens for a period of three years. The agreement stipulated that the plaintiff should, "when required to do so, render just and true accounts, and give every other particular and information of all moneys, &c., entrusted to him, or that may come into his possession, power, or custody, or under his control;" and it was also agreed that the defendants should "be at liberty to annul this agreement at any time for wilful misconduct of the plaintiff in not fulfilling the terms and conditions to be observed by him, or if he shall be prevented by reason of continued illness from attending to, or be hindered thereby in the performance of, his duties, or by reason of the bankruptcy, insolvency, or dissolution of the defendant company," and in those cases the salary was to cease, and the plaintiff be discharged from the defendant company's service. The plaintiff proceeded to Assam, worked for a short period in the defendants' garden, and was then dismissed from the company's service, on the ground of his incompetence. In an action brought for damages for wrongful dismissal, the Judge of the Small Cause Court was of opinion that, under the circumstances, there was no implied warranty on the part of the plaintiff of his competence, and the grounds for dismissal having been expressly stated in the agreement, the defendants were not justified in dismissing him on another ground, and therefore should not be allowed to give evidence of his incompetence. Held, on reference to the High Court, that the plaintiff, having expressly undertaken to render true and just accounts, his incompetence to do so would, if proved, be an answer to the action, and therefore the defendants ought to have been allowed to give evidence that he was incompetent. "True and just accounts" meant such accounts as an inexperienced assistant in a tea garden might reasonably be asked to render, and were not to be interpreted merely as an undertaking that the plaintiff would act honestly by his employers. Held, also, that the agreement expressly stating the grounds of dismissal did not preclude the defendants from dismissing the plaintiff for incompetence. MACGILLIVRAY v. 35. ————— Beng. Rent Act, 1869, s. 38 (Beng. Act VI of 1862, s. 10).—Power of Collector.—Question of title.—On an application to measure the lands of a particular estate, the Collector is not empowered by Bengal Act VI of 1862 to determine summarily the character of every holding upon that estate, but only to inquire how and by whom every portion of land therein is held, and what rent is payable in respect of such land. In the event of a Collector recording that particular tenants claimed to hold as mokurraridars, a Civil Court would have jurisdiction to determine a title on which a cloud had been cast by his proceedings. WISE v. LAKHOO KHAN . 16 W. R., 50

36. ————— Power of Collector.—Assessment of rents.—Beng. Rent Act, 1869, s. 38 (Beng. Act VI of 1862, s. 10).—Under the above section, the Collector is not entitled to assess the rents at what he considers to be fair and reasonable rates from the rents prevailing in the neighbouring properties, but is only authorised to ascertain for the landlord what the existing condition of his estate is, what are the measurements, what the names of his tenants, and what the rents they are paying. Anunt Manghee v. Joy Chunder Chowdhry, 12 W. R., 371, followed. In a suit for rent by one co-sharer, the plaintiff claimed that the rent should be calculated at the rate fixed by the Collector, in a proceeding held by him under section 10 of Bengal Act VI of 1862. It appeared that the defendants had not had notice of the proceeding, and that the Collector had ascertained the rate from the rents paid in the neighbouring properties. Held that the proceedings of the Collector were irregular, as he had acted without jurisdiction, and that they were not binding on the defendants for the purpose of showing the rate at which rent was payable by them. *BALA CHOWDHRY v. If, however, the Ameen, or the Collector superintending his proceedings, does any act not in conformity with this section, the remedy for any party dissatisfied is to appeal to the Civil Court within the time and in the manner prescribed by Act X of 1859. *BALA THAKOOR v. 42. ———— Interference by third party.—Duty of Collector.—Beng. Rent Act, 1869, s. 38 (Beng. Act VI of 1862, s. 10)—Where the progress of a measurement under section 10, Bengal Act VI of 1862, is interfered with by a third party claiming the land, the proper course for the Collector is to hold his hand, leaving it to the parties to seek their remedy in the Civil Court. He cannot, however, make any order which will prevent the intervenor coming in under section 77, Act X of 1859. WISE v. BANSEE SHAHA. 16 W. R., 51

45. ———— Measurement of chur lands according to agreement.—Effect of error as distinguished from fraud.—Omission to object to measurement at time it was taken.—A superior owner of chur land, and his tenants, who held it in "howladari" tenure, agreed, with reference to alluvion and diluvion, that the chur should be measured from time to time, on notice, and that unless the tenants should give a separate "daul kabuliati" for the land found to be accreted, the superior owner should take possession of it. A measurement by the superior owner was made on notice to the tenants, and bona fide, but it was incorrectly made,—the tenants, however, raising no objection at the time. They, afterwards, when a suit was brought against them by the superior owner for possession of alleged accreted lands, set up the defence that the measurement had been made in their absence and was incorrect. Held by the Privy Council that the tenants could not defeat the suit merely on the ground of the incorrectness of the measurement, there being no fraud; but that they were not entitled to ask the Court to decide what the amount of the property was which the plaintiff was entitled to recover. ALIMUDDI v. KALI KRISHNA TAGORE [I. L. R., 10 Calc., 895]

46. — Measurement of waste lands.—Beng. Rent Act, 1869, s. 38—Beng. Civil Courts Act (VI of 1871), s. 22.—Appeal.—An application for the measurement of a whole estate under section 38 of Bengal Act VIII of 1869 cannot be granted where waste lands in that estate have been brought into cultivation by various ryots, and the landlord is unable to ascertain which of the ryots have appropriated such waste lands as part of their jotes. Before a measurement can be ordered under that section, it is necessary to establish by evidence the facts set out in the petition for measurement; and to show that the lands sought to be measured are known, but that the tenants liable to pay rent in respect of such lands are unknown. LALMA CHEDI LAL v. RAMDHUNI GOPE [I. L. R., 13 Calc., 57]

47. — Measurement of chur lands.—Accretion to tenure.—Measurement made in absence of tenants—Notice.—Where a kabulat stipulated that on the accretion to a certain howla of any new cultivable chur, a fresh measurement should be made of the chur and howla, and that excess rent should be paid for the excess land at a stipulated rate up to five drones, and at pergunnah rates for the residue, in default thereof rent to be realised according to law, or service made on the tenants of a notice "requiring them to take a settlement of the excess land, and to file a kabulat and fixing the time at fifteen days," otherwise the excess land to be settled with others,—the kabulatdar measured the howla and accreted chur without notice to the tenants and in their absence, then served on the tenants a notice thereof, and of the increased rent demanded, requiring them to appear within fifteen days and file a kabulat for the said amount and rent, or that he would take khas possession. In a suit, amongst other things, for assessment of rent of the excess land,—Held that the tenants were not bound by the measurement made by the kabulatdar in their absence. *RAM COOMAR GHOSE v. upon inquiry and proof of his alleged inability. Where an order has been passed by the Civil Court under section 38, and the Collector has upon that order made his decision, ryots aggrieved by the decision ought not to appeal jointly, but separately under section 39 of the Act. *Mahomed Bahadoor Mojomdar v. 1. — (IV of 1875), ss. 3, 5, 6, 7, & 18—Jurisdiction, Admiralty Courts—Board of Trade certificates—Incompetency or misconduct of holder—Statement of grounds.—The powers conferred on Courts of Admiralty by section 5 of Act IV of 1875, of investigating charges of incompetency or misconduct against the holders of Board of Trade certificates, is totally distinct from the power of inquiry into wrecks or casualties conferred on tribunals by the same Act. It is not correct to say that all the sections in chapter II of Act IV of 1875 subsequent to section 5 apply only to inquiries under that section, nor that the Courts mentioned in that section are the only Courts that can cancel a Board of Trade certificate, or report so as to enable the Local Government to cancel its own certificate. A special Court inquiring into a casualty under section 3 has power, if all the provisions of the Act are duly complied with, to cancel a Board of Trade certificate, or to make a report to the Local Government, upon which the Government may cancel its own certificate under section 18. In investigating charges of incompetency or misconduct under section 5 of Act IV of 1875, it is not necessary, in order to give the Court jurisdiction, that such incompetency or misconduct should have occurred on or near the coasts of India. 1 RIGHT TO, AND LIABILITY FOR—

1. ——— Right to mesne profits.—Damages for being kept out of possession.—Regard being had to the constitution of the Courts of this country, which are Courts of justice, equity, and good conscience, a decree-holder should be reimbursed damages for the time during which he is kept out of possession by the wrongful act of another party, whether his claim for subsequent damages be made in the execution of the first decree or in a regular suit. KASHEE NATH KOOER v DEB KRISTO RAMANOOJ DOSS 16 W. R., 240

2. ——— Period for which suit is pending—There is no objection to the award of mesne profits or interest during the whole period for which a suit is pending, however long that period may be. KAKAJI BIN RANOJI v BAPUJI BIN MADHAVAY 8 Bom., A. C., 205

3. ——— Legal owner—Right to sue for mesne profits—A party declared by a final judgment to have the legal title and the right to possession, is, so long as the judgment declaring him to be the legal owner remains in force, the only party who is legally competent to sue for mesne profits. KHETTERMONEE DOSSEE v. GOPEEMOHUN ROY
[1 Hay, 178]

S. C KHETTERMONEE DOSSEE v GOPEEMOHUN ROY 1 Ind. Jur., O. S., 83

4. ——— Co-sharer claiming re-partition of his share.—A co-sharer claiming re-partition of his share is not entitled to mesne profits unless so provided by the wajib-ul-uz. CHUNDER SINGH v. NIETO 3 Agra, 11

5. ——— Co shareis.—Mortgage after foreclosure—A obtained a decree declaring him entitled to possession under a mortgage of one third of the property in dispute, with mesne profits. B. subsequently obtained a decree against A. and the other co-sharers for possession of the whole estate, with mesne profits, under another mortgage, but instead of taking full advantage of his decree he received from all the co-sharers the amount due to him on the original transaction, and restored the property to them. Held that A. was entitled to recover mesne profits due to him under the original decree. BISNOO CHUNDER BISWAS v. TOYLUCK NATH BANERJEE . . . 6 W. R., Mis., 28

6. ————— Co-sharers.—Excess land.—Plaintiff and defendant and certain others were co-sharers of an abad. Each agreed to cultivate certain portions, and afterwards to give up any excess land cultivated by him. Defendant cultivated 399 bighas in excess of his share. Plaintiff sued him and got possession of the excess land on payment to the defendant of a compensation for the expense of cultivation, and then brought his suit for mesne profits. Held that he was not, under the circumstances, entitled to mesne profits. DEENABAYAN DEB v. KALI DAS MITTER

Affirming, on appeal, KALEE DOSS MITTER v. DEB NARAIN DEB . . . 13 W. R., 412

7. ————— Persons not in actual possession.—Right of suit.—Held that where the plaintiffs made over the management of their lands to their bankers, but did not part with the property in the lands, even for a temporary period, they were entitled to maintain a suit for mesne profits against the defendants who trespassed on and occupied the lands whilst the estate was under the management of the bankers. RAMBUTTON RAE v. DWARKA DOSS . . . 2 N. W., 193

8. ————— Decree-holder in possession.—Rents due previous to his possession.—When a decree-holder obtains possession of an estate in execution, he is not at liberty to sue the ryots for rents falling due before the date of his taking possession. His proper course is to sue the late wrongful possessor for mesne profits, including the rents. UMES CHANDRA v. SHASTIDHAR MOOKERJEE . . . 3 B. L. R., Ap., 99

S C WOOMESH CHUNDER ROY v. MARKUND MOOKERJEE . . . 12 W. R., 34

9. ————— Mortgagee after redemption.—Period between date of suit and execution of decree.—A suit for redemption is no bar to a mortgagee afterwards suing the mortgagee, who has been in possession, for mesne profits due between the date of suit and the execution of the decree. GOUR KISHEN SINGH v. SAHAY FUKER CHUND

[7 W. R., 364

10. ————— Redemption of usufructuary mortgage.—Mortgagee refusing to give up possession.—An estate was mortgaged for Rs100; the mortgagee was put in possession, and it was stipulated that he was to enjoy the usufruct in lieu of interest, the mortgagor being entitled to redeem at any time on repayment of the principal. When the mortgagor deposited the principal, the mortgagee set up a false claim upon absolute sale, and forced the plaintiffs into a regular suit, in which possession was decreed to them on payment of the principal. Held that they were entitled to mesne profits for such period as was not barred by the statute of limitation. Held, also, that plaintiffs were entitled to interest from the date of suit. LULEET SINGH v. ALI REZA . . . 8 W. R., 322

11. ————— Unlawful resumption by Government.—Property which had been unlawfully resumed by Government was, on appeal, released by decree of the Privy Council. Held that the owner was entitled to recover mesne profits from the date of the decree. RAMNARAIN MOOKERJEE v. MAHTAB CHUND . . . 1 Ind. Jur., O. S., 48

12. ————— Upanchowks or ustemrari tenure.—A. sued B. for possession with mesne profits of a share in certain talooks, alleging that he purchased it in execution of a decree. B. proved that he held the lands under an upanchowki title. The lower Court, however, awarded to A. mesne profits for six years. Held that B. having proved his upanchowki title, A. could only be entitled to a share of the upanchowki jumma, which was not of the nature of mesne profits, but of rent; and, therefore, a suit to recover that could not be brought in the Civil Court. SHIB KUMAR JOTI v. KALI PRASAD SEN . . . 1 B. L. R., A. C., 167

13. ————— Liability for mesne profits.—Person declared to be in wrongful possession.—A person declared by a decree to be in wrongful possession is liable for mesne profits, which may be recovered from any property in his possession. PEARUN v. AHMED ALI KHAN . . . 4 W. R., Mis., 7

14. ————— Bona fides.—Parties in possession are liable for wasilat to the legal owners whom they keep out of possession, even though there was no mala fides on their part. BYRNATH PERSHAD v. RADHOO SINGH

[10 W. R., 486

15. ————— Holder of property for another.—The mere possession by one person of another's land does not render the former liable to account for the profits. For these he is liable only where he has held tortiously, or under an agreement, express or implied, to make them good. MAHAMMAD ALI BAYA LABBI v. MOHIADIN NAINAR

MESNE PROFITS—continued.1. RIGHT TO, AND LIABILITY FOR—continued.*Liability for mesne profits—continued.

16. ——— Person preventing ryots from paying rent—A lessor who prevents ryots from paying rent to the lessee when the latter comes to take possession is liable for mesne profits, even though he may not himself collect the rents. BHEEKUMBUR SINGH v. RAJ CHUNDER GHOSH

[15 W. R., 196]

17. ——— Keeping owner out of possession—A party who has been active in wrongfully keeping another out of the possession and enjoyment of property is liable for consequential damages, whether he derived any profit himself from the possession of the land or not. GHOGLY SAHOO v. CHUNDEE PERSHAD MISSEER

. 21 W. R., 246

They should only be calculated for any period during which the defendant was active in keeping the plaintiff out of possession. INDURJEET SINGH v. RADHEY SINGH

. 21 W. R., 269

18. ——— Person in wrongful possession without knowledge of defect in his title.—Held, dissenting from a ruling of the late Sudder Court, that mesne profits are always recoverable from a person who has enjoyed them, even though he has been in bona fide possession without knowledge of the defect in his title. He would, if he bought with sufficient inquiry, have a remedy against his vendor. MUGUN CHUNDER CHITTORAJ v. SURBESUR CHUCKERBUTTY

. 8 W. R., 479

19. ——— Person in possession apparently of right afterwards legally dispossessed—Where a defendant had, with apparent right, occupied newly-formed lands from which the plaintiff ejected him by establishing in a civil suit his superior title, the defendant was held liable to account to the plaintiff for those profits which the defendant had derived from the lands, and which the plaintiff, if he had been in possession, would himself have received. ABDOOL KUREEM BISWAS v. CAMPBELL

[8 W. R., 172]

20. ——— Suit by purchaser with notice of defect of title, for reversal of sale.—Where a purchaser, by the institution of a suit for the reversal of the sale, had full notice of the defect of his title, he was, on the reversal of the sale in that suit, held liable for mesne profits. UMAMOYI BURMONEA v. TABINI PRASAD GHOSH

[7 W. R., 225]

21. ——— Vendor and purchaser.—Sale by elder brother during younger brother's minority.—A sale by an elder brother during a younger brother's minority having been set aside and the vendee ejected, the vendee alone, and not the vendor, whose connection with the property ceased with the sale, was held to be liable for mesne profits received and expended by the vendee whilst in possession. SHURUTCHUNDER DEY SIRCAR v. ment was given in plaintiff's favour for possession with wasilat, a third party, in satisfaction of some other claim against the defendant, attached and got possession of the land in dispute. A question consequently arose in executing plaintiff's decree as to the liability for wasilat of the year in which the defendant was put out of possession by the third party. Held that, as under section 223, Code of Civil Procedure, plaintiff might have executed his decree by removal of the party who had got possession under a title created by defendant subsequent to the institution of the suit, he had the means of recovering possession while defendant had not. Under these circumstances defendant could not be held liable for the profits. HARADHUN DUTT v. JOYKISTO BANERJEE

. 11 W. R., 444

23. ——— Obstruction to possession.—Dispossession.—Obstruction to possession may be the ground of a claim for damages, but it cannot support a claim for wasilat unless there has been dispossession and the claimant has been prevented from enjoying rents and profits. CHURN SINGH v. RUNGGOO SINGH

. 15 W. R., 221

24. ——— Joint judgment-debtors—As a general rule a suit for wasilat will lie against parties who have been found in a previous suit for recovery of the land to have been in wrongful possession, and against them only. If the plaintiff has recovered a decree against several persons as joint wrong-doers, he is not at liberty to single out one or more of them only as defendants in the suit for wasilat. SUTTYA NUNDO GHOSAUL v. SUTOOR CHUNDER DOSS

. 14 W. R., 76

25. ——— Joint liability.—Wrong-doers not in possession.—The plaintiff purchased a house with land attached, and sub-let the property to his vendor, one of the defendants. The defendants having in collusion prevented his enjoying rent, he sued for rent, but on their intervention the suit was dismissed. He then brought a regular suit, and obtained a decree from the Civil Court for khas possession. In a suit to recover wasilat,—Held that, although the defendants were not all in possession, yet, as they all continued to oppose the plaintiff's possession, they were jointly liable for the wasilat. SHAMASUNKER CHOWDREY v. SEENATH BANERJEE

[12 W. R., 354]

26. ——— Ijmali property where defendants have divided estate—In a suit to recover possession of land from the ijmali enjoyment of which the plaintiff had been excluded by the joint action of all the defendants who had divided the property between themselves,—Held that the defendants were all equally responsible for the damage sustained by the plaintiff, and that none of them could restrict their liability for mesne profits to that portion only of which they were in possession. Held, also, that the plaintiff was entitled to obtain mesne profits up to such time as he should get real and substantial, and not merely formal, possession of the property at the hands of the defendants in execution of his decree. JHOONKEE PAUREY v. AJOODHYA DOSS AJOODHYA DOSS v. LALLJEE PAUREY . . . 19 W. R., 218

27. Actual occupier and lessor—Where lands are wrongfully withheld from the rightful owner, not only the actual occupiers, but also the person who has leased the land to the actual occupiers, may be held to have committed a joint trespass, and to be jointly liable for the damages caused by such trespass. Doe v Harlow, 12 Ad. and Ell., 40, followed. MUDUN MOHUN SINGH v RAM DASS CHUCKERBUTTY . . . 6 C. L. R., 357

28. Apportionment of liability—Where intermediate holders combine wrongfully to keep an auction-purchaser out of possession, they must all be held liable for mesne profits. The Court need not apportion their liability in proportion to the extent of the property respectively held by them. RAM CHUNDER SURMAH v RAM CHUNDER PAL . . . 23 W. R., 226

29. Apportionment of damages between joint tort-feasors—In a suit for mesne profits against a number of defendants who have been in possession of distinct portions of a newly-formed chur, and are proved to have no title thereto, it is competent to the Court, having regard to the provisions of the Civil Procedure Code, to apportion the damages payable by the defendants severally in respect of the portions held by them respectively. Aliter, where the defendants have jointly taken possession of a particular portion of such land. The reason for treating as joint tort-feasors all persons who have occupied portions of land ultimately found to belong to a neighbouring estate, and for applying the rule of contribution or apportionment between joint tort-feasors, is wanting in the case of a suit for mesne profits against a number of defendants who have taken possession of distinct portions of lands forming parts of a newly-formed chur to which they have no title, and it is fair and equitable in such a case that the defendants should be severally made liable for mesne profits in respect of the parcels occupied by them respectively. KRISHNA MOHUN BASAK v KUNJO BEHARY BASAK . . . 9 C. L. R., 1

30. Assessment of liability for—Suit for mesne profits with several defendants—In a suit for mesne profits where there are several defendants, the liability of the several defendants should be assessed in proportion to the amount of profits which each had derived from his wrongful possession. NAWAB NAZIM OF BENGAL v RAJ COOMAREE DEBEE . . . 6 W. the estate of a deceased judgment-debtor, and the property is sold, the representative of the debtor cannot be called to account in execution for the mesne profits of the property while in his hands. MUZHUR ALI alias SAT COWREE MEAH v NAWAB NAZIM OF BENGAL . . . 7 W. R., 308

32. Liability of qaradar under an iqara granted by party in wrongful possession—A suit for mesne profits held to lie against a party who took an iqara pending litigation, though the decree for possession with profits was against the iqaradar's landlord. BIDYAMAYI DEBIA CHOWDHURAN v RAM LAL MISSEER . . . [8 B. L. R., Ap., 80: 17 W. R., 148]

33. Dispossession of usufructuary mortgagee—The plaintiff for a consideration obtained from the defendant a zur-i-peshgi lease which contained an undertaking that in the event of the plaintiff's possession being interfered with by the defendant, or the defendant's previous ticcadar, the defendant would pay back to the plaintiff his money with interest and profits. The lower Appellate Court, finding that the plaintiff after enjoyment for three years had been turned out of possession by the previous ticcadar, gave the plaintiff a decree for the original money advanced, with interest and mesne profits for the unexpired portion of the lease. Held that mesne profits should not have been awarded. KHERODHUR LALL v. DOOLEE CHUND . . . [19 W. R., 424]

34. Decree-holder paying debt and taking possession from zur-i-peshgidar—Where a decree-holder, finding a zur-i-peshgidar in possession, paid the debt due by his judgment-debtor to the zur-i-peshgidar, and entering into possession himself realised the rents, it was held that he could not demand wasilat from the judgment-debtor for the same period. SHAM SOONDER KOONER v. RAJENDER MISSEER . . . 10 W. R., 390

35. Beng Regs XV of 1793 and I of 1798—A granted a zur-i-peshgi lease of certain lands to the defendants for a fixed term, which was to continue after the expiry of the term so long as the money advanced remained unpaid. Shortly afterwards A evicted the defendants and sold the land to C and D. The defendants sued A, C, and D, and obtained a decree for possession and mesne profits. They never got possession, but they recovered the mesne profits from A. On the expiry of the lease, C and D were held, in a suit brought by them, entitled to redeem. Held, the defendants were not liable, under Regulation XV of 1793 or I of 1798, to account for the mesne profits which they had recovered. WUZEEROONNISSA v SAEEDUN . . . [B. L. R., Sup. Vol., 613: 6 W. R., 240]

as proprietors in the mortgaged estate, and to all he is answerable for whatever mesne profits he may receive in excess of the amount which he is entitled to receive by law or agreement. And when some of the proprietors assert claims, and assert such claims on behalf of themselves alone, he is entitled to require the claimants to establish the extent of their claims. DEONARAIN SINGH v. NAEK PERSHAD

[2 N. W., 217]

37. ———— Liability of mortgagor after decree for foreclosure.—Where a mortgagor, after obtaining a decree for foreclosure, sued for possession and mesne profits, and the mortgagor did not prove that he had given the plaintiff possession or directed his lessee to pay rent to the plaintiff,—Held that the mortgagor (defendant) was liable for waslat from the date of foreclosure, so far as it was not barred by limitation. SUROOP CHUNDER ROY v. MOHENDER CHUNDER ROY

[22 W. R., 539]

38. ———— Vendor and purchaser—Trustee for person out of possession.—Where, in a suit for partition, it appeared that the vendor of the portion sued for had kept the vendee out of possession, the vendor, though liable for mesne profits, was not in the position of trustee of the rents for the party kept out of possession. NIL KAMAL LAHURI v. GUNOMANI DEBI

[7 B. L. R., 113; 15 W. R., P. C., 38]

39. ———— Ejection of mortgagees' tenant of sir land by mortgagors.—Where mortgagors had a right of occupancy in sir land, it was held that they could not be treated as trespassers for ejecting the mortgagees' tenant and taking possession; but inasmuch as, instead of giving notice to the mortgagees of their intention to avail themselves of such rights and to enter on the sir land as tenants, at the same time offering to pay such rent as might, having regard to the provisions of section 7, Act XVIII of 1873, be properly payable by them, they entered on the sir land and ousted mortgagees' tenant, they rendered themselves liable for mesne profits. BAKHAT RAM v. WAZIR ALI

[I. L. R., 1 All., 448]

40. ———— Resumption by Government—Lakhirajdar—Fraud.—In a suit for waslat in respect of mal lands fraudulently included by the lakhirajdar with lakhiraj lands resumed by Government and afterwards settled with him,—Held that the lakhirajdar, and not the Government, was liable, and that as the sum claimed was definite and required no further inquiry to ascertain the amount due, interest had been properly awarded from date of suit. *COOMAR DABEE v. possession with mesne profits of five mouzahs situated within the Court's jurisdiction, and Government revenue was so assessed upon these five mouzahs, and two other mouzahs situated in another district, that the amount paid on account of the five mouzahs and the two mouzahs respectively could not be apportioned, the Court had no jurisdiction to determine and award mesne profits for the two mouzahs not within its jurisdiction, but should have made an apportionment to the best of its ability. Nor ought the Court to have assessed the mesne profits by relying upon certain jumabandi papers made by the Government revenue officers some thirty years ago, without inquiring into the actual rents or proceeds of the estate during the period of dispossession. PURAN CHUNDER ROY v. JUGGESSUR MOOKERJEE

17 W. R., 298

42. ———— Forfeiture of property—Liability of Government.—Where property is confiscated by Government, it is only responsible for the profits during the time it is in possession, and to such amount as was actually realised, or such as might and would have been realised but for negligence or fraud on the part of its servants. MOHUN LALL v. GOVERNMENT

2 Agra, Mis., 6

2 ASSESSMENT IN EXECUTION AND SUITS FOR MESNE PROFITS.

43. ———— Assessment of mesne profits.—Power of Court executing decree to assess mesne profits.—A Court executing a decree has no power to assess mesne profits, unless it is ordered by the decree that the mesne profits are to be assessed in execution, and it is an essential part of a decree which orders mesne profits to be assessed in execution, to fix the period in respect of which such mesne profits are to be assessed. WISE v. RAJENDUR COOMAR ROY

11 W. R., 200

44. ———— Execution of decree.—Decree silent as to date to which mesne profits are to run.—Subsequent mesne profits.—Where a decree is silent as to the date up to which mesne profits are to run, and merely gives a decree for possession with mesne profits, those mesne profits can only be reckoned, for the purposes of assessment in execution, up to the date of the institution of the suit. *RAM MANICKYA DEY v. 45. ———— Decree for possession—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, ss. 196, 197.—A decree for possession was construed to include mesne profits where the High Court was satisfied that such was the intention of the Court which passed the decree. A decree of a Court should, under sections 196 and 197, Act VIII of 1859, state whether mesne profits are awarded or not; and it should distinctly state, when it reserves any points for subsequent inquiries in execution of the decree, what those points are. RAESOONISSA BEGUM v. SHARODA SOONDURREE CHOWDHRAIN

[16 W. R., 25]

46. ———— Court with power to pass decree.—Although the assessment of mesne profits is reserved for the period of execution of decree, it is an essential part of the decree itself, and not a mere process in execution, and must therefore be made by a Court authorised to pass the decree. MEHRE JAN v. GERDA . 25 W. R., 270

47. ———— Act XXIII of 1861, s. 11.—Profits assessable by Court in execution.—The mesne profits which, under the provisions of section 11, Act XXIII of 1861, are assessable by the Court executing the decree, are only such as have been by the decree made payable in respect of the subject-matter of the suit between the date of the suit and the date of the execution of the decree. Any question of mesne profits not determined by the Court making the decree is not properly cognisable by the Court executing the decree. RAM LOCHAN v. MUNSOOR ALI CHOWDREY

[11 W. R., 339]

48. ———— Act XXIII of 1861, s. 11.—Suit for mesne profits.—Where no liability to mesne profits is imposed by a decree, section 11 of Act XXIII of 1861 does not give a power to extend the relief granted by the decree in respect of the right to mesne profits, but only to determine questions regarding the amount thereof when the right thereto has been ascertained by the decree. SUBBA VENKATARA MAIYAN v. SUBRAYA AIYAN 4 Mad., 257

49. ———— Decree silent as to mesne profits.—Power of Court executing decree.—Plaintiff sued for possession of certain lands and for mesne profits. He obtained a decree for possession, but the decree was silent as to mesne profits. Held that the Court executing the decree was not competent to entertain a claim for mesne profits made by the decree-holder. *CHUNDER COOMAR ROY v. [1 L. R., 13 Calc., 283]

50. ———— Suit for mesne profits.—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 11.—Civil Procedure Code, ss. 196 and 197.—Mesne profits are in themselves simply damages which do not exist as an obligation to be discharged until they have been awarded by a Court competent to do so. Therefore, according to section 11, Act XXIII of 1861, mesne profits payable at the time of execution must mean mesne profits which have been at that time directed to be paid by a decree of Court. A. obtained a decree against B. for recovery of possession of certain property, and for mesne profits up to the date of the suit, but the decree was silent as to mesne profits after that time. Held, A. was not barred by the provisions of section 11 of Act XXIII of 1861 from bringing a suit against B. for mesne profits during the time that A. was kept out of possession after the decree. *HARAHOMINI CHOWDHRAIN v. This order was reversed by the Appellate Court (the Civil Court), leaving still open to the Court of first instance to make a further order. Plaintiff, however, instead of applying again for execution, instituted a fresh suit for mesne profits in the Civil Court. The Civil Judge rejected the plaint. Held that section 11, Act XXIII of 1861, warranted the rejection of the plaint, on the ground that the mesne profits to which plaintiff laid claim in the suit were payable in respect of the subject-matter of the former suit. *LAKSHMI NARASIMHAU v. 63. ————— Mesne profits not given by decree—Execution of decree.—Interest—In construing the provisions of section 11, Act XXIII of 1861, notwithstanding certain earlier decisions to a contrary effect, all the Indian High Courts have now recognised it to be settled law that, where the decree is silent touching interest or mesne profits subsequent to the institution of the suit, the Court executing the decree cannot, under the section in question, assess or give execution for such interest or mesne profits, but that the plaintiff is at liberty to assert his rights thereto by a separate suit. The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, although of opinion that, if the matter had been res integra, the provisions of the section might have admitted of a different interpretation, being unwilling to run counter to a long and concurrent course of decisions of the Indian Courts in what is really a mere matter of procedure, accepted this construction of the law as binding. The plaintiff obtained a decree for the possession of certain lands, with mesne profits up to the date of suit. No claim was made in the plaint for mesne profits accruing due after the date of suit, and the decree was silent in respect thereof. An appeal against the decree having been brought by the defendant, execution was, from time to time, stayed by the Court on the defendant giving security, to abide the event of the appeal for the execution of the decree, and for payment of the mesne profits accruing while the plaintiff remained out of possession. The decree having been confirmed on appeal, the plaintiff applied for execution in respect of the interim mesne profits. Held, in the Court below, that, as these were not provided for by the decree, they could not, under section 11, Act XXIII of 1861, be awarded in execution, but must be made the subject of a separate suit. Held by the Judicial Committee that the proceedings whereby the defendant led the Court to stay execution and continue him in possession, laid him under an obligation to account in the suit for the mesne profits which he engaged to pay, and that this obligation was capable of being enforced by proceedings in execution, notwithstanding the construction given by the Court to section 11; since even if the defendant's liability to account were not to be considered "a question relating to the execution of the decree," within the meaning of the section, he was, in any case, precluded by the ordinary principles of estoppel from contending that the mesne profits in question were not payable under the decree. SADASIVA PILLAI v. 64. ————— Act XXIII of 1861, s. 11—A decree of 1854 for possession and mesne profits having been confirmed on appeal, in February 1855, was duly executed in part up to 1861, when the decree-holder applied for execution as for mesne profits to the extent of Rs1. Failing in the Court of first instance, the applicant was declared by the Appellate Court, in 1863, entitled to the amount, with interest, by virtue of his decree. The judgment-debtor contested the case in the Civil Court, but his suit was dismissed on the 12th August 1865, and on the 12th July 1866 the decree-holder applied for execution of the decree for Rs1, the balance of mesne profits. This application was disallowed, on the ground that there was no provision in the original decree awarding mesne profits, and that an agreement to which the decree-holder had referred was not forthcoming. Held that, as the original decree of 1854 evidently intended to give mesne profits of some kind, the Courts in 1862 and 1863 had jurisdiction, under section 11, Act XXIII of 1861, to determine what mesne profits were due, and that as the decree-holder was seeking to maintain the order in the Civil Courts in 1864 and 1865, his application of July 1866 was in time, and he was entitled under an order of a competent Court to receive the mesne profits claimed. HUTO SOONDERY DOSSETT v. This decree was subsequently reversed on appeal by the defendant. The decree of the Appellate Court was silent in respect of the mesne profits which the plaintiff had received while in possession. The defendant instituted a suit to recover those profits. Held, per PETHERAM, C J., OLDFIELD, BRODHURST, and DUTHOIT, JJ., that the suit was not barred by section 244 of the Civil Procedure Code, the question raised by such suit, although it might have arisen out of the decree of the Appellate Court, not "relating to the execution, discharge or satisfaction of the decree," within the meaning of that section (because at that time no such question had arisen or was in existence), and therefore not one in respect of which a separate suit is barred by that section. *Pertab Singh v Beni Ram, I. Under a decree for mesne profits, the decree-holder is entitled to interest on such profits from the time at which they would have come to him if he had not been dispossessed. LUCKHY NARAIN v. KALLY PUDDO BANERJEE

92. — Principle on which they should be assessed—In a case of wrongful dispossession, the principle upon which wasilat should be assessed is to ascertain what the actual rents or proceeds of the estate were, and to make the wrong-doer account for them to the party dispossessed, everything being assumed against the wrong-doer. DOORGA SOONDUREE DEBIA v. SHIBESHUREE DEBIA

3 W. R., 101

93. — Assets which might have been realised—Amount actually collected—Mesne profits are not limited to the amount actually collected from an estate by the judgment-debtor, but must be calculated according to the assets which might have been realised with due diligence. SMITH v. SONA BIBEE

THAKOOR DOSS ROY CHOWDHRY v. NOBIN KRISTO GHOSE

22 W. R., 126

94. — Claim in plaint. — Rent not, but which might have been, received—When a party is declared entitled to a decree for mesne profits, he is entitled not only to recover as those profits such sums as may have been collected and appropriated by others in wrongful possession, but also such sums as he would have collected had he been in possession, and which he has been prevented from collecting by having been kept wrongfully out of possession. If the plaint in a suit for mesne profits claims only rents and profits collected and received by the defendant, the plaintiff is not entitled to recover in respect of rents not received, but which by the wrongful dispossession he has been prevented from collecting, but if there is an appropriate allegation, he will be entitled to recover in respect of such rents. KOMBERUNNISSA BEGUM v. 96. — Liability on ejectment of ryot—Loss by dispossession.—A superior holder who dispossesses a ryot is liable, not merely for the profit which he makes by letting out the land, but to make good the loss which the ryot sustains by being dispossessed. HURUCK LALL SHAHA v. SREENIBASH KURMOKAR

[15 W. R., 428

97. — Cultivating ryot ejected by zemindar.—When a cultivating ryot is ejected by his zemindar, the mere rent of the land realised by the zemindar from another tenant is not necessarily the measure of the damage sustained by the ryot and recoverable by him as mesne profits. BHIRO CHANDRA MOZOOMDAR v. BAMUNDAS MOOKERJEE

98. — Rate of rent—In claiming wasilat for the period of wrongful dispossession, the owners are entitled to recover either any profit which the wrong-doer derived from the land or any rate of rent which they were receiving at the time of dispossession. JOY KISHEN DOSS v. TURNBULL

99. — Held that the amount of rent actually received, together with that which might with reasonable diligence have been collected, form the amount of mesne profits to which a decree-holder is entitled. Evidence that the land was let for a certain amount is a prima facie proof of the amount of mesne profits, and may be accepted by the Court unless the contrary be proved. RUGHO NATH DOBEY v. 100. — Proof of amount.—Mesne profits liable in execution of a decree are the rents of an estate, minus costs of collection, Government revenue, losses by desertion and death of ryots, by drought, &c. The proper means of ascertaining their amount is to require the party who has held possession, and against whom the decree has passed, to produce his accounts, and, if necessary, to compel him to do so. On him lies the onus of proving the actual amount of mesne profits, and if he fail to produce his accounts he will only have himself to blame if the amount awarded by the Court is larger than the actual mesne profits. DINOBUNDHOO NUNDEE v. MESNE PROFITS—continued.3. MODE OF ASSESSMENT AND CALCULATION—continued.*Mode of calculation of mesne profits—continued.

101. ————— Proof of actual collections—If a Court finds that a plaintiff has been dispossessed of property, he is prima facie entitled to mesne profits in respect of the period during which he was dispossessed, and it is not necessary for him to prove the actual collections made during his dispossession. It is sufficient to show what is the annual profit which in ordinary years can be collected. Thus it is sufficient to show the profits for the years preceding or subsequent to the period of dispossession. BHAWANEE DEEN SAHOO v. MOHUN SAHOO
[1 N. W., 188: Ed. 1873, 273]

102. ————— Rents not received—Expenses of collecting rents.—In estimating mesne profits, not merely the amount of rents actually received by the defendant, but also those which he might have received, and which can no longer be collected, ought to be charged against him. On the other hand, the reasonable expense of collecting the rents may be allowed to him, and if he has paid rent to the zemindar, allowance may be made for such payments. But he cannot be charged with payments of rent made by the plaintiff to the zemindar. BESUNESSOOREN DABEA v. TARASOONDEREE BRAHMINEE MAHOMED HAJRA v. TARASOONDEREE BRAHMINEE . . . Marsh., 201: 1 Hay, 577

103. ————— Failure of decree-holder to prove rate of rent.—In estimating the amount of mesne profits where a decree-holder could not give satisfactory evidence as to the rates at which he received rents and the collections he made, the judgment-debtor was held liable for the amount stated in the Collector's jumabandi, minus the cost of collection, leaving him to recover from Government what he has paid on account of revenue, unless the sums so paid had already been refunded by Government to the decree-holder. PALMEE v. BAL GOBIND DOSS . . . 7 W. R., 230

104. ————— Landlord and tenant—Held that the mode of estimating the amount of mesne profits in respect of a talook held by plaintiff under defendant was to ascertain the amount of profits which plaintiff could have realised from the talook if he had not been dispossessed therefrom by the wrongful act of defendant; and that as there was no necessary relation between those profits and the amount of revenue payable by the latter on account of the inferior holding, such revenue could not be treated as an element in the calculation; but that the amount of rent payable by plaintiff to defendant ought to be deducted from the gross calculation of the talook. Held, also, that there seemed no reason why the same rule should not be adopted in this case merely because the wrong-doer was the landlord. BHYRUB CHUNDER MOJOOMDAR v. HURO PROSUNNO BHUTACHARJEE. MESNE PROFITS—continued3. MODE OF ASSESSMENT AND CALCULATION—continued.*Mode of calculation of mesne profits—continued.

105. ————— Remission of rent or neglect to make collection.—The rule for the assessment of mesne profits is, that the right of the true owner is to all the profits of the land, and not merely to the amount of the cash collections during the time that he is illegally kept out of possession, and the trespasser must be held responsible for all that he has realised, and receive credit for everything for which he is entitled to credit, such as rents paid and charges for collection. He does not lessen his responsibility by remitting rent or neglecting to make collections. KALEE DEBEE v. MODHOO SOODUN CHOWDHRY . . . 16 W. R., 171

106. ————— Gross produce of estate—Value of produce.—Mesne profits should not be estimated on the gross produce of an estate except when all other means of ascertaining them fail. The rents due from the actual cultivators, or, if he cultivate the land by his own servants, the value of the produce, should be taken as the amount of the mesne profits. KHEMON KUREE DEBIA v. MODHOOMUTTY DEBIA . . . 4 W. R., 181, 23

107. ————— Fair and reasonable rent.—In a suit for possession and wasilat, where the plaintiff was the actual cultivator of the land and obtained a decree, it was held that the Full Bench ruling in Asmut Koer v. Indurjeet Koer, B. L. R., Sup. Vol., 1003. 9 W. R., 448, and not that in the case of Sandamm Debi v. Anand Chandra Haldar, 7 B. L. R., 178, note 13 W. R., 87, was applicable, and that plaintiff was entitled to such fair and reasonable rent as the defendant might have derived from the land had he left it during the period of his wrongful occupation. MADHUB CHUNDER DUTT v. HARADHUN PAUL . . . 14 W. R., 294

108. ————— Person not himself cultivating the land—The mode of calculation laid down in Asmut Koer v. Indurjeet Koer, B. L. R., Sup. Vol., 1003. 9 W. R., 445, held to be applicable also to a case where a person, the wrong-doer, has not himself cultivated the land. PROMOTTONATH ROY v. TRIPOORA SOONDURBE DABEE
[10 W. R., 463]

109. ————— Principle of assessment.—Person cultivating land.—A suit by a ryot having been remanded with a view to the assessment of mesne profits on the principle laid down in Sandamm Debi v. Anand Chandra Haldar, 7 B. L. R., 178, note: 13 W. R., 87, if it was found that the plaintiff had himself cultivated the lands before leasing them out to an indigo factory, the first Court, finding this to be the case, assessed the mesne profits accordingly,—i.e., at the lowest rate deposited to by the plaintiffs' witnesses. The District Judge reversed the decision on the ground of a later ruling in Madhub Chunder Dutt v. Haradhun Paul, 14 W. R., 294. Held that the Judge ought to have followed the course indicated by the order of remand. Held, also, that the special respondent, if dissatisfied with the order of remand, ought to have applied for a review, and, not having done so he was not entitled to ask the Court to go behind that order and consider whether it was wrong with reference to Madhub Chunder Dutt v. Haradhun Paul, 14 W. R., 294. Held, further, that the later decision did not overrule the earlier one, but referred to a different case, —viz., that of a large zemindar entitled to rent only;—and that the Full Bench ruling referred to in the later decision did not intend to lay it down that a party who is himself a cultivator is not entitled to recover the profits which he would have made out of the land by his own cultivation. NUSSENGH ROY v. ANDERSON 19 W. R., 125

110. ————— Zerayet and bhowli lands.—Production of accounts to show value and produce of land.—The loss of the party wrongfully kept out of possession must generally be measured by the actual profits arising from the usufruct of the land during that time, on an occupation of the same character as that of the party wrongfully kept out of possession at the date of his ouster or of the last legal occupant whom the plaintiff claims to succeed to, if the plaintiff himself never entered into possession. A difference in assessment should be made between zerayet and bhowli lands, a deduction being allowed as to the former on account of expenses of cultivation. As regards the produce and value of the lands in such cases, it is the duty of the judgment-debtor to produce his accounts and to prove what were the real assets of the property. ROOKMEE KOOPER v. RAM TULUL ROY 17 W. R., 156

111. ————— Suit by cultivator.—Damages.—Where the plaintiff, who was a cultivator, sued for possession of certain land, of which he had been dispossessed by the defendant, with mesne profits, and the Judge gave him a decree for possession, and as to mesne profits decreed that the plaintiff should have the actual profits realised from the land, and if that could not be ascertained (as to which the burden of proof, he said, should be on the defendant), then, according to the capabilities of the soil in an average season, making the deductions necessary on account of the bad seasons, expense of cultivation, rise and fall of prices, and cost of seed; and in the case of indigo, the value of the raw produce and not of the manufactured article,—it was held that the principle on which damages were awarded was a correct principle, where the plaintiff was himself a cultivator. *WATSON v. 113. ————— Amount which might have been received.—Where one party illegally dispossesses another and lets his estate in farm, the amount of the rent which the party wrongfully ousted might have ordinarily received had he been in possession, and not the amount of the farm rents received during the wrongful possessor's incumbency, will, unless any special custom be proved, be the measure of mesne profits to be awarded. JUGURNATH SINGH v. AHMEDDOOLLAH 8 W. R., 132

114. ————— Unprofitable lands.—In executing a decree for mesne profits, a Court does right in excluding from the account lands of such a nature as would, under ordinary circumstances, yield no profit, regarding which it has not been shown that the judgment-debtors had opportunities of disposing of them for a profit. BECHARAM DASS v. BROJONATH PAL CHOWDREY 9 W. R., 369

115. ————— Value of produce of julkur.—In a suit for waslat, where it was decreed that the value of the produce of a julkur should be ascertained in execution, the lower Appellate Court was held to have come to a right conclusion without any error of law in taking the nearest approximate value of the produce indicated by the evidence and the plaintiff's statement. *ENAFER ALI v. 116. ————— Cancellation of durputni tenure.—A zemindar granted a putni to A, who granted a durputni to B. The putni was sold for arrears of rent to C, who entered into possession, cancelled B's durputni, and, after two years' possession, granted a durputni to D. Meantime A, the original putnidar, had the sale set aside in a regular suit brought for that purpose, and thereupon B brought a suit against D, alone for mesne profits. Held that D. was entitled to be credited with the amount of rent which he had paid to his putnidar, C, and with the expenses of collection. NUFFAR ALI BISWAS v. RAMESHAR BHUNICK 3 C. L. R., 28

117. ————— Decree-holder wrongfully kept out of possession.—A decree-holder who stands in the shoes of his judgment-debtor, but who has been wrongfully kept out of possession of land for which the judgment-debtor granted a lease, is entitled to receive the profit which the judgment-debtor made out of them, and which the decree-holder would have made had he been in possession. *GOOROO DYAL MUNDUR v. 118. ————— Suit for mesne profits against trespasser.—Costs and expenses of trespasser in collection of rent.—Held, by the majority of the Full Bench, that a trespasser on the land of another should, in estimating the mesne profits which the owner of the land is entitled to recover from him, be allowed such costs of collecting the rents of the land as are ordinarily incurred by the owner, where such trespasser has entered or continued on the land in the exercise of a bond fide claim of right; but where he has entered or continued on the land without any bond fide belief that he was entitled so to do, the Court may refuse to allow such costs, although he may still claim all necessary payments, such as Government revenue or ground rent. Per STUART, C. J.—Whether such trespasser is a trespasser bond fide or not, he should be allowed such costs. ALTAF ALI v. LAJJI MAL

119. ————— Allowance for extraordinary profits.—Where a party is decreed entitled to mesne profits, the trespasser cannot be allowed to urge that the owner would not have realised as much from the land as he (the trespasser) did; but if he had obtained extraordinary profits by the expenditure of capital on the land, allowance should be made for such expenditure. SREENATH BOSE v. NOBIN CHUNDER BOSE . 9 W. R., 473

120. ————— Damages incurred by tenant in consequence of ejectment.—A landlord who ejects his tenant illegally and holds possession as a wrong-doer, although he settles another tenant on the land, is liable, not only for the rent he receives under such possession, but also for the damages incurred by the tenant whom he has ejected, in consequence of the ejectment. MAHOMED AZMUL v. CHADEE LALL PANDEY . 12 W. R., 104

121. ————— Co-sharers.—Decrees for and against different parties.—The mode of calculating mesne profits in cases of decrees for and against each of the parties, is to calculate and rateably divide them, and then to allow a set-off to the extent of the profits actually received by each share, the deficit in each year being made good by the party who received in excess of his share. BIJOY GOBIND NAIK v. KALEE PRASUNO NAIK

[16 W. R., 294]

122. ————— Co-sharers.—Fair rent.—Where the parties to a suit for certain land and for the payment of mesne profits in respect of the same were co-sharers in the estate comprising such land, and the defendants had themselves occupied and cultivated such land,—Held that the most reasonable and fitting mode of assessing such mesne profits was to ascertain what would be a fair rent for such land if it had been let to an ordinary tenant

123. ————— Costs of collection of rent.—Where a suit is decreed as one for possession with mesne profits, the decree-holder is not barred from asking the Court, under section 197, Civil Procedure Code, to inquire into the amount of mesne profits in execution. In decreeing mesne profits, a Court has no right to disallow the costs of collection on the assumption that a large zemindar can collect rents without costs. GOOROO DOSS ROY v. ANUND MOYEE DEBIA . 15 W. R., 203

124. ————— Mustagiri tenures.—Where the custom of collecting rents from mustagirs prevails, the mustagiri jumma is to be the basis of account of mesne profits to be recovered from a judgment-debtor. AHMED REZAI v. ENAET HOSSAIN . 1 W. R., Mis., 20

126. ————— Value of trees cut down.—Decree for mesne profits.—The value of trees cut down and appropriated by a judgment-debtor, against whom a decree with mesne profits has been given, may be included in the mesne profits for which the judgment-debtor whilst in wrongful possession is liable. BUNEED SINGH v. SUDASNEE DUTT . 2 W. R., Mis., 50

127. ————— Surunjamee, upon what profits to be allowed.—Surunjamee should be allowed upon the amount actually collected, and not upon the net proceeds coming to the zemindar. ERFOONISSA CHOWDHRAIN v. RUKKEB-OONISSA . 9 W. R., 457

130. ————— Oudh Talookdars' Relief Act, 1870—Interest on mesne profits—A₂ under-proprietor having been dispossessed by a manager of the superior estate, appointed under the Oudh Talookdars' Relief Act, 1870, recovered possession under a decree, and afterwards sued for mesne profits. Held that a person who had not himself received the mesne profits having come into possession of the talook upon its being released from management under the above Act, would not be chargeable with sums which, as it was alleged, might have been received by way of mesne profits, but had not been received in consequence of the manager's wilful default; there being nothing to show that such talookdar could be charged with anything more than was actually received by him. There being no rule of law obliging the Court to allow interest upon mesne profits, it is a matter for the discretion of the Court, upon consideration of the facts, whether to allow interest or not. *KISHANANAND v. [I. L. R., 10 Calc., 792; L. R., 11 I. A., 88]

131. ————— Experience of Judge deciding case—Evidence—In estimating mesne profits for a period of wrongful dispossession, the lower Courts were held to have pursued an incorrect course in deciding upon the supposed personal experience of the Judges instead of upon evidence laid before them. The Court ought to have done its best to estimate, from the evidence before it, what would have been the net profits which the dispossessed owner would have earned by the cultivation during that period had he been in possession. *KISHAN PERSHAD SINGH v. 1870), s. 11, para. 2.—The plaintiff brought a suit for possession and for a certain sum as mesne profits, which he assessed at three times the annual rent paid to the defendant by tenants in actual possession of the land. He obtained a decree for possession, and the decree ordered that the amount of mesne profits due to him should be determined in the execution proceedings. On an investigation a larger sum was found to be due to him for mesne profits than that claimed by him in his suit. The plaintiff, therefore, paid the excess fee as provided by paragraph 2 of section 11 of Act VII of 1870, but it was held that the amount of mesne profits recoverable by him must be limited to the amount claimed in the plaint. *BABOOJAN JHA v. The purchaser of the right, title, and interest of a judgment-debtor sued to obtain immediate possession of the property purchased at a sale held in execution of a decree, after setting aside an usufructuary mortgage executed by the judgment-debtor while a minor. Held that the sale in execution merely transferred to the purchaser the reversionary right of the judgment-debtor in the property, after the satisfaction of the usufructuary mortgage, and the right to set aside an act done during minority. Held also that, until a transaction by a minor was avoided by some distinct act on attaining majority, it must be considered valid. *HARI RAM v. 18. ——— Jurisdiction of District Judge.—Marriage.—Injunction.—The paternal uncle of a female Hindu minor, whose father was dead, applied to the District Judge, under Act IX of 1861, for the custody of the minor, and for an injunction to prevent the mother of the minor from carrying out a projected marriage. On the 8th of March 1881 the Judge issued an ad interim injunction. When the application came on for hearing, it appeared that the marriage had taken place before the order of injunction had reached the parties. The District Judge found that though the mother was entitled to the custody of the minor, yet the petitioner was entitled to give the minor in marriage in preference to the mother. The District Judge also found that the marriage had not in fact been validly performed. On appeal to the High Court, it was contended that the District Judge had no jurisdiction to determine the right of any party to give an infant in marriage on an application under Act IX of 1861, or to grant an injunction; and it was also contended that the Magistrate was wrong in entering into the question of the factum of the marriage. Held that, under the provisions of Act IX of 1861, the District Judge had jurisdiction. *Balmakund v. Vol., 630, referred to. Held, also, that for the purpose of deciding whether the injunction should issue, the Judge was justified in entering into the question of the factum of the marriage, though his finding on that point would have no effect in determining its validity. In the proceedings in the suit the defendant designated herself as mother and guardian of S, a minor, but there was nothing to show she had obtained a certificate of guardianship, or had been appointed guardian ad litem. The two lower Courts gave a decree for the plaintiff. On special appeal to the High Court it was contended that S. ought to be a party to the suit. Held that the suit, as it stood, could not be treated as a suit against the minor: the minor ought himself to have been made and been described as defendant, some other person being named as guardian. If treated as a suit against M. only, it was wrongly brought, no suit to make any declaration as to the adoption could be brought against any other than S. himself. *MONGOLA DOSSEE v. On second appeal the appeal was headed "S. B., widow of the late C. B., mother and guardian of S. and K., minors, appellant." sentation of minor.—Appearance by a guardian not sanctioned.—Act XL of 1858, s. 3.—Act VIII of 1859.—Suit against minor.—Presumption when no permission recorded by Court.—Misdescription of minor.—Act XIV of 1882, s. 445.—A suit was brought against a mother "for self and as guardian of A and B, minor sons of C, deceased," at a period when Act VIII of 1859 was in force. The mother had not taken out a certificate under Act XL of 1858, and no permission was recorded by the Court allowing the mother to defend on behalf of the infants under the provisions of section 3 of that Act. A decree was made in the suit, and in execution thereof certain property belonging to A and B was sold and purchased by X, the decree-holder. Subsequently, on A's coming of age, A and B, by A as his next friend, instituted a suit against X and their mother to recover the property so purchased by X. Held that under the provisions of Act VIII of 1859 it was not necessary to formally record sanction to the mother to defend under section 3 of Act XL of 1858; and that the fact of sanction having been given might be presumed by the Court, and that on the facts of the case such presumption was warranted. Held, also, that though A and B were not properly described in the previous suit, it was a mere defect in form, and did not affect the merits of the case, being in accordance with the prevailing practice at the time when the suit was brought; and that there is no authority for saying that, when minors have been really sued, though in a wrong form, a decree against them would not be valid. *JOGI SINGH v. —Act XL of 1858, s. 3.—Minors, Suit against, improperly framed.—In a suit intended to be brought against some minors, the defendants were set out in the heading of the plaint as “Sharoda Sunderi Debya, widow of Chundra Kanta Chuckerbutty, deceased, mother and guardian of the minors” (setting out their names). At the filing of the plaint, the plaintiff applied for and obtained an order making Sharoda guardian of the minors for the purposes of the suit. She was not, however, guardian of the property and persons of the minors under Act XL of 1858. Held that the minors were not parties to the suit; that the order making Sharoda guardian ad litem was not made in a suit in which the minors were defendants; and that the suit must be dismissed as against the minors. Held, also, that neither the Code of Civil Procedure nor the proviso of section 3 of Act XL of 1858 give a plaintiff any power to institute a suit against a person named by himself as guardian ad litem on behalf of a minor, nor do they give to the Court the power of transferring, by a mere order made ex parte, an irregular proceeding such as the one above mentioned into a suit against the minor. *GURU CHURN CHUCKERBUTTY v. competent to the District Judge under section 8 of the Act to make that appointment. *IN RE MOTIRAM

52. ——— Right to institute suit on behalf of minor.—There is nothing in the Minors Act (XX of 1864) to prevent the institution of a suit by the next friend of a minor who has not obtained a certificate of administration to the minor's estate, but who claims no right to have charge of the minor's property, asking for a declaration of the minor's rights, and for an order directing the defendant to pay money he owes to the minor into the principal Civil Court of the district. As the right, however, of a friend to institute a suit on behalf of a minor is under the control of the Court, and as the Minors Act, by sections 3-7, enables a friend of the minor to protect his interests by applying for the appointment of a fit person to have charge of the property of the minor and to protect his estate, the proper course for a Court, to which a plaint on behalf of a minor is presented by his friend, is either to refuse to accept the plaint, when there is no pressing necessity for its acceptance, or in case such pressing necessity exists, to accept the plaint and stay proceedings until the plaintiff has duly obtained a certificate under the Act. *VIJAYOR v.

Any person who contracts to purchase property, and pays in a portion of the purchase-money, has such an interest in that property, although his title may not be complete, or his right final and conclusive, that the destruction of such property may cause to him wrongful loss or damage within the meaning of section 425. 20. ————— Endangering safety of river embankment.—Intention.—Where the accused had, while extending a garden and laying the foundation of a house, encroached on the inner slope of a river embankment, and thereby endangered the safety of the whole station,—Held that, in order to justify a conviction for the offence of mischief, it must appear that the accused person had done a particular act with intent to cause, or knowing it to be likely to cause, wrongful loss, and that, as the house and garden on which the accused was engaged would be the first to be swept away in the event of the dreaded breach in the bund and consequent irruption of the river, such guilty knowledge or intent could not reasonably be inferred on his part. *IN THE MATTER OF THE PETITION OF PRAN NATH SHAHA. 21. ————— Act done without show of right.—Penal Code, s. 430.—Causing diminution of water-supply — Held, by the majority of a Full Bench, INNES, J., dissenting, that it is not part of the definition of the offence of causing a diminution of water-supply for agricultural purposes that the act of the accused should be a mere wanton act of waste. It is sufficient that the act is done without any show of right. RAMAKRISHNA CHETTI v. PALANYANDI KUDAMBAR . I. L. R., 1 Mad., 262

24. ——— Erection by one joint owner of edifice without consent of others.—Land held by joint owners.—Penal Code, s. 425—Wrongful loss.—A, a joint owner of a parcel of land, erected on it an edifice without the consent and against the will of B, another joint owner. A dispute having arisen in consequence, the Magistrate held an inquiry, and made an order, under section 530 of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1872, awarding to A exclusive possession of the part of the land on which the edifice had been erected. B then brought a suit in the Civil Court to establish his title to joint possession of the whole parcel and for a declaration that A was not entitled to erect any edifice thereon; and he further prayed that such edifice should be removed. B obtained a decree, whereupon his servants went on the land and pulled it down. They were charged before the Deputy Magistrate with having committed mischief, and on this convicted and fined. Subsequently the accused found the men in the employ of A were putting up this erection, a nawbat-khana, again, and accordingly protested against its erection, pulled down the bamboos, thrust aside the servants of A, throwing to the ground one man who was clinging to the bamboos. Held, per JACKSON, J., that as there had been no causing of wrongful loss, the accused had not been guilty of mischief. Held, further, per CUNNINGHAM, J., that the acts of the complainants in erecting the nawbat-khana amounted to mischief, and came within the purview of section 425 of the Penal Code. *EMPRESS v. 2. ——— Suit on bond not pledging lands.—Plaintiff sued on a simple money-bond for the recovery of a sum of money lent by him to R. A., a female, whose estates were under the management of a Court of Wards, and he made co-defendants in the suit certain other parties whom he charged with endeavouring to have the estates of R. A. transferred to them. He also tendered in evidence another bond, by which R. A., the principal defendant, purported to secure a further advance, and to pledge her zemindari estates to the plaintiff till the debt was paid off. Held that the plaintiff had no ground of suit against the other defendants, as to whom there was misjoinder, except R. A., the principal female defendant, as his cause of action against R. A. was based on the first bond, which did not create any charge upon the lands with which they are said to have meddled. MAHOMED ZAHOOB ALI KHAN v. RUTTA KOOR . . . 9 W. R., P. C., 9

4. ————— Suit on bond—The plaintiff alleged in his plaint that R. had agreed in a bond to borrow from him Rs5,000 in order to institute a suit against D., as to his share in certain joint ancestral property, that R. consequently borrowed Rs3,000 from him, and that while the suit was pending, R. and D., in collusion with each other and their mother, in order to deprive the plaintiff of his money, agreed to refer the suit to their mother, who by reason of their collusion made a statement which resulted in a smaller sum being decreed to R. than was claimed by him, and in the property in suit remaining in the possession of D.; and that, as both R. and D. had taken collusive proceedings, with intent to obstruct the plaintiff's realisation of his money, they were both liable for the said sum of Rs3,000, and he therefore brought this suit to recover Rs3,000 principal, and Rs3,000, an equivalent of that sum, under the terms of the bond, and that the cause of action arose on the day on which R. and D. agreed to refer their suit to their mother. Held (PEARSON, J., dissenting) that the suit was bad for misjoinder of parties. BISHESHUR PERSHAD v RAM CHURN 5 N. 5. ————— Non-registration as tenants—Where a single suit for rent against the holders of several tenures is objected to on the ground of misjoinder, the mere fact of non-registration as separate holdings is no answer to the objection. 6. ————— Suit against lessees and their sureties—Jurisdiction of Revenue Court—Though a Revenue Court had, under Act X of 1859, no jurisdiction to take cognisance of a suit against the sureties of a lessee, a suit brought against the lessees and their sureties was not bad for misjoinder. *DOORGA PERSHAD v. 7. ————— Suit for share of partnership assets.—Insolvent estate.—Administration suit by creditors.—Addition as plaintiff of receiver in administration suit.—In a suit by the widow and executrix of a testator who at his death was a member of a mercantile firm, the plaintiff claimed to be entitled to 60 cents or shares in the firm up to the date of the testator's death, and to a like share in the profits earned subsequently to his death, or to be earned by the firm so long as it continued to carry on the said agency business of the company. The defendant admitted the right of the plaintiff to the share claimed in the profits earned prior to the testator's death, but resisted her claim to any portion of the subsequent profits. The testator's estate had proved insolvent; and previously to the filing of this suit an administration suit had been filed by creditors. By a decree made in that suit on the 23rd January 1883 a receiver had been appointed, who was made a co-plaintiff with the executrix in the present suit. It was contended on behalf of the defendant that there was a misjoinder, the receiver being only entitled to sue for what might be due to the testator's estate up to the date of his death. Held that there was no misjoinder. The receiver might have sued for every thing that was due to the estate, but for greater safety the executrix was added as a plaintiff. BACHUBAI v SHAMJI JADOWJI 1 L. R., 9 Bom., 536

8. ————— Plaintiffs having separate interests.—In a suit by two plaintiffs for the value of personal property plundered, of which one plaintiff owned certain articles and the other was the owner of others, if the cause, time, place, and parties charged be the same in both instances, the fact that both plaintiffs have not a joint interest in the whole of the property plundered by the defendants is insufficient to put them out of Court. JUGOVINDHOO DUTT v. MASEYK W. R., 1864, 81

9. ————— Procedure where one plaintiff is found to have no interest.—In a suit to recover property bought by one S and his mother D. as guardian of his minor brother, where it was found that D. alone was entitled to the properties as heir to its owner, her late father,—Held that it was not necessary to dismiss the suit on account of its formal incorrectness, but the name of S should have been struck off the record, and the suit allowed to proceed as that of D. alone. SREERAM HAZRAT v GYARAM HATEE 11 W. 10. ————— Suit by mortgagee to recover possession of mortgaged property—In a suit by a mortgagee for possession of the mortgaged property, on the allegation that some of the defendants under subsequent mortgages and purchases had opposed him in obtaining possession; and to have it declared that the said mortgages and purchases were inoperative,—Held that the plaintiff had but one cause of action upon his mortgage deed, and was right in joining all the defendants in the suit *BAL KISHEN MAHAPATTUR v. [2 N. W., 306]

13. ————— Separate interests in subject-matter of suit—R owned one-third of an estate, and P, B, and S owned another third jointly. In a suit in which R, P, B, and S joined in bringing against N, who was in possession under a deed of gift, they claimed possession and to have the deed of gift set aside. Held by the Full Bench that there was no misjoinder of plaintiffs in the suit. RAM SEWAK SINGH v. NAKHED SINGH

[I. L. R., 4 All., 261]

14. ————— Suit for confirmation of possession of land not in joint possession—The plaintiffs alleged that certain of their lands had been wrongly recorded in some settlement papers as belonging to the defendants, but declared themselves to be still in possession of them, and prayed that they might be maintained in possession by the correction of the error in the record, which threatened the disturbance of their possession. They did not allege, however, that the fields in question, or any of them, had been recorded as jointly belonging to the defendants, nor was such the case. Held that, under such circumstances, the plaintiffs had no such common cause of action in the matter of the suit against the defendants, as would justify the course taken in suing them all together. GUNGA RAI v. SAKREENA BEGUM

[5 N. W., 72]

15. ————— Suit for pre-emption.—Three several sales of separate shares in the same mehal were the subject-matter of the deed of sale in a suit for pre-emption, and the purchasers of one of the shares and the purchaser of the other two shares were different persons, and the plaintiff claimed the right of pre-emption in respect of all three shares, and indiscriminately impleaded all the several vendors and vendees, who had no community of interest in the subject matter of the suit. The Court, allowing the plea of misjoinder, which both the lower Courts had overruled, remanded the case to the Court of first instance, in order that the plaint might be returned to the plaintiff for amendment, and the suit tried and decided afresh after amendment. *GOLAM v. 16. ————— Suit for redemption of mortgage—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, s. 8.—Parties.—K. was in possession of mouzah Dharmapore as usufructuary mortgagee. A share in the mouzah was sold in the execution of a decree against the shareholder. It was afterwards transferred by private sale to S by the auction-purchaser S alleging that the mortgage-debt had been satisfied out of the usufruct, sued to recover possession of the share, and impleaded not only K, but also the heirs of the mortgagors, and his vendee, the auction-purchaser, but no cause of action was declared against those parties nor did they resist the suit. The lower Courts dismissed the suit on the ground that separate causes of action, not between the same parties, had been included in one suit. The High Court reversed the decrees of the lower Courts so far as they dismissed the suit against the heirs of the mortgagors and the mortgagee, and remanded the suit for trial, as since the heirs of the mortgagors were interested in the account which must have been taken in the suit, it was necessary to make them parties in order that they might be bound by it. SUKHAWAT ALI v. KESHO TEWARI

[6 N. W., 208]

17. ————— Specific performance, Suit for—Joinder of third person not party to the contract—In a suit for specific performance of a contract entered into by defendant No. 1, the plaintiff joined as a defendant a third person who alleged that he was the owner of the property, the subject of the contract, seeking to obtain possession and other relief as against such third person stating that he was a benamidar of the first defendant. There was nothing to show that such third person had any interest distinct from the first defendant. Held that there was no misjoinder. The principle laid down in the cases of Houghton v. Money, L. R., 2 Ch. App., 166, and Luchumsey Ookerda v. Fazulla Cassumbhoy, I. L. R., 5 Bom., 177, viz., that a person not a party to the contract cannot be joined in a suit for specific performance, is only applicable where from the plaintiff's case it appears that the third party, not a party to the contract, has a distinct interest from that of the other parties to the contract, which interest is sought to be declared null and void. *MOKUND LALL v. Defendants pleaded that the suit would not lie because of misjoinder. Held that, under section 26 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the plaintiffs could not sue jointly, and that the plaint should be returned for amendment, one of the plaintiffs to be allowed to use it as his own. RAMANUJA v. 1. ————— Money paid under compulamount of decree to prevent sale of mortgaged property—Voluntary payment—The defendant sued one J. H. P. in the Small Cause Court, and obtained a decree, in execution of which he caused a steamer to be attached as being the property of J. H. P.

Thereupon the plaintiffs, alleging themselves to be in possession of the steamer as mortgagees from J. H. P., in order to obtain its release, paid the amount of the decree against J. H. P. into Court, and the steamer was given up. Subsequently an order was made by the Court, on the application of the plaintiffs, that the money should remain in Court pending the result of a suit to be brought by them for its recovery. They accordingly brought a suit against the defendant. The Judge of the Small Cause Court found that J. H. P. had no attachable interest in the steamer, and that the plaintiffs had paid the amount of the decree on compulsion. Held, the plaintiffs could maintain the suit, although the defendant had not actually received the amount of the decree. MOBAN v. DEWAN ALI SIRANG

1. ——— Voluntary payment.—Compulsory payment of revenue.—Previous request.—L., having been compelled by a revenue officer to pay revenue payable by P, sued P to recover the amount as having been paid on his account. His plaint disclosed no cause of action against P, triable in a Civil Court, for he did not plead that the payment was made at the request, expressed or implied, of D. There being no such request on the part of P to support the action, it was held that L could not recover. PATTU LAL v. LUCHMAN PARSHAD . 7 N. W., 155

2. ——— Payment to stay sale.—Plaintiff's ancestor had purchased in execution the right, title, and interest of R., one of the defendants. Antecedently to that sale the right, title, and interest of R., and those of two others, had been attached in execution of a decree against D. (the uncle of R. and father of the two others), and a sale having been ordered after purchase by plaintiff's ancestor, the latter, whose objections did not avail, finally prevented the sale by paying in the amount due. Held that as R. was not legally bound to pay the amount due under the decree against D., and the payment was in every sense voluntary, plaintiff could not recover from her and the sons of D. *COLLECTOR OF SHAHABAD v. But this rule of law rests upon the ground that the original decree or judgment must be taken to be subsisting and valid, until it has been reversed or superseded by some ulterior proceeding. If it has been so reversed or superseded, the money recovered under it ought to be refunded, and is recoverable either by summary process or by a new suit. *DOORGA PERSHAD ROY CHOWDREY v. Interest cannot be recovered on it. ASHRUBUNISSA BEGUM v. KHANUM JANU 6 W. R., 285

2. ———— Suit to recover money paid under decree.—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 11.—In a suit by the present defendant against the present plaintiff for enhancement of rent, the Court of first instance and the High Court made decrees for enhanced rent. The Privy Council, in the year 1873, reversed those decrees, and held that the rent could not be enhanced. Before the date of the Privy Council judgment the present defendant obtained several other judgments for enhanced rent against the present plaintiff. No application was made by him for review of those judgments, but in 1875 he brought this suit to recover the difference between the amount of enhanced rent recovered and the fixed rent which he was bound to pay. Held by MACPHERSON, MAHEER, and AINSLIE, JJ., following Shama Pershad Roy Chowdhry v. Hurro Pershad Roy Chowdhry, 10 Moore's I. A., 203, that the decrees for enhanced rent were superseded, and that such a suit as the present one would be. Held by GARTH, C. J., and JACKSON, J., distinguishing Shama Pershad's case, that these decrees were not superseded, that the principle of Marrinot v. Hampton, 2 Smith's L. C., 6th Ed. 375, applied, and that the plaintiff was not entitled to recover. JOGESH CHUNDER DUTT v. KALI CHURN DUTT. 1 L. R., 3 Calc., 30: 1 C. L. R., 5

3. ———— Supersession of decree.—Suit for money paid under conditional decree—A. obtained against B. a decree for arrears of rent at enhanced rates for the year 1871. Pending an appeal from this decree, A. obtained a second decree against B. for arrears of rent at enhanced rates for the succeeding year. This decree, however, made the payment of so much of the rent calculated at enhanced rates contingent on the event of the Appellate Court affirming the decree in the former suit. A. executed this last decree, and obtained payment of the rent at enhanced rates. On the reversal of the decision in the former case by the Appellate Court, B. applied for a refund of so much of the money paid A. as represented the rent calculated at enhanced rates. Held that the portion of the second decree, relating to enhanced rent, being merely conditional, was virtually superseded by the order made by the Appellate Court in the previous suit, and that such moneys were, therefore, recoverable. MOHAMED ELAHEE BUKSH v. KALLY MOHUN MOOKHOPADHYA

4. ———— Decree subsequently found to be barred.—Suit to recover money paid to save estate from sale under decree afterwards held to be barred.—Jurisdiction of Civil Court—Application having been made to a Deputy Collector to execute a decree for rent, the judgment-debtor in order to save his tenure from sale brought the money into Court, and it was taken out by the decree-holder. This was done while the question was being litigated in the Civil Courts whether the decree was not barred by limitation. The result was that the decree was declared barred. Held that the judgment-debtor's only remedy was by a suit in the Civil Court to get back the money. GHANNOO SINGH v. RAM GOBIND SINGH [13 W. R., 231]

5. ———— Decree passed ultra vires and subsequently reversed.—Suit for money paid under it.—The assignee of a decree having obtained execution of it in the Deputy Collector's Court under cover of a declaratory and mandatory decree of the Civil Court, which latter decree was set aside on appeal, a suit was brought against the assignee to recover the money which he had obtained by means of the execution proceedings. Held that the judgment-debtor or his representative (the plaintiff) had no title to recover the money unless he could show that he had been in some way defrauded by the transaction, the proceeding of the Deputy Collector giving him no cause of action by the mere fact of its having been ultra vires or not done in full exercise of judicial discretion. RAM GOBIND SINGH v. GHEENO SINGH [20 W. R., 406]

6. ———— Decree afterwards reversed.—Suit to recover money paid under it.—Money realised in execution of a decree may be recovered by suit, if the decree is set aside as regards the party seeking to recover. If such party was not a party to the original decree and his name appeared there owing only to misrepresentation he is not restricted to the Court executing the decree, but is at liberty to seek his remedy in a separate suit. SHEERO COOMAREE DABEE v. SHITARAM HAZRA 21 W. R., 346

7. ———— Voluntary payment.—Executor de son tort.—Payment of debt due by deceased.—Suit to recover amount paid from heir.—K., the widow of a deceased Hindu, sued to recover his estate from V., his brother, who had taken possession thereof as heir. Pending this suit a decree was obtained against V. and K. for payment of a debt due by the deceased out of his estate. V. paid the debt out of his own money. K. having recovered the estate, V. sued her to recover the money paid by him in satisfaction of the decree. Held that V. was entitled to recover. *KANAKAMMA v. • 1. ——— Admission of mooktears.—Power of High Court.—The High Court would not interfere with Zillah Judges in the selection and admission of mooktears, under the 39th section of the Pleaders' Rules, 1866. IN THE MATTER OF THE PETITION OF MAHOMED HOSSEIN

[5 W. R., Mis., 49]

2. ——— Rule 39 of Rules of High Court.—The 39th of the Rules for mooktears, issued by the Court in 1866, only required that every person who had been practising as a mooktear in the Criminal Courts should be at liberty to satisfy the Judge that he was a person of good moral character and qualified by his knowledge of law and procedure, before he could be entitled to admission under that rule. But it was not the intention of the Court that parties should be subjected to regular examinations, or that the duty imposed upon the Judge should be delegated to the Magistrate. [14 W. R., 461]

2. ——— Proof of actual pledge and ownership of property by pledgor.—Decree on mortgage bond pledging land—The contract of hypothecation defined. A creditor suing under such a contract must prove that there was an actual pledge, and that the land was part of the debtor's estate at the time of pledge. The decree will then be for sale of the property hypothecated, unless the debtor pay the amount due with interest within a period to be fixed by the Court. *CHETTI GAUNDAN v. 6. ——— Form of words of hypothecation.—Intention of parties.—Formal words of hypothecation are not necessary to make an hypothecation valid, if the intention of the parties is sufficiently expressed. MARTIN v. PURSARAM . 2 Agra, 124

7. ——— Uncertain agreement.—Semble,—That where certain persons, describing themselves as residents of J., give a bond for the payment of money, in which, as collateral security, they charge "their property" with such payment, they do not thereby create a charge on their immoveable property situated in J. Martin v. Pursaram, 2 Agra, 124, distinguished. DEOJIT v. PITAMBAR
[I. L. R., 1 All., 275]

8. ——— Charge on immoveable property.—Ambiguity.—A, to whom the Government had made a grant of certain villages, executed an instrument in favour of his brother charging the payment of an annual allowance to him and his heirs for ever on the "granted villages." The instrument did not name the villages which had been granted to A, but there was no doubt as to the particular villages which had been granted to him. Held that the fact that such instrument did not specify the villages which had been granted to A did not constitute such an ambiguity in such instrument as to render the charge created thereby invalid. *Deojit v. contained a clause by which the property was distinctly hypothecated to the plaintiff as a collateral security for the debt which the mortgagor had contracted. Held that the petition was a valid agreement between the parties creating a mortgage in favour of the plaintiff. —Suit for money-decree on mortgage.—The plaintiff sued to recover a sum of money, with interest, on a mortgage-deed, which contained the following clause "If, by sale of the above land, the money receivable by you be not satisfied with charges, then you will realise the proper amount by selling my other landed properties, to which I will make no objection or excuse." The plaintiff asked for a simple money-decree. The defendant had other landed property besides the property mortgaged. Held that the plaintiff was entitled to a simple money-decree available against his moveable property only. JOGESWAR DUTT v. NITAI CHUND CHUCKERBUTTY

11. ——— Creation of charge on property.—Construction of agreement—An agreement in a bond, executed by a mortgagor subsequently to a mortgage in the following words, viz.,—"after the expiry of the mortgage, when the time comes for payment of the mortgage-money, first I will pay the bond with interest, and after that I will pay the amount of the mortgage,"—is sufficient to create a charge on the mortgaged estate. BHUGWAN DOSS v. MAHOMED JAFFE. 4 N. W., 161

12. ——— Construction of mortgage-deed.—The following terms in a deed—"that, for the security of the payment of this debt, the lands mentioned in this deed are pledged by me, and that, until the principal money and the interest recited in this deed are paid off, I will not on any account transfer the property pledged to anybody by sale or hiba-bil-awar, or gift or mortgage in any other way"—were held to amount to a mortgage. *LALA RAMDHARI LAL v. 14. ——— Words creating simple mortgage.—A suit was brought in 1884, upon a hypothecation-bond executed in April 1875 in which the obligors agreed to repay the amount borrowed with interest, at 11-8 per cent. per mensem, in June of the same year. There was no provision as to payment of interest after due date. The bond specified certain property as belonging to the obligors and contained the following provision—"Our rights and property in the aforesaid talooka Rajapur shall remain pledged and hypothecated for this debt" Held that the terms of the bond by which the property was hypothecated were sufficiently clear and explicit to constitute a legal hypothecation of the shares and interests of which it recited at the opening that the obligors were owners. *BISHEN DAYAL v. "We, M. and S., declare that we have mortgaged a house situated in Ghaziabad, owned and possessed by us, for Rs300, to K. and G., for two years that we have received the mortgage-money, and nothing is due to us; that we have put the mortgagees in possession of the mortgaged property, that eight annas has been fixed as the monthly interest, in addition to the rent of the house, which we shall pay from our own pocket; that we promise to pay the aforesaid sum to the mortgagees within two years, and redeem the mortgaged property, that if we fail to pay the mortgage-money within two years, the mortgagees shall be at liberty to recover the mortgage money in any manner they please" Held per STUART, C. J., OLDFIELD, J., and STRAIGHT, J. (SPANKIE, J., dissenting), in a suit upon this instrument to recover the principal sum advanced by the sale of the house, that the instrument created a mortgage of the house as security for the payment of such principal sum. *DULL v. 17. ————— Right to decree for sale of property—Suit for money charged on immoveable property.—The obligor of a bond for the payment of money gave the obligee a moiety of the profits of a certain mouzah up to the end of the current settlement and charged the other moiety of such profits with the payment of such money. It was also stipulated in such bond that the obligee should take the management of such mouzah, rendering accounts to the obligor, and that if the obligor failed to pay such money when due, the obligee should remain in possession of the entire mouzah until payment of all that was due. The original obligor having died his heir gave the obligee a second bond, in which he admitted the creation of the original charge and a certain further debt. A portion of such further debt he undertook to pay on a certain date, and he agreed that the balance due should be realised by the obligee from a moiety of the profits of the mouzah, according to the terms of the first bond, and that the mouzah should remain in the obligee's possession until the amounts due under both bonds were realised by him, and that he, the obligor, should have no power to sell, mortgage, or alienate the mouzah. Held in a suit by the obligee on the bonds that the bonds created a mortgage only of the profits of the mouzah and not of the mouzah itself, and accordingly that they did not entitle the obligee to a decree for the sale of the mouzah. *GANGA PRASAD v. The devisee, with the intention of giving effect to such condition, mortgaged such property to his co-executors. Held, in a suit by one of such co-executors to enforce the mortgage, that the mortgage, not being executed in accordance with the terms of the will, was invalid, and the suit was not maintainable. *VAUGHAN v. 20. ————— Legal and equitable mortgages.—Mortgage of moveable property without possession—The Courts of this country being Courts both of law and equity, it is immaterial for the determination of claims to attached property whether a mortgage is a legal or equitable one. Where goods are mortgaged and left in the possession of the original owner, the circumstance that they are so left is not to be held as a fraud per se rendering the mortgage liable to be defeated as between the mortgagor and third parties, such as bona fide purchasers or judgment-creditors. But when possession is left with the mortgagor, this is a circumstance of which the Court should take notice when determining whether the mortgage is bona fide or fraudulent. A mortgagee is not bound to take possession immediately default is made. DEANS v. RICHARDSON 3 N. W., 54

21. ————— Intention of parties.—Advance of part only of consideration.—Where part only of the consideration has been advanced in respect of a mortgage transaction, it does not follow that the mortgagee who makes such advance is entitled to possession of a part of the mortgagor's land proportionate to the money advanced; but whether the parties by their subsequent conduct raised the inference that this was meant, may be a question of fact for the Court to determine. *ACHUMBEET TEWARIE v. Should he make any of these transactions in respect of the said lands, the instrument relating thereto shall be deemed invalid, and as executed in favour of nominal parties for evading payment of the money covered by the said lands." Held (MARKBY, J., doubting) that

25. ———— Covenant not to alienate.—Mortgage—A bond contained a clause that the obligors would not dispose of any of the property, moveable or immovable, in their possession until the debt was paid. Held that such a clause did not give the obligee of the bond a lien on such property, though he might sue for damages in respect of breach of contract. RAMBUKSH v. 27. ———— Agreement not to alienate—Construction of mortgage-deed—Gift to wife for dower—A mortgagor stipulated that he would not sell the property mortgaged during the subsistence of the mortgage-term, but that if he did sell, he would sell to the mortgagee at a fixed price. He subsequently alienated a moiety of the property to his wife in lieu of dower, a suit was instituted by the mortgagee to set aside the alienation. Held, on the construction of the mortgage-deed, that the condition did not absolutely prohibit alienation, but simply conferred on the mortgagee a pre-emption right to purchase, and that the mortgagee could not sue for avoidance of the alienation to the wife, without claiming or expressing a willingness to purchase. SHIVA CHARAN DASS v. 28. ———— Covenant not to alienate—Transfer to purchaser.—Claim to pay by instalments.—A mortgage-bond provided that the mortgage-debt should be paid in instalments, and that no transfer by the mortgagor of the property mortgaged so long as the debt was undischarged, should be made or should be valid. Subsequently the mortgagor transferred the mortgaged property, the sale-deed providing that the unpaid balance of the mortgage-debt should be paid to the original mortgagees by instalments, and that any further sum should be paid by the mortgagor. The Court of first instance decreed possession to the purchaser, whose possession was resisted by the mortgagees, on payment of the unpaid balance of the mortgage-debt in full. On the appeal of the purchaser, who claimed to pay off the debt by instalments, the Court declined to interfere with the decree. MAHOMED ZAKAOULLAH v. BANEE PERSHAD . . . 1 N. W., Ed. 1873, 135

29. ———— Condition against alienation—Auction purchaser at sale in execution of decree.—A transfer of mortgaged property made in contravention of a condition not to alienate is not absolutely void, but voidable in so far as it is in defeasance of the mortgagee's rights. Where, in contravention of a condition not to alienate, the mortgagor had transferred his proprietary right in the mortgaged property to a third person for a term of years, the Court declared that such transfer should not be binding on a purchaser at the sale in execution of the decree obtained by the mortgagee for the sale of the property in satisfaction of the mortgage-debt, unless such purchaser desired its continuance. CHUNNI v. In breach of this condition he granted M, a lease of his rights and interests in such property for a term of twelve and a half years. B, having sued on such bond and obtained a decree charging such property with the satisfaction of the decree, sued M and J for the cancellation of the lease and a declaration that it would not be binding on the purchaser at a sale in the execution of the decree, alleging that the lease had been granted to defeat the execution of the decree. The bond was recorded under the Registration Act in the book numbered "four" required to be kept by the Act. A subsequently sold his immovable property, and the conveyance was recorded in the book numbered "one," in which documents relating to immovable property have to be recorded. In a suit by the bond-creditor against the purchaser seeking to establish a lien on A's immovable property by virtue of the bond, Held that the general words used in the bond were not sufficient to give a lien upon any specific property, and that the fact that the bond had been recorded in book "four" showed that it was not the intention of the parties that the immovable property of the debtor should be charged. *NAJIBULLA MULLA v. Before the expiration of the term the villages were taken in execution, and sold under a decree at the suit of a third party, and the lessee turned out of possession. Held that the lessee had no claim against the villages for the principal money, and that the sum of Rs 1,000 was forfeited. *NUNDLALL v. The relief sought was in effect an injunction to restrain B from collecting the revenue of the zemindari. The defence set up by B in his answer was in substance that the lease was an executory contract, and being without consideration could not be enforced, and was, moreover, void for maintenance, by reason of a subsequent agreement for the advance of a sum of money to carry on a suit which had not been carried out. The Judge of the Civil Court adopted this view and held the lease void. The High Court of Madras on appeal treated the case as a suit for specific performance and decreed execution of the lease. On appeal the Judicial Committee sustained the decree as to possession under the lease, but as it appeared from the evidence questionable whether the transaction in respect of the lease did not really operate only as a loan, and as a right to redeem might exist, the affirmance was made with a declaration that it was to be without prejudice to the claim (if any) of B to which he might be entitled, and to any question which might be raised as to the amount which was actually advanced by A to B. *KAMALA NAIKEN v. 42. ————— Right to proceed against land to realise debt.—A covenant to put the creditors into possession of certain property which they were to retain for a certain period, taking the profits in lieu of interest, is only an usufructuary mortgage and not a deed of hypothecation, and a suit to bring the property to sale for the realisation of the amount due under the deed is not maintainable. *DULLI v. 43. ————— Covenant not to lease—Lease of property mortgaged.—Suit to set aside lease.—A mortgaged certain property to B, agreeing, amongst other things, not to grant in zur-i-peshgi or mortgage the property to any one so as to cause any difficulty in the realisation of the money advanced under the mortgage-bond. A subsequently leased in zur-i-peshgi part of the property to C. B obtained a sale-decree against A on his mortgage, and at the sale himself became the purchaser of the property. He then brought a suit against C to set aside the zur-i-peshgi lease, and to obtain khas possession. Held that the covenant in the mortgage-bond merely created a personal liability between A and B, and that the sale under B's mortgage-decree did not put an end to the zur-i-peshgi lease or affect the interests of the zur-i-peshgidar, that B's suit against C was wrong in form; and that his proper course was to sue to have his right declared to sell the property in satisfaction of his mortgage-debt, so as to give the zur-i-peshgidar an opportunity of redeeming. *RADHA PERSHAD MISSEER v. From the year

1858 the Courts of the Madras Presidency, and from the year 1864 the Courts of the Presidency of Bombay, have erroneously, and in contravention of the law of India as declared by the earlier decisions, adopted, with regard to this class of securities, doctrines which the English Courts of Equity have applied to mortgages in England. Quare,—Whether in dealing with future cases the Judicial Committee ought to follow the new course of decision which has sprung up in these Presidencies, or their own decision in the case of Pattabiramier v. Vencatarow Narcken, 7 B. L. R., 136; 13 Moore's I. A., 560. The essential characteristic of a mortgage by conditional sale is, that on the breach of the condition of repayment the contract executes itself, and the transaction is closed and becomes one of absolute sale without any further act of the parties or accountability between them. Where land was mortgaged on a condition that the rents should be applied first in payment of the Government revenue, next in payment of the salary of a manager, and afterwards in reduction of the debt, and it was further stipulated that instalments of a fixed amount should be paid up to a certain date by the mortgagor to the mortgagee, and that on that date a settlement of accounts should be made, and in the event of there being a balance against the mortgagor, and his not paying the same on a date fixed, the mortgagee should become the purchaser at a fixed value of so much of the land as would satisfy such balance, retaining his right to sue the mortgagor personally for any further sum that might remain due, owing to the whole of the land, as valued, growing insufficient to satisfy such balance,—Held that this was not a contract of mortgage by conditional sale. THUMBUSAMY MOODELLY v. HOOSAIN ROWTHEN. I. L. R., 1 Mad., 1 [L. R., 2 I. A., 241]

45. ————— Sale expiring before 1858.—When the term of a conditional sale, whether made as a security for a loan or not, had expired before 1858, the rule laid down in Thumbusamy's case, I L. 46. ————— Continuing debt.—When one party to a transaction alleges it to be a mortgage and the other alleges it to be a sale, the question for consideration is whether or not there continued to be a debt from the former to the latter. The plaintiffs sued for possession of certain lands, alleging that they had been mortgaged to the defendant by their father under two documents. The defendant produced them and relied upon them as deeds of sale, which conveyed to him absolutely the lands mentioned in them. The form of the instruments was not conclusive, but it appeared abundantly by the conduct of the defendant himself that the deeds were intended as mere securities for money, and that he had treated them as such. Certain entries in the defendant's accounts also treated the respective considerations named in the deeds as continuing debts due to the defendant from the plaintiffs' father. The Subordinate Judge awarded the plaintiffs' claim, but his decree was reversed, on appeal, by the Assistant Judge, who held that the transaction was a sale and not a mortgage. Hossain Rowthen*, 1 L. R., 1 Mad., 1. Per INNES, J.—Contracts of mortgage and conditional sale must be construed in accordance with the intention of the parties, which can only be gathered from the terms of the instrument. It cannot be presumed that parties to mortgages by way of conditional sale executed since 1858 contracted with reference to the rule enforced by English Courts of Equity, adopted by the Sudder Court in 1858, and followed for thirteen years in this Presidency. *RAMASAMI SASTRIGAL v. 48. ————— Deed, Construction of — Bai-bil-wafa. — Foreclosure in the Central Provinces.—By a bond, dated 10th February 1857, a certain village was mortgaged by one G to the appellants and their father as security for a loan; the bond providing that, "if I fail to pay the money as stipulated, I and my heirs shall, without objection, cause the settlement of the said village to be made with you." The interest of G in the village was described as that of a malguzar, and his proprietary right therein was declared by the revenue authorities shortly after the execution of the mortgage, but his payments of revenue being in arrear, the Board of Revenue granted a lease of the village for ten years to the appellants' father. The mortgagees in a suit on the bond obtained the following decree on 3rd November 1860 "As the defendant acknowledges the plaintiffs' claim, it is ordered that a decree be given to the plaintiffs for principal and interest and costs against the defendant and the mortgaged property." In proceedings in the Civil Court taken under this decree, the mortgagees asked for possession of the village, and obtained, on 17th July 1862, an order, in pursuance of which they were put in possession, an appeal by G. being rejected. G. took various steps to obtain possession of the mortgaged property, or a declaration of his proprietary interest therein, but failed in his endeavours, an application for a grant of the proprietary right in the village, and an appeal from an order cancelling his pottah, being rejected by the revenue authorities on 8th December 1864 and 27th July 1865, respectively, and on 12th August 1867 G. conveyed the village by deed of sale to the respondents. 49. ————— Deed of sale convertible into a mortgage — Construction of deed.—Where a deed, which on the face of it was described as a mortgage, stated that the grantee was already in possession under a previous mortgage by the grantor and was under the second deed to receive the profits in liquidation of interest so far as they would go, and that the grantor was not to be liable to repay the principal money or such balance of interest (if any) as might accrue upon it, unless he adopted a son, and the grantee, unless that event happened, was to enjoy the property conveyed in right of purchase for the sum (principal and interest) due to him,—Held that the deed was a sale liable to be converted into a mortgage, and not a mortgage liable to be converted into a sale. Howard v. Harris, 1 Ver., 190, Ramji v. Chinto, 1 Bom., 199; Shankurbhar v. Kassibhar, 9 Bom., 69, referred to and distinguished. SUBHABHAT v. VASUDEVBHAT. . . . I. L. R., 2 Bom., 113

50. ————— Deed of sale convertible into a mortgage. — Construction of deed. — Redemption, Right of. — Alienation of immovable property.—Where the grantor executed to the grantee a document reciting a mortgage by the former to the latter of certain lands for Rs125, on which Rs200 were then due from the grantor to the grantee, and containing an agreement that the grantee should pay Rs75 to another creditor of the grantor, and purporting, in consideration of Rs275 so made up, absolutely to sell and convey the mortgaged lands to the grantee, and the grantee executed to the grantor a document of the same date reciting the sale of the mortgaged lands by the grantor to the grantee for the consideration of Rs275, and covenanting that the grantee should reconvey to the grantor the lands, the subject of the grant, if the grantor should repay to the grantee the sum of Rs275 within a certain period, and providing that, in case of default in such payment within such period, the covenant for reconveyance should become null. Held that the transaction was a sale and not a mortgage, and that, consequently, the grantor had no right to redeem the lands after the expiration of the period so fixed for the payment of Rs275 by the grantor to the grantee, there being no evidence or allegation that, at the date of the execution of the two documents, the sum of Rs275 was an insufficient consideration for the sale of the lands, nor any stipulation that the grantee should account for the rents and profits received by him, or that the grantor should pay interest on the Rs275, nor anything to show that the grantor remained in possession after the execution of the two documents, or that subsequently to that time any advances were made by the grantee to the grantor on the security of the lands, nor anything in either document which pointed to a right on the part of the grantee to recover from the grantor the sum of Rs275, or any part of it, before, at, or after the period named for the repurchase. The law as laid down in Ramji v. Chinto, 1 Bom, 199, viz., once a mortgage always a mortgage, is still in force, in the Presidency of Bombay, with regard to mortgages containing clauses of conditional sale, whether executed before or after 1858. The ancient law and usage of the country respecting gahan lahan mortgages, and generally the alienation of immoveable property, discussed. BAPUJI APAJI v. SENAVARAJI MARVADI [I. L. 51. ——— Vendor and purchaser.—Sale.—Held that an agreement by the purchaser of certain immoveable property that it should, on payment by the vendor of a certain sum within a specified time, be restored to the vendor, and that on failure of such payment it should become the absolute property of the purchaser, did not create the relation of mortgagor and mortgagee between the parties, and that upon the vendor's failure to comply with the terms of the agreement, the property vested in the purchaser. BHUP KUR v. MUHAMMADI BEGAM I. L. R., 6 All., 37

52. ——— Sale of perpetual lease, with conditional agreement to sell back to vendor, not amounting to mortgage—Reservation of right to repurchase—Right to redeem—A purchaser of land, another person advancing the purchase-money for him, granted to the latter a mukurari patta or perpetual lease, not as a security for the debt, but as an absolute acquittance of it. At the same time an ikrarnama was executed, whereby it was stipulated that when the grantor or his heirs should pay to the grantee or his heirs the amount of the above debt without interest, out of his or their own moneys without borrowing from any other person, then the patta should be cancelled, the grantor having no claim to mesne profits during the possession of the mukuraridar. Held that, with regard to the terms of the instruments, and the circumstances under which they were made, this transaction was not a contract of mortgage, but evidence of a sale and acquittance of a debt with power reserved to the vendor to repurchase under certain conditions personal to him. *SITUL PURSHAD v. bought benami in the name of A by the father of A. After the father's death a sum of money was raised by conditional bill of sale signed by A as proprietor and by his brother B. as motullah. Afterwards, and after the death of B, and after B's heirs had separated from A, A. raised a further sum by a bill of sale, reciting the former conditional bill of sale, and that the additional sum was raised to discharge the same. Held that if the grantee took with notice that he was entitled to a half share only of the estate the additional charge would operate as a mortgage of such half share only; but that portion of the money for which the original bill of sale was given was a charge on B's share as well as on the possession of his heirs. *KISHEN CHUNDER GHOSH v. 54. ——— Rights of mortgagee.—Proviso in case of alienation of mortgaged property.—Certain words in a mortgage-deed stipulating that in the event of the property mortgaged being sold in execution of a decree, or otherwise alienated, the mortgagee should recover from any other property in the possession of the mortgagor, whose person should also be liable for debt, were construed as merely intended to give some supposed further security to the mortgagee, but not to take away his right to issue notice of foreclosure and obtain possession by a suit, even though the mortgaged property were sold away. ACHUMBIT MISSEER v. LALLA NUND RAM [11 W. R., 544]

55. ——— Construction of instrument of mortgage —An instrument, mortgaging villages for a sum payable within a certain period by instalments, and making distinct provision that, upon default in payment of an instalment, the mortgagee by his servants was to take possession, and after paying the revenue and the expenses of collection, to credit the balance towards payment of the instalment, also contained the following "Should on the expiration of the term of this instrument, any money remain due then, till payment thereof, possession will continue according to the terms herein set out. If I do not accept this, then, as soon as the breach of promise occurs, they will at the end of the year realise the whole amount of instalment by sale of the villages and of other moveable and immoveable property belonging to me." Held that such an instrument must be taken as a whole, and that the true construction to be put on it should be that which, being reasonable, would also give effect to all parts of it. Held, accordingly (on the contention that these words negatived the mortgagee's right to take possession upon default in payment of an instalment, leaving him only a right to proceed to sale) that, as this construction would not give due effect to the first part of the instrument, it must yield to a construction which, not only would give such effect, but would also be the more reasonable one, viz., that the Rs0,351 with interest, on the 16th of May 1870, and pledged certain property for repayment thereof. At the time of the mortgage this property was held by B, the mortgagee, under a lease which expired on the 10th of September 1870. On the 5th of November 1866 A. granted to B a lease of the property hypothecated for a term of seventeen years from the 10th of September 1870, at a rent of Rs20,541 a year. The lease recited the mortgage-debt, and the necessity of providing for payment of it, and contained an agreement that, out of the annual rent B. should retain Rs16,500 on account of the debt, and pay the remainder to A. In a suit to redeem and cancel the bond and lease,—Held that they did not form one mortgage transaction, but were separable and separate, and that A would only be entitled to set off the rent retained against the mortgage-debt and interest, and thenceforth to receive the full rental of Rs20,351 a year for the term of the lease yet unexpired. JOOMNA PERSHAD SOOKOOL v JOYRAM LAL MAHTO

57. ———— Conditional sale.—Karānamah.—The appellant became security for the payment by the respondent of the Government dues in respect of a mootah then about to be sold for those dues, and by the first karānamah entered into by the parties it was stipulated that, on default of the respondent to pay any part of the instalments, the appellant was to obtain a transfer of the property, and to retain it, after returning to the respondent the money which may have been paid by him. By a second karānamah entered into on the same day, the plan of a conditional sale provided by the first karānamah was reduced to a mortgage, with a covenant between the parties that whenever the appellant should take possession of the mootah for the purpose of enabling him to discharge the amount for which he became security, he should restore the mootah to the respondent as soon as he was reimbursed all that he had advanced out of the rents and profits of the mootah. Held that the transaction was in the nature of a mortgage, and that there was no such inconsistency between the two instruments as to make the second invalid. KAKERLAPOODY JAGGANADHA RAZ v. chettī Serī adjoining the land of kasbah Jagganathapuram in the zemindari of Madhugula, they are given you for absolute sale, so the said sale money has been received at the time of sale. In the event of our not being able to pay according to the said stipulation, you should hereditarily from son to grandson enjoy the produce of the said land, yourself paying to Government the assessment fixed on a sub-division, reckoning this sale money to be a pure sale. This muddata kiryam has been executed with my consent.” Held that this document was a sale with a condition for re-purchase. The decisions of the late Sudder Court of Madras have carried the doctrine of relief after the time named in the conveyance so far as to say that wherever the security for money is an object of the transaction, no sale can become absolute. The High Court have followed the English rule and have held the question one of construction, admitting however, for the purpose of the construction, other documents and oral evidence. LAKSHMI CHELLIAM GARU (ZEMINDAR OF BOBBILI) v KRISHNA BHUPATI DEVU MAHARAZ GARU (ZEMINDAR OF MADUGULA) . 7 Mad., 6

59. ———— Construction of deed.—Suit for possession.—The defendants borrowed money from the plaintiff without interest but executed a deed stipulating that the sum borrowed was to be repaid on a given date, and that if not paid then the defendants should execute a putni lease of certain properties set forth in the deed, the sum borrowed being considered as a bonus for such lease, and that if the borrowers did not execute such a lease, this deed should be counted as a putni patta. The money not having been paid, and the lease not executed, the plaintiffs sued for possession.—Held that they were entitled to possession on the footing of a putni, from the date of suit, and that the transaction was not a conditional sale, but a contract to create a putni, for a certain consideration unless that sum was paid on a particular date. JUSEEMOOD-DEEN BISWAS v. 60. ———— Mortgage—Redemption, Right of—Interest—Construction of deed.—In Chait 1275, Fasli (March 1868), M, having borrowed Rs11,200 from S, gave him a mortgage by way of conditional sale of certain immoveable property for a term of seven years, that is to say, extending over the years 1276, 1277, 1278, 1279, 1280, 1281, and 1282 Fasli. The sum payable as the interest of each of those years was fixed at Rs1,680. The mortgagee obtained payment of his interest for four years from 1276 to 1279 Fasli inclusive by bringing suits against the mortgagor. The interest for 1280, 1281, and 1282 Fasli, as well as the principal sum, remaining unpaid, the mortgagor sued for redemption of the mortgaged property on payment of the principal sum, and the interest of the last year, 1282 Fasli, only, contending that the interest of the other years, 1280

and 1281 Fasli, was not secured on the mortgaged property, but was, under the terms of the instrument of mortgage, realisable by suit from his non-hypothecated property and person. Held, on the construction of the instrument of mortgage, that the mortgage was not redeemable on payment of the last year's interest only, but on payment of the interest of the other years as well. SUBBU PRASAD v. 61. ————— Redemption.—

Condition precedent.—In a mortgage-deed executed by a Mahomedan to a Hindu in 1820, it was stipulated that the principal and interest were to be repaid within five years, that an account was to be taken at the end of five years of the profits of the lands and any sum found due to the mortgagee, after deducting the profits of the lands from the debt, was to be paid to the mortgagee, and that the payment was to be endorsed on the bond and the lands resumed, and it was provided that, if the amount due to the mortgagee at the expiry of the said term was not paid, the lands were to be treated as sold and delivered, instead of mortgaged. Held that, no account having been taken as provided, the mortgage was redeemable within sixty years. MAVULALI AMIRUDIN SHARIF v. GUNDU SOBHANADRI . I. L. R., 6 Mad., 339

62. ————— Usufructuary lease.—

Conditions of huq-i-ijara to be reserved to mortgagor — Construction of mortgage-deed.—The defendant advanced a sum of money to R. and T who granted him as security for repayment an ijara lease of a mouzah (representing that they were entitled to 16 annas), in which lease a jumma was reserved, a portion whereof was to be applied to the discharge of interest to the defendant and a small sum to go to the mortgagors as huq-i-ijara. After execution of the ijara the defendant was dispossessed of 8 annas by a third party who claimed to be a sharer, and he had to sue for and obtain a partition of the remaining 8 annas which he retained, for what it was worth, as security. The plaintiffs bought the mortgagors' share, and now sued for the huq-i-ijara originally reserved.—Held that the mortgagors could not claim any benefit under the ijara lease until all the benefits which it pretended to secure to the defendant were realised by him. ACHUMBIT SINGH v. 63. ————— Usufructuary mortgage.—

Condition for reconveyance of property.—In a usufructuary mortgage it was stipulated that the property was to be reconveyed on repayment of the principal sum lent, but nothing was said as to interest.—Held that the condition implied that the usufruct was intended to be received by the mortgagee in lieu of interest, and therefore the mere fact that the amount of the principal had been received from the usufruct was no ground for the mortgagor being entitled to re-possession of the property. BUNWABEELAL v. 64. ————— Power to cancel zur-i-peshgi lease.—The words in a zur-i-peshgi lease, "after the expiry of the term it will be competent to me (the mortgagor) in the month of Jait of any year I can to pay the zur-i-peshgi and cancel the lease," were held to do no more than bar the mortgagor's re-entering in the middle of any year, in the event of the mortgagee's occupation continuing after the expiry of the lease, owing to the mortgagor's default to pay off the loan, and that it contained no undertaking by the mortgagee to hold on until it suited the mortgagor to pay him off. ROY GOWREE SUNKUR v. BHOLEE PERSHAD . 17 W. R., 211

65. ————— Construction of. —Arrears of rent from tenants and mortgagors, Right to.

—By the terms of a deed of usufructuary mortgage the mortgage was redeemable at the end of the term by payment of the principal and the arrears of rent due from the mortgagors and the tenants. It was held, in a suit by the mortgagee (who was in possession of the mortgaged property at the time of suit), to recover the mortgage-money and arrears of rent, with regard to the rents due by tenants, that it was clearly the intention of the parties that arrears reasonably due were to be paid and not such as arose from the negligence of the mortgagee, and as it was not shown that the arrears due by tenants could not have been realised by due diligence, and the mortgagee had it in his power to realise the rents, the mortgagee was not entitled to recover such arrears. CHOTI LAL v. KALKA PARSHAD 7 N. W., 100

of Government revenue paid under.—By the terms of a deed of usufructuary mortgage the mortgagor accepted the liability on account of any addition that might be made to the demand of the Government at the time of settlement. During the currency of the mortgage tenure the mortgagees, averring that they had to pay a certain sum in excess of the amount of Government revenue entered in the deed of mortgage from 1279 to 1281 Fash, sued the mortgagor to recover such excess. Held that, inasmuch as no settlement of accounts was contemplated or was necessary under the provisions of the deed of mortgage, and such deed did not contain a provision reserving the adjustment of any sums paid by the mortgagees in excess of the amount of the Government demand at the time of the execution of such deed to the time when the mortgage tenure should be brought to an end, the suit was not premature and could be entertained. NIKKA MAL v. 69. ——— Covenant for possession by mortgagee.—Omission to give possession.—Right to sue for mortgage-money—A deed of mortgage and conditional sale contained a covenant for possession by the mortgagee during the mortgage term. 70. ——— Obstruction in getting possession.—Usufructuary mortgage—Right of mortgagee to sue for mortgage-money—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), s. 68 (b) and (c).—A usufructuary mortgagee, to whom possession of the mortgaged property had been delivered, sued the mortgagor for the mortgage-money on the ground that the mortgagor had sold a part of the mortgaged property, and the purchaser had deprived him of possession of such part. One of the conditions inserted in the deed of mortgage was that, if "on the part of the mortgagor, or other persons, any kind of dispute or any interference or obstruction took place in obtaining of possession by the mortgagee of the mortgaged property," the mortgagee should be entitled to sue for the mortgage-money. Held that such condition contemplated the case of the mortgagor, in the first instance, in breach of the conditions of the mortgage, failing to deliver possession to the mortgagee, or to secure his possession from any obstruction or disturbance by other persons, but not the case of the mortgagee being deprived of possession after it had been once obtained and secured, and therefore the mortgagee was not entitled by virtue of such condition to sue for the mortgage-money. Held, further, that the mortgagee's case being that he had been deprived of possession of a part of the mortgaged property, he would be entitled to sue for the mortgage-money only if he had been deprived thereof by or in consequence of the wrongful act or default of the mortgagor, and not if he had been deprived thereof by or in consequence of the wrongful act or default of other persons, that the sale by the mortgagor was not a wrongful act, there being no condition against alienation, and the sale by a mortgagor of his equity of redemption not being rendered wrongful or unlawful by any rule of law, nor being in itself a wrongful act; that a wrongful act by the purchaser, though committed under colour of the purchase, could not be said to have taken place "in consequence of the wrongful act or default of the mortgagor;" and that therefore the mortgagee had no cause of action. *JHABBU RAM v. 71. ——— Disposition of mortgagee.—Usufructuary mortgage.—Construction of deed—Suit for money lent on disposition—The plaintiff sued to recover money due on a mortgage-bond alleged to have been executed by the defendant's late husband S, and by his brother J., who, however, was relieved by the plaintiff from the debt. The conditions of the bond were that the plaintiff's father should possess the mortgaged property in consideration of interest only accruing upon the principal sum lent, and that the mortgagor should take back the property whenever he should pay the principal sum to the mortgagee. The present suit was brought by reason of the plaintiff having been dispossessed of the property by the shareholder brothers A. and J. Held that the money lent was recoverable notwithstanding there was no express condition in the bond to the effect that it would be recoverable in the event of disposition by a third party. But as the money was found to have been borrowed by the defendant's husband on behalf of the family with the tacit consent of the other members, the plaintiff could recover from the present defendant only her share of the debt. *GYARAM CHUCKERBUTTY v. 72. ——— Mortgagee dispossessed of portion of property by wrongful act of mortgagor.—Right to return of portion of loan.—Where a mortgagee was deprived by the wrongful acts of the mortgagor of a portion of the land which constituted the only security for the mortgage-loan, —Held that he was entitled to recover from the mortgagor so much of the consideration-money as was in proportion to the land of which he had been deprived. PITAMBUR MISSER v. RAM SURUN SOOKOOL [25 W. R., 7]

73. ——— Right of mortgagee in possession to proceeds of sale.—Sale for arrears of revenue—A mortgagee in possession is not entitled to recover any share of the sale-proceeds of the mortgaged property sold for arrears of Government revenue, except to the extent that he shows that the usufruct of the property, while he held the mortgage, has not satisfied his debt. *HURDEO NARAIN SINGH v. 74. ——— Mortgagee in possession under an agreement to pay rent to mortgagor.—Usufructuary mortgage—Accidental destruction of mortgaged premises by fire.—Right of mortgagor to rent.—The plaintiff borrowed Rs. 1,400 from the defendant and mortgaged to the latter for eight years a piece of ground with a warehouse standing thereon. There was an agreement between the parties that the rent of the warehouse should be Rs. 12-0 per mensem, and that out of this amount the mortgagee should appropriate Rs. 14 towards the payment of the interest on the principal sum, and pay Rs. 12-0 as rent to the mortgagor. Within four years from the date of the mortgage the warehouse was destroyed by fire, and thereupon the mortgagee ceased to pay rent to the mortgagor. The latter sued to recover the site together with arrears of rent. The District Judge was of opinion that the defendant should lose the interest on the loan up to the date of the term for the redemption of the mortgage, and that he was bound to pay to the plaintiff the rent claimed by him. Held by INNES, J., that the loss of the premises, which had arisen from accidental causes, could not affect defendant's right to recover the full amount due to him on the mortgage. There was no alteration in the liability, but merely in the source and mode of discharge. The premises having ceased to exist, nothing arising from the income could be credited towards the mortgage, and there was no residue available to pay plaintiff. Held by MUTTUSAMI AYYAR, J., that defendant's right of possession rested on the usufructuary mortgage and not on tenancy, and his right to recover his debt with interest thereon could not be extinguished or modified by the destruction of the warehouse. As to the surplus payment, the existence of the warehouse, which produced the income of Rs16-12-0 a month, was the basis of the contract to make it, and the basis having failed, the obligation resting thereon must likewise fail. VENKATESHWARA v. KESAVA SHETTI. I. L. R., 2 Mad., 187

75. ——— Deprivation of security by wrongful act of mortgagor.—Right to return of consideration.—Where money is lent on a mortgage-deed, on the condition that if returned with interest within a given period, the property pledged shall revert to the mortgagor, and the mortgagee finds afterwards that the property in question is subject to a prior mortgage as to which he was not informed, and that he is therefore without the supposed security, he is at liberty to sue for the return of the money advanced with interest without waiting for the expiry of the stipulated period. *RADHA CHURN SHAHA v. 76. ——— Mortgagee deprived by dilution of subject of mortgage.—Usufructuary mortgage—Where a mortgagee is deprived by dilution of the possession of land over which he holds an usufructuary lease before he has repaid himself the amount advanced, he has a right, unless the terms of the lease are very special, to call upon the lessor for the unpaid balance of the loan. *SHEO GOLAM SINGH v. 78. ——— Transfer of mortgaged property by mortgagee in exchange for similar property.—Right of mortgagor to property acquired by exchange—In 1865, N. was in possession of six shops in a market-place at Etawah. He was in possession of two as mortgagee, and of the remaining four as proprietor. The Municipal Committee of Etawah, having decided to establish the market in a fresh place, and to use the site of the old market for other purposes, arranged with N. to take the sites of his six shops in the old market-place, and to give him in lieu of them sites for six shops in the new. Under this arrangement, he built six shops in the new market-place. Subsequently, the mortgagor of one of the old shops claimed possession of one of the six new ones on payment of the mortgage-money, and cost of constructing the shop. Held that the claim could not be allowed, inasmuch as it could be justified only by proof of an agreement binding upon the parties at the time when the transaction occurred that some specific one among the new shops should be substituted for the old one which was the subject of the mortgage, and it had not been found that any such agreement was made. *NIDHI LAL v. 79. ——— Sale to mortgagee of portion of mortgaged property.—Resale to mortgagor—Decree—Equitable right to whole of property mortgaged—A mortgagor mortgaged a 14-anna share in a certain mouzah to B. B obtained a decree on his mortgage-bond. Subsequent to this decree B bought from A a 2-anna share in the mouzah, but at a later period resold the share to A. In execution of another decree which B. had obtained against A, the 12-anna share in the mouzah belonging to A. was put up for sale and purchased by B. B next applied for execution of the decree he had obtained on the mortgage-bond, seeking to sell the 2-anna share which remained in the mouzah as part of the property mortgaged to him.—Held that, so long as A. had only a 12-anna share of the property in his possession, B's security was of necessity reduced to that amount, but on A's again becoming the owner of the whole 14 annas, B had an equitable right to demand that the 14 annas should be held subject to his mortgage. *DEOLIE CHAND v. 4. POWER OF SALE.

82. ——— Sale of mortgaged land in mofussil.—Deed in English form.—A sale, without the intervention of a Court of Justice, of mortgaged lands situate in the mofussil of Bombay, under a power of sale contained in an indenture of mortgage in the ordinary English form, is valid, if due notice be given to the mortgagor of the mortgagee's intention to sell, and the sale be fairly conducted. Position of a mortgagee selling under his power of sale explained. PITAMBER NARAYANDAS v. VANMALI SHAMJI . . . I. L. R., 2 Bom., 1

83. ——— Redemption, Suit for.—Injunction—When property mortgaged is situated in the mofussil, but the parties to the mortgage are resident in Bombay, and the instrument of mortgage is in the English form, the parties must be held to have contracted according to English law, and to be entitled to enforce their rights according to that law. In such a case the mortgagee can exercise a power of sale contained in the mortgage-deed, and cannot be restrained from exercising such power merely because the mortgagor has filed a suit for redemption. The mortgagor can only stay the sale pendente lite by paying the amount due into Court, or by giving prima facie evidence that the power of sale is being exercised in a fraudulent or improper manner, contrary to the terms of the mortgage. JAGJIVAN NANABHAI v. It seems to make no difference that the property is capable of division. RAM KANT CHOWDHRY v. BEINDABUN CHUNDER DOSS . 16 W. R., 246

Under the latter of the two deeds a money-decree was obtained and the property sold. Subsequently the earlier mortgagee obtained a money-decree, and caused the mortgagor's rights and interests to be again sold. Held that the purchaser at the second sale purchased, not the estate, but the mortgagor's (extinct) right, title, and interest, and could not sue for possession of the property itself. *DURPO NARAIN MAHATAH v. Notice.—Fraud.—The plaintiffs advanced a sum of money on the security of a simple mortgage of a share in four talooks, and obtained a simple money-decree. They then caused the mortgaged premises to be attached, but did not proceed to sale. Afterwards they negotiated a loan to the judgment-debtors from a third party, the present appellant, upon a simple mortgage of one of the same talooks, concealing the existence of their prior lien, and appropriated the money so obtained in discharge of other debts due to themselves from their judgment-debtors. The appellant obtained a simple money-decree, and caused the premises to be attached and sold. Before the sale the plaintiffs gave notice of their lien, and in consequence the appellant purchased for a trifle. The plaintiffs brought the present suit for a declaration of their prior lien, and for a re-sale of the premises in satisfaction of their mortgage. The appellant contended in his defence that, as fraud was perpetrated by the plaintiffs in inducing him to make the loan without disclosing their prior lien, his mortgage should have priority over theirs. Held that the appellant must be considered as having the first incumbrance, that the notice of the plaintiffs' mortgage given at the execution sale could only affect the appellant's title as purchaser. Priority as between the appellant and the plaintiffs in respect of incumbrances already existing could not be affected by such notice. BEHARAT LAL BHAGAT v. GOPAL SARAN LAL BHAGAT. 3 B. L. R., A. 97. — Partnership —

Attachment, Right of proceeds of—A mortgage of the revenues of a village was executed by a firm, and the deed stipulated that the mortgagees should station a mehta or clerk of their own in the village to make the collections, who was to receive his monthly salary and daily food from the mortgagors whilst the property remained on mortgage. A mehta was accordingly appointed, who received the rents and profits of the village for a year or two, but afterwards permitted the mortgagors to receive them for four or five years. The respondent, who was one of the partners of the firm, did not execute the mortgage, but was cognisant afterwards of the execution of it, and he sued his co-partners, and obtained a decree for his share of the assets of the firm. In execution of his decree an attachment issued against the estate. In a suit by the mortgagee for the removal of the attachment,—Held that the mortgage was valid up to the time of the notice of the respondent's claim (i.e., when he proceeded to enforce that claim by attachment and when he became in the situation of a second incumbrancer); and that if after that time he permitted the mortgagors to receive any portion of the produce of the estate he ought, with respect to the moneys so received, to be postponed to the subsequent incumbrancer. JUGJEWUN DAS KEEKA SHAH v. pledged by mortgage-bond and transferred by heirs for commuted allowance—Where a Mahomedan widow, her two minor sons, and six relatives were entitled by inheritance to certain property originally belonging to a paternal ancestor of the sons, and the six relatives received instead of their shares a commuted allowance,—Held that the holder of a money-decree on a mortgage-bond in which the widow and the six relatives had jointly pledged their interest in the property for the payment of money, could, as against the sons, sell the seven shares in execution of his decree; it not appearing that the agreement to accept the commuted allowance was irrevocable, or that the agreement had not been entered into with the widow alone. KALLY PRASAD ROY v. 99. — Suit to enforce mortgage lien on property in the possession of a third party.—Properties situate in different districts.—Money-decree.—Execution of decree.—Code of Civil Procedure (Act VIII of 1859), s. 12—A., the mortgagee, under a bond, of properties situated in districts B and C., sued in the B. Court on his bond, and obtained a decree for the mortgage-money and interest, with a declaration that the decree should be satisfied by sale of all the mortgaged property. A. had not obtained the permission of the High Court under section 12, Act VIII of 1859, which was necessary to enable him to proceed against the property in the C. district. Having attached and sold all properties comprised in his decree situate within the jurisdiction of the B. Court, A., under a certificate issued by such Court, obtained an order from the C. Court attaching lands included in his decree situate in that district. D. intervened, on the ground that he had purchased the same property in execution of another decree of the C. Court against the same judgment-debtor, and the property was released from attachment. A. then sued D. and the mortgagor to enforce his mortgage lien against the property in the C. district. Held that the B. Court had jurisdiction to give A. a decree for the amount of the mortgage-money and interest, though it had not power to enforce the decree against the property in the C. district; that the only effect of the decree was to change the nature of the original debt, which was a bond-debt, into a judgment-debt for the mortgage-money and interest; and that though A. could not enforce his lien against the property in the C. district under the decree of the B. Court, yet, as that property had been sold to a third person, D., he was at liberty to sue D. to establish his lien for the mortgage-debt and interest. BOLAKHE LALL v. Suit by mortgagee to recover money advanced on mortgage-bond—Avoidance of conveyance—Lien—In 1874 the plaintiff advanced money to F and Z on the security of a mortgage of certain properties. In 1875 the plaintiff took a conveyance of the properties mortgaged to him, setting off the money due to him under the mortgage against the consideration-money. At the time of this conveyance, the same property was under attachment under a decree obtained by another person, and the property was, in execution of this decree, put up for sale, and purchased by one G. In a suit brought by the plaintiff on the mortgage-bond (to recover the money lent, and asking that the properties might be made liable to satisfy the debt) against F, Z, and G., it was held that the conveyance of 1875 being void against G., the plaintiff was entitled to fall back upon the lien created by the mortgage-bond. Bissen Doss Singh v Sheo Prosad Singh, 5 C L R, 29, followed. GOPAL SAHOO v GUNGA PERSHAD SAHOO . . . Sale under mortgage-decree.—Prior sale under money-decree—Suit for possession—On the 21st of April 1864 A mortgaged a certain talook, and on the 18th of December 1865 the mortgagee obtained a mortgage-decree on his mortgage. On the 5th of April 1867 (in execution of a money-decree obtained against A by a third party on the 20th of September 1864) the right, title, and interest of A. in the talook was purchased by the defendant who entered into possession. On the 1st of July 1868 the right, title, and interest of A. in the talook was sold in execution of the mortgage-decree and purchased by the plaintiff. In these execution proceedings the defendant intervened, but his claim was disallowed. On the 28th of June 1880, the plaintiff brought the present suit for possession of the talook. Held that the plaintiff was not entitled to possession, but should have brought his suit to enforce the mortgage lien against the defendant. BIR CHUNDER MANIKYA v MAHOMED AFSAROO . . . 102. ————— Right of purchaser of mortgaged property.—Mortgagee purchasing right, title, and interest of debtor.—Plaintiff in 1862 purchased a house of first defendant, which was already hypothecated to second defendant. In 1863 second defendant sued first defendant in the Small Cause Court for the debt on account of which the hypothecation had been made, and got a judgment. He then had the house attached and put up to auction, bought the right, title, and interest of the judgment-debtor in the premises, and entered and continued in possession. Plaintiff claimed in the present suit to recover possession in right of his purchase in 1862. Held that, as first defendant had no interest whatsoever in the property at the date of the plaintiff's purchase, second defendant's purchase was not a purchase from the debtor in part satisfaction of his debt. Second defendant's claim still existed, and he could pursue his remedy, either against the person or the property, and that as he was in possession, he had a right to demand the liquidation of the debt due to him before submitting to be turned out. Held, also, that the obligation of the first defendant gave the second defendant a two-fold remedy—one against the person, and the other against the thing. MUNI REDDI v. 116. ————— Effect of assignment of judgment-debt—Sale on property on which there is a lien—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, s. 270.—A simple decree for money upon a bond by which immoveable property is mortgaged, carries with it a lien upon the property mortgaged, and that lien continues as an incident to the debt when it passes from a contract-debt into a judgment-debt, and it continues when such judgment-debt is subsequently assigned to a purchaser. An attachment under a money-decree on a mortgage-bond and a mortgage-lien cannot co-exist separately in the property hypothecated, and such an attachment must be treated when existing as an attachment for enforcing the lien. And if property subject to such lien is sold in execution of a decree while it is under attachment under the decree upon the mortgage-bond, the lien existing upon the property is transferred from the property to the purchase-money, and thereupon the property becomes thenceforth discharged from the lien. If after the rejection of a claim preferred by the mortgagee, or person claiming the lien, no regular suit is brought under section 270, of Act VIII of 1859 to enforce the lien, that lien is lost, and the decree becomes thenceforth a mere money-decree discharged from any incidental lien. 119. ————— Registration Act, 1866, s. 53—Loss of lien.—The taking a money-decree on a specially-registered mortgage-bond under section 53, Act XX of 1866, does not extinguish the mortgagee's lien on the property mortgaged by the bond. There is no substantial difference between the effect of an ordinary money-decree on the bond and a decree on the bond for sale of the mortgaged property, so that the remedy of the mortgagee is the same, so far as the parties to the suit are concerned, whether the decree be made under section 53 or in a regular suit. Where the property mortgaged has passed into the hands of third parties, there is nothing in the fact that the mortgagee had obtained a decree on the bond to prevent him from bringing a separate suit against the transferees. 129. ————— Money-decree, Effect of sale by mortgagee of mortgaged property under—Assignment.—Purchaser at sale in execution of decree, Right of—Lien—A mortgaged property to B., who assigned his mortgage to U U, under an unregistered instrument, assigned his interest to the plaintiff. The plaintiff then obtained a money-decree against A. personally and put up the property for sale, and it was purchased on the plaintiff's behalf. On going to take possession, the plaintiff was successfully obstructed by N, a person who had already purchased it at an auction sale in execution of a money-decree obtained against A by another creditor. The plaintiff having, before the date of his decree, obtained a second assignment duly registered from C., sued upon it, and obtaining a decree against the mortgaged property, put it up for sale, and became the purchaser in his own name. On going to take possession he was obstructed by the defendant, who had bought it in execution of a money-decree against D., the former successful purchaser and obstructor. Held that, although the mere taking of a money-decree for a mortgage-debt does not extinguish the lien, still, when the mortgagee proceeds to satisfy such decree by the sale of his security, the interests of both himself and his judgment debtor in the said security pass to the auction-purchaser. The particular nature of the right acquired by the purchaser at a sale does not depend on the form of the decree on which the mortgagee has proceeded to satisfy his judgment-debt. What the mortgagee really seeks when he proceeds to sell, whether under a decree for sale or a simple money decree, is to obtain satisfaction out of his security,—in fact, to enforce his lien; and although the proceeding may be in execution of a money-decree only, he cannot retain his lien for enforcement quâ mortgagee, if the debt be not discharged by a second sale of the same property. Emam Momtazooddeen Mahomed v Raycoomar Doss, 14 B L R., 408; *Bhugobutty Dossee v. that property under the money-decree, and such sale transfers to the purchaser the interest both of mortgagor and mortgagee in the same manner as if the sale had been made under an express direction in the decree. Even though the officer of the Court should mention merely the right, title, and interest of the mortgagor as what is sold, the interest of the mortgagee who has promoted the sale passes by way of estoppel, although the mortgagee executes no conveyance to the purchaser. The only difference in execution between a money-decree upon a mortgage and one not upon a mortgage is that where the mortgaged lands are attached under the former, their sale is deferred until six months or some other reasonable period expires, in order to give the mortgagor an opportunity to redeem, which he would have in a suit for foreclosure or redemption. HARI v LAKSHMAN

131. — Mortgage-decree

—Lien—Sale in execution.—Purchaser—Where a mortgagee obtains a decree against his mortgagor for sale of the mortgaged property to satisfy his debt, he cannot sell that property reserving his own rights over it, because it is for the very purpose of satisfying those rights that the sale is made. And if, instead of obtaining a decree for the sale of the mortgaged property, the mortgagee obtains only a simple money-decree and sells the mortgaged property under it, he is precisely in the same position as far as his own interest is concerned. In either case, the purchaser at the execution sale takes the property sold free from the mortgagee's lien. But where the mortgagee puts up the mortgaged property for sale at a time when the mortgagor has no longer any interest in the property, then nothing passes by the sale, and the execution-purchaser does not get any benefit from the fact that, previously to the sale, the mortgagee had a lien on the property. Emam Montazooddeen Mahomed v Raj Coomar Dass, 14 B. R. S. entered on the conduct of her business, and advanced certain moneys on her account; and in October 1859 K. By a decree of the High Court of 28th July 1862 in one of the suits brought by K. D., the estate of R. H. was declared to consist of a share of a certain talook, of a share of a house in Calcutta, and of a certain sum of money; and K. D. was declared to be entitled to one moiety thereof. K. D. afterwards obtained an order for possession, and held possession of the said talook until August 1866. R. S. continued the conduct of K. D.'s business, and advanced more money on her account, in respect of which, on May 31st, 1865, he brought a suit against her, and on September 21st, 1865, obtained a decree in his favour. gagor.—Writ of fi fa.—Purchase at Sheriff's sale at instance of mortgagee—N, M, and G borrowed from B a sum of Rs12,000, to secure repayment of which they executed in her favour a joint and several bond in May 1863 for payment of the said sum with interest on the 6th May 1864, and also a warrant to confess judgment on the bond on the 27th April 1864. N, M, and G executed a mortgage, in the English form, of certain property to B, purporting to do so in pursuance of an agreement alleged to have been entered into between them and B at the time the money was advanced by B in 1863, but the evidence was not sufficient to show that such agreement had been entered into. Under a writ of fi fa issued previously to the mortgage of 1864,—viz, on the 23rd of March 1864,—in a suit against M and N, the Sheriff sold to A, on the 7th July 1864, the right, title, and interest of M. and N in the mortgaged property. Assuming that an agreement to mortgage had been entered into in 1863, A had no notice of such agreement. After this, a writ of fi fa was issued by the Sheriff, at the instance of B, in execution of a decree which B had caused to be entered upon the bond of May 1863, and under that writ the Sheriff, on the 22nd February 1866, sold the right, title, and interest of N, M, and G. in the mortgaged property, and A became the purchaser. The purchase-money at this sale was paid to B, and A entered into possession of the property. In a suit by B against A and others on the mortgage of the 27th of April 1864, for foreclosure or sale of the property, the Court below (PHEAR, J.) held that the fi fa issued on the 23rd of March 1864, previously to the mortgage, must be taken to have operated against the share of M. and N. from the date when it was issued; that even if there was an agreement to mortgage, as alleged, then, although as against N, M, and G. themselves, a Court of Equity would treat such agreement as equivalent to an actual mortgage, yet it would not do so as against a purchaser under the fi fa. without notice; and that the sale of the 7th July 1864, therefore, passed the shares of M. and N. to A free of any rights or equities of B. Further, that the sale by the Sheriff of the 22nd February 1866, having been effected at the instance of B. for the purpose of realising the mortgage-debt, was operative, as between B and A, to pass to A. the entire shares of N, M, and G. in the property free of B's mortgage lien. Held on appeal that no agreement to mortgage being established, the sale by the Sheriff to A. in 1864 overrode the mortgage to B., and passed to A. the shares of M. and N. Held, further, that the sale by the Sheriff in 1866 being of the right, title, and interest of N, M, and G., and made at the instance of B., without notice of her mortgage, and B. having received the purchase-money, which would appear to have been estimated on the value of the unencumbered shares, and no objection having been made to the sale by the mortgagors, who had allowed A. to hold unchallenged possession ever since, the entire equitable estate in the share of G must be taken to have passed to A. A mortgagee is not entitled by means of a money-decree obtained on a collateral security, such as a bond or covenant, to obtain a sale of the equity of redemption separately. To allow him to do so would deprive the mortgagor of a privilege which is an equitable incident of the contract of mortgage,—namely, a faux allowance of time to enable him to redeem the property. 136. ————— Priority of mortgage.—Sale to enforce lien on land.—On the 15th July 1864 two undivided brothers executed a mortgage of their joint property to the plaintiff for Rs500, and on the 8th January 1868 they executed another mortgage of the same property for Rs1,000 to the defendant, who registered it under Act XX of 1866. In August 1871 a suit was brought against the brothers by the plaintiff on the mortgage of 1864, and a decree for the sum due was made in October 1871, directing that if the sum due was not paid within two months the mortgaged property should be sold. In March 1872 the property was sold in execution of the above-mentioned decree and bought by the plaintiff, who was duly put into possession. In 1871 a suit was brought against the brothers on the mortgage of 1868 by the defendant; a decree was made similar to that in the above-mentioned suit, a sale of property was had, and it was bought by the defendant. The plaintiff was thereupon dispossessed and referred to a regular suit, and the defendant was put into possession. This suit was then brought by the plaintiff, the first mortgagee and purchaser, to eject the defendant, the second mortgagee and purchaser, and the lower Appellate Court making a decree in favour of the plaintiff the defendant filed this second appeal. Held that the plaintiff having bought the rights and interests of the mortgagors under a sale held prior to the sale to the defendant, the mortgagors had no right or interest to sell to defendant; but that as the purchase by plaintiff was subject to the mortgage to the defendant, and as defendant was not a party to plaintiff's mortgage suit, defendant's right as mortgagee was not affected by the sale to the plaintiff, though effect could not be given to that right in the present suit. 141. ————— Sale in execution of decree.—Purchase subject to mortgage securities.—Extinguishment of lien on purchase by mortgagee.—Defendant No. 1 (G. C.), on 9th August 1863, borrowed money from plaintiff upon a bond, hypothecating property by way of simple mortgage. On 27th August 1867, he executed a similar instrument in favour of defendant No. 2 (G. B.) on a further loan. On 13th May 1867, he executed a second bond in favour of plaintiff for the amount (principal and interest) due under the first bond. On 29th May 1869, plaintiff obtained a decree against defendant No. 1 for the money due under the bond of 13th May 1867, and on 30th July 1870 defendant No. 2 (G. B.) also obtained a decree upon his bond against the said debtor. In execution of plaintiff's decree, the property was sold and purchased by decree-holder on 25th August 1870. After this G. B. also executed his decree and attached the property, which, notwithstanding plaintiff's objection, was put up to sale and purchased by G. B., who obtained possession. Plaintiff sued to have the sale to the latter set aside and his own purchase upheld. Held that plaintiff, on purchasing at the sale in execution, took subject to the defendant's security to this extent; that the defendant by paying off the prior debt might establish his own security. Held that the question whether plaintiff's first security was extinguished by his taking a second security, covering the original debt with interest, would depend upon the intention of the parties, which, in this case, was shown by the original bond having remained in the possession of the creditor. GOPEE BUNDHOO SHANTRA MOHAPATTUR v. KALEE PUDO BANERJEE . . . 23 W. R., 338

142. ————— Extinction of charge.—Intention of parties.—Presumption.—Whether a mortgage, paid off, has been kept alive or extinguished, depends upon the intention of the parties; the mere fact that it has been paid off not deciding the question whether or not it has been extinguished. Express declaration of intention will cause either the one result or the other, and in the absence of such expression the intention may be inferred, either one way or the other. A lender of money upon a mortgage, which, however, having been made by a person not having authority to charge the greater part of the property included in it, was to that extent invalid, relied upon a charge effected in a prior paid-off mortgage to another mortgagee of the same property. The balance due for the prior mortgage-debt had been paid out of the money advanced on the later, and the prior instrument had come into the possession of the present mortgagee. Held that it must be presumed, in the absence of any expression of intention to the contrary, that the borrower, who claimed to be the owner of the property which he attempted to charge, intended that the money should be applied in paying off and extinguishing the prior mortgage, there being no intermediate incumbrance. It being also presumable that the lender lent the money upon the security of the later mortgage, he did not become entitled to an additional security merely because that which he had taken had thus proved invalid in part. Held, therefore, that the prior mortgage had been extinguished. MOHESH LAL v. BAWAN DAS sons) to H., with possession under a registered mortgage. On the 11th of June 1871 the same lands were mortgaged without possession to the defendant, on the 10th of June 1873, a second mortgage, purporting to give possession, was executed to H.; on the 12th of June 1873 a second mortgage, also purporting to give possession, was passed to the defendant, on the 15th of November 1877 H. obtained a decree against the mortgagors upon his mortgage of 10th June 1873, and sold the lands, which were purchased by the plaintiff. The plaintiff sought to obtain possession, but was obstructed by the defendant. He thereupon brought this suit. The defendant contended that he had not been a party to the suit by H., and was entitled to possession, and offered to pay to the plaintiff the amount of his purchase-money, or to vacate the lands on satisfaction of his own mortgage lien. Held that the question whether H.'s mortgage of the 15th July 1870 was to be regarded as merged in his second mortgage of 10th June 1873, so as to deprive him of priority of title over the defendant, depended on the intention of the parties to the said mortgage, and there was nothing in the second mortgage-deed to show an intention to forego the benefit of the security created by the prior mortgage-deed of 15th July 1870, which was neither given up to the mortgagor, nor cancelled at the time, but remained with H. until handed over to the plaintiff with the other title-deeds. Under these circumstances the decree passed on the 15th November 1877 conferred an absolute title on the plaintiff, who purchased at the auction sale free from all incumbrances created by the mortgagor subsequent to the mortgage of 15th July 1870. The defendant, however, not having been made a party to H.'s suit to enforce his security, did not lose his right of redemption, which still remained to him. The plaintiff, therefore, purchased the property subject to the defendant's right of redemption. The High Court passed a decree ordering the defendant to deliver up possession to the plaintiff, but that he (the defendant) should be at liberty to redeem by payment to the plaintiff within six months of the amount which would be due on the mortgage of the 15th July 1870, if the same had remained unaffected by the mortgage of 10th June 1873, or, in default, should remain forever foreclosed. DULLABHDAS DEYCHAND v. should be restored. The plaintiff, representing the interest of the original mortgagor, sued for redemption of the mortgage, treating the above decree as regulating the rights of the parties from the time when it was made. Held that the right of the plaintiff was a right to execute the above decree, subject to the law of limitation, and not a right to obtain a decree for redemption and possession, the law also providing that questions between the parties to a suit relating to execution of decree must be determined by the order of the Court executing it. HARI RAVJI CHIPLEUNKAR v. In a suit by G. against S. and A. to enforce payment of his mortgage-debt, Held that A., not having had notice of G.'s mortgage, was entitled to stand as first incumbrancer in respect of the money paid to discharge P.'s mortgage, and that, even if registration was legal notice, an intention to keep alive P.'s mortgage was to be presumed in favour of A., in accordance with the ruling of the Privy Council in *Gokul Doss Gopal Doss v. The suit in which L. obtained this decree was pending when the property was sold to K. K. sued L. to have the property declared exempt from liability to sale in the execution of L.'s decree, on the ground that the mortgage to L. was invalid, it having been made in breach of a condition contained in K.'s mortgage-bond that the mortgagor would not alienate the property until the mortgage-debt had been paid. Held that the purchase by K. of the equity of redemption did not extinguish his security, it being his intention to keep it alive; and that the purchase of the property by K. while L.'s suit was pending did not prevent K. from contesting the validity of L.'s mortgage, so far as it affected him, on the ground that it was an infringement of the stipulation in the contract between him and the mortgagor. LACHMIN NARAIN v. *Prior and puisne mortgagee—Purchase by prior mortgagee of equity of redemption at a Court sale.—Evidence of intention to keep mortgage alive—*Where a prior mortgagee purchased the equity of redemption at a Court sale,—Held, following the Full Bench ruling in Mulchand Kuber v Lallu Trikum, I. L. R., 6 Bom., 404, that in a contest between himself and a puisne mortgagee he was entitled to fall back upon his original mortgage and to retain possession until his mortgage was paid off. Generally, slight evidence will suffice to show that the prior mortgagee intended to retain the benefit of his mortgage. The fact that the mortgage-deed remains with the mortgagee who purchases, is evidence that he intends to retain the benefit of his mortgage. SHANTAPA v. BAPAPA . . . I. L. R., 6 Bom., 561

148. ——— Sale under second of two mortgages.—Payment under order of Court without jurisdiction by purchaser to first mortgagee—Extinguishment of mortgage lien.—Where the former of two mortgages, to whom a certain person hypothecates his estates, accepts from the auction-purchaser, who buys a portion of the estates when they are sold on foreclosure of the second mortgage, a sum of money assessed by a Civil Court as the equivalent of the former mortgagee's prior charge on the estates, no successor of the former mortgagee can again proceed to sell up the estates, even though the Court which assessed the money-value of the charge on the estates may not have had the jurisdiction to do so for in accepting the money, the former mortgagee released the estate from all further liability under his bond. JANKEE PERSHAD v. AJODHYA DOSS . . . 25 W. R., 257

149. ——— Purchase by first mortgagee after second mortgage.—Set-off of first mortgage against purchase-money.—Priority.—If the first mortgagee purchases the property mortgaged after a second mortgage is created upon it, he does not thereby lose the benefit of his first mortgage if the money due under the first mortgage be set off against the consideration of the sale. Accordingly, where a second mortgagee obtained a decree upon his mortgage subsequently to a sale of the mortgaged property to the first mortgagee, who had been allowed to set off the money due to him on his mortgage against the consideration, the latter is entitled, as against the auction-purchaser at the sale in execution of the decree, to priority in regard to his mortgage. *BISSEN DOSS SINGH v. should be redeemed on payment of the principal sum without interest. In April 1865 R. mortgaged his rights and interests under the mortgage of March 1865 to S., retaining possession of the share. In February 1869 the proprietors of the share again mortgaged it to R. for a further loan. Under this mortgage R. was entitled to take the profits of the share in lieu of interest, and the mortgage was redeemable on payment both of the principal sum due thereunder and of that due under the mortgage of March 1865, without interest, or the mortgagees were entitled to redeem a certain portion of the share on payment of a proportionate amount of such sums, without interest, on a particular day in any year. In August 1872 S. obtained a decree on the mortgage of April 1865, directing the sale of R.'s rights and interests under the mortgage of March 1865 in satisfaction of such decree. In May 1874 R. assigned by sale to N. his rights and interests under the mortgage of February 1869, retaining possession of the share. In April 1877 R.'s rights and interests under the mortgage of March 1865 were sold in execution of the decree of August 1872, and were purchased by S., who obtained possession of the share. Held, in a suit by N. against S. to obtain possession of the share in virtue of the assignment of May 1874, that, under the circumstances of the case, S. was entitled as against N. to the possession of the share as first mortgagee. *SAHAI PANDEY v. 151. ——— First and second mortgages.—Purchase of mortgaged property by first mortgagee.—The first mortgagee of certain property purchased it at an execution sale. The second mortgagee of such property subsequently sued the mortgagee and the first mortgagee to enforce his mortgage by the sale of such property. Held that the first mortgagee was entitled to resist such sale, by virtue of being the first mortgagee, until his mortgage-debt was satisfied, and the fact that he had purchased the property mortgaged to him did not extinguish his mortgage, which must be held to subsist for his benefit. *Gaya Prasad v. dissenting), that, inasmuch as it was the manifest intention of P to keep his incumbrance alive, and for his benefit to do so, P's purchase did not extinguish his incumbrance, and he was entitled, as prior incumbrancer, to resist G's claim to bring to sale the portion of the mortgaged property purchased by him Held, also, by OLDFIELD, J. and STRAIGHT, J. (PEARSON, J., dissenting), that G, notwithstanding he had purchased a portion of the mortgaged property, might throw the whole burden of his mortgage-debt on the portions of the mortgaged property in the mortgagor's possession and in M's possession, but he could not have thrown it on the portion of such property in P's possession. *GAYA PRASAD v. 153.

Condition against alienation—First and second mortgagees—Purchase by mortgagee of mortgaged property.—A transfer of mortgaged property in breach of a condition against alienation is valid except in so far as it encroaches upon the right of the mortgagee, and, with this reservation, such a condition does not bind the property so as to prevent the acquisition of a valid title by the transferee. Chunni v. Thakur Das, I. L. R., 1 All., 126, Mul Chand v. Balgobind, I. L. R., 1 All., 610, and Lachman Narain v. Koteswar Nath, I. L. R., 2 All., 826, observed on. A mortgage is not extinguished by the purchase of the mortgaged property by the mortgagee, but subsists after the purchase, when it is the manifest intention of the mortgagee to keep the mortgage alive, or it is for his benefit to do so. Gaya Prasad v. Salik Prasad, I. L. R., 3 All., 682; and Ramu Narian v. Subbaraya Mudali, 7 Mad., 229, followed. It is not absolutely necessary for the first mortgagee of property, when suing to enforce his mortgage, to make the second mortgagee a party to the suit. If the second mortgagee is not made a party to the suit, he is not bound by the decree which the first mortgagee may obtain for the sale of the property, but can redeem the property before it is sold; but if he does not redeem, and the property is sold in execution of the decree, his mortgage will be defeated, unless he can show some fraud or collusion which would entitle him to defeat the first mortgage or to have it postponed to his own. The ruling of TURNER, J., in Khub Chand v. Kahan Das, I. L. R., 1 Mad., 240, followed. In July 1874 a usufructuary mortgage of certain immoveable property was made to D. In July 1875 a portion of such property was again mortgaged to D. The instrument of mortgage on this occasion contained a condition against alienation. In July 1877 the whole property was mortgaged to N. In October 1877 it was again mortgaged to D. N sued the mortgagor on his mortgage in July 1877, and on the 29th September 1879 obtained a decree against him for the sale of the property. In October 1879, the mortgagor sold the property to D. in satisfaction of his mortgages of July 1875 and October 1877. D did not offer to redeem N's mortgage, and on the 20th November 1880 the property was put up for sale in execution of N's decree (D's objection to the sale having been previously disallowed), and was purchased by A. D., who was still in possession under his mortgage of July 1874, then sued A. for a declaration of his proprietary right to the property, claiming by virtue of his mortgages and the sale of October 1879. Held, applying the rules stated above, that N's mortgage of July 1877 could not affect D's right under his mortgage of July 1875, but N took subject to such mortgage, nor could the auction-sale of the 20th November 1880, which took place in enforcement of N's mortgage, affect D's prior mortgages, and therefore the condition against alienation made in D's favour had no prejudicial effect on the right of A. under his auction-purchase. that the purchase by D. of October 1879 did not extinguish his prior mortgages, but such mortgages were still subsisting, and A. purchased subject to them that there having been no fraud or collusion on N's part, A. must be held to have purchased subject only to D's prior mortgages and not subject to D's mortgage of October 1877. Held also that, as D's purchase of October 1879 was made without N. having had an opportunity of redeeming D's prior mortgages, D's purchase was subject to N's mortgage of July 1877, and therefore could not deprive A. of what he had purchased at the auction-sale of the 20th November 1880. Held, therefore, that all the relief that D. was entitled to was a declaration that, as prior mortgagee under the mortgages of July 1874 and July 1875 he was entitled, as against A., to retain possession of the property, until such mortgages were satisfied. *ALI HASAN v. First and second mortgages.—Payment by purchaser of mortgaged property of first mortgage.—Right of purchaser to benefits of first mortgage.—Right of second mortgagee to bring to sale mortgaged property.—The purchasers of the equity of redemption of land which had been mortgaged in 1866 and 1874 to different persons, paid off the prior mortgage. The second mortgagee sued to bring the property to sale in satisfaction of his mortgage. Held that the prior mortgage was not extinguished, and that the purchasers of the equity of redemption had, by paying off that mortgage, acquired an equitable right to its benefits which they could use against the second mortgage. Gokaldas Gopaldas v. Puranmal Premsukhdas, I. L. R., 10 Calc., 1035, followed. Per OLDFIELD, J. (MAHMOOD, J., dissenting), that the prior mortgage afforded a defence against the claim of the second mortgagee seeking to bring the property to sale. *Gokaldas Gopaldas v. Gopaldas v. Puranmal Preamsukhdas, I. L. R., 10 Cal., 1035, did not go beyond laying down the proposition that when the purchaser of the equity of redemption pays off a prior mortgage, which carries with it the right of possession of the mortgaged property, the mortgage is not extinguished for all purposes, but such purchaser, acquiring the benefits of the usufructuary mortgage, is entitled to remain in possession, and can successfully resist a suit by a subsequent usufructuary mortgagee seeking to disturb such possession. Also per MAHMOOD, J., that although the persons who had paid off the prior mortgage were entitled to claim its benefits, they could not be understood to have acquired rights greater than those which the prior mortgagee himself possessed; that as holders of the equity of redemption they could not resist the suit which aimed at enforcing a valid security, and, as persons entitled to the benefits of the prior mortgage, they were at best in the position of assignees of that mortgage; that the union of the two capacities could not confer upon them rights higher than those which the mortgagee they had paid off created, that a puisne incumbrancer is not prevented by the mere fact of the existence of a prior mortgage from enforcing his security without paying off the prior mortgage so long as such enforcement does not clash with the right secured by the prior mortgage; and that therefore the purchaser of the equity of redemption held that right subject to the plaintiff's mortgage of 1874, and the fact of their having redeemed the prior mortgage did not place the equity of redemption on a better footing, though it entitled them to the benefits of that mortgage secured to them in the same manner as to the original mortgagee whose rights they had acquired by subrogation. Gaya Prasad v. Sahib Prasad, I. L. R., 3 All., 682, Ramu Naikan v. Subbaraya Mudali, 7 Mad., 229, and Mul Chand Kuber v. Lallu Trikam, I. L. R., 6 Bom., 404, referred to. SIBBADH RAI v. RAGHUNATH PRASAD . I. The registration of both deeds was optional, the former under Act VIII of 1871, and the latter under Act III of 1877. J. subsequently satisfied the mortgage under the registered deed of 1880, which was delivered to him. M then brought a suit to recover the money due to him under the mortgage-deed of 1872 by sale of the mortgaged property. Held by OLDFIELD, J., that, applying the rule laid down by the Privy Council in Gokaldas Gopaldas v. Purnamal Preamsukhdas, I. L. R., 10 Cal., 1035, J., having paid off the mortgage under the registered deed of 1880, should have the benefits of that mortgage, and was entitled to set up the deed which he held against the unregistered deed of 1872, against which, under section 50 of the Registration Act (III of 1877), it would take effect, as regards the property comprised in it. Lachman Das v. Dip Chand, I. L. R., 2 All., 851, referred to. Per MAHMOOD, J., that the word “unregistered” in section 50 of the Registration Act must, in reference to the circumstances of the present case, be read as “not registered under Act VIII of 1871,” and that, so reading the section, the registered mortgage-deed of 1880 was entitled to priority over the unregistered mortgage-deed of 1872. Lachman Das v. Dip Chand, I. L. R., 2 All., 851; and Sri Ram v. Bhagvathi Lal, I. L. R., 4 All., 227, distinguished. Also per MAHMOOD, J., that the position of J. by reason of his having paid off the registered mortgage of 1880 could at best be that of an assignee of that mortgage having priority over the mortgage-deed on which the plaintiff was suing; that such priority could not enable him to place the equity of redemption upon a higher footing than it would have been had he not paid off the registered mortgage of 1880; and that, as a consequence, the sale of the property in enforcement of the mortgage of 1872 should be allowed to take place, but subject to the rights of priority which J. had acquired by reason of his having paid off the registered mortgage of 1880. Sirbadh Rai v. Raghunath Prasad, I. L. R., 7 All., 568, and Gokaldas Gopaldas v. Purnamal Preamsukhdas, I. L. R., 10 Cal., 1035, referred to. JANAKI PRASAD v. MAUTANGUI DEBIA

156. — First and second mortgages.—Payment by purchaser of mortgaged property of first mortgage.—Right of second mortgagee to bring to sale mortgaged property subject to first mortgage.—In 1874 a plot of land, No. 111, which in 1866 had been mortgaged to L., was with other property mortgaged to E. In 1878 the equity of redemption in plot No. 111 was purchased by J., who paid off the mortgage of 1866. E. brought a suit against J. to bring to sale the whole of the property included in the mortgage of 1874. The Court of first instance decreed the claim in part, exempting from the decree plot No. 111, on the ground that the defendant, by reason of having purchased the equity of redemption in that plot and having paid off the mortgage of 1866, stood in the position of a first mortgagee of that plot, and his mortgage had priority over the plaintiff's mortgage of 1874. The Full Bench modified the decree of the Court of first instance by inserting after the words “land No. 111 be exempted from the hypothecation lien” the words “in that property the interest of the plaintiff as second mortgagee only to be sold." Per OLDFIELD, J., that the second mortgagee could not bring the land to sale so as to oust the first mortgagee, whose mortgage was usufructuary, and get rid of the first mortgage without satisfying it; but that he had a right to sell such interest as he possessed as second mortgagee. Per STRAIGHT, J., that the plaintiff was entitled to bring to sale the property charged to him under his mortgage of 1874, subject to the rights existing in favour of the first mortgagee of 1866. In other words, that a purchaser at a sale in execution of the decree would have no further right than a right to take the property subject to the right of the first mortgagee to possession of the property included in his instrument, and his other rights under that instrument, so long as it endured. *RAGHUNATH PRASAD v. 160. ———— Purchase of equity of redemption by first mortgagee—Priority—Notice—Merger.—On the 20th of August 1870, M, the owner of a house in Gujarat, mortgaged it to the defendant's father with possession. On the 2nd of December 1871, he made a san-mortgage of the same house to the plaintiff. On the 20th of April 1872, M sold the equity of redemption to the defendant's father, who became the purchaser without cancelling his first mortgage. The plaintiff subsequently sued M. to enforce his san-mortgage, and obtaining a decree, placed an attachment on the house, which attachment, however, was removed on the application of the defendant's father. The plaintiff now sued to establish his right to levy the amount due on his san-mortgage. He claimed priority to the defendant on the authority of Toulmin Steere, 5 Mer., 210, where it was held that a purchaser of the equity of redemption could not set up a prior mortgage of his own against subsequent incumbrance of which he had notice. Held that the intention of the defendant's father when purchasing the equity of redemption having been to retain the benefit of all his rights, his son, the defendant, might properly require the redemption of his first mortgage as the condition of the plaintiff's enforcing the decree upon his mortgage against the property. A mortgagee purchasing the equity of redemption may indicate his intention to keep his charge upon the property alive otherwise than by express words. Per WEST, J.—The successive charges created by the owner of an estate may be regarded as fractions of the ownership which embraces the aggregate of advantages that can be drawn from it. Each charge in its turn constitutes a deduction from the original aggregate, and the nominal ownership may itself then be reduced to a small fraction of what it once was. Still, be small or great, it is a possible object of sale or purchase, and there is no ground or reason for saying that an incumbrancer who is already owner of one fraction of the property may not buy this other fraction without forfeiting the former fraction in favour of other fractional owners in the remainder left after deduction of his prior share. MULOHAND KUBER v. LALLU TRIKAM I. L. R., 6 Bom., 404

161. ———— Renval of lien.—Priority of lien among mortgagees.—Where an estate had been mortgaged in 1863, and a second mortgage to the same person in 1867 had resulted in a re-adjustment of the old debt, under which the old mortgage had determined, but the original relations between mortgagor and mortgagee had been renewed; and where a fresh lien had been created on the same property by a new mortgage in 1864 to a third person, who also entered upon possession of the said property on a zui-i-peshgi lease, and who, on the sale of the property, sought to set aside the lien of the first mortgagee,—Held that the first and second mortgagees were entitled to priority in the following order first, the first mortgagee for the amount outstanding from the first mortgage of 1863, and revived in the second mortgage of 1867; second, the second mortgagee for the amount stipulated in the mortgage of 1864; third, the first mortgagee for the residue (if any) after satisfying the above-mentioned claim of first mortgagee fourth and lastly, the second mortgagee for any residue. Held also that, having failed to call for stricter proof of the fairness of the first mortgagee's claims in the Court below, the second mortgagee could not urge in appeal that full consideration had not been received. Held also that the second mortgagee, having enjoyed possession of the estate under the zui-i-peshgi lease, was not entitled to interest on the amount decreed. WOSLEUN v. BEYNATH SINGH. . . 25 W. R., 171

162. ———— Possession under mortgage.—Priority of mortgagee with possession.—As a general rule, by Hindu law, a mortgagee in possession is entitled to have his claim satisfied in preference to the claim of the holder of a mortgage of prior date unaccompanied by possession. HARI RAMCHANDRA v. MAHADAJI VISHNU. . . 8 Bom., A. C., 50

KRISHNAPPA VALAD MAHADAPPA v. BAHIRU YADHAVAY. . . 8 Bom., A. C., 55

There are cases, however, which the Courts treat as exceptions to that general rule. Thus, where a prior mortgagee sued to recover possession, of certain mortgaged premises from the mortgagor, and before judgment was given in that suit, a subsequent mortgagee filed another suit against the mortgagor and obtained judgment, under which possession was made over to him (the subsequent mortgagee), it was held that possession so obtained pending the earlier suit would not avail to give the subsequent mortgagee priority over the prior mortgagee. *KRISHNAPPA VALAD MAHADAPPA v. 164. ———— Law in Guzerat—Rights of prior and puisne mortgagees—Purchaser of equity of redemption with notice of incumbrances—The rule of Hindu law that a mortgage with possession takes precedence of a mortgage of a prior date, but unaccompanied by possession, does not apply to Guzerat. Where in Guzerat the defendant, a puisne mortgagee in possession, had notice of plaintiff's prior mortgage, the defendant was held not entitled to claim the benefit of the above rule of Hindu law. Registration could not of itself alter this rule of Hindu law except so far as effect may be given to it by statute, and registration secures the same object which the Hindu law intended to secure by requiring possession, viz, notice to subsequent incumbrancers of the existence of a prior incumbrancer. The purchaser of an equity of redemption, with notice of subsequent incumbrances, stands in the same situation, as regards such subsequent incumbrances, as if he had been himself the mortgagor; he cannot set up against such subsequent incumbrances either a prior mortgage of his own, or a mortgage which he or the mortgagor may have got in. ITCHARAM DAYARAM v. RAJJI JAGA. 11 Bom., 41

165. ———— Subsequent purchase—The mortgagee without possession of certain lands in the Dekhan (under a mortgage-deed of the 1st of August 1864) on the 16th of April 1867, obtained a decree awarding to him possession of the mortgaged premises. On the 11th of July following the mortgagor sold the mortgaged premises to the plaintiff, who had distinct notice of the mortgage. The deed of sale was duly registered. The plaintiff thereupon claimed to hold the premises free from the mortgage. Held that though a mortgage in the Dekhan must be accompanied by possession to give it validity against third parties, it is not absolutely void for want of such possession, and that the plaintiff, having notice of it, should not be allowed to hold the premises free from the mortgage. *GOPAL YADAVRAY KESKAR v. 166. ———— Purchase by mortgagee.—Priority—Held that a mortgagee in possession, who also became purchaser of the property for the amount secured by the mortgage under a deed of sale which was neither stamped nor registered, could fall back upon his mortgage and recover the amount thereof, in preference to a subsequent purchaser of the same property whose deed of sale was both stamped and registered. *HIRACHAND BAJI v. 167. ———— Possession of title-deeds—Priority—Rights of second mortgagees—The mere possession of the title-deeds by a second mortgagee, though a purchaser for value without notice, will not give him priority. There must be some act or default of the first mortgagee to have this effect. SOMASUNDARA TAMBIRAN v. SAKKARAI PATTAN. . . 4 Mad., 369

168. ———— Decree for possession—Sale in execution of money-decree—Priority—Estoppel—Plaintiff claimed under a mortgage, dated the 27th November 1871, for Rs50, which was neither registered nor accompanied with possession. Defendant claimed under a mortgage, dated the 17th March 1873, for Rs150, which was both registered and accompanied with possession. Defendant had no notice, express or constructive, of the plaintiff's previous mortgage. In 1873 plaintiff sued the mortgagor for a money-claim unconnected with the mortgage, and on the 20th February 1874 obtained a decree for Rs100. In execution of this money-decree the mortgaged property was attached and sold by the Court, at the plaintiff's instance, the defendant becoming the purchaser for Rs86 on the 17th September 1874. An unregistered certificate of the Court's sale, bearing date the 29th October 1874, was issued to defendant. In 1874 plaintiff brought a suit on his mortgage (to which suit defendant was not a party), and obtained a decree (the date of which did not appear in evidence) for possession of the mortgaged property against the mortgagor. In endeavouring to enforce that decree, plaintiff was obstructed by defendant on the 15th January 1875. Held that, if it was passed subsequent to the Court's sale of the mortgaged property to defendant on the 17th September 1874, the decree for possession was valueless, as neither the title to, nor the possession of, the mortgaged property was then vested in the mortgagor. Held, further, that as defendant had no notice of the plaintiff's mortgage when plaintiff caused the Court's sale to be made under his money-decree, or that the sale was made subject to the plaintiff's mortgage, it was incumbent on plaintiff, as such money judgment-creditor, to inform defendant, when bidding for the right, title, and interest of the judgment-debtor in the mortgaged property, that the judgment-creditor (plaintiff) held a mortgage on the same property, and intended to enforce it, especially as the mortgage was neither registered nor accompanied with possession; and that the plaintiff, having omitted so to inform the defendant, was estopped from enforcing his own mortgage against the defendant. *Icharam Dayaram v. 169. ———— Mortgage without title.—Priority of mortgagee's right—P and his partners mortgaged certain immovable property to plaintiff on the 11th October 1869. They had then no title to the property, but they subsequently acquired one by purchase on the 29th June 1871. On plaintiff demanding that P and his partners should make good the contract of mortgage out of the interest they had acquired, the matter was referred to arbitrators, who, on the 26th December 1873, made an award empowering plaintiff to sell the mortgaged property in satisfaction of his debt. The award was presented in Court by plaintiff on the 23rd January 1874, and was filed by the Court on the 23rd February 1874. Meanwhile, on the 14th February 1874, the property was attached in execution of a money-decree obtained by a creditor of P and his partners against them. On the 15th April 1874 it was sold by auction and purchased by defendant. In a suit brought by plaintiff to recover possession of the property, both the lower Courts rejected his claim, on the ground that P and his partners had no right to the property when they mortgaged it to plaintiff. Held by the High Court on second appeal, reversing the decrees of the lower Court, that the defendant, as purchaser under a money-decree, could not defeat the plaintiff's right as mortgagee to sell the property in satisfaction of his debt. PRANJIVAN GOVARDHONAS v. mortgagee with notice of previous sale—Assignment.—Rejection of application under s. 269 of Act VIII of 1859—Suit within one year—On the 17th October 1866, K. (defendant No. 1), one of the three sons of B., mortgaged certain immovable property to one N. with possession. On the 19th December 1866, A. (plaintiff No. 1) obtained a money-decree against K. and the estate of his deceased father. In execution of that decree the property was sold by the Court and purchased by A. himself, who obtained a certificate of sale dated the 30th January 1868. He subsequently sold and conveyed the property to D. and C. (plaintiffs Nos. 2 and 3). On applying to the Court for possession, the plaintiffs were resisted by N. The Court rejected the plaintiffs' application on the 11th July 1868. On the 31st May 1871, K. and his two brothers mortgaged the property to M. (defendant No. 2), who took the mortgage with full notice of the Court sale to the plaintiff A. K. and his brothers paid off the mortgage of N. out of the money borrowed by them from M. (defendant No. 2) on the mortgage of the property. N. returned his mortgage-deed to K. and his brothers, who made it over to M. In 1878 the plaintiffs brought a suit against K. and M. for possession of the property. The Subordinate Judge held the plaintiffs entitled to recover it, on payment of the amount due to M. on his mortgage, being of opinion that M. was in the same position as N. On appeal the District Judge dismissed the plaintiffs' suit on the ground that it was not brought within one year from the date when the application for possession was rejected. On appeal to the High Court, Held that the mortgage by K. and his brothers to M., dated the 31st May 1871, was a mortgage of property which did not then belong to them,—their estate and interest in it having passed to the plaintiff A. at the Court sale. Held also, that the order of the 11th July 1868, rejecting the plaintiff's application for possession under section 269 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act VIII of 1859) did not affect the right to bring a redemption suit against N. Held, further, that there was nothing to show any assignment, by N., of his mortgage, or any intention on his part to assign it to M., or to keep it on foot for M.'s benefit. The High Court accordingly reversed the decrees of the Courts below, and made a decree in favour of the plaintiffs. APAJI BHIVRAY v. KAVJI which P. was not a party, H. obtained a decree on his mortgage, and at the execution sale he himself became the purchaser, and was put into possession of the land under his certificate of sale. On the 21st September 1874, P. assigned his mortgage to the plaintiff. The deed of assignment was not registered, neither P. nor his assignee, the plaintiff, ever had possession under the mortgage of 1870. The plaintiff brought this suit to obtain possession of the land. Both the lower Courts dismissed the plaintiff's claim. On special appeal to the High Court,—Held that, in order to bind P. by the decree passed in 1873, and thus make a good title to the purchaser under that decree, H. should have made P. a party to his suit, thereby giving P. an opportunity of redeeming H.'s mortgage. H. having neglected to do this, the plaintiff in the present suit, as the assignee of the rights and equities of P., was entitled to redeem the mortgage of H. in case it was proved that P. had notice of that mortgage. SHIVRAM v GENU

At the sale the property was purchased by G. (the son of D.). F. then brought a suit for rent against G. and obtained a decree. G. then brought this suit against F. to have it declared that he was no longer liable to pay rent, and to establish his zemindari rights, claiming a refund of the money paid under the rent-decree. Held that G. had bought the entire interest which A. and B. could jointly sell, and not merely the right and interests of A. as they stood at the time of the sale, and that he was, therefore, entitled to a decree declaring that he was no longer liable to pay rent to F. MUTHORA NATH PAL v CHUNDERMONEY DABIA . *I. 174. ——— Suit by purchaser for possession.—Priority.—Equity of redemption.—Registration.—Notice.—Parties to suit brought by a first mortgagee.—Practice.—Amendment of plaint—A., the owner of certain land, mortgaged it to S. for ten years for Rs. 1,500 by a deed dated the 27th November 1867. The deed was registered, but S. was not put into possession of the mortgaged land. On the 17th January 1868, A. mortgaged the same land to the defendant R. for Rs. 250. The mortgage-deed was registered in May 1868, and recited that the mortgagee (defendant) was put in possession. The lower Courts found, as a fact, that the defendant had obtained possession of the mortgaged property. S. sued A. on her mortgage, and obtained a decree against him, dated the 8th December 1869, directing satisfaction of the mortgage-debt by the sale of the mortgaged property. The defendant was not a party to that suit. On the 10th March 1870, the land was sold in execution of that decree, and purchased by the plaintiff for Rs. 99-12, with notice of the defendant's mortgage. On the 28th April 1870, the defendant R. instituted a suit in ejectment against N. (the mother of A.), who was in occupation of the land as tenant and had failed to pay the rent. On the 7th July 1870, the plaintiff, as purchaser at the above-mentioned sale, was put into possession, but on the 24th August 1870, the defendant obtained a decree in ejectment against N. (the mother of A.) as her tenant. In execution of that decree the defendant recovered possession of the land, dispossessing the plaintiff, though he had not been a party to the ejectment suit. The plaintiff thereupon brought the present suit to recover the land under section 230 of Act VIII of 1859. His claim was rejected by the Subordinate Judge, but allowed by the Joint Judge in appeal. On special appeal to the High Court,—Held that the claim of S. against the land was prior to that of the defendant, inasmuch as her mortgage was prior in date to the defendant's mortgage, and was registered. S. had a right to maintain a suit for the sale of the land to satisfy her mortgage, but she ought to have made the defendant (as subsequent mortgagee) a party to it, inasmuch as the equity of redemption was vested in the defendant to the extent of her (defendant's) mortgage, and she (defendant) would have been entitled to redeem the land by payment of the amount which might have been found due to S. in her suit. The defendant being in possession of the land at the time of the institution of the suit of S., and her (defendant's) mortgage being registered, S. must be regarded as having had notice of the defendant's claim, and was bound to make defendant a party to that suit in order to give a good title to a purchaser under such decree as might be made in that suit. S. by her omission to do so did not afford to the defendant the opportunity of redeeming to which the defendant was entitled. The plaintiff, notwithstanding notice of the defendant's claim, became the purchaser, although the defendant was not a party to the suit of S., and, therefore, not bound by the decree in it. The plaintiff, accordingly, was fully aware of the infirmity of the title which he was acquiring. No doubt, the decree in the suit of S. bound the mortgagor A., who was a party to it, so far as his right to redeem was concerned. The plaintiff, therefore, had a good title to the interest of A., and was entitled to redeem the land from the defendant's mortgage. The utmost relief which the Court could afford to the plaintiff under the above circumstances was to permit him to amend his plaint by paying a redemption of the land from the defendant's mortgage, and to treat his suit, which was in the nature of an ejectment suit, as one for redemption. The High Court, accordingly, reversed the decree of the Joint Judge, and made a decree for an account on the defendant's mortgage, allowing the plaintiff to redeem within a certain time on payment of the balance that might be found due to the defendant, or, in default, ordering the plaintiff to be for ever foreclosed from recovering the land. *Itcharam Dayaram v. Sale of equity of redemption—Purchaser at execution sale.—Sale in execution of decree on mortgage prior in date.—Priority.—Possession.—Notice.—Certificate of sale.—On the 18th January 1877, the father of the plaintiffs purchased the interest of M in two houses at a sale in execution of a money-decree against M. The purchaser, however, never obtained possession and he did not obtain the certificate of sale until the 31st July 1878. Subsequently to the sale of the 18th January 1877, two suits were filed against M. on mortgages executed prior to that date and decrees in both were obtained against M. In execution of these decrees both the houses were sold and the respective purchasers were represented by two of the defendants. The purchasers got possession and both obtained sale-certificates, one prior to the sale to the father of the plaintiffs, viz., on 5th February 1878, and the other subsequently, viz., 1st November 1878. The plaintiffs now sued to recover the houses. Held that the plaintiffs were not entitled to recover as against the defendants. The plaintiffs not having either got possession or obtained a certificate of sale at the date of the sale in execution of the decrees on the mortgages, had only an inchoate title. The purchasers in execution had no notice of the plaintiffs' incipient right, and having been left to buy what, so far as they knew, was a complete title, they ought not to be disturbed at the instance of the plaintiffs who failed to assert their dormant right. Had the plaintiffs got into possession or obtained a certificate and registered, there would have been notice sufficient to put all persons interested on inquiry as to their rights, but while they chose to keep their rights wholly in the dark they invited others to act as if those rights were not in existence, and they could not look to the Courts to extend and complete such rights in a way which would render the defendants victims of their own negligence but of the negligence of those who would gain by it. *NANJUNDEPA v. In 1875 the plaintiff brought a suit against R. alone upon the mortgage, obtained a decree, and he himself purchased the property at the Court sale held in execution of that decree. In attempting to take possession he was obstructed by the defendant, who was in possession of the property as mortgagee. The plaintiff now sued the defendant for possession. Both the lower Courts held that the plaintiff should satisfy the defendant's subsequent mortgage before he could recover possession. On appeal by the plaintiff to the High Court, Held, reversing the lower Court's decree, that the plaintiff's claim should be allowed. The plaintiff having brought to sale, in execution of his decree, the estate as it stood at the date of his mortgage free from all subsequent incumbrances, the fact that he himself was the purchaser could not affect the estate which passed by that sale. As the defendant had not been a party to the plaintiff's suit against R., he was entitled to redeem the property if he wished. MOHAN MANOR v. TOGU UKA

Under a registered deed of mortgage, dated in May 1869, the mortgagee had a right to immediate possession, but by arrangement between the parties the mortgagors remained in possession, the right of the mortgagee to obtain possession as against them being, however, kept alive. In October 1869 the mortgagors sold the property, and, thereupon, one R. brought a suit to enforce the right of pre-emption in respect of the sale and obtained a decree, and got the property and sold it in 1871 to D. In 1883, the mortgagee brought a suit against D. to obtain possession under his mortgage. Held, also, that although it would be material to show that the defendant had in any way by fraud been kept out of knowledge of the mortgage, his not having notice of it would not otherwise affect his liability, inasmuch as the principle on which Courts of Equity in England refuse to interfere against bond fide purchasers for a valuable consideration, without notice, when clothed with the legal title, had no applicability in the Courts of British India. Held, under these circumstances, that there was no equitable ground why the plaintiff's right under the mortgage, which had priority, should be defeated by the defendant's purchase. *DURGA PRASAD v. The plaintiff had a lien on three estates belonging to his debtor, and a third party having obtained a decree for money due from the same debtor, recovered his money by the sale of one of the three estates mortgaged to the plaintiff. Held that the sale did not release that estate from the mortgage, but that it forced the plaintiff to take measures in the first place to recover the amount due to him from the remaining estates included in his mortgage-deed; and that if a balance remained after he had realised all he could from these two remaining estates, he could then return to the third estate to recover the balance. *NOWA KOOWAR v. 182. — Money-decrees.—Doctrine of marshalling.—Mortgage-decree—Surplus sale-proceeds.—The doctrine of marshalling does not apply as between a mortgagee and attaching creditors of the mortgagor who hold mere money-decrees. A mortgagee brought a suit against the mortgagor to have a declaration of his lien over the mortgaged properties, and obtained a decree. He afterwards brought another suit against certain attaching creditors of his mortgagor to have a declaration of his lien over certain surplus moneys in the hands of the Collector, who, previously to the institution of the first suit, had sold certain of the mortgaged properties free of all incumbrances for arrears of Government revenue. Held that the mortgage-decree declaring the lien over all the mortgaged properties covered the surplus sale-proceeds then in the hands of the Collector, because these moneys must, as between the mortgagee and attaching creditors of the mortgagor, be taken to represent the mortgaged properties. *Heera Lall Mookerjee v. The mortgages of two properties, one of which had, subsequently to the mortgage, been purchased for value bond fide by one who had no notice of the incumbrance, brought a suit to enforce their lien against both the properties originally owned by the mortgagor, impleading as defendants both the mortgagor and the purchaser. Held that, while there was no doubt that, if the purchaser was compelled to pay more than the share of the mortgage-debt apportioned on the property purchased by him, he would be entitled to contribution, yet, in a suit so framed, and having regard to the array of parties, such an apportionment could not be made at the stage of second appeal. *RODH MAL v. Subsequently, in September 1844, A. granted a fresh putni at a reduced rent of Rs90, and on the 9th October 1844 A. mortgaged the same lands to C. In 1856 C. obtained a decree for the redemption of the mortgage to B, and he paid off the debt to B. but it did not appear that he took an assignment of the mortgage for the purpose of keeping it on foot as a security against incumbrances created by A. subsequently to the date of that mortgage, and prior to that of the mortgage to himself, and in 1862 he obtained a final decree for foreclosure against A. The mortgage-deed needed no registration, and was not registered. The mortgagor next mortgaged the house in 1873 to the plaintiff for Rs300 by a deed duly registered. He again in 1874 borrowed on the same security a further sum of Rs500 from the defendant, and executed in his favour a deed of mortgage which was duly registered. The plaintiff in 1876 sued the mortgagor for possession, and obtained a decree, the execution of which the defendant resisted. The plaintiff now sued the defendant to eject him, and to obtain possession of the mortgaged property until payment of the amount due on his mortgage. The defendant denied the plaintiff's mortgage and set up his own two mortgages, and claimed to be paid the amount due on both of them before he could be called upon to render up possession. Held that the English doctrine of tacking was of so special and technical a character, and so little founded on general principles of justice, that it ought not to be held applicable to the mofussil of Bombay, but that the obligations arising out of successive mortgages should be discharged in the order of their date. Held, consequently, that the defendant's right as against the plaintiff was either to redeem the plaintiff's intermediate mortgage, or else to hold the mortgaged property until his own first mortgage was redeemed by the plaintiff, but that the defendant could not claim to retain possession, as against the plaintiff, until his second mortgage, as well as his first, was paid off, since plaintiff's mortgage was prior in date to, and therefore was to be preferred before, the second mortgage of the defendants. 194. ——— Redemption.—The mortgagor of an estate gave the mortgagee four successive bonds for the payment of money, in each of which it was stipulated that, if the amount were not paid on the due date, it should take priority of the amount due under the mortgage, and redemption of the mortgage should not be claimed until it had been satisfied. The representative in title of the mortgagor subsequently sued the mortgagee for possession of such estate on payment merely of the mortgage-money. Held that, although such bonds did not in so many words create charges on such estate, yet inasmuch as it appeared from their terms that it was the intention of the parties that the equity of redemption of such estate should be postponed until the amount of such bonds had been paid, the representative in title of the mortgagor was not entitled to possession of such estate on payment merely of the mortgage-money. 195. ——— Redemption.—Further charge.—The mortgagor of an estate gave to the mortgagee, subsequently to the date of the mortgage, two successive money-bonds, in each of which it was stipulated that, if the amount were not paid on the due date, it should take priority of the amount due under the mortgage, and that redemption of the mortgage should not be claimed until the bond had been satisfied. The assignee of the equity of redemption sued for possession of the estate on payment merely of the mortgage-money. Held that the two subsequent bonds did not create a further charge on the mortgaged premises, although they would prevent the original mortgagor from redeeming without paying their amounts. The form of mortgage was the usual indigo planter's mortgage, with power of sale. After heavy losses the agents (mortgagees) stopped the factories, and sold them, informing the planter (mortgagor) of the sale, and suggesting his concurrence. He, in a written acknowledgment, gave reluctant assent. He was not called on for any formal confirmation or act, the mortgagees wrote off the greater part of the debt to profit and loss, credited the purchase-money, and closed the account. The purchaser took and retained possession. After two years the mortgagor died, leaving a will, in which he described his property, but did not mention the mortgaged factories. The conveyance to the purchaser was produced, in which the mortgagor was made a party, but which was dated and executed after the mortgagor's death. It purported to be, not an exercise of the power of sale, but a transfer of the legal estate by the mortgagees at the request of the mortgagor. It was executed by the mortgagees and purchaser. Held, firstly, that the mortgagor's heir was not entitled to redeem (see also Sreemulmoney Bebee v. Goberdhone Bermono, 2 Ind. Jur., N. S., 319), also that, on dismissal of the redemption suit, no terms or conditions could be imposed on the defendant, who in this case held under the original contract of sale to which the mortgagor assented. Held, secondly, that even had the contract included (as alleged for appellant) an undertaking to indemnify from liabilities, the payments sought to be reimbursed were beyond six years, and no fraud was proved; therefore as to these the suit was barred. *DOUCETT v. gage by cancelment of sale—Attachment in execution of decree.—Z. mortgaged in 1859 certain immoveable property, being joint ancestral property, for a term of five years, giving the mortgagee possession of the mortgaged property. In 1861 Z. sold this property to the mortgagee, whereupon the sons of Z. sued their father and the mortgagee, purchaser, to have the sale set aside as invalid under Hindu law, and in August 1864 obtained a decree in the Sudder Court setting aside the sale. The mortgagee, purchaser, remained, however, in possession of the property as mortgagee. In May 1867, Z. having sued the mortgagee for possession of the property on the ground that the sale had been set aside as invalid, the High Court held that Z. could not be allowed to retain the purchase-money and to eject the mortgagee, purchaser; but must be held estopped from pleading that the sale was invalid. In November 1867, one K. having caused the property to be attached and advertised for sale in the execution of a decree which he held against Z. and his sons, the mortgagee objected to the sale of the property on the ground that Z. and his sons had no saleable interest in the property. This objection was disallowed by the Court executing the decree, and the rights and interests of Z. and his sons were sold in the execution of the decree, K. purchasing them. In 1878 K. sued as the purchaser of the equity of redemption, for the redemption of the mortgage of 1859. Held that K. was entitled to redeem the property. Held also, that the mortgagee not having contested in a suit the order dismissing his objection to the sale of the property in execution of K.'s decree, he could not deny that K. had purchased the rights and interests remaining in the property to Z. and his sons. Held also, that the mortgagee had no lien on the property in respect of his purchase-money. Held, also, that, it being stipulated in the deed of mortgage that the mortgagee should pay the mortgagor a certain sum annually as "malikana," and the mortgagee not having paid such allowance since the date of the sale, the plaintiff was entitled to a deduction from the mortgage-money of the sum to which such allowance amounted. BASANT RAI v. In a suit to eject the defendants on the ground that the latter obtained no title to the property by their purchase,—Held that so far as the defendants' money had gone to pay off the charge which K. R. had on the land to that extent they were entitled to stand in her shoes as an incumbrancer; and that the suit as far as regards the land covered by the mortgage-bond must be taken to be a redemption suit and the plaintiff ought not to be allowed to recover the property without paying the defendants so much as on a proper taking of accounts might appear to be due to them. RAMESWAR PERSHAD NARAIN SINGH v. 215. ——— Right to redeem sub-tenures purchased by mortgagee.—Acquisitions by mortgagor and mortgagee.—Semble.—Under the English law, which, in so far as it rests on principles of equity and good conscience, may properly be applied in India, it is recognised as a general rule that most acquisitions by a mortgagor enure for the benefit of the mortgagee; and, conversely, that many acquisitions by a mortgagee are, in like manner, to be treated as accretions to the mortgaged property, or substitutions for it, and, therefore, subject to redemption. But semble.—It cannot be affirmed that every purchase, by a mortgagee, of a sub-tenure existing at the date of the mortgage, must be taken to have been made for the benefit of the mortgagor so as to enhance the value of the mortgaged property, and make the whole, including the sub-tenure, subject to the right of redemption on equitable terms —e.g., where there is a mortgage of a zemindari in Lower Bengal, out of which a putni-tenure has been granted, the mortgagee in possession might buy the putni with his own funds and keep it alive for his own benefit. An Oudh talookdar granted an usufructuary mortgage of a portion of his talook, in respect of which there existed certain subordinate birt tenures. The mortgagee having subsequently acquired these birt tenures by purchase, did not, as he might have done, keep them alive as distinct sub-tenures, but treated them as merged in the talook. The mortgagor, many years after, brought a suit for redemption, when the question arose, whether upon repaying the sum expended by the mortgagee in the purchase of the birts, in addition to the amount due on the face of the mortgage-deed, the plaintiff was entitled to the possession of the estate as then enjoyed by the mortgagee; or whether the latter was entitled to retain the birt rights and interests purchased by him as an absolute under-proprietary tenure in subordination to the talookdar, and to have a sub-settlement on that basis.—Held that the plaintiff on repayment of the original mortgage-debt, and on reimbursing the defendant the sum expended in purchasing the birts, was entitled to

216. ——— Right where mortgagee has purchased equity of redemption.—Act VI of 1855, Construction of.—Sale of legal and equitable rights of judgment-debtors—Clause 1, section 1, Act VI of 1855, shows that the statute was designed for the benefit of creditors, and that it authorised sale of both the legal and equitable rights of judgment-debtors. Under this clause, therefore, an equity of redemption was a kind of property that might be seized and sold. A., a mortgagee who takes from B. as security an existing mortgage from C. to B., stands in the same position towards, and is subject to the same equities in respect of, the mortgagor B., who has assigned that mortgage to him by way of sub-mortgage, as B., himself, a mortgagee, does to the original mortgagor C. A mortgagee, at a Sheriff's sale held under a writ of fi. fa. sued out by him upon his mortgagor's bond and warrant to confess the mortgage-debt, purchased his mortgagor's equity of redemption and obtained a conveyance thereof from the Sheriff under clause 3, section 1, Act VI of 1855. Held, in a suit by the mortgagee against the mortgagee for redemption of the mortgage, that the latter was entitled under that Act to hold the mortgaged estate against the mortgagor freed from the equities existing in him previous to sale and conveyance of his rights and interests under the mortgage. TOYLUCKOMOHUN TAGORE v. 223. ——— Bar of right of redemption.—Foreclosure—Accounts—In a suit for redemption of a mortgage the Zillah Court declared the mortgagors (appellants) entitled to redemption, the mortgagees in possession (respondents) having fully paid themselves by receipt of rents and profits. In a special appeal, the Sudder Court reversed the Zillah Court's decision, on the ground that certain proceedings, taken by the mortgagees with a view to foreclosure, had effectually barred the equity of redemption. Held by the Privy Council that the Sudder Court ought not to have decided the case on the question of foreclosure, because that question, though raised upon the pleadings, had not been made one of the issues settled in the Court of first instance, where alone evidence could be taken; that the Court was wrong in treating the proceedings as an effectual bar to the appellant's right of redemption, and that the question of foreclosure ought therefore to be further fully tried upon an issue to be regularly settled. MOHUN LALL SOOKUL v. 239. ———— Redemption of whole property by owner of portion.—Proportional contribution.—The owner of a part of the equity of redemption can redeem the whole property mortgaged from the mortgagee after paying the whole of the money due on the mortgage, and has a lien on the share of the co-owner for the proportional contribution of that share to the sum expended in redemption, and this right or interest is as capable of transfer as the aggregate group of interests called the ownership. B. in one transaction mortgaged two fields (Nos 20 and 22) to J. On the 16th January 1869, in execution of a decree against B., his interest in one of them (No 22) was sold, and R. became the purchaser. R., however, did not take possession. father) to the plaintiff. A. was not a party to the conveyance, but attested it with an expression of assent. The plaintiff now sued the defendant V. to eject him from No 22. Held that the defendant V. had a lien on No 22, and that the plaintiff could not eject him without paying him the amount of such lien. When R. purchased No 22 he and B. stood in equal positions towards the mortgagee J. J. might enforce his rights under the mortgage against both together, or against either of the two, leaving that one, if forced to pay the whole sum, to recover the proper rateable contribution from the other. On the other hand, R. might redeem the whole and seek contribution from B., or B. might redeem the whole and seek contribution from R.. Whichever of the two redeemed, he would have a lien on the share of the other for the proportional contribution of that share to the sum expended in redemption. B. did, in fact, redeem the mortgage to J., and thereupon became entitled to a lien on R.'s share of the property, viz., field No 22. He then mortgaged his whole interest to the defendant V., including his lien on No 22. R., who had not yet obtained possession of No 22, was entitled to get it only on paying off the amount of the lien which had passed to the defendant V. VITHAL NILKANTH PINJALE v VISHVABHAY BIN BAPUJIRAY

240. ———— Purchaser of equity of redemption of part of an estate—The purchaser of the equity of redemption of part of an estate under mortgage is entitled to redeem the whole of the mortgaged estate if the mortgagee insists on his right to have it so redeemed. When the former elects to pay the entire mortgage-debt, he puts himself in the place of the mortgagee, redeemed, and acquires a right to treat the original mortgagor as his mortgagor, and to hold that portion of the estate in which he would have no interest but for the payment as a security for any surplus payment he may have made. ASANSAB RAYUTHAN v VAMANNA RAO. 241. ———— Mortgage of property owned by co-sharers.—Subsequent severance of interests—Suit by one co-sharer to redeem more than his share—Time of taking objection—In 1805 a two annas share in certain property held by co-sharers was mortgaged to the defendant. The mortgage was effected by the mortgagor as manager of all the co-sharers in union. In 1818 one of the co-sharers redeemed his share of two pies in the mortgaged property, and a further share of two pies therein was redeemed by a second co-sharer in 1867. The plaintiff was admittedly the owner of another two pies share, but he now sued the defendant to redeem the whole of the property still undecreed,—viz., a one anna eight pies share of the original mortgage. The defendant objected that the plaintiff could only redeem his own two pies share, which had become separated from the rest. The plaintiff demed that the estate had been divided. Held that the plaintiff's claim being to redeem all that remained of the estate in the mortgagee's possession, the suit could not be maintained, unless all the other persons interested in the equity of redemption were before the Court either as co-plaintiffs or as defendants. Without their presence the suit could not be properly disposed of, and the excuse, that the defendant did not take objection at the right time, had, under such circumstances, no validity. As owner of a two pies share, which by consent of all interested had become an estate wholly separated from the other parts of the original aggregate, the plaintiff would have been bound to set forth the transactions on which his right rested. RAGHO SALVI v. The plaintiff having sued to redeem the whole share, the defendants questioned the validity of the sale to the persons through whom the plaintiff claimed, and impugned the plaintiff's right as heir. Held that the mortgagees, who, on the occasion of the sale impugned, had sued to establish their claim to redemption, were not now entitled to question the sale; and, secondly, inasmuch as the estate, or the portion of it held by the persons whom the plaintiff claimed to represent, was a joint estate, the plaintiff having established his right to one moiety by purchase, was entitled to redeem the whole, whether his title to the other moiety by heirship was proved or not. BITHAL NATH v. 252. ——— Contribution.—

Suit for redemption of share of property sold in execution of decree for mortgage-debt—M., B., and N. held mouzah D. in equal one third shares, and M. also held a share in mouzah A. On the 8th January 1863, M. and B. mortgaged their shares in mouzah D to L. to secure a loan of certain moneys. On the 16th March 1870, M., B., and N. mortgaged mouzah D to R. to secure a loan of Rs600, and on the same day, by a separate deed, they mortgaged mouzah D, and M. mortgaged his share in mouzah A. to R., to secure a loan of Rs1,600. On the 8th December 1875, L. obtained a decree for the sale of the shares of M. and B. in mouzah D. for the satisfaction of the mortgage-debt due to her. On the 18th April 1876, R. obtained a decree for the realisation of the mortgage-debts due to him by the sale of mouzah D. and M.'s share in mouzah A. On the 23rd October 1876, the shares of M. and B. in mouzah D were sold in execution of L.'s decree, and were purchased by K. A portion of the purchase-money was applied to satisfy L.'s decree, and the balance of it was deposited in Court. Instead of applying to the Court to pay him this balance in execution of his decree dated the 18th April 1876, R. attached and obtained payment of such balance in execution of a decree for money which he held against M. and B. On the 20th June 1877, R., in execution of his decree dated the 18th April 1876, brought to sale N.'s one-third share in mouzah D and became its purchaser. On the 20th July 1877, R., in execution of a decree for money against M., brought to sale his share in mouzah A. and became its purchaser. Held, in a suit by N. against R. in which he claimed that the sum due by him under the two mortgages dated the 15th March 1870, and the decree dated the 16th April 1876, might be ascertained, and that, on payment of the amount so ascertained, the sale of his one-third share in mouzah D. might be set aside, and such share declared redeemed. Held that the sale of N.'s share in mouzah D. could not be set aside. Held, also, that if it were shown that the sum realised by the sale of his one-third share in mouzah D. exceeded the proportionate share of his liability on the two mortgages, he was entitled to recover one moiety of such excess as a contribution from mouzah A. As it appeared that there was such an excess, the Court gave N. a decree for a moiety of such excess, together with interest on the same from the date of the sale of N.'s share at the rate of 12 per cent per mensem, and further directed that, if such moiety, together with interest, were not paid within a certain fixed period, N. would be at liberty to recover it by the sale of the share in mouzah A., or so much thereof as might be necessary to satisfy the debt. BHAGIRATH v NAUBAT SINGH . . . I. In 1880 M. purchased R's rights in items 1 and 2. In 1881 R redeemed item 5 on payment of Rs30, and executed a second mortgage of the rest to S for Rs200. 254. ——— *Purchase by third parties of mortgagee's interest in portions of mortgaged property.—Redemption and apportionment of liability of purchasers for the mortgage charge.—Jinder of parties.—Mortgage account—Form of decree.—Purchasers of the right, title, and interest of a mortgagor in certain portions of the mortgaged property, sold in execution of a prior decree against the mortgagor, were added as co-defendants in a mortgagee's suit against the mortgagor for foreclosure on failure to redeem. As against these purchasers the suit was dismissed with costs, on the ground that their claims to portions of the mortgaged property, under titles prior to, and independent of, the mortgagee's title, could not be decided therein. A decree was then made against the mortgagor, and on his subsequent failure to redeem or to pay the debt, his equity of redemption was sold, and was bought by the mortgagee. In a suit brought by the mortgagee against the representatives of one of the said purchasers, who refused to deliver possession of the portion,—Held that (a), as this purchaser had disclaimed the right to redeem the portion, and had alleged a paramount title, causing the dismissal of the suit as against him, he, and those claiming under him, were precluded from afterwards claiming to redeem; and (b), the proportion of mortgage charge for which he was liable could not be apportioned by the taking an account as between him and the mortgagee alone, in the absence of the purchasers of the other portions. Azmat Ali Khan v Jawahir Singh, 13 Moore's I. 255. ——— *Right of one of several joint mortgagors to redeem the whole estate—Parties to a redemption suit.—In the case of joint-family property, which, though held in certain shares by the several coparceners, is mortgaged as a whole and redeemable upon payment of the entire sum, each and every one of the mortgagors has a right to redeem the whole estate, seeking his contribution from the rest. The rule is the same as regards any persons, other than the original mortgagors, who have acquired any interest in the lands mortgaged by the operation of law, or otherwise in privity of title. The plaintiffs sued to redeem a sixteen pies takshum of the khoti village of Shirbe, which had been jointly mortgaged by S, the owner of one-half share of the takshum, and H., the eldest of the four sons of P., the owner of the remaining half share. The plaintiffs were the owners, by purchase at two Court sales, of the equity of redemption of two out of the eight pies share belonging to S, and of one quarter of the eight pies share belonging to P. One of these sales was in execution of a decree against R., the eldest of the five sons of S, and the other in execution of a decree against H. After the institution of the suit, the defendants purchased privately the shares in the equity of redemption belonging to Bala, the fifth son of S, and to Saya and Devji, two of the sons of Baba, the fourth son of S. Under these sales, they claimed to be owners of a four pies share in the takshum. Pending the appeal in the District Court, the defendants allowed L., the grandson of P., to redeem a two pies share, and L's brother, R., to redeem a pie share. Held that, as the sixteen pies takshum of the khoti village, though held in certain shares by the original mortgagors, was undivided family property, which was mortgaged as a whole and for an entire sum, the plaintiffs, as owners by purchase of a part of the equity of redemption, had a right to redeem the whole of the sixteen pies takshum, and this right could not be affected by the conduct of the defendants post litem motam, either by their purchase of a share in the equity of redemption pending the suit, or by the partial redemption allowed by them pending the appeal. Held, also, that the defendants had no power to permit partial redemption, as before partition none of the co-sharers could redeem any particular share. NARO HARI BHAVE v. VITHALBHAT

256. ————— Sale by mortgagor of part of mortgaged property pending redemption suit—Sale by mortgagor of rest of mortgaged property after decree for redemption—Application by purchasers for execution of decree—Subsequent suit for redemption by one purchaser—Sale pendente lite—One M sued the defendant R. for partition. The defendant pleaded a prior partition, and alleged that the property which M now sued to recover had been mortgaged by M. to him (the defendant). Pending the suit, M. sold to the plaintiff a portion of the property claimed from the defendant. Subsequently to this sale a decree was passed in the suit, by which it was declared that the mortgage alleged by the defendant had been proved, and that M. should redeem within six months from the date of the decree. Subsequently to this decree, —viz, on 25th November 1879,—M. sold the remainder of the mortgaged property to one H S. The two purchasers (viz, the plaintiff and H S.) then made a joint application for execution of the decree for redemption. The Subordinate Judge held, as to the plaintiff, that the plaintiff having purchased pendente lite, and having become M.'s assignee prior to the decree, was not entitled to come in under section 232 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act X of 1877) to get the decree enforced, and on 6th March 1880 an order was made that H S. should redeem the whole property on payment of Rs100 and costs. H S. subsequently sold his interest to the mortgagee, R. In 1880 the plaintiff brought the present suit for redemption against M. (the mortgagor) and the defendant R. (the mortgagee), alleging (inter alia) that M., having sold the property, had not sought to execute the former decree for redemption. The defendant R. in his written statement alleged that the sale by M. to the plaintiff was fraudulent, that the plaintiff as purchaser from M. had not applied to be made a party to the former suit; that M. having failed to redeem as ordered by the said decree within the period specified, neither he nor the plaintiff was now entitled to sue. Held that the plaintiff's suit was unsustainable. By the sale to the plaintiff the rights of M. came to the plaintiff subject to the result of the suit then pending in which he did not choose to get himself made a co-plaintiff. When the decree was passed it was only through a right derived from M. that the plaintiff could have a locus standi in the further proceedings, and he applied for execution as assignee, and, therefore, as representative of M. under section 244 of the Code of Civil Procedure (X of 1877). As such representative he might have appealed, but did not, against the order of the 6th March 1880, passed on the application made by him jointly with H S.

He had this right of appeal as representative of M. but he could not bring a fresh suit. If he was not a representative of M., then he was a stranger to the proceedings under the decree, and as M. took no steps to fulfil the decree, the right to redeem was foreclosed in six months from the date of the decree,—viz, in May 1881. The plaintiff could not, by any step, prevent the right of the defendant as mortgagee against M. from growing and perfecting itself during the six months allowed for redemption. 257. ————— Right to redeem share coming to person by inheritance—The plaintiff recognised the validity of a mortgage for a term of twenty years of her deceased father's estate made in 1854 by her two brothers, nor did she dispute the sale in 1863, after the death of the brothers, of the estate to the mortgagees by M., her mother, describing herself as sole owner, as a transfer of M.'s rights. She claimed to have a right to redeem from the mortgage in 1854, in due course of time, the share in the estate which devolved upon her by right of inheritance from her father and brothers, the sale-deed of 1863 notwithstanding. The purchase-money under the sale-deed represented personal debts of M. and N., one of the brothers. The plaintiff did not claim as an heir of M., whose death was not known for certain. M. did not profess in the sale-deed to be acting for her daughter either as guardian or as one of N.'s heirs managing for them all. The plaintiff was apparently not a minor at the time, and M. was not an heir of N., being his step-mother. Under Mahomedan law she could not have disposed of her daughter's property as her guardian, and not being one of N.'s heirs she could not deal with his estate on behalf of his real heirs. At the time of sale half the mortgage term had not expired, the mortgage-debt was not claimable at the time, and the sale with a view to its liquidation was unnecessary. Under these circumstances the plaintiff's claim was decreed. IMAMAN v. LALTA BUKSH 7 N. W., 343

The mortgagee had never had possession of the mortgaged property, and by the stipulations of the deed the mortgagor had a power of sale after the expiration of the time fixed for the payment of the debt, and it was only on the failure to exercise this power that the proprietary title would pass to the mortgagee. Held that, under a condition of this character, a reasonable time must be allowed for the exercise of the power of sale, and that the fact that no sale had taken place within an interval of twenty-three days from the date fixed for payment could not equitably be held to divest the mortgagor of the equity of redemption, that consequently at the time of attachment the defendant was only a mortgagee, and the suit to remove the attachment could not be maintained. In a suit instituted on the 30th July 1877 for the redemption of the property, the mortgagee contended that the time had not expired. Held that the suit was unsustainable, because prematurely instituted, the mere use of the word "within" not being a sufficient indication of the intention of the parties that the mortgagor might redeem in a less period than ten years. VADJU v. The mortgagor instituted a suit for redemption on the 15th July 1884. Held, upon a construction of the mortgage-deed, that the advance by the mortgagee to the mortgagor was for a period of ten years certain, that the case was essentially one in which, looking to the merits of the matter between the parties, their obligations were mutual and reciprocal, and there was nothing in the terms of the deed to take it out of the ordinary rules applicable to documents of the kind, and that while on the one hand the mortgagee could not enforce his rights during the period of ten years, on the other hand the mortgagor was not entitled, before that period had expired, to redeem the property *Vadju v. 275. ——— Mortgage for a term—Intention of parties—When the continuance of the enjoyment of property mortgaged for a prescribed period forms a material part of the contract, the mortgagee cannot be deprived of his right to enjoyment on the mere ground that the contract is one of mortgage. The creation of a term is not conclusive evidence that redemption should not take place before the end of the term. But where there was no agreement for payment of interest at an annual rate, but a lump sum equal to the principal was to be accepted as interest for the term, and a small balance of rent was to be paid at the end of the term when the land was returned, and, taking the net annual usufruct at a fixed sum, a term of years was created, during which the debt and interest were to be liquidated by that usufruct, the risk of seasons and payment of quit-rent falling on the mortgagee,—Held that the basis of the contract was the enjoyment of the property by the mortgagee for the term fixed. *SETRUCHERLA RAMABHADRA RAJU BHADUR v. It cannot be laid down as a rule universally true, that under section 14, Regulation III, 1795, a mortgagee's proceeding for a foreclosure under a mortgage of the class of bye-bil-wafa simply, cannot be preferred after twelve years from the expiration of the time which the instrument fixes as the period of redemption of payment, and on the expiration of which the conditional sale will become absolute, for this indiscriminating ground of decision would include alike adverse occupations and those which had not the semblance even of such a character, and would establish a bar arising from simple occupation, and not from the laches of the demandant or of others before him. When a mortgagee not only seeks the assistance of a Court to give him possession of his pledge, but also to foreclose the mortgage, he must effect that object in the mode prescribed by section 14, Regulation III of 1795; section 3, Regulation II, 1805, and section 8, Regulation XVII, 1806. Mere words in the form of a protest which may accompany a tender will not defeat it when they can reasonably be regarded as idle words. XVII of 1806, s. 7.—A deed of conditional sale, after reciting that the vendor had received the sale-consideration (R199) and had put the vendee in such possession of the property as the vendor himself had, proceeded as follows: "I (vendor) shall not claim mesne profits, nor shall the vendee claim interest in case the vendee does not obtain possession, he shall recover mesne profits for the period he is out of possession and when, after the expiry of the term fixed, I repay the entire sale-consideration in a lump sum, I shall get my share redeemed in case of default in payment of the sale-consideration, the sale shall be deemed to become absolute." The vendee did not get possession of the property for some years, and, on the expiry of the term, took proceedings under Regulation XVII of 1806 to foreclose. The legal representative of the vendor deposited the sale consideration mentioned in the deed of conditional sale (R199) within the year of grace. In a suit by the vendee for possession of the property, the sale having been declared absolute, the question arose whether or not the legal representative of the vendor should have deposited, by way of interest, in order to prevent the sale from becoming absolute, in addition to the sale-consideration, the amount of mesne profits for the period the vendee was out of possession of the property. Held (SPANKIE, J., dissenting), on the construction of the deed of conditional sale, that the deposit of the sale-consideration (R199) was sufficient for the redemption of the property. RAMESHAR SINGH v. of interest; that if the mortgagor failed to pay the mortgagee the profits of the land by the end of any year, he should pay interest on the principal amount of the mortgage at the rate of one per cent. calculated from the date of the mortgage, and in such case the mortgagee should have no claim to the profits; and that, if the mortgagor failed to pay the mortgagee the profits by the end of any year, the mortgagee should be at liberty to cancel the lease and to enter on the land, and collect the rents thereof and apply the same to payment of interest. On the 21st March 1874 M gave L. a lease of the land, under which R1,980 was the sum agreed to be payable annually as profits in lieu of interest. In 1879 M, who had not been paid any profits, sought to enforce in the Revenue Courts the condition as to entry on the land, but was successfully resisted by L's widow. On the 16th January 1880 M sued L's widow for interest on the principal amount of the mortgage at the rate of one per cent. calculated from the date of the mortgage to the date of suit, claiming the same by virtue of the provisions of the mortgage, on the ground that he had not been paid any profits. Held that the mortgage and lease transactions must be regarded as one and indivisible, and the questions at issue between the parties be dealt with quod mortgagor and mortgagee; that so regarding such transactions and dealing with such questions, M and L. did not stand in the position of "landlord" and "tenant" and the proceedings of 1879 in the Revenue Courts were had without jurisdiction, also that, although looking at the terms of the contract of mortgage, it was the intention of the parties that, on the mortgagor failing to pay the mortgagee the profits by the end of any year, the latter should in the first place seek possession of the land, yet as M had never obtained possession, but on the contrary had been resisted when he sought to obtain it, his present claim for interest was maintainable. The Court directed that so much of the interest as was due at L's death should be recoverable from such property of his as had come into his widow's hands, and as to the rest, which related to the period during which the widow had been in possession and in receipt of the profits, that it should be recoverable from her personally. BHAGHELIN v MATHURA PRASAD . . . I. redemption. At the end of any year, the mortgagors may pay the mortgage-money and redeem the property. Until they pay the mortgage-money neither they nor their heirs shall have any right in the property." In 1884, a representative in title of one of the original mortgagors sued to redeem his share of the mortgaged property, upon the allegation that the principal amount and interest due upon the mortgage had been satisfied from the profits, and that he was entitled to a balance of Rs 45. It was found that from the profits, after deducting Government revenue, the principal money with interest at the rate of 12 per cent per annum had been realised, and that the surplus claimed by the plaintiff was due to him. The lower Appellate Court dismissed the suit, on the ground that under section 62 (b) of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) and with reference to the terms of the deed of mortgage, the plaintiff was not entitled to recover the property until he paid the mortgage-money. Held that, although the word "interest" was not specifically used, the natural and reasonable construction of the deed was that it was arranged that the mortgagee should have possession of the property and enjoy the profits thereof, until the principal sum was paid, in lieu of interest. Held that the provisions of sections 9 and 10 of Regulation XXXIV of 1803, which was in force when the deed of mortgage was executed, were not affected or abrogated by Act XXVIII of 1855 or Act XIV of 1870 or Act IV of 1882, that these provisions were incidents attached to the mortgagor's rights of which he was entitled to have the benefit, and that the contract of mortgage being subject to these provisions, the charge would have been redeemed as soon as the principal mortgage-money with 12 per cent interest had been realised by the mortgagee from the profits of the property. SAMAR ALI v KARIM-UL-LAH . . . I. mortgage—Interest—Waiver—By a deed of usufructuary mortgage, dated in 1875, a sum of Rs 30,000 with interest at Rs 1 per cent per mensem, was advanced on the security of certain property, for a period of ten years. The deed contained various provisions for securing the payment of interest to the mortgagee, and among these a provision that he should have possession of the property and take the profits on account of interest, the profits being fixed at a certain amount yearly, leaving an agreed balance of interest to be paid yearly in cash. There was also a provision that, in the event of possession not being given, the mortgagee might treat the principal money as immediately due, and recover it at once with interest at the rate of Rs 1-6 per cent per mensem. The mortgagee did not take possession of the mortgaged property, and took no steps to obtain such possession, or to recover the money for nine years, during which no interest was paid. the mortgagors to recover the mortgage-money, claiming interest from the date of the mortgage-deed to the date of the suit at Rs 1-6 per cent per mensem. Held that the fair inference of fact from the circumstances above described was that the mortgagee waived the provisions for securing and recovering the interest, and that the transaction must be looked at as simply one of a loan for the specified period at the agreed rate, v. e., Rs 1 per cent per mensem. GANGA SAHAI v LACHMAN SINGH

In February 1883 a decree for pre-emption was obtained in respect of a mortgage by conditional sale executed in August 1882. On the 23rd August 1883 the decree-holder executed his decree by depositing the principal amount of the mortgage-money, and obtained possession of the property in substitution for the original mortgagee. In June 1884 the mortgagor, proceeding under section 83 of the Transfer of Property Act, deposited in Court the sum of Rs 699, claiming the same to be adequate for redemption. The case was, however, struck off in consequence of the pre-emptor's objection to receiving the deposit on the ground that it did not include the interest due on the mortgage. The deposit remained in Court, and on the 21st August 1884 the mortgagor deposited a further sum on account of interest, but this also the pre-emptor refused to receive, for the same reason as before. In a suit by the mortgagor for redemption of the mortgage, it was found that the amount deposited was all that was due on the mortgage on the 21st August 1884. Held that until the 23rd August 1883 when the defendant enforced his pre-emptive decree by depositing the consideration for the conditional sale of August 1882 he had no interest in the subject of pre-emption as would entitle him to any benefits arising therefrom, and that the defendant was not entitled to claim any interest on the mortgage-money for the period antecedent to the 23rd August 1883. Seemle,—That the proper person entitled to receive the interest for that period was the original conditional vendee, and the Court which passed the decree for pre-emption should have allowed him the amount of such interest in addition to the principal mortgage-money. Ashik Ali v. It contained the following condition as to interest —“As to interest, it has been agreed that the mortgagee has no claim to interest and the mortgagor has none to profits” The mortgagee, however, did not obtain possession. In 1878 the mortgaged property was purchased by the appellant at a sale in execution of decree. In 1884 the mortgagee brought a suit for foreclosure against the purchaser and the heirs of the mortgagor, claiming the principal money with interest at 8 annas per cent. per mensem. The defendants pleaded that the plaintiff was not entitled to claim interest. Held that whatever claim the mortgagee might have against his mortgagors for compensation or damages by way of interest in consequence of the failure to get possession under the contract, he had none enforceable in this respect against the land, which had passed free from charge for interest to the purchaser Ramesh Singh v. XXXIV of 1802—Mahomedan mortgagor.—In 1832 a Mahomedan mortgaged certain land with possession on condition that if the money lent was not repaid within eight years, the land should be enjoyed by the mortgagee after that period as if conveyed by sale. In 1883 a suit was brought to redeem. Held that the title of the mortgagee became absolute by virtue of the terms of the contract on default of payment within the time specified. The obligation cast by Regulation XXXIV of 1802 upon a mortgagee to account for profits does not prevent a mortgage by way of conditional sale from becoming, after the period for redemption has elapsed, an absolute sale where no account has been rendered by the mortgagee. The rule laid down in Pattabhiramier's case, 13 Moore's I A, 560, applies to a mortgage executed by a Mahomedan. MALLIKARJUNUDU v. MALLIKARJUNUDU

The defendants failed to pay interest; and on the 4th December 1866 the plaintiff applied to the Judge of Chittagong for foreclosure thereupon notice, under section 8 of Regulation XVII of 1806, was issued, and served on the defendants. On the 15th April 1868 this suit was instituted by the plaintiff for the establishment and confirmation of absolute purchase, and to obtain possession of the mortgaged premises. Held that the suit was not maintainable. Regulation XVII of 1806 applied to this mortgage; and, under that Regulation, the mortgagee could not apply for foreclosure until the time agreed upon for repayment by the mortgagor,—that is, the "stipulated period" referred to in section 7,—and the mortgagor was entitled to one year's grace from notification of the application for foreclosure made after that date. *SARASIBALA DEBI v. (by the fourth clause thereof), in the event of default of payment of interest in any year, the term of seven years should be cancelled, and the conditional sale should at once become absolute; and that (by the fifth clause thereof) in the event of the principal sum lent not being repaid at the end of seven years, the conditional sale should become absolute. Default having been made in the payment of interest annually as stipulated, the conditional vendee, the term of seven years not having expired, took proceedings to foreclose, in pursuance of the condition contained in the fourth clause of the deed, and the conditional sale was declared absolute. The conditional vendee then sued for possession of the property. Held that the fifth clause of the deed did not dispense with the necessity of complying with the provisions of section 8 of Regulation XVII of 1806 and was compatible with them, and on or after the expiry of the stipulated period application for the foreclosure of the mortgage and rendering the conditional sale absolute in the manner prescribed by that Regulation might and must be made, that the condition contained in the fourth clause of the deed in effect defeated and violated the provisions of that Regulation, and summarily converted a conditional into an absolute sale in disregard and defiance thereof, and the foreclosure proceedings taken by the conditional vendee before the expiry of the period stipulated for the repayment of the principal sum lent were irregular, and the sale could only be rendered conclusive in the manner prescribed by that Regulation in pursuance of the fifth clause of the deed; and that, accordingly, such suit was not maintainable. *IMDAD HUSAIN v. On J applying for mutation of names, B objected that he was in proprietary possession under a deed of gift executed by M, and the objection was allowed. In virtue of a clause in the deed of mortgage, that in case any demand was made in respect of the rest of the property within the mortgage term, the mortgagee was entitled to sue for the mortgage-money notwithstanding the term had not expired, J sued to recover the money by the sale of the hypothecated property. B, in addition to an objection to the validity of the mortgage based on the deed of gift, pleaded that it was invalid as against him, the next reversioner, there being no legal necessity for the alienation. 328. ————— Agreement between mortgagor and mortgagee.—Breach by mortgagor—Right of mortgagee to fall back on mortgage rights.—The mortgagee of certain shares of certain villages applied for foreclosure under Regulation XVII of 1806. While the year of grace was running and shortly before its expiration the mortgagor and the mortgagee came to a compromise in the matter of the mortgage. It was agreed by the mortgagor to transfer by sale to the mortgagee the shares of three of the villages, in lieu of the mortgage-money, and that he should not assert his rights under section 7 of Act XVIII of 1873, as ex-proprietor, to retain the sir lands appertaining to such shares. The mortgagee agreed to relinquish his claim on the remaining shares arising out of the mortgage and the foreclosure proceedings. It was further agreed that, if the mortgagor asserted the right mentioned above, the mortgagee should be entitled to assert his right in respect of all the shares as a mortgagee who had foreclosed. The mortgagor subsequently, in breach of his agreement, asserted his right under section 7 of Act XVIII of 1873 to the sir lands appertaining to the shares transferred to the mortgagee. Thereupon the mortgagee sued the mortgagor for possession of all the shares by virtue of the foreclosure proceedings. Held, following Lall Dhur Rae v Gunput Rae, 1 N. W., Ed. 1873, 81, that, on the failure of the mortgagor to give effect to the compromise transaction, the mortgagee was entitled to fall back on his equities under his mortgage and the foreclosure proceedings taken thereunder. DEONDA RAI v MEGHO RAI [I. issued or that the proceedings should be allowed to drop. GOONOMONEE DOSSIA v. PARBUTTY DOSSIA [10 W. R., 326]

330. ————— Usufructuary mortgage—Position of mortgagee in possession.—Where, in proceedings held before the issue of Circular Order of 22nd July 1813, a mortgagor had the opportunity in a Court competent to decide the matter, to contest, as against the mortgagee, all questions of fact necessary to give a good and absolute title to the mortgagees, and, though called upon, did not show that the mortgage was a bad one, but admitted that the mortgagees were not paid off, and that an extension of the year of grace had elapsed without his performing any of the conditions which would have saved the property from being foreclosed, it was held that even if the proceedings did not possess the character of a regular suit, they were sufficient in themselves to effect a foreclosure, if such was their purpose. Where a party, originally a mortgagee out of possession, has been put into possession by the act and permission of the mortgagor, he has really (inasmuch as a parol contract is sufficient in this country to pass immovable property) obtained a new title altogether different from that which he possessed before, and having its foundation in the act of the parties themselves when they put him into possession. RUNJEET NARAIN SINGH v SHURENFOONISSA [10 W. 331. ————— Agreement, for fresh consideration, between mortgagee and third person for release of property from mortgage.—Release not required to be in writing and registered.—The mortgagee of immovable property under a hypothecation bond, entered into an agreement with one who was not a party to his mortgage, to release part of the property from liability under his mortgage. This agreement was not in writing and registered. The mortgagee subsequently sought to enforce the hypothecation against the whole of the mortgaged property. Held that the agreement, being a new contract for a fresh consideration between persons who were not parties to the mortgage, was not, as between the parties to the mortgage, a release which the law required to be in writing and registered. Held, also, that the party to the agreement with the mortgagee might have come into Court as a plaintiff to enforce the same, and that it was equally competent for him to plead it in avoidance of the mortgagee's claim to bring to sale the property referred to therein. Nash v Armstrong, 30 L. 334. ———— Effect of foreclosure—Sale for arrears of revenue—Fraud of mortgagee—Act I of 1845.—The effect of a foreclosure decree in the Supreme Court in a mortgage suit between Hindus, is equivalent to a decree establishing proprietary right in the mofussil Courts, in similar suits on the like instruments. The mortgagee in possession and another having sought to deprive the mortgagor of his title to redeem by means of a secret purchase of the mortgaged estate between them, including the fraudulent device of a sale by auction for arrears of revenue, such arrears being designedly incurred by the mortgagee in possession, it was held that a suit for redemption and for possession instituted many years after the sale for arrears was not barred by section 24 of Act I of 1845. If a mortgagee in possession fraudulently allows the Government revenue to fall into arrears, with a view to the land being put up for sale and his buying it in for himself, and he does in fact become the purchaser of it at the Government sale for arrears, such a purchase will not defeat the equity of redemption. NAZIR ALI KHAN v. The mortgagor covenanted in the mortgage-deed that he would redeem the property after the term had expired, and that the mortgagee should take the profits in lieu of interest until redemption. After the expiry of the term the mortgagee sued to recover the mortgage-money. Held that the mortgage was security for the repayment of the mortgage-money after the term had expired, and that during the term the mortgagor could not redeem nor could the mortgagee recover his money, but that when the term had expired, either party could bring the transaction to a close. GANESH KOOR v. He afterwards brought a suit for possession against the mortgagors and their co-sharers, on the suggestion of the mortgagors that it would be undefended. It was, however, defended by the co-sharers, and the suit was dismissed. The mortgage-deed contained no covenant to repay the money lent. Where therefore in the case of such a mortgage the mortgagee, in taking foreclosure proceedings, exempted the person and share of the mortgagor so paying and proceeded only against the other mortgagors, and the mortgage having been foreclosed sued the other mortgagors for the possession of their shares of such estate,—Held that, the foreclosure proceedings being irregular, the suit was not maintainable. *CHANDIKA SINGH v. 373. Service of notice.—Proof of service.—Beng. Reg. XVII of 1806, s. 8.—The notice of foreclosure under section 8. Regulation XVII of 1806, is not merely a preliminary proceeding leading up to a judgment of foreclosure to be subsequently pronounced in Court. It not only fixes the date from which the period during which the mortgagor is to retain the right to redeem is to be computed, but it is of itself the operative act in the foreclosure proceeding. The service of the notice, therefore, should be evidenced by the clearest proof, and should be in all cases, if not personal, at least such as to leave no doubt in the mind of the Court that the notice itself must have reached the hands or come to the knowledge of the mortgagors. *EUSTUF ALI v. A copy of the report of the Nazir of the Civil Court, copies of the depositions of witnesses not taken in the presence of the parties to the suit, and a copy of the final foreclosure proceeding, are not legal evidence to prove the service of a notice of foreclosure. *MADHO SINGH v. 383.

Service of notice.—Proof of service.—Beng Reg XVII of 1806, s. 8.—The condition of foreclosure required by section 8, Regulation XVII of 1806, is that the mortgagor should be furnished with a copy of the petition referred to in the section, and should have a notification from the Judge in order that he may, within a year from the time of such notice, redeem the property. In an action brought to recover possession as upon a foreclosure, it is essential for the plaintiff to satisfy the Court that the above condition has been complied with. In such a case, the service of the notice must be established by evidence. The mere return of the Nazir on the back of the Judge's purwannah to the effect that the mortgagor had been duly served, is not legal evidence of service. The functions of the Judge under section 8 are merely ministerial. The year during which the mortgagor may redeem, runs not from the date of the purwannah, or the issuing of it by the Judge, but from the time of service. Where there are several mortgagors, and it is not sought to foreclose the individual shares of each as against each, but to foreclose the whole estate as upon one mortgage, one debt, and one entire right against all, service of the notice upon some only of the mortgagors is insufficient to warrant the foreclosure of the whole estate or of any part of it. Quare,—Whether there may not be cases of mortgages of separate shares, in which by proceedings properly framed foreclosure may take place in respect of some of such shares only. The mortgagee, when he seeks to foreclose, must discover and serve notice on those who are the then owners of the estate. NORENDER NARAIN SINGH v DWARKALAL MUNDUR . I. L. R., 3 Calc., 397

Sufficiency of notice.—Reg. The prescribed procedure must be strictly followed. Norender Narain Singh v. Dwarka Lal Mundur, L. R., 5 I. A., 18. I. L. R., 3 Calc., 397, referred to and followed. Held that, although the mortgagor at the hearing of the foreclosure suit in the Court of first instance had not insisted on the insufficiency of the notification of the mortgagee's application to foreclose, but had relied on another defence, this could not be construed as a binding admission that notice had been duly given; that service of the copy petition for foreclosure, and of the purwannah signed by the Judge, was essential, and that the mortgagor

Sufficiency of notice.—Mortgage by conditional sale.—Suit for possession of mortgaged property.—Beng. Reg. XVII of 1806, s. 8.—Conditions precedent.—Demand for payment of mortgage-money.—Proof of service of notice.—Proof of notice being signed by the Judge.—Proof of forwarding copy of application with notice.—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882).—The provisions as to the procedure to be followed in taking foreclosure proceedings under Regulation XVII of 1806 are not merely directory, but strict satisfaction of the prescribed conditions therein laid down precedes the right of the conditional vendee to claim the forfeiture of the conditional vendor's right, and the various requirements of that section have to be strictly observed in order to entitle a mortgagee to come into Court, and, upon the basis of the observance of those requirements, to assert an absolute title to the property of the mortgagor. Norender Narain Singh v. Dwarka Lal Mundur, I. L. R., 3 Calc., 397; and Madho Prasad v. Gajadhar, I. L. R., 11 Calc., 111, followed. In a suit for possession of immoveable property by a conditional vendee under a deed of conditional sale, alleged to have been foreclosed under Regulation XVII of 1806, it appeared that, except a recital in the application for foreclosure itself, there was nothing to show that any preliminary demand was ever made upon the mortgagors for payment of the mortgage-debt; that there was no proof of the "notice" itself having been served upon the mortgagors, which it lay upon the plaintiff to establish, that there was nothing to show that the notice which was issued was signed by the Judge to whom the application was made; and that it was not proved that a copy of the application was forwarded along with the notice to the mortgagors, or that its terms were ever brought to their knowledge. Held, applying to the case the principles stated above, that the provisions of Regulation XVII of 1806 had not been satisfied, and that the plaintiff had not fulfilled his obligation, namely, to prove affirmatively that those provisions were strictly followed. Held, also, that to treat the suit as one instituted under the Transfer of Property Act, and to allow the plaintiff to obtain such relief as he would be entitled to by that Act, would be to countenance an entire change in the nature and character of the suit as it was originally instituted, and that this was a course not sanctioned by the law. SITLA BAKSH v LALTA PRASAD of contract.—Recital of mortgage.—J, the usufructuary mortgagee for Rs. 1,250 of certain land, of one-ninth of which he had purchased the equity of redemption, in 1854 gave a usufructuary mortgage of the land to N for Rs. 2,700, of which Rs. 1,950 represented the mortgage-money of the land he held as mortgagee and Rs. 750 of the land he held as proprietor. By the instrument of mortgage it was provided that the mortgagee should take all the profits in lieu of interest, and the mortgage should be redeemable on payment by the mortgagor of the principal money. In 1880 K, the representative of the original mortgagor in respect of eight-ninths of the land, sued, with reference to Regulation XV of 1793, for possession of the land, on the ground that the mortgage had been redeemed, as the principal money and interest at twelve per cent had been received out of the profits, and claimed an account. N set up as a defence that the provisions of that Regulation were not applicable, as after its repeal by Act XXVIII of 1855, the mortgagor had agreed not to claim an account. This agreement, he alleged, was contained in the wajib-ul-urz of 1871. Held that the wajib-ul-urz did not contain a new contract or ratification of the old contract of 1854 between the parties, but merely a recital of the mortgage, and therefore K was entitled to an account. Held also that the account should be calculated on eight-ninths only of the land. Observations by STUART, C. J., on Regulation XV of 1793 and Statute 13 George III., Cap. 63. *Shah Makhan Lal v. It was further provided that the mortgagor should not be entitled to claim mesne profits nor the mortgagee to claim interest. J.,—alleging that he had purchased the equity of redemption of the mortgaged property in 1869; that since the purchase the mortgagee had not paid any revenue, and therefore he, J., had been compelled to pay it; and that consequently the mortgage-money had been paid out of the profits of the mortgaged property and a surplus was due,—sued the original mortgagor and the mortgagee for possession by redemption of the mortgaged property and for surplus profits, or for possession of the mortgaged property on payment of any sum which might be found due. One of the defences to the suit was that the mortgage had already been redeemed in 1877 by the original mortgagor, and the suit was therefore not maintainable. Held (i) that, assuming that such redemption had taken place, that fact could not prejudice the plaintiff's rights arising out of the mortgage, whatever the effect of such redemption might be as between the original mortgagor and the mortgagee, and such redemption was therefore not a bar to the suit, (ii) that the plaintiff was entitled to take into account the amount of revenue which he had been compelled to pay by reason of the mortgagee's default; (iii) that in the accounting the plaintiff was entitled to avail himself of annual rests; and (iv) that the mortgagee having had notice of the plaintiff's purchase, any payments which he might have made to the original mortgagor on account of revenue after the purchase were improperly made, and could not be taken into account against the plaintiff. *JAIJIT RAI v. became entitled to his property. In consequence of some alleged mismanagement on the part of A., M. and S. filed a bill in the late Supreme Court and obtained a decree ordering the master of the Court to take an account of the rents and profits which had come into the hands of P.'s executors. While these accounts were being taken, A. died, leaving a will by which he appointed his widow and his grandsons executors, and after certain devises, not comprising a property in Tumlook, gave the residue of his immovable property to the said grandsons, who took it subject to payment—(1) of such of the legacies as remained unpaid under R.'s will, and (2) of what might be due by A. to P.'s estate. After A.'s death, the above suit in equity was revived against his executors. The said executors borrowed money from one Mackintosh on the security of a bond and a mortgage of certain property which he obtained (including the Tumlook property) by an indenture, which recited that the said executors were still accountable in respect of the above legacies and debts, and provided that in the event of any default, or of any sale by Mackintosh, the said debts and legacies were to be paid out of the proceeds in the first instance before either mortgage-money, or interest, or costs, or expenses. After this a decree in the above suit was made against A.'s executors for Rs. 1,32,000, and this not being paid, a writ of fiat facias was issued, under which the Sheriff sold to M. (benami) the equity of redemption in the Tumlook property subject to Mackintosh's mortgage. The latter then obtained a decree of foreclosure and commenced another suit against M. which was compromised, and a decree made by consent in favour of Mackintosh, who then sold his interest in the mortgaged property to M. Under these circumstances, M. claimed the right of proving the whole amount of the sum due to him in the equity proceedings without taking into account the Tumlook property; on the other hand, the creditors of A. insisted that M. was bound to treat the Tumlook property as an asset of A.'s estate. Held that M. was bound to hold the property on the same terms as those on which he acquired it,—viz., that it was subject to a trust in his own favour for the payment of his own debt. *MONOMOTHO NATH DEY v. written engagement, though not extending to the whole profit stipulated, must be adhered to as against the mortgagee, though the mortgagor may go beyond it to show the full extent of the profit, and so to be relieved from the consequences of his actual contract. The mortgagee may retain his pledge until he has received out of it his debt with interest at 12 per cent, the maximum allowed by section 10 of Regulation XV of 1793. In a suit for redemption, on the ground that the debt has been satisfied with interest, the onus is on the plaintiff. A mortgagee is not an assurer of the continuation of the same rate of profit as his mortgagor was able to raise; hence an estimate of the rental preceding the mortgagor's possession is not sufficient proof of the profits in his time. The nature of the accounts which a mortgagor may call for from the mortgagee, explained. The mortgagee need not personally attest the accounts, if he has no personal knowledge of them. Presumptions against mortgagees for non-production of accounts must have reasonable limits, and not be mere conjectures or based on inexact data. MAKHANLAL v. SRIKRISHNA SING

Suit by purchaser of equity of redemption.—Costs of a redemption suit—Compensation to mortgagee.—The plaintiffs sued as purchasers of the equity of redemption from S, a Hindu widow, to redeem a mortgage effected by her husband B. The mortgage-deed recited that a portion of the mortgaged land was held by B, not as owner but as mortgagee, from a third party. S was alive when the suit was instituted, but she died after the settlement of issues. The plaintiff then filed a supplementary claim to succeed as B's next heir. The defendants (the sons of the mortgagee) contended that the plaintiff could not redeem, because the sale by S was invalid. They also claimed compensation for loss of the rents and profits of a portion of the mortgaged property redeemed from B. by the original owner. The Subordinate Judge allowed the plaintiff's claim. On appeal, the District Judge confirmed his decree, being of opinion that the sale was valid as against the defendants, because there were no collateral heirs. On appeal to the High Court, Held that the defendants were not entitled to any compensation on account of the redemption of a portion of the mortgaged property by the original owner, because they were aware that the mortgage to B. was liable to be redeemed, and they (defendants) took such a precarious security at their own risk. In a redemption suit the defendant (mortgagee) is ordinarily entitled to his costs, unless he has refused a tender of the amount due to him, or has so misconducted himself in the course of the suit as to induce the Court to subject him to a penalty. DHONDO RAMCHANDRA v. accounts—In seeking to have the account taken and to have it ascertained whether the mortgagee has by means of the usufructuary mortgage obtained more than 12 per cent interest, and if so, that the surplus may be applied in reduction of the principal, the mortgagee is not asking the Court to authorise a departure from the agreement of the parties (where there is one) that the mortgage debt should bear no interest during a certain period. The onus is on the mortgagor to prove that the principal sum has been paid or satisfied, and on the mortgagee to show what, if anything, is due to him for interest. Failure of the mortgagee in his duty, as trustee for the mortgagor, to keep accounts, and to produce proper accounts, is to be regarded as misconduct which ought to be taken into consideration upon the question of costs. KALYAN DASS v. SHEO NUNDUN PURSHAD SINGH. 18 W. R., 65

445. ——— Usury laws.—Beng. Reg XXXIV of 1803.—Obligation on mortgagee to file accounts—In a mortgage dated in 1852 of malikanah fixed for the period of settlement, it was agreed that the mortgagee should collect the village jumma, pay the Government demand, and take the malikanah, of which part was to be received by him as interest on the money lent at one per cent. per mensem, and the balance, viz., Rs655 per annum, was to be retained by him as the costs of collection. No accounts were to be rendered of the malikanah collected during the time of the mortgagee's possession. If this agreement had been a contrivance for securing to the mortgagee a higher rate of interest than that to which he was then by law entitled, it would have been void under the usury laws (in force under Regulation XXXIV of 1803 until the passing of Act XXVIII of 1855), and would not have prevented the accounts from being taken. But as the Courts found that the Rs655 per annum constituted a fair percentage, which it had been bond fide agreed should be allowed to the mortgagee for the costs of collection, it was held that the agreement had been rightly treated as a sufficient answer to a suit based on the assumption that the whole of the mortgage-money, principal and interest, would be satisfied if the accounts (contrary to the agreement) were taken on the basis of charging the mortgagee with the Rs655, or so much thereof as he should fail to prove had been actually expended in the collection. If the amount received by the mortgagee had been fluctuating, production of the accounts might have been necessary for a decision on the validity of the agreement set up. But it could not be said that by no agreement could a mortgagee relieve himself from the obligation of filing accounts under the 9th and 10th sections of Regulation XXXIV of 1803; and in this case he had done so. The only sum that he was to receive beyond the interest allowed by law being an unvarying balance found to be a fair allowance for the costs of collection. BADEI PRASAD v. MURLI DHAR

Held further, that the mortgagee is entitled to commission on the gross amount of collections to cover the expenses of collection, &c., and this he is entitled to get at the rate of 10 per cent., unless there is any express stipulation to the contrary, or it is shown to be unreasonable. ROGHONATH v. He therefore brought this suit against all the alienees to recover the estate as a whole. The District Judge dismissed the suit on the ground of misjoinder of causes of action. Held, on appeal, that the Judge was wrong; that plaintiff's cause of action, the right, was his relation to the family to which the property appertained, and on this right, if established, and if he be not otherwise barred, he would be entitled to recover; the fact that various persons, during his minority, affected to purchase portions of the property, did not destroy the unity of his ground of action. *SAMI CHETTI v. 19. ————— Suit for possession of different portions of property after ejectment—In a suit to recover possession on the ground of dispossession by all the defendants in consequence of certain Act X decisions,—Held that there was but one cause of action, and that the fact that the defendants each claimed to hold portions of the property under different titles could not make the suit bad for misjoinder. *ACKJOO BIBEE v. 20. ————— Suit for declaration that lands were wukf.—Defendants holding under distinct titles—In a suit instituted for a declaration of the Court, under section 15 of Act VIII of 1859, that certain lands and premises in Calcutta were wukf lands, under a certain towhatnamah executed by the ancestor of the plaintiff, the authenticity of which was admitted, and that the defendants who were in possession might be restrained by injunction from recovering the rents of, or intermeddling with, the said lands or premises, and that it might be referred to the Court in chambers to appoint a proper person to act as mutwalli under the said towhatnamah, and that such mutwalli, when so appointed, might be declared entitled to the said lands and premises, the causes of action were alleged to have arisen at various times within the last twelve years, and were distinct as to the several defendants who held by different titles. On objection having been taken to the frame of the suit, the Court held that it was informal, as there was a joinder in one suit of several distinct causes of action, and no grounds were disclosed for relief in a suit in equity, and that the proceeding should have been by way of ejectment against each of the defendants. The suit was accordingly dismissed. If the defendants in such a suit be intruders and strangers, there is no common cause against them, and they must be turned out by action of ejectment against each separately. *MUZHUR HOSSAIN v. larity not affecting merits or jurisdiction —The sons of R and of K, and of S possessed proprietary rights in two mehals of a certain mouzah P, possessed proprietary rights in one of those mehals. In April 1879 the sons of R sold their proprietary rights in both mehals to G. In August 1879 the sons of K sold then proprietary rights in both mehals to G. Later in the same month the sons of S sold their proprietary rights in both mehals to N. G sued N to enforce a right of pre-emption in respect of the sale to the latter, and obtained a decree. P then sued to enforce a right of pre-emption in respect of the three sales mentioned above, so far as they related to the mahal of which he was a co shajer, joining as defendants G and N and the vendors to them. G alone objected in the Court of first instance to the frame of the suit. That Court overruled the objection and gave P a decree. The lower Appellate Court reversed this decree on the ground of misjoinder. Held that in respect of G, there was no misjoinder, but that, in respect of the other defendants, there was misjoinder of both causes of action and parties. KALIAN SINGH v. 24. — Suit against several defendants for possession — Dispossession under forged document — A suit in which the plaintiff alleged that the defendants (including ryots against whom he had been unsuccessful in the Collector's Court) had, in combination, fraudulently availed themselves of a fabricated jummalundi paper as evidence to support certain mokurrai claims, and had thereby ousted him from the full enjoyment of his milkiat right, was held to be simple in its character and not multifarious. GUJADHUR PERSHAD NARAIN SINGH v. SAHEB ROY . 19 W. R., 203

In the same case after demand, the plaintiff having failed to prove the allegation of forgery, claimed a declaration that the defendants had not a right to occupy the land at a fixed rent. Held that such a declaration could rightfully be asked for only in a separate suit against each separate occupant. SAHEB ROY v. 25. — Joint trespassers — At an auction sale for arrears of rent, on the 11th July 1865, plaintiffs purchased a tenure which, on the zemindar's seishta, stood in the name of one Sheikh Miajan, and proceeded to take steps to obtain possession, but were resisted by the defendants. Against one of the defendants who claimed a particular portion of the lands under the tenure in question, they brought a suit in 1869, but this suit was finally dismissed in June 1876, on the ground that all the persons, who were claimants of any part of the lands, ought to have been joined as defendants. Accordingly a fresh suit was brought against all the claimants of the tenure. To this suit the defendants set up various and distinct defences, some alleging one defence and some another, and so on. The Subordinate Judge dismissed the suit for multifariousness. Held that there was no multifariousness, the plain-

26. — Civil Procedure Code, 1892, s. 28 — Suit for declaratory decree — Specific Relief Act (I of 1877), s. 42 — The plaintiffs having obtained a decree for the possession of certain lands, and having received formal possession thereof, brought a suit against eighty-six persons holding distinct and separate tenures in those lands, on the allegations that, "on the plaintiffs attempting to measure the lands, and calling on the tenants to pay rent, ten of the defendants described as prodhans or headmen formed a combination and gained over the other defendants with a view to injure the plaintiffs; that through their help and endeavour the remaining defendants failed to recognise the plaintiffs as landlords, and declined to pay any rent or to allow them to measure the lands, driving away an Amcen who went to measure the lands on behalf of the plaintiffs, and thereby preventing the plaintiffs from exercising their proprietary rights; that the plaintiffs brought suits for rent against some of the defendants, and in those suits the defendants denied the plaintiffs' title as landlords, whereupon the plaintiffs, seeing the necessity of instituting a suit for declaring the defendants tenants of the land, withdrew the suits for rent." They stated their cause of action to be "the defendants' act of not recognising us as their landlords and thereby preventing us exercising our proprietary rights in respect of the land in suit, and not allowing us to make a measurement of that land, and also withholding the payment of rent," and prayed for a decree establishing their proprietary right and declaring the defendants to be their tenants. Held that there was but one and the same cause of action against all the defendants, — viz., a combination to keep the plaintiffs out of the enjoyment of the property they had purchased, and that the suit was not multifarious within section 28 of the Civil Procedure Code. LOKE NATH SURMA v. 27. — "Multifarious" suit — Act X of 1877 (Civil Procedure Code), ss. 28, 45 — Defendant No. 1, the tenant of certain land at fixed rates, on the 12th November 1877 sold his interest in the land to the plaintiff. At the time of the sale the land was in the actual possession of defendant No. 2, defendant No. 1's sub-tenant, against whom, however, defendant No. 1 had obtained an order for ejectment on the 25th June preceding. On the 25th March 1878 defendant No. 1 applied a second time for the ejectment of defendant No. 2, and while this matter was pending the plaintiff endeavoured to obtain possession of the land, but was resisted by defendant No. 2. He thereupon instituted a charge of criminal trespass against the latter. This criminal proceeding was pending when, on the 14th September 1878, defendant No. 1 obtained a second order for defendant No. 2's ejectment. Under this order he obtained possession of the land, and also of the crop planted by defendant No. 2, which he sold to defendant No. 3 on the 22nd Sep.

tember 1878. On the 25th of the same month the plaintiff's charge of criminal trespass against defendant No. 2 was dismissed, on the ground that defendant No. 1 was in possession, and the plaintiff had never obtained possession under his purchase. Defendant No. 1 subsequently let the land to defendant No. 4. The plaintiff, alleging that three causes of action had accrued to him,—viz., (i) on the 12th November 1877, the date of the sale to him; (ii) on the 30th March 1878, when defendant No. 1 applied a second time for the ejectment of defendant No. 2; and (iii) on the 22nd September 1878, when defendant No. 1 took possession of the land,—sued defendants Nos. 1, 2, 3, and 4, claiming (i) possession of the land as against them all; (ii) mesne profits by way of damages for the year 1285 Fasli (September 1877—September 1878) as against defendants Nos. 1 and 2, (iii) mesne profits by way of damages for 1286 Fasli (September 1878—September 1879) against defendants Nos. 1 and 3; and (iv) mesne profits by way of damages for 1287 Fasli (September 1879—September 1880) against defendants Nos. 1 and 4. Held by the Full Bench (MAHMOOD, J., dissenting) that the Court of first instance had properly rejected the plaint, the suit being open to the objection that different causes of action against different defendants separately had been joined, for which procedure no sanction was to be found in the Code of Civil Procedure. NARSINGH DAS v. Held that the suit would not lie against D., E., F., G., upon the foreign judgment, and that, if the intention was to sue D., E., F., G., upon the original cause of action, and B., C., upon the foreign judgment, the suit was bad for misjoinder.* LAKSHMANAN CHETTI v. tion of decree.—Joinder of causes of action—Joint decree-holders.—The plaintiff claimed from the defendants as joint decree-holders a fourth share of the proceeds realised by auction sale through the Court of the Munsif of certain houses situate on land subject to a village custom whereby a proprietary due of the above amount was payable to the zemindar of the said land. Held by the Division Bench that the claim was not bad for misjoinder, as the due was payable out of the sale-proceeds taken out of Court by the decree-holders. NAYK v. 31. — Suit for sale-proceeds after rateable distribution.—In execution of a decree against six persons, the plaintiffs had certain property brought to sale, the proceeds of which were brought into Court. The defendants, who held five separate decrees against some of the persons against whom the plaintiffs' decree was obtained, applied to have the amount in Court rateably distributed, and this was done in accordance with an order of the Court, the proceeds being distributed in proportion to the amount of the decrees. 32. — Separate liability of defendants for rent.—In a suit to recover rent from defendants, with whom engagements had been entered into separately, plaintiff obtained a decree making each of them liable for the whole sum claimed. Held that there was a misjoinder of the defendants, and that the decree was wrong in law; but that if the first Court had made each defendant liable in proportion to the rent he had engaged to pay, the objection of misjoinder would not have been allowed to prevail. JUMONA DOSS v. POOKHUR SINGH . 22 W. R., 133

33. — Suit for contribution.—The plaintiff was compelled to pay the whole costs of a suit in which there was a misjoinder of causes of action, and which resulted in his and his co-defendants being charged with costs relating to causes of action with which they had no concern. The plaintiff sued, after deducting Rs. 71 as his own proper share, to recover the balance from his co-defendants. The plea of misjoinder was allowed. BENI RAM v. HIDAYAT HOSSEIN . 7 N. W., 82

Judge considering that F. was liable under the ikrar, but not liable under the bond on which the other decree was founded, decided that there were two distinct causes of action, and dismissed the suit. Held that the cause of action on which plaintiffs relied was simply the joint liability of the parties under the decree, and the suit was not multifarious. *MAHOMED MIRZA v. 36. — Institution of suit to redeem, pending a suit by plaintiff to establish his title as representative of the mortgagee.—The ancestor of the defendants held as mortgagee a 10-biswa share of a mouzah, of this share 5 biswas were recovered and held by the plaintiffs as proprietors. Of the remaining 5 biswas, 3 biswas 6½ biswansees belonged to D., and 1 biswa 13½ biswansees to H. These 5 biswas were in the defendants' possession. The plaintiffs sued to recover possession of them, alleging that the mortgage had been redeemed out of the usufruct, and that they had acquired D.'s rights by auction-purchase in the year 1848, and H.'s rights by private purchase from his sons in 1873. They also sued for mesne profits. The defendants pleaded that they held the 5 biswas in suit as proprietors, having acquired D.'s rights by private purchase in 1847, and H.'s rights similarly in 1851. They also pleaded that, inasmuch as the plaintiffs had brought a suit to establish the sale alleged to have been made to them by H.'s sons, and that suit was still pending, the claim for possession of H.'s share could not be maintained; and they lastly pleaded that, inasmuch as the plaintiffs admitted that the rights of D. and H. were acquired by them under separate sales, their claims to those rights could not be joined in one suit. The plaintiffs replied that, assuming the claim to H.'s share could not be maintained on the basis of the alleged sale to them, they were nevertheless entitled to possession of H.'s share in virtue of their right to D.'s share, both shares having been jointly mortgaged. Held that the plaintiffs were entitled to ask in one suit for a determination of their claim to the possession of the shares, and to any surplus mesne profits which might be found due in respect of them on taking account, and that the pendency of the suit to establish their purchase of H.'s share did not deprive them of the right to sue to recover possession from the mortgagees, although it might have been necessary to determine incidentally in the suit the question at issue in the suit respecting the purchase. Held, also, that if the plaintiffs established their right to the share of D., but failed to prove their title as purchasers of H.'s share, they could not obtain possession of the share on the ground that it was mortgaged jointly with the shares they already held, and with the share of D., for, according to their own allegation, the mortgage debt had been redeemed, and there was no longer any common liability which they were required to discharge. *MOHUN LALL v. 37. — Form of suit.—Joinder of defendants—Joinder of causes of action.—Civil Procedure Code, 1882, s. 28—A. leased certain lands to B. for a term of seven years commencing with the year 1288 Fash (19th September 1880). On the 23rd October 1883 A. sold the lands to D., who, under his purchase, became entitled to the rents of the lands from the commencement of the year 1291 Fash (17th September 1883). When some of the instalments of the rent for the year 1291 Fash became due, D. applied for payment thereof to B., who informed him that he had paid the whole of the rent for the year 1291 in advance to A. on the 21st May 1883. D. then sued A. and B. for the rent due, praying a decree for rent against B., and in the alternative for a decree against A. if it should turn out that B.'s allegation of payment was correct. The lower Courts found that B. had paid A. in good faith, and they dismissed the suit as against him. They also dismissed the suit as against A. on the ground that the claims against A. and B. could not be joined in one suit. On appeal to the High Court, Held that the frame of the suit was unobjectionable, and that on the facts found by the lower Courts D. was entitled to a decree against A. *MADAN MOHUN LALL v. 43. — Suit for misappropriation and breach of contract against two defendants — Plaintiffs, members of a pagoda committee appointed under Act XX of 1863, sued defendants for the recovery of Rs. 4480-2-0. The plaintiff alleged that, in October 1865, the first defendant and another agreed to travel and collect subscriptions for the purpose of erecting a tower at the entrance of the pagoda in question, paying to the pagoda Rs. 130 a month during the period they should be engaged in the work, irrespective of the actual collections, that an agreement to this effect was executed, and first and second defendants deputed to collect subscriptions, that both were engaged in the work until November 1869, that under the terms of the said agreement a sum of Rs. 500 was due, of which only Rs. 2,019-14-0 were credited in the accounts of the pagoda; that first and second defendants, when required to account for the balance, informed the plaintiffs that they had paid to the third defendant, the then manager of the said temple, Rs. 5,330, and that only Rs. 1,170 was due by them. The present suit was accordingly filed against the defendants for the sum of money due by them. The Court of first instance decreed against third defendant alone. On appeal the Civil Judge dismissed the suit as against the third defendant on the ground of multifariousness, he having been sued on the ground of misappropriation, while the cause of action against the first defendant was breach of contract. Held, on special appeal, that the suit was not multifarious; that the third defendant was properly included in the suit as a defendant, and did not appear to have been prejudiced in his defence by the course of the proceedings. ABUNACHELLA TEVAR v. ant No 1 (a Hindu widow) to the other defendants were void, and that they, the plaintiffs, were entitled to the several properties after her death, also for an injunction restraining her from making similar unlawful alienations in the future. Held that the suit as framed was not maintainable, inasmuch as it included within it several distinct causes of action which, under section 45 of Act X of 1877, could not be joined together in the same suit. 45. — *Property situated in different districts — Civil Procedure Code, 1877, ss. 28, 31 — A, B, C, and D were the proprietors of a 2 annas 13 gundas share in mouzah E, and also of a 2 annas 13 gundas share in mouzah F, both in the district of Bhaugulpore. On 19th September 1872 A mortgaged a 1 anna 4 pie share of E to H. On the 20th September 1872 A, B, C, and D mortgaged their shares in E and F, together with property in the district of Tirhoot, to the plaintiff. On the 24th March 1873 A mortgaged his share in E and F to J. On the 13th November 1874 A and B mortgaged their shares in E to K. On the 25th March 1874 J obtained a decree on his mortgage, and the interests of A and B were purchased on the 5th January 1875 by L. On the 17th April 1874 M, to whom the first mortgage had been assigned, obtained a decree and attached the property mortgaged. L objected that he had already purchased the interest of A, and on the objection being allowed, M brought a suit against L for a declaration of priority, and obtained a decree on the 9th August 1876. In execution of this decree the property first mortgaged was sold on the 4th March 1878, and after satisfying the mortgage a surplus of Rs. 7,664 remained. After the institution of the first suit and before L's purchase the plaintiff instituted a suit upon his mortgage in the Tirhoot Court without having obtained leave to include that portion of the mortgaged property situate in the Bhaugulpore district. On the 17th July 1874 a decree was made in this suit. On the 17th January 1877 K obtained a decree on his mortgage, and the shares of A and B in E were sold and purchased on the 3rd September 1877 by N. The plaintiff had his decree transferred for execution to the Bhaugulpore Court and he attached the surplus sale-proceeds and a 1 anna 9 gundas share in E. This attachment was withdrawn on the objection of L, who drew out the surplus sale-proceeds. The share purchased by N was also released from attachment. The plaintiff now sued L, N, and the mortgagors for a declaration that his decree of the 17th July 1874 affected the E property, to recover the surplus sale-proceeds from L, and in case the decree should not be valid to the extent mentioned, for a decree declaring his prior lien on the property in E. Held that the suit was not bad by reason of multifariousness. BUNGSEE SINGH v. The Court of first instance gave the plaintiffs a decree for a monthly allowance, and Rs 540 to the widow as arrears of maintenance, and Rs 1,000 for the marriage expenses of the daughters. Held that, inasmuch as the mother was the natural guardian of the two other plaintiffs, and it was proper for them to reside with and be provided for by her, and the common maintenance was, so to speak, a joint matter, the suit was not, at any rate at the stage of appeal, open to objection on the ground of misjoinder of parties and causes of action, nor, looking at the peculiar circumstances of this family, which made the mother the most natural and proper person to arrange the marriages of the two minor plaintiffs, was the prayer for marriage expenses improperly added. TULSHA v. It appeared that the plaintiff had been kept out of possession by one only of the six defendants, and that, if he was entitled to a decree for arrears of rent, another of the defendants was liable for a portion only of such arrears. Held that the suit was not improperly framed, that there was no objection to the prayer for alternative relief; and that the suit should not have been dismissed for misjoinder. JANAKINATH MOOKERJEE v. of the suit the appellants, who were also members of the family, applied to be made parties, alleging that the suit was collusive, and that they were in possession of some of the lands which the plaintiff sought to recover, and wished to defend their possession. The Subordinate Judge granted their application, and made them co-defendants in the suit. They filed written statements setting forth their right, and time was allowed in order that the plaintiff might put in a counter-statement. Before the case came on again, the Subordinate Judge had been removed, and his successor was of opinion that the causes of action, as against the original defendant P. and as against the new defendants (the appellants), were different, and ought to be the subject of different suits. He accordingly dismissed the appellants from the suit under section 45 of the Civil Procedure Code (XIV of 1882), and ordered that they should bear their own costs. Held, on appeal to the High Court, that the order dismissing the appellants from the suit should be reversed, and that section 45 did not apply. When the parties concerned, though in different relation, in a particular litigation are all before the Court, and then cases have been stated, the Court, if it finds the several causes as between plaintiff and the several defendants cannot properly or conveniently be tried together, should deal with them separately as sub suits under the title and number of the principal suit from which they spring. The dismissal of defendants added without objection, or the addition of whom has been submitted to, is not contemplated, and would tend to further needless expense. The power given by section 45 does not extend to an order for the dismissal of defendants, and that a fresh suit should be brought against them. Such an order would not be one for the "separate disposal" of the several causes of action, it would be an order preventing the disposal of them in the suit before the Court. Section 45 is meant to apply to cases in which questions arise as to the joinder or severance of several causes of action against the same defendant. For non-joinder or misjoinder of parties provision is made in section 32, and the plaintiff had not resisted the joinder of the appellants as defendants. The Subordinate Judge could only strike out the name of a party upon an application being made, and no such application had been made. KHADAR SAHEB v. CHOTIBIBI [I. L. R., 8 Bom., 616]

50. — When objection can be taken. — It is too late for defendants to object with effect to a suit on the ground of multifariousness after it has been fully tried and decided on the merits, but the objection is one which a defendant has a right to raise on the settlement of issues, or on a motion to take the plaint off the file. RAM DOYAL DUTT v. Act III of 1864.—Municipal Commissioners under Bengal Act III of 1864 and their servants incur no personal responsibility for what they do so long as they act in the line of their duty. But if they do, or order to be done, that which is not within the scope of their authority, or if they are guilty of negligence or misconduct in doing that which they are empowered to do, then they render themselves personally liable to an action. Act IV of 1876), ss. 189, 191, 213, 252.—Obstruction in public way—Damages—Under section 189 of Bengal Act IV of 1876 the roads and streets in Calcutta are vested in the Commissioners of the Corporation of the Town of Calcutta, and section 191 provides that the "Commissioners shall, so far as the municipal funds permit, from time to time, cause the public streets to be maintained and repaired, and for such purpose may do all things necessary for the public safety and convenience" Sections 252 and 213 respectively direct the Commissioners on opening up the roads, and persons to whom they have given permission so to do, to fence and light any excavations so made. In March 1882 the Commissioners, at the request of the Executive Engineer of the Public Works Department of the Government of Bengal, permitted the latter to open up one of the roads in Calcutta for the purpose of carrying off surplus water from a tank which was under the charge and control of such Executive Engineer aforesaid, and for the purpose of connecting the tank with the public sewer. Permission was granted on the usual condition that a contractor licensed to do such works by the Municipality (but who was not in their employ further than that the Commissioners had power to cancel his license, nor was he in the employ of the Secretary of State for India), should be employed in the work. Such a contractor was employed by the Secretary of State and obtained a license from the Commissioners empowering him to break open the road. The road was open, but was left unfenced and insufficiently lighted at night. The plaintiff in driving along this road after dusk, drove into the hole and was badly injured, and sued the Corporation, the contractor, and the Secretary of State for damages. Held by the Court of first instance (1) that the Secretary of State was not liable, because he came within the established rule that one who employs another to do what is perfectly legal must be presumed to employ that other to do this in a legal way; (2) that the Corporation who had a statutory obligation imposed upon them to repair and maintain the roads, were liable to the plaintiff for a breach of their statutory duty, that where there is a dangerous obstruction, à fortiori where such dangerous obstruction results from a permission accorded by the Commissioners, they are to be held liable for damage caused by it; (3) that the contractor also was liable. Held on appeal that the fact that the Commissioners gave permission to another person to open up the road, although for a perfectly proper purpose, would not relieve them from their statutory duty under section 191 of Bengal Act IV of 1876. *CORPORATION OF TOWN OF CALCUTTA v. MUNICIPAL DEBENTURES.

— Agreement to exchange land for debentures.—Quit-rent.—Liability for interest on debentures.—The Port Canning Municipal Commissioners invited loans on debentures convertible into leasehold titles to lands in the town. The Port Canning Land Company subscribed to the loan declaring their desire to take land in lieu of the debentures. After the debentures were issued a correspondence commenced between the parties with the object of effecting the conversion, in which correspondence the Commissioners intimated to the Company the construction they put upon the Company's tender, viz., that they elected to take land to the full value of their debentures. The Commissioners also intimated to the Company that the latter had selected lots amounting to a part only of their debentures, and required them to select others, giving notice at the same time that they did not consider themselves liable to pay interest. The Company after this proposed to defer exchanging the debentures till their due date, and if the Commissioners consented, not to call for the interest in the meantime, but agreeing to pay a quit-rent equivalent to the interest. The Commissioners agreed to this and asked the Company to declare the lots which they would receive in commutation. A selection was made, but not in accordance with the contract the lots selected being of more value than the debentures. The Commissioners then proposed that the Company should return the debentures, and pay quit-rent upon the additional lots. This was not accepted, but the matter was left in an imperfect state. The Port Canning Land Company subsequently brought an action against the Port Canning Municipality for two years' interest on the debentures. Held that the non-acceptance of the proposal as to the additional lots could not affect the previous agreement to exchange debentures then held for equivalent lots;

The matters in difference in the suit were eventually referred to arbitration under Chapter XXXVII of the Code of Civil Procedure, and an award was made declaring the plaintiff entitled to recover a certain sum from the defendant. Judgment and a decree were given in accordance with the award. Held that, the award notwithstanding, the question whether the suit was cognisable in the Munsif's Court was entertainable.

15. ——— Mortgage set up by defendant exceeding limit of jurisdiction.—Court Fees Act, s. 7, cl. 9—Ejectment—Mad. Civil Courts Act (Act III of 1873)—In a suit brought in a District Munsif's Court to recover several parcels of land from the defendant, plaintiff alleged that defendant held a valid mortgage of Rs. 206 on two parcels which he offered to redeem. As to the other parcels, he alleged that if any charges had been created in defendant's favour over them by his predecessor in title, such charges were invalid. The suit, as valued by the plaintiff, was within the pecuniary limit of the Munsif's jurisdiction. Defendant pleaded that he held a mortgage for Rs. 3,000 over the land, and therefore the Munsif's Court had no jurisdiction to try the suit. The Munsif tried the question of the validity of the defendant's mortgage, and decreed possession to plaintiff on payment of Rs. 906 due on account of mortgages, and Rs. 647-11-9 on account of improvements. On appeal, the District Judge held that the Munsif had no jurisdiction, reversed the decree, and ordered the plaint to be returned to be presented in the proper Court. Held that the Munsif's Court had jurisdiction. *CHANDU v. The defence was that plaintiff held family property, defendant's share of which exceeded in value the debt sued for, as also the amount for which a suit would lie before a Munsif under Act IV of 1863. Held that, provided it was proved in evidence that the money was paid out of plaintiff's self-acquired property, the suit was cognisable by the Munsif under Act IV of 1863. Held, also, that the share of the defendant being both in nature and amount beyond the District Munsif's Small Cause jurisdiction, it was not available as a defence, even if it formed a fit object of set-off. *KATTAPERUMAL PILLAI v. On appeal to the Principal Sudder Ameen, it was objected that the Munsif had no jurisdiction, as the suit was one cognisable by the Small Cause Court. Held (the Court having decided that the Small Cause Court had jurisdiction) that the District Munsif's Court had no jurisdiction, that the erroneous dismissal of a former suit for the same cause of action by a Small Cause Court did not warrant the institution of the suit in the District Munsif's Court, and that the Principal Sudder Ameen rightly concluded that the suit ought to be dismissed. *PANAPPA MUDALI v. MURDER.—Grave and sudden provocation—continued.

13. ————— Culpable homicide not amounting to murder—Penal Code, ss. 300, except 1, 302, 304.—An accused person was convicted of culpable homicide not amounting to murder in respect of the widow of his cousin, who lived with him. The evidence showed that the accused was seen to follow the deceased for a considerable distance with a gandasa or chopper, under circumstances which indicated a belief on his part that she was going to keep an assignation, and with the purpose of detecting her in doing so. He found her in the act of connection with her paramour, and killed her with the chopper. Held that the conviction must be altered to one of murder, as the accused went deliberately in search of the provocation sought to be made the mitigation of his offence, and under the circumstances disclosed it could not be said that he was deprived of self-control by grave and sudden provocation. Queen-Empress v. Damarua, Weekly Notes, All, 1885, p. 197, and Queen-Empress v. Mohan, I. L. R., 8 All., 622, referred to. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. LOCHAN . . . I. L. R., 8 All., 635

14. ————— Absence of intention to kill.—Indication of intention by acts.—It is not murder if a person kills another without intending to take his life, and if the acts done were not such as conclusively indicated an intention to cause such injury as was likely to cause death. QUEEN v. SOLIM [5 W. R., Cr., 41

15. ————— Intention to kill another person.—Where an accused killed A., whom he had no intention of killing, by a blow with a highly lethal weapon intended to kill B., he was held guilty of the murder of A. QUEEN v. PHOMONEE AETUM [8 W. R., Cr., 78

16. ————— Exposure of child.—Penal Code, s. 317.—Remote cause of death.—Held that where, from the circumstances, it appeared that a child had been exposed by the prisoner died, but that death was not caused except very remotely by the exposure, the prisoner, though guilty under section 317 of the Penal Code, could not be convicted of murder. That section contemplates cases in which death is caused from cold or some other result of exposure. QUEEN v. KHODABUX FAKHER [10 W. R., Cr., 52

17. ————— Neglect of child.—Culpable homicide.—Death from starvation.—Where it appeared that the prisoner, a Rajpoot, had allowed his female child, after the mother's death, to gradually languish away and die from want of proper sustenance, and had persistently ignored the wants of the child, although repeatedly warned of its state and the consequences of his neglect of it, and there was nothing to show that the prisoner was not in a position to support the child,—Held that the offence which the prisoner committed was murder, and not simply culpable homicide not amounting to murder. QUEEN v. GANGA SINGH . . . 5 N. W., 44

18. ————— Exercise of right of private defence on thief.—The prisoners detected a weak

19. ————— Right of private defence.—

House-breaking by night.—Prisoner found deceased in act of house-breaking by night in his house, and killed him with a kodali which he had called for, as he admitted, for that purpose. He was convicted of murder, and sentenced to death by the Sessions Judge. The sentence being referred to the High Court for confirmation, it was held that the prisoner had been legally convicted of murder, that he had intentionally done to the deceased more harm than was necessary for any purpose of defence, and that not whilst deprived of power of self-control. But the sentence was mitigated to transportation for life, than which, it was held, no less sentence could be legally passed. The Judge, however, in a letter to Government, suggested the mitigation of the punishment, which was accordingly reduced to imprisonment for six months. *REG. v. DURWAN GEER [1 Ind. Jur., N. 20. ————— Death from blow in a fight.

—A conviction for murder was held to be wrong in a case where a prisoner, taking advantage of an incident which occurred in what till then had been a fair fight, struck his opponent and knocked him over, thereby causing his death. QUEEN v. KEWAL DOSAD [W. R., 1864, Cr., 36

21. ————— Fatal blow after quarrel.—

Penal Code, s. 300, cls. 2 and 3.—Two persons met each other in a drunken state and commenced a quarrel, during which they became grossly abusive to each other. This lasted for about half an hour, when one of them ran to his own house, distant 30 yards from the spot, and came back with a heavy pestle, with which he struck the other a violent blow on the left temple as the latter was rising, or had just risen from the ground, causing instant death. Held that the act was done with the intention of causing such bodily injury as was likely to cause death, and also with the knowledge that such act was likely to cause death, and that the offence committed was murder within the provisions of clauses 2 and 3, section 300, Penal Code. QUEEN v. DASSEE BHOOSAN [8 W. R., Cr., 71

22. ————— Blow with knowledge of likelihood to cause death.—Absence of intention to kill.—When a Judge acquits a prisoner of intention to kill, but admits that the prisoner struck the deceased with a highly lethal weapon, with the knowledge that the act was likely to cause death, the conviction should be of murder, and not of culpable homicide not amounting to murder. QUEEN v. SOBEEL MAHEE . . . 5 W. R., Cr., 32

MURDER—continued.

23. ———— Beating with knowledge of likelihood to cause death.—Held by the majority, that when four men beat another at intervals so severely as to cause death, they must be presumed to have known that by such acts they were likely to cause death, and that when such acts were done without any grave or sudden provocation, or sudden fight or quarrel, the offence was murder, and was not reduced to culpable homicide not amounting to murder by the absence of intention to cause death. *QUEEN v. 25. ———— Presumption from consequences of act likely to cause death.—Culpable homicide—Appellant having aimed himself with a sword, struck in the dark at certain persons in a house, causing wounds which resulted in the death of one person. Held, per JACKSON, J—That such conduct raises an inference that he intended to cause death. Per AINSLIE, J—That though he probably did not see how his blows were directed, as he struck them with a deadly weapon regardless of consequences, he must have known that his act was imminently dangerous, and that it must, in all probability, cause such bodily injury as was likely to cause death. Per CUNNINGHAM, J—That the offence was culpable homicide, and not murder, being an unpremeditated act of reckless violence rather than an act done with the knowledge or intention which is essential to constitute murder. BEJADHUR RAI v. EMPRESS 2 C. L. R., 211

26. ———— Conspiracy to kill.—Penal Code, s. 302—L, C, K, and D, conspired to kill S in pursuance of such conspiracy L first and then C struck S on the head with a lathi and S fell to the ground. While S was lying on the ground K and D struck him on the head with their lathis. Held (STUART, C J, dissenting) that, inasmuch as K and D did not commence the attack on S, and it was doubtful whether S was not dead when they struck him, transportation for life was an adequate punishment for their offence. EMPRESS v. CHATTAR SINGH [I. L. R., 2 All., 33

27. ———— Knowledge of likelihood to cause death.—Penal Code, s. 300, cl. 4, and s. 314—To bring a case under clause 4, section 300 of the Penal Code, it must be proved that the accused in committing the act charged knew that it must, in all probability, be likely to cause death, or that it would bring about such bodily injury as would be likely to cause death. Where a poisonous drug was administered to a woman to procure miscarriage, and death resulted, and it was not proved that the accused knew

28. ———— Death caused by snake-charmers.—Culpable homicide—Certain snake-charmers, by professing themselves able to cure snake-bites, induced several persons to let themselves be bitten by a poisonous snake. From the effect of the bite, three of these persons died. Held that the offence was murder under clauses 2 and 3 of section 300 of the Penal Code, unless it could be brought within the 5th exception to that section. If the prisoners, really believing themselves to have the powers they professed to have, induced the deceased to consent to take the risk of death, the offence would be culpable homicide not amounting to murder. QUEEN v. PUNAI FATTAMA [3 B. L. R., A. Cr., 25; 12 W. R., Cr., 7

29. ———— Penal Code, ss. 304, 304a.—Culpable homicide.—Causing death by negligence—A snake-charmer exhibited in public a venomous snake, whose fangs he knew had not been extracted, and to show his own skill and dexterity, but without any intention to cause harm to any one, placed the snake on the head of one of the spectators; the spectator tried to push off the snake, was bitten, and died in consequence. Held, the snake-charmer was guilty, under section 304 of the Penal Code, of culpable homicide not amounting to murder, and not merely of causing death by negligence, an offence punishable under section 304a. EMPRESS v. GONESH DOOLEY. I. L. R., 5 Calc., 351; 4 C. L. R., 580

31. ———— Presumption of death.—In a case where a man was struck on the head in a boat with a heavy paddle and knocked overboard in a large river in the height of the rains, and had never been heard of since, it was held impossible to suppose that the man was still alive and the conviction of murder was upheld. *QUEEN v. MUTUAL BENEFIT SOCIETY.

1. ——— Power of majority to alter rules. —Payment of pensions in England. —Adjustment of payments in accordance with rate of exchange. —Interest of subscriber to society.—The U. S. F. P. Fund, a Society established, as stated in rule 2 of the Rules of the Society, "to provide for the maintenance of the widows and children of those who shall subscribe to it upon the terms and conditions specified below, or upon such others as may be determined upon by the subscribers or by a majority of them," had, prior to 1850, passed a rule (33) that "widows, being incumbents on the Fund, shall be paid their pensions at any place they may desire, subject to the usual charges of remittance, the pensions of children, being incumbents on the Fund, shall also be so paid, and on the same condition." The subscriptions were then, and continued to be, paid in rupees, and the pensions were calculated in rupees according to certain tables. On being admitted, a subscriber had to "promise and engage to submit to, and abide by, the rules and bye-laws of the Institution" (rule 22), and by rule 27 had to "pay a fee equal to ten per cent. on the amount of monthly pension insured." Rule 60 gave power to alter any existing rule by the duly recorded votes of a majority of the subscribers. In 1850, exchange between India and England being then about par, rule 33 was repealed, and a new rule (41) was substituted for it, which provided that "incumbents on the Fund shall be paid their annuities in India at par, or in Europe at the fixed rate of two shillings in the rupee." On the 1st July 1876, exchange being adverse on remittances from India to England, a rule was passed, which provided that "incumbents on the Fund shall be paid their annuities in India in full, and those residing in Europe at the rate of exchange fixed for the official year by the Secretary of State; annuities already due or hereafter becoming due on risks accepted before the 1st July 1876, shall be payable to incumbents residing in Europe at the fixed rate of two shillings to the rupee." Exchange continuing to decline, on the 22nd May 1880, the Society, by the votes of 553 against 505 of the subscribers, passed the following rule. "Annuities already due, or becoming due before the 1st May 1880, on risks accepted before the 1st July 1876, shall be payable to incumbents residing in Europe at the fixed rate of two shillings to the rupee. but all other annuities due, or becoming due, shall be paid, if to incumbents in India, in full, and if to incumbents residing in Europe, in London, at the market rate of exchange." The plaintiffs were the widow and children of F, a member of the society, who was admitted as a subscriber for the benefit of his widow in November 1871, for the benefit of his son in September 1873, and for the benefit of his daughter in November 1874. He commenced to pay an increased subscription for the benefit of his son in September 1878. He was not one of the majority who voted in favour of the rule of the 22nd May 1880, though he attended the meeting of subscribers. He died on the 25th June 1880, having up to that time duly paid his subscription to the Fund. In a suit in which the plaintiffs, who were residing in England, claimed to be paid their pensions at the rate of two shillings in the rupee,—Held that F. had no vested interest at the time of the passing of the rule of the 22nd May 1880; that the plaintiffs were, with respect to their pensions, bound by the terms of that rule, which a majority of the subscribers had full powers to pass so as to affect the nominees of all existing subscribers, and therefore the suit should be dismissed.

Rule 41 gave an undue advantage to one class of subscribers, which was extra vires, and open to correction under rule 60 by a majority of the subscribers. The Society being one for the equal benefit of all subscribers, even if rule 60 did not give power to adjust payments in accordance with the rate of exchange, such a power might be implied for the purpose of continuing the business of the Association.

2. ————— Madras Civil Service Annuity Fund.—Refund of excess subscriptions, Right to.—The Madras Civil Service Annuity Fund was established in 1825 for the purpose of providing annuities to the Civil Servants of the East India Company in the Madras Presidency on retiring from service. The annuities were to be provided for by subscriptions of the Civil Servants to that Fund to the amount of one half and by contributions by the East India Company to the extent of the other half. These contributions were to be received by trustees and applied by them to make good the deficiency which was to be supplied by the Company. It appeared that in some instances the trustees of the Fund, where an excess of subscriptions had been paid by a subscriber entitled to an annuity beyond the half value of the annuity had returned the excess. R., a subscriber from the commencement, had contributed beyond the half value of his annuity. Held that, although the regulations of the Fund did not justify a refund to a subscriber of the amount of his subscriptions in excess of the prescribed amount, yet that the practice which had prevailed of refunding the contributions in excess, and the acquiescence of the East India Company in such practice, precluded the Company from disputing the right of the subscriber to repayment of the surplus of his subscriptions in excess of the half value of the annuity payable out of the Fund. Held, also, that R. having become entitled to his annuity in 1852, his right to such repayment could not be affected by rules passed in 1853 prohibiting such refund, although R. remained a subscriber in 1853. EAST INDIA COMPANY v. venue survey in a narva village.—Suit by inamdar to recover rent as settled by the survey.—Landlord and tenant.—The narva tenure and its incidents discussed and explained. The inamdar of the narva village of Dakor desired that the revenue survey should be introduced into it. The usual measurements and assessments were made, and the Superintendent of the Revenue Survey, following the analogy of the system prevalent in Government villages, held a conference with the narvadar and drew up a scheme, to which the narvadar assented, for the future management of the village and for settling the future relations between the narvadar and the inamdars as representing the fiscal interests of the Government. The narvadar agreed to retain their narva tenure along with an assessment made upon the principles of the revenue survey; and they resigned their right over baharkhali lands aliened from the several narva shares, on the understanding that the inamdar was to levy from the tenants one fourth of the difference between the quitrent actually paid and the full assessment as ascertained by the survey. The narvadar and then tenants, the actual holders of the baharkhali lands, having refused to pay this one fourth, the inamdar sued them to recover it or the full assessment as ascertained by the survey. Held that the inamdar was entitled to recover the one fourth according to the scheme, which was binding on the whole body of narvadar, even though the defendant and others, being a minority, had not assented to the action of the majority. The inamdar's fiscal rights include the right to levy the ordinary assessment, except where a contract stands in the way, and he can raise the assessment to a limit which is fair and equitable according to the custom of the country. As between the narvadar and the Government there is nothing to prevent the former from consenting to the exclusion of any part of the village lands from the contract. The severance of such part makes it immediately subject to full taxation on ordinary principles, and any agreement with an inamdar in limitation of the narvadar's right to take rent can operate only as a ground of action against the narvadar themselves. MANOHAR GANESH TAMBEKAR v CHUTABHAI MITHABHAI . The peon reported to the Nazir that he had attached the property in question, and had placed it in charge of certain persons, whose receipt for it he produced and filed. Subsequently, the plaintiff paid the amount of the decree into Court and an order was made releasing his property from the attachment. A peon was sent to restore the property to the plaintiff, but the persons in whose charge it was said to have been left alleged that they had never taken possession of the property, and the peon was unable to restore the property to the plaintiff. The warrant was lodged with the Nazir on the 16th December, and was to be in force till the 4th January 1877. On the 22nd December 1876, the Nazir was informed that the judgment-debtor was already in the civil jail under a writ of execution issued by another creditor. The Nazir then returned the warrant to the Subordinate Judge who had issued it. On the 29th December the Subordinate Judge again sent it to the Nazir's office, where it was duly received by the Nazir's karkun (defendant No. 2). This fact was not reported by the karkun to the Nazir (defendant No. 1) until the 4th January 1877. On the 1st January 1877 the judgment-debtor's debt was paid by Government, and he was released in honour of Her Majesty's assumption of the title of Empress of India. The judgment-debtor thereupon left the district, and could not be found, and the plaintiff's warrant remained unexecuted. The plaintiff sued the Nazir and his karkun for allowing his judgment-debtor to escape. Held that the Nazir ought not to have sent the warrant back to the Subordinate Judge, and that there was no necessity for a fresh order on it until the time which it had to run had expired. Held, further, that if the Nazir forgot the existence of this unexecuted warrant on the 1st January 1877, and thus allowed the debtor to be released from the former process, when he ought to have been re-arrested under the plaintiff's warrant, there was actual negligence on his part, making him liable in damages to the plaintiff. Quere,—Whether or not the Nazir could have been made responsible for the negligence of the karkun, who was not his servant, but the servant of and paid by Government and appointed by the District Judge, if the warrant had been lodged with the karkun in the first instance, and that fact had never been communicated to the Nazir, and if he had never known of the existence of the warrant. KASTURCHAND v. RAVJI SADASHIV . I. L. R., 4 Bom., 65

5. ————— Misrepresentation of solvency of surety by witness to surety-bond—The plaintiff held a money-decree against M., who was arrested in execution of it. On being brought to the Court, however, M. applied for his discharge as an insolvent under section 273 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act VIII of 1859). He was released on the security of G., who executed a bond for the appearance of M. at the inquiry into his insolvency. The defendant attested the bond, and wrote in the attestation that G. was a solvent person. In consequence of the non-appearance of M., the plaintiff sought to execute his decree against the surety G., who, on his arrest, also applied for his discharge on the ground of his insolvency, and was discharged after inquiry. The plaintiff thereupon sued the defendant for the amount of his decree and cost of execution, on the ground of his representation in the attestation that G. was solvent. Quere,—Whether the Nazir was liable to the plaintiff for negligence in not taking a proper surety. *NAGO MAHADEV v. 1. ——— Requisites for action for negligence.—Act contrary to law.—To sustain an action for negligence, there must be an obligation on the part of the defendant to use care, and a breach of that obligation to the plaintiff's injury is an act contrary to law. *SWAMI NAYUDU v. 4. ——— Railway Company.—Injury to persons travelling—The plaintiff was a passenger travelling on the defendants' railway, and received severe injuries from a fall which he experienced in stepping upon the platform when the train stopped. Held that the Railway Company was guilty of negligence in not keeping the station properly lighted, in allowing the train to overshoot the station, and in not warning the plaintiff against alighting, also that the injuries sustained by the plaintiff were caused by the negligence in question, and that the plaintiff did not by his own want of care contribute to the accident. *WOODHOUSE v. NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS, SUMMARY PROCEDURE ON—

Act V of 1866, the Act mentioned in the following cases, was repealed and its provisions re-enacted in the Civil Procedure Code. See Civil Procedure Code 1882, ss. 532, 538.

1. ——— Return of summons.—Procedure—In a suit under Act V of 1866, the summons should be returned in the usual way, and after the expiration of the required time, an order of the Court or a decree should be obtained. SCHILLER v. MARKER . . . 1 Ind. Jur., N. S., 283

2. ——— Time to obtain leave to defend.—Act V of 1866, s. 3.—Although Act V of 1866, section 3, only gives the defendant seven days to get leave to come in and defend an action on a bill, note, &c, the Court must be satisfied before granting a decree that the defendant has had a full opportunity to obtain leave to defend. GROB v PALMER
[1 Ind. Jur., N. S., 395]

3. ——— Extension of time for appearance.—Jurisdiction.—Where, in a suit under Act V of 1866, the defendant is at such a distance as would make it impossible for him to put in an appearance within the seven days allowed by the Act, the Court will stay execution for a time long enough to allow him to appear. Suits cannot be brought under this Act against persons resident out of the jurisdiction. CHANDRAKANT ROY v POGOSE
[3 B. L. R., O. C., 83]

4. ——— Leave to appear and defend.—Practice.—Costs.—The Court will give leave to a defendant to appear and defend in suits under Act V of 1866, where he shows a defence apparently real; but where there is a doubt as to the bona fides of the defence, payment of money into Court will be ordered, or security directed to be given. The Court has, in giving leave to defend, a discretion to order security for costs, not only where it doubts the bona fides of the defence, but also if it considers the matter of defence raised is unnecessary, though allowable. If the plaintiff has not been heard at first against the defendant's application, the Court will always allow him to come in afterwards and show that the leave ought not to have been granted, or, if granted at all, in more stringent terms. VONLINTZKY v. NARAYAN SING
6 B. L. R., Ap., 64

5. ——— Leave to defend.—In an action on a promissory note under this Act the defendant was allowed to come in and defend after the plaintiff had obtained a decree, the decree was set aside and written statements ordered. JOSEPH v SOLANO
[9 B. L. R., 441: 13 W. R., 424]

6. ——— Notarial protest.—Evidence of dishonour.—Hundi.—Bill of exchange.—A notarial protest of any bill of exchange noted at any time after the passing of Act V of 1866 is prima facie evidence that the bill has been dishonoured under section 13 of that Act, although the sections relating to summary procedure on bills of exchange did not come into operation till May 1st, 1866. A hundi, which contains a direction on sufficient consideration to the drawee, and accepted by him, is within the terms of the Act, and such a document is assignable without any regular form of endorsement, if sufficient cause appears in the handwriting of an endorser to indicate an intention to assign it. *EAST INDIA BANK v. titled to claim by his summons and obtain by his decree whatever sum, principal and interest, is, on the legal construction of the instrument, demandable. DESOUSA v. RANGAIAN
6 Mad., 257

8. ——— Promissory note.—Consideration.—Evidence.—In a suit under the Bills of Exchange Act to recover Rs. 1,200 on a promissory note the Court gave a decree for Rs. 700 only, that being shown to have been the full consideration received for the note. RAMLAL MOOKERJEE v. HARAN CHANDRA DEAR
[3 B. L. R., O. C., 130: 12 W. R., O. C., 9]

9. ——— Promissory note.—Endorsement struck out.—Evidence.—A plaint was presented under Act V of 1866 by the endorsee of a promissory note endorsed as follows. "Received from the Chartered Mercantile Bank—J. M. Reid, Agent." The note had not been paid when presented, and the endorsement was struck out. Admission of the plaint was refused, unless evidence was given that the note had been paid, and to explain why the endorsement was struck out. As under Act V of 1866 evidence could not be received, the plaint was not admitted. CHARTERED MERCANTILE BANK v. SECONDE
3 B. L. R., O. C., 146

10. ——— Suit on promissory note payable by instalments.—Where a promissory note is payable by instalments, and contains a stipulation that, on default in payment of the first instalment, the whole amount is to become due, a suit to recover the whole amount on default made in payment of the first instalment cannot be brought under Act V of 1866. REMFREY v. SHILLINGFORD
[1 L. R., 1 Calc., 130]

11. ——— Costs.—Suit under Rs. 500.—Jurisdiction of Small Cause Court.—In an undefended suit brought under Act V of 1866 on a promissory note for Rs. 342, there was nothing in the petition to show that the suit could not have been brought in the Small Cause Court, the High Court gave a decree for amount of note and costs. DUFF v FISHER

— ss. 43, 83, & 241.—Vendor and purchaser—Agreement—Jurisdiction of Civil Court—Cause of action.—Assessment of revenue.
—The purchaser of a certain estate paying revenue to Government agreed with the vendors, shortly after the sale, that they should retain a certain portion of such estate free of rent, and that he would pay the revenue payable in respect of such portion. In 1853, in a suit by the vendors against the purchaser to enforce this agreement, the Sudder Court held that the revenue payable in respect of such portion of the estate was payable by the purchaser. In 1875, on a fresh settlement of the estate, the representatives in title of the purchaser applied to the settlement officer to settle such portion of the estate with the representative in title of the vendors. The settlement officer refused this application, but it was subsequently allowed by the superior revenue authorities. The representative in title of the vendors then sued the representatives in title of the purchaser in the Civil Court, claiming "that he might, in accordance with the agreement between the vendors and the purchaser, be exempted from paying revenue in respect of such portion, as against the defendants, without any injury to the Government that the defendants might be ordered to pay as heretofore such revenue: and that the defendants might be ordered never to claim or demand from him any revenue they might be compelled to pay in respect of such portion."

Held per SPANKIE, J., that, assuming that the agreement between the vendors and the purchaser was enforceable, the act of the defendants in moving the settlement officer to settle such portion of the estate with the plaintiff gave the plaintiff a cause of action. Also that, the object of the plaintiff's suit being to obtain a declaration that, as between him and the defendants, the latter were bound to pay revenue in respect of such portion, the suit was not barred by clause (b), section 241 of Act XIX of 1873. Also that, although the revenue authorities might regard the decision of the Sudder Court as binding on the parties then before the Court, for the currency of the then settlement, that decision, that settlement having expired, and section 83 of Act XIX of 1873 having come into force, could not control the power of the revenue authorities to settle the land in question with the plaintiff who was its proprietor. Held per OLDFIELD, J., that, with reference to sections 43 and 83 of Act XIX of 1873, the Civil Courts could not relieve the plaintiff of his liability to pay revenue. Held by the Court that, in the absence of proof that the agreement by the purchaser was intended to extend beyond the period of the settlement then current, and that it was binding upon his representatives in title, the plaintiff could not obtain the declaration which he sought. HIRA LAL v GANESH PRASAD I. 2. Suit against Municipal Committee.—Claim for a declaration of right.—Limitation Act (XV of 1877), art. 120.—Cause of action.—The lessee of certain land belonging to the plaintiffs, situate within the limits of a Municipality, applied to the Municipal Committee for permission to establish a market on such land, and such permission was refused by the Committee on the 26th November 1878. Meanwhile, the plaintiffs, on behalf of the lessee and on their own behalf as proprietors of such land, applied to the Committee for such permission, sending such application by post. No orders were passed by the Committee on such application because it had come by post. On the 18th April 1879 the plaintiffs sued the Committee for a declaration of their right to establish a market on such land, and for a perpetual injunction restraining the Collector as President of the Committee from interfering with their so doing. The cause of action alleged was the refusal of the Committee of the 26th November 1878. Held by STUART, C. J., on the question whether such suit was barred by the provisions of section 43 of Act XV of 1873, not having been brought within three months next after the date of the alleged cause of action, that it was not so barred, inasmuch as the provisions of that section were only applicable to suits brought against a Committee for something done under that Act in which compensation was claimed, and not to those in which compensation was not claimed; and that therefore the present suit was not governed by the provisions of that section, but by art. 120, schedule II of Act XV of 1877. Also, that the rejection of the lessee's application gave the plaintiffs a cause of action as there was privity between them and the lessee; and that, as there was nothing in the Municipal rules prohibiting the presentation of an application by post, the application of the plaintiffs should not have been rejected. Held by DUTHOIR, J., that the suit of the plaintiffs was governed by the provisions of section 43 of Act XV of 1873, and was therefore beyond time. *Municipal Committee of Moradabad v. Held by the Full Bench (reversing the decision of that such suit was not barred by limitation under the provisions of section 43 of Act XV of 1873, because it had not been brought within three months after ing the decision of STUART, C. J.), that the refusal of the Municipal Committee to allow the plaintiffs' of action. BIRJ MOHAN SINGH v COLLECTOR OF *Municipal rules—Infringement of rules—Prosecutions—N-W P Government Notification No.

865, dated the 3rd November 1869—Rule VI, Equality of—Municipal Boards and Magistrates should see that before prosecutions are instituted under the municipal rules, care is taken that the requirements of section 69 of Act XV of 1883 (N-W P and Oudh Municipalities Act) are satisfied. A District Magistrate, who was also Chairman of a Municipal Board, having information that a certain person had evaded the payment of octroi duty, directed his prosecution for breach of municipal rules.
The Magistrate in thus causing proceedings to be taken, acted wholly of his own motion and authority.
The accused was tried and convicted under Rule 6, Government, N.-W P, Notification No 865, dated the 3rd November 1869, read with section 45 of Act
XV of 1873 (N-W. P. and Oudh Municipalities Act).
This rule provided that any person evading or abetting the evasion of the octroi duties specified in a schedule, should be deemed to have committed an infringement of a bye-law. It purported to have been made under section 12 of Act VI of 1868 (Municipal Improvements Act, N-W. P.), which authorised the making of "rules as to the persons by whom, and the manner in which, any assessment of taxes under this Act shall be confirmed, and for the collection of such taxes." Held that, assuming the rule to have been legally made under section 12 of Act VI of 1868, which was not clear, and that it was saved by section 2 of Act XV of 1873, it would, as declared in section 71 of Act XV of 1883 (N-W P. and Oudh Municipalities Act), continue in force until repealed by new rules made under such last-mentioned Act, and be deemed to have been made under that Act, and its operation was therefore subject to the provisions of that Act, and among them to section 69, which made it a condition precedent to the institution of a prosecution against the petitioner, that* there should be a complaint of the Municipal Board or of some person authorised by the Board in that behalf. Held that the position of the Magistrate of the district in connection with section 69 was neither better nor worse than that of any other member of the Board, and unless he had been duly authorised by the Board as a Board, he had no more locus standi to cause a prosecution to be instituted personally than any other individual member, and the words of section 69 being mandatory, and the petitioner having from the outset urged this objection to the legality of the proceedings, he was entitled to the benefit of it now, and the conviction was illegal and must be set aside. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. YUSUF KHAN

2. ——— Usufructuary mortgage.—Ex-proprietary tenant—Sîr land—Held by the Full Bench (OLDFIELD and BRODHURST, JJ, dissenting) that a person who creates a usufructuary mortgage of zemindari property becomes an ex-proprietary or occupancy-tenant of the sîr land under section 7 of the N.-W. P. Rent Act (XII of 1881). Per PETHERAM, C.J.—A usufructuary mortgagee is, for the time being, the proprietor of the property, inasmuch as a proprietor is the person entitled to exclusive possession at the time; and the intention of the Legislature, as expressed in section 7 of the Rent Act, is that when a zemindar ceases to be entitled to occupy the sîr land as proprietor, he shall have the right to occupy it as an ex-proprietary tenant under section 5. Bhagwan Singh v. Murl Singh, I. L. R., 1 All., 549, dissented from Per STRAIGHT, J.—The words “lose” and “part with” in section 7 of the Rent Act were intended to cover all cases in which a proprietor of land has either voluntarily or by operation of law deprived himself permanently or temporarily of the power to exercise full proprietary right over his property. Per MAHMOOD, J.—The meaning of the words “proprietary rights” in section 7 of the Rent Act is equivalent to that of the term “full ownership,” corresponding to dominium in the Roman law and fee-simple estate in English law. The right of a usufructuary mortgagee cannot be called proprietorship; and, having regard to section 58 of the Transfer of Property Act, the execution of a usufructuary mortgage does not amount to a transfer of the proprietary right. The word “lose” as used in section 7 of the Rent Act means the transfer of proprietary rights otherwise than by the will of the owner in consequence of some incident of law. The term “part with” is a general expression including both absolute and temporary alienation, and a usufructuary mortgage is a “parting with” some of the incidents of ownership, and falls within the purview of section 7, inasmuch as the rights of possession and of the enjoyment of the usufruct are transferred from the mortgagor to the mortgagee, though such a transfer does not amount to a total alienation of proprietorship. Bhagwan Singh v Murl Singh, I. L. R., 1 All., 549, dissented from. Gopal Pandey v. Parsotam Das, I. L. R., 5 All., 121, Ganga Din v. Dhurandhar Singh, I. L. R., 5 All., 495, and Gulab Rai v. Indar Singh, I. L. R., 6 All., 54, referred to. Per OLDFIELD, J.—The words “lose or part with his proprietary rights in any mehal” in section 7 of the Rent Act, mean a loss or parting which divests absolutely of all proprietary rights, leaving no interest of a proprietary kind in the mehal; this does not happen in a usufructuary mortgage, and therefore the latter is not a loss of or parting with proprietary rights, within the meaning of section 7. Bhagwan Singh v Murl Singh, I. L. R., 1 All., 549, approved. Per BRODHURST, J.—The word “lose” in section 7 of the Rent Act means involuntarily lose, as, for instance, by auction sale, and “part with” means voluntarily and entirely divested of by means, e.g., of gift or private sale.

s. 7—continued.

"Proprietary rights" means the whole of the proprietary rights; and a usufructuary mortgagor of zemindari property cannot be said to have lost or parted with his proprietary right therein, and therefore does not, under the provisions of section 7 of the Rent Act, become an ex-proprietary or occupancy tenant of the sir land. INDAR SEN v. NAUBAT SINGH

[I. L. R., 7 All., 553]

3. ———— Ex-proprietary tenancy.

—The words "held by him as sir" in section 7 of Act XII of 1881 (N.-W. P. Rent Act) must be construed to mean land belonging to him, or to which he was entitled, as sir, and as literal an interpretation should be placed upon these words as is consistent with the canons of construction. In 1879 one of the defendants sold a one-third share of certain sir land in a village to the plaintiff, who, at that time, was in cultivatory possession thereof under a deed of mortgage executed in his favour by the same defendant in 1877. The plaintiff alleged that, after the sale, he continued in possession of the sir land till 1884, when he was dispossessed thereof by the defendants. He sued for recovery of possession of the land. Held that the defendants, being ex-proprietary tenants of the land in dispute, were entitled to hold possession thereof, by operation of law, with reference to the terms of section 7 of the N.-W. P. Rent Act; and the plaintiff's contention that because for four or five years the defendants failed to assert their ex-proprietary tenant rights, they were debarred from doing so, could only be well founded if there had been any provision either in the Limitation Act or the Rent Act creating such a disability. Held also that, notwithstanding the fact that the plaintiff was in possession of the land in dispute as mortgagee at the time of the sale, and continued in possession afterwards, his vendor must be taken to have "held" the land as his sir at the time of the sale of his proprietary interest, within the meaning of section 7 of the Rent Act. *HARJAS v. The deed of mortgage authorised the mortgagee to retain possession of the land until payment of the mortgage-money, and to receive profits in lieu of interest; and he obtained possession accordingly. In 1872 F., W., and A. gave to other persons a usufructuary mortgage of their 5 biswas share, together with a moiety of the 87 bighas of sir land, and it was stated in the deed that half the mortgage-money due to K on the mortgage of 1869 was due by the executors, and that they accordingly left the same with the mortgagees in order that the latter might redeem. In November 1876 H.'s 5 biswas share, together with its sir land, was sold in execution of a decree. Subsequently, K., alleging that the mortgagees under the deed of 1872, and the purchasers under the execution-sale of 1876 had dispossessed him, and that his mortgage debt had not been paid, sued to recover possession of the 87 bighas of sir land, by virtue of his mortgage deed of 1869. The Court of first instance held that the plaintiff was not entitled to enforce his mortgage in respect of F.'s and W.'s share in the 87 bighas, because they were not parties to the deed of 1869. The lower Appellate Court further held that from the date of the execution sale of November 1876 H. became an ex-proprietary tenant of his sir land, and that to give the plaintiff possession thereof would be contrary to the provisions of section 7 of Act XVIII of 1873 (N.-W. P. Rent Act). Held that, inasmuch as it was clear that at the time when the mortgage-deed of 1869 was executed F. and W. were aware of the transaction which made K. the mortgagee, under the deed, of the whole property, and that, knowing this, they allowed the possession of A., J., and H. to appear as if covering the entire zemindari rights in the 10 biswas share of the sir land, and inasmuch as the statements contained in the mortgage-deed of 1872 were an admission on the part of F. and W. that the mortgage of 1869 was executed with their consent, the equitable doctrine contained in section 41 of the Transfer of Property Act applied to the case and F. and W. had no defence, either in law or in equity, to the plaintiff's suit, with reference to their shares, and for the purpose of obviating the lien of 1869. Ramcoomar Koondoo v. Maqueen, 11 B. L. R., 46, referred to. Per MAHMOOD, J., with reference to the effect of the execution-sale of November 1876, in regard to the provisions of section 7 of Act XVIII of 1873, that the general rule that statutory provisions have no retrospective operation did not apply to the case; that, by reason of the sale, H., who had proprietary rights in the mehal, and held the 5 biswas share of the sir as such (the word "held" as used in section 7 of the Rent Act not being confined to manual or physical holding), lost his proprietary rights, and so became an ex-proprietary tenant of the land belonging to him at that time; that although the mortgage of 1869 must not be so affected as to deprive the mortgagee of all his rights, yet by the terms of section 7 of Act XVIII of 1873, and by virtue of the sale his means of benefiting by the mortgage were necessarily changed; that neither the preamble nor section 1 of the Act contained any saving clause which would justify the interpretation that all the conditions included in a usufructuary mortgage are to be exempted from the operation of the Act, or of section 7 in particular, merely because the mortgage was a subsisting one; that under these circumstances possession must be given to the plaintiff of such rights as

H. had at the time of the mortgage subject only to H.'s rights as an ex-proprietary tenant; that the rights of the purchaser of H.'s share under the sale were subject to the mortgage of 1869, and that, by virtue of the rule enunciated in section 48 of the Transfer of Property Act, the rights of the mortgagees under the deed of 1872 must give way to the incidents of the prior deed of 1869, both mortgages being usufructuary. Tulshi v. Radha Kishan, Weekly Notes, All., 1886, p. 74, referred to. Per TYRRELL, J., that in 1876, by reason of the execution sale, the sir rights and interests of H. mortgaged by him in 1869, as such, went out of existence, and assumed a different character; that over that tenure in its altered character the plaintiff, though he still had his mortgage charge, had not, in the existing state of the law, a right to physical possession of the actual land; and that, subject to this new right of H.'s the plaintiff retained his mortgage charge of 1869 over the zemindari interest in the portion of the land acquired by H.'s vendees. *KARAMAT KHAN v. 5. ——— and s. 14.—Suit for profits.—Ex-proprietary tenant.—Sir land held jointly.—A certain mehal, of which the plaintiff in this suit claimed a one-third share of the profits for a certain year, belonged in equal shares to the defendant (lambardar), and S. and R., his two brothers, who had certain sir land in partnership. The plaintiff had acquired the share of S. by auction-purchase, S. thus becoming an ex-proprietary tenant. The sir land was not included in the rent-roll of the mehal, but was admitted by the defendant to be assessable with rent at a certain rate per bigha. Held that, whatever might be the course proper to be taken for the purpose of assessing such sir land or S.'s share of it with rent, and notwithstanding that such course had not been taken, the plaintiff was entitled in this suit to claim and obtain his share in the profits of the sir land. *MUHAMMAD ALI v. ss. 171, 177, and s. 93 (1).—Government revenue, Assignee of—Mehal not charged where the revenue is assigned—Act XIX of 1873, s. 167—Muafidars or assignees of Government revenue are not in precisely the same position as Government itself would have been, and possessed of identical rights and powers, in respect of the recovery of arrears of revenue due to them. An arrear of assigned revenue is not a prior charge on the property in respect of which it is payable, against all the world. The effect of the provisions of sections 93 (1), 171, and 177 of the N.-W. P. Rent Act (XII of 1881) is to show that what the Legislature contemplated was to place the revenue assigned to a muafidar upon the same footing as rent, that, therefore, in order to recover an arrear of revenue, a muafidar must bring a suit in the Revenue Court, that, upon obtaining a decree, he may apply for execution against the immoveable property of the judgment-debtor; that, where such property is a mehal, the Collector may make certain arrangements for discharge of the debt; and that, failing such arrangements, such immoveable property may be sold, subject to any incumbrances there may be upon it. *BITHAL DASS v. 1. s. 209—Land in mehal held by the lumberdar as "khud-kasht" at a nominal rental—Liability of lumberdar to co-sharer for profits.—The land in a certain mehal was recorded as held by M., the lumberdar, as "khud-kasht" at a certain nominal rental. For two years in succession M. sublet such land in part or in whole for a less amount than such nominal rental; the third year such land lay fallow. Certain persons sued as co-sharers in the mehal to recover from M. their share of the profits on account of such years. M. set up as a defence to the suit that there were no profits—on the contrary, a small loss. The lower Courts held M. answerable for the rental recorded. Held that it was doubtful whether the provisions of section 209 of Act XVIII of 1873 were applicable in the present case, and that, even if such provisions were applicable, the lower Courts having neither found that more was realised from the land than had been accounted for by M., nor that the failure to realise more was owing to gross negligence or misconduct on his part, the decree of the lower Courts could not be sustained. *MANGAL KHAN v. 2. Suit by co-sharer for profits.—Burden of proof.—When a co-sharer claims a dividend on the full rental of the mehal, and the lumberdar pleads in reply that the actual collection fell short of that rental, the burden of proof lies on the co-sharer to show that the deficient collection was attributable to the conduct of the lumberdar, in the sense of section 209 of the N.-W. Provinces Rent Act (XII of 1881), before he can succeed in getting a decree for a sum in excess of the actual collections. DHANAK SINGH v. CHAIN SUKH

2. UNDER CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODES.1. ——— Order to close drain.—

Criminal Procedure Code, 1861, ss. 62, 308—Power of Magistrate.—Order not in writing.—The accused was fined by the Magistrate for not having closed a drain in pursuance of the verbal order of the Magistrate. Held that the Magistrate should have proceeded under Chapter XX, Act XXV of 1861, inasmuch as the nuisance was not one from which immediate danger was apprehended, and not under section 62, which empowered the Magistrate to put an immediate determination to the continuance thereof. A written order not having been given the procedure was faulty, and therefore quashed. Only Magistrates of a district or division can act under Chapter XX, section 308. *GOVERNMENT v. Without ascertaining the rights of the parties the Magistrate made certain orders, the effect of which was to exclude the auction-purchaser for some time from exercising the right alleged to have passed to him under the purchase. Held that the Magistrate ought to have made no order at all with reference to the property, leaving it to the parties to determine their rights in the Civil Court, and that he had ample power under the section to do what was necessary to prevent a breach of the peace. *LALOO v. 25. ——— Order as to procession in public streets.—Criminal Procedure Code, 1872, s. 518—Public worship.—Conflict of rights.—Duty of Magistrate when public peace threatened.—In affording special protection to persons assembled for religious worship or religious ceremonies, the law points to congregational rather than private worship, and it may fairly be required of congregations that they should inform the Magistrate or police at what hours they customarily assemble for worship, in order that the rights of other persons may not be unduly curtailed. No sect is entitled to deprive others for ever of the right to use the public streets for processions, on the plea of the sanctity of their place of worship, or on the plea that worship is carried on therein day and night. The duties of a Magistrate in cases where the public peace is likely to be disturbed by one sect attempting to prevent another from using the public streets for processions, discussed. The principles laid down in Muthealu Chetti v. Bapun Saib, I. L. R., 2 Mad., 140, examined, explained, and approved. SUNDRAM v. QUEEN PONNUSAMI v. QUEEN I. L. R., 6 Mad., 203

Where a Magistrate, without hearing the petitioner or giving him an opportunity of being heard, and simply on the foundation of a police officer's report, directed the petitioner to abstain from holding a hât upon his land on a certain day, because another party had long been accustomed to hold a hât on his land adjacent to the petitioner's hât on the day following that on which the petitioner held his hât, it was held that his order passed under section 518 was ultra vires, the police officer's report being vague and insufficient, and a private interest of this kind not affording a ground for making an order under section 518 or any other order under the Criminal Procedure Code. 75. ——— Order to pull down house.—Criminal Procedure Code, 1861, s 308—Report of jurors—Illegal order—Obstruction to public way.—The Magistrate of a district issued an order, under section 308 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, calling upon the petitioner to remove a building, on the ground that it was unlawful obstruction upon a high road. A jury of five persons was appointed by the Magistrate's successor, under section 310, to report within fifteen days whether the order was reasonable and proper. The jurors, being without instruction, took different views as to the performance of their duties, but four of them visited the premises, and were unanimous in finding that the building complained of was not on the high road at all. Five days after receiving reports to this effect the Magistrate issued another order to the petitioner, requiring him to pull down his house within fifteen days, as the jurors had made no report within the time prescribed. The petitioner showed cause under section 313, but without effect, and the order was repeated. The proceedings were ultimately forwarded to the Sessions Judge, whose successor in office returned them with the remark that nothing appeared to have been done contrary to the law for the removal of nuisances. Held that the petitioner had shown sufficient cause to satisfy the Magistrate, under section 313, that the order to pull down the house was not reasonable and proper. REG v DALSUKRAM HARI-BHAI public thoroughfare, he must first, in a proceeding held under section 532, have come to the conclusion that the path is open to the use of the public. The only functions which a jury appointed under section 523 can exercise, are to consider whether the order made by the Magistrate under section 521 is reasonable and proper, it being no part of their duty to determine the rights of parties in property. Held, therefore, that where a Magistrate, through a mistaken view of the law, ordered the removal of an obstruction on a pathway under section 521, and had further submitted this order to the consideration of a jury appointed under section 523, before he had himself come to a conclusion whether such pathway was a public thoroughfare, the only course left open to him under such circumstances was to stay all proceedings initiated under section 521, and take action under section 532. IN THE MATTER OF THE PETITION OF CHUNDERNATH SEN

It must be shown that the person convicted had on some previous occasion committed the particular nuisance, had been enjoined not to repeat or continue it, and had repeated or continued it. The authority under which a Magistrate can order or enjoin a person against repeating or continuing a public nuisance is section 143 of the Criminal Procedure Code. It is the infringement of this order that is punishable under section 291 of the Penal Code. What is contemplated is an order addressed to a particular person. A Magistrate's powers to deal with public nuisances are contained in Chapters X and XI of the Criminal Procedure Code. Chapter XI is only properly applicable to temporary orders in urgent cases. It is only in such cases that an order may be made ex parte, and any exception is allowed to the general rule that it shall be directed to a particular individual. In such emergent cases an order may, under section 144 of the Code, be directed to the public generally, when frequenting or visiting a particular place, to abstain from a certain act; but this provision does not apply to a proclamation directed not to the public generally frequenting or visiting a particular place, but to a portion of the community. 1. ———— Murder.—Beng. Reg. IV of 1797.—Act XVII of 1862.—General Clauses Consolidation Act (I of 1868), s. 6.—Repeal of statute, Effect of—Right of defence to High Court.—Up to the 1st January 1862, a person committing the offence of murder was liable to trial and punishment under the Regulations. By Act XVII of 1862 the Regulations prescribing punishments for offences were repealed "except as to any offence committed before the 1st January 1862." By the same Act it was declared that no person who should claim the same should be deprived of any right of appeal or reference which he would have enjoyed under such Regulations. By section 6 of Act I of 1868, the repeal of an Act does not affect anything done, or any offence committed, or any fine or penalty incurred before the repealing Act shall have come into operation. Under the provisions of this section the repeal of Act XVII of 1862 by Act VIII of 1868 and Act X of 1872 did not, in respect of offences committed before the 1st January 1862, affect the penalties prescribed by such Regulations, nor were any of the Regulations prescribing punishments for offences, which were in force before the passing of Act XVII of 1862, repealed in respect of offences committed before the 1st January 1862, prior to the passing of Act I of 1868. Held accordingly, where a person committed murder in the year 1855, that such person was punishable under the Regulations. Held, also, that inasmuch as such right as the right of reference given by section 3 of Regulation IV of 1797 accrues on conviction, and therefore in the present case had not accrued before Act XVII of 1862 was repealed, it is doubtful whether a person convicted of murder committed before the 1st January 1862 has such right. *EMPERESS OF INDIA v. IV., and 1 Vict., c. 85, s. 2—14 and 15 Vict., c. 19, s. 5.—Jurisdiction.—Act XIII of 1835.—In prosecuting a British subject for an offence committed on board a British ship upon the high seas,—Held (1) (dubitante PHEAR, J.) that he must be charged with an offence under English law; (2) that the punishment must be according to English law, (3) that the trial must be according to the procedure of the local Court. Therefore, where a British subject was charged before the High Court with having committed an offence under 7 William IV., and 1 Victoria, Cap. 85, section 2, on board a British ship, upon the high seas, within the admiralty jurisdiction of the Court, and found guilty of an offence under 14 and 15 Victoria, Cap. 19, section 5,—Held that the conviction was good, and that the prisoner would be rightly punished with rigorous imprisonment, which is defined by section 53 of the Penal Code to be equivalent to imprisonment with hard labour, and that the trial had been rightly proceeded with under Act XIII of 1835. *QUEEN v. 2. ———— Law applicable.—Statute 30 and 31 Vict., c. 124, s. 11.—Procedure.—Power of Legislature.—The substantive law applicable to a British-born subject tried in the High Court of Judicature at Bombay for destroying a British ship on the high seas, at a distance of more than three miles from the shores of British India, is the English law, and not the Penal Code, notwithstanding the provisions of Statute 30 and 31 Victoria, Cap. 124, section 11. The same substantive law is applicable to prisoners who conspire together in Bombay to destroy such ship on the high seas, and such ship is so destroyed in consequence. The procedure applicable in such cases is the ordinary criminal procedure of the High Court. The question whether the Indian Legislature has power to legislate with reference to offences committed on the high seas considered. There is not any Act of the Indian Legislature now in force which provides for the offence of destroying a ship, when committed at a greater distance than three miles from the coast, or for the abetment in British India of such an offence so committed. *REG. v. The ordinary Criminal Courts of the country have jurisdiction over such offences by virtue of the Statute 12 and 13 Victoria, Cap. 96, sections 2 and 3, extended to India by Statute 23 and 24 Victoria, Cap. 88. Semble,—The Governor General of India in

Official Trustee is a "public officer" within the definition given in section 2 of the Civil Procedure Code. The cases in which a public officer is entitled to notice of suit under section 424 of the Code, are those in which he is sued for damages for some wrong inadvertently committed by him in the discharge of his official duties, and the object of giving notice is, that if a public body or officer entrusted with powers happens to commit an inadvertence, irregularity, or wrong, before any one has a right to require payment in respect of that wrong, he shall have an opportunity of setting himself right, making amends, restoring what he has taken, or paying for the damages he has done. The Official Trustee, therefore, is not entitled to notice of suit, when the question to be decided relates to the rights of the cestus que trustent in respect of the trust-fund, and not to a wrong committed by him. SHAHUNSHAH BEGUM v. 3. ———— Suit for possession.—Dispute as to whether transaction was a mortgage or sale.—Entries in account books showing debts.—The plaintiffs sued for possession of certain lands, alleging that they had been mortgaged to the defendant by their father under two documents. The defendant produced them and relied upon them as deeds of sale which conveyed to him absolutely the lands mentioned in them. The form of the instruments was not conclusive, but it appeared alunde by the conduct of the defendant himself that the deeds were intended as mere securities for money, and that he had treated them as such. Certain entries in the defendant's accounts also treated the respective considerations named in the deeds as continuing debts due to the defendant from the plaintiffs' father. Held that the entries, when put in evidence, were sufficient to shift the burden of proof from the plaintiffs to the defendant, and that it was incumbent on the latter to give either oral or documentary evidence which in some way neutralised or explained away their effect, or showed that they related to other transactions than those mentioned in the two documents. GOVINDA v. JESHA PREMAJI . I. L. R., 7 Bom., 73

3. AGENT.

4. ———— Gomastah, Suit against.—Suit to recover advances due from discharged gomastah—In a suit to recover advances alleged to be due from a discharged gomastah, who pleaded acquittance at the time of his discharge,—Held that plaintiff was bound to prove the payments to, and the receipts from, the gomastah, and to put in original documents, and not mere transcripts, even if the defendant had remained silent. WATSON & Co v. SREEDHUR MUNDLE . . . 10 W. R., 421

5. ———— Agents of official assignee, Suit against.—Proof of items of account—Agents who have collected money on account of an insolvent estate are severally bound to prove to the assignee or his representative that the expenditure of the several amounts charged in their accounts has been actually and properly made, and the onus probandi rests on such agents. It is incumbent on such agents to offer proof in support of all the items in their accounts which are impugned, and the propriety, or the actual expenditure of such items should form the subject-matter of issues properly framed. NUJUF ALI v. PATTERSON . 2 N. W., 104

6. ———— Principal, Suit against, for acts of agent.—Authority of agent, Proof of.—In a suit against a principal as liable for the acts of an accredited agent of the latter the onus lies on the plaintiff to prove that the alleged agent was the duly accredited agent of the defendants in reference to the transaction, the subject of the claim. *HATHI RAM v. 5. ATTACHMENT IN EXECUTION.

8. ——— Attachment of person of debtor.—Execution of decree.—In an application for an order for execution of a decree by attachment of the person of the debtor, the onus is on the judgment-debtor to show that he has no means of satisfying the debt, and that he has not been guilty of any misconduct; and not on the creditor to show that, by sending the debtor to prison, some satisfaction of the debt would be obtained. SETON v. BIRJOHN . 8 B. L. R., 255: 17 W. R., 165

6. BOUNDARY.

9. ——— Disputed boundary.—Removal of boundary.—Where a dispute arises regarding the direction of a boundary which one of the parties to a suit has demolished, and the other party proves its general direction, the onus of proof that the direction is wrongly stated, if it be so, lies on the former, who removed the boundary. JUDONATH MULLICK v. KALEE KISTO TAGORE

[25 W. R., 524]

10. ——— Failure of proof.—Sut concerning the boundary line between contiguous mehals. The land in dispute (which, with the mehals adjacent, originally formed part of a permanently-settled zemindari, consisted of revenue-paying mehals, and of mehals alleged to be lakhiraj, all belonging to one proprietor) was so situated that it necessarily belonged either to Havelee, one of the latter, or to the contiguous rent-paying mehals. The Permanent Settlement did not define the boundary, nor was it fixed in subsequent resumption proceedings against Havelee, which ended in a temporary settlement of that mehal for twenty years. The ownership of Havelee having become severed from the ownership of the other mehals, the question of boundary arose, not as a question of revenue between the Government and a zemindar, but as one of title to land between the zemindars and proprietors of two contiguous and separate estates. The appellant having failed to prove that no part of the disputed land was included in the respondent's settlement (some portion at least being shown to belong to Havelee), and also having failed to prove by independent evidence his own right to recover the land specified in the plaint,—Held that the suit should not have been determined upon that mere failure on his part to support the burden of proof cast upon him, because the judgment would be as final and conclusive between the parties as an adjudication on the merits would be, and its effect would be to give something to the respondent which on the evidence belonged to the appellant's mehals. *LEELANUND SINGH v. where the Privy Council explain this case.

11. ——— Lakhiraj tenure and mal land of zemindar.—In a question of boundary between a lakhiraj tenure and a zemindar's mal land, there is no presumption in favour of one or the other, but the onus is on the plaintiff to prove his case. BEER CHUNDER JOOBRAJ v. RAM GUTTY DUTT . 8 W. R., 209

12. ——— Failure to prove alleged boundary.—Where the plaintiff sued to recover a quantity of land by rectification of certain survey awards, which he averred demarcated erroneously the boundary between his zemindari and the zemindaris of the defendants, it was held, on a consideration of the evidence, that his suit was rightly dismissed because he failed to prove the position or existence of a stream which he stated was the true boundary between the zemindaris. LEELANUND SINGH v. MOHENDRO NARAIN SINGH

[13 W. R., P. C., 7: 13 Moore's I. A., 57]

13. ——— Suit for possession where defendant alleges land to be within zemindari, but in protected tenure.—In a suit by a talookdar to obtain khas possession of certain land as being an encroachment by the defendants, who admittedly held land within a howla appertaining to the talook, the defendants alleged that the land in dispute was situate within a nim-howla which they held within the howla. Held that the onus was on the plaintiff to show that the land was not within the howla and that he was entitled to khas possession. RHIDOY KRISTO MISTRI v. NOBIN CHUNDER SEN

14. ——— Lands in zemindari.—Settlement of shikmi talook.—Lands situate within a zemindari must prima facie be considered as part of the zemindari; and it is for those who insist on the separation of lands from the general lands of the zemindari and on their settlement as a shikmi talook to establish their title. *WISE v. venor in a previous rent suit) had claimed the lands as appertaining to another talook which plaintiff alleged had no existence.—Held that it was an error of law in the lower Appellate Court to place on the defendant the onus of proving the existence of that other talook, instead of following the usual and recognised course of requiring the plaintiff to prove that the lands in suit belonged to his talook. GUNGA-MALA CHOWDHRAIN v. MADHUB CHUNDER ROY

[10 W. R., 418]

16. ———— Mouzah which may belong to one of two zemindaris—Possession.—If a particular mouzah has been held for many years as part of a particular mehal or zemindari, the fact of such holding affords a strong presumption that it is part of that mehal, even as against a purchaser at a sale for arrears of revenue of another mehal who claims that part of the mehal purchased by him. It is not conclusive evidence against such auction-purchaser, nor could any length of adverse holding prior to his purchase preclude the auction-purchaser from recovering it, if he could show clearly that it belonged to the mehal which he had purchased. PRAN KISHEN BANERJEE v. JUGGOBUNDU DUTT

7 W. R., 207

17. ———— Suit for possession of land once bed of a nullah.—In a suit for possession of land which had once formed the bed of a nullah of which defendants held a julkur settlement, but which was situated within plaintiff's settled estate.—Held that as defendants had failed to show that their settlement extended beyond the fishery rights, plaintiff was entitled to recover possession. MONOHUR CHOWDHRY v. NURSINGH CHOWDHRY

[11 W. R., 272]

18. ———— Suit for possession.—Disputed plots of land.—In a suit to recover possession of two parcels of land alleged to have been comprehended in one plot on the ground that they had been held by the plaintiff and defendant jointly until by certain proceedings the former was virtually deprived by the latter of the usufruct, the defendant's case being that the parcels were divisible into two distinct plots, one held by the plaintiff and himself jointly and the other by himself exclusively.—Held that it was on the plaintiff to prove that the disputed parcel was a part of the land held jointly by him and the defendant. GUNGA PERSHAD DUTT v. LOKENATH NUNDEE

12 W. R., 179

19. ———— Suit by purchaser of share of co-sharer in land jointly settled.—Where the settlement proceedings showed that the question of extent of the shares of several persons on settlement was in dispute, and that the settlement was made jointly without prejudice to title, the onus, in a suit by a purchaser of one of the shares, was held to be on the plaintiff to show the extent of his vendor's share. *GOOROO CHURN PODDAR v. ONUS PROBANDI—continued.7. CLAIM TO ATTACHED PROPERTY.

20. ———— Allegation of alienation by debtor during attachment.—Plaintiff alleging that an attachment subsisted, and that therefore the mortgage under which defendant claimed was invalid is bound to prove his allegation, and the onus is not discharged by showing that the attachment was made some years previous to the alienation. TOOL-SEER DUTT MISSEER v. BROJO MOHUN THAKOOR

[9 W. R., 332]

21. ———— Proof of attachment.—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, ss 235, 239, 270.—Priority.—Plaintiff claimed priority under section 270, Act VIII of 1859, asserting that the property attached and sold by defendant was an identical property which he had attached prior to defendant's attachment. Held that he was bound to prove the due attachment of the property, viz., by proof of having obtained a written order, under section 235, prohibiting defendant from alienating the property by sale, gift, &c., and by the publication of the said order in the manner prescribed by section 239. *KANYA LALL PRNDIT v. 22. ———— Suit by unsuccessful claimant for confirmation of alleged possession, and adjudication of title.—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, s 246.—Where an unsuccessful claimant, under section 246, Code of Civil Procedure, sues for confirmation of alleged possession and adjudication of title, the onus in the first instance is on plaintiff, and an important question in the case is, who was in possession at the time of the attachment. TOOFANEE DOSS v. MUN RAKHUN ROY

[15 W. R., 202]

23. ———— Right to begin.—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, s 246.—Where a claim was made under section 246 of Act VIII of 1859, by a third party, to some timber, which had been attached by a prohibitory order under section 234.—Held per PEACOCK, C. J., L. S. JACKSON, PHEAR, and MACPHERSON, JJ. (MITTER, J., dissenting), the claimant must begin. The onus is on him to prove that the goods attached were his property, or in his possession, and therefore not in the possession of the judgment-debtor. His evidence must be confined to proving his own claim, and he cannot be allowed to show a title in a third person with whom he has no connection. Held (per MITTER, J.) that, on the proper construction of the words "proceed to investigate the same with like powers as if the claimant had been originally made a defendant," the onus of proof as against the claimant is on the decree-holder. *Nito Kali Debi v. TULSEE MONEE DOSSEE v. PEARY MOHUN BABOO
[25 W. R., 79]

25. ——— Suit to establish right after rejection of claim.—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, s. 246—In a suit brought to establish the plaintiff's right to certain property after an order against him under section 246, Act VIII of 1859, the defendant admitted that the property had been in the possession of the person against whom the plaintiff had obtained his decree, but stated that it had passed to him by conveyance executed by that judgment-debtor in his favour: the plaintiff alleged that this deed of sale was fraudulent and void. Held, the onus was on the plaintiff to show that the deed was not bona fide, and not on the defendant to prove the actual execution of the deed. LALA RUDRA PRASAD v. BINODE RAM SEN. 3 B. L. R., A. C., 71, note: 10 W. R., 321

26. ——— Civil Procedure Code, 1859, s. 246.—Claim.—The plaintiff sued to establish his right to a decree, of which he stated he was the assignee, and which he alleged the defendant had seized and sought to sell as the property of the plaintiff's assignee. The defendant admitted the assignment, but alleged that it was a fraudulent transaction. Held, the onus was on him to prove that the transaction was not a bona fide one. LALBEHARI DUTT v. SRINATH MOOKERJEE
[3 B. L. R., A. C., 73, note]

27. ——— Suit for declaration of title.—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, s. 246—Equitable right—Certain property belonging to one S. was mortgaged by him in 1810 and 1813 to O., under form of conditional sale. S. had three sons, H., A., and N., and in 1819 he sold the property included in the mortgages of 1810 and 1813 to his sons, H. and A. In 1820 H. and A. entered into a fresh arrangement with O., who accepted from them a fresh mortgage of the property in lieu of those of 1810 and 1813, and of this mortgage in 1831 he obtained a decree for foreclosure. Subsequently, the Government resumed the property and settled it with O.'s widow as representing the proprietor, and the plaintiff afterwards purchased a one-third share of the estate. The defendant was the holder of a decree obtained in 1836 against the heirs of S. on a money-debt of S., and in execution of that decree he, in 1866, caused the rights of N. in the property to be attached and sold, and himself became the purchaser. On attachment, the plaintiff preferred a claim to it under section 246, Act VIII of 1859, but it was disallowed. In a suit by the plaintiff praying for his right of ownership and possession, which was menaced by the defendant's decree and sale,—Held, the onus was on the defendant to show that he had an equitable right which he could assert against the plaintiff. SHURFUN BIBEE v. COLLECTOR OF SARUN

28. ——— Allegation of assignment by deed of sale.—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, s. 246.—If a plaintiff coming into Court, under section 246 of the Code of Civil Procedure, to set aside an attachment and sale shows, in proof of his title, that a deed of sale has been executed in his favour by the judgment-debtors, and that consideration-money has passed and possession has been given him, he starts his case sufficiently. If the defendant alleges, notwithstanding, that the sale was collusive and fictitious, it is for him to show that it was so. DIGTMBUREE DOSSEE v. BANNEEMADHUS GHOSE
[15 W. R., 155]

29. ——— Suit by unsuccessful claimant to set aside sale of land.—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, s. 246—Where the plaintiff filed a suit to set aside a sale of land after he had been unsuccessful in an application made under section 246 of the Civil Procedure Code, 1859, to raise an attachment that had been laid on such land,—Held that the onus lay on the plaintiff to prove his title and not on the purchaser to prove that of the judgment-debtor. NATHU SADASHIV v. RAMCHANDRA ANNAJI
[5 Bom., A. C., 76]

30. ——— Suit to establish title under deeds of gift.—Proof of bona fides—In a suit to establish title, unsuccessfully asserted in an execution case, to property sold in satisfaction of a decree, where plaintiff claims under a gift and other titles originating with the judgment-debtor, it is not sufficient for plaintiff to make out a prima facie case, leaving it to defendant to demonstrate fraud, plaintiff is bound to satisfy the Court of the genuine bona fide nature of the transfer. RAM KISHORE SINGH v. RAMSURBO CHATTERJEE
[11 W. R., 454]

31. ——— Suit for value of goods taken in execution where a claim to them is allowed under s. 246, Act VIII of 1859.—Evidence of title.—M., to whom C., his judgment-debtor, had made over certain goods, attached the same in execution of his decree as the property of his judgment-debtor, but, on a claim being preferred to the goods by D. and B. under section 246 of Act VIII of 1859, they were ordered to be released from attachment, they remained, however, in the possession of M. D. and B. having sued M. to recover the value of the goods, the lower Court held that, inasmuch as M. failed to sue within a year to set aside the order of the miscellaneous department, and to establish his right to take the property in satisfaction of his decree as belonging to his judgment-debtor the plaintiff's right to it must be admitted without further enquiry or proof, and decreed the claim on the basis of that order alone. It was held in special appeal that the defendant was not debarred by that order or by the law of limitation from disputing the plaintiff's right to the goods, and that the plaintiffs were bound to prove their right to entitle themselves to a decree, and that the miscellaneous order was not conclusive proof of their right, and still less such an adjudication on the question as precluded a readjudication of it. MADHO PARSHAD v DURGA PARSHAD

[7 N. W., 85]

8. CONTRACT.

32. ——— Construction of contracts.
—Allegation of special law—The onus is on the party who contends that a contract is governed by special and not by general rules of law. TEJ CHUND v. SREEKANTH GHOSE

[6 W. R., P. C., 48: 3 Moore's I. A., 261]

9 CONTRIBUTION.

33. ——— Suit for contribution for Government revenue.—In a suit to recover the amount of excess payments of Government revenue made by the plaintiffs on account of their co-sharers to save the estate from sale (each proprietor holding a well-defined although not actually separated share).—Held that the onus was on the plaintiffs to prove their shares and amount of revenue payable on them. AGHOREE RAM SAHOY v. RAMOLLEE SAHOO

[W R., 1864, 309]

34. ——— Money paid to Government treasury.—In a suit for contribution for money admittedly paid by plaintiff into the Government treasury, on account of defendants' share of the revenue, where defendants plead previous payment to the plaintiff.—Held that the burden of proving such payment was upon the defendants. MOHADRO MISSEER v. LAHOREE MISSEER

[24 W. R., 250]

10. CUSTOM.

35. ——— Custom at variance with law of inheritance.—Proof of custom.—Khojas.—Where a defendant alleged a special custom of the Khoja community at variance with the Hindu law of inheritance.—Held that the burden of proving the alleged custom rested upon her. RAHMATBAI v HIRBAI

I. L. R., 3 Bom., 34

36. ——— Impartibility.—Suit for partition.—Presumption as to impartibility.—In a suit for the partition of part of a deshat vatan, brought by the younger brothers of a joint Hindu family against their eldest brother the desai, the defence was that the vatan was held by him as an impartible inheritance, subject to a right, by custom, that a brother should receive maintenance out of the income derived from it. Held that there was no such general presumption in favour of the impartibility of estates of this kind as to shift the burden of proof, which was upon the desai, to show that the vatan had, contrary to the general Hindu law, been inherited by him alone. It was for the desai to show, by evidence of the nature of the tenure of the vatan, that it was impartible, or to show, by evidence of family custom or of district, i.e. local, custom, that impartibility attached to it, such evidence being strong enough to rebut the presumption of the prevalence of the general Hindu law. ADRISHAPPA v GURUSHIDAPPA

[I. L. R., 4 Bom., 494]

37. ——— Adoption.—Custom, Proof of.—It is a general rule and fundamental principle amongst Brahmans, Kshatriyas, and Vaishyas, that they are absolutely prohibited from, and incapable of, adopting a daughter's or sister's son or son of any other woman whom they could not marry by reason of propinquity. The burden of proving a special custom to the contrary amongst any members of these three regenerate classes, prevalent either in their caste or in a particular locality, lies upon him who avers the existence of that custom. GOPAL SARRAY v. HANMANT SARRAY

I. L. R., 3 Bom., 273

38. ——— Forfeiture of rights of mohuntship by marriage.—Right of succession.—Where the plaintiff proved his right of succession to a math on the death of its mohunt, the burden of proving that his subsequent marriage worked a forfeiture of his office and its appendant property and rights, lay upon the defendant who impugned the plaintiff's right on account of the marriage. GOSAIN RAMBHARTI JAGDIPBHARTI v SURAJBHARTI HARIBHARTI

I. L. R., 5 Bom., 682

39. ——— Maintenance.—Custom to reduce maintenance.—Suit by a late Rajah's brother for maintenance allowance, which the present Rajah opposed on the ground that, as the plaintiff was no longer the ruling Rajah's brother, his allowance must be diminished. Held that the onus was on the defendant to prove a custom of entitling him to diminish the allowance heretofore enjoyed in right of plaintiff's position in the family. MOOKOND NARAIN DEB v. MOORALEE MOHUN

6 W. R., 91

40. ——— Right to take fees.—Vatandar joshi, Right of, to take fees.—The burden of proving that the vatandar joshi of a village is not entitled to officiate and take fees in the family of any particular caste, lies upon the person or persons asserting exemption. RAJA WALAD SHIVAPA v KRISHNABHAT
[I. L. R., 3 Bom., 232]

11. DAMAGES.

41. ——— Suit for damages against defaulting witness.—Proof of liability.—In a suit for damages against a defaulting witness the onus is on the plaintiff to prove that he was damaged by the non-attendance of the witness. The mere failure of the defendant to appear as a witness is not per se a sufficient proof of his liability to damages. DWARKANATH KOOREE v. ANUNDO CHUNDER SAN-NEL 5 W. R., S. C. C. Ref., 18

42. ——— Suit for damages for wrongful occupation.—Refusal to give up possession.—A party holding a decree for a share of a mouzah brought a suit for possession and damages on the allegation that he found the defendant in occupation of a part of the land on which indigo plants were standing, and permitted him to continue for a time till the plants should be removed, defendant promising then to give over possession, but that when the time came defendant refused to give over possession and was still occupying the land. Held that it lay upon the plaintiff to show wrongful occupancy on the part of the defendant. GOVE SURUN DASS v. SORONDEY 15 W. R., 144

12. DEBTOR AND CREDITOR.

43. ——— Release of debtors.—Debt owing by partnership.—The burden of proof that a creditor by agreeing to an arrangement whereby a firm indebted to him conveyed to two of the partners thereof certain property in trust to pay off his and certain other debts, thereby released the remaining members of the partnership, lies upon the parties who were originally liable to such creditor. KALAI KHAN v. MADHO PERSHAD 3 N. W., 129

44. ——— Debts contracted by persons in wrongful possession.—Suits to charge zemindari.—Where it was sought to charge a zemindari with debts contracted by persons who were at the time usurers in wrongful possession of the zemindari, solely on the ground that the documents evidencing the loans recited that they were for the purpose of discharging the kists due to Government. —Held that, as between the lawful owner and the creditor, the onus was on the creditor who was seeking to set up a charge in his favour made by one who was in possession but without title, and therefore, in absence of any evidence on behalf of the creditor as to the circumstances in which the transactions were had with the usurping zemindar in possession, and the failure to connect the loans with the debts contracted by the former and lawful zemindars, the suit was rightly dismissed. establish his title affirmatively. He is in the same position as any other plaintiff and must make out his case, and the onus probandi that he is in possession as owner is upon him. RASSONADA RAYAR v. SITHA-RAMA PILLAI 2 Mad., 171

46. ——— Production of title-deeds.—The plaintiff sued for declaration of her title to property, of which the defendant was in possession, but of which she produced the title-deeds in favour of herself. Held, the onus was on the defendant to disprove the plaintiff's title. SWARNAMAYI RAUR v. SRINIBASH KOYAL 6 B. L. R., 144

47. ——— Reversioner.—Setting aside deed of sale.—In a suit for a declaration of plaintiff's reversionary title as heir to his late uncle's property, and for reversal of a deed of sale from that uncle set up by the defendant, the widow not having been made a party to the suit and her consent to or dissent from the alleged conveyance not having been ascertained, the issue tried was whether the deed was genuine, and whether defendant has possession under it. Held that the onus was rightly placed on the defendant. BYKUNT NATH ROY v. GREENH CHUNDER MOOKERJEE [15 W. R., 96]

48. ——— Suit for confirmation of possession.—Intervenor.—In a suit for confirmation of possession and declaration of title (the principal defendants admitting plaintiff's possession and title), in which a vendee from such defendants intervenes and claims the property on the allegation of being in possession, —Held that such vendee must prove possession before he could question the plaintiff's title. LALLA RAM SUHA SINGH v. LALLA OJOODHYA PERSHAD 5 W. R., 233

14. DECREES AND DEEDS, SUITS TO SET ASIDE—

49. ——— Decree, Suit to set aside.—Decree alleged to be fraudulent.—Where a decree in execution of which formal possession has been obtained, is impugned by the party in actual possession as fraudulent and collusive, the onus lies on the impugners to prove their allegation. RABIA KHANUM v. WISE 23 W. R., 329

50. ——— Deed, Suit to set aside.—Allegation that document is false.—In a suit for a declaration that a document propounded by the defendant is false, it lies upon the plaintiff to prove that allegation. RAM NIDHEE KOONDOL v. GOLUCK CHUNDER MOSHANTO 11 W. R., 280

51. ——— Relationship between parties as showing bona fides of transaction.—The relationship between parties to a conveyance of property may be immaterial if the purchase is found true, but is not immaterial where the question to be decided is whether the purchase was true or fraudulent. The mere handing over of the purchase-money

52. ————— Suit for possession and to have deeds declared fraudulent.—Purchaser.—The plaintiff executed a deed of sale of a moiety and a lease of the other moiety of certain property to B. B instituted a suit under section 15, Act XIV of 1859, which was dismissed. B, then returned the deed of sale and lease to A, with the following endorsement under his signature "Returned, no claim" A instituted the present suit for recovery or possession of the said property, and the defendant set up in his defence that he had no right to sue for a moiety of the property as the same had been conveyed to B, and that the endorsement on the deed of sale was not admissible in evidence as it had not been registered. Held that the onus was upon the defendant to prove his purchase GIRISH CHANDRA ROY CHOWDHRY v. AMINA KHATUN [3 B. L. R., Ap., 125

53. ————— Suit to have deed cancelled as a forgery.—Under the special procedure provided in the Registration Act (III of 1877), the defendant, in whose favour a document was said to have been executed, succeeded in obtaining an order from the District Registrar for the registration of the same, although the plaintiff, who was alleged to have executed it, appeared before the Sub-Registrar, and subsequently before the Registrar, and denied executing it, and alleged it to be a forgery. In a suit brought under the above circumstances to have the document declared void, and to have it cancelled,—Held that, under the circumstances, the onus of proof was properly placed on the defendant MOHIMA CHUNDER DHUR v. JUGUL KISHORE BHUTTA-CHARJI . I. L. R., 7 Cal., 736: 9 C. L. R., 471

54. ————— Suit to set aside agreement on ground of fraud—Want of opportunity of giving evidence in lower Court.—Where an appellant alleges that a razinama was obtained from him by duress or fraud, the onus is on him to prove his allegation. Where also an appellant complains that he had not an opportunity of giving his evidence to the Court below, the onus is on him to show that he tendered evidence which the Court rejected. S. C. ESHAN CHUNDER DOSS v. RUKKEEMOODDEEN SOUDAGUR 10 W. R., 412

56. ————— Suit for declaration of right to property.—Possession under deed of gift—Allegation of fraud—Presumption.—In a suit for a declaration that certain property, which plaintiff as decree-holder attempted to sell, belongs to his judgment-debtor, where the opposite party claims to have been in possession of the same under an alleged hiba, and plaintiff gives sufficient evidence to raise a reasonable presumption that there has been fraud and collusion in the case, it becomes the duty of the Court to go off to the evidence on the other side, and ascertain whether the transactions which are the subject of enquiry are fraudulent or valid. KADUMBINEE DOSSIA v. UNNGPOORNA DAYE 14 W. R., 289

57. ————— Proof of bona fides of deed made under suspicious circumstances.—Where the authenticity and bona fides of a hiba were called into question, on the ground that, at the time the instrument was executed, the executants were in a state of indebtedness, and the registration was delayed until the making of certain decrees against them,—Held that it lay on the parties whose intention was impugned to give evidence of a satisfactory kind of the bona fides of the suspicious transaction. CHUNDER NARAIN SEN v. AMIRTO LALL SEN [24 W. R., 292

58. ————— Allegation of want of bona fides of trust-deed.—Where it is found on the face of a deed creating a trust that the transaction is bona fide, it is for the creditors who impugn the bona fide nature of the trust to prove their plea. KASHESHUREE DASSEE v. KRISHNA KAMMEE DEBEA [2 Hay, 557

59. ————— Proof of mooktearnama alleged to be forged.—Where a mooktearnama on the authority of which a suit was brought was impugned by the defendant as a forgery, and as not executed by the party alleged to have granted it, the Court held that, notwithstanding its attestation in due form by the Munsif of Mutha, the onus was on the parties charged to prove its genuineness. 61. ———— Execution of document by purda ladies.—Evidence.—Agency—The plaintiff sought to make two purda ladies liable on a document which he alleged had been executed by a third person as their agent. Held by the Privy Council (reversing the decision of the High Court) that strict proof of the agency must be given. AZEEZOONISSA v. BAQUR KHAN. . . 10 B. L. R., 205: 17 W. R., 393

62. ———— Suit to set aside deed on ground of fraud.—Existence of motive.—In a suit by a judgment-creditor to recover the amount of certain decrees by attachment and sale, and to have a certain deed of bye-mokasa, which was set up by the judgment-debtor's wife, set aside as executed in fraud of creditors, where plaintiff showed the existence in the mind of the judgment-debtor of a sufficient motive for the fraud, and also that the said debtor was in the management of the estate claimed and in the receipt of its rents, it was held that plaintiff had started a prima facie case, which shifted the onus on the defendant to prove the bona fides of the deed. GOWHUR ALI KHAN v. SAKHEENA KHANUM
 [15 W. R., 507]

63. ———— Suit to recover possession.—Fraudulent deed.—In a suit to recover immoveable property alleged to have belonged to the plaintiff's husband which she inherited from him, and from which, after seven years' possession, she was ousted by the defendant, whose possession was conferred by the Magistrate under section 318 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1861, the defendants claimed under a deed of sale which the lower Courts found to have been executed in fraud of creditors. Held that if plaintiff was in possession for seven years since her husband's death, she should not be allowed to be dispossessed on the ground of a fraudulent deed to which defendant was a party years previously, to which plaintiff was no party. ECHAMOYEE v. HUREO SOONDUREE DASSEE. . . 12 W. R., 155

64. ———— Suit to set aside compromise of claim.—Consideration.—Disputed adoption.—The defendant, the divided brother of a deceased Hindu, disputed the title of the plaintiff, a minor adopted by his deceased brother, to succeed to the estate of the deceased. To induce the defendant to acknowledge the validity of the adoption, the adoptive mother of the plaintiff, as his guardian, executed a conveyance of one moiety of the family house to the defendant. Held, in a suit to cancel the conveyance, that the burden of proving that the defendant's objection to the validity of the adoption was groundless, and the conveyance therefore without

65. ———— Suit to set aside sale.—Allegation of fraud.—N, as reversionary heir of the former proprietor, and as now entitled to possession on the death of that proprietor's mother, sued for land in the possession of C, who obtained it by purchase at a sale in execution of a decree passed on a bond granted by O, which bond and decree were alleged by N to be fraudulent and collusive transactions. Held that the burden was on the plaintiff to prove that the decree was fraudulently obtained. GREESH CHUNDER CHATTERJEE v. MOHESH CHUNDER NYALUNKAR
 [10 W. R., 173]

66. ———— Transfer of interest in joint family by one member to the other members.—Where one brother of a joint undivided family transferred his interest in the joint property to the other brothers after a decree had been passed against him, although before attachment, Held that, when a question arose in such a case, the onus was on the brothers to whom the transfer was made to prove the bona fide character of the transaction. BROJO LALL SANDYAL v. BHOBO SOONDUREE DEBIA CHOWDRAIN. . . 17 W. R., 499

67. ———— Suit to set aside collusive decree.—Suit by judgment-debtor on allegation of decree being fraudulent and collusive.—A, having obtained a decree in a suit instituted on a bond, purporting to have been executed by plaintiff's father and one D, proceeded to execute it by putting up for sale certain rights and interests of plaintiff as the legal representative of her father. Plaintiff sued on the allegation that the decree was fraudulent and collusive, and that she had not been served with notice of proceedings taken in execution. Held that it was for the plaintiff to make out her case of fraud, and that it was not for defendant to show that the decree obtained from a competent Court was not collusive, or that notice had been actually served. MOHIMA CHUNDER MULLICK v. BUDODA SOONDUREE DOSSEE
 [12 W. R., 147]

68. ———— Suit to have deed declared a forgery.—Setting up forged lease.—D sued T for arrears of rent on the allegation that he held a khursa jumma. T admitted only a lower rent, alleging that he held a jumma under a miras howladari pottah. D, failing in that suit, brought another suit for a declaration that the deed put forward by T was a false document. Held that the plaintiff was bound to make out a prima facie case before the onus could be thrown upon the defendant of proving the genuineness of his pottah. *JOY CHUNDER TTPPADAR v. 71. ——— Mortgage-deed, Possession under.—Where the execution of a mortgage-deed was admitted and long possession of the mortgagee under that decree was established,—Held that the onus of proving that the transaction was impeachable lies on the person who impugns it and denies that the money which was consideration for its execution was paid. HURPAUL SINGH v. ZAHOORUN . . . 2 Agra, 202

72. ——— Consideration, Payment of.—Recital in deed.—Presumption.—When it has been found that a deed has been duly executed, and that a certain sum of money has passed in consideration of that deed, and where there is a recital in the deed of the fact that the balance of the consideration-money was paid previously to the execution of the deed, then there is something more than a presumption that the whole consideration has passed upon the deed. DOMUN SINGH v. 83. ———— Suit on bond.—Onus thrown on wrong party, Effect of.—The defendants in a suit on a bond admitted the execution of the bond, but denied that they had received, as the bond recited they had at the time of its execution, the consideration for it. The Court of first instance, instead of calling on the defendants to establish the fact that they had not received the consideration for the bond as it ought to have done under the circumstances, irregularly allowed the plaintiff to produce witnesses to prove that the consideration for the bond had been paid at the time of its execution. The evidence of these witnesses proved that the consideration of the bond had not been paid at the time of execution, and that, if it had been paid at all, it had been paid at some subsequent time. Held that, although the plaintiff ought not to have begun, yet, as he had done so, and his witnesses had proved that the

88. ——— Suit for value of hundi.—Proof of payment—Possession of hundi.—On 2nd August 1872 A. K. filed a plaint against M. H. and M. R., in which he alleged that on 1st April 1870 M. R. had given a hundi for Rs500, for value received, to A. K.; that on 27th March 1871 M. H. purchased this hundi from A. K., promising to pay him Rs534 for it, that M. H. gave the hundi to his brother I. H. for the purpose of obtaining payment of the amount from M. R., and that I. H. subsequently informed A. K. that the hundi had been lost. A. K. accordingly prayed that defendants M. H. and M. R. might be decreed to pay to him Rs534 with profit and interest. M. R. admitted that he had executed the hundi, and had given it to A. K. for Rs500. He further alleged that it had been presented to him for payment by I. H., to whom he had paid the amount with interest on 31st March 1871, and he produced the hundi with a receipt, purporting to be by I. H., indorsed upon it. I. H. denied the payment by M. R., and alleged the indorsement on the hundi to be a forgery. Held that the admission by M. R. of the drawing of the hundi for value received laid on him the burden of proving payment, and that, though the possession by M. R. of the hundi was a circumstance in his favour, yet, as it did not in itself amount to proof of payment, the onus probandi was not thereby shifted on to the plaintiff. *ABDUL KARIM v. 89. ——— Statement in ikrar reserving equity of redemption.—Loss of document—Absolute sale, Deed of.—Plaintiff sued for confirmation of possession and registration of certain property which had been mortgaged to him by defendants. The transaction on the face of the deed was an absolute sale, but an ikrar was executed at the same time as the mortgage which reserved the equity of redemption to the mortgagor. This ikrar was made over to the defendant, the mortgagor. Plaintiff's allegation was that the ikrarnamah was returned to him by the mortgagor, who thus surrendered the equity of redemption. Defendant alleged that the ikrar had been lost and had somehow found its way to the plaintiff. Held that the presumption of law was in favour of the plaintiff, who had possession of the ikrar, and that the onus of proving its loss lay upon the defendant. RAJ COOMAR SINGH v. RAM SUHARE ROY

A pottah put in by defendants was found by the lower Court to be a forgery. Held that plaintiff's contention that the kabuhlat does not give the full terms of the agreement binds him to show beyond all reasonable doubt what were the actual terms of the pottah. Having failed to do this, the kabuhlat was treated as complete and conclusive evidence of the nature of the tenancy, which was inferred by the Court to be permanent and at a fixed rate. Held that it lay upon the plaintiff to make out distinctly the different grounds on which he rested his right to enhance,—viz., excess of area, increase of productiveness apart from the tenant's agency, and increase in the value of produce. *GOLAM ALI v. On the death of the minor the widow succeeded to the property, and, under a will of her late husband, adopted in 1851 a son of her husband's brother. The widow died in 1866. One of the daughters, as guardian of her infant son born in 1853, brought a suit to set aside the will, and with it the adoption, and for recovery of possession of the property left by her minor brother. The defence set up was that the will was genuine, that the plaintiff should have sued within twelve years from the adoption; and that she had in 1851 admitted the adoption in having accepted a dur-putni from the guardian of the adopted son. Held that the onus was upon the adopted son to prove the validity of the adoption, and not upon the plaintiff suing as heir to prove its invalidity, even though he alleged fraud and adduced no evidence in support of it. *TARINI CHARAN CHOWDERY v. that he had a charge on the estate in virtue of a mortgage-deed executed by the widow, but that, the debt to him was on account of advances made to her for purposes for which she would have been entitled to alienate the estate as against the next heirs, it does not follow that because plaintiff had a right to demand this peculiar proof of the ordinary rule which requires the party who alleges payment to prove payment is to be inverted in his favour, or that the debt is to be presumed to be satisfied, unless the contrary is shown by the creditor; and if he alleges that the mortgage-deed was not bona fide, the burthen lies on him to prove his allegation. *CAVALY VENKATA NARAINAPAH v. 149. ——— Alienation by Hindu father.—Necessity.—Specific performance, Suit for, against father.—There is no legal presumption in the Madras Presidency that a sale by a Hindu father is valid until the contrary is shown. Where a suit is brought against the father of an undivided Hindu family having an infant son, for the specific performance of a contract to sell land, presumably ancestral, the Court, having thereby notice that the vendor's powers can be exercised without a breach of trust only where there exists a necessity sufficient in law to justify the sale, and that the infant son is entitled to interdict the sale, is bound to require the plaintiff to give some proof of the necessity for the sale. GURUSAMI SASTRIAL v. DEEN DYAL SINGH . . . 7 W. R., 275

151. ——— Alienation by manager of infant's estate.—Presumption of bona fides.—Obligation of purchaser to inquire.—Necessity for charge—Under the Hindu law, the right of a bona fide incumbrancer who has taken from a de facto manager a charge on lands created honestly, for the purpose of saving the estate, or for the benefit of the estate, is not (provided the circumstances would support the charge had it emanated from a de facto and de jure manager) affected by the want of union of the de facto with the de jure title. The question as to the onus of proof in such cases is one not capable of a general and inflexible answer, but the presumption proper to be made will vary with circumstances. Thus, a mortgagee, who is setting up a charge in his favour made by one whose title to alienate he knew to be limited, must prove the facts which embody the representations made to him of the alleged deeds of the estate and the motives influencing his immediate loan, but such proof must not be required from one not an original party, after a lapse of time and enjoyment and apparent acquiescence. Where, also, a charge is created by the substitution of a new security for an older one, and the consideration for the older one was an old precedent debt of an ancestor not previously questioned, the presumption will arise in favour of a consideration that binds the estate. The lender is bound to inquire into the necessity for the charge, and to satisfy himself that the manager is acting for the benefit of the estate. But if he does so inquire and acts honestly, the real existence of an alleged sufficient and reasonably credited necessity is not a condition precedent to the validity of his charge, and he is not bound to see to the application of the money. *HUNOONAN PERSHAD PANDEY v. his minority, the burden lies on the person who apprehends the purchase not only to show that, under the circumstances of the case, either the guardian had the power to sell or that the purchaser reasonably supposed he had such power, but, further, that the whole transaction, so far as regarded the purchaser's part in it, was bona fide. Following the principle laid down by the Court in the case of Kanailal Jowhari v. Kaminee Dabee, 1 B. L. R., O. C., 31, note, it was held that when either the person who sells labours under disqualification, or the purchaser stands in a fiduciary relation to the owner of the property, the bona fides of the dealing cannot be presumed, but must be made out by the purchaser. ROOP NARAIN SINGH v. GUGADHUE PERSHAD NARAIN. 9 W. R., 297

154. ——— Suit to set aside sale made by guardian.—Act XL of 1858, s. 18 —Fraud or collusion —Purchaser.—Where a plaintiff alleges fraud or illegality as a ground for setting aside a sale made under section 18, the onus lies upon him to make out a prima facie case of fraud or illegality, and to show that the debt, which formed the consideration for the sale in such case, was one for which the minor was not responsible. Per FRINSEF, J.—A stranger purchasing from a guardian, acting under the authority granted under section 18 of Act XL of 1858, will be entitled to every protection from the Courts, so long as it is not shown that he acted in a fraudulent or collusive manner, knowing that the debts, for the liquidation of which the purchase-money would be applied, were not debts lawfully binding on the minor. The burden of proof in such a case would be heavily on the person seeking to set aside the alienation. But where the purchaser is himself the creditor, and, therefore has the means of satisfying a Court as to the origin and nature of the debts and how they are binding on the minor, the burden of proof is shifted on the purchaser, when the plaintiff has established a prima facie case. *SIEKER CHUND v. proof is that, although the wife may have failed to establish affirmatively the precise case alleged by her, her husband, having admitted the receipt of the securities from her, was bound to show something more than mere endorsement and delivery, that the relation of the parties being what it was, it lay upon him to prove that the transactions which he set up were bona fide sales and purchases, and that he actually gave full value for what he received from her; and where it was proved that the wife had the securities while under her husband's protection, and some had passed from her to him and others to his creditors, and that the wife left her husband's house in destitution, the proof adduced by the husband as to the sale for full consideration to him must be full and clear, and such as to satisfy a Court of Justice that the transactions were conducted fairly and properly, and with a due regard to the rights and interests of the wife. Where it was in proof that a portion of the immoveable property of the wife had passed to a bona fide purchaser under conveyances executed by the wife to her husband or to such purchaser, the burden of proof in a suit by her to recover the property is upon her, as she seeks to be relieved from the effect of her own conveyances, the execution of which she does not dispute, against one who, if not an absolute stranger, stands in no fiduciary relation to her. *Buzloor Rubeem v. S. C. JAGGADANUND MISSEER v. HAMID RUSOOL
[10 W. R., 52]

170. ————— In a suit upon a registered kobala for possession of certain property the appellant intervened alleging a prior purchase by him from the plaintiffs' vendor, and was made a defendant. On the plaintiffs having proved their title against the original defendants, the lower Courts held that the onus was on the appellant, who was not shown to be actually in possession, to prove his allegation. Held that the lower Courts were right in so holding Jaggadanand Misser v. Hamid Rasul, 8 B. L. R., 182, note 10 W. R., 52, approved and followed. BALNIA KUNDU DUBOYE v. ADIKUNDA PUNDA. . . . 7 C. L. R., 560.

171. ————— Proof of title.
—A plaintiff who sues by right of inheritance for the recovery of lands in the possession, not illegal or forcible, of defendants, to the rents whereof it was held in a previous suit, in which he intervened, that he had not been in the actual enjoyment, is bound to prove as well his title to the estate, as his lineal descent from, or relation in such degree of contiguity as would entitle him to part succession to, the original acquirer thereof. CHYTUN MYTEE v. LUKHEE CHURN PATNAIK. . . . 8 W. R., 258

172. ————— Suit for kabuliat.—Act X of 1859, s. 77.—Intervenor—In a suit to obtain a kabuliat, the defendant admitted the plaintiff's title. A third party intervened (under section 77, Act X of 1859) alleging that he was in actual receipt and enjoyment of the rent. Held that the onus was on the intervenor to prove that he was bona fide in actual receipt and enjoyment of the rent, and not on the plaintiff to prove his possession. BAHARULLA v. MAJAN. . . . 3 B. L. R., Ap., 61

KISHEN CHUNDEE DOSS v. BURATEE SHEIKH
[2 W. R., Act X, 36]

173. ————— Suit for declaration of right.—Suit for usufruct of property.—Unsuccessful intervention.—The mortgage of certain property having been purchased by S he sold it to G who foreclosed, got a decree for possession, and sold it to W. W.'s intervention having failed in a suit for arrears of rent by a party setting up a title intermediate between him and the ryot, on the ground of a miras pottah obtained from the mortgagor subsequently to the mortgage, he (W.) sued to have his right declared to the rents payable by the ryot.

Held that it was not only not necessary for the plaintiff to prove possession, but the very ground he took, was want of possession, his cause of action being that he was prevented from enjoying the usufruct. Held, also, that it was for the defendant to show that the incumbrance did not injure the outturn of the property. GOBIND CHUNDER BANERJEE v. WISE. . . . 12 W. R., 19

23. LANDLORD AND TENANT.

174. ————— Allegation that lands are held under different title.—Where a ryot holds lands of considerable extent under a zemindar, and alleges that one or two plots occupied by him are held under a different title, the onus is on him to prove his allegation. RAM COOMAR ROY v. BEJOY GOBIND BURAL. . . . 7 W. R., 535

175. ————— Allegation of independent title.—Suit to confirm title—In a suit by the lessee of the purchaser of the rights and interests of the first defendant to obtain possession of some portions of land alleged to fall within the share of the zemindari so purchased, defendants contended that the plots which were the subject of suit, although falling within the ambit of the zemindari, did not in fact form a portion of it, but were lakhiraj lands belonging to themselves by a title independent of the title to the zemindari. The evidence showed the principal defendant to have been in receipt of the rents and profits of the land in suit, as well as of his share of the zemindari. Held that the onus lay upon the defendants to show the alleged independent title; failing to do so, the prima facie title made out by the plaintiff ought to prevail. SHUMDAN ALI v. MUTHOORNATH DUTT. 14 W. R., 226

176. ————— Rival tenants.—Resignation of tenancy.—In a suit between two rival tenants claiming to hold under the same landlord, where one of them admitted the tenancy of the other, but pleaded resignation by him of his tenancy and a lease to himself, the onus of proof was held to rest upon him who made the allegation. KISHEN CHUNDEE SHAHA v. HOOKOOM CHAND SHAHA
[W. R., 1864, 47]

177. ————— Allegation of particular tenure.—Proof of title.—The onus in a suit in which the plaintiff seeks to obtain a declaration that the defendants held a tenure under him lies on the plaintiff, who must prove strictly the title under which he seeks that declaration. ROYES MOLLAH v. MUDHOOSOODUN MUNDUL. . . . 9 W. R., 154

178. ————— Non-transferable tenure.—Where a plaintiff sets up a case of an exceptional nam-ousut-howala, alleging it to be not transferable, the plaintiff should be called on to prove the allegation, before a defendant in possession, under an order of a Revenue Court, can be called on to prove title. HURRO SOONDERY DEBIA

v. AMEENA BEGUM . 1 Ind. Jur., N. S., 188
[5 W. R., Act X, 72]

179. ——— Suit for possession under mokurrari lease—In a suit to recover possession of land under a mokurrari lease granted to plaintiff by the zemindar (defendant who admitted its validity) from the other defendant who had been in possession twenty years, and who also claimed a mokurrari interest,—Held that the onus lay with the substantive defendant to show that his lease was mokurrari. RUGHONATH DOBEY v. PURSH RAM MAHATA 10 W. R., 9

180. ——— Khadimi tenure.—Where persons have long held as khadims under the superior holders or managers of endowed property, and claim to hold a permanent khadimi tenure from which they are not liable to be ejected except for misconduct, the onus probandi is on them. CHAND MEAN v. KHONDKEAR ASHEUTOLLAH
[6 W. R., 89]

181. ——— Allegation that lands are sir.—Sale in execution of decree.—Where a person whose proprietary rights in a mehal have been sold in execution of a decree, alleges that land held by him at the time of such sale was held as sir, the burden of proof lies on him. HARI DAS v. GHANSHAM NARAIN I. L. R., 6 All., 286

182. ——— Suit for possession of ayma land.—Identification by plaintiff—Where a plaintiff establishes a prima facie case of the identity of ayma land which he claims through his ancestor, who had been allowed by the Collector to retain it, it will rest with defendant to prove that the land is his own, or that it is not the ayma land which the plaintiff's ancestor once held. MOZLA ABDOR RUB v. HURRYHUR MOOKERJEE
[1 Ind. Jur., N. S., 50]

183. ——— Gorabundi tenure.—Transferability, Proof of.—The onus lies on a plaintiff claiming in virtue of a purchase of the tenure from a former holder to be entitled to possession of gorabundi lands, to prove that such lands are transferable. CHUTTERBHUT BHARTI v. JANKI PROSAUD SINGH 4 C. L. R., 298

184. ——— Khoti tenure, Proof of.—Suit for rent.—In a suit by a kabuliadar khot for rent from cultivators holding land in a khoti village, the onus does not lie on the plaintiff to prove the land to be khoti; but the holder of land in a khoti estate must prove that he is exempted from paying rent according to the custom of the country. MUHAMMAD YAKOUB v. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL 9 Bom., 278

185. ——— Suit for value of trees cut by tenant.—Nature of tenure—There is no presumption that orchard lands in Behar are held on a bhaoli tenure, there being many instances of orchards there held on a nukdi tenure. The onus of proving the special nature of the tenure is on the zemindar suing for the value of trees cut down, and not on the tenant-defendant, DOOMUN SINGH v. SOOKUN LALL 2 W. R., 12

186. ——— Orchard land.—Possession of planter of trees—Although generally it may be taken that land whereon an orchard is planted belongs to the zemindar, and has been granted to a stranger to plant trees thereon, in which case it reverts to the zemindar after the trees have disappeared and the land has become abable, yet when it is asserted that the land belongs to the planter of the orchard, having been acquired by purchase, it is for the zemindar to prove that the land belongs to him and was given for plantation, and in the absence of such proof the holder or occupant may rely on his long possession. DHUNE RAM v. AMANUT HOSSEIN 2 Agra, F. II, 161

187. ——— Suit by landlord for possession of land in his estate.—Right to possession.—When a landlord sues for possession of land within his estate, the onus is on him to prove that he is entitled to that possession. GUDADHUR BANERJEE v. KANYE DEKHOORIA 8 W. R., 191

188. ——— Suit by talookdar purchaser at sale.—Dispossession and disputed title.—A talookdar who had purchased at an execution sale the under-tenure of one of his tenants, sued him to obtain possession of the land contained in the purchased holding, of some of which he said he had been dispossessed, and in regard to the remainder of which his title was disputed. Held that the deputation of an Ameen was improper, and that the onus lay on the plaintiff to prove his case. SHUSTEE RAM PAUL v. NOBO KANT ROY CHOWDERY
[14 W. R., 190]

189. ——— Lease of land of particular nature.—Proof that it came under that designation.—Where a landlord leased out some land to a tenant, reserving to himself only such portion of it as fell under the definition of nila zamin,—Held that it was for the landlord, in a suit for the possession of such nila zamin, to bring evidence to prove what portion of the land leased out was nila, and that in the absence of such evidence, the whole land must be taken as having been leased out to the tenant. REKLY v. BAMA SOONDUREE DOSSEE
[25 W. R., 398]

190. ——— Suit for possession.—Dispute as to ground and nature of possession.—In a suit for possession of a portion of land on the allegation that it had belonged to plaintiff as his ancestral property up to the date of his being ousted, when the defendant, admitting the alleged possession, contended that it had been not that of an owner, but only permissive possession as that of a tenant,—Held that the burden of proof lay on the defendant.

POISTUB CHURN SEIN v. TRAHEE RAM SEIN

[15 W. R., 32]

191. ——— Suit to recover share of holding after sale in execution of decree for rent.—Proof of status as tenant and recognition of division of tenure.—In a suit to recover a share of a holding, the whole of which had been sold in execution of a decree for arrears of rent, the plaintiff, who claimed to hold a divided portion of the tenure, was held bound to prove either that such division had been recognised and ratified by the zemindar or that the latter received rent from him, i.e., he would have to prove his status as tenant in respect of the share in question. HURHUR SINGH v. OOMA KOOREE

[16 W. R., 93]

192. ——— Exercise of right incidental to tenure.—Objection to right.—When a party objects to the exercise by another of an ordinary legal right incidental to his tenure, it is for the objecting party to give some prima facie evidence as to the grounds on which that objection is founded. GYARAM MUNDUL v. GYARAM NAIK

[Ind. Jur., O. S., 22; Marsh., 28; 1 Hay, 65]

193. ——— Right of occupancy.—Permanent cultivators.—Suit for ejectment.

—The defendants' ancestors were the only cultivating tenants of the lands of a certain temple from the year 1829, and in a suit brought by the temple trustees against one of the defendants in 1858 it was found that the occupancy of the defendants' ancestors dated back at least to 1806. In 1833 the defendants' ancestor was recognised by the Collector, who then managed the temple, as an hereditary ryot. In the paimaish account of 1827 defendants' ancestor was described as a "cultivating parakudi ulavada," a term which does not necessarily imply a right of occupancy. Held, in a suit by the trustee of the temple to eject the defendants after notice to quit, that the burden of proving that a right of occupancy was not an incident of defendants' tenure lay on the plaintiff. KRISHNASAMI PILLAI v. VARADARAJA AYYANGAR

[I. L. R., 5 Mad., 345]

194. ——— Right of tenant to dig a tank on his land—In a suit by a zemindar alleging that the defendant, his tenant, had dug a tank on his land, and thereby done him damage by converting the land from its original state, and the conversion is admitted by the defendant, but his defence is that he had a right to convert it, the onus is on the defendant to show his right to dig the tank. In the absence of clear proof of the nature of his tenure, he should at least show that the digging the tank is a fair and reasonable use of the land, and one which will not be to the detriment of the zemindar. TARINI CHARAN BOSE v. DEBNARAYAN MISTRI

—Right to garden planted with trees.—The owner of a bagh in an estate in which he is not possessed of any zemindari rights must, if he claim a higher right than that ordinarily possessed by a tenant planter or the successor of such a planter, produce evidence in support of his claim but when the bagh has been admittedly planted by a zemindar and has been, on the sale of his zemindari rights, reserved by him, it is incumbent on the purchaser to prove that by the reservation the vendor reserved only the interest which a tenant-planter would have possessed in the bagh. ALI BUKSH v. MUDUN GOPAL

196. ——— Suit for assessment of lands accreted to zimma tenure.—Beng. Reg. VIII of 1793, s. 51.—Beng. Reg. XI of 1825.—A suit for the assessment of lands accreted to a zimma tenure must be tried upon section 51, Regulation VIII of 1793, the burden being on the plaintiff to prove that the tenure is liable to the assessment sought; and the provisions of that law are not affected by Regulation XI of 1825, as regards the mode in which, the condition on which, and the burden of proof with which, the zemindar may proceed to assess. PANIOTY v. 198. ——— Suit by ryot for pottah at fair and equitable rates.—The proprietors of a certain holding having refused the terms of the Government, a farming settlement was made with the present defendant, who undertook to confirm and ratify all amulnamahs granted by the zemindars while the settlement proceedings had been pending. Plaintiff being a ryot without a right of occupancy, but one who had got an amulnamah, sued for a pottah at the rate fixed by the amulnamah. Held that the amulnamah formed the basis of a special contract between the parties, and took their case out of the purview of the sections 5 and 8 of the Rent Law; and that by the terms of the amulnamah the defendant was bound to give plaintiff a pottah on fair and equitable rates ("upajukta"), which were to depend on the rates which he himself obtained from Government. Held that the onus of proving that the rate which

201. ———— Intervenor.—Plea of payment.—In a suit for rent where defendant denies the relationship of landlord and tenant as subsisting between himself and the plaintiff, and states that he paid his rent to an intervenor, it is not enough that the intervention is set aside, it still remains for the Court to investigate the question whether the defendant is a ryot of the plaintiff. JAGURDEE v. RADHA KISHORE 13 W. R., 259

202. ———— Eviction of tenant by title superior to lessor.—Where a tenant is sued for rent he can set up eviction by title paramount to that of his lessor as an answer, and if evicted from part of the land an apportionment of the rent may take place. The onus is on the lessor who claims to be entitled to an apportionment to show what is the fair rate of the lands out of which the tenant was not evicted. GOPANUND JHA v. LALLA GOBIND PERSHAD 12 W. R., 109

203. ———— Suit under special arrangement.—In a suit for rent alleged to be due under a particular arrangement, the existence of which is repudiated by defendant, it is for plaintiff to prove the arrangement. SHUMBHOO GEER GOSSAIN v. RAM JEWAN LALL 8 W. R., 509

204. ———— Rent of whole tenure.—Suit by shareholder.—In a suit for rent by a shareholder where the defendant contends that he is not bound to pay otherwise than by entirety to the person entitled to the whole rent the onus is on the plaintiff to show that he is entitled to sue for a fractional portion. LALUN v. HEMRAJ SINGH

205. ———— Evidence.—Plea of payment.—In a suit by a landlord against his tenant for arrears of rent due for a portion of the year 1283 (1876), the defendant pleaded payment and called as his witness the plaintiff's agent, who admitted the receipt of certain payments from the defendant's under-tenants during the time for which the arrears were demanded; but swore that they were payments made in respect of arrears due on account of previous years. The lower Appellate Court, reversing the decree of the Court of first instance, gave the defendant credit for the payments so admitted. Held that the lower Appellate Court was wrong; that the defendant having pleaded payment was bound to prove that the admitted payments were in respect of that portion of the year 1283 for which the arrears were claimed. Section 12 of the Rent Law applies to receipts given directly by the landlord to the tenant, and not to receipts given to third persons. SEEFUN v. RUDDER SOHAY I. L. R., 7 Cal., 582

206. ———— Proof of determination of tenancy.—Beng. Act VIII of 1869, s. 20.—The defendant held under a lease from the plaintiff, which expired in 1867, when he gave up possession without any notice. In a suit subsequently brought against him for arrears of rent of 1867, 1868, and 1869,—Held that the onus was on the plaintiff to prove that the defendant held on after the term of the lease had expired. No written notice of relinquishment was necessary. Section 20, Bengal Act VIII of 1869, did not apply. TILAK PATAK v. MAHABIR PANDAY

207. ———— Suit for arrears of rent.—Proof of rate of rent.—In a suit to recover arrears of rent from the defendants who, as ticcadars of the plaintiff's share in a certain mouzah, had been in possession from 1262 to 1281, without having paid any rent, the plaintiff who claimed a bhowli rent at the rate of 9 annas of the crop, proved that in the mouzah in question the ryots paid rent at that rate. Held that, under the particular circumstances, the onus was on the defendants who alleged that the proper rate was 8 annas to prove their allegation. *LOCHUN CHOWDHRY v. 210. ——— Suit for ejectment.—Ground for retaining possession, Proof of.—In a suit for ejectment by landlord against tenant after proof of due service of notice, the onus is on the tenant to show any ground for retaining possession. NUBO COOMAR GHOSE v. OOOZIR SHIKDAR [23 W. R., 238

211. ——— Nature of tenure, Evidence of.—In a suit in ejectment valued under Rs100, the defendants, who were sued as yearly tenants, replied that their tenure was a muasajugasta tenure, and in proof of their allegation adduced evidence which was not displaced by the plaintiffs. The lower Courts considered that defendant's allegation was well founded. Held that there being evidence of the defendant's allegation, the plaintiffs, having failed to make out a prima facie case, were not entitled to a decree for ejectment. BRJJI NATH SARKOO v. RAMDOUB ROY . . . 7 C. L. R., 369

212. ——— Suit by landlord to eject tenant on expiration of tenancy.—Where a landlord sues to eject a ryot on the ground of his tenancy having expired, the tenant is not called upon to state the character of his tenancy until the plaintiff has given prima facie proof that it is of a terminable character and that it has terminated. A sued to eject B, on the ground that a temporary settlement effected with him had expired. B set up a gajasta title to the land. The lower Courts disbelieved plaintiff, but called on B to support the title he had set up, and he failing to do so, gave A a decree. Held that A's suit should have been dismissed when it was found that the evidence he put forward was unworthy of credit. *BULLEE AHMER v. 215. ——— Ejectment.—Right of occupancy.—In a suit by a zemindar against a ryot for recovery of possession of land, of which the plaintiff alleged he had granted the defendant a lease and taken a kabuliat, and that the lease had expired, the defence was that the defendant did not hold under any lease from the plaintiff, that the kabuliat was not genuine, and that the defendant by his holding had acquired a right of occupancy. Held, the onus was on the plaintiff to prove the kabuliat, and not on the defendant to prove that he had acquired a right of occupancy. Therefore, where the plaintiff failed to prove the kabuliat, the suit was held to be rightly dismissed though the defendant failed to show any right of occupancy. *WALLAH ALLER v. 216. ——— Refusal to quit after notice.—In a suit by a zemindar to obtain khas possession of land within his estate, if a defendant is a middleman the right of plaintiff follows as a matter of course, unless defendant can make out his claim to exclude the zemindar, but if defendant is a ryot, plaintiff must show some cause of action beyond the bare circumstance of defendant's refusal to quit after notice under Act X of 1859. He must show that the ryot is of a class liable to eviction. LALLA JOYNATH SAHEE DEO v. LUTCHUN CHRISTIAN [16 W. R., 158

234. Dispossession.—Presumption.—Onus probandi.—Limitation.—Joint owners, Adverse possession between.—Under the former Limitation Act the cause of action, and under the present law the event from which limitation is declared to run, must have occurred within the prescribed period, and it lies on the plaintiff to show this. Accordingly, where the suit is for possession, and the cause of action is dispossession, the plaintiff is bound to prove possession and dispossession within twelve years. Possession is not necessarily the same thing as actual user. When land has been shown to have been in a condition unfitting it for actual enjoyment in the usual modes, at such a time and under such circumstances that that state naturally would, and probably did, continue till within twelve years before suit, it may properly be presumed that it did so continue, and that the previous possession continued also until the contrary is proved. Such a presumption is in no sense a conclusive one. Its bearing upon each particular case must depend upon the circumstances of that case. Many acts which would be clearly adverse, and might amount to dispossession as between a stranger and the true owner of land, would, between joint owners, naturally bear a different construction. *MAHOMED ALI KHAN v. tion, occupies waste land which has not been appropriated for any public purpose, it cannot, by a suit brought for a declaration of title or for ejectment, the date at which the cause of action arose not being stated in the plaint, compel a defendant to prove possession for sixty years. As a general rule, a plaintiff must not only show he has a title, but that he has a subsisting title, which he has not lost by the prescriptive sections of the Limitation Act. The probable explanation of the ruling in Radha Gobind Roy's case, 7 C. L. R., 364, is, that when a plaintiff proves title and possession, it is to be presumed that his possession continues till the defendant proves that the possession was interrupted, but that where the plaintiff can prove title only, and not possession, he must prove that the adverse possession of the defendant, or the acts of which he complains as impugning his title, occurred within the period prescribed by the Limitation Act. *SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. When a suit is brought for possession of jungly or uncultivable lands, or lands which have never been under cultivation, the rule is different, and the defendant must establish his adverse possession for more than twelve years. When a suit is brought for possession of chur or other land under cultivation at the time of the institution of the suit, but previously jungly or uncultivable, the onus probandi still lies on the plaintiff, but on his proving that the chur was formed, or the land first became culturable, within twelve years before he instituted his suit, the onus is shifted to the defendant, who must establish his adverse possession for more than twelve years. MAHOMED IBRAHIM v MORRISON

249. ———— Suit for possession of alluvial land.—Evidence of possession in absence of landmarks—The plaintiff sued to recover a tract of chur land as parcel of his mouzah of J, the defendant alleging the said land to be a parcel of his mouzah of G. About the year 1830, a large tract of land was deluviated by the River Chutol within the mouzahs belonging respectively to the plaintiff and defendant, and after re-formation in 1837 a proceeding was taken by the plaintiff before the Magistrate under which he was ordered to be put in possession of a considerable tract of such newly-formed land, the Magistrate laying down the boundaries. After nearly twelve years (i. e., in 1849) the defendant's father brought a civil suit to set aside the Magistrate's decision, and the ultimate finding was that the plaintiff had been in possession of the land described in the Magistrate's order from and since the date of that order. Held that that decree must be taken to have established that the plaintiff was in possession of the land described in the Magistrate's order, and had continued in such possession: the question in the present suit being whether the lands now claimed are identical with those so described. Held, also, that the onus of proving that issue lay upon the plaintiff, because the foundation of his suit was that, having been in possession, he was dispossessed as a consequence of certain measurements made by Government officers. Held, further, that plaintiff had failed to sustain the burden of proof. He relied principally on the boundaries given by the Magistrate and certain maps prepared then and later as compared with the Government map of 1853. but their Lordships were unable to place firm reliance upon any inference drawn from these maps. Their Lordships were also of opinion that in questions of this kind, where the natural boundaries and landmarks have disappeared, evidence of possession was very important and satisfactory, and that there was no reason to distrust the witnesses of the respondent proving such possession. *GRIJA KANT LAHOBY CHOWDHRY v. —Disputed settlement—At the permanent settlement the River Gunduck divided mouzah Sohagpore (zillah Turhoot) from the village of Dumri (zillah Sarun). In 1837 the river got into its southern channel, and a quantity of chur land to the north was resumed by Government and settled with the zemindars of Sohagpore. In 1846 it was again settled with the same zemindars, who remained in possession until 1848, when the river having returned to its northern channel the deara land was claimed by proprietors on the southern or Sarun side of the river: the consequence was an Act IV of 1840 suit which was decided in favour of the zemindars of Sohagpore. In 1856, on the expiry of the last temporary settlement, the question arose with whom Government should engage for the revenue, and it was finally decided by the Board of Revenue that a settlement should be made with the zemindars of Dumri, who accordingly obtained possession. The Board's decision proceeded on two principles,—viz., that a usage existed that the main channel of the Gunduck should be the boundary of the zemindaries, and that therefore the interest of the zemindars of Sohagpore had been of a limited, temporary, and conditional character. These zemindars then brought a suit to impeach this settlement and to recover possession. After decision, appeal, and remand, it was finally decided by the High Court that the land in dispute was identical with that formerly settled with the maliks of Sohagpore, who (it was assumed) had a permanent proprietary interest therein. Held that the proper issues to be tried were: first, whether the land had been settled in 1837 with the maliks of Sohagpore as proprietors of alluviums which had gradually accreted to their estate, or upon what other grounds such settlement was made, the onus of proving gradual accretion being on the plaintiffs; and, secondly, whether there was at the permanent settlement, and has been since, a clear and definite usage such as supposed by the Board of Revenue, the burden of proving the affirmative of this being on the defendant. *RAJENDUR PERTAB SAHEE v. re-formed upon the old site after diluviation, the defendant relies upon a statutory title of twelve years' possession, the plaintiff, in order to succeed, must, according to the rule laid down in the case of *Nitrasur Singh v. and alleged that the lands had re-formed within twelve years, without alleging or proving possession during that period. The defendants, on the other hand, alleged that the re-formation had taken place more than twelve years before suit, and that they had acquired a title to the lands by adverse possession for that period. Held that in such a case the submergence of the lands after diluvion ought to be presumed until the contrary was shown, and that the onus of proving re-formation before twelve years and adverse possession was shifted to the defendants. Per WILSON, J.—As a general rule, where a plaintiff claims land from which he alleges he has been dispossessed, the burden is upon him to show possession and dispossession within twelve years. Proof of possession within twelve years does not necessarily mean proof of acts of ownership within that time. The nature of the proof of possession must depend on the nature of the case. There are many cases in which the party on whom the burden of proof in the first instance lies, may shift the burden to the other side by proving facts giving rise to a presumption in his favour. In the case of lands gradually diluviated and gradually re-formed, if the diluviation has been more than twelve years before suit, the claimant, unless he can show possession since the re-formation, must at least show that he was in possession down to the date of the diluviation. Where the true owner is in possession at the time of diluviation, his possession is presumed to continue as long as the land continues submerged, probably also afterwards, until he is dispossessed. Per FIELD, J.—Although, according to the general rule, it lies upon the plaintiff, who is met with a plea of limitation, to show his own possession within twelve years before the institution of the suit when the property in dispute is capable of actual or visible possession, yet, in the case of property which is not susceptible of actual and visible possession, an exception from the nature of the thing must be made to the general rule. In such cases, when the title and possession have been proved to be in a certain person up to a certain point of time, when there has been no transfer of the title to any third person, and there is no evidence that possession was exercised by a person other than the person having the title,—so long as actual visible possession was possible, the possession of the person having the title will be presumed to continue until the property has again become susceptible of actual visible possession. Proof of possession is presumptive proof of ownership, because men generally own the property which they possess. And if the ownership of property is proved, and there is nothing to show that the possession of such property is with any person other than the owner, it may fairly be presumed to be with the owner. Such a presumption then takes the place of evidence to show the plaintiff's possession, within twelve years before suit, of a property in which, from the nature of the thing, evidence of actual possession is impossible. MANO MOHUN GHOSH v. 257. Omission to give purchaser possession until long after sale.—Suit to recover possession.—Where the right, title, and interest of a party had been sold in execution, but possession was delivered to the purchaser more than fifteen years after the sale, such irregularity was held not to entitle the party first mentioned to a decree in a suit to recover the property unless he could prove possession for a period of more than twelve years before he was dispossessed. ATTOTRAM DOSS v. BALUNKEE DOSS 14 W. R., 357

258. Suit for confirmation of title.—Possession.—In a suit by a Hindu widow for confirmation of her title to certain land in right of her husband, the defendant, who had a possessory award of the property given to her under section 15, Act XIV of 1859, pleaded that the plaintiff was never in possession. Held that the onus was on the plaintiff to show that she was in possession within the period of limitation. SHANTO MONEE GOOPTAH v. 260. Limitation.—Suit on bond.—Instalment-bond.—Indorsement of payment of instalments.—Where a defendant sets up the defence of limitation, he must plead it, and show that the claim is barred. If, when the plaintiff has proved his case, the facts show that the cause of action accrued at a date earlier than the period of limitation, and the plea of limitation has been set up by the defendant, the latter will be entitled to take advantage of the plaintiff's evidence that the claim is barred, and to have judgment given in his favour. which it was also agreed that payments of the instalments should be indorsed on the bond, brought a suit against the obligor alleging default in payment, and claiming to recover the amount of the bond. He gave credit for payment of the instalments for seven years, and alleged that his cause of action arose upon default in payment of the eighth instalment. The bond showed on its face indorsements of the payments for which credit was given. The obligor alleged that no instalments were paid after the third year, that therefore the debt became due at an earlier date than that stated by the plaintiff, and that the claim was barred by limitation. Held that, inasmuch as the defendant adduced no evidence to show that the later instalments were not paid, and inasmuch as the evidence produced by the plaintiff did not show that the debt accrued at a date earlier than the limitation period, the plea of limitation failed. RADHA PRASAD SINGH v. 28. MORTGAGE.

263. — Suit for redemption of mortgage.—Alleged sale.—In a suit for redemption of property which the plaintiff alleges to be mortgaged, but which the defendant contends was sold absolutely, the onus is on the plaintiff to prove the mortgage, and the existence of a mortgage cannot be presumed from the failure of the defendant to establish the alleged sale. BALAJI NARJI v. BABU DEOLI
[5 Bom., A. C., 159]

264. — Evidence Act, I of 1872, s. 110.—The plaintiff sued to redeem certain land, alleging that it had been mortgaged by his father to the defendant in 1854-55. The defendant denied the mortgage, and alleged that he purchased it under a deed of sale from the plaintiff's father in 1849, and had ever since been in his possession as owner. The deed of conveyance was not forthcoming, nor was the alleged mortgage-deed. The Court of first instance rejected the plaintiff's claim on the ground that the mortgage was not proved. The lower Appellate Court reversed the decree of the Court of first instance. The defendant appealed. Held that the defendant's possession was prima facie evidence of a complete title, and that the plaintiff, who alleged that the defendant was merely a mortgagee, was bound to prove his own right as mortgagor, clearly and indefeasibly. Mere statements that the property had been mortgaged, which failed to establish any particular mortgage, did not shift the burden of proof, or require the mortgagee to show what were the terms of such mortgage, or his right to retain possession under it. RAMCHANDRA APAJI v. BALAJI BHABRAV . . . I. L. R., 9 Bom., 187

265. — Lost mortgage-deed.—In a suit for redemption, the mortgage-deed, dated 21st July 1840, having been lost, the Judicial Commissioner held that the onus lay, not upon the mortgagor to prove that the term did not expire before 13th of February 1856, but upon the mortgagee to prove that it did. Held by the Privy Council that the burden of proof was prima facie on the mortgagor, regard being had, as respects the quantum of evidence required, to the opportunities which each party might naturally be supposed to have of giving evidence. KISHEN DUTT RAM PANDEY v. The mortgage-money was payable on the 28th September 1806. If not paid, the property was to vest absolutely in the mortgagee without foreclosure. The defendant admitted that he had not foreclosed, but stated that Regulation XVII of 1806 was promulgated in Sarun on the 7th January 1807, and, consequently, that the money became due before the Regulation was promulgated. Held, the onus was on the plaintiff to prove that the Regulation was promulgated before 28th September 1806. SARIFUNNISSA v. Evidence Act, I of 1872, s. 160.—The plaintiffs, averring that their ancestor had mortgaged three villages to the ancestors of the defendants in 1842 for Rs. 2,500, putting the mortgages into possession, sued to recover possession of 15 biswas of each village, asserting that the mortgage-debt had been redeemed from the usufruct. The defendants, admitting the proprietary title of the ancestor of the plaintiffs to the villages, alleged as to 10 biswas of each village that they were sold to their ancestors in 1812 by him for Rs. 1,250, and as to the other 10 biswas of each village, that they were subsequently mortgaged to their ancestors by him for Rs. 4,000, borrowed by him from them for the purpose of defending a suit arising out of the previous sale, which sum had not been satisfied from the usufruct. Held (STUART, C. J., dissenting) that the burden of proving the mortgage of the 10 biswas of each village of the defendants alleged the sale lay on the plaintiffs. Per STUART, C. J., contra. RATAN KUMAR v. Possession.—Where a suit was brought to redeem a mortgage, and the defendants pleaded possession under a sale,—Held, under the circumstances, there having been long undisputed possession, that the onus of proving that the possession was less than a proprietary possession, and was referable to a mortgage, lay on the person who claimed to redeem it. RUGHOO NATH RAI v. Joint mortgage.—Redemption by one mortgagor—Suit by other mortgagor for his share.—K. and J. jointly mortgaged 36 sihams or shares of an estate to C., giving him possession. C. transferred his rights as mortgagee to T and M. In execution of a decree for money against K. held by M, K's rights and interests in the mortgaged property were sold, and were purchased by P., whose heirs paid the entire mortgage-debt. R., an heir of J., sued the heirs of P. to recover from them possession of J's sihams in the mortgaged property, on payment of a proportionate amount of the mortgage-money paid by P. The plaintiff alleged that the mortgage to C. had been made forty years before suit. The defendants contended that a much longer period had expired since the date of the mortgage, that forty one years had elapsed since C. transferred his rights as mortgagee, that they had redeemed the property twenty-one years ago and had been since its redemption in proprietary and adverse possession of the sihams in suit, and that the suit was barred by limitation. Neither party was aware of the date of the mortgage, and neither adduced any proof on the point. Held that the defendants being admittedly in possession, though the existence of a mortgage as the origin of their possession was conceded by them, it lay upon the plaintiff to give prima facie proof of the subsistence of that mortgage at the date of suit, but that, assuming that notice was given to the defendants by the plaintiff to produce the mortgage-deed, and that they failed to do so, very slight evidence would have been sufficient to satisfy the obligation which lay on the plaintiff. Kishen Dutt Ram Pandey v. Sale of land in execution of decree.—Suit by third party to recover.—In a suit to redeem certain land demised on kanam in 1850 by A. to the predecessor of B., C., who was in possession of the land, was made a defendant. A. proved his title to the land and possession up to 1850. C. pleaded title to the land and denied that B. had ever been in possession. Both pleas were found to be false. It was found, however, that C. had been in possession from 1869 to 1885, and that in 1876 the land had been sold in execution of a decree against C. (to which A. was not a party) and purchased by D., who re-sold to C. in 1879. The lower Court held that C's possession must be taken to have been derived from B., till the contrary was proved. Held that the burden of proving that his possession was not derived from B. lay upon C. NILAKANDAN v. Suit by mortgagee for possession under usufructuary mortgage.—An estate was mortgaged with the stipulation that the interest of the mortgage-debt should be deducted out of the usufruct, and that if the profits fell short the mortgagor would make up the deficiency. After a time the mortgagor tendered the amount of the principal sum and forcibly took possession of the property. The mortgagee sued to recover possession and obtained a decree with wasilat. Held that the plaintiff might have sued under Act XIV of 1859, section 15, but that, suing as he did, the onus was on him to produce the accounts and show that something was due to him as interest. FRANKISHORE v. under which defendants had been in possession for sometime in accordance with a Magistrate's order,—Held that the onus was on the plaintiffs to give some evidence to impeach the validity of the mokum-rari; but this having been done, and a strong prima facie case made out, the onus was shifted, and it became incumbent on the defendants to show that the mokum-rari was executed before the zur-i-peshgi, and that it was granted bona fide for a real consideration and intended to be co-operative as between the mortgagors and the lessee SHAMNARAIN v. Regulation XVII of 1806, section 8, comprising property attached before the date of the mortgage under section 81 and the following sections of Act VIII of 1859, was brought against the purchaser of the attached property, which had been sold under the decree obtained by the attaching creditor. The defence was that the mortgage falling within the provisions of section 240 of the Act was void as against the attaching creditor and those claiming under him. For the mortgagee it was contended that the attachment could not prevail, it not having been proved affirmatively that the requirements of section 239 relating to the intimation of the attachment had been complied with. Held that this objection to the validity of the attachment could not be raised for the first time on this appeal, even if it was not rather for the mortgagee, seeking to prove the non-observance of the formalities in question. Private partition.—Private arrangement.—Subsequent partition by Collector.—A and B. were joint owners of a mouzah B. leased his share in putni to C. By arrangement between A. and C. a partition of the lands was made, and each party collected the rents of the lands allotted to him. Forty years afterwards, a butwarra of the mouzah was made by the Collector between A. and B, whereby lands held by C. under the previous arrangement were allotted to A. C. was no party to the butwarra proceedings. In a suit brought by A. against C. for possession of the lands so allotted, the plaintiff alleged that the previous division of the lands between A. and C. was a temporary one, made after the commencement of the butwarra proceedings. The lower Appellate Court found that the plaintiff's allegations had not been proved, and dismissed the suit. Held (TOTTENHAM, J., dissenting) that the decree of the lower Court was correct, as it lay on the plaintiff to show that the private partition had come to an end. Obstruction to execution of decree by a claimant—Civil Procedure Code (Act VIII of 1859), s. 229 (Acts X of 1877 and XIV of 1882), s. 331—In a suit under section 229 of Act VIII of 1859 (section 331 of Acts X of 1877 and XIV of 1882), the onus is on the plaintiff to establish a prima facie case of possession, and it is then incumbent on the claimant to answer that case, and show, if possible, a better title. RAKHAI CHURN MUNDUL v. Proof of title—Unregistered deed of sale—Oral evidence inadmissible—On the 18th January 1876 plaintiff became a purchaser at a Court's sale of the right, title, and interest of G. and N. in a shop, and having been obstructed by defendant in obtaining possession of it, sued to recover it from him. The plaint was filed on the 27th January 1877. Defendant answered that he purchased it from G. under a deed of sale dated 5th January 1865, and that he had been in possession since that day. The deed of sale was not admitted in evidence for want of registration, but it was found that defendant had been in possession as owner since 5th January 1865. Held that, as the defendant admitted that he had derived his title from G. (of whose interest in the shop the plaintiff was assignee), the burden of proof lay upon the defendant, and that he had failed to prove his purchase, inasmuch as his unregistered deed of sale could not be received in evidence, and oral evidence was inadmissible in place of the deed. SAMBHUBHAI KARSANDAS v. Khas mehals in 24-Pergunnahs.—Relation between owners and the Government.—Right to possession.—Ejectment.—There is no relation of landlord and tenant between the Government and the owner of khas mehals in the 24-Pergunnahs. The latter is the landlord of the ryots, and is not himself a ryot. The right and title of the Government are to the rent, but do not include a right to the possession of the lands, though such a right might arise by forfeiture or extinction of the ownership, and the onus is on the Government to prove its claim to the possession of the lands. GUNGA GOBIND MUNDUL v. Suit to establish title—Bom Reg XVII of 1827, s. 7, cls. 1 and 2—Bom Act I of 1865—Miras land.—On the 28th August 1857 the plaintiff passed a kabuliat to Government and took possession of certain miras land, abandoned by the mirasdar for four or five years previous to that date. The plaintiff continued in possession of his land, and paid the Government assessment from 1864 till 1872. In an action brought by the plaintiff to recover possession of the land, he alleged in the plaint that he had taken the defendants as partners in the cultivation of the land, and had been dispossessed by them. Both the lower Courts rejected the claim. The lower Appellate Court based its decision on the ground that as the plaintiff failed to prove the fact of his alleged partnership with the defendants, he could not succeed, notwithstanding that Court found in the plaintiff's favour the other facts stated above. Held on special appeal that as the suit was one to establish title and recover possession, the Judge should, on the facts found, and having regard to Regulation XVII of 1827, section 7, clauses 1 and 2, and Bombay Act I of 1865, have called upon the defendants to prove their claim to hold possession as against the plaintiff's right of occupation. TRIMBAK RANU v. Title—In a suit to recover possession of land and waslat under a ganti jumma, which had originally belonged to the defendants, the main question was as to ten cottahs, of which possession by receipt of rent only was claimed from the defendants, whose dwelling-house was thereon. The defendants alleged that the ten cottahs were not included in the ganti jumma under which plaintiffs claimed. Held that the onus was on the plaintiffs to prove that the ten cottahs were included in the ganti jumma under which they claimed. It was not on the defendants to show the extent of that tenure while it was in their possession and when it was transferred to the plaintiffs, although the fact was one peculiarly within their knowledge. GIRDHAR HARI v. Jagir tenure—Auladad grant—By a sanad dated March 1854, the plaintiff's ancestor granted to B, the defendant's ancestor, a jaghir of a certain mouzah. B, died in 1872, and plaintiff subsequently brought a suit to recover possession of the mouzah, alleging that the grant to B, was an ordinary service jaghir. The plaintiff filed a kabuliath which had been executed by B, the terms of which supported the plaintiff's allegation as to the nature of the grant. The defendant alleged that the grant was auladad, but failed to produce the sanad or account for its non-production. Held that the plaintiff was entitled to a decree. Juggernath Sahee v Ahlad Kowur, 19 W. estate. N. (father of A.) applied to have the attachment removed under section 246 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act VIII of 1859), alleging that the shop was his. The application was rejected, and the shop was sold in execution and bought by P., the defendant. N. then brought his suit against P. (the purchaser) to establish his title. The Subordinate Judge dismissed the suit. On appeal, the District Judge reversed that decree, holding that the plaintiff had been in possession of the shop and had proved his title. The defendant appealed to the High Court. Held that the plaintiff having proved his possession at the date of the execution sale, it lay upon the defendant (P.), who claimed the property, to prove a title in himself or in the judgment-debtor A., and that, he having failed to do this, the plaintiff was entitled to a decree declaratory of his right to the property as against the defendant. Where a dispossessed party proceeds, under section 230 of Act VIII of 1859, to vindicate the possession of which he has been deprived, although he may give evidence of his title, he is not bound to do so, but may rest his right to recover on his possession, and cast upon the decree-holder the burden of proving his title,—i.e., his right to dispossess the applicant. Per WEST, J.—A person in possession of property which is sold in execution as that of another, is not called upon, when suing to establish his title, to prove his proprietorship as by an action in rem against all the world. It is enough if he establishes a good title as against the judgment-debtor whose right has been sold; and as he is in possession, that possession in itself affords a ground for an assertion of full proprietorship for the purpose of the suit, except so far as the right vested in the judgment-debtor can be shown affirmatively to contradict or qualify it. Possession constitutes an interest requiring affirmative proof of a superior title on the part of any one who seeks to disturb it, and, therefore, where a person in possession of property which has been sold in execution as being the property of another, sues to establish his title to such property, the burden of proof lies, not upon him, but upon the person who claims as purchaser at the execution sale. PEMRAJ BHAVANIRAH v. It being found as a fact that A. had neither been a party to, nor been represented in, the resumption proceedings, that he had been in quiet and undisturbed possession of the lands which he now claimed for more than twelve years before the institution of his suit, and that proceedings had been taken by the defendant calculated to disturb such possession,—Held that, although the onus of proof lay on the plaintiff, it was not necessary for him to prove that the lands claimed by him to be held as lakhiraj had been held rent-free from before the date of the permanent settlement, but it was sufficient for him to prove that the defendant was, at the time of the institution of the suit, debarred by lapse of time from instituting a suit for the resumption or assessment of rent upon the land. ABHOY CHURN PAL v. [I. L. R., 8 Calc., 230 : 10 C. L. R., 41]

340. ————— Rent-free lands

—Landlord and tenant—In suits for the resumption of lands alleged by the defendant to be lakhiraj, the burden of proof is in the first instance on the plaintiff to show that the lands are māl. The fact that the defendant is a tenant of the plaintiff's is a matter to be taken into consideration by the Court in determining whether, on the facts of the case, the plaintiff has made out a prima facie case, but unless the Court finds that the plaintiff has made out a prima facie case, judgment should be given for the defendant. Harikar Mukhopadhyaya v. Madhab Chandra Babu, 8 B. L. R., 566. 14 Moore's I. A., 153; Akbar Ali v. Bhैया Lal Jha, I. L. R., 6 Calc., 666; and Newaj Bundopadhyaya v. Kali Prosunno Ghose, I. L. R., 6 Calc., 543, cited. 341. ————— Rent-free lands —Landlord and tenant—In a suit for resumption of lands, where the defendants allege that the lands are lakhiraj, the onus is on the plaintiff, in the first instance, to show that the lands are māl, and, if he fails to make out a prima facie case the suit should be dismissed. Bacharam Mundul v. Peary Mohun Banerjee, I. L. R., 9 Calc., 813, followed. Newaj Bundopadhyaya v. Kali Prosunno Ghose, I. L. R., 6 Calc., 543, and *Akbar Ali v. Bhैया Lal Jha, I. L. [I. L. R., 12 Calc., 182]

of land where defendant pleads a lakhiraj tenure—The rule which, in cases where the defendant pleads lakhiraj, lays on the plaintiff the onus of proving that the land is māl, is not inflexible, but may be altered according to circumstances, as in this case, where the defendant admitted plaintiff's title as landlord and never set up any plea of lakhiraj until years after the suit was brought, when a second Ameen was deputed to the spot to make a local enquiry. lands—The Full Bench decision—Panbats Charan Mookerjee v. Rajkrishna Mookerjee, B. L. R., Sup Vol., 162, ruling that before a plaintiff can resume lakhiraj lands he must first prove that he has collected māl rents, and defendant need not first prove his lakhiraj title—was held not to be applicable to the present case, in which it was proved the plaintiff collected māl rents from the time the land was capable of bearing any. Suit for resumption—continued.

344. ————— Beng Regs. XIX of 1793 and XIV of 1825.—Evidence of exemption from resumption—semble.—The exclusion of lands as lakhiraj from the decennial and permanent settlements is of no weight, per se, as evidence of exemption from resumption under Regulation XIX of 1793. The general presumption is in favour of the liability to assessment of land, and by Bengal Regulations XIX of 1793 and XIV of 1825 the onus probandi lies on a claimant to lakhiraj to establish his title to exemption,—not by inference, but by positive proof of a grant to hold as lakhiraj, or by a proprietary right, prior to the grant of the Dewanny (12th August 1765); and that the possession was bond fide taken under it, or an enjoyment of lands as such, and descendible to heirs at or since that time. SHEERAJ RAJA MAHATAB CHUND BAHADOOR v. GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL
[4 Moore's I. A., 466]

345. ————— Suit by lakhirajdar.—One lakhirajdar cannot maintain a suit for resumption against another, and force the defendant to prove his title. The onus is on the plaintiff. KAEM KHAN v. SAREBA JAN
7 W. R., 362

346. ————— Invalid lakhiraj.—The Government when acting as agent of a zemindar can only sue to resume invalid lakhiraj lands under 100 bighas, the onus of proof of its being māl when so claimed is on the zemindar. RAM LOCHUN SIRCAR v. DENONATH PAUL
2 W. R., 279

347. ————— Suit for assessment.—Suit by zemindar to assess lands usurped or alienated by lakhirajdar.—The onus in a case in which the plaintiff is an ordinary zemindar, suing to assess lands which he asserts to have been illegally usurped or alienated by a dependent lakhirajdar subsequent to the permanent settlement, rests on the plaintiff. BEHAREE LALL ROY v. KALEE DOSS CHUNDER
[8 W. R., 451]

348. ————— Suit by auction-purchaser at sale for arrears of revenue to assess rent on lakhiraj land.—Limitation Act, 1859, s. 1, cl. 14.—In a suit by an auction-purchaser to assess rent on land claimed as valid lakhiraj, the onus is on the ryot to prove that the land has been held as lakhiraj from the year 1790. zemindar's suit for assessment of the land, that the onus of showing that the case is within section 10, Regulation XLI of 1793, lay on the zemindar. The inclusion of the land in the boundary is not conclusive evidence, nor is it binding when the boundary has not been made judicially. The landlord proving it to be so, the plaintiff claiming rent-free possession would be required to prove his rent-free possession (peaceably and not tainted with fraud) for sixty years before he can get a decree. MAHABEER PERSHAD v. OOMBHO SINGH 1 Agra, 167

350. ———— Rent-free land.

—Benares.—In a suit for rent of land in the province of Benares which was rent-free and recorded as such at the revision of settlement in 1840-41 and 1842, the zemindar must show that if it was lakhiraj in 1197 Fush there has been a legal resumption and assessment by judicial award: or if māl in 1197 Fush, he must prove legal resumption and actual levy of rents. The burden of proving this by direct and specific evidence lies on the zemindar. MOTEE LALL v. JANKI ROY 3 Agra, 364

351. ———— Suit to have certain lands declared māl.—Where it is admitted that the defendants hold certain lands within the plaintiff's zemindari, some at least of which are rent-paying, the defendants, if desirous of proving that any of these lands are rent free, are bound to give some prima facie evidence of the fact, before they can call upon the plaintiff, the zemindar, to prove that the whole or any part of the lands are māl. AKBUB ALI v. BHAYALAL JHA

—Suit by auction-purchaser for land alleged by him to be māl.—In a suit by an auction-purchaser for the khas possession of land alleged to be māl land fraudulently alienated by the former zemindar as lakhiraj, the burden of proving that it is māl is on the plaintiff. ANDREW F. LYON 2 Hay, 362

be lakhiraj.—Proof of receipt of rent.—In a suit to recover possession of land within plaintiff's estate, in which defendant sets up a rent-free title, all that plaintiff is required to show is that either he or his predecessor had received rent for the land at some time subsequent to the perpetual settlement, in which case the onus of proving title falls on the defendant. RAM NARAIN SINGH DEO v. BISTOO THAKOOR

354. ———— Suit for possession of resumed lands.—Application for and refusal of settlement.—Where, in a suit for possession of resumed lands, the plaintiff contends that the laws under which the lands in dispute were resumed (Beng Regulations II of 1819 and III of 1828) contemplate assessment and not ejectment, the plaintiff must prove that he had formerly applied for and been refused a settlement of the lands. ABDOOL GUNNY v. COMMISSIONER OF THE SUNDERBUNS 2 W. R., 239

355. ———— Suit for land as lakhiraj.

—Dispute as to land being māl or lakhiraj.—In a suit in which plaintiff claimed four plots of land as belonging to his putni, and defendant alleged that they formed part of the resumed land of a jote for which he had obtained a decree in a resumption suit, and of which he had ever since been in possession, the parties went to trial on the issue whether the land was māl as beyond the limits of the decree, or lakhiraj as included in the chittahs, according to which possession was given to the defendant in execution. On a consideration of what the latter had received under the decree, the first Court held that he was not entitled to retain the disputed land. The Appellate Court did not look beyond the plaintiff's chittahs. Held that the circumstances justified the first Court in deviating somewhat from the usual rule of law as regards the onus probandi, and that the course taken by it was most consonant with justice. DOSSEE v. RAM NIDHEE KOONDoo

[15 W. R., 183]

356. ———— Suit to declare land liable to assessment.—Suit for ejectment by purchaser at sale for arrears of revenue on the ground that land is māl.—Homestead land.—The purchaser of an estate at a sale of arrears of revenue, after withdrawing a suit for arrears of rent sued to eject the defendant from a piece of land on which his homestead was, i.e., to declare the land liable to assessment and to obtain khas possession. Held that the onus lay with the plaintiff to prove that the land was māl, and that he and his predecessors had received rent for it. BISSAMBHUR BANERJEE v. KOYLASH CHUNDER ROSE 23 W. R., 388

357. ———— Suit for declaration of lakhiraj title.—Possession, Proof of.—Title, Proof of.—Where a plaintiff comes into Court to prove a lakhiraj title, no proof of possession for years (unless it be carried beyond 1790) as apparent lakhiraj can excuse him from proving his title. RAM JEEBUN CHUCKERBUTTY v. PERSHAD SHAR

358. ———— Suit for possession of lakhiraj land.—Beng. Reg. XIX of 1793, s. 10.—Suit to recover possession of land from which the plaintiff had been ousted by the defendant under section 10, Regulation XIX of 1793, on the ground that it was an invalid lakhiraj created after 1st December 1790. Held that the zemindar, having no right to oust the lakhirajdar, unless the lakhiraj was created after 1st December 1790, must prove that the lakhiraj was created subsequently to that date, and that it was not for the lakhirajdar to prove that the lakhiraj was created prior to that date. MUN MOHINEE DOSSEE v. [Marsh., 255: 2 Hay, 23]360. ————— Validity of lakhiraj tenure.—In a suit to recover the possession of land from which the plaintiff, claiming to be a lakhirajdar, has been forcibly evicted by the landholder, the plaintiff is not entitled to a decree for possession unless he can show a prima facie case of lakhiraj tenure. Semble,—If he show such prima facie case, the Court will give a decree for possession, and leave the zemindar to dispute the existence or validity of the alleged lakhiraj tenure in a resumption suit. SREENATH LALL v. JUNMEYJOY MULLICK
[Marsh., 550: 2 Hay, 649]361. ————— Long possession of purchaser.—In a suit to recover possession of lands which plaintiffs alleged to be lakhiraj, and of which they had been dispossessed by the defendants (zemindars),—Held that, as plaintiffs had purchased the lands as lakhiraj, and had been admittedly in possession of them as such for a very long time, it was for the zemindar, who pleaded a right to oust them summarily, under section 10, Beng. Regulation XIX of 1793, to prove that the lakhiraj title was invalid as having been created subsequent to 1790. MUNSARAM DOSS KURMOKAR v. GRIDHABEE RAM DOSS
